TO ALL WORKERS! DOWN WITH CAPITALISM! DOWN WITH INTERNATIONAL REFORMISM! DOWN WITH FASCISM!

THE DAILY WORKER

Entered as second-class matter September 21, 1923, at the Post Office at Chicago, Illinois under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Communist Candidates For President: WILLIAM Z. FOSTER. For Vice-President: BENJAMIN GITLOW.

o. 115. SUBSCRIPTION RATES In Chicago, by mail, $8.00 per year. Outside Chicago, by mail, $6.00 per year. FRIDAY, AUGUST 1, 1924 Published Daily except Sunday by THE DAILY WORKER PUBLISHING CO., 1113 W. Washington Blvd., Chicago, Ill. Price 3 Cents

ATE LEOPOLD NAME IN MORRIS

D DUKES OF MEET AT NTIC CITY

e Drools About ds and Foes

(Special to THE DAILY WORKER)
TIC CITY, July 31.—
mpers, president of ican Federation of rived here today to er the meetings of tive Council.

made it quite clear nce statement issued that the A. F. of L. depart from its mossy cy of "reward and ing the coming elec-parties, but prin-
the Compersian will be made by LaFollette to place official approval on er of LaFollette, but is endorsed it will a person and not principles.

candidates on four tions. He claimed big victory but victory lies nobody ises it be the plenti-of injunctions that ared since the last

LaFollette attack on the vention and on the Com-as at least partly dictated onsin senator's desire to Gompers' eyes was indi-
the aged labor faker's out-oval of the attack. LaFol-ting Americanism saved falling into Foster's trap, mpers.

• • •

day in the Empire State
ORK, July 31.—The latest e of the state conference for ve Political Action may at-endorse Governor Smith for to succeed himself. The have tried to forestall this ment by placing Dr. Thomas ld but the Tammanyites who the C. P. P. A. in New York, more use for Thomas than e for the Imperial Wizard of Klux Klan.
ational leaders of the LaFolvement are urging the New ers to make strenuous ef-t the Empire State behind r senator. The feud bean and Hearst is a factor ation. The National Demopaign committee is urging run, hoping that his per-ularity would place New e Davis column. If Smith considered likely that Hybe induced to show his love vernor by running against the backing of Hearst and Sisler a development
g the Yellow publisher in-aFollette camp. So far,
s not openly endorsed he is giving him front page

Workers Flee Flames.

NCISCO, Cal., July 31.—
ail of flames on two sides closing the gap on the
the town of Floriston, in e Canyon, was reported to-ay as late 250 inhabitants the advancing forest fire portable belongings. Only change of wind was ex-ave the sixty-five cottages the little paper mill town.

that Subscription Today.

AS WE SEE IT

By T. J. O'FLAHERTY

An acquaintance of mine who works on one of the local capitalist papers tells of the excitement caused among the circulation force of that organ of big business whenever something unusual happens, something that will set the public agog with curiosity. Such an incident was the Franks murder. Circulation boosters rub their hands with glee as the circulation soars. The reporters are ordered to dig up every bit of filth that can be discovered or manufactured. Anything to get more readers no matter what kind. Running up circulation on a capitalist paper that is produced in order to make profit for its owners is a different proposition to increasing the circulation of The DAILY WORKER, which is published for the benefit of the working class only.

• • •

Capitalist newspaper owners pay their circulation managers tremendous salaries. "Sometimes as high as $75,000 a year. That is only a little less than it cost to get the DAILY WORKER started. A reporter at the Indianapolis convention of the United Mine Workers of America expressed surprise when I informed him that we started the paper with $100,000 and had to purchase machinery, building and everything else needed to start a paper, out of that sum. "By gosh, you are liable to find the place shut up before the convention is over," he said. "Nonsense," I replied. "The DAILY WORKER is the official publication of our party. Every dollar of the money raised to start it was contributed by members of our party and sympathizers. They would be there on the job, they would be there with the cash."

• • •

Now that The DAILY WORKER and the Workers Party are partners in a big subscription-membership drive it is a good time to remind our readers that The DAILY WORKER is the first labor paper ever published in the United States to exist seven months without having to ask its readers for direct assistance. Think of that. But it does not take a mental wizard to realize that such a blissful condition is not liable to be permanent unless our readers and party members get new subscribers. The DAILY WORKER carries no advertising to speak of. You know why. Big business, which subsidizes the capitalist papers by advertising, will not advertise in The DAILY WORKER.

• • •

Therefore we must find ways and means of raising the money to continue The DAILY WORKER as a tack on the chair of big business and spear in the hands of labor. Our circulation manager does not get $75,000 a year. And he does not spend his time playing golf or reviewing Uncle Sam's navy. He is generally standing in front of some factory gate at half past six in the morning, bringing The DAILY WORKER to the attention of the workers. Or addressing like meetings. That is one of our methods of increasing circulation. More circulation means a bigger punch behind our propaganda. It means more influence and it means more support. New readers will become contributors, friends. They in turn will bring in more readers, and so on.

• • •

The DAILY WORKER has not sent out an S. O. S. for money since it came into existence. How many times did you receive a letter from some labor paper saying something like this: "Do you wish to see the Weakly Pipple pass away into eternity, thus losing the organ of the stalwart, class conscious, etc. Send us a donation or we perish!" The DAILY WORKER has been very decent you must admit. That does not mean that the Business Manager has no wrink-

(Continued on next page.)

RIVERVIEW
RAIN OR SHINE
August 10th — Sunday
Press Picnic Day

NEGRO CONGRESS MEETS TO DEAL WITH BIG ISSUES

Garvey Storm Center as Convention Opens

(Special to the DAILY WORKER)

NEW YORK, July 31.—With a grand opening at Carnegie Hall here tomorrow evening will begin what is described as the "biggest Negro convention in the history of the world," lasting thruout the entire month of August, under the auspices of the Universal Negro Improvement Association.

The convention is officially known as the fourth annual international convention of the Negro peoples of the world.

Its further sessions will be at Liberty Hall, 120 West 138th St. It is announced that Negroes from all parts of the world will participate in forming a Negro political union on an international scale, which might play an important role in opposing imperialist rule over colonial peoples.

Plan Negro Political Union

The purposes of the proposed union, as announced, are:

"The union will consolidate the political forces of the Negro thru which the race will express it political opinion in America, in the islands of the sea and in all communities where the Negro forms a part.

The Political Union shall represent the political hopes and aspirations of the fifteen million Negroes of the United States of America on American questions, domestic to America, and shall represent the interests of the millions of Negroes of the West Indies in their different and respective islands affecting domestic political questions, and so also in the scattered communities of Africa. The union shall have a sympathetic relationship politically, with Negroes all over the world, but each country or community will have its domestic program for the betterment of the race, in that country or community.

World Solidarity is Aim

But the strength of the union shall be given to any community or country to politically assist in putting over its political program. As, for instance, if the Negroes of America were politically agitating or working for the passage of any special measure for the benefit of the race, the entire strength of the union would be placed at the disposal of the American section. If the Negroes of Trinidad desired to carry out any political measure for the benefit of that community, the union would use its strength in assisting them, and so with any community where the Negroes live throughout the world.

"No longer, therefore, will individual politicians represent the interests of the Negroes, but the Negroes

(Continued on next page.)

BIG GRAIN MARKETING PLAN MAY BE PROBED BY FEDERAL QUIZZERS

The $26,000,000 Grain Marketing company, newly organized here thru merger of three old line Chicago grain marketing concerns will be subjected to a sweeping investigation by the Illinois Agricultural Association, and perhaps by the Federal Grain Trade Commission, it was announced here today. Decision of the Grain Marketing Company to begin a campaign of selling stock to farmers, particularly members of the Illinois Farm Bureau, soon decided the Illinois association to start the probe, they said.

"Never Worked", Boasts Slayer

MILLIONAIRE KILLER PROUD HE NEVER TOILED LIKE OTHER FOLKS

NATHAN LEOPOLD, JR. RICHARD LOEB

Nathan Leopold, Jr., confessed co-slayer of 14-year-old Robert Franks, boasted yesterday that he had never worked in his life and never had to work.

"Why should I work?" the son of millionaire Nathan Leopold, Sr., calmly asked.

This young murderer, is the spoiled son of the open shop paper box manufacturer, whose crimes against the workers of Morris, Ill., you will read about in other columns of the DAILY WORKER. So long as capitalism continues such parasites as young Leopold will continue to grow up in degeneracy on the fruits of workers' toil.

Until Communism comes the Leopolds and Loebs can well ask: "Why should we work?"

LEOPOLD'S OPEN SHOP HELL IN ILLINOIS TOWN INSPECTED BY YOUNG WORKERS LEAGUER

By BARNEY MASS.
(Special to The Daily Worker)

MORRIS, Ill., July 31.—This is a town with a population of some five thousand and located sixty-one miles from Chicago on the Rock Island road. It is interested in the Leopold-Loeb murder case for special reasons. This town consists largely of retired farmers, and approximately 2,000 are industrial workers.

The Morris Paper Mills commands the attention of the whole population. Of course there is a cannery and a few other factories but they are not to be compared with the Paper Mills. This factory, located near a stream with a bridge crossing over it and with a long windy road in front of the entrance, impresses one strangely as something secluded and yet hideous.

No Sympathy in Morris.

Nathan Leopold, facing the noose for the murder of Franks, is well known in Morris, Ill. His father owns and controls the destiny of the Morris Paper Mills. Leopold, Jr., had made many visits to this small town when going over his father's factory with him. There is no sympathy for Leopold in this burg nor in the factory which he used to visit. The only opinion expressed by the people here is that of contempt. A local banker, who

(Continued on next page.)

Mexican Ambassador Quits.

WASHINGTON, July 31.—Charles Beecher Warren, United States Ambassador to Mexico, will arrive here tomorrow to formally submit his resignation from the diplomatic service. Warren will be President Coolidge's guest at the executive mansion while he is in Washington.

LABOR LEADER DIES

CALDWELL, N. J., July 31.—James J. Freel, for 25 years president of the International Union of Stereotypers and Photo-Engravers, died at his home here today of heart disease. He was 5 years old.

Bare Sensational Crimes of LEOPOLD, SENIOR

LEOPOLD, the father, is a strikebreaker and vicious exploiter of youthful labor. The facts are bared in this issue of the DAILY WORKER.

Leopold, the son, now striving for his life with the aid of the "million dollar" defense made possible by the father's robbery of the workers of Morris, Ill., boasts that he never worked in his life. Read about it on this page of the DAILY WORKER.

The mayor of Morris, political lickspittle for the father of this murderous degenerate, says that work in the Leopold plant is good for the youth of the town—he does not suggest it would have been good for the millionaire's darling who killed Bobby Franks. Read the interview with the mayor in this issue of the DAILY WORKER.

Read every issue of the DAILY WORKER. It has the news that counts for the working class.

SCAB PAPER BOX MILLIONAIRE BREAKS STRIKE AS HE PLANS DEFENSE FOR HIS SLAYER SON

By KARL REEVE
(Staff Correspondent of The Daily Worker)

MORRIS, Ill., July 31.—The name Leopold has always had a sinister meaning here, long before the perverted scion of the Leopold family ran amuck. The Morris Paper Mills company of which Nathan Leopold, senior, father of the slayer of the Franks boy is president and controlling stockholder, shapes the lives of many of the youth of the town and has just broken a strike of its workers.

Five hundred citizens of Morris, mostly sons and daughters of retired farmers now residing in the county seat of Morris county, are employed in the Leopold paper box mills. Few of these workers do not know that the money ground out of them by the sweat shop piece-work system employed in the plant is being used to free the perverted and cynical lounge lizard, Nathan Leopold, junior, one-time pet of the idle rich.

Ground Joy Out of Youth

But the citizens of Morris are bitter against Nathan Leopold not because he is the father of a brutal slayer, but because he has ground the joy out of youth, the energy, the fresh and innocent girlhood out of 500 of the town's young people.

"Some of the young fools here threw parties for one pretty young girl who improved as having been taken out of high school at an early age, said the DAILY WORKER, "and after three years I earn just much as I did when I started, and that is 18 dollars a week." This girl told of the break-neck speed required, of the long ten hour day with only a few minutes for lunch, of the extremely poor pay and the absolute certainty that the scale will not be increased.

At the Whim of Leopold.

For years the profits ground out of these young workers have been handed over to the whims of the thrill seeking family of Leopold. The girls are refined looking, bright and young, but they have been absorbed into the damnable open shop, anti-union factory system of the Leopolds.

"There have been many accidents here," one girl told the DAILY WORKER. "We must be continually on our guard to see that our fingers are not crushed in the stitching and cutting machines. The girls get a day work rate of twenty cents an hour, and the men who do exactly the same kind of work get a day rate of five cents an hour more."

Profits For Degenerates

The Leopold machines, huge and relentless, grind on, extracting the life blood from the citizens of Morris, and rolling up the profits for a degenerate and spendthrift family.

Family men, working in the paper making foundry undergo ten hot and trying hours a day. The heat comes out of the massive boilers and cylinders of the foundry, scorching and dwarfing the very souls of the men. And for this, the men who have to support a family, get only three dollars, and the most skilled trades only four dolars a day.

Strikers Starved Back.

A union is not to be tolerated by the blood-sucking Leopold. There was a strike of the caddy department ten days ago, but the men were starved out and had to return to work at a reduced wage.

In the paper box factory, girls work high up near the ceiling at the press machines, feeding, cutting, sorting, folding, tending the merciless monsters. Along the center of the factory are the piece work folders, who, working at a most terrific speed, make less than 18 and often only 15 dollars a week. The plant runs on five and a half days a week with a ten hour day. The management has been asked by the employes many times to pay overtime—but Leopold, no doubt thinking that his son was in need of a new Red Racer, refused the union conditions.

The long warehouse and shipping room is stacked high with boxes ready

(Continued on Page 2.)

LEOPOLD BOSSES FEAR VISITORS WILL GET FACTS

Daily Worker Putting Issue Up to Mayor

(Special to the DAILY WORKER)

MORRIS, Ill., July 31.—Nathan L. Leopold, Sr., millionaire paper box manufacturer, and Beckwith, manager of the Morris Paper Mills Company, refuses to let visitors pass thru the factory owned by Nathan Leopold, senior, father of the Franks' slayer. Two Chicago jobbers asked Beckwith to show them thru the factory today but he refused claiming he did not want to divulge secret processes there. It is understood that the reason why the Morris Company is so suspicious appears to be that the family of the degenerate killer is afraid to let the newspapers know under what slave driving, very monotonous, and ill paid work the Leopold employes suffer as the price of the luxuries enjoyed by the perverted son.

The DAILY WORKER has an appointment with Mayor Fessler Thursday morning and will ask him to take a stand on the bad conditions found in the Leopold factory.

Nathan Leopold, junior, has visited Morris with his father and Leopold junior's elder brother, who was an idle roustabout, was made to "work" in the factory by his father to cure his wild money spending ways. The elder son had a good time flirting with the girls but got tired of the grind in three weeks and bid his father's slaves good-bye so he could spend the profits made from the low paid employes.

Seek North Passage.

MOSCOW, July 31.—The Geographical Society, Leningrad, is organizing, jointly with the Institute of Hydrology, which is also in Leningrad, an expedition to explore the condition of ice in the Karak Sea and the possibilities of navigation in the direction of the estuary of the Ob river, North coast of Siberia.

GET CANNON SPEECH IN DAILY WORKER SATURDAY

OUR AIMS AND TACTICS IN THE TRADE UNIONS is the title of the lecture delivered by James Cannon, assistant national secretary of the Workers Party, at a party conference of coal miners in St. Louis, on Sunday, July 27. This speech will be published in full in the magazine section of the DAILY WORKER on Saturday, August 2.

Be sure to get the DAILY WORKER Saturday and read this very interesting and important article.

See Page Three

BOOST COMMUNIST PRESIDENTIAL CAMPAIGN BY GETTING NEW SUBS FOR "THE DAILY WORKER"

See Page Three

NNx16
D23
v.16

FRENCH TURN EUROPE OVER TO BANKERS

Herriot Plans Balance of Power for U. S.

(Special to the DAILY WORKER)

LONDON, July 31.—Western Europe seems safe for the international bankers, led by J. P. Morgan. Further details of Premier Herriot's compromise proposal, made public today, give the balance of power to the American representative on the special tribunal proposed for the administration of the Dawes exactions from Germany.

The French are still debating with the congress over the right of France to take separate action against Germany under certain circumstances and over the date for evacuation of the Ruhr but the interests of the American lenders are believed to be largely safeguarded by the strategic place of the U. S. representative.

American Holds Decision.

The French compromise says that declaration of a German default shall be held up until a committee of five economic experts and representatives of the bond holders, one of whom shall be an American, has ratified the declaration. The matter then goes to the reparations commission. Unless the reparations commission is unanimous, the issue is then passed on to a special tribunal of arbitration, composed of three members, one an American. This American would hold the balance of power between the other two who would be English and French.

Americans Control Revenues.

Furthermore, an American will preside over the transfer committee dealing with German deliveries to the allies and another American is expected to be elected commissioner, to supervise Germany's revenues.

Americans consider the French offer too good to be called "compromise." It gives the House of Morgan more power in European affairs than any but those in the inner circle of finance or favoring Communists dreamed was possible. It is expected that this power will be amplified before the plan is hammered into final shape.

Bankers Want More Yet.

Objection is still raised at some of the French demands. The financiers object to the demand for deliveries in kind as likely to interfere with the profitable workings of German industry. They demand also an earlier evacuation of the Ruhr than the French have yet consented to. Optimism is expressed, however, that these difficulties will be met.

RIVERVIEW
RAIN OR SHINE
August 10th — Sunday
Press Picnic Day

MUSSOLINI MUZZLES ALL MILAN PAPERS EXCEPT BROTHER'S

(Special to the Daily Worker.)

MILAN, July 31.—The only daily paper allowed to continue publication here is the Popol d'Italia, belonging to Premier Mussolini's brother. All the other newspapers were confiscated when they reprinted and commented on a certain article printed in the Rome paper Sereno.

The paper reported that Signor Rossi, former fascist head of the press bureau of the department of the interior, has made revelations implicating many other persons in the murder of Deputy Matteotti, the socialist who was about to expose the crimes of the fascisti.

KILLER'S FATHER BREAKS STRIKE

(Continued from page 1)

for shipment. The big millionaire scab manufacturing companies and stores of Chicago have been kind to their non-union friend Leopold. The Swift Meat Packing company is a steady customer of this sweat shop.

GARY, IND., READERS. ATTENTION!
MONSTER PICNIC
SUNDAY, AUG. 3rd at the Grove
on 47th and Matison Streets
SPEAKER:
C. E. RUTHENBERG
Entertainment — Refreshments
Sports
Picnic arranged for benefit of THE DAILY WORKER. Everybody invited for a good time.

The Marshall Field Stores also contribute to Leopold's profits, as do Mandel Brothers, who are now awaiting a huge shipment of suit boxes, and many other large department stores in Chicago.

For the Prison Trust.

The black beauty satin shirts which are manufactured in the prisons of the country, are supplied with many of their boxes by the Leopold speed-up shop. These shirts are sold at a low price, being made by the illest paid labor in the world. The graft, corruption, suffering and cruelty which cling to these shirts is as black as the satin of which they are made. It is fitting that they should be packed in boxes made at the Leopold factory, which is only one degree ahead of the convict labor. Leopold can sell to the prison trust because his factory pays notoriously low wages and works the men and girls at breakneck speed for long hours.

GRAND JURY CONDEMNS CRIMINAL COURT BLDG. AS MENACE TO SAFETY

After resumption of the Franks' murder case today, the grand jury filed into Judge Caverly's court to present indictments naming Walter Seryes and Ignatius Ciombras on a charge of conspiracy to extort money from Jacob Franks, father of Bobby. The two Polish boys were arrested June 21, following receipt by Mr. Franks of a letter demanding $8,000 and threatening kidnaping of Josephine Franks, Bobbie's sister.

The grand jury's report condemned the Criminal Courts building in which the trial is being held as a menace to safety.

Negro Congress Meets to Deal With Big Issues

(Continued from page 1)

unitedly will be represented by the Negro Political Union. Let us all, therefore, work for the successful consummation of the program of the Universal Negro Improvement Association, so that we may be able to glory in a brighter day industrially, commercially, socially, religiously and politically."

Garvey is Storm Center

Interest is centered upon the leadership of Marcus Garvey, who has had a spectacular career in organizing the largest number of Negroes ever brought together in a single organization. Because of his methods employed to assemble his following, Mr. Garvey has for several years been the storm-center of bitter controversies in the Negro liberation movement. Nearly all other Negro leaders denounce his project for a "Black Star Line" of steamships which is the proposed means of colonizing American Negroes in Africa, building up a Negro government in Africa and thus supposedly helping to solve the Negroes' problems. On the other hand Garvey denounces Negro leaders generally as misleaders and betrayers of their people.

Klan Issue

Many accusations have been made that Garvey seeks to conciliate the Ku Klux Klan by conceding the United States as a "white man's country," leading the Negroes to the visionary idea of solving their problems by a wholesale colonization in Africa, "the black Motherland." Much interest is aroused by Garvey's present proposal for the coming convention to discuss the Ku Klux Klan issue "without prejudice." The question is asked, whether this portends an effort to bring about the Negro's surrender to the Klan, or whether Mr. Garvey expects the convention to take a bold stand against the lynching and terrorization of the Negroes by the Klan.

The proposal that the Negro political union shall contend for the Negro's rights in the United States is considered an indication that Mr. Garvey does not intend to make any surrender to the anti-Negro terrorists.

Send in that Subscription Today.

LEOPOLD SLAVE PEN ADMIRED BY MORRIS MAYOR

Keeps Youth Out of Mischief, He Thinks

By KARL REEVE.
(Special to the DAILY WORKER)

MORRIS, Illinois, July 31.—Mayor William Fessler of Morris, republican, when told that Chicago labor elements charged Nathan Leopold, sr., with grinding money out of Morris citizens at the Morris Paper Mill, owned by him, in order to supply money to a spendthrift family, and save his slayer son from the gallows, answered:

"We are tickled to death to have the paper mill here."

The mayor, reflecting the business element which wants to keep the young people from migrating to the larger cities, no matter what starvation wages they get at some, said:

Against Unions.

"The Morris Paper Mill is a boon to the town. Of course, the wages are small and the hours kind of long and the work speedy, but after all, only young men and girls are employed in the factory and it keeps them at home and increases business. There are no labor organizations in Morris. I have never heard the Chamber of Commerce meetings mention organized labor either favorably or otherwise. I do not think the labor union should be allowed in Morris."

Mayor Fessler spoke as a business man and Chamber of Commerce member who represented the middle class scab element in control of the town. Meanwhile the unsuspecting young people of the town slave away here at now three-fourths union wages and under scab conditions.

Business Growing.

The Morris Paper Mill is the largest industrial plant in town. The profits garnered by the Leopold factory have greatly increased lately. Increased business made it necessary in the last year to build a fabricating factory with forty-five thousand feet of floor space. The non-union down-state conditions are so profitable that Leopold is branching into other lines of the paper trade and a large office building adjoining the factory is now nearing completion.

Women Scorn "Bob."

WASHINGTON, July 31.—The National Women's Party, whose sole test for the apportioning of votes is support of their reactionary anti-welfare platform, will not endorse the "Progressive" campaign any more than the old parties. The Women's Party is really not representative of the majority of women, certainly not representative of the working-class women who most need social legislation until revolution can bring them their really fair treatment.

EXPOSES LEOPOLD'S OPEN SHOP HELL

(Continued from page 1)

happened not to be receiving the business of the Leopold concern, could not understand why a trial should even be granted the two degenerates as he said: "too much time and money has been wasted now."

Where is the solidarity in the capitalist class?

Leopold's Slaves At Work.

We are not, however, concerned with this pigmy-minded, small town banker, but with the young girls and boys working by dangerous machines ten long hours, standing on cement floors, who are furnishing the wealth out of their frail and delicate bodies to pay the high-priced sleuths and lawyers retained in behalf of this pervert.

Many of the Leopold factory operations are done by boys and girls alike, but the latter are paid less. To prevent the crushing of fingers, one must be alert and concentrate full attention on the work. All the work is based on piece work and the average salary is some $15 to $18 per week. Women who have more than one mouth to feed establish a pace that is killing.

Like other factories of this character, it has to its record the crushing of many strikes. The men did not organize and therefore they were defeated. The girls are disgusted with the boys who just recently went on strike in the caddy department and returned in two days' time. As one said, "How are they going to win if they act like a bunch of cowards?"

Bosses Fear Visitors.

It is impossible to go thru the plant unless you are overloaded with credentials from the most influential business concerns. The only excuse for this given by Mr. Beckwith, the manager, was that they had a great many new inventions and were afraid they would be copied. Karl Reeve and myself, however, in the morning went thru a part of the plant, the box department, without asking the permission of anyone. Bosses were suspicious. We got much information from the girls.

Mr. Leopold no longer makes any visits to his factory. All of his time is taken with defending the life of his son. Mr. Leopold never thought that he was killing many lives merely to save his boy. He seems unconscious of the hundreds of young girls whose womanhood he is destroying; of the young boys whose future is crushing; of the men and women, fathers and mothers, who no longer can fulfill the duties to their children, because the millionaire parent wants to make more money for lounge lizard criminals.

Crimes Against the Workers

While some of the rich parasites weep for the boy, and the State's Attorney with the judge, police, etc., are interested in hanging Nathan Leopold Jr., and Richard Loeb, yet these same individuals make no efforts to arrest the wholesale murder and crippling of the young workers in the Morris Paper Mills, Sears, Roebuck and Co., and many other human-wrecking, modern slave shops of production under the Leopold-Loeb interests.

MILLIONAIRE SLAYERS WIN COURT'S EAR

Judge Ignores State's Attorney Crowe

The long-awaited results of the "Million-for-Defense" trial of Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb have begun to show in the court room. The wealthy young murders seem about to win at least a hearing of "mitigating evidence" which their counsel Clarence Darrow hopes will save them from the extreme penalty for their crimes.

Judge John R. Caverly wearily hailed state's attorney Robert E. Crowe over the right of the court to hear the testimony of medical men on the degree of responsibility of the confessed slayers. Caverly is quite willing to hear, in fact, insists that he hear the case of the defense, altho the boys have pleaded "guilty."

Judge is Willing.

His disposition to hear the results of Darrow's and Benjamin Bachrach's legal defense may be a mere gesture of toleration, a show of "impartiality." It may be friendliness to the defense, part of the results of the "Millions for Defense." It is scarcely conceivable in this day of such gross injustice on every side that Judge Caverly should be actually playing the part of the blinded maiden with the scales.

But even that may be the truth. The judge is at least willing to listen to the defense with as much attentiveness as he has heard the state's case presented.

Workers Get Short Shift.

In by far the majority of trials of workers, whether on actual or trumped-up criminal or radical charges, the court would be much more willing to accept the state's attorney's prejudiced judgment and cut short the defense. In the equity court where the infamous Judge Dennis Sullivan sits the striking garment workers and their attorney Peter Sissman received the least courteous attention consistent with the "dignity" of the court.

The steel workers in the Farrell case, tried in Mercer, Pennsylvania, were given scant audience by the court. The state's case was accepted beforehand. In California the courts have accepted the false testimony of two confessed degenerate stool-pigeons hundreds of times to convict members of the Industrial Workers of the World who were never given a fair hearing by the judges.

Darrow Serene.

Clarence Darrow is not the worried man in the trial of young Loeb and Leopold. Whether he is wearing a "poker" mask and whether he does or does not know what is coming, he remains to be seen. The melodramatic Mr. Crowe reiterates his intention of balking any pretense of an "insanity" defense.

W. R. "Holsts" Puppet.

Art Brisbane, Hearst's left-hand-column preacher of vicious pseudo-liberalism, appeared in court yesterday at the moment when the salacious details were being whispered into the ears of the court stenographer. Art climbed right up with Judge Caverly and chatted familiarly for about ten minutes before taking a seat in the "inner circle" where he could write his blather about the boys and the "judge with a cold, stern face." Brisbane, you notice, arrives at the end of the state's case and the beginning of the defense. Now the case gets interesting!

But after all, the workers who have been slain for the greed of these fathers, Leopold, Loeb (and his brothers) and Franks, the workers whose slavery permitted the degeneracy of the young men, are not so much concerned with the outcome of the trial. Their wage slavery continues and will until they realize the power of their organizing and take society in hand so that no more such parasites shall be.

Soviets Organize Aid for Victims Of Intervention

(Rosta News.)

MOSCOW, July 31.—In view of the large number of applications being received by the board and committees of the Society for Assisting the Victims of Intervention, as well as by various Government departments, with claims on the part of Soviet citizens having suffered from alien intervention—the Council of People's Commissaries has decided to institute a special commission, attached to the People's Commissariat of Foreign Affairs, to consider all such claims and pretences. Mr. Somashko, People's Commissary of Public Health, has been appointed chairman of this commission.

The commission has been instructed to thoroughly consider all the claims of the Union citizens of compensation for property and personal losses incurred through the hostile acts of foreign governments and troops in Russian territory and also to fix the procedure for putting forth such claims to the respective foreign governments.

RIVERVIEW—RAIN OR SHINE
AUGUST 10th—SUNDAY
PRESS PICNIC DAY

Coffee Up 10 Cents; Trust Blames It on Revolution in Brazil

By J. LOUIS ENGDAHL.

TODAY, the price of coffee has increased ten cents per pound. The house-wife, when she goes to the grocery store, if she is given any reason for this boost in price, will be told that it is because there is a revolution going on in Sao Paulo, a province of Brazil.

Three-fourths of the world's supply of coffee comes from Brazil, there is trouble down there, and there you are, says the trust. The house-wife will probably wend her way homeward, blaming some "Bolshevik" of her imagination, and picturing in her mind the borders of Brazil touching those of Soviet Russia.

* * * *

In Chicago the city council committee on the high cost of living gets busy and calls for the usual silly "BOYCOTT" to keep prices down. The committee's secretary announces that Chicago uses 83,333 pounds of coffee per day, which means an added $265,000 dropped into the pockets of the coffee trust, from this city alone.

* * * *

We turn to the pages of the July 30th issue of the New York Commercial. This is a house organ of the big corporations that profit in food. The house-wife doesn't read it. She gets no further than the comics, perhaps to the woman's page, and the account of the Loeb-Leopold murder trial.

Here are a few headlines in the New York Commercial on the "coffee situation": "Rebellion Has Not Influenced Coffee Prices;" "Coffee Declines on Brazilian News;" "Market Closed 27 to 37 Points Lower."

* * * *

But the coffee trust is deaf, dumb and blind to all this news. The coffee trust, like any other trust, is only awake to opportunities to increase the price of the commodity it deals in. The revolution in the Brazilian province of Sao Paulo had hardly gotten under way before the subsidized press began carrying propaganda predicting boosts in the price of coffee. The hand of the hungry profiteer could easily be discerned in this. This propaganda was soon followed by the 10 cent price boost.

* * * *

There is nothing new about these repeated highway robberies of the big business bandits. It is all a part of the profiteering game.

The only exception that we know of is that no announcement has yet been made of a change in the price of toothpicks because of the forest fires in the West. But perhaps this has slipped us past.

* * * *

There was a time when no coffee came from Brazil. But the profiteers had other excuses for increasing prices then. Arabia formerly supplied the world, later the West Indies, and then Java, way off in the Orient. But now these fields of coffee production have been supplanted by Brazil, in South America, many thousands of miles from Soviet Russia, and no coffee trust agents have as yet charged that the Sao Paulo revolution, that is dropping millions of dollars into their laps, is being engineered from Moscow.

* * * *

In fact, the Sao Paulo revolution is an uprising against the centralized authority in Rio Janeiro. And Sao Paulo is only one of the four big coffee producing provinces of Brazil, no trouble being reported from the other three.

There is no reason, therefore, for the boost in price of coffee, except the rapacity of the coffee profiteers. The coffee trust, like all the other trusts, international in its scope. A sandstorm on the Arabian deserts would just as quickly become the basis for an increase in the cost of "Mocha," while a slight disturbance in the waters of the Indian Ocean might be used as an excuse for increasing the cost of "Java."

* * * *

As a matter of fact, "The Chicago Journal of Commerce," July 31, in a New York dispatch, declares that, "The stock of 824,000 bags of coffee at Santos (Sao Paulo) is said to be largely low grade coffee and not suitable for the U. S. Trade."

Some day the workers and farmers will become as international as the big trusts. They will discover the "con" game that is being put over on them.

The workers in the coffee fields, of Brazil, will feel an identity of interest with the workers and farmers of the United States, who consume about one-half of all the coffee exported by the producing countries of the world.

* * * *

The coup d'etat of the coffee trust in boosting the price of this household necessity ten cents per pound should be a little study in internationalism for the workers and farmers. Thus it will do some good. When the workers of the world decide to completely unite they will be in a position to get rid of the profiteers of the world.

AS WE SEE IT

By T. J. O'FLAHERTY.

(Continued from page 1)

les over his eyebrows and sometimes nothing else but wrinkles in his pockets. To be or not to be will be a problem for The DAILY WORKER, until the day after the proletarian revolution when it becomes the official organ of the Soviet Republic of the United States.

* * * *

Shooting the circulation skyward is the favorite indoor and outdoor sport among the staff of The DAILY WORKER. From the editors to the copy boy, everybody is anxious to know if we are gaining or losing. The big drive now on to double the membership of our party and the circulation of our daily has aroused great enthusiasm among our members. They realize what a power our propaganda will have when it reaches twice as many workers, perhaps four times as many as it reaches now. Every new subscriber for The DAILY WORKER means that four more workers read the paper.

The plan to have each party member get a new member for the party and at the same time a new reader for The DAILY WORKER should not be difficult of fulfillment. Surely every party member has an acquaintance, a worker with whom he or she has talked about the class struggle. Let each member make it his duty to line up a new member and a new reader.

* * * *

Some of the Hearst papers have reached a circulation of a million daily. The Chicago Tribune is close to three quarters of a million daily and the Sunday edition runs to about one million. The DAILY WORKER will not be satisfied with a circulation of 50,000 or 100,000. It has a clear field and no competition. It is the only workingclass paper in the United States, published daily in the English language that fights the capitalists and insists that the capitalist system must be overthrown. Let us make this circulation drive the business of every individual member of the party. There is no better time to increase the party membership than during the election campaign. There is no better way to make the slogan "Vote and work for Foster" effective than by doing your duty in this drive.

FASCIST A... BADLY B... BREAKIN...

But Anti-Fas... Arrested for...

(Special to The DAI...

YOUNGSTOWN, O...

The two Fascist agent... ed to break up an anti-... meeting here are nursi... es and their wounds i... They were badly beat... refused to permit the m... tinue peaceably.

The two anti-Fascist... were addressing the c... and other workers about... Mussolini and his fell... and were deploring the... socialist deputy Matt... fested for the disturbe... Fascisti created.

"Il Lavoratore" Ma...

Fernando Pascoli of t... Lavoratore," Communist... paper, and Domenico... the speakers, are still i... ing the raising of their...

Two other Fascisti... Fascist Italian ambassa... ington and also special... United States Steel Cor... quiet when they say ho... noisy friends were th... stead, called the police... peaceful speakers for "... peace."

Fascist Provocateur

The meeting had been... only 10 minutes when... provocateurs attempted... speakers and incite the... lence. The agents drew... and knives and brandish... til the angry audience, w... quested their absence an... was called for, attacking... gave them a terrific bea...

Even women who were... and remembered how th... Italy have abused their... their kicks to the attac... dicks. These dicks and... the mills to keep up... Gary's "friendship" for... for its black dicator Muss... task is to stir up differe... the workers and keep th... They have been sent over... cist government, some of... workers insist.

Cleveland Young W...

Cleveland, O., July... Workers League, West... Brandt, 1117 W. 117th St... 31 on Sunday, at... m. on. There will be... of Sports, including fiel... for boys; fifty-yard das... hundred yard dash for m... yard dash for women; fat... 200 yards, tug of war and... Prizes will be given, suc... fountain pens, string of... The Committee in charge... Young Workers and Old... good time. A special m... extended to all party... members and sympathise... ation will be 25 cents.

Send in that Subscripti...

WM. Z. FOS...
What do you k... about him?
When speaking to your n... friends and shopmates and... them to support and vote f... liam Z. Foster, the workin... candidate for president,... coming election, you will h... tell them what Foster has... for the labor movement. Fo... we recommend Foster's b...
"THE GREAT STEEL ... AND ITS LESSON...
The story of the steel... fight for organization an... nition, led by William Z...
AN AUTHOGRAPHED ... of this wonderful story se... address for $1.00
Regular price of this book... Order at once, while th... lasts! Remember: AN ... GRAPHED COPY.
Literature Departm...
Workers Party of A...
1113 W. Washington ...
Chicago, Ill.

Cleveland, O...
Young Workers Leag...
English West Side ...
PICNI...
SUNDAY, AUG...
Lorain Ave. and ...
117th Stree...
SPORTS — GA...
ENTERTAINME...
Open 11 a. m...
ADMISSION ...

MILITA... CAPITALISTS USE WORL... ANNIVERSARY FOR PU... G MOBILIZATION DAY

On this te...rsary of the outbreak of the world war, while Commu...demonstrating against wars of capitalism the capitali...are printing the seemingly trivial details which led up t...ific conflict of imperialist economic interests. Ten ... some of this data was available, the intrigues of th... and German courts were certainly no secret among ...ats and the world exploiters. But in that precariou...isclosures of the in...gns in government we...

"The assassin... Austrian archduk... wife ...rnished the pr... war. The murder of ... vicesome in Persia ... that the surface excuse for ...

Manipulate...

International fi... capitalists manipulate ... serve their own profitab... to instigate "political" ... then speak, governments ... "full justice" is only c... tricks, when a happy acci... doesn't give them the pro... war-like maneuvers.

Even in so-called "republican" ... and "democratic" countries do not have a ... manipulating the moment to ... workers can't protest ag... their fellow workers in ... tries. Oh no, the workers must "vindicate the ... nation. No, of the ... of the capitalists. ... must leave their jo... to kill workers from t...

Workers Hear ...

But this comment... of the chief great war ... by the Communists ever ... which workers not to fight ... capitalism. Not to accept ... the murder of some ... seeds "vindication" ... So the "inner circle" ... in the boys of one nation wr... rich territory of som...

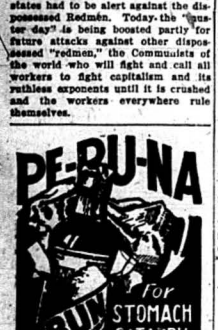
And the politicians ... ...ating the old "nationa... get the workers inter... national Defense" wh... "Mobilization Day" it ... Little Coolidge in th... valiantly defends ... friends, the imperia... They won't ask him t... they want him to k... rich farmers of the ... primes for "defense," ... means aggression to ... sons boys. Just look ... south and see what "defen... cures led United States soldi... ors, and marines into Haiti, Santo Domingo, Panama, the rest of the little Latin-A... countries.

Militarist Governors.

Governor Charlie Bryan of N... ka, and maybe later of Washi... D. C., raised a feeble protest a... Coolidge's mobilizing civilians, ... he admitted that he "agreed wit... spirit of Coolidge's message" ca... for a "defense test" of all re... armed units.

Governor Preus of Minnesota needs no introduction to the workers and farmers of his own state. And, of course, they expected him to stand by the reactionary big business bunch and root for "Mobilization Day." Governor Blaine of Wisconsin, endorses Coolidge's militarist gesture for Sept. 12; altho Senator LaFollette, his state political "boss" stood against the last war. "Bob" tactly supports his reactionary governor—Politics, politics, and behind politics, Big Business which pays the bills for its faithful trumpeters.

The mayors of all the Illinois towns are to congregate here some time next week to discuss plans for the "day." They are trying to paint it a genial "muster day" of the 1776 revolutionary times when the young states had to be alert against the dispossessed Redmen. Today the "muster day" is being boosted partly for future attacks against other dispossessed "redmen," the Communists of the world who will fight and call all workers to fight capitalism and its ruthless exponents until it is crushed and the workers everywhere rule themselves.



Tablets or Liquid
Sold Everywhere

Phone Spaulding 4878
ASHER B. PORTNOY & CO.
Painters and Decorators
PAINTERS' SUPPLIES
Estimates on New and Old Work
1902 MILWAUKEE AVE., CHICAGO

POLISH WORKERS CALL GENERAL STRIKE WHEN TEN-HOUR DAY STARTS

(Special to The DAILY WORKER)

WARSAW, Poland, July 31.—A general strike of all workers in Silesia has been voted by the trade unions. More than 30,000 factory workers are already out in protest against the reinstatement of the ten hour day. The government has been seeking concessions from employers by lengthening the working day.

Send in that Subscription Today.

IS JAMES A. PATTEN, WHEAT GAMBLER RIGHT ABOUT FARMER PROSPERITY? LET THE REAL FARMERS ANSWER

James A. Patten, "wheat king" of the Chicago Board of Trade is optimistic about the fortunes of the farmers. The present increase in prices of farm products, he says ought to make the farmer see things in a better light. Wheat, corn and oats have gone up in price.

We read in the newspapers that the farmers have gained hundreds of millions in a few weeks owing to this increase in prices. It is true, millions have been made but who are the beneficiaries. Not the farmers it appears. At least not the type known as "dirt" farmers or farmers who farm outside the boards of trade or the gambling pits where they buy and sell imaginary wheat.

Patten expects wheat at $2.00 a bushel before the end of the year; corn from $1.25 to $1.50 and oats from 60 cents up.

Farmers writing in to the DAILY Worker say that the profits from the recent advances go to the grain gamblers and not to the farmers.

We would like to hear from other farmers. Write to the DAILY WORKER, Farm Editor and tell your story.

GERMAN RULERS APOLOGIZE TO SOVIET RUSSIA

Beg Pardon and Pay Bills for Raid

(Special to the DAILY WORKER)

BERLIN, July 31.—The Marx-Stresemann government has extended its formal apologies to the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics for the police raid on the Soviet embassy in Berlin last Spring. Damages will be paid.

This surrender by the capitalist government means that diplomatic relations between the two countries will be resumed from the point where they were interrupted May 3. Russia's international prestige is enhanced by her victory in the negotiations.

The Berlin government agrees to pay for all material damage sustained. The onus for the raid is put on the police officer in charge and this individual has been dismissed from the force. The exterritoriality of the Soviet commercial office is recognized and the German government promises that it will seek to effect a commercial treaty with Russia.

The May 3 raid was characterized by a ruthless disregard of diplomatic rights. Desks were forced open and state documents were seized which the government authorities expected to use in anti-Communist propaganda.

The German government's policy of putting the blame on the police is regarded as the easiest way out. Russian representatives, however, do not believe that the assault will be repeated. The German government has too much to lose by such a course.

Fewer Passenger Autos Produced as Times Get Harder

(By The Federated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 31.— Fewer passenger automobiles were produced in this country in June, 1924, than in any month since December, 1922, according to a census of 99 leading firms, announced by the Department of Commerce. Trucks, also, were at a low ebb. Except for last December, when the production of motor trucks was 27,762, the June output of 27,463 was the lowest since February, 1923. Truck production was reported by 137 makers.

The number of passenger cars produced in June of the present year was 217,927, compared with 337,442 for June of 1923, and with 263,953 for June of 1922. For the first six months of 1924 the passenger car production was 1,305,502 as compared with 1,830,956 for the corresponding period of 1923.

To Mecca By Train

JERUSALEM, July 31.—The Government of Hedjas is making all preparations for the commencement of the building of a new railway between Haaa and Akaba for the purpose of facilitating the travel to Mecca of the Moslem pilgrims. Work on the railway, which will greatly increase the industrial and commercial possibilities of the region, will begin in January.

Send in that Subscription Today.

Night and Morning to keep them Clear, Clear and Healthy
Write for Free "Eye Care" or "Eye Beauty" Book
Murine Co., Dept. H. 5, 9 E. Ohio St., Chicago

Communist Painters Defend Art Against Bourgeois Vandals

BY ELLA G. WOLFE.

(Special to the DAILY WORKER)

MEXICO CITY, July 31.—The decadence of capitalism and the new revolutionary ideas born under this system which has long ceased to serve humanity adequately has had a tremendous influence on the development of art in Mexico. It has created a revolutionary art, a communist art. In strong colors and graphic, telling lines, it describes the lives of the upper classes, their debauches, their baseness, their uselessness to the society they live upon. With the same strength, with a clear understanding, with a real artistic genius, the Communist painters are covering the walls of public buildings with the simple stories of the productive worker—in the mines, in the mills, in the steel works, in the sugar industry, in the dyeing industry, in the quarries, in the fields.

This vivid contrast between the lives of the parasites and those of the useful members of society has offended the delicate nerves of the "upper" classes and they have set a number of reactionary students to destroy these artistic productions which disturb their consciences. The reasons they give for their abhorrence of this new movement in Mexican art is that it is out of proportion, it offends their good taste, it is not aesthetic. Truth, if it hurts, is not aesthetic. And so the excellent works of the Communist painters, J. Celemente Orozco and D. Alfaro Siqueros have been practically destroyed; the unparalleled works of Diego Rivera have been threatened. One Saturday morning Rivera and a group of workmen, armed, held off a group of young vandals who were making for his paintings.

The foreign colony here has protested strongly against the ruin of these paintings. The protest appeared in the form of an open letter which was pasted upon the walls of the capitol. Names of many leading painters and sculptors of France and Latin-America, writers and newspapermen of the United States and Spanish poets appeared on the protest.

Russia to Stimulate Radio Activities in All Soviet Republics

(Special to the Daily Worker.)

MOSCOW, July 31.—Radio is to be popularized thruout Soviet Russia according to the latest reports from the council of commissars. The official statement has not yet been issued, but it is well-known that the government plans to broadcast speeches, programs, news and special events. The installation of receiving sets will be permitted in homes for the payment of a small license fee.

The Soviet government is planning to construct amateur radio apparatus, developing a huge new industry. It will also permit individuals to construct their own sets. It is hoped that the widespread introduction of radio will encourage and stimulate electric science in general.

Get More Horses.

MOSCOW, July 31.—According to a plan, made known by the People's Commissariat of Agriculture, it is proposed to restore the stock of horses thruout the Union of Soviet Republics to its pre-war figures within a period of no more than ten years.

N. Y. SOCIALISTS CHOKE ON TAKING ALL BOB'S PILLS

Opposition Won't Let State Ticket Go

(Special to The DAILY WORKER)

NEW YORK, July 31.—The State Convention of the Socialist Party was held at the Finnish Hall, 2056 Fifth Avenue. There were about 30 accredited delegates including the whole State Socialist machine, Hillquit, Leo, Oerber, etc.

The question of the endorsement of LaFollette and Wheeler was accomplished without much ado. It seems that the delegates have become realigned to accept so-called Progressive Republicans and Democrats without any outward signs of resistance shown even amongst the so-called Left wing—Judge Panken, Braunstein and others.

However, a little thrill was added to the proceedings on the question of nominations for Congress. A motion was introduced leaving to the Executive Committee the endorsement of candidates for Congress, an amendment by S. Berlin and seconded by John S. Block to the effect that only those leaving the old parties and running on the LaFollette ticket can be endorsed. There was a bitter discussion on this question with the whole S. P. machine aligned against Berlin, Block and some others of the smaller fry. The question of the complete submergence of the S. P. in the bourgeois LaFollette movement did not seem to worry Hillquit primarily, because there was little left to be submerged. The amendment was lost 16 to 14 votes. The opposition argued that it was sufficient to swallow LaFollette and Wheeler but they did not want to swallow the Whole Democratic and Republican parties.

The original motion to leave this matter to the incoming Executive Board was carried 16 to 14, Block and one other not voting.

Shoot Up Klan Cross.

PHILADELPHIA, July 31.—A burning "firey cross" of the Ku Klux Klan was riddled with bullets here on the edge of an encampment of the "Military Guard," Knights of Pythias.

COMMUNIST CANDIDATES GAIN IN NORTH DAKOTA; WON PRIMARIES

WILLISTON, N. D., July 31.—A. C. Miller, member of the Workers Party is running for state representative from this district, and he is carrying on a Communist campaign. He won out in the primary election and has a fairly good chance of being elected this fall.

Andrew Ambolt is a candidate for sheriff of Williams county and he is also a member of the Workers Party and is openly espousing the cause of the farmers and workers and of Communism in this section of North Dakota. He, too, won out in the primary election.

With this battery of forces it is expected that the party work in this part of the state will take on definite form and that many members will be enrolled during the coming election campaign.

The Foster-Gitlow petitions are being circulated here and the farmers are willing to sign them. The LaFollette illusion is, of course, yet strong in North Dakota, but it does not in the least represent an insurmountable obstacle. With the entry of the Workers Party into the campaign the farmers will have an opportunity to get wise to the fact that LaFollette is not fighting their battles.

Comrades Miller and Amholt will attend the Workers Party conference to be held at Wilton on August 3rd.

Birth Control is Putting Kinks in California Census

SACRAMENTO, Cal., July 31.—Special Agent W. H. Lackey of the federal census bureau has arrived in Sacramento to investigate the birth control movement in California. At least, that is the reason he gives for recent statistics showing that California has more mothers than any other state, but these mothers have fewer children. He finds 87 per cent of the married women in California have children, as against 83 per cent elsewhere, but there are 267 children per 100 mothers, as against 308 per 100 in the rest of the country. "The difference is due to practical birth control," says Lackey.

Cleveland T. U. E. L. Meet.

CLEVELAND, O., July 31.—There is a meeting Sunday, Aug. 3, South Slavic Hall, 6607 St. Clair Ave., of the TRADE UNION EDUCATIONAL LEAGUE. All League members are required to be present and all progressive Trades Unionists are invited. The meeting will take up the questions of Unemployment and other pressing problems in the Labor Movement. Meeting at 10:30 a. m.

Workers' Friend Exiled.

LIMA, Peru, July 31.—Senor Anibal Secada, well known newspaper man and defender of he workers' cause, was exiled from his country for supporting and defending a successful strike against American interests.

Texas Negroes Jam Wretched Schools Seeking Education

AUSTIN, Texas, July 31.— The Texas department of education has issued figures showing that the Negro schools are badly overcrowded and that the race is showing much interest in education.

In the smaller districts there were only about half enough seats for the pupils. Enrollment was 90 per cent of the scholastic population. The average wage for teachers was less than $500 a year in 1922-23.

Avanti Suppressed For Taking Rap at Italian King

ROME, July 31.—Because Avanti the Italian labor daily, dared criticize the recent speech of King Victor Emanuel before parliament for never mentioning the word liberty, the paper has been suppressed.

Russians Trade in Russia.

MOSCOW, July 31.—It is reported from Teheran that a branch office of the Russo-Persian Bank as well as a branch of the "Persakhlopck" (Persian Cotton Society), have been opened at Ispahan, South Persia, and that branch offices of the "Azneft" (Azerbaidjan Oil Syndicate) are to be opened within the earliest future in a number of South Persian towns.

SHEEP KING SAYS WEST WILL NOT PASTURE CALVIN

Sees Farming States Lost to G. O. P.

BY LAURENCE TODD

(Federated Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, July 31.—As the story goes, hard-boiled Senator Stanfield of Oregon, who advertises himself as the sheep king of the United States, was telling a friend that Coolidge would have trouble in the west.

"Won't he carry it?" he was asked.

"Carry the west? Why, he won't carry a single state beyond the Mississippi! Everybody out there is broke. Even in Oregon they're all broke. I have lost $5,000,000 myself, in the past four years."

Stanfield is one of the Coolidge stalwarts. As a member of the public lands committee which investigated the naval oil scandals, he defended Fall, Denby, Doheny and Sinclair to the best of his meagre ability. He was almost as tory as Jimmy Wadsworth of New York. But he cannot see much hope in the west this year for his brand of reaction.

* * *

President Coolidge's bad memory is actively in eruption once more. He denies the title "Mobilization Day," which his war department formally gave to Der Tag of Sept. 12 which he now calls the Defense Test. Every press correspondent in Washington knows that war department press statements, advertising this campaign scheme, proudly called it "Mobilization Day," both in headlines and in text. When nationwide protest arose, the name was changed and Coolidge nervily disclaimed the original.

Airplane Policing.

RIVER FOREST, Ill., July 31.—Police Chief Frunk W. Laatz, of this little Chicago suburb, has hit upon a novel device for keeping tab on town workers, police patrolmen and automobile speeders. Every day Joseph R. James, war veteran, and member of the motorcycle squad, takes Chief Laatz for an airplane tour of the city.

"I can see whether town workers are on the job, whether policemen are properly patrolling their beats, and also can nab automobile speeders," said Laatz.

VOTE and WORK
FOR
FOSTER for PRESIDENT

Get a photographic reproduction of this new picture of Foster free.

Every Reader of THE DAILY WORKER
will be a worker for
FOSTER FOR PRESIDENT

Printed on a fine grade of paper, 12 inches wide by 18 inches high. Suitable for framing or posting in your window.

THE DAILY WORKER
will be the best, the most incessant worker for
FOSTER FOR PRESIDENT

YOU!! WORK!!
For Foster for President by securing new subscribers to THE DAILY WORKER

4 MONTH SPECIAL ELECTION CAMPAIGN SUBSCRIPTIONS (For new subscribers only) $2.00

Get a New Reader for the DAILY WORKER and a Big Picture of Foster for Yourself

USE THE COUPON

THE DAILY WORKER
1113 W. Washington Blvd.,
Chicago, Ill.

I have sold a Special 4-Month Election Campaign sub. Please send me FREE the picture of Foster.

Name: .....
Street: .....
City: ..... State: .....

New Subscriber's
Name: .....
Street: .....
City: .....
State: .....

FIFTH CONGRESS HEARS REPORTS ABOUT FASCISM

Bordiga Tells of Italian Workers' Struggle

(Special to the DAILY WORKER)

MOSCOW, July 9 (By Mail).—The twenty-third session of the Fifth Congress of the Comintern listened to reports on Fascism. One was delivered by Bordiga of Italy and the other by Freimuth of Germany. They showed that international Fascism, while presenting national differences, is still one of the most valuable weapons of the capitalist class in its struggle to beat back the rising revolution. For the workers it is of the utmost importance to find the methods by which Fascism can be met and overcome.

Bordiga said:

I presented to the Fourth Congress a report on the question of Fascism dealing with a very decisive period of the history of Fascism in Italy; that is to say, with the conquest of power by Mussolini. I must deal now with another phase of Fascist development which is connected, as you know, with the Matteotti affair.

Mentions Matteotti.

At this juncture it is of particular interest to study this important social and political phenomenon.

I am, of course, not going to repeat what I said about Fascism in my first report from the historical point of view. I will merely remind you of the fundamental criticism in connection with the phenomena now before us and with which I dealt in my first report.

It has been said that the development of the governmental crisis in Italy represented Fascism as the political negation of the period during which the liberal and democratic bourgeoisie of the left was in power in Italy. According to this point of view, Fascism came as a reaction against the concessions post-war policy of Giolitti, etc. We think, on the contrary, that there is a dialectic connection between the two periods, and that the attitude which the Italian bourgeoisie adopted at first during the crisis which convulsed the state after the war was paving the way for Fascism.

Fascism [illegible]

Fascism began in the agricultural district. This is characteristic fact. The attack against positions of the red proletariat began in Italy in the agricultural districts. But if it is true that Fascism began its actions in the non-industrial districts, we must not imagine that it is purely a movement in the interests of the agrarian bourgeoisie and of the big land owners. On the contrary, it is a movement which represents also the interests of the big industrial, financial and commercial bourgeoisie. It is an attempt at counter revolutionary unity of all the forces of the bourgeoisie. At the first glance, Fascism by its outward aspect does not seem to be an organization of the important social classes which we have just named. It rather appears as a movement of the middle classes, of war veterans, of bourgeois intellectuals and of all other sections which the proletariat could not bring over to its side.

Fascism is not a revolutionary movement. It is rather a movement for the preservation of what exists already, and it does not present us with a new program. It merely brings forward a new factor which was entirely lacking in the old parties, a formidable fighting organization, both political and military.

Anti-Proletarian.

What are the relations between Fascism and the proletariat?

Its name alone shows that it is an anti-socialist and therefore an anti-proletarian movement. From beginning to end it appears as the destroyer of even the smallest conquests of the working class. But even if Fascism is not the victorious right reaction with its concomitant of martial law, terror, emergency legislation, and official prohibition of red and revolutionary organizations, it is something more than that. It is a more modern, cunning movement which endeavors at the same time to do propaganda among the masses, and even adopts the principles of trade union organization. It endeavors to form economic workers' organizations. It is self-evident that we cannot compare these trade union organizations with the red trade unions. But we must admit that this is a very strong theoretical argument against trade unions and even against revolutionary trade unionism, which maintains that the most effective weapon for the proletarian struggle is economic organization. Facts have shown us that this weapon can be very well used for counter-revolutionary purposes.

"Class Co-operation."

In fact, Fascism has merely adopted, but in a new form, the old platform of left bourgeois parties and of the social democrats, namely, class co-operation. Fascism exploits also in the same fashion national and patriotic ideology.

Thereupon Bordiga dealt with the facts which characterized the Fascist conquest of power. We did not have armed action, but a mobilization of Fascism which threatened with a revolutionary seizure of power, and a sort of defensive mobilization by the state which even declared a state of siege in certain moment. But this resistance did not materialize. Armed action did not take place, we have a compromise instead of it.

We absolutely denied that there is a question of revolution, as Fascism maintains. The Fascist say we can make this revolution whenever we like. But revolution is not a thing which can be done at will; neither is it at the disposal even of the boldest of political leaders, for even he cannot make events happen whenever he wills it.

Only Shift of Leaders.

Therefore, no revolution took place. There was a change in the leadership of the bourgeois class, but this change does not represent a change of the program of the Italian bourgeoisie neither from the economic and social nor from the home policy point of view.

It is true that there were persecutions against Communists, but the legal procedure was the ordinary procedure of the land and no emergency legislation was introduced. The old laws are very democratic and liberal, and this enabled us to come out of the trial with flying colors. This does not mean that there were no serious prosecutions against the proletariat, but what I want to say is that in this purely political lawsuit, which was supposed to deal a death blow to the revolutionary general staff, the new situation created by Fascism did not make any difference.

Bordiga reviewed the economic situation in Italy under the Fascist regime and showed that in reality it has become worse, for today the lira is lower than it ever was before. Mussolini's contention is that he could have fallen lower still if it had not been for Fascism, an utterly worthless argument.

Middle-Class Awakening.

The Fascist government has not kept its promises, and there is great disillusionment in the class on whose support Fascism depended, namely, the middle class.

I want to deal now with the methods of the Fascist government towards the state which even declared a state of siege in certain moment. But this resistance did not materialize. Armed action did not take place, we have a compromise instead of it.

We absolutely denied that there is a question of revolution, as Fascism maintains. The Fascist say we can make this revolution whenever we like. But revolution is not a thing which can be done at will; neither is it at the disposal even of the boldest of political leaders, for even he cannot make events happen whenever he wills it.

Only Shift of Leaders.

Therefore, no revolution took place. There was a change in the leadership of the bourgeois class, but this change does not represent a change of the program of the Italian bourgeoisie neither from the economic and social nor from the home policy point of view.

It is true that there were persecutions against Communists, but the legal procedure was the ordinary procedure of the land and no emergency legislation was introduced. The old laws are very democratic and liberal, and this enabled us to come out of the trial with flying colors. This does not mean that there were no serious prosecutions against the proletariat, but what I want to say is that in this purely political lawsuit, which was supposed to deal a death blow to the revolutionary general staff, the new situation created by Fascism did not make any difference.

Bordiga reviewed the economic situation in Italy under the Fascist regime and showed that in reality it has become worse, for today the lira is lower than it ever was before. Mussolini's contention is that he could have fallen lower still if it had not been for Fascism, an utterly worthless argument.

Middle-Class Awakening.

The Fascist government has not kept its promises, and there is great disillusionment in the class on whose support Fascism depended, namely, the middle class.

Zinoviev Discusses Problems and Types of Workers' Government

Editor's Note.—In this section of his report to the Fifth World Congress, Gregory Zinoviev, chairman of the Communist International, takes up the question of the problems and types of Workers' Governments as follows:

* * *

CHAPTER IX.
Problem of Workers' Government. Types of "Workers' Governments."

THE main point is that in the resolution in the following passage: There are various labor party governments as the one in power in England now, but not all are proletarian governments. For D'Arragona, every workers' government is good. For Radek, for Brandler, for many comrades in Czecho-Slovakia, I feel it is the same. Although they realize that it is not the dictatorship of the proletariat.

We have now collected some experience and must say frankly that the absence of the slogan for us is: a method of agitation and of organizing the masses. We must, of course, take advantage of the situation created by the existence of a labor government, like that of MacDonald's. The workers' government is for us the most powerful and popular formula for the dictatorship of the proletariat. The workers and peasants perform the deed and then understand it. We must adopt the popular formula as we did in the Russian Revolution. This is no small question, it is not a question of mere style, but a question whether we are a party which can touch the peasants and soldiers where they are most receptive, a party which is not a sect but a mass party as the Bolsheviks were.

Every bourgeois government is at the same time a capitalist government, but not every workers' government is a real proletarian government, i. e. a revolutionary weapon of proletarian power. The Communist International must take account of the following possibilities.

1. A liberal labor government. Such a government existed in Australia, such a government may soon arise in England in the near future.

2. A social democratic workers' government (Germany).

3. A workers' and peasants' government. Such a possibility exists in the Balkans, Czecho-Slovakia, etc.

4. A workers' government with Communist participation.

5. A genuine proletarian workers' government, which can be realized in its pure form only by the Communist Party.

I know many comrades, nevertheless, have a great objection to the tactics of the united front as such. I can offer these comrades only one formula. I say to them that the united front and the workers' government are only instruments for the mobilization and organization of the working masses. If that does not please them I propose a compromise. Let the supporters of the majority of the working class in your country, and we will immediately absolve you from the use of these instruments (laughter). If you have a majority of the most important strata of the proletariat, certainly you may allow yourself to be less strict in the use of these tactics. But, in the most important countries the fact is that we have not yet this majority. We must understand how to approach the masses as they are, to win them over, to lead them on the way to bolshevism, and then be able to modify these tactics.

We Must Conform to Concrete Situation.

It is not necessary to mould all the parties according to the same pattern. On the contrary, we must put the question quite concretely, in accordance with the conditions prevailing in the particular country. The Russian proverb says: "Don't spoil a barrel of honey with a spoonful of tar." Radek and other theoreticians of the "right" insist on pouring a spoonful of opportunistic tar into the barrel of good united-front honey. We throw away the tar, and preserve the good honey of the united-front tactics and share it out in proper proportion to each country.

I have read that in Czecho-Slovakia, Hula and other comrades are much disturbed because we now say everywhere there must be a united front from below, and that we will not modify this according to circumstances in each country. Neurath was quite right in his article against Hula, in which he said that the executive never proposed this. The E. C. never proposed this. We said that in Germany conditions were so ripe that we must now call for unity from below.

At the same moment, we said it was obviously quite otherwise in Poland, and also in Austria and other countries. The whole art of the International consists in making concrete and tactics because the situation is extremely varied in each country. We have never said that all parties should be treated alike. Will Comrade Smeral inform Hula of this.

Finally, and once more: with regard to the workers' and peasants' government, it is nothing more than a method of agitation and propaganda and mobilization of the masses. It is, as I said in 1922, a pseudonym for the dictatorship of the proletariat. Meyer opposed this, as did also Radek, partly. But not a single man of our Russian Party, because for us it was quite clear. Our mistake consisted only in that many did not perceive this. Radek and Company were angry with us not merely about the style but were developing reformist tendencies.

Attention to the Peasantry.

You will remember that I was the originator of the slogan of a workers' and peasants' government at a meeting of the Enlarged Executive. How did that come about? Because of the realization that we were marching forward in a number of countries and were getting pretty near to the problem of the seizure of power. I will not boast that I felt even then that German conditions were becoming ripe. But we had the sub-conscious feeling that the question of power was progressing fairly rapidly in several countries. And that is why we always tried to tell the various parties: "Pay attention to your peasants!"

Of course, a party which is nowhere near power does not need to do this. It remains merely a party to a section of the toiling masses. But from the moment that the party services think of power, becomes a mass party, it must consider how the peasants will act, and how the country will react to the government of the party. Therefore our slogan of workers' and peasants' government expresses the fact that in many countries we are approaching the problem of power. It is the expression for the hegemony of the proletariat in the revolution and the leadership of the party of the proletariat. For us it was in a certain sense a transition from revolutionary propaganda to revolutionary deed.

There is a difference between agitation and propaganda. The best definition of this difference was made by Plekhanov when he was a Marxist: "Propaganda means conveying certain complexes of ideas to a small circle of people; agitation means spreading one main idea among a great mass of people." I think this definition is good enough for us. It is correct. Thus our slogan arose from the fact that we were obliged to turn from propaganda of communism to agitation among the masses of the people, and to prepare for the struggle for power. When we have to face the struggle for power we must make use of just this catchward for it is popular and attractive, and, when it has been well-explained to the workers, will serve as a magnet for all those strata which should either be neutralized or drawn into the movement.

Therefore this slogan of the workers' and peasants' government is for us the expression of the hegemony of the leading role of the proletariat in the revolution, of the will to power, of the determination to form a government of our own which will be able to handle the peasantry. And they have tried with partial success to kill this vital conception of Leninism, this living source of Leninistic activity and agitation among the masses, by opportunistic interpretations.

Left Deviations and Tactics of the United Front.

I advise our comrades, and especially our German comrades who now put cotton-wool in their ears whenever they hear the united front mentioned (and this is only too understandable after all the mistakes and experiments in Saxony), to think this matter over very earnestly.

Comrade Burean (Junior) in Czecho-Slovakia, writes for instance, that the tactics of the united front is the main source of revisionism. That is not true. Anybody who is a revisionist will soon find a "source," in parliamentarism or something else (laughter, and hear, hear). We cannot defend the Social Democracy if we are afraid of our own shadow and keep on saying that the tactics of the united front are a source of revisionism. There are always people for whom this slogan is a source of revisionism. We must take what is good; what is Leninistic in the united front, and what is popular in the workers' government; what will win the confidence of the masses, not only of the working class but of all the oppressed.

The most true left wing of the Communist International, must take this work into our own hands. Only in this way shall we eliminate the errors of the real right wing, convincing those of the right who can be convinced, and fighting those who cannot. The Fifth Congress must not think that its task is to declare the united front a mistake, but we must take measures of precaution against their distortion, we must adopt some tactics of opposition against opportunism as against smallpox. In Germany the ulcer has burst; it had been forced to a head. Its logical outcome was seen in Saxony.

In Czecho-Slovakia the ulcer has not likewise burst, it will have not had such a political catastrophe, if is because conditions were not ripe enough. The attitude of the Prague Congress and comrade Hula show the difference was made by Plekhanov when he was a Marxist: "Propaganda means conveying certain complexes of ideas to a small circle of people; agitation means spreading one main idea among a great mass of people." I think this definition is good enough for us. It is correct. Thus our slogan arose from the fact that we were obliged to turn from propaganda of communism to agitation among the masses of the people, and to prepare for the struggle for power. When we have to face the struggle for power we must make use of just this catchward for it is popular and attractive, and, when it has been well-explained to the workers, will serve as a magnet for all those strata which should either be neutralized or drawn into the movement.

Therefore this slogan of the workers' and peasants' government is for us the expression of the hegemony of the leading role of the proletariat in the revolution, of the will to power, of the determination to form a government of our own which will be able to handle the peasantry. And they have tried with partial success to kill this vital conception of Leninism, this living source of Leninistic activity and agitation among the masses, by opportunistic interpretations.

Left Deviations and Tactics of the United Front.

I advise our comrades, and especially our German comrades who now put cotton-wool in their ears whenever they hear the united front mentioned (and this is only too understandable after all the mistakes and experiments in Saxony), to think this matter over very earnestly.

Comrade Burean (Junior) in Czecho-Slovakia, writes for instance, that the tactics of the united front is the main source of revisionism. That is not true. Anybody who is a revisionist will soon find a "source," in parliamentarism or something else (laughter, and hear, hear). We cannot defend the Social Democracy if we are afraid of our own shadow and keep on saying that the tactics of the united front are a source of revisionism. There are always people for whom this slogan is a source of revisionism. We must take what is good; what is Leninistic in the united front, and what is popular in the workers' government; what will win the confidence of the masses, not only of the working class but of all the oppressed.

The most true left wing of the Communist International, must take this work into our own hands. Only in this way shall we eliminate the errors of the real right wing, convincing those of the right who can be convinced, and fighting those who cannot. The Fifth Congress must not think that its task is to declare the united front a mistake, but we must take measures of precaution against their distortion, we must adopt some tactics of opposition against opportunism as against smallpox. In Germany the ulcer has burst; it had been forced to a head. Its logical outcome was seen in Saxony.

In Czecho-Slovakia the ulcer has not likewise burst, it will have not had such a political catastrophe, if is because conditions were not ripe enough. The attitude of the Prague Congress and comrade Hula show the difference between [illegible] apathy and confusion of mind ra[illegible]ng in the Central Committee of th[illegible] Slovakian Party, I am afraid that [illegible] the situation had been similar [illegible] should have witnessed another Saxon fiasco.

(Tomorrow—Concrete Tasks of Principal Parties.)

American Delegation Endorses Zinoviev Report

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF THE COMMUNIST INTERNATIONAL.

Submitted by the American Delegation.

THE American Delegation endorses the report of the Executive Committee of the Third International as presented by Comrade Zinoviev. The American Delegation wishes to lay particular stress on its agreement with the policies of the Communist International as regards the following questions:

1. The United Front has proved to be a powerful weapon in the hands of the various Communist Parties, drawing the masses into the sphere of influence of the Communist Parties, accelerating the struggle of the working class for power, exposing the reactionary character of the social democrats and the official labor union leaders. It has also proven a valuable means of drawing the backward masses of the American working class nearer to the class struggle and to the Communist Party.

The American Delegation is in full agreement with the measures and decisions of the Communist International as regards the application of the policy of the United Front in the various countries.

The report of the "Workers' and Farmers' Government" has been of great value in stimulating the class spirit and the will to power among the working masses. We emphasize that only the revolutionary use of the slogan of Workers' and Farmers' Government as opposed to the slogan of a liberal labor government or "coalition" government, and as a symbol of the proletarian dictatorship will prove a weapon in the class struggle for power.

3. Reorganization of the various parties on the basis of shop nuclei is considered by the American delegation of primary importance. All efforts should be made by the various Parties, including the American Party, to reconstruct their organization on this revolutionary basis which alone makes it possible to mobilize the Party and the working class for action under the leadership of the Communist Party.

4. The Trade Union policy of the Communist International is the revolutionary policy of staying with the organized masses in their existing trade unions and prosecuting the daily struggle as Communists, side by side with the backward workers, in order to win them away from their reactionary leaders and to capture the masses of the trade union membership, mobilize it under Communist leadership in the revolutionary struggle for power. We wish to emphasize as strongly as possible our agreement with this policy, especially as expressed in the decision of the Communist International on the question of the German trade unions.

The report of the Executive concerning the Russian and the German Communist Parties is unreservedly endorsed by the American Delegation. We support the old guard of the Russian Party which in connection with the broad masses of shop and factory workers form the iron-class force of the Russian revolution. We consider the criticism made by the German Left against the Right is fully justified, and we endorse the decision of the Communist International supporting the German left majority.

6. The fight of the Communist International against both the right opportunistic tendencies and the left sickness within the Communist movement finds the absolute support of the American Delegation. We consider it essential that also in the future a constant struggle should be waged both against right aberrations as exemplified by Hoyglund, the left aberrations personified by Bordiga, and the more dangerous revisionism of Grazeadei, Korsch and Lukacs.

The American Delegation agrees with the criticism of the Communist International of the American Party that opportunistic tendencies as expressed by the Lore group have manifested themselves and must be combatted relentlessly.

We agree that mistakes such as are mentioned in the Communist International letter have been made in an attempt to apply the United Front tactics in the American situation and that these mistakes were due to the youth of the party and its lack of experience in the United Front maneuver.

The decision of the Executive Committee International relative to the third party position of the American Party has been accepted by the Central Executive Committee of the Party and is being carried out by the Party as a whole.

N. Y. CHURCHES ANTI-WAR DEMONSTRATION

Special Crowd Police Curfew,

(Special to the DAILY WORKER)

NEW YORK, July 31.—More than a thousand persons gave enthusiastic demonstration against their opposition to the huge open air mass meeting at 59th St. and 8th Ave. this evening, called by the Workers Party of New York, marked the opening of the anti-war week campaign in New York.

Among those that addressed the meeting were Robert Stuart Poyntz, Jacob Grechi, Charles Ashleigh, Harry Landy, Wm. H. Mitchell and Scott Nearing. Bronson Cutler, Socialist, dwelt on the futility of capitalist wars and the necessity of American imperialism. The Socialist betrayal of the workers in the years after that, and the duty of workers to organize for the establishment of a workers' republic as opposed to capitalist democracy as the only way to stop wars was also emphasized by the speakers.

Meeting at Midnight.

The meeting was not a shifting, changing affair, the immense crowd remaining practically in the evening. Several hours listening to the Communist message and frequently applauding all meant that the speakers was the only meeting driving for peace.

At midnight, the meeting was still in full swing, but had to be dismissed earlier on account of the police. Over 50 police would have been present to keep on saying that the tactics of the united front are a source of revisionism. There are always people for whom this slogan is a source of revisionism. We must take what is good; what is Leninistic in the united front, and what is popular in the workers' government; what will win the confidence of the masses, not only of the working class but of all the oppressed.

The most true left wing of the Communist International, must take this work into our own hands. Only in this way shall we eliminate the errors of the real right wing, convincing those of the right who can be convinced, and fighting those who cannot. The Fifth Congress must not think that its task is to declare the united front a mistake, but we must take measures of precaution against their distortion, we must adopt some tactics of opposition against opportunism as against smallpox. In Germany the ulcer has burst; it had been forced to a head. Its logical outcome was seen in Saxony.

In Czecho-Slovakia the ulcer has not likewise burst, it will have not had such a political catastrophe, if is because conditions were not ripe enough. The attitude of the Prague Congress and comrade Hula show the difference between [illegible] apathy and confusion of mind ra[illegible]ng in the Central Committee of th[illegible] Slovakian Party, I am afraid that [illegible] the situation had been similar [illegible] should have witnessed another Saxon fiasco.

(Tomorrow—Concrete Tasks of Principal Parties.)

Activities Of Local Chicago

BRANCH MEETINGS

Sunday, August 3

Slavic No. 2—6743 Buffalo Ave., Slavic.

Italian—2641 W. Adams St., 7 p. m.

Italian—1641 W. Grand Ave., 7 p. m.

Monday, August 4

Food Executive Committee—Room 2, 166 W. Washington St. Federation Meeting.

Douglas Park, English—3322 Douglas Blvd.

North Side, English—2409 N. Halsted St.

Italian, Cicero—1402 S. Fiftieth Ct., Cicero, Illinois.

Jewish—Ward, Italian — 1102 S. Loomis Street.

Tuesday, August 5

City Central Committee Meeting—3732 Hirsch Blvd.

Matters to be taken up:

1. The Details of the W. P. Election Campaign.

2. Activities of various language units and problems.

3. Industrial registration.

4. Final arrangements for the Press Picnic.

Czecho-Slovak, Town of Lake—Bohemian Violet School, Auburn and South Slat Street.

Wednesday, August 6

Roumanian Branch—2254 Clybourn Ave.

Douglas Park, Jewish—3420 W. Roosevelt Road.

Terra Cotta, Italian—2707 N. Marshfield Ave.

Czecho-Slovak, Cicero—Masaryk School, 57th Ave. and Pershing Road, Cicero.

Lithuanian—Lithuanian Hall—Ogden and Taylor Streets.

Northwood, English—4414 W. Halsted Street.

Czecho-Slovak No. 2—2548 S. Homan Avenue.

Thursday, August 7

Finnish—Imperial Hall, 2409 N. Halsted Street.

Eleventh Ward, Italian—2439 S. Oakley Blvd.

Thirty-first Ward, Italian—511 N. Sangamon Street.

North Side, English—3201 S. Wabash Ave., Chicago, Ill.

Russian No. 1—1902 W. Division Street.

Scandinavian Karl Marx—2723 Hirsch Blvd.

Friday, August 8

Scandinavian—South Chicago, 641 E. 92nd Street.

Lettish—4359 Thomas Street.

Czecho-Slovak, Hanson Park—Bohemian Freethinkers School Rovnost, Mansfield Ave. near Grand.

Saturday, August 9

Daily Worker Agents Meeting — 2:30 p. m., at 1113 W. Washington St.

Picnic Committee Meeting—166 W. Washington St., Room 307, 3 p. m.

Auspices Finnish Branch

SATURDAY, AUGUST 2nd, 8 P. M.

ANTI-WAR MEETING, Imperial Hall, 2409 N. Halsted St. Speakers: Tom Bell, Canada, English; Vaino Vihtanen, Waukegan, Finnish. Other program. Dancing. Admission free. Everybody welcome.

DETROIT, MICH.
Mikel Sherman, N. D.
Naturopath & Chiropractor
When other methods fail try
Nature's road to health.
Hours: 11 to 4 and 6 to 8 P. M.
4863 VAN DYKE AVENUE,
betw. Forest and Gratiot

PITTSBURGH, PA.
DR. RASNICK
DENTIST
Rendering Expert Dental Service for 20 Years
545 SMITHFIELD ST., Near 7th Ave.
1037 CENTER AVE., Cor. Arthur St.

The World of Labor • Industry & Agriculture

JOBLESS ARMY BESIEGES NEW STORE FOR WORK

Thousands Try to Get Chance to Slave

By SYLVAN A. POLLACK
(Special to the Daily Worker.)

NEW YORK, July 31.—Hundreds of unemployed men and women stormed the doors of Saks and Company in answer to their advertisement for help in their new Fifth Ave. department store.

Upon reaching the new building the applicants found hundreds more of men and women, young and old, standing on the street and not allowed in the building until some of those who were inside came out and made room for them. Occasionally a policeman came along and made all those standing in the street move along.

Crowds Renewed

This process kept up for hours, so the DAILY WORKER representative is unable to say exactly how many actually answered the advertisement, for when he left, the ranks of those answering, were continually swelled by new arrivals who took the place of those who obtained an interview.

After a long wait on the street the applicants were taken up to the employment department in small groups, where after again waiting in line they at last faced the employment manager who asked each applicant if they ever worked in a department store. If they answered in the negative they were told that they could not be used. If they said they had department store experience an application blank was give them which they were told to fill out and return in a week.

No Work For 6 Weeks

On inquiry, it was found out that the store will not open until Sept. 15, or maybe later.

The unemployed who answered the advertisement were bitter at the method that was used in interviewing, that is, they refused to give an application blank to those who never worked in a department store and the fact that there would be no actual work for at least six weeks.

Why the Navy?

CRISTOBAL, CANAL ZONE, July 31.—The British battleship Hood, the cruiser Repulse and the Australian cruiser, Adelaide, cleared today for Kingston, Jamaica, after a successful passage through the Panama Canal.

Send in that Subscription Today.

Our Daily Pattern

A PLEASING MORNING DRESS

4803. This is a good model for women of mature figure. The closing is effected under the panel in front. Figured percale would be nice for this style.

The Pattern is cut in 7 Sizes: 32, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48 and 50 inches bust measure. A 40 inch size requires 5¼ yards of 36 inch material. The width at the foot with plaits extended is 3½ yards.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in silver or stamps.

Send 12c in silver or stamps for our UP-TO-DATE SPRING AND SUMMER 1924 BOOK OF FASHIONS.

Address: The Daily Worker, 1113 W. Washington Blvd., Chicago, Ill.

NOTICE TO PATTERN BUYERS.—The patterns being sold by the DAILY WORKER pattern department are furnished by a New York firm of pattern manufacturers. Orders are forwarded by the DAILY WORKER every day as received, and they are mailed by the manufacturers direct to the customer. The DAILY WORKER does not keep a stock of patterns on hand. Delivery of patterns ordinarily will take at least 10 days from the date of mailing the order. Do not become impatient if your pattern is not received by return mail.

BRITISH WORKERS URGE AMSTERDAM INTERNATIONAL'S RECOGNITION OF ALL-RUSSIAN TRADE UNION COUNCIL

(Rosta News)

MOSCOW.—(By Mail.)—Soviet press correspondents had an interview with Mr. Bromley at Vienna during his stay there at the conference of the Amsterdam International of Trade Unions. The general secretary of the British Trades Union Council, who is responsible for the proposition submitted to the conference about the resumption of negotiations with the All-Russian Council of Trades Unions, spoke to the following effect:

"Our point of view is that the Russian people cannot be excluded from the international trade union movement. The British laboring masses had evidenced much interest for Russian developments long before the Russian Revolution, and after the latter, the British trade unions acted energetically against the British government's policy of boycott and had ever since demanded recognition of Soviet Russia and the restoration of diplomatic and economic mutual relations with her.

"Now that our Government is carrying on negotiations with the Soviet, the British Trade Unions are advocating the idea of granting credits to the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics. Indeed, we recognize the necessity of deepening and enlarging the scope of our trade relations with the Union and are fully aware that this depends in a large measure on the restoration of Soviet credit.

Allow Fill Opinion.

From this naturally follows our stand at the Vienna meeting of the delegates should inform us of it; we intend, for our policy towards the Soviet Trades Unions cannot differ from our policy vis-a-vis the Union of Soviet Republics as a whole. Indeed, we recognize the All-Russian Council of Trade-Unions because it is representative of the Soviet Trade-Unions just in the same way as our General Council represents the English Trades Union movement. This is why we, naturally, wish that the negotiations be resumed between the Amsterdam and the All-Russian Council of Trade Unions, with a view to reaching a satisfactory understanding. The British movement recognizes full liberty of opinions within Trade-Unions themselves and, evidently, inasmuch as we recognize such a right of individual persons, we also recognize it in the case of a national organization.

Replying to a question regarding his estimate of the prospects of the London Conference and of the report stating that London circles close to the City are "sabotaging" the settlement of the credits question—Mr. Bromley stated that the position taken up by the British Trades-Union movement is that "we will not allow that the question of debts which had bound the former Russian Government and England should stand in the way of a fair agreement with the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics.

Ask Economic Restoration.

"An understanding on the issue of debts"—in Mr. Bromley's opinion—"is not so essential as the question of economic restoration. Accordingly, we have told the members of the Soviet Delegation at London who are representatives of the Russian Trade-Unions that if the negotiations should take a turn for the worse, they ought not to be broken off, but that those Delegates should inform us of it; we shall then interfere and use all our influence on the British Government in an effort to avert a rupture and attain an agreement between Great Britain and the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics."

Depression in Yugoslavia.

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, July 31.—The recent fall of the Yugoslavian dinar (the national unit of money) means a great change for the worse for the Yugoslavian workers. There is discontent and poverty, especially among the unemployed, the disabled, civil service employes, pensioners, etc.

Brazil Rebels Giving In?

RIO DE JANEIRO, July 31.—Brazilian the federal forces at Sao Paulo have capitulated Sedan, according to an official communique.

"Happy Home" Prison Dresses Move Into Grand Rapids, Mich.

(Special to the Daily Worker.)

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., July 31.—The working class women of this city and vicinity ought to follow the example of the Chicago women who banished "Happy Home" prison-made dresses from the department stores of that city for the time being at least. The women pestered store buyers and informed customers until the dresses were taken away.

Wurzburg's here is advertising these prison-made dresses at $1.18, and of course all the women think "What a bargain!" realizing that they could scarcely make the dresses themselves at that price. But the poor women don't realize what they're getting. The "Happy Home" dresses, according to Kate Richards O'Hare, who is organizing a national fight against prison goods, are made in Onomoosa penitentiary in absolutely insanitary conditions and the lurking germs in the "Happy Home" dresses may break up the happy homes of working class women who are misled into buying the dresses.

"Big Yank" shirts, sold by the Reliance Manufacturing company, are also prison-made goods and should be avoided in spite of the alluring big billboards advertising them.

Dutch Minister Uses 17 "Excellencies" to Make Demand to China

PEKING, June 20, (By Mail).—A very polite note appeared in the papers, addressed to His Excellency the Minister of Foreign Affairs, over the signature of His Excellency the Dutch Minister. Not a very long note, but yet long enough to allow His Excellency, Mr. Oudendijk, to use seventeen times the expression "Your Excellency" or "His Excellency". His Excellency the Dutch Minister wished, under cover of "Excellencies" his addresses seventeen times in the space of a few short lines, to make him accept the queer proposition of the Diplomatic Body regarding their reluctance to transfer the former Russian Legations for if plain words alone were to be used, it would certainly have been most difficult to present such unwarrantable demands.

Powder Bosses' Boys Play with Fire; One Dead; Other Injured

WILMINGTON, Del., July 31. — Norman P. Rood, Jr., 13-year-old son of Norman P. Rood, Sr., president of the Hercules Powder company of this city, was dead today, and Victor Dupont, 12-year-old son of Victory Dupont, was recovering in a local hospital following an explosion on a farm near here.

The boys were playing with a powder car which they believed empty, and the Rood boy is said to have thrown a lighted match into it. An explosion followed and the flames enveloped both boys. The Rood boy died later in a hospital, but the condition of the Dupont boy was announced as "improved" this morning.

COMPANY UNION USED TO SPREAD BOSSES' VIEWS

Philadelphia Streetcar Workers Forced in Line

(Special to the Daily Worker)

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., July 31.—The conductors and motormen of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company have been forced, thru the company "union," to spread the propaganda of their wealthy bosses to win higher fares for the company.

The "Keystone Union" is the name of the scab organization which serves the workers on the street railways, elevated, and subway. It is the typical company union which the bosses' representatives dominate completely in the interest of the Rapid Transit Company and not of the workers.

The company is spreading its banners and circulars all over the city. A series of "Service Talks" has been scattered by the millions for the people on the cars to read and be influenced—to pay higher fares to the "poor" company. Comparisons of the care fares in other cities are made, supposedly all showing that Philadelphia is entitled to raise her fare to be in the class with the other cities. No mention is made of raising wages, of costs of service, nor is any hint of the company's profits estimated.

The cars are all decorated with the same vicious propaganda of the railway company. The poisonous company "blah" is blatant and brazen and is almost nauseating enuf to make the readers disgusted. Of course there are too many dumb-bell mutts who read and don't think and will let the company get away with its highway robbery even tho they have to walk more.

Chinese Police Won't Interfere in Strike Of Chinese Workers

(By Federated Press.)

WASHINGTON, July 31.—State department reports from Canton indicate that the strike of Chinese servants, police and other employes in the foreign quarter there is spreading, and is likely to develop into a long drawn out struggle against their white employers. While the name of Dr. Sun Yat Sen, liberator of China and head of the Canton government, is not mentioned, the statement is made that if foreigners suffer damage from the strike, the native government will be held responsible.

Thus far there are no reports of shooting down of strikers by the whites, as was the case at the beginning of the previous strike. Organization of the movement appears to have been perfected in advance, as is shown by the refusal of the native police to serve in any capacity during the contest.

Shades of the Bull Moose.

WASHINGTON, July 31.—The "progressive" party came into existence today as the official designation for the standard carried by senator Robert M. LaFollette in his independent drive for the white house.

The party name was chosen officially by the "committee of eleven," which will direct the LaFollette-Wheeler campaign. It will be used in every state in which the LaFollette forces establish an independent ticket of presidential electors.

The party emblem will be the American Liberty Bell. The committee also elected young LaFollette its vice-chairman, and Mrs. Mabel C. Costigan, secretary.

Cal Touches Up "Acceptance."

WASHINGTON, July 31.—With tax reduction and governmental economy as the outstanding issues to be presented, President Coolidge today began the actual work of writing his speech of acceptance of the Republican presidential nomination, to be delivered here August 14.

RIVERVIEW—RAIN OR SHINE
AUGUST 10th—SUNDAY
PRESS PICNIC DAY

OIL GRAFTERS' FRIEND CALLS PEACE PREACHERS "DANGEROUS RADICALS"

(By The Federated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 31.—Ned McLean's Washington Post is featuring a series of attacks on the movement within the churches, schools and labor organizations to create a world-wide demand for peace. Frederick J. Libby, executive secretary of the National Council for Prevention of War, is the target of much of the hysterical language attributed to the American Legion, Sons of the Revolution and Daughters-of-1812 officials. The Women's International League for Peace and Freedom is the secondary target.

Commander Paul McGahan of the Legion in the District of Columbia is quoted as saying, for instance: "Propaganda that reeks of the principles enunciated by the third international communists, the bolsheviats, the soviets, the revolutionary radicals and the I. W. W. daily is making its appearance here from the headquarters of the W. I. L. and the Natl. Council for Prevention of War, of which Libby is secretary. It isn't 'war on the peace seekers' that the true American has declared and which Libby refers to. It is emphatic declaration by red-blooded Americans that they do not intend to permit any group to promulgate statements of radical origin which will, if unchecked, weaken the foundations of government. . . . .

"Our churches are being invaded by the communistic propaganda, and unless counteracted the efforts to be put forth in the next few days by those who have been misguided, or are purposely in league with fomenters of unrest, much harm will be done."

This outburst was construed as a threat against scores of clergy who had agreed to preach sermons on July 27, tenth anniversary of the breaking out of the world war, pleading for co-operation toward peace.

Greater Job Control Seen Necessary As Rebel Worker Is Fired

By W. J. WHITE.
(Special to The Daily Worker)

GIRARD, Ohio, July 31.—The other day I sat in one of the most progressive organizations within the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel workers, and I witnessed one of those tragedies that ever hang over the heads of the working class, at all times and everywhere.

A member of the lodge had been sent to the St. Paul convention and he had not seen fit to let the owners of his job know he was going away. He, like many others of the working class, labored under the delusion that he had the right to act as he had been taught in school, that all American workers had the right to act, go where he pleased and do as he pleased.

However upon his return he found his money waiting for him. He was discharged. I could not but think of this tragedy of private ownership in the jobs of the workers as I sat and listened to the committee that had his case in hand, as the committee reported the verdict of the owners or at least those who acted in their stead, that he had no right to return to work, because he had not reported off when he left to go to the convention.

Not a man in that lodge room but had to say to himself as he heard the report of the committee: "This is a deliberate attempt to intimidate the members of this lodge who work in the mill. This is a deliberate attempt to keep in subjection the working class." This worker was a militant fighting member of the working class and a member of the Workers Party, and the company had in view the making an example of him for the effect it would have upon the balance of the men in the mill.

Thousands of workers are in rebellion against this control of the mills, mines and factories by the parasites of the country. Thousands are seeing as this worker is being forced to see, the tragedy of the control of their jobs thru this ownership, and they are not going to rest until they wrest the power of control from the master class and make the worker the supreme arbiter over his job. Not ownership, but use of the job will be the test in the future society.

However we must realize that at present we are not in possession of our jobs, and one of the problems we must work out in our labor unions is that of getting greater control of the job. In striving for this complete control, we must not lose sight of the task we must accomplish in our fight for the complete ownership and control of the job, and that is to see that we place at the head of our labor unions, men and women who have this vital view point as their ideal: The mastery of the job by the workers.

ED. GARBER
QUALITY SHOES
FOR MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN
2427 LINCOLN AVENUE
CHICAGO
Telephone Diversey 5129

HUGHES WORKING FOR DAWES PLAN IN PARIS; FRENCH RESENT VISIT

(Special to the DAILY WORKER)

PARIS, July 31.— Secretary of State Hughes is engaged here for several days in secret conferences with representatives of the Herriot cabinet and the Poincare opposition. The secretary's purpose is to iron out some of the difficulties in the way of the Dawes plan.

Officially Hughes is visiting Paris solely as the president of the American bar association, but there is little attempt to conceal his real purpose. French newspapers are frankly discussing his visit from the Dawes plan angle and a distinctly hostile attitude is shown towards him as the representative of the bankers who seek to crowd them away from the German trough.

Threat of Strike Brings Ravings of Log Country Paper

By ALBERT STROUT

PORT ANGELES, July 31. —"Elmer Smith, facing disbarment proceedings for spreading the doctrine of I. W. W.ism hints he will head a political party which will tie up the wheels of industry if men who are imprisoned for the Centralia massacre are not freed."

"These red parasites, etc."

The above appeared in an editorial in the Port Angeles News, July 16.

A dry goods merchant of this city formerly from Centralia told the writer last week that the I. W. W. boycott had put many Centralia business men on the bum.

A traveling representative of a Seattle newspaper asked the writer last night the reason for such prejudice he found among the working people against their local paper.

Further comment unnecessary.

Send in that Subscription Today.

STATE OF SAM'S HEALTH EXCITES FAKERS' HOPES

Many Eager Aspirants for the Job

(Special to The Daily Worker)

WASHINGTON, July 31.—Again the rumors of Gomper's retirement are making the rounds of American Federation circles. The rumors are stronger than usual this time due to the sickroom-ridden condition of the decrepit president.

Again speculation is rife as to which chieftain will seize the scepter when it drops from the aged man's hands. Half a dozen names are on men's lips here, with the betting odds always on the most outstanding reactionaries.

Fat Boys Like Berry.

George L. Berry, strike breaking president of the pressmen, is the favorite of many of the "fat boys"; Daniel Tobin, of the teamsters and the executive council of the A. F. of L., is another favorite with a slight edge over Berry, because the latter comes from the printing trades which already have their place in the hierarchy thru Secretary Frank Morrison.

Peter Brady, labor banker and holder of a political sinecure under the Hylan administration is being quietly boomed. Brady has diplomatic personality and has smiled his way forward pretty well but he is not regarded as the most serious contender.

Those two heads of the largest unions, John L. Lewis of the miners and William Hutcheson of the carpenters, have powerful backing for the job and if either of them will waive his aspirations in favor of the other he takes the lead over all the other hopefuls.

Matt Woll a Poor Bet.

Matthew Woll, of the Photo-Engravers, is considered to be Gompers' own choice. Woll has again and again acted as Sam's spokesman on important occasions as at the Portland convention where he screamed against the Soviet government for half an hour until his throat was ready with his own speech. Woll is glibber-tongued than Hutcheson or Tobin, for instance, more apt with the neat reactionary utterance expected from the president of the A. F. of L. by the capitalist press on all occasions but there are no great obstacles in his way. He is personally unpopular with the other labor fakers and he comes from the printing trades which have already furnished their quota in the person of Morrison.

There is a big question mark after the name of any of these candidates but of one thing there is no doubt. When Sam passes out there will be a wild rush towards the throne.

Samovar Industry Restored.

MOSCOW, July 31.—The production of "samovars," which is the age-old Russian national brass tea-pot industry, is being practically restored to the pre-war level, the prices being at present but slightly over peace-time prices. A number of enquiries for the supply of "samovars" have been received from Poland, Latvia and Lithuania, as well as America.

Send in that Subscription Today.

GET THE NEXT ISSUE
"DAILY WORKER" MAGAZINE SECTION
SATURDAY, AUGUST 2, 1924
1. The General Staff of the World Revolution..... By Moissaye J. Olgin
2. American Capitalism Preparing New Wars..... By J. Ramirez
3. The London Conference.....By Alexander Bittelman
4. The Red Picnic.....By Frederick F. Simons
5. Working-Class News.....By Karl Reeve
6. Rebellion in Labor Unions (A Review)..By Martin Abern
And Many Other Interesting Articles.
VERSE PICTURES ILLUSTRATIONS
ORDER NOW!
THE DAILY WORKER,
1113 W. Washington Blvd. Chicago, Illinois

THE WORKERS PARTY
Press Picnic
will be held at
Riverview Park
August 10th, SUNDAY, Admission 35 cents
The ticket also entitles holder to reduced rates on all the amusements.
Support the
Communist Press
Auspices: Workers Party, Local Chicago.
All profits for the DAILY WORKER and other party papers.

UNCLE WIGGILY'S TRICKS

A LAUGH FOR THE CHILDREN

THE DAILY WORKER

Published by the DAILY WORKER PUBLISHING CO., 1113 W. Washington Blvd., Chicago, Ill. (Phone: Monroe 4712)

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

By mail:
$6.00 per year $3.50...6 months $2.00...3 months

By mail (in Chicago only):
$8.00 per year $4.50...6 months $2.50...3 months

Address all mail and make out checks to THE DAILY WORKER
1113 W. Washington Blvd. Chicago, Illinois

J. LOUIS ENGDAHL, WILLIAM F. DUNNE } Editors
MORITZ J. LOEB Business Manager

Entered as second-class mail Sept. 21, 1923 at the Post-Office at Chicago, Ill., under the act of March 3, 1879.

290 Advertising rates on application.

War Over Peace Treaty?

Will the United States and England go to war to settle the dispute over the proper interpretation of the Washington convention for the limitation of armaments?

Other war threats are more immediate than this one, but still this dispute over what the treaty means, containing as it does the seeds of war, is very illuminating. It helps to throw light upon the essentially warlike and imperialist nature of capitalist government, and discloses the so-called peace treaties for what they are, mere maneuvers on the war chess-board.

Great Britain and the United States, among other nations, entered into an agreement for the limitation of naval armaments. This was supposed to stabilize international relations and insure peace between the agreeing nations. Out of this very agreement Great Britain finds a serious grievance. She complains that the United States, in violation of the convention, is changing the elevation and range of guns on battleships. A formal protest has been entered at Washington.

On the other hand, Washington officials take the protest very lightly. They announce that they "will go ahead with the program," refusing to acknowledge that any violation of the treaty is involved in the "modernization" of American battleships that is being carried out.

The paragraph in the treaty to which the British refer provides that in existing battleships, "No alterations in side-armor, in caliber, in number of guns, or general type of mounting shall be permitted."

Britain says this prevents "us" from doing what "we" do; "we"—which is to say, our capitalist masters in Washington who assume to speak in our name—say it means nothing of the sort. Well, inasmuch as we don't agree on what the peace treaty means, there seems nothing left but to test out the guns on one another. The one who has violated the treaty most effectively will win the test and establish his interpretation of it.

A sense of humor is absolutely necessary in dealing with the absurdities of capitalist imperialism. Have a good laugh—but prepare for the next conscription act that will soon be picking us up for service in "pacifying" Europe.

Watson's Antics

The country will soon be treated to another battle in legal sophistries and abstruse judicial technicalities. United States "Beef Trust" Senator Watson of Indiana is on the warpath against the Internal Revenue Investigating Committee.

Senator Couzens of Michigan is insisting that the committee investigating the prohibition unit of the Internal Revenue Department continue its work during the summer. Mr. Watson, who has for years served the packing and other big business interests, is doing his best to stifle the investigation in order to save the political face and neck of Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon. The latter is now vacationing in Europe and laying down the law of the American bankers to Herriot, the Belgian Theunis, MacDonald and other European diplomats at the London Reparations Conference.

A majority of the committee has decided to resume the investigation. Senator Watson, who is always ready to applaud the sending of troops to break up strikes of miners and railroad workers under the guise of preserving law and order, is now breaking the law by blocking the investigation and by urging witnesses to refuse to testify. The Indiana senator would have the country believe that the committee has no legal right to investigate while Congress is not in session.

Of course Mr. Watson is simply trying to avoid any more truth leaking out about Mellon's shady deals. Campaign times are not exactly appropriate for exposures of rankness in republican politics. Mr. Watson ought to know. He has been steeped in the filthiest brand of employing class politics for many years.

But there is something more significant about the incident. Congress was elected under the system which we are so often asked to believe sacred and inviolable. This Congress appoints a committee and empowers it to finish a certain piece of work. Now Mr. Watson is planning to call on the courts to choke off the investigation. This is the usual style in which such operations are engineered.

This is the blessed democracy that the workers and farmers are asked to worship. This is the way in which the "will of the people" is violated by the very ones who are supposed to be serving them. What a hollow mockery! What a sham the whole show is! Senator Watson and his capitalist crew will have their way, without doubt.

When will the working class have its way? When will this fraudulent democracy of the bosses be cast overboard?

Snowden's Confession

Of all the dangerous "Bolsheviks" who rode in on the tide of the last Labor Party victory in England, none was more feared than Mr. Philip Snowden. A shudder went through the spines of the Lombard Street bankers when Snowden was made Chancellor of the Exchequer.

But now Mr. Snowden is no longer a menace or a mystery to the British capitalist class. In his new and mighty office Snowden has lost all earmarks of a pink labor evangelist or agitator. Mr. Snowden has gone over the top for the London big business interests.

For the first three months the Labor Chancellor of the Exchequer was watched closely by the hawks of London's financial alleys. The official observers began to say that Mr. Snowden, the labor agitator, was as different from Mr. Snowden, the Chancellor, as Mr. Hyde from Dr. Jekyll. Then on the eve of his first budget, the British pound began to wobble a bit because of the fear that the dreaded capital levy would be advocated.

The employing class was most pleasantly disappointed. There was not even the slightest hint or mention—by inference or sufferance—of the hated levy. Snowden's letter to the National Savings Committee was another breeze which was hailed by the overlords of English finance as a most favorable politico-economic wind.

Yet the real, "full dress confession of faith," as Mr. Roy Hopkins of the Annalist well put it, was not made by Mr. Snowden until the banquet given annually by the Lord Mayor of London to himself, the bankers, the merchants and the Bank of England was held. This was a most auspicious moment for the Labor Chancellor Snowden to reassure the bankers in these explicit words: "Altho I belong to a political party which is supposed neither to know nor to care anything about the national credit, I can assure you that there never has been in office a Chancellor of the Exchequer who appreciated more highly than I that a Chancellor's first duty is to do nothing which will in the slightest degree result in a loss of confidence in the national credit."

The British employers know that Mr. Snowden is fully aware that the mere possibility of the levy on capital is sufficient to cause another "flight of the pound." His unequivocal words are therefore welcomed by them as definitely putting on the shelf this tax measure.

The exploiters of the English working class certainly have good cause to rejoice. Mr. Snowden is doing for them in the name of the Labor Party what the leaders of the Second International have been doing for the German, French, Belgian and other capitalists for many years.

The Membership Campaign

It is not merely a coincidence that the Workers Party selected the election campaign period as the time to inaugurate a drive to double the membership of the party. This is the time when the workers are most receptive to the Communist message and the best time to show them that the Workers Party is the only organization that offers a solution of the problems affecting the working class and maps the road along which the workers must travel in order to emancipate themselves.

This year, the prospects for increasing the membership of the party are exceptionally bright. The Workers Party is the only revolutionary party with a national ticket in the field, raising the banner of Communism against all the bourgeois parties combined. No class conscious worker can be in doubt as to what party he should vote for. All the other parties support the capitalist system. From the republican party to the LaFollette party, there is only a choice between good and bad republicans or good and bad democrats. But the Workers Party is the party of Lenin, the party of revolution. It is the party that every red-blooded worker should belong to.

Our members are starting out on the campaign to double the party membership with vim and enthusiasm. The new election policy of the party has inspired them. The Workers Party enters the election campaign with two noted fighters in the lead: Foster and Gitlow. Its banner is clean. It stood true to the Farmer-Labor Party policy which was deserted by the yellow socialists and the labor fakers. Already the most class conscious and honest in the ranks of the reformists are applying for admission into the Workers Party. Now is the time to reap the harvest. "Vote and Work for Foster" by bringing a new member into the party.

Send in that Subscription Today.

Cuba, Sugar, and LaFollette

Rudolph Spreckels owns great sugar interests in Cuba. He is on the LaFollette campaign committee, contributing of his time and millions. The tariff commission is recommending to the President a cut on Cuban sugar tariff. Commissioner Culbertson, one of those in favor of reduction, is reported to be a close friend of LaFollette. The Wisconsin senator makes his first public statement in the presidential campaign in the shape of a broadside against Secretary Hoover, charging collusion with Smoot, chairman of the finance committee, and with western sugar interests, in forcing up prices of sugar in the United States.

All of which should be interesting to the farmers of the Northwest who think LaFollette is fighting their battles. "Fighting Bob" takes up the fight of the millionaire sugar king as the first order of business. Not the plight of the bankrupt farmers of the Northwest, not the abolition of the injunction rule over labor, but the issue of lower tariff on Spreckels' sugar. It is all very interesting and instructive.

FATE OF HEARST'S SCAB GOODS

Anti-Labor Hearst Post-Intelligencer Is Rubbish on the Highway.

This picture, taken on Lake Burien Highway near Seattle, shows how the scab Post-Intelligencer is hated. The "P.-I." circulation department wouldn't stop the paper when it was notified to do so. Accordingly the non-union sheet is decorating the asphalt as the Seattle Star did when it tried to come out during the historic general strike of five years ago.

Labor councils of the northwest and the Washington State Federation of Labor are backing the strikers and spreading the message that Hearst is unfair to organized labor.

The DAILY WORKER is indebted for the above illustration to the Seattle Strike Intelligencer, organ of the striking composing room force. This militant sheet is gotten out in the same general form as the Post-Intelligencer.

MANLEY NAILS ONEAL KLAN LIE

By JOSEPH MANLEY

In a recent issue of the New Leader, of which James O'Neal is editor, an editorial appeared under the caption "Kluxers and Kommunists," in which he seeks, by a fabrication originating in his own renegade and morbid imagination, to connect me with the Ku Klux Klan.

The editorial in typical O'Neal, "left-handed" style recites the break-up of the socialist party, blaming it upon the Communists, and indicating that the Communists "have undertaken a wholesale campaign of destruction of the socialists and labor movements in every country." . . . "These things being so, to point out facts bearing but that line of action is the plain duty of the socialist press." Following this statement of high purpose the editorial continues: "In the resolutions committee at the St. Paul convention, the committee discussed the advisability of a plank on the Klan. Mr. Manley, who was the chairman of the committee, stated that in localities where labor is organized the Klan is for organized labor, and in localities where labor is not strongly organized it is 'open shop,' and that nothing should be put in the platform antagonizing it."

Worthy of Burns.

This is not simply a misquotation; it is a deliberate frame-up worthy of the best efforts of that other "left-handed" gentleman, W. J. Burns himself. O'Neal was not at St. Paul, and had to depend on one of his numerous stool pigeons to help cook up the above fabrication. Such a one perhaps as his man Nathan Fine, formerly a student at the University of Chicago, who now seeking to escape useful work is selling himself to the cause of that latest godsend of cast-off trade union bureaucrats, former socialists and ex-peddlers of Clown cigarettes — Robert M. LaFollette. From such sources as this "reporter," O'Neal, probably gathers his "facts."

Yellows Try to Save Klan.

The real facts are: I was chairman of the St. Paul convention platform. Just when the committee was getting ready to report to the convention, some progressives appeared before it to, try to butcher the platform, by taking out such radical planks as "Land for its Users," "because it might antagonize LaFollette." In the midst of the heated discussion that ensued some reporters came snooping into the committee meeting. I ordered them out. I insisted that we could not whittle down our platform to suit the meaningless one, which Walter T. Mills, and other supporters of LaFollette and the C. P. P. A., wanted to substitute for it. A majority of the committee decided that neither could we agree to take out certain planks, which the reporters dubbed as "bolshevistic."

Communist Resolution Hits Klan.

Following this decision two resolutions were introduced, both dealing with the Ku Klux Klan, the most radical one of the two, calling for an out-right denunciation of the Klan, was introduced by Ludwig Lore. Discussion occurred on both resolutions. As Chairman of the committee I invited our Comrade, Stanley J. Clark, who was present tho not a member of the committee, to address the committee "as the best anti-Klan expert in the country." Several progressive non-Communists on the committee, one of them a trade union representative and the other a "socialist," spoke against adopting the resolutions.

Manley Flayed K. K. K.

As chairman of the committee, I desired to get a unanimous report to the convention on the Platform. And sooner than have a split in the committee on my hands,—the very thing that "Comrade" Nathan Fine and others of his type wanted, and were financed to come all the way from New York to promote—I made my own considerable opposition to the Klan as plain as my alien English would allow. The few other communists on the committee did the same. Shortly afterwards the demand was made upon the committee by the convention that had been impatiently waiting for the report, that the platform be forth-with presented. No vote on the resolutions was taken as the majority of the committee, who were progressives and non-Communist, stated that they would vote against it in committee. The committee hurriedly adjourned to report on the platform to the waiting convention, with the understanding that the Klan resolution would be offered from the floor, and that those progressives who opposed it in the committee would not oppose it on the floor of the convention. This was done and the anti-Klan resolution at the St. Paul convention was adopted without discussion unanimously.

Fascism and Social-Democracy.

Comrade Zinovier expresses a profound thought when he says: "Fascism is a mixture of the blackest counter-revolution and irresponsible social-democracy. And part of this 'synthesis' are the leading sections of the yellow social democracy."

O'Neal himself fits right into this category when his same editorial says: "and they (the Socialists) have helped other bodies in securing information that led them to exclude the Communists because of their lack of candor." This will have a familiar ring to the Communists expelled from O'Neal's socialist unions in the needle trades. Much of the information against the expelled Communists was furnished by socialist and many of the officers who engaged in the heresy hunting and expelling were socialists. Fascism in the Labor Movement, has its best supporters and fighters in the ranks of such socialists as O'Neal.

COMMUNIST CHILDREN'S COLUMN

THE LITTLE TIN SOLDIER

"I like the story about Peter the artist. I would like to hear something more about Peter," writes Beatrice Jackerson, seven years old, of Washington, District of Columbia.

This story is not about Peter, but maybe we can tell more about the boy artist another time. This is about a little tin soldier and the little boy who owned him.

The little boy who owned the tin soldier used to put his shiny little fighter with his red enamel coat, an old-fashioned soldier he was, on the floor. The boy would pretend that the little tin soldier was part of a big army. The little boy had found the tin soldier where some rich child had lost it.

The little tin soldier could stand a lot of rough fighting and never get hurt. The little boy sometimes played that his soldier was hurt and then he wrapped up the tin soldier's arm in a torn bit of cloth.

The little boy always had his tin soldier fight for the workers, because he heard his father say that they needed to beat the bosses.

When the little boy grew up, a great war began and the bosses began to draft men to fight for them. The little boy, who was now a young man, was drafted, which means he was made to go to war and fight altho he didn't want to. He knew if he said anything about not wanting to go that he would be put in jail and so he went off across the sea to war. He hoped he could get some of the other boys who were fighting to turn against the war and fight the bosses instead.

In the real war, the boy, who was now a young man, did get hurt. He wasn't a tin soldier. His bosses, who wanted to make more money selling war goods, didn't care because he got hurt. They didn't care when a lot of the boy's soldier comrades were killed.

The boy told many of his soldier comrades that they should not fight against other men like themselves who were in trenches, in holes in the earth, not far away. The boy said to the soldiers, "We are all working men. We have nothing but the hard work to do all the time. We have to work all day at home for the bosses to make them rich while we always stay poor. We have to go to war and shoot at other working men. Do you think that is right?"

And the soldiers said, "No, it isn't right," and that they would never fight other workers again.

Then a bullet came whizzing thru the air and hit the boy who had grown up and he fell down dead. He was not a tin soldier and the little piece of lead cut right into his soft warm flesh and tore a hole in his heart so that it could not beat anymore.

The soldier died, and so did many of his friends. But those that didn't die have been telling other workers not to go to war for the bosses but to fight against the bosses and make workers free all over the world.

To Deport Palestine "Left-Wingers."

HAIFA, July 31.— Seven Jewish workingmen, members of the extreme wing of the labor movement, were tried here last Monday for disobedience to the police when the latter tried to disperse an illegal meeting of workingmen. They were sentenced to one month's imprisonment and to deportation upon release.

The prisoners have appealed from this sentence.

Jim Larkin Spoke.

DUBLIN, July 31. — Earth shocks were registered today over a period of two hours on the seismograph at Rathfarnham Village on the outskirts of Dublin. The locality of the shocks could not be determined.

The Poor Fish says: Henry Ford will need some first-class smellers to determine how many of his employes have whiskey on their breaths as they pass the gates to work in the morning. A little bit of garlic would drown a lot of good booze.

This Week Is Anti-War Week

TO ALL WORKERS! DOWN WITH THE MOBILIZATION SCHEMES OF THE CAPITALIST MASTERS!

This Week Is Anti-War Week

HE DAILY WORKER
IES THE STANDARD
A WORKERS AND HERS' GOVERNMENT

THE DAILY WORKER

5 CENTS
Including
Saturday Magazine
Section.
On all other days, Three Cents per Copy.

Entered as Second-class matter September 21, 1923, at the Post Office at Chicago, Illinois under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Vol. II. No. 116. SUBSCRIPTION RATES In Chicago, by mail, $8.00 per year. Outside Chicago, by mail, $6.00 per year. SATURDAY, AUGUST 2, 1924 290 Published Daily except Sunday by THE DAILY WORKER PUBLISHING CO., 1113 W. Washington Blvd., Chicago, Ill. Price 5 Cents

OPEN LETTER FLAYS GOMPERS

Foster Denounces Coolidge Militarist Plans

RADEK PREDICTS NEW WAR FROM ALLIED CONFERENCE AT MOSCOW ANTI-WAR MEET

(Special to The Daily Worker)

MOSCOW, August 1.—A huge anti-war demonstration took place here today in commemoration of the tenth anniversary of Russia's entrance into the great war.

The Executive Committee of the Communist Party issued a manifesto declaring the "bourgeoisie of the world with the aid of the second internationale, is preparing for another war."

Karl Radek, of the Soviet, commenting upon the allied conference at London, said:

"The hegemony of capital never appeared in a clearer light than this latest attempt of the bourgeoisie to attempt to solve this problem. It will very likely lead to a new war."

MOBILIZATION DAY SCORED

In a telegram to Calvin Coolidge, William Z. Foster, National Chairman of the Workers Party and its candidate for president, denounced the plan to mobilize the war machinery of this country on September 12th as a scheme to fool the workers and to instill a jingoistic spirit into them. The Workers Party, Foster declared, would continue to oppose all capitalist wars and will refuse to participate in the militarist exercises on September 12. The telegram follows:

Chicago, Ill., August 1, 1924.

Calvin Coolidge, President,
White House, Washington, D. C.

As the Workers Party candidate for president I denounce the sinister purposes of the military clique that has foisted mobilization day, September 12th, upon the nation. This is an attempt of the war-makers to obscure the real issues of unemployment, use of injunctions in labor disputes, open shop conditions and general economic ruin and misery that is upon the masses of the workers and farmers. It is an attempt to inflame the passions of the people in support of your Dawes plan, that will enslave the workers of Europe. Should your plan fall thru you and your capitalist-militarist supporters will try to force the workers and poor farmers of America into a new war to collect your European debts. To all capitalist imperialistic wars we stand in militant opposition. The Workers Party of America will call upon the masses to oppose such war. The Workers Party of America will urge the workers and poor farmers to oppose your "defense" and preparedness and to refuse to participate in the September 12th mobilization day proclaimed by you.

WILLIAM Z. FOSTER, National Chairman,
Workers Party of America.

COMMUNISTS EXPOSE TREASON RECORD OF LABOR CZAR WHO PRAISES BOB AS FOE OF REDS

Samuel Gompers, arch-traitor to the working class of America; Civic Federation bandmaster, cheek by jowl with the open-shop oppressors of labor; deserter in every big American labor battle, is exposed in his reactionary nakedness in an open letter issued yesterday by the Workers Party of America.

The official Communist statement follows an attack Gompers delivered thru the capitalist press, in which he charges the Communist movement with treachery at the St. Paul convention. Gompers' attack on the Communists is linked up with a eulogy of Senator LaFollette for his opposition to the revolutionary labor movement.

The Communist statement is signed by William Z. Foster, National Chairman and C. E. Ruthenberg, National Executive Secretary of the Workers Party. It follows:

Bare Gompers' Treason

The Workers Party of America throws back in your teeth, Mr. Gompers, your slanderous charges of political betrayal made against it yesterday. Charges of political betrayal come with ill grace from you, the arch betrayer of the American working class. In this particular crisis your Executive Council comes together to continue your old policy of "victories for friends and great defeats for enemies." This policy has resulted in low wages, unspeakable working conditions, injunctions, and general helplessness. You are a faithful ally of the capitalistic class.

The Republican convention gave you five minutes' time to plead the cause of Labor and then kicked you in the face. The Democratic convention showed equal contempt for your pleadings. The Republican answer was Strikebreaker Coolidge. The Democratic answer was Morgan-Rockefeller Lawyer Davis.

Thrown Over

Now that the two parties of big business have thrown you overboard you are faced with the problem, whether you will join the movement of little business, in which LaFollette is attempting to lead us back to 1776.

If you are loyal to the interests of the working class you would flatly repudiate the Republican Party, the Democratic Party and the backward-looking LaFollette movement. You would call upon the workers to unite in the organization of a Farmer-Labor Party and to fight for a Workers' and Farmers' Government. But you and your Socialist and LaFollette allies will not do this, you will again betray the interests of the workers of this country.

To the Rank and File.

Over your head the Workers Party of America appeals to the broad masses of industrial workers and poor farmers. We will fight to mobilize them for independent political action on a platform representing their class interests. We will wage the struggle against all the representatives of the employing class and the capitalist system itself.

As against Coolidge, Davis and LaFollette, we call upon the workers to support the working class candidates, Foster and Gitlow, and the Communist program of the Workers Party of America.

Central Executive Committee,
WORKERS PARTY OF AMERICA.
WILLIAM Z. FOSTER,
National Chairman.
C. E. RUTHENBERG,
National Executive Secretary.

* * *

Gompers Endorses LaFollette.

ATLANTIC CITY, Aug. 1.— Sam Gompers departed from his customary policy of endorsing the Democratic party candidate in a presidential election when he urged the executive council of the American Federation of Labor to place the badge dacy of LaFollette, republican, and of its official approval on the candidacy of LaFollette, republican, and Burton K. Wheeler, democrat, in the coming election.

STRIKING CAR BUILDERS HOLD LINE UNBROKEN

Hear Carmen's Union Organizer Hogan

By JACK McCARTHY.

The striking car-builders of Hegewisch at their latest strike meeting showed a real fighting spirit. Everyone of the strikers were determined to carry on the fight against the wage reductions of the Western Steel and Foundry company.

Up until this time, the beginning of the fourth week, Trade Union Educational League, Workers Party, and Young Workers League members have been the most active in assisting the striking car builders.

These militants are largely responsible for securing E. K. Hogan, grand lodge representative of the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen, to take charge of the strike.

The strikers after listening to Hogan, elected a committee to negotiate with Mr. Bock, general superintendent of the company. This committee called on Bock at his office who made them a proposition of a one cent increase by offering them 36 cents instead of 35 cents which they received for the work on each car before the strike started.

Workers Reject Cent.

This proposition the committee representing the strikers rejected. Afterwards Mr. Bock informed them that he did not want to deal with a committee, that he wanted to speak with all the strikers. During the committee's interview with Bock the striking car builders remained in the hall to hear the committee's report. After the committee returned and gave their report the men in the hall insisted on the committee's recognition by the company's representatives.

Mr. Bock's trick in trying to get the workers to come into the plant did not work. His idea was to get the men in and by this means get them divided and break their solidarity. The workers were wise to this scheme. "Mr. Bock wants us to go down to the plant. When he gets us there he will divide us into groups with Mr. Buckley, one of his lieutenants and some of the foremen, speaking to the strikers in groups and try to get us to accept the company's proposition."

Striker's Hand Strong.

The same strike committee were again sent to interview Mr. Bock to inform him that the strikers were standing solid behind the committee, and that the striker's committee has just as much right to represent striking car builders as he, Mr. Bock, or any other company official, had to represent the stockholders of the company.

Production in the Western Steel Car Foundry Company is at a com-

(Continued on page 2)

War Preparedness Plans Denounced by Communist Speakers

Hundreds of workers gathered at Wicker Park Hall, cheered the call for support of the Communist ticket in the coming presidential election and applauded the denunciations of the preparedness plans for the coming war, made by Robert Minor, editor of The Liberator, and Max Shachtman, of The Young Worker.

"The coming election of a president of the United States is an international election," said Minor. "It will be to choose a head—or at least a figure-head—of an international empire. It will also be a war election—to choose the nominal leader of the greatest group of the imperialists of the world in the most terrific war ever seen.

"Coolidge and Davis and LaFollette stand as a unit in favor of the imperialist Dawes plan. This plan, concocted by the office boy of the House of Morgan, means not only the enslavement of the German working class, but by the very provisions of the plan, the degradation of labor all over the world. It means that the United States has taken the deciding step in its imperialist advance upon Europe.

Teapot or Wall Street.

"In the coming election you have the choice between Coolidge who represents the Teapot Dome oil thieves, with Mr. Dawes, virtually the bank clerk of Morgan," continued Minor.

(Continued on next page.)

RIVAL FACTIONS IN FIGHT FOR I.W.W. CONTROL

Rank and File Back Doyle-Fisher Group

A factional fight in the Industrial Workers of the World, which has long been brewing, has come to a climax by the ejection from the general headquarters of one group of General Executive Board members by another group acting with a "rank and file committee" in support of the elected General Secretary, Tom Doyle, and General Organizer, Joe Fisher. A split in the I. W. W. is threatening as a consequence.

A special bulletin has been issued charging the ejected men with a series of violations of the constitution of the I. W.

(Continued on page 2.)

REVOLT AGAINST WHITE MAN'S GOD MARKS OPENING OF HUGE NEGRO CONGRESS IN NEW YORK

By CATO JONES.
(Special to The Daily Worker)

NEW YORK, August 1.— With the strangely impressive pomp and ceremony peculiar to the dramatic genius of colored people, the grand opening of the fourth international convention of the Negro peoples of the world is under way here today. The doors of Carnegie Hall are crowded with thousands upon thousands of colored men and women of New York and from many miles around, while delegates from many countries of colored population, some speaking only Spanish or French, give a picturesque air to the scene.

Inside the hall is the crash of music of distinctly better sort than is usually heard at conventions — produced by Negro artists. The spell of ceremonial is cast over the proceedings. Uniformed members of the Universal Negro Improvement Association, the body under whose initiative the convention is held, march to and fro in military style. The red, black and green flag, considered the "national" emblem of the Negroes, is much in evidence.

After the opening ceremony and welcoming speeches of this evening, the convention goes into business sessions that will last an entire month at Liberty Hall, 120 West 138th St.

The first suspect up for discussion

(Continued on page 2)

THE DAILY WORKER — CIRCULATION DRIVE AD IS ON PAGE THREE

Turn to page three and read the advertisement headed by the slogan, "Vote and work for Foster for president." The DAILY WORKER makes a very attractive offer to new subscribers during the election campaign. Read the details of the offer on page 3. Every reader of the DAILY WORKER should be fired with enthusiasm during the great fight, in which the Workers Party representing the message of Communism is arrayed on one side and on the other the forces of reaction and capitalism, from Coolidge to LaFollette and from Morgan to Gompers.

12-YEAR GIRL AMONG VICTIMS OF LEOPOLD, SR.

Morris Crimes Bared by Communist Probe

By KARL REEVE.
(Special to the DAILY WORKER)

MORRIS, Ill., August 1.—The businessmen of Morris are keeping silent on the connection of Nathan Leopold, Sr., father of the perverted Franks slayer, with the Morris Paper Mills company, the largest industry in the town. At the same time there is a strong undercurrent of resentment among the respectable element against the elder Leopold for dragging the name of the town into disgrace.

Meanwhile a different kind of resentment is nurtured in the breasts of the 500 young men and girls who work at small wages in the Leopold factory. The workers in the paper box factory care little about the "fair" name of Morris. They know that their slavery at low wages and for long hours to the machines which grind out Leo-

(Continued on Page 2.)

Join the Party of Revolutionary Class Struggle

By C. E. RUTHENBERG, Executive Secretary, Workers Party

THE political situation in the United States is a challenge to every worker who has any consciousness of the interests of the workers as a class.

The capitalist dictatorship has nominated its candidates. There is no question of what these candidates stand for. Coolidge and Davis are open and avowed upholders of the present industrial order. They stand for things as they are and have been.

If either is elected President of the United States, the governmental power will be used to maintain the present system of exploitation. Striking workers will be met with injunctions as sweeping or even more sweeping than the infamous Daugherty injunction. Either, as President, will fill the industrial fields in which workers are on strike with troops as Harding filled the coal fields with troops in 1922. There will be even more ruthless governmental board fighting the workers' demands for higher wages and better working conditions than the Railroad Labor Board thru which the government has given such signal aid to the railroad owners in their fight against the railroad unions.

No worker need have any illusions of how this country will be governed if either Coolidge or Davis is elected President.

It will be a government of, for and by the dictatorship of capitalism.

Next to the candidates of the capitalist dictatorship, stands La Follette. Because LaFollette is seemingly opposed to the capitalist dictatorship, many workers and farmers are suffering from the illusion that LaFollette will make their fight against the capitalist dictatorship. They overlook the fact that there is an economic group in the United States which has interests which clash with those of the big capitalists, but whose interests are not those of the workers and exploited farmers. The things that will help the independent manufacturers, bankers and merchants, are not things which will help exploited industrial workers and farmers. The independent manufacturers, bankers and merchants are in the business of exploiting the industrial workers and farmers just as are the big capitalists.

It is true that they don't get as large a share of the results of the exploitation of the industrial workers and exploited farmers as do the big capitalists. That is the reason they are entering politics. They want political power so that they can get a bigger share of the profits made out of the work of the industrial workers and exploited farmers.

The LaFollette program is their program.

LaFollette's platform is the economically reactionary proposal to "bust the trusts" and restore free competition. From an economic viewpoint, this is even more reactionary than anything that Davis or Coolidge stand for. These two candidates, at least, support the development of the capitalist industrial order which is creating the basis for socialization of industry, while LaFollette wants to go backward and destroy this basis and restore the paradise of little business men—free competition.

Against the candidates and program of big business and against the candidate and program of little business, the Workers Party raises the slogan of revolutionary class action.

It has nominated candidates who stand on a platform that represents the class interests of the exploited industrial workers and the exploited farmers.

The largest part of the Farmer-Labor movement has been swept away by the LaFollette candidacy. It is this fact that made it impossible to carry on the fight against LaFolletteism and against the capitalist dictatorship on the Farmer-Labor Party platform with Farmer-Labor Party candidates.

The Socialist Party, which for twenty years stood for independent political action by the workers, has been swept away as the tail to the kite of the LaFollette candidacy—on a trust-busting program. That is the greatest irony of the situation. The Socialist Party for twenty years has declared to the workers that the trusts, the great organizations of production, are the products of economic evolution and cannot be destroyed, is now going along with Don Quixote LaFollette in his attack on these economic windmills.

What the Class Conscious Worker Can Do.

What should the class conscious worker do in this situation—those workers who realize that the existing government is a capitalist dictatorship and who understand that LaFolletteism is not a working class program? There is only one course open for them—to join the Workers Party.

The political situation as above outlined clear the road for the building of a powerful revolutionary party in the United States. The Workers Party, as a Communist Party, is the only party with the right to that title. It is the only party with a program which represents the class interests of the workers.

The Workers Party has shown by its past struggles that it already has a strong organization which can make an effective fight for the interests of the workers. To those workers who want to carry on a clear cut struggle against capitalism, the Workers Party extends an invitation to rally to its banner. The way is open for building a powerful working class revolutionary Party—a Communist Party in principle and in fighting quality.

To every member of the Workers Party this situation should be the inspiration for an enthusiastic, aggressive fight to build the membership of the Workers Party. The Party slogan "Every member get a member" should be fulfilled during the coming months.

To those workers who have developed sufficient class consciousness not to be deluded by the LaFollette movement, those workers who still stand outside of the Workers Party, the existing situation should be the strongest inducement to align themselves with the revolutionary class party— the Workers Party. The Workers Party urges these workers to immediately become members of the party.

Let us build in this campaign the militant revolutionary class party to fight the capitalist dictatorship and to fight the petty bourgeois misleaders of the workers. Let us go forward together under the banner of the Communist Party—the Workers Party— and of the Communist International.

MILLIONS WIN COURT'S EAR FOR SLAYERS

Workers' Blood Money Aids Loeb-Leopold

The "million-dollar defense" of Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb, confessed slayers of Robert Franks, won its right to present "mitigating evidence" by the testimony of a dozen or more alienists. It was expected from the beginning of the legal battle between defense counsel Clarence Darrow and state's attorney Robert E. Crowe that the defense would win, because Judge John R. Caverly had ruled immediately against Crowe's demand for a jury if "mental irresponsibility" were to be brought up.

It was a triumph of the newer ethics over the old; a victory for scientific criminology as opposed to the old melodramatic vengeance of "life for life." It might be called an achievement of human kindness over the hard-boiled hanging narrow-mindedness of Crowe and his associates.

Money Has Won.

But all that is really beside the point. The fact is that the "millions-for-defense" have triumphed. In literally thousands of other cases more or less similar, where youth and endocrine gland irregularities and other abnormalities short of insanity could be offered to lessen the harsh sentence of hanging, there are no "millions-for-defense" and the young who have misbehaved are ruthlessly given the rope.

In countless lesser cases where capitalism is to blame for depriving youngsters of proper physical development, of sufficient education, and of work that would yield an adequate income to say nothing of an income without work, such as Loeb and Leopold have, the unfortunate young men or women are sentenced with all the viciousness the court can use against the helpless. It is only where there are "millions-for-defense," as in the case of the wealthy young slayers, or in the Harry Thaw case, that science gets a hearing and reason is given a chance.

What of Polish Lads?

The two Polish lads, Walter Borcya and Ignatius Clombras, who aped the rich Jewish boys' kidnapping threat and were caught trying to intimidate Jacob Franks, the usurer, again will not have "millions-for-defense"; yet certainly as plausible a case of mental disease, but not insanity, could be made for their defense. They may not be the degenerates that Loeb and Leopold are because they have not "enjoyed" the wealth and carefree environment which allowed vicious experiments.

These boys, who are even younger than Loeb and Leopold, have always been very poor; have had to work for years; have had to help support their families instead of being supported; have not had much education; have been beaten down by a system which gives millions to some and to them and their fellow workers a scant living.

Squeezed Out of Workers.

And the "millions-for-defense" which will try to keep (and almost assuredly succeed) Loeb and Leopold from the gallows are being squeezed and extorted out of the workers in the Morris Paper Box Mills and the Sears-Roebuck Company, as the DAILY WORKER is showing in other columns.

The outcome of the trial means little to these exploited workers, or to any other workers, except as the outcome of any drama which is outside one's own life. Darrow must be admired for his intelligent plea, which is sincere, as his life has shown. He has defended labor cases with equal skill and feeling for the injustice of the system of society which allows such topsy-turvy justice to be meted out.

RIVERVIEW—RAIN OR SHINE
AUGUST 10th—SUNDAY
PRESS PICNIC DAY

GIRLS VICTIMS OF LEOPOLD, SR.

(Continued from page 1)

pold's profit, is the deepest disgrace to the quiet little town whose businessmen try to put up such a respectable front.

Heat, Fumes, Exhaustion.

The workers in the paper foundry are forced to rush to the windows several times a day to stave off collapse brought on by the heat of the paper making machines. Fumes from the chemicals constantly emanate from the paper pulp vats and from the rolling machines where the paper is chemically treated as it goes thru the process of finishing and drying.

No Labor Organizations.

There are no labor organizations in town, no union meetings and no organized rebellion against the smug hypocrisy of the middle class rulers of the town who are content to see the young women and men labor in this Leopold mill at any price, rather than take their purchasing power to a larger city. The young men take the attitude: "If I only had the chance to leave it all and go to Chicago, I would quit this damn factory."

Child Labor.

Out of every ten persons in the town works in the Leopold plant. At least one-half of the population has worked there at one time, generally in early youth. One girl, herself scarcely more than 15 years old, said, "They don't require you to show a birth certificate when you ask for a job. If you say you are 16 they put you on a machine stitching, cutting, folding or stamping. If you say you are 14 or over they don't turn you away, but put you at jobs sorting material or carrying the boxes."

Another girl admitted to the DAILY WORKER that she is only twelve years old. She gave her age to William Beckwith, the manager of the plant, as 15.

Pressmen Get $20 Only.

The printing is done in the box factory. The printers who feed and run the printing presses which stamp the names of the firms on the boxes make twenty dollars a week, much less than one-half the union wage.

The middle class "angles" of the town, forgetting the sons and daughters who are foregoing an education and losing their health in order to provide Nathan Leopold with money to save his son from the hallows, prate about their "city beautiful."

When asked if he didn't think the low wages and the speed-up piece work system used in the Morris plant were a blot on the community, a lawyer answered: "No, Morris is the biggest and best small town in Illinois."

The Morris Daily Herald, the only local newspaper, is a typical "booster," drumming up trade for the business men and trying to keep the residents satisfied with their lot. Ku Klux Klan news is prominently displayed on the front page. Len Small in all his rotten corruption, is ardently championed at every opportunity.

"Is Mayor Fessler a Republican," the DAILY WORKER reporter asked one of the town's bankers. "Yes," came the reply, "I guess pretty near all Illinois is Republican."

A campaign is now on in full swing in Morris to send the boy who sells the most "mercy bonds," to Chicago to eat dinner with Jackie Coogan on August sixth. The mercy bonds fund will be used to send food to starving orphans of the Near East. But the starvation wages in Leopold's factory are allowed by the business men here without protest. They know that a "suggestion" made by W. H. Beckwith or Nathan Leopold carries more weight with their business than the violent protest of the 500 employes of Leopold.

At Leopold's Order.

It was at the "suggestion" of the Leopold company that the Western Union company, an equally anti-union concern, moved the branch office from the Rock Island depot to a separate office on Main Street. Beckwith, not entirely satisfied with the service at present, has written the Western Union company making a "suggestion" that the office again be changed. The Western Union company has just replied, stating that the matter will be taken up at once.

The DAILY WORKER has asked many citizens of the town if they didn't think the Leopold employes were getting a "dirty deal" and should receive more wages, and have their hours shortened. The reply, unless the person works in the factory, is generally a long while in coming.

Afraid of Leopolds.

Morris citizens are afraid of offending the Leopolds, because of the taxes paid to the town on the property, and because of the general business given the town by the factory hands. "I guess they get a pretty fair wage if they're fast enough" is the way most of the Morris citizens salve their conscience.

The 500 employes, not realizing their power as purchasers of commodities and producers of wealth, are slaving away at break-neck speed. The cheap pleasures of the flickering movie and the bumpy dance floor at Goold Park are not enough to ease the resentment in their heart, caused by the slave conditions imposed by the union hating Leopold.

STRIKING CAR BUILDERS HOLD LINE UNBROKEN

(Continued from page 1)

plete standstill. Five hundred workers who reported for work this morning were compelled to go home due to the effectiveness of the strike. It is reported this morning that out of the twenty-five hundred workers working in the plant at the time that the strike started there are now not more than two hundred of these workers within the gates. It is expected that before Monday morning these two hundred workers will be also unemployed.

Meet Monday.

Before the meeting adjourned and after the committee reported the second time it was decided that another meeting be held in the same hall on Monday morning at 8 o'clock. And that every effort be made by the three or four hundred men in the hall at that time to get the strikers not present at this morning's meeting and also the other workers affected by the strike in the meeting on Monday morning. This was the reply made by the strikers meeting this morning to Mr. Bock. The strikers left with a determination to carry on the strike to a successful conclusion and to get the other workers now out of work because of the strike to line up with the strikers in a united front against the wage reduction and the speed-up system of the Western Steel Car and Foundry Company.

"If the bosses beat you in this fight it will be only a question of a few weeks when they will inaugurate a wage reduction in the production and in other departments. You must realize that the bosses are well organized because of the power this organization gives them, they can reduce your wages to any level as long as you are willing to stand for it. The only way to prevent this is, for you to learn a lesson from the bosses and organize yourselves into a real fighting organization. The conditions of the organized workers in the building trades or in the railroad industry are relatively good because of the fact that they are organized. These workers in their struggles for better conditions and higher wages realize that as long as there are millions of unorganized workers in several industries in the United States that struggle is all the harder by because of the unorganized workers. Therefore, I as a representative of the Brotherhood of Railroad Carmen, am here to help you to organize and to prepare to fight effectively against the wage reduction of the boss," said Hogan.

Praises DAILY WORKER.

In introducing Martin Abern of the Workers Party and the Young Workers League, Hogan said that if it had not been for the publicity in the DAILY WORKER and the cooperation of those connected with it, "Your strike would have been broken long before now."

Martin Abern told the strikers that the company was weakening in their fight. The fact that the company has hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of material laying idle in their plant due to the strike, means that they cannot get along without you. The tactics of the boss in all strikes is to try to divide the men, therefore, if is your duty to stick together until you win what you struck for.

RIVAL FACTIONS IN FIGHT FOR I. W. W. CONTROL

Rank and File Back Doyle-Fisher Group

(Continued from page 1)

W. and with general disruptive tactics.

The real cause of the controversy, however, goes much deeper than this, and centers around a conflict over fundamental questions of policy, which will be analyzed in an early issue of the DAILY WORKER. The I. W. W. is, without doubt, confronted with a deep-seated internal crisis, the outcome of which will have a vital bearing on the future of the organization. While all the issues appearing on the surface of the present controversy have to do with technical questions, there is no doubt that the questions of principle which lie beneath them will now, under the pressure of the struggle, make themselves manifest.

Leavenworth Differences on Surface.

One of the superficial causes of the fight is the hostility between two groups of released Leavenworth prisoners, one group of which accepted conditional commutation in June, 1923, and those, and their supporters, who opposed such acceptance. This issue was before the last convention of the I. W. W. and resulted in the decision of the convention declaring that those who accepted commutation acted within their rights as members of the organization, and prohibiting any further agitation against them outside of regular organization channels.

According to the charges of the group in control of headquarters at the present time, these attacks were continued in violation of the convention decision. This has resulted in three members, Bert Lorton, James Quinlan and Frederick Blossom, being suspended from membership. This action was resented by the other faction, which is led by James Rowan, representative of the Lumber Workers' Union on the General Executive Board. On July 15th five members of this faction on the G. E. B. held a meeting, declared itself to be an official body and rescinded the action of Joe Fisher, chairman, and Tom Doyle, general secretary, and issued publicity attacking them and their action.

The administration faction thereupon declared this action outlaw, on the ground that the last convention had ruled that a two-thirds majority was necessary in such cases. Charges were filed against the whole group of five before the G. E. B. by two officials of industrial unions charging disruptive methods.

Ousted Group Rejected Peace.

The administration officers called a G. E. B. meeting on July 22, and invited the five to appear to answer the charges. This, they refused to do and were at once suspended from the G. E. B. by the general officers. But the overture was made that if they would meet with the other members and proceed regularly, this suspension would be lifted.

Peace was rejected. It is alleged that James Rowan, Fred Bowerman of the Metal and Machinery Workers' Union, P. R. Ryan, of the General Construction Workers' Union, Charles Anderson of the Metal Miners' Union and Harry Trotter, of the Railroad Workers' Union, notified the bank holding the I. W. W. funds, that they were the authority of the I. W. W. and to pay money on their order and, some time after their effort to get an injunction against Doyle and Fisher tying up the funds on hand, failed so far on account of their inability to secure the bonds in the sum double the funds, required for this court action.

This action brought about a climax. The bank refused and still refuses to pay on either faction's order. Doyle and Fisher, supported by a rank and file committee of influential members, then suspended the five members of the other faction from membership in the I. W. W. as well as from the General Executive Board. On the same day, July 29, the rank and file committee posted guard in headquarters and denied admission to the suspended members. Justus Ebert, editor of the Industrial Pioneer, recognized the authority of the suspended members and was relieved of his position.

Efforts of a third group to reconcile the differences of the other two, met with a cold reception. Both sides are issuing statements to the membership and preparing for a struggle for control. The rank and file committee is very much in evidence around the general headquarters. The administration group has already submitted to the membership the question of calling a special convention to decide the issue.

Revolutionary Clarity Lacking.

The whole situation is reminiscent of some of the early struggles of the I. W. W. The issue is not yet fully clarified because of the failure of each group so far to define their position from the standpoint of revolutionary unionism. The degree to which this is done in the near future will indicate whether the convulsion in the ranks of the I. W. W. is a symptom of decay symbolized by petty personal quarrels, or of new life and energy brought about by a revival of revolutionary policy and revolt against the lethargy, pacifism and liberalism which in recent years has been laying its paralyzing hand on the organization. The movement from below, represented by the prominent part played by the rank and file committee in the controversy, makes the latter supposition appear to be the more probable. What is lacking yet, is a clarification of the real issues.

Super-Power Will Lift Labor's Burdens Only Under Rule of Labor

By J. LOUIS ENGDAHL.

TODAY, new announcements are made of greater super-power projects. Plans for the north-eastern section of the United States, to be extended to other parts of the nation, call for the construction and development of tremendous inter-connected steam and hydro-electric power projects.

One fact that should interest the workers, especially the coal miners, is that recommendations made by expert engineers say this will save 50,000,000 tons of coal annually.

Another fact is that the plan will extend the use of electricity generally to farm areas. That ought to interest the farmers.

* * * *

It was during the May convention, at Peoria, of the Illinois Mine Workers' Union that the president, Frank Farrington, Hopelessly reactionary, urged support of super-power projects because they would call for an increase in the use of coal.

The DAILY WORKER, at that time, issue of Thursday, May 15, exposed this attempt of Farrington to blind the members of the miners' union. Unemployment is the great problem among the coal miners, everywhere thruout the nation. It is especially acute in Illinois. Farrington had to offer something. So he presented this lie.

* * *

Super-power is one of the hopes of the New Day. Soviet Russia is rapidly being electrified. The burden of toil, in the Workers' Republic, is being lifted from the shoulders of all who labor. In Soviet Russia super-power is developing in the control of the workers and peasants, and is being used for their benefit.

Super-power in the United States must also be in the control of the workers and farmers. This means that they—the workers and farmers—must establish their own Workers' and Farmers' Rule over the Land—SOVIET RULE.

* * * *

Under the capitalist rule of Coolidge and Davis super-power will be in the control of the big profiteers. In the dreams of La Follette, built of filmy clouds called "free and unlimited competition," they would be in the hands of little profiteers. This would result in:

FIRST:—No benefit to the workers. The work-day would not be shortened. Instead hundreds of thousands, if not millions of workers would lose their jobs. The expert engineers announce that their super-power project would result in "decrease of human labor." But they do not say it will give more leisure to the workers. They refuse to confess that it will throw more workers on the scrap heap of industry.

SECOND:—No benefits to the farmers. The farmers will be compelled to pay for their super-power, "all the traffic will bear." They will go into bankruptcy as usual. They will become mortgagees as always. They will be thrown into the renter class, and not only pay rent to the landlord, but also high prices to the power trust, in which the landlord may be a stockholder.

This will be true as long as capitalism lasts.

While capitalism rules at Washington, national ownership or nationalization of super-power will be of no avail. The workers who slave in the government owned postal service have their demands rejected with the same brutality that the czars of private industry, in the coal mines for instance, fight the demands of their workers. Efforts of the postal workers to organize, and assert their rights, are opposed just as bitterly by the government, as Judge Gary wars upon labors' effort to organize in the steel industry.

This will also be true as long as capitalism lasts.

* * *

Electric power is the super-power of the New Day. But it offers no relief for labor under capitalism. It takes no account under capitalism of the hundreds of thousands of coal miners unemployed. The miners must fight as always, under capitalism, for the shorter work-day, for the six hour day, for "The Four-Hour Day," in which the late Charles P. Steinmetz, the world-famous electrical wizard, said all the useful labor of the world could be accomplished.

Super-power will free the shoulders of labor from toils' heavy burden when the Rule of the Workers has been accomplished. But in order to usher in that New Day the workers and farmers must dump the whole capitalist class off their backs.

MORGAN AGENT SEES VICTORY OF DAWES PLAN

Owen D. Young Gleeful at London Meet

LONDON, August 1.—Owen D. Young, president of Morgan's General Electric company and member of the experts committee, triumphantly announced this morning that the Dawes program was winning at the inter-allied conference.

"We'll finish up this afternoon," he told newspapermen.

The Morgan agent made this statement after leaving the British foreign office where he had been in consultation with representatives of the British and the French governments.

He holds the belief that the Herriot compromise proposals have saved the conference from breaking up and saved the Dawes plan for international control of German industry and finance.

The opinion is expressed by a majority of the delegates that sufficient unity will have been achieved by Tuesday next to invite the German representatives. It is expected that by that time the Anglo-American group will have come to some kind of an agreement with the French on the disputed issues, chief among which is the question of the amount of administrative control which shall still remain with the French-controlled reparations commission.

The dispute between the French and their rivals turns on this matter of the reparations commission. The Herriot compromise leaves most of the reparations administration in the hands of the old commission: the proposed tribunal of three, on which an American would hold the balance of power, would have judicial power but the administrative organization is more important.

Revolt Against God Of White Man at Negro Conference

(Continued from page 1)

strikingly reflects not only the historical background of all Negro movements, but also the trend of the times—it is a discussion of religion, and from a peculiar standpoint. The first article of the agenda reads:

"RELIGIOUS."

"1. Discussing the deification of Jesus as a Black Man of Sorrows.

"2. The Canonization of the Virgin Mary as a Negress.

"3. The Idealization of God as a Holy Spirit, without physical form, but a Creature of imagined semblance of the black race, being of like image and likeness."

Uprooting of Caste System.

No one should discard his interest in the organization or in this convention because of the first article of the agenda. Following it will come discussions of some of the weightiest questions affecting the current history of the world. The question of the liberation of the Negro races from the chains of imperialism, and the question of the uprooting of the caste system in the United States and elsewhere, occupy the major portion of the convention's time.

Communist Speakers Denounce Preparedness

(Continued from page 1)

for Mr. Davis, the paid attorney of the Morgan bank. It is true that we have been given a third choice this year: Mr. LaFollette. Mr. LaFollette represents the owner of the department store around the corner; he represents the gookroach clothing manufacturer in his search for ways and means better to exploit the workers. But the workers cannot permit a historically dying class to assume leadership over the working class, a class destined in the near future—nearer than you think—to follow the example of the Russian working masses in the establishment of a world Soviet Republic!

RAIN OR SHINE
SUNDAY
August 10
ADMISSON 35c.
The ticket also entitles holder to reduced rates on all the amusements.

The Workers Party
PRESS PICNIC
WILL BE HELD AT
RIVERVIEW PARK

RAIN OR SHINE
Support the Communist Press
Auspices: Workers Party, Local Chicago.
All profits for the DAILY WORKER and other party papers.

ANTI-FASCIST PARTIES MAY MAKE NEW MOVE

Big Meeting Planned For Sunday

(Special to the DAILY WORKER)

ROME, Aug. 1.—All members of the parliamentary opposition parties, which includes all the social-democratic groups and the Catholic group to some extent but not the Communists, will hold a private membership meeting here Sunday. It is understood that the internal political situation will be the chief topic of discussion, altho no agenda has been announced. Some revised course of action may be laid out.

Premier Mussolini has not met the demands of the opposition in regard to the cleansing and reorganizing of the government. The opposition demanded that the parliament be constitutionalized and that the fascist militia be inducted into the regular army units.

In neither of these two requests has Mussolini been acquiescent. He has not been prosecuting the case against the accused fascisti officials who are being held for the murder of Matteotti and has shown considerable disposition to release the criminals if it is possible to save himself while doing it.

The Communists have withdrawn from the official "opposition" group because of the compromising position the mixed social democratic group has taken. The Communists' plea for a general strike at the time the Matteotti affair was threatening to sweep out Mussolini was overridden by the socialists who would "strike" for ten minutes only, spoiling the political effect of the move.

Mueller's RESTAURANT

A good place to eat.
1010 RUSH STREET
Tel. Superior 7079
Downstairs of National Office.

ED. GARBER
QUALITY SHOES
FOR MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN
2427 LINCOLN AVENUE
CHICAGO
Telephone Diversey 6129

MUSSOLINI, DESPERATE AT MATTEOTTI-EXPOSE, STRIKES AT THE PRESS

(Special to the DAILY WORKER)

ROME, Aug. 1.—Director Mussolini is having his revenge upon the Italian press for not supporting him in the Matteotti murder. He has put the newspapers at the mercy of the police. Here are the essential points of his decree:

1. A second offender against the press law is deprived of the right to be an editor. 2. The police can by decree disqualify anybody from being an editor. 3. Whenever an editor publishes erroneous information, or paper incites people to punishable actions or to class hatred or slurs the fatherland, royal family, pope or friendly states, the police may bring the editor to trial.

The non-fascist press of Italy is unanimous in condemning the decree. Even papers that supported the government, though not of the government party, denounce it.

Cleveland Pushes Vigorous Street Speaking Campaign

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Aug. 1.— Local Cleveland, Workers Party, will inaugurate street meetings Saturday, August 2, when Max Lerner, organizer District 6, will speak at the corner of Woodland Ave. and 53rd St., on the subject, "The Menace, LaFollettelism." The committee in charge calls upon all members in that section to be present at 7:30 to assist with this meeting.

It is planned to hold a meeting every Saturday at this corner and meetings at other corners as rapidly as arrangements can be made.

The work of securing signatures to the nominating petitions for Presidential Electors for Foster and Gitlow, and for the State, Congressional, and County tickets must be carried on with all possible speed and energy. Anyone wishing to assist in the work of circulating petitions, and who failed to receive blanks, can secure same at the District Office, Room 312, Labor Temple, 2536 Euclid Avenue.

Union Miners Arrested.

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Aug. 1.— The union miners from the Bunker mine at Scott's Run coal field attempted to persuade the scab workers now employed there to leave the mine. The sheriff interfered, however, in behalf of the scabs, and put 10 union workers in jail.

Sheriff Yost said: "We'll enforce the law to the letter. We will break up every gathering."

A good deal of trouble caused by scabs and company gunmen employed to act against the union members has been going on during the last month. In a nearby town, Brady, the union hall was burned by gunmen.

Send in that Subscription Today.

PLAN ANTI-WAR DEMONSTRATIONS IN MILWAUKEE

Daily Worker Editor to Speak August 3

(Special to The DAILY WORKER)

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 1.—Louis J. Engdahl, editor of The DAILY WORKER, will speak in Milwaukee, Sunday, August 3, in Castellia Gardens, at the Anti-War and Anti-Militarism demonstration, arranged by the City Central Committee of The Workers Party.

In its appeal to the workers of Milwaukee, Workers Party calls upon them to demonstrate not only against war and militarism but also against the social patriotism of the Social Democratic Parties. In addition to Comrade Engdahl, there will also be speakers from federations in Finnish and Jewish languages.

An open air meeting, with Comrade Shklar as the speaker has been arranged for Thursday evening at the corner of 12th and Galena. This meeting is also arranged to demonstrate against the capitalist wars.

In addition to these demonstrations the party also distributed 6000 leaflets and 100 copies of the Anti-War edition of The DAILY WORKER.

The Socialist Party is discreetly silent on the anti-war week. Having restored all the lost advertisements for the Milwaukee Leader and having made its alliance with the middle class politicians, it does not take any part in the struggle against militarism.

The Young Workers' League will also have an anti-military demonstration on Saturday evening, August 2, in the open air on the corner of 8th and Walnut.

Barney Mass, Young Workers' League organizer, will be the principal speaker. The meeting will begin at 7 p. m.

Jealous Wife Led Tar-and-Feather Attack on Woman

FREDERICK, Md., Aug. 1.— Nine persons were held under bonds here today on charges of having tarred and feathered pretty 20-year-old Dorothy Grandon, when a married woman "took the law into her own hands."

Mrs. Mary Shanks, wife of a farmer, among those arrested, confessed leading the mob which attacked Miss Grandon. The outrage started, she said, because the girl had been friendly with her husband. She at first absolved the male members of the mob from all blame, saying the men had "merely stood around to help her."

Those under arrest, besides Mrs. Shanks, are Harry Leatherman, manager of an electric light company; Arthur Rice and Alvey Rice, business men; Calvin Shanks, brother-in-law of Mrs. Shanks; Homer Shanks, her father-in-law; Irvin Rice, Paul Grossnickle and Grayson Doub, farmers.

Russian Appointments.

MOSCOW, Aug. 1.—Mr. Antonoff-Ovseenko, formerly Chief of the Political Department of the Revolutionary War Council, has been appointed Plenipotentiary Representative of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics to Prague, Chekho-Slovakia, and Mr. Kobetzky, Plenipotentiary Representative to Reval, Estonia.

RIVERVIEW—RAIN OR SHINE
AUGUST 10th—SUNDAY
PRESS PICNIC DAY

PITTSBURGH, PA.
DR. RASNICK
DENTIST
Rendering Expert Dental Service for 20 Years
646 SMITHFIELD ST., Near 7th Ave.
1501 CENTER AVE., Cor. Arthur St.

MITCHALL'S
INTERNATIONAL ORCHESTRA
Union Music Furnished For All Occassions
Write for appointments to
M. MITCHALL,
(Teacher of Saxophone)
1640 W. Congress St. Chicago, Ill.

Res. 1832 S. Trumbull Ave.
Phone Rockwell 5050
MORDECAI SHULMAN
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
701 Association Building
19 S. La Salle Street CHICAGO
Dearborn 8657 Central 4945-4946

Tel. Monroe 7281
We Serve Nothing But the Best
VICTORY
Restaurant and Lunch Room
Pronos Brothers
1054 West Madison St. Chicago

JAY STETLER'S
RESTAURANT
Established 1901
1053 W. Madison St. Chicago
Tel. Monroe 2241

Phone Spaulding 1416
ASHER B. PORTNOY & CO.
Painters and Decorators
PAINTERS' SUPPLIES
Estimates on New and Old Work
2615 MILWAUKEE AVE., CHICAGO

PERSIA BOWS TO IMPERIAL U. S. DEMANDS AND WILL PAY BILLS

(Special to The Daily Worker)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—Smarting under the threat of breaking a diplomatic relation because of the killing of Robert Imbrie, American vice-consul at Teheran, the Persian government informed the United States in a formal note that extreme and vigorous efforts were being made to pursue and punish the slayers of the American diplomat.

The note was handed to Joseph S. Kornfeld, the American minister to Persia, and cabled by him to the state department.

A promise was also made, as demanded by the United States, to afford full protection to American nationals and diplomatic officials in Persia.

"Considering the official status of Mr. Imbrie, the Persian government agrees with the suggestion of the United States government that the body of Mr. Imbrie be accorded honors during its transportation," said the note, inasmuch as Persia has no man-of-war it agrees to pay the expenses which may be incurred by the dispatch of an American man-of-war to receive the remains. Persia has no navy.

No. Dakota Farmers To Discuss Workers Party Plan of Action

(Special to the Daily Worker.)

WILTON, N. D., Aug. 1.— Besides taking up such vital matters as organization and the party election campaign, the Wilton conference on August 3rd will have an interesting program made up of short talks on vital subjects, as follows:

1. Party Tactics and Discipline—Comrade Knutson.
2. The Farmer and Communism—Comrade Husa.
3. The LaFollette Illusion—Comrade Trepp.
4. Why Sorlie and the League Can Not Solve the Problems of the Farmer in North Dakota—Comrade Martinson.
5. The Problems of the Lignite Coal Industry in North Dakota and How Our Party Can Aid the Miners in Their Present Struggles — Comrade Coles.
6. The Russian Land System and Land for the Users as Applied to American Agricultural Conditions—Comrade Heck.
7. The importance of the Farmer in the Revolution—Comrade Barrett.

Killed at Work.

ANDERSON, Ind., Aug. 1.—Bradford Fields, 45, head lineman for the Union Traction Company, was dead today, having been electrocuted when he came into contact with a 33,000-volt wire while working on a pole near here.

Send in that Subscription Today.

In Bob's State.

FENIMORE, Wis., Aug. 1.— John Adametz, farmer, was out $50 today as a result of a fine imposed on a charge of watering milk. A cheesemaker caused his arrest.

Jewish Workers in Philadelphia Will Picnic on Sunday

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Aug. 1.—The Philadelphia branch of the Jewish Workers' Relief committee has arranged a picnic for this Sunday, Aug. 3, 1924, at Flaxman's farm, Church Lane, Fox Chase.

The above organization has been doing good work for Soviet Russia during the past two years and its affairs are well patronized by the members and sympathizers of the Workers Party.

The picnic is particularly well arranged so that every one can spend a few hours in the fresh air and have a good time among comrades and friends. Games, amusements and refreshments are prepared. The admission is free.

RIVERVIEW
RAIN OR SHINE
August 10th — Sunday
Press Picnic Day

Penetrating Analysis! Burning Criticism! Sound Logic!
THE NEW AND SIGNIFICANT BOOK ENTITLED
The World's Trade Union Movement
By A. LOSOVSKY
General Secretary of the Red International of Labor Unions
In this book, published in March at Moscow, and now made available to American readers, the leader of 13,000,000 trade unionists depicts, dissects, and measures the relation of forces developed before, during, and since the war.
The first book ever written dealing so comprehensively with this vital subject
William Z. Foster says:
"Here are described every political, economic, and organizational force of the world's trade unions, and their role in the fight, developed since the war, between Reformists and Revolutionists."
112 PAGES, STIFF PAPER COVER, WITH PHOTO OF AUTHOR.
FIFTY CENTS PER COPY.
Bundle orders of ten or more, 35 cents each, with special rate on larger orders.
Trade Union Educational League,
1113 Washington Blvd. Chicago, Ill.
A special edition of this book has also been published for the Workers Party. Branches and members of the party are expected to place their orders with the literature department at the same address.

BUY YOUR DRUGS AT LOW PRICES
THIS WEEK'S SPECIAL
$1.50—3 tubes Pepsodent Tooth Paste $1.00
75c—3 cakes Cuticura Soap..... 50c
SALEM'S
FOR CONSTIPATION
25 CENTS
AUSTIN-MADISON PHARMACY
1 MADISON STREET at Austin Blvd.
We Deliver Free
Phones: Oak Park 292, 871, 872; Austin 4117
We speak and read: Lettish, Polish, Lithuanian, etc.

Furnishings
LADIES' MEN'S INFANTS'
Trade Where Your Money Buys the Most.
Martin's
723 West North Avenue
East of Halsted St.

George E. Pashas
COZY LUNCH
2426 Lincoln Avenue
One-half block from Imperial Hall
CHICAGO

MAC'S BOOK STORE
27 JOHN R STREET
DETROIT
Full line of Sociological and Labor Literature.
Periodicals and Newspapers

Meet us at the Prudential Restaurant
752 NORTH AVE.
The only place to eat.

Amalgamated Food Workers
GENERAL HEADQUARTERS
81 East 10th Street, New York, N. Y.
THIS IS OUR EMBLEM
An Industrial Organization For All Workers in the Food Industry

SOVIET RUS PICTORIAL
AUGUST ISSUE ON SALE!
Including
"From the Old Family to the New"
By Leon Trotsky
Articles on Italy and Germany and facts and photos on the latest developments in RUSSIA
For reliable information on the world's first workers' government:
SUBSCRIBE!
$2.00 a year $1.00 six months
SOVIET RUSSIA PICTORIAL,
19 So. Lincoln St., Chicago, Ill.
Name:
Street and No.:
City: State:

Printed on a fine grade of paper, 12 inches wide by 18 inches high. Suitable for framing or posting in your window.

VOTE and WORK
FOR
FOSTER for PRESIDENT
Get a photographic reproduction of this new picture of Foster free.
Every Reader of THE DAILY WORKER
will be a worker for
FOSTER FOR PRESIDENT
THE DAILY WORKER
will be the best, the most incessant worker for
FOSTER FOR PRESIDENT
YOU!! WORK!!
For Foster for President by securing new subscribers to THE DAILY WORKER
4 MONTH SPECIAL ELECTION CAMPAIGN SUBSCRIPTIONS (For new subscribers only) $2.00
Get a New Reader for the DAILY WORKER and a Big Picture of Foster for Yourself
USE THE COUPON
THE DAILY WORKER
1113 W. Washington Blvd.,
Chicago, Ill.
I have sold a Special 4-Month Election Campaign sub. Please send me FREE the picture of Foster.
Name:
Street:
City: State:
New Subscriber's
Name:
Street:
City:
State:

THE DAILY WORKER

Published by the DAILY WORKER PUBLISHING CO.
1113 W. Washington Blvd., Chicago, Ill.
(Phone: Monroe 4712)

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

By mail:
$6.00 per year $3.50—6 months $2.00—3 months

By mail (in Chicago only):
$8.00 per year $4.50—6 months $2.50—3 months

Address all mail and make out checks to
THE DAILY WORKER
1113 W. Washington Blvd. Chicago, Illinois

J. LOUIS ENGDAHL
WILLIAM F. DUNNE } Editors
MORITZ J. LOEB Business Manager

Entered as second-class mail Sept. 21, 1923 at the Post-Office at Chicago, Ill., under the act of March 3, 1879.

290 Advertising rates on application.

Mexico Moves Forward

Mexico has decided to recognize the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics. An ambassador from the Latin-American Republic will soon occupy a diplomatic post in Moscow and a representative of the first Workers' and Farmers' Republic will take his place in Mexico City.

This action is most welcome news. Mexico has every good reason to be on the most friendly terms with the Soviet Government. Like Soviet Russia, the Mexican Republic has been compelled to fight for its existence against the aggrandizement of the imperialist powers of the capitalist world.

It is significant that, at this very moment when the Mexican government is forced to negotiate with the Committee of International Bankers in reference to old and new loans, it should have the courage to resume friendly relations with the Soviet Government. The farming and industrial masses of our southern neighbor have many times and long ago expressed their keen friendship for and genuine sympathy with the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics. Only the fear of the foreign capitalist powers has prevented the Mexican Government from yielding sooner to this strong feeling of the overwhelming majority of the country.

The red flag is now flying to the north of Washington in Canada, where there is an official mission of the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics. Soon the red flag will be flying to the south of us in Mexico City. The imperialist United States Government is being rapidly isolated in its anti-Soviet Russian policy. Hughes' isolation policy against the Soviet Republics is proving a boomerang.

Last but not least, the restoration of complete, normal relations between Mexico and Soviet Russia is of inestimable importance in the field of all Latin-American and United States relations. Latin America is today a port of an economic hinterland for the powerful group of Yankee capitalists. The great storehouse of natural resources to the south of us has been at the mercy of the profiteering American capitalists. There is much intense hatred of Yankee imperialism in all the Latin-American republics.

Mexico is the threshold of Latin-America. The Mexican recognition of Soviet Russia will bring the oppressed republics much closer to the only government that entertains genuine friendship for them. This is an event of tremendous international significance.

The Circulation Drive

The DAILY WORKER is the mightiest weapon in the hands of the revolutionary movement in the United States. "How did we ever get along without it?" is the question our most active workers ask of each other. Now, that we have it, we can very well forsee what its loss would mean to the Workers Party and to the working class movement. But that is a very, very hypothetical speculation.

We are getting a circulation drive under way. This drive is an unusual one. It is a combination membership drive for the Workers Party and a circulation drive for the DAILY WORKER. Very novel and very interesting.

The problem is a simple one and quite easy. We pride ourselves on being militants.. Here is a chance to prove that we are workers as well as talkers.

The plan is that every party member should enlist another member in the party and bring in a new subscription to the DAILY WORKER at the same time. Combination membership-subscription cards are issued. The DAILY WORKER has a reputation as a fearless battler for the workers. It does not seek to hide the truth behind a barrage of meaningless phrases. It is not "diplomatic." It is straightforward. The workers like it.

Every member of the party is expected to bring in at least one new member-subscriber during this campaign. Failure to do this means that it will take a good deal of argument to convince us that the comrade who cannot bring in a new member into the party is much of a militant or has exerted himself to gain influence among his fellow workers.

While the reformists are scuttling their organizations in order to grab votes, the Communists will be busy doing organizational work during the election campaign and turning voters and sympathizers into members of the Workers Party and subscribers to the DAILY WORKER.

When the capitalist press begins to write "Russian Reds plan war," then the workers may look out for new moves against Russia. The capitalists of the world have made war on Russia for years, their peace was preparation to renew that war, and now they begin to roll the drums again. The working class must mobilize against this new war threat!

Atta Boy, Morris!

Next to John W. Davis, Morris Hillquit is the favorite political prophet of the New York World. Pulitzer's sheet is very well pleased with the selection of Norman Thomas as candidate for governor on the socialist party ticket but it is still better pleased with the sentiments expressed by Mr. Hillquit in his intesview to the World. The World hopes Mr. Hillquit will be allowed to set the keynote for the party.

"A progressive," says Mr. Hillquit, "is one who has a definite program of economic and social reform, the first test being the positive constructive character of such a program. Merely cursing the rich is not progressivism. Repeated and emphatic assertion of love for the poor is not progressivism." That is very sweet. No talk here of "fighting like a tiger on the barricades." And the capitalist press will not remind the once militant Hillquit of his earlier indiscretions. The revolutionary skeletons in his closet will not be rattled by the "rich." It is even reported that he is on speaking terms financially with the millionaire class. Why should he hate the rich?

"In his counsel to his own party, and his characterization of the opposing candidates as men whose aims may differ without a consequent default in honesty, Mr. Hillquit sets a standard of good taste and tolerance in political discussion." The New York World talking.

Daniel O'Connell, the famous Irish "Liberator," once said that whenever an English government official praised him, he went home and examined his conscience. If Hillquit considered praise from enemies of the working class in the same light as O'Connell did he would go home and open his head with a meat axe.

Monkeys and Monkeyettes

The committee on education of the Georgia house of representatives has favorably reported on a bill barring the use of state funds from any educational institution which acquaints its pupils with the Darwinian or any other theory of evolution. A similar law has already been passed by the Kentucky legislature.

One of the Georgia representatives in reporting for the committee declared the theory of evolution "rotten stuff." Another gentleman threw a fit over the suggestion that he was descended from a monkey and said that if he was, it was not his fault and would repudiate his ancestors.

Still another solon blamed the Franks murder on the kind of education received by the Loeb-Leopold boys. They did not receive sufficient religious instruction.

Of course Darwin never claimed that man was descended from the monkey. But if such were the case, the monkey and not the members of the Georgia legislature would have reason to kick.

When the Catholic church was all-powerful and made and unmade kings, it was a crime punishable by death to doubt the theory, sanctioned by the church, that man was created by God and woman out of a rib taken out of Adam, the alleged first man. Those having the courage to doubt the Pope's word found themselves in jail, on the gibbet or on the rack. Yet in spite of all the forces of darkness and reaction, society man progressed intellectually until today only comparatively few accept the rib theory of the origin of man, and the Darwinian theory tho not accepted as a solution of the riddle of the universe, is given respected consideration in every reputable school.

The attempt to blame the Franks murder on lack of religious training shows a blindness to facts that none but fanatics could be guilty of. Disregarding wars where millions are murdered in the name of God and religion, statistics prove that the great majority of crimes against human life have been committed by persons with religious affiliations. In many instances the criminals claimed divine sanctions for the murder. The crimes of clergymen have cluttered the front pages of the newspapers for several years. And the South, in which the brightest gem is Georgia, has at least held its own in the figures dealing with crime particularly sex perversion. Darwinism surely cannot be blamed for the murder, rape and lynching cases that have disgraced the South.

Darwinism is not to blame for the Leopold-Loeb crime. The educational opportunities received by them are not responsible. But the rotten, corrupt, unjust socialist system which distributes its wealth in such a manner that a few at the top become perverted with excess while the millions at the bottom are reduced to physical and mental wrecks thru want, is the cause of crime, and only when the exploiting capitalist system is done away with and Communism established in its place can the human race begin in real earnest to tackle the many serious problems that are ignored in the hurry to accumulate wealth at the expense of the producers. Morons of the type that hold forth in the Georgia legislature are obstacles on the road to progress. Evolution has passed them by, but revolution will not.

Morris Hillquit's Program

"The intelligent handling of such questions as those dealing with the prohibition of child labor, for instance, establishing a minimum wage and affording other protections for the labor of women, measures looking to sanitation and safety places of employment, curbing excessive working hours, and so on." Calvin Coolidge is in favor of every one of these measures, realizing that so long as the capitalist class holds political power, they will be honored more in the breach than in the observance. Hillquit is not to the left of Al Smith but very much to the right.

Only Communism Can Crush Wars

By BEN GITLOW.
Workers Party Candidate For Vice-President.

Ten years ago the world was plunged into a savage devastating war by its capitalistic imperialist rulers. Capitalistic governments for four and a half years sent millions of workers to the bloody fields to be slaughtered. The World War in its colossal destructiveness threw the masses of the people into the depths of fear, extreme misery, hopeless despair and sorrow. Every advance on the road to human freedom and justice was crushed ruthlessly.

The capitalist rulers of all countries kept protesting that they were continuing the struggle in the interest of humanity and for the establishment of permanent peace. At the same time these capitalist rulers were converting the agony of the people into millions and millions of dollars of war profits. They fastened the many billions of dollars that the war cost not only upon the backs of the workers of this generation, but upon the backs of the future generations also. Thru their bloody regime they have so disorganized and destroyed the economic life of Europe that millions of people find themselves destitute. Starvation, unemployment and extreme indescribable poverty are today the common lot of most of the people of Europe.

Wars Against Labor

The capitalist rulers soon forget their protestations. The armistice was not followed by the laying down of arms and the resumption of peaceful industry. In Germany the revolutionary struggles for true freedom were crushed by the force of arms. In Russia, armies were hurled against the Russian workers and peasants who had liberated themselves from the yoke of their oppressors. In India, Indian workers who had aspired for national independence were massacred by the troops of the British Empire. The streets of Ireland were strewn with the corpses of young Irishmen who had dared to hope for an Irish republic. The United States with its wealth and gold crushed under its iron heel, Haiti, Santo Domingo and the Philippines. The Hungarian workers republic was wiped out in blood and a reign of terror instituted. Everywhere, the armies were in the field fully equipped and prepared for all eventualities.

Out of the Versailles Peace, no sooner had the signatures been dried, sprung the dangers of a future World War more destructive and more terrible in every respect to the war supposedly just ended.

Peace Was No Peace.

The peace that the capitalist governments concluded was no peace. The victors first economically ruined the defeated nations and then proceeded to demand tribute from them in the form of reparations that under no circumstances could be paid. They redistricted the earth's surface and divided among themselves extensive territories subjecting to their militaristic, financial and economic, thei habiting them. They made new alliances and counter alliances, militaristic, financial and economic that formed the basis for the alliances in the coming world catastrophe that is so lightly promised by many prominent capitalist diplomats.

No Peace Under Capitalism.

Capitalist governments can assure no peace. The only hope they hold out to the workers is continued exploitation and misery at home and savage, brutal devastating war. If war is to be ended, if the slaughter of millions of workers is to cease, then capitalism with its imperialism must be destroyed because capitalism in its very nature breeds war. Just so long as the earth's surface with its wealth is the private property of individual capitalists and their combines, just so long will there exist the danger of war. Just so long as the various national capitalist interests must find markets for their surplus products, and undeveloped territories for the investment of their surplus capital, just so long will they come in conflict with other national capitalist interests similarly situated. Out of such conflicts war must eventually follow. Because the markets of the world are limited and undeveloped territories more so.

Permanent peace can be established only by destroying the cause of all modern war. To get peace capitalism must be destroyed. The only ones that can do that job are the workers. Since they must bear all the war burdens of capitalism they have everything to gain and nothing to lose by doing so.

Workers Must Seize Power.

The only movement, in the world today that is engaged in a struggle against capitalism is the world Communist movement. It is therefore, the only movement that is truly waging a war to destroy militarism and end war. It proposes that the power to make war shall be taken out of the hands of the capitalists. This it proposes to do by placing all the power in the hands of the workers. The Communist movement stands for the overthrow of capitalist rule, for the overthrow of the rule of the militarists. It proposes to set up in its place the rule of the workers. In place of the capitalist governments with their imperialist policies the Communists propose to set up the government of soviets, the government of workers and farmers. The power to make war is then wrenched from the hands of the war lords, the bankers, the industrial overlords and the whole crew of parasites who have grown rich thru the misery and exploitation of the masses of workers and farmers. With capitalism with other national capitalist interests similarly situated. Out of such conflicts war must eventually follow. Because the markets of the world are limited and undeveloped territories more so.

Permanent peace can be established only by destroying the cause of all modern war. To get peace capitalism must be destroyed. The only ones that can do that job are the workers. Since they must bear all the war burdens of capitalism they have everything to gain and nothing to lose by doing so.

Workers Must Seize Power.

The only movement, in the world today that is engaged in a struggle against capitalism is the world Communist movement. It is therefore, the only movement that is truly waging a war to destroy militarism and end war. It proposes that the power to make war shall be taken out of the hands of the capitalists. This it proposes to do by placing all the power in the hands of the workers. The Communist movement stands for the overthrow of capitalist rule, for the overthrow of the rule of the militarists. It proposes to set up in its place the rule of the workers. In place of the capitalist governments with their imperialist policies the Communists propose to set up the government of soviets, the government of workers and farmers. The power to make war is then wrenched from the hands of the war lords, the bankers, the industrial overlords and the whole crew of parasites who have grown rich thru the misery and exploitation of the masses of workers and farmers. With capitalism with other national capitalist interests similarly situated. Out of such conflicts war must eventually follow. Because the markets of the world are limited and undeveloped territories more so.

Permanent peace can be established only by destroying the cause of all modern war. To get peace capitalism must be destroyed. The only ones that can do that job are the workers. Since they must bear all the war burdens of capitalism they have everything to gain and nothing to lose by doing so.

Workers Must Seize Power.

The only movement, in the world today that is engaged in a struggle against capitalism is the world Communist movement. It is therefore, the only movement that is truly waging a war to destroy militarism and end war. It proposes that the power to make war shall be taken out of the hands of the capitalists. This it proposes to do by placing all the power in the hands of the workers. The Communist movement stands for the overthrow of capitalist rule, for the overthrow of the rule of the militarists. It proposes to set up in its place the rule of the workers. In place of the capitalist governments with their imperialist policies the Communists propose to set up the government of soviets, the government of workers and farmers. The power to make war is then wrenched from the hands of the war lords, the bankers, the industrial overlords and the whole crew of parasites who have grown rich thru the misery and exploitation of the masses of workers and farmers.

C. I. Offers Only Hope.

On the 10th anniversary therefore, of the outbreak of the World War the only hope for the workers against another recurrence on a world scale of similar capitalist insanity and all it implies for the workers is in the International Communist Movement. The cry on this anniversary should be "Down with international war butchery, up with the international solidarity of the workers of all countries in the Communist International.

S. L. P. DENIES PRESENCE AMONG C. P. P. A. CROWD

Says No Delegates at Cleveland

The national office of the Workers Party is in receipt of the following letter from the national secretary of the Socialist Labor Party.

Mr. C. E. Ruthenberg,
c. o. The DAILY WORKER,
1113 W. Washington Blvd.,
Chicago, Ill.

Sir:

In the DAILY WORKER of July 7, page 1, there appeared an article signed by you entitled, "Railroad Chiefs Dictators at Cleveland." In this article you say:

"Most surprising of all, there came to the convention three delegates representing the national organization of the Socialist Labor Party, and they sat thru the convention and accepted LaFollette and his program without a word of protest, in spite of their many loud protestations of revolutionary virtue."

As national secretary of the Socialist Party I herewith denounce this statement as an unqualified falsehood. I also demand that you prepare a statement for the DAILY WORKER withdrawing this utterly false, and, to the S. L. P., libellous statement.

Yours truly,
Socialist Labor Party,
Arnold Peterson, Nat. Sec'y.

The following reply has been sent to this communication by the executive secretary of the Workers Party:

Arnold Peterson,
National Secretary,
Socialist Labor Party,
45-51 Rose St.,
New York, N. Y.

Dear Sir:

In making the report to the convention of the Conference for Progressive Political Action, the credential committee of that body reported among the delegates seated in the convention:

"National organization of the Socialist Labor Party, 3 delegates and 3 votes."

This report was made publicly to the convention and there was no other inference to be drawn from it than that the national organization of the Socialist Labor Party had sent three delegates to the convention who were speakers in the convention. From your letter it appears that this is not the case. In view of these circumstances, I suggest that you address yourself to the secretary of the Conference for Progressive Political Action, making inquiry as to who presented the credentials from the national organization of the Socialist Labor Party reported to the convention.

We will, of course, be glad to print your letter in the DAILY WORKER together with this reply.

Very truly yours,
C. E. Ruthenberg,
Executive Secretary.

Italian Speaker Arrested.

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, Aug. 1.—Fernando Pascoli, of the editorial staff of "Il Lavoratore," who was arrested for speaking at an anti-Fascisti meeting here Sunday night, is still in jail. The speaker was denouncing the Mussolini government and the capitalist system which permits and encourages such a dictatorship of big business when he was taken by the officious upholders of "the law."

Send in that Subscription Today.

FIGHT AGAINST MILITARISM TOLD IN YOUNG COMMUNIST INTERNATIONAL

MOSCOW, July 15.—(By Mail.)—The fourth world congress of the Young Communist International opened today simultaneously with the sixth All-Russian congress of the Communist youth.

In his opening speech, Jefim Zetlin eulogized Lenin and the sacrifices of the young Communists in the struggle against the white terror and capitalist militarism. Gregory Zinoviev, chairman of the Communist International, was election honorary chairman, and Comrade Lozeray, victim of the military courts, was made an honorary member of the presidium of the congress at the suggestion of Schatzkin.

Comrade Manuilsky, representing the Communist International, addressed the congress on the tasks of the Young Communist International, saying that its chief problems were the struggle against militarism and the preparation of the youth for the civil war against capitalism. Long cheers and ovations met the greetings of Frunze who spoke in the name of the Red Army and the Red Fleet, and told of the high ideals of the Red soldiery in maintaining the power of the proletarian dictatorship.

Further greetings were made by Monmousseau (France) in the name of the Red International of Labor Unions; Erna Halbe, in the name of the International Communist Women's Congress, and Israel Amter (America), in the name of the International Red Aid.

Chasseigne, of the French league, proposed a resolution of protest against the white terror and against bourgeois class justice, which was accepted by acclaim.

Greetings were also received in the name of the imprisoned victims of Polish and Esthonian capitalist persecution. Tschaplin, speaking for the congress of the Russian Young Communist League, was followed by the presentation of a red banner by the Moscow youth committee to the fighting young Communists of Berlin and another banner from the Red Presnija district to the Swedish Young Communist League.

COMMUNIST CHILDREN'S COLUMN

I AM THE "CHILD-WORKER"

I am the child-worker! Day after day I toil in textile mills, where there is only the roar of the machinery and the sharp commands of the masters. My brothers and sisters toil at my side. Our clothes are ragged and we are—oh so tired!

* * *

Every morning, in the chill of the dawn, the great whistle blares forth its summons and we must crawl from our warm beds and hasten to the factory. How I would like to sleep—just once—until I couldn't sleep—any more. But I know I can never do that for it isn't pleasant to go hungry. . . .

How bright the sun looks in the early morning as we trudge to our work. How soft and restful the grass in the yards of the MASTERS looks. How happy I would be if my brothers and I could play there in the soft grass. And how fine it would be if my sisters could have a playhouse and dolls there under the great oaks. But that can NEVER be, for we are poor. Play is not for such as we.

I once saw a happy crowd of boys and girls playing in a school yard. They were like us, only better dressed and their cheeks full and red; not thin and sallow like ours. How lucky are those little boys and girls!

* * *

I have a BAD cough. The doctor says I should be sent away to the country, but father says it can't be done. I must continue to work thru long hours and weary days while the cough grows worse. The foreman looks at me coldly when he hears me cough. I am afraid that he is going to send me home and that will be bad, for then father and mother will beat me.

I wonder why some little boys and girls can have time to play and go to school, while others like us know only a factory gloom and the goad of work in the factory. . . .

I'm just a little slave boy who has never been to school and who knows only to tend a loom, but I think it's hardly fair! Do you?

* * *

Do you wonder why WE NEED JUNIOR GROUPS? BOYS and GIRLS who read this story and have as yet not joined the junior group, JOIN NOW! Let us work and fight together to do away with these conditions. . . . Join and help make every boy and girl happy! Down with child labor!!

NEW YORK CITY Party Activities

Section 2 Is Active.

Section 2 is numerically the largest section in District 2. Its membership is about 1,000 and embraces the Harlem and Yorkville territories.

The open air work was started in this section as early as the month of May, and about three to four meetings a week were held successfully.

In response to the call of the central executive committee to organize anti-war and anti-imperialistic demonstrations, Section 2 organized a house to house distribution of the party manifesto. About 50 per cent of the membership reported for this work and regardless of the depressing heat 25,000 leaflets were distributed within two hours. A large open air meeting was held at 110th and 5th aves.

The party speakers presented the subject of imperialism and imperialist wars, the crowd listening attentively. The meeting lasted until midnight; literature dealing with the subject of imperialism and the DAILY WORKER were sold successfully. The audience numbered about 1,000.

Brazil Rebellion Continues.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1. — The American consulate at Sao Paulo has been struck by bullets in the battle between Brazilian rebels and Government forces. The shells damaged the consulate building, but no American lives were lost.

* * *

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, Aug. 1.—In preparation for a heavy bombardment of Sao Paulo, the commander of the federal army besieging the city ordered all civilians to leave Sao Paulo.

Klan Kandidate Leads Woman.

FORT WORTH, Aug. 1. — Judge Felix Robertson of Dallas, Ku Klux Klan candidate, today was holding a lead of nearly 30,000 votes over his eight opponents in the Texas gubernatorial primaries, and a woman, Mrs. Miriam Ferguson, was battling for a place in the run-off.

Shot In Klan Fight.

WORCESTER, Mass., Aug. 1.—One man was shot thru the chest and thirteen others were injured in a pitched battle between members of the Ku Klux Klan and anti-klansmen on the streets of Worcester. More than 500 persons were engaged in the melee.

T. U. E. L. HEARS ABOUT I. W. W.; COMPARISON OF INTERNATIONALS

A hot night proved no deterrent to a large crowd of militants gathered at North-West hall for the monthly meeting of The Trade Union Educational League.

Harrison George, writer and speaker whose long and active participation in the I. W. W. has made him well posted on that organization, spoke on the "I. W. W. in the Labor Movement." His detailed story of the rise and slow degeneration of this great organization proved one of the most interesting lectures of the season.

Of special interest were his side-lights and stories of the personal incidents in his active years as a "Wobbly." The political aspect of this "industrial" organization received full treatment at his hands and with his criticism went unstinted praise for the accomplishments of the militants to whom the Red Trade Union International has made every effort to come closer to.

Earl Browder in his monthly review of the latest developments in the world and labor helped further establish this interesting feature of the T. U. E. L. general meetings. In a comparison of the Amsterdam and R. I. L. U. Congresses, his review of the position of the British "Labor" government gave the militants not only a clear picture of the division of these two forces but the very best summary the militants of Chicago have heard in months.

Jack Johnstone, Erwin Girsch and A. Overgaard gave a review of the situation in the needle, building and metal trades and the coming conventions in the carpenters, state A. F. L., and other organizations received attention from the militants' viewpoint.

The programs of these monthly meetings are receiving a truly well earned response.

"The idea becomes power when it penetrates the masses." —Karl Marx.

SPECIAL MAGAZINE SUPPLEMENT
THE DAILY WORKER

SECOND SECTION
This magazine supplement will appear every Saturday in The Daily Worker.

AUGUST 2, 1924

American Capitalism Preparing New Wars

By J. RAMIREZ (Gomez)

There is a whole assortment of "experts" at Washington whose sole business is to plan the next war. They plot out field offensives on the European continent, air raids against London, lightning invasions of Mexico, complex incidents of naval warfare against Japan. Minutely and patiently they study the topography of France, making numerous little markings on the map to indicate marches and counter marches, poison gas attacks, or other maneuvers. They take up one country after another and work out a complete, detailed plan of campaign against it.

U. S. Policies Make Enemies.

Our war experts have it all figured out as to who the future enemy is likely to be. If they prove to be wrong it doesn't matter, because they have laid their plans on the assumption that every great Power in the world is at least a possible enemy —not to speak of a few dozen of the lesser Powers. This means that at bottom the national policies of the United States are war policies.... policies which, if pushed to their logical conclusion, inevitably lead to war.

Wars arise out of clashes of policy. Where do the policies of the United States clash with those of other Powers? Where do they not clash?

Anyone can think offhand of a hundred "sore spots".... in China, Latin America, Europe. Chatauqua orators are still repeating two-year old speeches on "our untroubled policy of isolation," but actually American foreign policy today is as adventurous as anything the world has ever seen. It is riding rough shod over all opposition, driving relentlessly on to new disasters. The legend of isolation is not believed by anyone who does not spend his time "reminiscing" instead of thinking.

Lafayette, We Are Here Again.

Europe occupies a more and more prominent part in our day's news from day to day. American capital is in Europe with both feet now, fighting aggressively for advantage, with the militant backing of the United States Government. The notorious Dawes Plan for the enslavement of Germany is the mark of the epoch.

Comrade Varga, in his lucid analysis of the Dawes Plan, showed how it reflected the changed economic conditions in the United States. "Owing to the boom period prevailing in the United States," he pointed out, "the bourgeoisie of that country had no inducement to involve themselves in European affairs. With the end of that boom, and the necessity for a world market, the interest of the American bourgeoisie in Europe increases and a share in the plundering of Germany appears to them more desirable."

There are more than 1,300,000 men out of work in this country today. Everywhere industry is continuing to slow down—especially the constructional industries, which play such an important part in American capital investment. On the other hand the bank vaults are bursting with gold; money is so plentiful (among financiers, stock gamblers, etc.) that it is being lent on call at less than 2 per cent interest.

Hughes Backs Morgan Scheme.

Finance capitalists must invest their surplus somewhere or they will get no returns from it. So they begin to look across the water. There are plenty of chances to invest in Europe. Germany for instance has been in the market for a loan, these many months. But the bankers must have guarantees. Germany, with the French occupation burdening the productivity of its most important industrial areas, is not good enough security. Consequently, Thomas W. Lamont, of J. P. Morgan & Co., informs Ramsay MacDonald and Premier Herriot in London that no money will be forthcoming under the Dawes Plan unless the French troops are withdrawn. Secretary of State Hughes happens at this time to be enjoying a vacation tour to London. He declares himself heartily in accord with the Dawes Plan, and tells the newspapers that he agrees with the Lamont interpretation of it. Obviously Mr. Hughes would not talk like this unless he were talking for the United States Government.

How the Machinery Works.

The mechanics in the development of American foreign policy are shown here so plainly that one can "see the wheels go round." Bankers, in pursuit of profit, lay down conditions for foreign governments to follow, and the State Department backs them up; in consequence whereof, the Government embarks upon a certain line of policy, which may involve it in all sorts of entanglements if it does not abruptly shift its position. The State Department is now backing up Morgan. A definite stand has already been taken toward France and England and there has been a direct clash with French policy in the Ruhr. Moreover, it is not easy for the Government to retreat. Now that Morgan has gone ahead with his Dawes Plan adventure, on the basis of assured government support, he is in a position to demand that the support be not withdrawn. American foreign policy has thus become warp and woof of the policy of Morgan. And Morgan thinks only of his profits. He will intrigue to checkmate possible foreign competitors. He will endeavor to use his present position for future economic advantage. He will not hesitate to resort to any extremity if his profits are at state. The last war was a Morgan War and the next war will be a Morgan War too.

Germany Mortgaged.

What is the Dawes Plan in essence? It is a scheme for giving the Allies (principally England and the United States) such control over the industrial processes of Germany that they could exploit her for their own benefit and at the same time forever hold her down as a rival. With heavy mortgage on the railroads and industries of the country, and control of her central banking institutions, the Allied bankers will have a strong hold over the entire economic life of Germany.

How will you keep him from your door?

This is nice enough for the American bankers—but gives them an imperialist stake in the unstable affairs of Europe which the United States Government will be called upon to defend in every crisis. Eventually this means war.

It is inconceivable that there should be another big war in Europe, without the United States being involved. Morgan already has millions of dollars tied up in loans to Austria and Hungary, and practically controls the financial administration of the former nation, under the present receivership which the bankers forced upon her. In addition, there are the as yet unpaid loans to the Entente Powers. Morgan dragged the United States into the World War to protect those loans, and he intends to protect them in the future, however complicated the circumstances may become.

Other elements of danger are the heavy investments of American capitalists in European industry, the numerous concessions in the Balkans, the oil interests in Roumania and other countries, the Sinclair contract for monopoly rights in the exploitation of oil in southern Italy.

Reviving the League of Nations.

The United States has become a part of the whole European system. Comrade Varga calles attention to the fact that the League of Nations is again becoming an issue in America. The tremendous drive to put over the Geneva Protocol or "Peace" Plan.... the 1924 platforms of both Republican and Democratic parties.... the active part taken by U. S. Ambassador Kellogg in the present conference of premiers in London, all these things show which way the wind is blowing. And the outcome is war.

But America is a peaceful nation! Did we not, shout the philistines, take the lead in the calling of the famous Disarmament Conference at Washgiven to the Conference should not blind us to its content. "It is probable that the Washington Conference will make not for peace but for war," declared Thomas F. Millard, in a confidential memorandum written for the State Department.

A Coup d'Etat.

The Washington Conference was a simple aggressive maneuver. Europe is a puny field for the exploits of our imperialists. For years now they have had a vision of empire, whose eastern outposts lay far across the broad Pacific. In the quaint, picturesque, and (incidently) enormously wealthy land of Old Cathay, Wall Street and the United States Government have been pursuing a policy of late, calculated to fairly bewilder the average worker or farmer, toiling away in the seclusion of "isolated" America. "China," wrote Millard, in another of his confidential memoranda "is the central factor in American Foreign Policy." China is also a factor in the policy of other national imperialisms. These policies clash one with another. War is the certain consequence. The Washington Conference was a masterly coup d'etat on the part of American capitalism in the struggle for strategic advantage in the far East.

The proposals regarding armaments were shoved into the background in the Washington Conference; the American representatives refused even to discuss them until "various Pacific Coast and Far East questions" were disposed of. Japan was put abruptly on the defensive. The inviolability of American interests in China was urged and insisted upon. Even the proposal for limitation of armament, apparently so innocent, was a part of the American offensive against Japan. All military experts concur that, especially considering the present industrial background of the two countries, the naval limitation agreements made by the conference, tend inevitably to the relative weakening of Japan and the relative strengthening of American Capitalism.

A Fight for Empire.

The Japanese have been made to feel that the United States government is determined to back up all the schemes of American Big Business in China. The fight for empire is declared. There is the threat of war and the danger of war in every line of the Washington agreements.

China is the greatest market in the world for the absorption of surplus capital. She has coal, iron, antimony, lead, oil, cotton, rice.... and, above all, plenty of cheap human labor. What group of money-mad American financiers would hesitate to lead us into the most perilous adventures in the face of such a prospect!

But American capitalism comes late to the Chinese treasure house. Much of the treasure has already been parceled out. The United States pre-

(Continued on page 8.)

The General Staff of the World Revolution

A View on the V Congress of the Communist International.

By MOISSAYE J. OLGIN.

This is the eleventh day of the Congress. More than half of the work still remains undone. There will come out of the commissions a vast amount of leading principles and practical propositions as to the national and colonial problem, the peasant problem, the trade unions, organization and propaganda. There will, probably, be a number of decisions concerning the inner life of the most important parties of the Comintern.

Still, the heyday of the Congress is over. The debate on the political report of the Executive Committee has been completed. A resolution approving the policy of the Executive Committee has been adopted by the whole Congress against eight dissenting votes. The character of the Congress is now clear. All the rest of its work will only be an amplification of what is contained in this basic resolution.

It would be futile to attempt a survey of ten days' debate in a newspaper correspondence. There has been a wealth of Communist ideas poured forth in sixty-two speeches, some of which, reported stenographically, grew into fair size pamphlets. A brief analysis of this part of the Congress work alone will require a series of careful essays. What can be undertaken here is a few conclusions which force themselves upon every participant as self-evident and beyond dispute. These conclusions become a certainty as discussion develops. They lay, so to speak, on the surface.

1. This is a Congress of parties. There was a time, said Comrade Zinoviev in his report, when we were propaganda associations. We had no consciousness of being so, but we were no parties as yet. We saw a mass of discontent in every country, and we thought that was an organized Communist force. How the situation has changed. The seething of the masses referred to by Comrade Zinoviev, is smaller than it was four and five years ago. The attack of capital is fiercer. The comparties work in a less favorable medium. Communists' work requires a solidly built organization, a pliability of tactics along a sharply drawn class line of action illuminated by theoretical groundwork. As one listens here to the reports of the various parties and to the passionate defense or denunciation of one policy or the other, one becomes aware that those are no more "societies for the propaganda of Communists," but political revolutionary parties in action. The main parties of the continent have a firm organization. They have developed a strict discipline. They are deeply rooted in the masses of the proletariat. They are winning over large numbers of workers. Some are mass parties themselves. And they are hooked up with every phase of the political, the economic, the social and the cultural life which has any relation to the interests of the working class or to the future of the social revolution. They are political factors of first importance.

2. This is a Congress of revolutionary parties. Revolution here is no abstraction, no pious desire. Revolution is the daily bread of most delegates here assembled. Europe is being shaken by revolutionary convulsions these last six years, and many parties have actually participated in proletarian upheavals. Here are the Italian Communists who fought bloody battles against their bourgeoisie and against the Fascisti. Here are the Bulgarian representatives of a party which as late as September, 1923, conducted a series of armed insurrections. Here are the Poles in whose country there was a workers' revolt on the sixth of November, 1923, in Cracow. Here are the German comrades steeled in numerous insurrections and bitter against their former right wing leaders who are blamed for not having led the masses into battle to seize power last October. And here are the members of the Russian Communist party which heads the proletarian dictatorship since October, 1917, after a glorious revolution.

No, revolution here is not a theoretical conception formulated on the basis of scientific speculation. Revolution is a fiery reality. It has not yet won a victory in any of the European countries, but it is daily nourished by the decomposition of capitalism, by growing burdens of militarism, by increasing ferocity of despairing bourgeoisie, by deepening misery and starvation of the workers, by the avalanche of an agrarian crisis, by mounting discontent of colonial peoples, by the bankruptcy of social-democratic and trade union bureaucratic leaders who are helping to mend the breaches in the structure of exploitation. The revolution is in the very tissue of European social organization. This is why the Congress talks of revolution as if it were the most commonplace order of business. This is why the delegates talk of preparations for revolutionary fights as if they were members of a military general staff in war time. This is war time in Europe. There may be a lull in military activities, but the war is on. The maneuvering for battle continues.

A detail: some of the parties here represented are illegal in their countries. Some delegates have come to Moscow under assumed names and may face grave dangers upon returning. But nobody seems to be upset over such prospects. They are taken for granted. They are a part of revolutionary life. "Illegality" today may turn out dictatorship tomorrow, and prison is an integral element of a Communist career.

Testing the Dawes Plan.

3. This is a European Congress. There was a time when an international Communist congress resembled a full sized man surrounded by Lilliputians. The Russian Communist Party loomed up as the one and only great mass party consolidated into fighting batallions. The others were in a process of formation. The center of gravity, therefore, lay in the East of Europe. Russia not only led, Russia dictated. The word of Russia was law. In the present Congress, the leading influences of the Russian Communists remain in full force. The wisdom, insight, experience, knowledge of the best Russian comrades animates the whole International as ever before. The loss of the greatest of all political leaders, Lenin, leaves, of course, a colossal gap; his leadership can be replaced by none; yet, all the other brains of the Russian revolution are at work, and the western Communists look up at them for direction, aid, criticism, approval. Still, the center of gravity is gradually moving westward. The European parties become a factor more and more decisive, not because the Russian Communist party is diminishing in influence, but because the other parties become more consolidated and gain in experience. The German party is a force at the present congress. Next come the French comrades. Third in importance are Italy and Czecho-Slovakia, the former for the revolutionary possibilities the Italian situation is fraught with, the latter for its solid party of 130,000 in a country whose entire population hardly exceeds thirteen million. Due to the key position of Great Britain among imperialist states, the British Communist party is given much attention. Western communism is a very active force both at the plenary sessions of the congress and in the numerous commissions. Ruth Fisher, the leader of the German Communist party, has been the reporter of the most important congress commission—the commission on the political report of the executive committee. Thalheimer, the leader of the minority of the German party, is co-reporter, with Bucharin, on the program question.

4. This is a left congress. We do not mean to say that the fourth world congress was more moderate. The line of policy of the Communist International is a straight one for winning the masses of the proletariat in every country in order to head their revolutionary battles for power. The fourth congress drew this line as firmly and with as much conviction as it is being done at present. There is, however, a difference in the temper of the delegations. Between the fourth and the fifth congress some Communist leaders have tried to interpret the united front tactics and especially the slogan of a farmer-labor government in an opportunist fashion. Such interpretation proved injurious in Germany, in Bulgaria, in Poland. The bulk of the party membership has overthrown the opportunistically inclined leadership in the German party and replaced it by a left executive committee; the party membership is working up to a repudiation of compromising tendencies in nearly every section of the comintern. Past experiences give the delegates a special zest, a heated animation in combatting the right opponents. The words "opportunist inclinations" and "opportunist deviations" are spoken of with contempt and derision. One has no patience with discredited right oppositions. One has no interest for differences between "right," "right center," and "center." The barometer of the congress points decidedly towards the left, which means Bolshevism and revolution.

Back of this tendency is an ironclad conviction that Europe is heading towards a revolution, that capitalism is bankrupt, that the contradictions of capitalism and imperialism cannot be cured within the framework of bourgeois society, that even if there is a temporary halt in the downward trend of the present social and economic order, its final breakdown is unavoidable and approaching with fatal sureness. In such a historic era, every detail of Communist preparations may become of momentous consequences in the near future. Every aberration may prove disastrous.

This conviction, on the other hand, is based on a new powerful factor without which one cannot understand revolutionary Europe of today: the new proletarian generation. In the last six-seven years, millions of young workers have grown into manhood, millions of sturdy modern fighters who have not gone thru the old school of social-democratic adaptations, who have not lost their spirit in the crucible of disappointments following the war and its hideous "peace," who have retained a great source of unexhausted energy and have no patience with the existing order of things. It is the impetus of this young generation, unspoiled, unbiased in favor of compromises with capitalist ruler, untouched by the poison of bourgeois psychology, which is the driving power back of the new left leaders of European Communist parties. It is they, the millions of post-war proletarians, and not the old, tired, worn-out middle aged workers of the old type, who will be in the first ranks of the revolution.

5. This is a Congress of Bolshevization. The most feverish interest is given to the problems of the United front tactics and the Farmer-Labor government slogan. They are the nerves of the congress, the throbbing heart of all the discussion. They have been thrust upon the Communist parties by the recent developments in bourgeois states and by the practice of revolutionary struggle. party is of paramount importance.

The practice of the German Comp- The German leaders of the right wing are branded for having failed to lead the working class into a battle for power last October. The Brandler group is accused of having allowed itself to be caught in the net of bourgeois democratic parliamentarism when the German Communists entered the Saxon government last fall. There are no words hot enough to express the scorn of the German delegates when they speak of the Chemnitz conference at which the right wing leaders failed to issue a call for insurrection. What was the reason for such hesitation, they ask. And their answer is: because the Brandler group believed in organic co-operation with the Social-Democracy on the basis of the constitution; because the right wing Communists were afraid of losing contact with the left wing social-democratic leaders; because they were not free from the inheritance of the past—from parliamentary democratic illusions; because they misunderstood and misinterpreted the tactics of the united front and the slogan of a labor-farmer government which must be a revolutionary tactic and a revolutionary slogan.

Nor is this wrong application of a correct set of principles confined to the German party alone. Over and over again representatives of the various countries appeal to the Congress against opportunist deviations in their respective parties. There is, for instance, the Checho-slovakian party whose conference adopted a resolution to the effect that the workers' government can be a peaceful transition to the proletarian dictatorship. There is the Swedish Communist party where a portion of the Central Executive Committee was against the centralization of the Communist International and where a noted leader showed strange aberrations in the question of religion. There is a tendency towards peaceful compromises in the Bulgarian Communist party. All such shortcomings are under a

(Continued on page 3.)

WORKING CLASS NEWS

By KARL REEVE

The DAILY WORKER, the first Communist daily newspaper to be printed in the English language, has made working class history during the seven months of its existence. The news columns have created a favorable reaction among the workers, and an analysis of the different types of news stories printed in The DAILY WORKER will be of benefit to the volunteer reporter.

The DAILY WORKER is used not only to educate the workers to heed the message of Communism, it also solidifies the Workers' Party membership and educates and informs them of the Party tactics. This theoretical and tactical news is very important to the movement. The translations from Russian and other foreign magazines and newspapers inform the membership of the latest trend of world Communism. The theses, programs and articles explaining American policy, officially printed in The DAILY WORKER, create a self reliant and well informed rank and file.

More important to the volunteer reporters, however, is the Workers' Party news of meetings, demonstrations and entertainments which should be sent in from all over the country. This Workers Party news keeps the different sections of the party informed about what the other sections are doing, and unifies the party.

Every Workers' Party event of even local importance should be sent to The DAILY WORKER. It is not much more trouble to write up the event as a news story, instead of merely sending an advance notice in the form of a handbill, and not only saves much time, but makes a better story.

In addition, every labor event attended by a party member should be reported to the DAILY WORKER. Every strike in which a party member takes part carries with it not only the organizational duties but the duty to give the left wing angle of the story publicity in The DAILY WORKER.

The DAILY WORKER has unlimited fields of expansion which are as yet unknown to many of the Party members. The working class news which deals with the every day worker in the shop, or political and industrial activity, relies for much of its value on the distribution of the paper carrying the story to the places written up. For instance, at a Negro meeting of the followers of Marcus Garvey this week in Chicago, several hundred copies were sold to the Negroes because of a front page article giving a speech of Marcus Garvey. The paper not only extends its advertising, but also educated in this case, the Negroes to the Workers Party policy toward the Negro problem.

It is the duty of the membership not only to send in the news stories, but when they are sent in, bundles of the paper containing the story should be ordered from the business office and sold at the strike meeting or demonstration written about.

The DAILY WORKER in reporting its first big strike—the Chicago Ladies Garment Workers' Strike—informed labor thruout the country of the injunctions suffered by Chicago strikes, and the membership of the union thruout the country not only read our strike news but became more closely acquainted with the Workers Party.

New uses are constantly being found to make The DAILY WORKER more valuable to the working class. In the Pullman carbuilders' strike The DAILY WORKER was sold at the gates of the plant and the imported steel workers, hearing The DAILY WORKER newies call, "All about the Pullman strike," learned for the first time that there was a strike in the Pullman plant. Thus The DAILY WORKER stumbled on an unwitting aid to the picketing. The DAILY WORKER, in this strike, served as a rallying point for organization work, members of the staff speaking at the strike meeting and aiding in the strike activities.

All this activity, increasing the faith of the workers in the sincerity and power of the Workers Party, had as its foundation, the printing of the strike stories in The DAILY WORKER. They formed the basis of the strike activity. Thus volunteer reporting assumes much greater importance than the mere printing of a news item, if properly backed up with selling of the paper and organization work.

In the strike of the Jewish Bakers in Chicago a big opportunity of similar nature was missed because the Workers Party members who were striking did not call up the Worker with news of the strike.

Another innovation of The DAILY WORKER was inaugurated in the strike of the Greek Restaurant workers carried on by the Amalgamated Food workers in Chicago. The union bought a special strike edition of The DAILY WORKER, the entire front page being devoted to the striking food workers, the rest of the paper remaining the same. Several thousand copies of this special edition were distributed by the Food Workers Union among the restaurant workers, thus greatly aiding their organization drive and extending the influence of the paper.

The Western Electric campaign was an example of the possibilities of creating interest in working class news in almost any large factory. At one time over three thousand copies of The DAILY WORKER were sold daily in front of the Western Electric gates, exposing the speed-up system in the plant, increasing the sales of the paper and giving the workers more confidence in themselves and in the paper.

These are a few of the history making achievements of The DAILY WORKER. Not only will they be copied by other factories and other cities, but other and greater achievements lie ahead for the only working class daily in America. In the coming drive for new subscribers the membership must bear in mind the tremendous importance of sending in news, selling the paper, and exploiting it to the utmost in the interests of the workers. If this is done, the subscription list will be doubled within six months.

In closing these few suggestions about the relation of the party membership to The DAILY WORKER, I give the few long suffering readers who have had the patience to wade thru the series of articles, the usual mechanical suggestions. The story should be typed if at all possible. Use double or triple space and write only on one side of the paper, and as O'Henry suggests, let each article finish at the bottom of the last page.

The General Staff of the World Revolution

(Continued from page 7)

heavy barrage at the Congress. The Congress by no means repudiates the tactics of the united front, it is only giving it a clearly defined revolutionary contents as a means of winning over the majority of the working class, as an instrument for mobilizing the masses, as a method of class propaganda and as a test for the social-democracy to prove its anti-proletarian and anti-revolutionary nature. There can be a million ways of applying the united front tactics, says the Congress; the practical steps may differ according to the concrete situation in every country. But if we have in mind our task of mobilizing the masses for the conquest of power, if we use every opportunity to strengthen the working class in its class struggle and to straighten its line in the direction of a revolution, then we may not be afraid of any strategical maneuvers including those which demand compromises. Enormous applause followed Zinoviev's quotation from Lenin's article, "On Compromises": "The task of a truly revolutionary party consists not in impossible repudiation of every compromise, but in making all compromises which cannot be avoided while remaining loyal to its principles, to its class, to its revolutionary task, to its cause of preparing for the revolution and of educating the masses of the people for a victorious revolution."

What lent the question of a Labor-Farmer government particular timeliness was not only the Saxon experiment but the present complexion of the most powerful European states. Social-democracy is becoming a leading factor in every country. The British labor government is directed by social-democrats. The French government is practically under the influence of social-democrats. In Belgium, the probability of social-democratic participation in the cabinet is near at hand. In most European countries there is a tendency on the part of the bourgeoisie to share power with the social-democrats. This is meant to save the capitalist order from collapse, but it may tempt some unstable proletarian elements. Communists not excluded, to cherish some hopes of progress thru peaceful reforms. It puts the question of Communist co-operation with social-democrats on the order of the day. Those who think that a Farmer-Labor government may be a peaceful transition towards complete proletarian dictatorship, will they not advocate our joining a social-democratic government whenever opportunity offers itself, in order that we may reach our goal in this reformist way?

The Congress answered this question with an emphatic No! A Labor-Farmer government is not meant as a form of co-operation with social-democracy within the framework of the bourgeois state. A Labor-Farmer government is meant as a product of revolution, as a revolutionary slogan, as the popular name for the power of the masses, which is to destroy the apparatus of the old democratic state and take its place. A Labor-Farmer government is meant, not as an adaption to bourgeois democracy, but as a call to overthrow the bourgeois institutions, as an organization for such overthrow, in short, to put in Zinoviev's words, as a pseudonym for proletarian dictatorship. The forms, the circumstances, the composition of such a government may vary, but its fundamental principle must remain unaltered: a power to break the bourgeois rule. It may even be a coalition with some social-democratic parties which, under pressure from below, have lost their reformist meakness, but it must be a coalition for the seizure of power, for the realization of proletarian rule.

Thus the Congress, thru numberless clashes, thru feverish wrangles, thru sparkling explosions of oratory, passion, wit, sarcasm, thru a vast exchange of world-wide experience accumulated in actual struggles, proceeds to define a revolutionary, a Bolshevist policy which demands flexibility, alertness, shrewd and careful strategy on the part of a well organized and well disciplined party, a policy which tho allowing for adaptations, for adequate approach to biased or unconscious masses on the basis of any program that defends their interests and is capable of shaking them from passivity and mobilizing them for revolutionary struggles, retains in view and moves towards the goal of the proletarian revolution—the seizure of power.

To consolidate every party on this basis and for this kind of work is Bolshevisation. The resolution on the report of the E. C. defines it in the following words: "Making the party leadership, the organizations and the individual members active"; "real revolutionary initiative, energy and striking power, capacity for shrewd manouevring, conscious iron discipline of true revolutionary fighting organizations;" "consciousness of the task of the Communist party and of the Communist International as revolutionary leaders must become part of the blood of every individual member, so that out of the consciousness of a Communist fighting community there spring the firm loyalty which will cement the party into a Bolshevist organization and the International into a victorious world party."

6. This is a Congress moving towards a World Communist Party. The Congresses of the Second International were loose gatherings for the expression of opinions binding nobody. The Congress of the Third International is an assemblage of representatives who work out one line of policy for all parties and whose decisions are obligatory to all parties. This alone is a token of the formation of one Communist World Party. There is, however, something more. This move towards one international party did not spring from the heads of theoretitians. It was dictated by the practice of the struggle. It is not at all indifferent to the German party how the French comrades are going to act. Quite the contrary. On the activity of the French party depends much of the success of the German revolutionary movement, and vice versa. To the French Communist party, the strengthening or weakening of the Russian proletarian dictatorship is of paramount importance. To the Russian Communist party, the line pursued by the Polish comrades is a matter of grave concern. And so on, and so forth.

This is why every party is so keenly interested in the affairs of every other party. This is why all problems of all parties become here only the various facets of one great problem. The possibility of such a homogeneous policy for all countries is only an additional proof of the decay of capitalism. Conditions are ripening everywhere. The inheritors are steeling their arms.

SOCIAL-PATRIOTS SWEAR LOYALTY

The imperialist cannons in 1914 shattered nothing more completely than the illusion that the leaders of the French syndicalist and socialist movements were still revolutionists. Note how "Battaile Syndicaliste," Jouhaux and Vaillant swore their devotion to the great militarist ventures.

* * * *

From "Battaile Syndicaliste," Aug. 4, 1914:

"From the power of the mailed fist, from German militarism, we must save the democratic and revolutionary tradition of France."

* * * *

Jouhaux at the Grave of Jaures:

"And now, from this burial, we are entering into the war, and I am going too."

* * * *

Edward Vaillant:

"Let us swear that we will do our duty for the Fatherland, for the Republic, for the Revolution."

Our Aims and Tactics in the Trade Unions

BY JAMES P. CANNON.
Assistant Executive Secretary,
Workers Party.

(A speech delivered at the Party Conference of Coal Miners at St. Louis, Mo., July 27th, 1924.)

COMRADES:

These conferences of Party members in the important trade unions in which representatives of the Central Executive Committee take part are becoming frequent occurrences. We must regard this as a healthy sign. It indicates that we are maturing as a Party of theoretical and practical revolutionists, and getting a firm grip on our basic tasks. The close collaboration between the active comrades in the field and the leading organ of the Party has a beneficial result all the way round.

The close and intimate contact with the practical problems of the daily struggle and with the comrades who directly face them, serves as an unerring corrective to any tendency there might be in the Party to deal with these problems in an abstract or purely doctrinaire fashion. On the other hand, the participation of the Party representatives insures that the fundamental political aspect of the trade union struggle will be brought to the front in these trade union conferences. The importance of this cannot be over-estimated. Otherwise there is constant danger of the work of our trade union comrades being influenced too much by expediency and so-called practicality. One-sided conceptions, purely trade union points of view, take the upper hand and the general class issues of the struggle are pushed into the background. Such a state of affairs must be guarded against. We know too well that it leads to reformism and futility.

We are meeting here today to consider the problems of the particular trade union you belong to, from the standpoint of the Party, which is the standpoint of all Communists. And I think I will be proceeding in the proper order if I put forward as a premise the revolutionary aims of our Party and propose that we weigh and judge every trade union question that comes before us, no matter how small or practical it may appear to be, in the light of our final aims.

A Revolutionary Party.

Our Party is a party of the proletarian revolution and the dictatorship of the proletariat. The proletarian revolution is the only solution of the labor problem and all our work must lead to this goal. This is our starting point in the trade unions, as in every other field of activity in the class struggle. It is this fundamental conception that distinguishes us from all other parties and groups in the labor movement. It is the band of steel that binds us together into one Party.

Our revolutionary goal shapes our policy in the daily struggle. The revolutionary aspirations of our Party comrades generates the enthusiasm and self-sacrifice that give the Party its driving power. Woe to us if we become so "practical" as to forget this for one moment. All our work must lead toward the proletarian revolution, If we keep this always in mind and measure all our daily work by this standard we will keep on the right road. The revolutionary principles to which we are committed put upon us responsibilities and duties which cannot be shifted or evaded if we are to live up to our conception of the Party as the vanguard of the workers. We have to stand up and fight for the true interests of the working class as a whole, at every turn of the road.

With the Masses, But Leading Them.

We want to be with the masses, but we must also go ahead of the masses, and not be afraid to take an unpopular stand, when it is necessary in order to combat their prejudices. Take for example the Ku Klux Klan. Here is an organization that is anti-labor in its very character,—yet large numbers of coal miners are misled into supporting it. To fight the Ku Klux Klan, to expose its reactionary nature and win the workers away from it is a difficult and somewhat hazardous task in certain sections of the country, but it is our duty to the working class to make such a fight. We would not be worthy of the proud name our Party bears if we evaded such a fight on any pretext.

Our work in the trade unions is developing. Evidence of this can be seen on every side. Such conferences as this are proof of the rapid strides we are making. We have already accumulated rich experience, and this experience is bringing to light both positive and negative sides in our work. One of our main duties is to review the whole activity from time to time, to strengthen and improve what is good, and discover what is bad in order to reject it.

It goes without saying that we Communists esteem each other very highly, but when we meet together in conferences such as this, it is not for the purpose of extending bouquets and empty compliments, but to speak out openly and frankly; to subject all our work to thoro-going examination and criticism in order that errors may be discovered and overcome. You have the right to expect plain speaking from the Central Executive Committees. I feel quite confident that if some errors in your work are mentioned here in this discussion, if some of the mistakes that individual comrades made, are pointed out in a friendly and brotherly, but nevertheless frank manner, as is the custom among Communists, that none of you will feel offended. The discussion is only for the purpose of improving our effectiveness and strengthening the party for the fight.

Our Valuable Experiences.

The power of a disciplined Party, founded on revolutionary principles, and concerning itself in a business-like fashion with all aspects of the trade union struggle, has already begun to manifest itself. At the last convention of the Illinois miners, for example, everybody could see that the Party is beginning to grow up, to stretch its shoulders, and take its place on the stage of events. Our Party appeared there as the leader of the fight for the interests of the men in the mines. It was in the forefront, dealing the heaviest blows against the agents of the bourgeoisie, who have usurped the official positions in the miners' union. The work of our comrades in this convention added greatly toward making the Miners' Union a better union for the class struggle, thereby increasing the prestige of our Party. That must be acknowledged at the very beginning.

In a whole series of trade union conventions held in recent months the same phenomena was to be observed. Our small Party, which only yesterday emerged from underground and began to collect the scattered forces of the revolutionary workers, was the storm center of the fight against reaction in the labor movement. We have not yet become the leader of the masses in the trade unions, but we have become the leader in the fight for their interests. The rest will follow in good time. Of this we can be confident.

It is no accident that our Party is pushing forward everywhere and putting itself at the head of the struggle. The reason for this is that ours is the only party willing to fight for the immediate interests of the workers, and the only Party standing for the solution of the labor problem by means of the revolutionary overthrow of capitalism. All of the interests of the working class immediately and ultimately, are indissolubly bound up with the revolution. And if we make mistakes here and there, if we fail to take the fullest advantage of opportunities which arise in the course of the struggle, it is because our comrades in the unions, due mainly to inexperience, have not fully mastered the art of taking a practical stand on every question that arises, and relating it skilfully to the final aims of the movement.

Correcting Our Mistakes.

To do practical work, and at the same time to deepen and extend the class-consciousness of the workers, and lead them toward the struggle for power—this is the heart of our task in the trade unions. From this point of view an examination of events that transpired at the last convention of the Illinois miners will bring forth fruitful results. Our power will be multiplied at the next convention, if we frankly recognize the negative as well as the positive sides of our activity at the last one.

One of the main errors made by our comrades there, was the failure to realize fully that the brazen scheme of class collaboration presented to the convention in the report of Frank Farrington, revealed the political and ideological basis of all the corruption and betrayal of the whole bureaucracy of the United Mine Workers of America, from Lewis to Farrington. Our comrades should have attacked this report in the most militant fashion. They should have shot it to shreds on the ground that it represented the theory of the mutual interests of the coal diggers and the parasites who exploit them and fatten on their toil and misery. Against it they should have set up the principle of the class struggle, the theory of the salvation of the workers thru uncompromising struggle against their exploiters.

Such a fight would have been a dagger aimed at the very heart of the corrupt and treacherous trade union bureaucracy, because it would have been aimed at the false system of ideas with which they poison the labor movement. Such a fight should have been seized upon as the best means of opening the eyes of the miners, and making them see their real problem. All the other fights in the convention, the fight over the appointive power, the fight for better legislation in union affairs, for the reinstatement of Howat, etc., should have been regarded by our comrades, and explained to the delegates, as related to the basic fight for the principle of the class struggle, and subordinate to it. This would have been the best means of awakening the honest rank and file delegates, and of binding them more closely to us.

Another error at the convention occurred in the handling of the resolution on the recognition of Soviet Russia. Here again the principle of the class struggle was involved. The Farington machine played a clever game with the delegates on this resolution, by calling for the recognition of Soviet Russia in one paragraph, and then nullifying the whole effect of the resolution by adding the qualification that Soviet Russia should recognize certain obligations—the very obligations which the capitalist governments of the world have been vainly trying for six years to impose upon her. Our comrades made the mistake of thinking that the question of formal recognition of Soviet Russia was the real issue, and of considering such a resolution a victory for us.

This was entirely too "statesmanlike." We are for the recognition of Soviet Russia, because it is a working class state, and because we recognize that the interests of the working class all over the world are bound up with it. The recognition of Soviet Russia is for us an issue of the class struggle, and we should have made the fight purely on that basis, and hammered home again to the delegates the idea that the solidarity of labor, the world-wide union of the working class in the fight for the overthrow of capitalism, must be accepted as the guiding principle of the labor movement. We might have failed to get a majority of the convention if we had put the fight on this basis, just as we might have failed to get a majority in a clear-cut class struggle fight against Farrington's scheme of class collaboration, but that is a secondary matter. We would have brought the principle to the front. We would have clarified the minds of many of the delegates, and tied them more closely to us. It is not the formal victory but the fight that is important.

Inadequate Organization.

From the same point of view the inadequate development of the left wing caucus at the convention should be pointed out. Some comrades objected to these caucuses on the

(Continued on page 6)

LOOPING SILK STOCKINGS

By VERA BUCH.

Row upon row of workers' houses
Stretch at the foot of the factory.
Company houses, dingy and gray,
Each with a high pointed roof
And a puny red spike of a chimney.
Narrow and gray, like our lives,
From the factory window I see them.

And yonder on the hill, a jewel in the sunlight,
The house of our boss.
Slender columns rising white from the blossoming shrubbery,
Rosy roof all aglow, great glimmering windows.

I look down the long room, like a vast whitewashed jungle,
With its row upon row of machines, all clicking and turning.
Heads of workers bent low, great vistas of columns and drop-lights,
Two hundred and fifty girls I see, young and old, looping silk stockings,
Even the little hunchback, with her back like a question mark,
And her face like a poor hunted rabbit's.
. . . But the daughter of our boss I do not see.

Where is she this spring day, the rich man's daughter?
Is she playing her piano there in the palace-like mansion?
Is she driving her car in the sweet air, breathing the scent of the blossoms?
Or is she dawdling in Europe, seeing the wonders
We never shall see? . . . She is not here, the rich man's daughter.

All day I have sat here, looping silk stockings,
Heel and toe, heel and toe, each mesh precisely
Impaled upon its sharp needle.
Numb is my brain with the tiny monotonous meshes,
Drowsy my thoughts with the tireless thumping machinery.

Yonder the hazzy sun gilds the palace-home
With a distant, dream-like splendor.
Was it in a dream I heard that some day
I shall play with the boss' daughter there, and she
Work with me here, some lay, looping silk stockings? ?

The London Conference

By Alexander Bittelman

AT this writing they are still deadlocked. They may continue in this fashion for another week or two, and then—break up. They cannot very well agree because there is too much at stake. Even a makeshift arrangement is something that the London Conference will hardly be able to produce.

It Isn't the German Loan.

Reading capitalist news and interpretations of the London Conference only confuses one's mind. According to them the main reason for the deadlock is to be found in the unwillingness or inability of the French government to accede to the, so-called, security demands of the English and American bankers, which is true, in a measure. But the explanation touches only the surface of the matter.

It is true that the French government, in line with the interests of the French heavy industrialists, wouldn't relinquish the right of the Commission on Reparations to be the sole judge and executor in the matter of imposing sanctions upon Germany in case of the latter's default. It is also true that the English and American bankers are opposed to the position of France in this matter, their main argument being that the prospective investors wil not readily come forward with their money for the proposed 200 million dollar loan for Germany as long as the French government thru its control of the Reparations Commission remains the sole judge in the matter of sanctions. All this is perfectly true, because these are the outward manifestations of the conflict that is at present taking place at the London Conference. However, what we should concern ourselves mostly with is not so much the outward signs as the inward causes, which brings us to the old issue of—

Who Shall Dominate Europe?

For this there are three great pretenders: France, England and America. The capitalists of these three countries are being driven by the logic of the economic situation and by the force of mutual antagonisms and jealousies, to seize control over the most important sections of Europe. Germany, because of its coal and iron resources in the Ruhr and because of its comparative helplessness, offers at present the shortest and most effective way for securing domination over Europe. Germany has therefore become the chief stake in the imperialist game of the great powers.

France has made two attempts to secure for herself the coal and iron riches of the Ruhr basin. One was at the close of the great slaughter when the infamous treaty of Versailles was written. Clemenceau had then tried to annex to France all of the industrial Rhineland. In this he failed, because the capitalists of England and America wouldn't stand for it.

But French Imperialism was not ready to give up so readily one of its most cherished dreams. Consequently another attempt was made, the famous march into the Ruhr initiated by Poincare. The original purpose of the invasion was probably the complete annexation of the province to France, or, failing in this, to secure for French capital such a measure of control over the industries of the Ruhr as to make the latter practically French possessions. The combined opposition of the capitalists of Germany, England and America prevented France for the second time from realizing its ambitions. Then French Imperialism began evolving a scheme based on the idea that the Ruhr industries be controlled jointly by the heavy industrialists of Germany and France. In other words, French Imperialism was getting ready to compromise with its German brethren on the division of spoils in the Ruhr basin. The industrialists of Germany were quite willing. Barring a few differences that were yet to be settled, Big capital of France and Germany was about to join hands in the battle for the conquest of Europe.

Then something happened. American imperialism jointly with the English stepped into the affair and said: No. It shall not be. This categorical NO was delivered through the so-called Experts' Report commonly known in America as the Dawes plan. And in order to touch French imperialism to the quick, American and English bankers fooled around for a little while with the French franc chasing it down almost to the same value as the German mark in its critical days.

French imperialism took the hint intelligently. It acquiesced in the Dawes plan, (theoretically, at least,) and expressed a willingness to negotiate. The result was the London Conference.

What Are They Negotiating About?

The concrete question is this: Who shall control the coal and iron industries of the Ruhr basin? To this question the replies are as follows: France: the heavy industrialists of France and Germany. America and England: All us us, meaning by this that in such a joint control America would come first, England second, France third, and Germany fourth. Or, if France remains obstinate, Germany might come third and France last.

The Co-Relation of Forces.

In this imperialistic battle, which is a continuation of the great slaughter by means of diplomacy and economic pressure and which is preparing the ground for a new and still bloodier struggle, the forces of the combatants are co-related about as follows:

In France: Heavy industrialists are in favor of exclusive Franco-German control, the petty-bourgeoisie and the labor aristocracy are distrustful of it. The latter are more inclined toward accepting the Dawes plan.

In Germany the situation is about the same.

In America, big capital is naturally class (big, middle and small) and the labor aristocracy are opposed to Franco-German control and in favor of the Dawes plan.

In England the entire capitalist in favor of the Dawes plan and opposed to the French scheme. Middle and small capital as well as the labor aristocracy have not yet made up their minds on the proposition, the chances being that these groups will eventually be brought into line by big capital in favor of the Dawes plan.

Thus we see that the forces lined up in favor of the Dawes plan, considering the matter internationally, are much more powerful than are those favoring the idea of Franco-German control. If it comes to a show-down, which means war, the former are sure to win. But the international bourgeoisie does not dare to resort to the means of arms. The memories of the last slaughter are still fresh in the minds of the masses. However, there is no other way of solving the problems of the London Conference except by war, that is, from the capitalist point of view, or else, by a proletarian revolution from the point of view of the working class.

The Composer of "L'Internationale"

By AMADEUS DUNOIS.

There recently appeared in the editorial office of our French Party organ, "Humanite" Peter Degeyter, the composer of the music to that world famous battle song of the proletariat, "L'Internationale." In reply to the question how he came to compose this melody, we learned that thirty-five years ago he was a textile worker in Lille, the industrial center of the north of France. At that time the Socialist movement in Lille was making great progress. Peter, along with his brother Adolf took part in it. Before all he was a great lover of music, and it was here that he entered a workers' choir which elected him as its leader. Among the members of this workers' choir there were two who have since become famous: Gustav Delory, the Mayor of Lille, and later member of parliament for Lille, and Henri Ghesquiere, who likewise became member of parliament and died during the last days of the German occupation. All kinds of songs were sung by this choir, the workers would willingly have sung socialists songs too, but they did not know any.

One day in 1889 a comrade handed to Degeyter a poem by Eugen Pottier, the former member of the Paris Commune, who had just died in the direst poverty in Paris. The poem was called: L'Internationale. The date next to the signature—June 30, 1871—indicated that the verses of the revolutionary song had been composed immediately after the bloody week of the Commune.

This poem, charged with glowing force, began with a call to the defeated in the social battle:

"Arise ye starvelings from your slumbers,
Arise ye criminals of Want!
For Reason in revolt now thunders
And at last ends the age of Can't!"

As the poem proceeds the whole program of the social revolution is indicated in the wonderfully compressed lines.

Peter Degeyter was quite enthusiastic. He again and again repeated these powerful lines, in which burned the fire of an unvanquishable hope. For in fact "L'Internationale" is not the lamentation of the vanquished, humbly deploring their defeat. It is the war-cry bursting forth from the innermost of a class, the working class, which is preparing its revenge and knows that its revenge will come.

The humble textile worker Degeyter at this moment had the inspiration that these lines of revenge were only lacking an appropriate melody in order to become the proletarian revolutionary hymn.

"I shall attempt" he said, "to put these verses to music."

He started work immediately and some days afterwards, the music was composed—this martial catchy tune, which we all know so very well. Peter Degeyter at once began to make copies for his comrades in the choir.

Thus in a suburb of Lille in 1889 "L'Internationale" was born. It is true it required some time to become popular. It was sung in Lille, but in no other place.

In 1899 a general congress of the workers' organizations and the French Socialists was held in Paris, the first Congress of Socialist unity. When the congress was just about to disperse, a delegate suddenly mounted a table. It was Henri Ghesquiere. And in the general silence he started a song, which to most of the delegates was unfamiliar. . . . After the third couplet all the delegates joined in the refrain:

"Then Comrades come rally! . . ."

This was "L'Internationale." A year later the whole of Socialist France sang it, and thus it happened that the hundreds of delegates who attended the International Congress of 1900 learned to know this song. After this the simple song of Degeyter began to become known thruout the whole world.

While his song achieved such a great success in the Socialist world, Peter Degeyter had to have recourse to the law courts in order to establish his claim as the composer of "L'Internationale," as owing to the intrigues of Delory and Ghesquieres, his brother Adolf was held to be the composer of the song. It was only after 20 years of law suits that the court recognized him as the real composer of the "Internationale."

Peter Degeyter, who is by now 70 years of age is leading a very poor existence along with his wife, earning only a few francs by the sale of confectionary. Now, when the Russian Comrades have learned of his situation, they have decided, on the suggestion of the French comrades, to grant him a monthly pension and to arrange a festival for his benefit.

Great homage was paid to Peter Degeyter at the last national congress of the French Communist Party, when he was asked to take a seat on the tribune and to address the congress with a few words. But owing to great excitement the worthy old man stumbled with his words until the chairman, comrade Sellier, asked the orchestra to strike up the "International." And the latter, a workers' brass band from Lyons, started the immortal music. The whole congress rose to its feet and joined in the refrain.

At this moment Peter Degeyter was wholly changed. He looked as if the whole thing to him were a dream in his poor exploited life, which up to then had not found any expression. With his right hand he beat time, with the movements of his head he marked the rythm. One could not turn ones eyes from the touching picture of this gray haired man. He was pale, his eyes appeared to be gazing into the distance, his nostrils trembled. And he seemed at this moment to be the living symbol of the working class, which will experience as a whole, after long and bitter sufferings, persecutions and injustice the day of its final victory.

It is very likely that this scene will be repeated in these days in Moscow. On the proposal of the French comrades the Executive Committee decided to invite Peter Degeyter to take part in the V. World Congress. He certainly has the right to receive the homage of the International and we hope that he will find no difficulty in accepting this brilliant homage in the capitol of the Communist International and the world revolution.

At the same time it is our duty to pay grateful homage to the old poet who wrote the verses of the "International," of "Jean Misere" and the "Monument des Federes" and many other revolutionary songs, inspired by the glorious Commune. We refer to Eugen Pottier, whose name we have to rescue from the oblivion with which it is threatened.

M. DOUMERGUE, French President, as seen by French Communists.

RIVERVIEW

RAIN OR SHINE

August 10th — Sunday

Press Picnic Day

Rebellion in Labor Unions

A REVIEW—y MARTIN ABERN.

"Rebellion in Labor Unions" demonstrates most clearly how closely the official leaders of the American labor movement are tied in every way to the capitalist class. How and why the leadership in the labor unions is separated from the rank and file is graphically pictured as Miss Kopald in simply written but brilliant chapters outlines four major outlaw strikes in recent years.

The leaders have a vested interest in the unions and this cuts into the very heart of the organizations, presumably fighting bodies for the betterment of the conditions of the workers. This book proves one thing, if it proves nothing else: that the "American "Labor Leaders," Farrington, Gompers, Lewis, Lee, Berry and others are intensely interested in the welfare of the employers and just as inversely in that of the rank and file of the labor unions.

The long tenure in office of the "labor leaders" has resulted in strong machines being formed and these machines have inevitably produced bureaucracies and other oligarchic features. Under the leadership of these agents of capitalism in the labor movement, the unions have become governments and woe to any militant or oppressed and discouraged rank and filer who dares to question the authority of the bureaucrat, labeled labor leader. The labor misleaders have become separated from the membership economically, in environment, in thought.

Unions exist primarily to conduct a struggle, a class struggle, against the employing class for better wages, conditions of labor, etc. But the labor unions in America today are not class institutions. There are two class institutions. There is the working class membership and then there is the leadership, capitalistically minded and capitalistically placed economically. A leadership which is heart and soul with the capitalist class, whom it must pretend to fight. But in this book, Kopald by citation of facts, by statements and actions of the alleged labor leaders themselves, Berry, Farrington, et al, shows how even the pretense of defense of workers in the unions has been eliminated and the bureaucratic and fake leadership has gone over completely and without any misgivings into the camp of the employing class. It is class collaboration with a vengeance.

The insurgent or "outlaw" movements of the Illinois miners in 1920, the railroad outlaw or "wild cat" strike in 1920, the Printers Vacation Movement in New York in 1919 and the New York Web Pressman's strike in 1923 are vividly outlined. In each instance Miss Kopald points out plainly how the "outlaw" or insurgent walkouts had their basis in bread and butter needs. The bread question in each case was acute. The needs of the workers were obvious—even to the "labor leaders." Only a spark was needed to touch off the seething discontent; and comparatively minor incidents, such as unjust fines (Tom Mooney penalty fine in Illinois), discharge of workers, (Carey Printing Company in New York) etc., did provoke the struggles which swiftly developed into struggles against the bureaucracy and tyrannical despotism of the labor officials and their, the labor leaders' aids, the government and the employing class.

As these insurgent strikes spread and brought thousands of workers into the ranks of the rebellious members (such as in Illinois) or brought out the entire organization such as the New York Web Pressmen, the insurgents learned that they not only had to face the employing class. They discovered, to their dismay, but increasing knowledge, that they had to meet the enemy within the unions, their "leaders." These capitalist "labor" leaders invoked the aid of the employing class and the local, state and national governmental agencies. Thugs, gunmen, spies, expulsions met the insurgents on every hand. This was the democracy of the unions and rank and file rule.

These revolts of the miners, railroad workers and printers are significant, first in their similarity in origin, and, second, in their suppressions. These unofficial walkouts were unorganized. Patience and suffering had reached the point of revolt regardless of consequences to the men. The union leadership suppressed these revolts with an iron hand. The insurgents were met at all times with cries of "Unconstitutionalism," "Bolsheviks" and the usual tirade of abuse, besides physical opposition.

Revolts in unions have taken place many times in the past. They are taking place in Europe and more will come in America. But revolts in the past and revolts now have a different meaning. Even as has taken place ground that Farrington's spies might be present and learn something in advance about the fights we intended to make in the convention. This attitude is erroneous. It is the result of overcaution and too much concern for immediate legislative and technical victories. Moreover, it represents, to a certain extent, an unconscious yielding to the position of the reactionary officials who naturally resent any attempt to organize the rank and file against them. This question goes much deeper than appears at first glance. The failure to organize the left wing delegates at the convention into a fighting body, if carried to its logical conclusion, would lead to the failure to organize the left wing forces thruout the union. It means giving up, under pressure of the officialdom, the right to organize the Trade Union Educational League. "Don't make a mole hill into a mountain," is a good maxim; but it is just as good if we turn it around and say to the comrades who are willing to concede this small point: "Don't make a mountain into a mole hill." If we are making a serious fight to break the control of the trade union bureaucracy we must nor neglect to organize our troops.

(Continued on page 7.)

Our Aims and Tactics in the Trade Unions

(Continued from page 4)

Our fight for the conquest of the union is at bottom a fight to organize the rank and file workers together with us on the basis of the class struggle. Therefore, they must be enlightened as to our aims and plans.

Conventions should be regarded as the best occasions to advance this process. The conventions afford us the opportunity of coming into close contact with rank and file delegates, of combatting by discussion and argument their prejudices and misconceptions, and of uniting them with us into an organized body to fight for the regeneration of the labor movement. The left wing caucus is necessary for this work.

It is far more important to us if we get acquainted with ten new workers and make them a part of the organized fight, than if we pass a dozen resolutions in the convention by an accidental majority.

The conscious support of the workers is what we want. We are fighting for their minds and hearts. Do not forget that, comrades. The officialdom can turn our best resolutions into scraps of paper. They can retain office by stealing elections, but they can not take away from us the workers we have won over to our way of thinking and fighting. The officials can maintain themselves in power, for a time, by a thousand tricks and fraudulent practices. But once we have won the masses over to our side, we can snap our fingers at them. The control of the unions means for us the control of the masses. This, and this alone, will insure our final victory.

Communists and Union Offices.

I want to pass over now to another question which will become more and more important as our strength develops in the trade unions. It has confronted us already a number of times. That is the question of comrades holding office in the unions and becoming candidates for office. This may become one of our greatest dangers, and one of the greatest sources of corruption of party members, if we do not properly estimate this question and take a resolute stand on it at the very beginning.

In the discussions which took place here today, we heard the remark made by one of the comrades that our struggle in the unions is a struggle for strategic positions. This is a one-sided view and if we allow it to stand alone, we will fall into a serious error. We must adopt the point of view that our struggle is a struggle to develop the class consciousness of the rank and file workers and to win them over to the principle of the revolutionary struggle against Capitalism under the leadership of our Party.

If we will connect the fight for strategic positions with this broad political aim and subordinate it to this aim, we will be on safe ground. Otherwise, we will be confronted with the spectacle of Party members regarding the fight for office as an end in itself; of evading or putting aside questions of principle with which the masses are not familiar, of scheming and calculating too closely in order to get into office. Of course the comrades will justify all this on the ground that once they get into office they will be able to do big things for the Party. But quite often we will be apt to find the very comrades who adopt this method of getting into office falling into the habit of continuing it in order to hold the office. They will thereby degenerate into mere office-holders and office-hunters. They will lose the confidence and respect of the militant rank and file workers, and our Party, which stands responsible for them, will have its prestige greatly injured.

Strategic positions, however, are very important and we must not take a doctrinaire view in regard to them. The opinion expressed here by one comrade that men become petty bourgeois in their interests and outlook as soon as they are elected to office and that, therefore, we should have nothing to do with office, is not correct. It is true that official position, especially in the American trade union movement, has led many men in the past to corruption and betrayal of the workers, but that does not say that communists must be corrupted. We have to hold the conception that a true Communist can go anywhere the party sends him and do anything, and still remain a Communist—still remain true to the working class. Comrade Lenin was an official. He had more power than Frank Farrington, but he did not become like Frank Farrington. The guarantee against corruption of Party members who become officials is that they remain close to the party and that they base their fight for office on the support of the rank and file for the policy of the class struggle, and do not become too expedient and too "clever"—do not try to "sneak" into office by soft-pedalling and pussy-footing on questions of principle which may be unpopular, but which Communists, nevertheless, are duty-bound to stand for.

A Party of Struggle.

Our Party is a party of rank and file revolutionary workers, a Party of revolutionary struggle against capitalism and all its works, and we expect comrades who are put into official positions to retain that fundamental conception and carry it out in all their official work. They must not allow themselves to be influenced by their positions into an attitude of overcaution. Above all, they must not acquire an "official" psychology, and fail to do their duty by the Party for fear of jeopardising their positions. We do not put Communists into office in order that they may do less for the Party, but more.

The atmosphere of American trade union officialdom is a fetid one. It is permeated thru and thru with customs and traditions of a non-proletarian character. Take care, you comrades who become officials, that you do not sink into this swamp. Remember always that you are Communists and hold on to your rebel Communist spirit. Do not succumb to the customs and traditions of office developed by the agents of the bourgeoisie, who have fastened themselves upon the labor movement in official positions, but take your own revolutionary ethics and customs with you.

Party Discipline.

The question of Party discipline becomes especially important in connection with comrades in official positions. Comrades so situated must tie themselves closely to the Party, make themselves one with it, and regard the Party always as their best friend. The close union of a Communist official with the Party will be the best guarantee that he will be able to retain his revolutionary point of view and do his duty by the working class. The Party expects even more discipline to be shown by comrades who become officials and leaders than by other members of the party. It does not fear even the biggest officials who go against the decisions of the Party and follow a policy in conflict with it. Comrades who hold offices, no matter how important they may be, cannot act as independent individuals without being called to order by the Party.

The Test of Our Work.

We can sum up the whole question in a few words. We are not Progressives, but Revolutionists. Our role in the trade union movement is to organize the masses for the proletarian revolution and to lead them in the struggle for it. All of our daily work must be related to this, and subordinated to it. The test of our work can never be made by formal victories on paper, but by the development of class consciousness in the ranks of the workers, the degree of their organization on that basis and the increasing influence and leadership of our Party. Strategic positions in the labor movement are of importance chiefly from the standpoint of enabling the Party to advance and develop its work of revolutionizing the masses.

Let us be shrewd and practical by all means. Let us learn how to meet every question that arises in the union, in a realistic and businesslike manner. Let us become experts in the daily work of the unions, and in maneuvering for strategic positions, but let us also remember always the danger of degenerating into mere pro-

Active unionists, especially those who hold office, are beset by a thousand temptations to turn aside from the road of the class struggle. Only their close union with the Party will enable them to overcome these temptations. With the assistance of the Party they will learn how to serve the workers in the daily struggle and to connect all their activity with the task of leading the masses toward the final revolution. They will learn how to measure their progress at every step, not by formal victories on paper, but by the development of the class consciousness of the workers and the influence of the Party, by the extent to which their activity inspires the workers with that spirit of determined struggle, which is the spirit of communism.

Many difficulties will confront us in the task we have undertaken, but, with the assistance of the Party and the International, we will solve them all. We will win over the masses to the side of Communism; we will wrest the labor movement from the hands of the agents of the bourgeoisie and convert them into mighty instruments for the proletarian revolution.

THE REDS' PICNIC

BY FREDERICK F. SIMMONS

A PLEASANT woman, clad in a blue gingham apron and with a smile that very seldom leaves her face, bustles about where three paper covered tables stand beneath a tree. Behind her, a little fellow in gray striped trousers and a straw hat a trifle too large, hops obsequiously about, anxious to be of some help. At the end table, another fellow, tall and dignified, sits waiting with a bottle opener in his hand. The arrangements committee is on the job and its leading light, a slender youth with an over serious face, flits first here and there, to see that everything is alright.

Now the crowd begins to filter in. A Ford drives up and parks in the dusty road alongside the grove. From it clambers a bunch of youngsters, two women who brush the wrinkles from their skirts as soon as they reach the ground, and its driver, who locks the steering wheel, edges over in his seat and then on to solid earth. They make their way to the picnic grounds. Other Fords drive up, discharging their passengers in almost the same spot. From the car line comes a straggling group of the more unfortunates. The ever increasing crowd reaches the refreshment stands.

"Get your refreshment tickets here." A Jewish youth folds up little green tickets, surrounded by a group of prospective buyers.

"What'll you have Gertie?"

"Want some pop or a sandwich Marcia?"

A clamor arises.

"Now Morris look oudt. Don' spill da sody pop!"

A couple separates from the crowd, going a little ways off to themselves. He bends over her solicitiously.

"What'll you have dear?"

The pleasant woman's arms flash industriously back and forth in the sun as she cuts off thick slices of bread, between which she puts liberal portions of ham. At the pop stand a constant clicking is heard as the tall, dignified fellow opens bottles in response to the words—grape, lemon cream, strawberry, root beer. The little figure in gray striped trousers still hops about, very much in the way. The leading light of the arrangements committee stands off a little to one side, seeing that everything goes off in the right manner.

Members of the crowd recognize familiar faces and it begins to separate into little groups. Plump, Jewish women, clad in loose fitting garments, with a bunch of youngsters about their heels, sit fanning themselves in two or three small groups beneath tall trees. Their spouses, with solemn looks on their faces, bring them soda pop and sandwiches or else, stand in small knots, gesticulating wildly. Two of three groups of younger Jewish boys and girls frolic about in the open, their brightly clad, lithe bodies creating little pictures of grace and beauty not soon to be forgotten. Russians and Croatians stand about drinking pop and munching sandwiches. Americans sit about in the shade conversing with much laughter or else wander in small bunches about the grove. From one group to another roam the older men and women, exchanging greetings and stopping for a moment's chat.

"Say I see where the Democrats are going to run W. Z. Foster for president . . . ."

"England's in a hell of a fix. Why, during the war . . . ."

"I'll tell you the revolution's right at hand . . . ."

"The last time I was in Chicago, I saw a funny sight. I was going down State Street . . . ."

From underneath one of the trees there comes a shrill scream.

"Abie, Abie, vy you not leave Dorothy alone? Tch, tch, tch," with a shake of the head, "vat a boy, vat a boy."

It is a peculiar day—half rainy, half pleasant. Some small gray clouds float across the face of the sun, plunging the picnic grounds into a faint grayness. A few drops of rain fall desultorily. Then the clouds pass and once more the sunshine pours down in a pleasant shower, bathing the grove below with a soft, warm light and filling the youths and girls with an inexpressible restlessness; the older folks with sleepiness. About the speaker—from out of town, but well known—a small knot presses eagerly, shaking his hands and asking questions concerning the radical movement in different sections of the country. The venders get busy. They wander about the grounds, punchboards in one hand, prizes in the other.

"Take a chance on a box of candy."

"Get a camera. Two chances for a quarter. You'll want to photograph some of the prominent Republican candidates when they come to town."

"Isn't this a lovely scarf? One of the Croatian boys made it. Won't you take a chance?"

Over in one corner, a small, pleasant-faced little fellow, whom everyone calls "Shorty" presides over a game of skill.

"Here you are. Step right up, pitch two balls in the little barrels and win a box of candy. Three balls for a dime and you can play as long as you've got dimes."

A young Croatian steps up.

"Ah, here comes a ballplayer. Now watch him."

Plunk, plunk, plunk. The balls hit the barrels and roll off onto the ground. Others press forward, anxious to display their skill. Some are lucky; others . . . .

The lucky ones move about the grove, passing the candy around, just as long as it lasts. About the refreshment stands a small group still remains, munching sandwiches, drinking pop and looking calmly about at the milling crowd. A straight, but slender youth wearing a limp brown cap bustles about, getting things ready for the speaking—principal event of the day. Finally two old boxes are secured and he mounts them, calling forth in stentorian tones.

"Now comrades, everybody crowd right up close here and it won't be any harder on the speaker's voice."

The crowd looks at him, rather dumbly perhaps. Then it begins to move slowly forward. Newspapers are brought into play. An obliging comrade secures a whole armload of such from somewhere and goes thru the crowd, passing them out. Most of the comrades sit down in a circle about the improvised rostrum. A few stand.

The speaker, a handsome, youthful fellow with an air about him which impresses one with his earnestness and knowledge, mounts the rostrum. As he moves his hand about it is evident that one thumb is gone—an unwilling contribution to modern industry, no doubt. He speaks earnestly and to the point. He does not indulge in oratory—he delivers a message. He tells them of things in foreign countries, analyzes the political situations there and then compares the analysis with things in America. He tells them of a convention held in St. Paul and of the formation of a Farmer-Labor Party, a political party of the workers. He speaks clearly and earnestly and tells of the Workers' Party, his party, its aims and aspirations. Overhead the sun comes from behind a bank of small, gray clouds and the speaker winds up his talk with an earnest peroration.

". . . so that the working class of America will move forward to something more than mere political expression as a class; so that it will move steadily, unerringly forward to the dictatorship of the proletariat."

The crowd applauds. The speaker steps from the rostrum saying, "Shorty's got a skin game over there in the corner that will now hold the center of the stage."

The youth with the stentorian voice steps up on the platform and makes a few remarks about local work and a plea for a large collection. Around go hats—dollars, half dollars and quarters plunk into their insides.

The crowd separates; the venders again go the rounds. Shorty's game as usual attracts a number of the comrades. Straggling groups begin to leave the grove and then more. A few hours later only a few are left and soon, all are gone. A truck filled with tubs, tables and empty soda pop cases rattles out upon the dusty road.

The sun shines lonesomely, weakly, down upon the trampled grass and littered grove. An inquisitive breeze seeks energetically amongst the scattered papers, throwing them hither and thither. A lone bird flies thru the grove. The breeze tires of its search; the sun slips stealthily from sight. In the city, the picnicers go alone, one by one, to sleep, perhaps to dream of the coming of tomorrow's Red Dawn.

Rebellion in Labor Unions

(Continued from page 6)

in Europe, so also in America. "The long struggle over the leaders' acceptance of the automatic machine in industry, with its inroads upon the workers' skill and trade union practices; the gradual revulsion against an unquestioning pro-war attitude; the resentment against leaders' inactions on trade union amalgamation; and the conflicting attitude towards Bolshevik Russia, all helped to create a true rank and file movement."

"In America, moreover, the disappearance (statistically in 1890) of the frontiers, has slowly changed the character of our economic life until by 1920 we were a completely industrialized nation, whose industrial workers outnumbered the farm workers and whose urban population exceeded the rural. Our economic environment has at last set. In the face of such changed economic conditions, the old trade union machinery is bound to be recognized as antiquated. For bread and butter reasons, the most powerful in the minds of the unionists, arguments for change must attain new persuasiveness. Simultaneously the problem of democracy in the unions must attain a new sharpness. For the need and possibility of some change in the structure and functioning of the union at once brings to the fore the old question of union leadership which possesses a vested interest in things as they are, and the machinery of power with which to maintain it. How in the face of this condition will a change come to pass?"

Today opposition to the bureaucratic machinery of the American Federation of Labor and its respective units is consciously and militantly organized and is expressed mainly in the program and tactics of the Trade Union Educational League.

This boring from within, perfectly constitutional methods being employed, meets with the same opposition and reactions and suppression from the "labor leaders" as did what they called the "unconstitutional" revolts of the rank and file. As before, the rank and file must face the united front of the labor officials, the employing class and the government. Gradually they are realizing that reconciliation on the basis of pure wage settlements is impossible. Even ordinary and obviously just bread and butter demands meet with the utmost repression. The struggle within the labor unions, as also among the rest of the workers, begins to be broadened and is directed not only for immediate bread and butter solutions, but against fake labor leaders, the employing class and the capitalist government. Gradually it becomes a struggle against the capitalist class for rank and file control, workers' ownership of the means of production and distribution, and for a workers' government.

The struggle is long, but militant workers have learned much in past years. The militants and revolutionists no longer flock by themselves, separated from the rank and file, in their love nest and purity unions. Because of the systematic campaign of the Red International of Labor Unions and in America the Trade Union Educational League, the militants and revolutionists stay in the unions in order to win the rank and file to their program, whether it be amalgamation, a Labor Party or the Soviet revolution. If expelled, they fight their way back into the unions. Regardless of consequences, regardless of methods employed against them, militants now have as their slogans, "Win the membership to the militant program. Conquer the unions for the revolution."

This book by Miss Kopald is of distinctly high value to every worker. It is a source book of fine historical need. Its facts are, however, also marshalled for excellent everyday use. It is a fighting document for all militant workers; it is damning against the labor officialdom. With their own words is the labor bureaucracy nailed to the wall.

Kopald deals with simple causes of the origin of the insurgent strikes, with bread and butter causes and brilliantly indicates their development into broader and, if you please, a revolutionary struggle. A truly valuable book which should be widely circulated and read. It is not necessary here to picture the struggle and detail the facts given. They will speak for themselves when you read the book.

The author, of course, writes from the typical "impartial" intellectualistic point of view, and while it should be clearly understood that the book is not written by a Communist or from the Communist viewpoint, it certainly is a welcome addition to the sparse literature on such a vitally important subject as left wing unionism in America.

Send in that Subscription Today.

WORKING CLASS REPORTER

Correspondent of Russian "Pravda."

Millerand Goes--Millerandism Remains

BY DANIEL RENOULT.

M. Millerand has gone.

M. Millerand is a two-fold renegade. He first betrayed Socialism to the republican petty and middle bourgeoisie. He then betrayed this republican middle bourgeoisie to the nationalist and clerical reaction.

There was a time when vituperative attacks were made upon the President of the Republic. These were made by —Alexander Millerand. They were directed against Casimir Perier. This was thirty years ago. M. Millerand then played in the paper "La Petite Republique" the same role as M. Bertrand of the left block today plays in the "Quotidien." He worked energetically to achieve his object of bringing about the downfall of the "Occupier of the Elysee."

This was accomplished. And, when the block of the left was victorious it rewarded the noble efforts of the socialist journalist by making him the President of the Republic.

The victory of the left raised this politician to the highest eminence, the victory of the left has cast him down into the deepest obscurity. Thus the circle of events is completed.

And now it appears that Millerandism returns at the same moment as the old Millerand abandons, in his final guise as chief of the right block, the presidential seat.

Herein lies the most important political and social fact.

That which M. Herriot, supported by the reformed socialists and the reformist trade unionists, will accomplish, is precisely the same as that which M. Millerand intended to accomplish with the assistance of the governmental socialists, the moderate trade unionists and the "radical" petty bourgeoisie, when he entered the Waldeck-Rousseau ministry in the year 1898.

The similarity is starting.

The case was just the same at that time, when the attempt was made to divert the workers from the class war and from revolutionary thoughts and to convince them that they have to expect everything from collaboration with the true democratic bourgeoisie, as these were disposed to grant them real advantages and useful reforms and to attain, without social conflicts and collision, the dual ideal of the suppressed proletariat: Prosperity and Freedom.

We have again arrived at the same juncture. The disasters which the Millerandists at one time caused, were no worse than those for which the leaders of the reformists are preparing today. It is even certain that these leaders will be more ruthless than they.

The co-operation of the "socialists" and moderate trade union leaders with the burgeoisie will be carried on upon systematic lines: the reformist trade unions—backed by the socialist party—have already submitted a demand to M. Herriot that an Economic Council of Labor be constituted, in order that this body may deal with all the important questions of production and of the currency.

We can say that this Economic Council of Labor, according to the intentions of its proposers, will be on a national scale—but more elaborated and with greater powers—than what the International Labor Office is on a world scale.

M. Albert Thomas has won the game.

When the International Labor Office was set up on the basis of the Versailles Treaty, even the most moderate trade unionists assented with regret to this institution, as it was quite evident that the workers would be subordinated to the capitalist state. More than four years have elapsed and today the reformist trade union federation is proposing on its own initiative, the creation of such a state institution as will connect the trade unions subordinated to it with the administrative apparatus of the bourgeoisie.

This is the logical development which we have forseen for a long time.

It is not by mere chance that just the same people who, in the socialist party, embody the type of the reformist trade union leader in the most typical manner, like Dumoulin, are among the most fervent adherers of a governmental coalition.

The revolutionary workers will have to fight bitterly against this renewal of Millerandism. They will before long be assisted by the bitter experience which the abused masses of the workers will have to undergo.

The active members of the proletariat who still follow the reformist leaders will learn to their cost what it means to abandon the class struggle. Without the most determined class war the proletariat can accomplish nothing. Those who have played a prominent part in bringing about the defeat of the national block will soon recognize what they will be deprived of thru the policy of compromise of the reformist leaders.

These leaders are already—in order not to give M. Herriot any financial embarassments—renouncing, for the time being, the general demand for the 1500 franc wage.

Here we have the first fruits of the policy of bourgeois-socialist collaboration. A lovely specimen! The revolutionary trade unions and the Communists will not fail to make clear to the masses the significance of this specimen.

M. Millerand has resigned. But against the Millerandism, which has again come to power by the block of the left together with the reformists, there will be waged an inexorable fight.

American Capitalism Preparing New Wars

(Continued from page 1)

sents itself in the role of a pre-war Germany, knocking at a door which has been previously slammed and bolted. And, like the war lords of Germany, our American imperialists are knocking with an importunity that foreshadows war. The policy of the "Open Door," which the United States has taken up at the behest of Wall Street, is a policy of war, and is being pushed with that definite understanding.

Islands of the Pacific.

Japan is a poor country, having little or no mineral wealth, and with much of her mountainous country unfit for agriculture. She cannot give up privileges in China, without abandoning all possibilities of capitalistic greatness, and this is what American capitalism asks of her. There is no other way out but war. Already there has taken place a strangle for "key" islands in the Pacific. Little Islands like Yap have become of vital importance. By the Versailles Treaty, Japan obtains all the Pacific Islands north of the equator which up to 1914 had been Germany's; and these give her various points of vantage in the line of the direct American route between Hawaii and the Philippines.

War with Japan is coming. When Wall Street is ready, the Japanese-California question will be there to prepare the atmosphere with column after column of sensational "Yellow Peril" propaganda.

Comrade Pavlovitch has pointed out that it is a great mistake to explain the whole meaning of the war of 1914-18 in terms of the rivalry between Germany and England. Apart from the Anglo-German clash of interests, one must also take into consideration, the conflicts between Czarist Russia and Germany and Austria, between France and Germany, etc., etc. In the same way, one must not imagine that the war in the Far East will be a simple exchange of hostilities between the United States and Japan. Japan is by no means our only possible enemy there. The clash of interests in Asia is intricate and many-sided. Great Britan is a dominant power in certain sections of China; France too has important interests. American imperialism jostles other expanding imperialism at every turn. It all means war, war, war. A world war with new and unexpected alignments.

U. S. Versus Britain.

It may well be that the American war with Japan be only a starting point for a greater military duel between the United States and Great Britain. England is America's greatest commercial and industrial rival. The U. S. Steel Corporation is in fierce competition with the British steel monopolies, all over the world. The British Empire was built upon coal; but petroleum is taking the place of coal as the fuel of the future, and the world-wide competition between the Standard Oil and the (British owned) Royal Dutch Shell combine conceals what amounts to a life and death struggle for British world power. As for the United States, the oil reserves of the nation are inadequate to the needs of American capitalist industry, despite the present flush production in the California fields. Hence the unabated struggle for positions of privilege in Persia, Mesopotania, Baku, Roumania, Latin America and every important field in the world.

Many people are already familiar with the following significant, quotation from Eckel:

"The first duty of our navy in time of war will be to secure the Caribbean. The first duty of our expeditionary forces will be to furnish protection to the oil fields of this extra territorial region.

"Countries with adequate commercial fleets and navies will look rather to the three South American zones..., all of which have immense petroleum reserves. The pressure there and elsewhere, will be increased year by year and the financial and commercial rivalry may at times have political and military results."

The Oil War.

We are going to fight another Morgan war, but we are also going to fight an oil war. Teapot Dome, and the sinister activities of Doheny, Fall and McAdoo in Mexico, show how completely the oil interests are able to dominate American Government policy.

The Latin-American Battlefield.

The struggle for oil concentrates our attention on Latin America. Latin America is our favored, carefully staked out battleground. American policy in Latin America, perhaps even more than in Europe and Asia, has in it the germs of countless wars. American imperialism has declared Latin America its "eminent domain." We tolerate no open door here!

Out of the twenty Latin American republics, eleven now have their financial policies directed by appointed officials from the United States. Six of these eleven have the financial agents backed by American Military forces on the ground. Four of the remaining nine have their economic and fiscal live closely tied to the United States through large loans and concessions, giving special advantage to American capitalists.

In these smaller countries of the South, controlled by our soldiers, our bankers, and our oil kings, we are developing our Irelands, our Egypts, and our Indias. Hatred of the United States is flaming up in Latin America. Newspapers are being established everywhere for the sole purpose of opposition to North American policy. The combined strength of the Latin American countries is considerable and it is continually growing. War clouds are gathering for the future.

While we talk of how we are protecting Latin America from Europe, Latin Americas are betaking themselves as fast as they can to Europe for protection against us. The League of Nations offers them a resource of which they are availing themselves. This brings Latin America into the orbit of European influences and is a direct challenge to the Monroe Doctrine. It betokens bitter, terrible war.

Monroe Doctrine.

Wall Street and the United States Government are determined to defend the right to their "natural" Latin-American empire. Every discussion of the Versailles Treaty carried with it the declaration that the Monroe Doctrine must be preserved. "Our" government is requiring statements of recognition of the Monroe Doctrine from every nation with which we have dealings.

Latin America is to be for Wall Street alone. We make no effort to hide the fact that the intervention of any other foreign power there means war.

But the Monroe Doctrine is being stretched even further. Great Britain and some of the other European powers already have some possessions in the Western Hemisphere which they have had for years. "The time is fast approaching" says Professor Gibbons of Princeton University, when the United States will regard European Sovereignty in the West Indies, as an anomaly that must disappear, and when the Latin American countries will take the same attitude toward the Guiana enclave, Trinidad and Tabago, and the Falkland Islands.... Because the American countries will demand a general liquidation and because the European owners will be unable to defend the titles, the forcing of Europe out of America is bound to go on until the last European title has been given up."

Policy of Imperialism.

American Foreign Policy is the policy of imperialism. Even before the war with Spain in 1898, American capitalism had reached the point of development where it could no longer maintain itself without giving up its self-absorption of two generations, and geing drawn into the current of world events. Economic conditions were approximating those of European. The West was becoming populated. Money was no longer at a big premium for internal developments. Our native capitalists could not count indefinitely upon a constant consumption demand in this country. At last it became necessary for them to think of overseas investment for surplus capital and of overseas markets for surplus farm products and manufactured goods. With the first surplus of capital and the first suggestion of producing power in excess of consuming capacity, Wall Street began to look for new fields to conquer. In the United States itself, Big Business had developed into monopoly and monopoly had developed to the point where it was able to control the entire foreign policy of the Government.

There's Many a Slip.

Today the United States stands, a ready belligerent, the center of a hundred irreconcilable antagonisms, with new profit-wars facing it on all sides. But for all their unscrupulous scheming, the heaven of the capitalist is an impossible one. War leads easily to revolution, and revolution will destroy the whole basis of capitalist exploitation.

The United States has been going about its policy of war in a deliberate way. Over $4,000,000,000 is invested in the United States navy. The strength of the United States army has been raised from 212,000 to 371,770 men,—and upwards of 500,000 citizens are being trained for slaughter in the military training camps and R. O. T. C. courses. Militarization is proceeding at an unheard of rate. Even small school children are being drilled in scout groups, and are being prepared, mentally and physically, to die for their country's financiers.

That bouyant phrase: "War to end War," is already beyond the comprehension of the younger generation. Its supposed meaning lives only in the memory of men and women who had already emerged from childhood before the outbreak of the war of 1914-18.

RIVERVIEW
RAIN OR SHINE
August. 10th --- Sunday
Press Picnic Day

YALE UNIVERSITY
NOV 1924
LIBRARY

THE DAILY WORKER RAISES THE STANDARD FOR A WORKERS AND FARMERS' GOVERNMENT

THE DAILY WORKER

Entered as Second-class matter September 21, 1922, at the Post Office at Chicago, Illinois under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Communist Candidates
For President:
WILLIAM Z. FOSTER.
For Vice-President:
BENJAMIN GITLOW.

Vol. II. No. 117. SUBSCRIPTION RATES In Chicago, by mail, $5.00 per year. Outside Chicago, by mail, $6.00 per year. MONDAY, AUGUST 4, 1924 Published Daily except Sunday by THE DAILY WORKER PUBLISHING CO., 1113 W. Washington Blvd., Chicago, Ill. Price 3 Cents

LEOPOLD SHOP MANGLES CHILD

Swindled Farmers Basis of Loeb's Riches

REPUBLICAN PARTY PUBLICITY ISSUING FAKE "PROSPERITY" REPORTS AS FACTORIES CLOSE

By JAY LOVESTONE

Prosperity talk is the bunk; industries are shut down or on part time and vast numbers of workers are unemployed. Yet—

The powerful publicity machine of the republican party, feeding thousands of newspapers and magazines thruout the country is again working overtime to convince the country that good times are here again and that we are on the threshold of a new period of prosperity.

The machine that has organized this huge propaganda campaign is the same machine that put over Harding's election with a seven million majority. It is the same gigantic machine that worked with such deadly efficiency in the drive to put over the Mellon tax scheme for saving the multi-millionaires hundreds of millions of dollars.

The concerted offensive to fool the farmers and the workers into the belief that a turn for the better is at hand bears all the earmarks of the most careful preparation down to the minutest details.

The numerous Hearst publications in the industrial centers, the big chain of paper papers in the agricultural districts, the editorial columns of the most influential dailies in every division of the country, the financial sections of the daily press, are all being stuffed with reports that industrial and business improvement is at hand and can't be prevented.

Wall Street Bunk.

Some of the biggest publishers like the Curtis Publishing company, publishers of the Saturday Evening Post, Ladies' Home Journal, and the Country Gentleman, are also acting as wholesale prosperity drummers by inserting full page advertisements in the most influential dailies.

The whole campaign, with its vast publicity, is being directed and inspired by some of the most powerful men in the New York financial district, in La Salle Street, Chicago, in Tremont Street, Boston. These men are working in the closest touch and harmony with the National Republican Committee.

The "prosperity" drive is plainly a maneuver on the part of the biggest business interests to put Coolidge back into the White House.

No Prosperity.

But every factor which is considered a barometer of economic development shows that there is no prosperity in the offing.

A survey of the situation at hand shows plainly that business, employment, and wages are on the downgrade.

"The industrial recession, which has been developing during the last three months, took another million and a half dollars out of the weekly payrolls of the factories of New York state from May to June. This makes an estimated reduction of at least twenty million dollars in monthly earnings, since the second, more rap-

(Continued on page 2.)

RAIL-LABOR BOARD NOT VERY POPULAR BUT DOESN'T CARE

Chairman Hooper of the United States railroad labor board is afraid of losing a valuable mediator. The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers have challenged the right of the labor board to take evidence in the controversy now on between the brotherhoods and some fifty western carriers over wages and working rules.

Mr. Hooper is trying to have the Department of Justice use its power to force the brotherhoods to comply with the orders of the board. Mr. Hooper believes "contempt proceedings in the federal courts" should be instituted against the labor leaders.

The brotherhoods demand a five per cent increase and the carriers countered with a request for a change in the working rules.

FACTION OUSTED FROM I. W. W. IS PLANNING SPLIT

May Set Up Temporary Headquarters

That the five General Executive Board members of the I. W. W., who were elected from the general office after being suspended on charges of disruption, are setting up a rival headquarters and attempting to lead a split in the organization was reported from several reliable sources today.

This came to light by news from both Chicago and outlying points to the effect that telegrams signed by James Rowan of the Lumber Workers' Union, and Fred Bowerman of the Metal and Machinery Workers' Union, had notified subordinate branches of the I. W. W. that they were setting up temporary headquarters rival to the Doyle-Fisher administration still occupying the regular national office at 1001 West Madison street.

Members Warned in Special Bulletin.

According to the special bulletin issued by the group remaining in control of the administration, this split movement was foreseen and the membership warned against yielding to pleas of the Rowan-Bowerman group. In this bulletin the Doyle and Fisher group state:

"We call especially to your attention that we will not consent to or countenance any attempt on the part of any industrial union general office to withdraw from the I. W. W., and we call upon all members to watch for any such attempt and to crush it at the beginning."

According to reports, these five deposed officials, consisting of James Rowan, Fred Bowerman, P. D. Ryan of the General Construction Workers, Charles Anderson of the Metal Miners' Union, and Harry Trotter of the Railroad Workers, all members heretofore of the General Executive Board, continue to refuse to recognize the legality of the action taken against them, just as they had previously claimed, before their suspension that their group constituted a legal majority sufficient for regular action.

Against this claim the elected general officers, Tom Doyle, General Secretary-Treasurer, Joe Fisher, General Organizer, James Morris, Assistant Secretary-Treasurer, G. E. B. members Arthur Linn of the Agricultural Workers and Charles Gibson of the Oil Workers' Union, supported by representatives sent from the Marine Transport Workers' Union and from the Building Construction Workers'

(Continued on page 2.)

Allies Agree On Dawes Plan; Herriot Flops

(Special to the Daily Worker.)

LONDON, August 3.—"Only the devil can now separate us," declared preacher Ramsay MacDonald as he grasped the hand of premier Herriot of France after the Allied conference reached an agreement on the Dawes plan. There are plenty of devils lurking around as Mr. MacDonald is very well aware and one of them is no other than Henri Poincare, "Peck's Bad Boy" of the Dawites.

There may be other devils. The German and French Communists rae bitterly opposed to the Dawes plan, because it means more bitter suffering for the workers.

The Poincarist press is bitter in its opposition to the settlement and it is not improbable that Herriot may find himself a premier without a majority on his return. He will have, however, in his fight with Poincare, the cash of the House of Morgan at his back, just as Poincare had .. prior to the election, when Herriot was using strange words in order to catch votes —words that Morgan did not understand. He understands them now.

Call it Surrender.

The Poincarist press brands the agreement a capitaulation on the part of France to England. ..is is the way Liberte puts it: "August 2, 1924 invasion—August 2, 1924 capitulation."

The settlement was given an impetus by the arrival of Morgan. His lackeys were getting nervous over their failure to make Herriot come to terms. It is rumored that it was Morgan's promise to back up Herriot in France was the argument that induced the radical-socialist premier to knuckle down.

A feature of the political situation in Europe just now is the united front between the social democrats and the international bankers. The socialists in England, France and Germany are being used to iron out any obstacles in the way of the financiers' plan for complete hegemony over Europe.

The interview on socialism given by Ramsay MacDonald to an American correspondent, is considered here as another step on the part of the British Premier to prove to the bankers that socialism, according to Sain MacDonald is capitalism's best friend. It is.

Germans Invited.

An invitation was sent to the Germans to come to London. Thus for the first time in ten years the "Huns" are again welcomed into the family of international robbers. All their sins are forgiven.

The French wanted to trade forgiveness of their debt to England in return for immediate evacution of the Ruhr. MacDonald would not consider such a proposition. As the agreement stands at present, the United States bankers hold the whip hand and Ramsay MacDonald is their European Simon Legree.

A. F. of L. On Nicaragua

WASHINGTON, July 31.—A statement on conditions in Nicaragua, and of the attitude of the American Federation of Labor toward rule of that republic by American marines, directed by Wall Street bankers, will be made by the A. F. of L. executive council during its quarterly session at Atlantic City. Hartwell Pronson, who has returned from a trip to Nicaragua in the interest of the Pan-American Federation of Labor, will report to the council on his observations.

U. S. Ambassador Quitting.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—Myron T. Herrick, United States Ambassador to France, plans to resign shortly. Herrick has been in poor health for some time. The ambassador is 60 years old.

LITTLE FACTORY SLAVES' BLOOD ON LEOPOLD, SR.

Caught in Machine of Slayer's Father

By KARL REEVE.

MORRIS, Ill., August 3.—Another slight slip of a lad lies in the Morris hospital today, his body crushed and mangled as a sacrifice to the "million dollar" Leopold defense. The huge maws of Nathan Leopold's bloodsucking Paper Mills, the giant machines that crush to despair the young citizens of Morris, last Friday clamped on the leg of Donald Steele.

Donald was working in the paper box department of the paper mill owned by the father of the Franks slayer. He has just completed his second year of high school. Donald gave his age as sixteen, to dodge the child labor laws and aid in the support of an impoverished family. But his school companions declare Donald to be fourteen years old.

Exhausted, Machine Mangles Him.

On the day of the accident Donald had already been working for eight weary hours with two hours to go. His salary is only 15 dollars a week. He had been speeding all day, feeding the paper box machine, and was very tired. The production had to be

(Continued on page 2.)

TALLENTIRE IS GREETED WITH EAGER CROWDS

Finde Spirit of Workers Splendid

By NORMAN TALLENTIRE.
(Special to The DAILY WORKER)

OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 3.—The workers here have shown a fine, cheerful spirit and are pushing the party work ahead with vigor. This is partly due to the presence of Comrade Snyder, who is putting the work on a systematic basis.

Today Snyder and other party members from Omaha are going over to Sioux City, Iowa, to organize an English branch there.

Meetings Grow Larger.

The meeting at St. Louis was smaller than would have been the case if longer notice had been given. But the members who came showed their generosity and a splendid spirit of optimism. Much literature was sold. Communist Internationales and Labor Heralds and a collection of $25 was taken.

At Kansas City in spite of great heat, 150 people turned out and paid 25 cents admission and then donated $15 more for the work and expense. Those present were well satisfied with the meeting. Comrades Tom Browder and Jack Mihelic, chairman, were busy.

New Members Enter.

Over 200 people gathered here on the streets when comrades Coutts and Snyder opened the meeting. They were eager to hear more when the rain dispersed them in about half an hour. Street meetings here are proving a great success. From 100 to 400 workers turn out on the different nights.

New members are coming into the party and the spirit of hope and optimism among both new and old members is inspiring. The message of the Workers Party is being spread by the members and will bring results.

Send in that Subscription Today.

AS WE SEE IT

By T. J. O'FLAHERTY

Governor Len Small of Illinois is a wealthy gentleman. One would hardly think so from the eulogies poured on him by the labor fakers. He is supposed to be one of the "people." How did he get his money? By being a tool of the railroad magnate Shonts. He started in with Shonts and from then on had no difficulty connecting with other railroad magnates. Small is a millionaire. The governor is now a witness in his own behalf before Master in Chancery Briggle, to answer charges that while treasurer of the state he lent state money to the packers, making a large profit on the transaction which he pocketed. Mr. Small is a good witness—for Mr. Small. It appears that the records which could either prove or disprove the charges made against the governor are missing and Mr. Small is in a state of blissful ignorance as to their whereabouts. The governor of Illinois is a wiser man than the governor of Indiana. The latter is in Atlanta for robbing some bankers. They are both—or were both—Republican governors. But Small did not rob the bankers.

* * *

James O'Donnell Bennett, staff correspondent for the Chicago Tribune is engaged in the pleasant task of writing about John W. Davis, one of Morgan's candidates for president of the United States. Bennett is a clever journalist and his stuff is readable. Davis' ancestors never used the rod on their children. They used a more effective weapon. It is that Davis "look." Looks like a talcum powder advertisement. Mr. Davis' sister said to the reporter, "the look of a genjelman is terrible to see." Then Bennett got his medicine. He

(Continued on page 3.)

FOSTER WINS WORKERS FROM CAL'S STATE

Farm-Labor Party Goes for Workers Party

BOSTON, Aug. 3.—The convention of the Farmer-Labor party of Massachusetts unanimously went on record as endorsing both the national and state tickets of the Workers Party.

The Farmer-Labor party was formed prior to the June 17 convention and had delegates in that convention. All of the unions and fraternal organizations which affiliated with the Farmer-Labor party at the original convention were represented and concurred in the endorsement of the Workers Party ticket.

Among the organizations represented are the Stitchers' Union of Lynn, with 3,000 members; the Journeymen Tailors Union, the Amalgamated Clothing Workers' Local and Joint Board, and a number of other local unions and fraternal organizations.

The convention nominated John J. Ballam, district organized of the Workers Party, as the Workers Party candidate for governor, and a full ticket will be placed on the ballot, including presidential electors.

W. Va. Workers Send Donations to Feed More Hungry Germans

The national office of the International Workers Aid reports that Comrade Hermann Muller, Box 307, Triadelphia, W. Va., collected $10 for the aid of the hungry German workers and their families. Those from whom Muller accepted contributions may know that the money was received in the national office and will be sent to the starving workers with the money donated by other friends in this country.

Send in that Subscription Today.

DAILY WORKER BARES SOURCE OF MILLIONS MAIL ORDER KING IS USING FOR HIS SLAYER SON

Albert H. Loeb, vice-president and treasurer of the $150,000,000 Sears-Roebuck mail order corporation, is resting quietly in his cool Michigan palace while his millions are fighting for the life of his slayer son in the close atmosphere of the murder trial room in Chicago.

By what ruthless exploitation of the workers does Albert H. Loeb get the sinews of alienists' warfare?

That is a question the DAILY WORKER will answer. We will tell in a series of articles about the speed-up system in the mail order branches and the corporations' factories and we will lay bare the other crimes against the working class this corporations is guilty of.

But first we will briefly go over the history of the rise of the Sears-Roebuck business which now stands first in volume of business and financial resources among the mail order institutions of the world.

A Great American Success.

The story of the rise of this huge corporation from a charlatan peddler's take stock to the titanic enterprise capitalized at more than $150,000,000 for its common stock alone, is a story of swindle and hard practice that parallel's the story of the early days of the Standard Oil—with this difference, that whereas Rockefeller sold genuine oil the Sears-Roebuck outfit spread sham goods over the country all thru its early years.

Patent Medicine Swindle.

Albert Loeb, vice president and treasurer of this corporation, is able to finance the "million dollar defense" because farmers were tricked into buying alcoholic and poisonous patent medicines, that ruined their kidneys, and gilt watches whose gold remained behind in the advertising columns of Sears-Roebuck.

Getting His Start.

The founder of the Sears-Roebuck enterprise was Richard Sears who started out late in the last century on something less than a shoestring.

(Continued on page 4.)

Dillonvale Young Workers to Picnic Sunday, Aug. 10

DILLONVALE, Ohio, Aug. 3.—An International Picnic will be the feature of the day next Sunday, Aug. 10. The Young Workers' League are responsible and promise everybody who comes to the Jos Kasal place, East Dillonvale, a grand good time. There will be an orchestra playing that will make the feet itch until they dance. Special entertainment will be part of the program.

Speakers in English will address the happy crowd and refreshments will save the hugry and thirsty from a sad end. All profits will go to the benefit of the Young Workers' League of America and boost the youth movement of the working class thruout the country.

Admission for men is 25 cents; for women 10 cents; and everybody is welcome.

Checago Federation Of Labor Nominates Convention Delegates

Arne Swabeck and Jack Johnstone of the painters and J. Uhlman of the machinists, were nominated for delegates to the convention of the Illinois Federation of Labor, as representing the left wing of the Chicago Federation of Labor, at yesterday's meeting of that body.

"Plain" Democrats"

WASHINGTON, July 31.—In a modest suite of thirty large rooms in the newest and biggest office building in town, headquarters for the Democratic national committee have been opened. Only eight big rooms have been assigned to press work. Chairman Shaver is going to prove that this is a fight for the plain people. Economy—within reason—is his slogan.

FARMER-LABOR OF PHILA. FOR FOSTER-GITLOW

Philadelphia Unionists Flay LaFollette

By ABRAM JAKIRA.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 3.—After a considerable discussion the candidates of the Workers Party were endorsed by a conference of the local Farmer-Labor Party held Thursday night, July 31st, in the Machinists Temple. Those who participated in the discussion pointed out that the workers can have nothing in common with La Follette and Wheeler who are being backed by millionaires Frank A. Vanderlip, the banker and Rudolph Spreckles, the sugar king of California.

The conference did not have to go far for facts to be convinced that the LaFollette movement means suicide to the Farmer-Labor Party movement. The Pennsylvania State Farmer-Labor Party is one of the victims of the LaFollette onslaught.

The record of both William Z. Foster and Benjamin Gitlow was brought to light by some of the delegates who had the opportunity to see those two men in action.

The conference also decided to continue its work as a local Farmer-Labor Party and elected Andrew W. Pitt of the Tapestry Carpet Workers Union as its permanent president in place of Adolph Gersch who resigned because of the fact that he was leaving town in the near future.

The statement adopted unanimously by the conference follows in full:

"It has been and still is the aim of

(Continued on page 2.)

CARMEN'S UNION WILL ORGANIZE STRIKERS AT HEGEWISCH TODAY

The Hegewisch street car strikers hold an important meeting this morning, when they will be organized by John Hogan into the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen. Out of 2500 men working in the struck Western, Steel Car company, only 200 are now at work. Plant production has completely stopped. The striking steel workers have forced other departments to close for lack of work.

Jack McCarthy will also speak at today's meeting. Hogan, who was recently asked to take charge of the strike, will speak this morning on the value of a definite union organization to hold the men together. The Brotherhood of Railway Carmen is the only union that takes in all branches of carbuilders.

See Page Three

BOOST COMMUNIST PRESIDENTIAL CAMPAIGN BY GETTING NEW SUBS FOR "THE DAILY WORKER"

See Page Three

NEGROES BEGIN TO SCRAP FAITH OF OPPRESSORS

Significant Discussion at N. Y. Convention

By CATO JONES.
(Special to the DAILY WORKER)

NEW YORK, August 3.—The international convention of the Negro peoples of the world, beginning its business sessions here today after the ceremonial opening of last night, is discussing the idea of the Christian "Holy Trinity" as being composed of "a black man of sorrows" (Jesus), "the Virgin Mary as a Negress," and "a Holy Spirit . . . of imaginary semblance of the black race."

It is a fantastic effort to reconcile the religion so deeply implanted in the Negro race on the slave plantations by their white masters, with a fast growing consciousness that religious taught by masters to slaves were not taught for the slaves' benefit.

Many sad experiences of Negroes with the treachery of preachers of their own race, often subsidized by those who wish to keep the Negro contented in subjection, are a spur behind the weird plan to accept the white man's trinity only in black. The fact that the whole religious conception would remain just as enslaving in black terms as in white, receives slight attention.

Revolts Under Religious Guise.

Certainly nowhere on earth except in a convention of this sort could such a discussion be heard. Many readers unfamiliar with the history of the Negro people would be misled by the preoccupation of a convention with such matters. Yet it is an outgrowth of the historical past of the Negro. In centuries suffering under the lash of slavery, the Negroes found their first and, at that time, the only possible opportunity for gatherings, discussions and organization, in the guise of religious congregations. Such excuses for assembling gave the Negro slave his first social grouping, his first leadership—and indeed, in some notable occasions laid the groundwork for slave revolts in pre-Civil War days. The most famous example was the 1831 revolt led by a black preacher, Nat Turner, nearly a century ago.

With this historical background, there has always been a touch of religious ceremonial about Negro organizations. Negro meetings, of no matter what sort, invariably open with prayer, even as this one is now opening.

Beginning of Religious Revolt.

But he who would let the subject drop at this point, would be badly deceived. A close examination will show that even in the observance of the practice in this instance, is an incongruous effort to get away from at least the "white man's" version of the religion which was used by the southern slave-owning planter to paralyze the minds of his black victims. The effort in this case is to translate the forms of oppressor's religion into terms of the Negro's racial self-respect. His unwillingness longer to submit to a white master-caste is gropingly expressed in his unwillingness to worship a "white god." Still wandering in the mists of the religion which helps to enslave him, the black man has at least become discontented with the color of the mist.

Anti-Clerical.

The Universal Negro Improvement Association, as shown by its published motto: "One God, One Aim, One Destiny," is not an anti-religious organization. But it is distinctly anti-clerical. Week after week its official organ, "The Negro World," thunders its denunciation against the preachers who mislead the race and against "Christian religion as applied by the white man." The efforts of the organization have done much to free the Negro from the baneful influence of the church which has weighed so long upon the Negro and retarded his enlightenment. It remains without saying that the organization's practice may in future tend to hold the Negro in superstition thru its unwillingness to reject theology. On the other hand, it may develop from anti-clericalism into definite, modern, scientific rejection of religion and its enslaving influence.

Sentimental History.

BENTON, Wis., August 3.—This little mining town was today back to normalcy following a big centennial celebration, which was featured by a two-mile pageant depicting historical events. Gov. Blaine was the chief speaker.

MONTREAL, Aug. 3.—The Montreal local of the International Typographical Union proposes a Canadian vice-president of the union at the convention that opens in Toronto Aug. 11.

English Flier Held.

PETROPAVLOSK, Kamchatka, Aug. 1.—Flight Commander A. Stuart MacLaren of the British Royal air force, who is attempting a round-the-world flight, was still weatherbound here today.

REPUBLICANS FAKING PROSPERITY

(Continued from page 1)

id, phase of the depression began in March," says the latest bulletin issued by the New York State Department of Labor.

Enormous Slump.

This report covering the conditions in the Empire State, goes on to say: "For the first time in two years wage rate decreases were significant. A year ago, in June, 1923, factory payrolls reached the highest point of the expansion in manufacturing which was then under way. Weekly payrolls were estimated to be at least thirty-eight million dollars. This June they were down to about thirty-two and a half million dollars. This is a cut of five and a half million dollars in the weekly income of a large group of the population."

State Industrial Commissioner Bernard L. Shlenting further says that "The heaviest drop in payrolls for any group of industries is that in the textiles." Conspicuous decreases have also been noticed in the metal industries, where payrolls have been cut in half. In the automobile industries payrolls have been cut one-third. In all the wearing apparel industries, clothing, men's shirts, underwear, shoes and leather goods, the same tendency has been evident.

Factory Shut-Downs Continue.

At Lawrence, Mass., the Everett Mills have just shut down for three weeks after running half time for a while. In Lowell, Mass., the cotton mills closed down for ten days after operating on a three-day schedule for two weeks. In Webster, Mass., it is likely that the Slater company will soon throw out of work fifteen hundred. The Amoskeag Manufacturing company is planning to go on a three-day schedule.

A report just made public in Charlotte, North Carolina, says that cotton mill curtailment in the state is still twenty-five per cent.

Layoffs, Wage Cuts, Misery.

All Massachusetts shoe centers report a slackening in production. In Brockton, Lynn, and Haverhill, operations are below normal, about one-third capacity.

William Skinner and Sons, silk manufacturers, the Lyman Cotton Goods Mills, and the manufacturing divisions of the American Thread company have closed down for ten days, according to Holyoke reports. The Farr Alpaca company is also closing. The Lockwood Cotton Mills, at Waterville, Maine, has decided to run on a four-day schedule all summer. Announcing its decision to shut down for another ten days, the Hamilton Wool company said: "It is unprecedented in this company."

The International Paper company mills at South Glens Falls, New York, is still shut down. The Union Bag and Paper Corporation, Hudson Falls, Fort Edward Mills, is continuing to operate on a four-day schedule. The Dwight Manufacturing company of Chicopee, Mass., is to run on a three-day schedule.

The New London Ship and Engine company has just laid off two hundred workers at New London.

The Reading Railroad company has informed the four thousand men at Reading shops and the several thousand more in its outlying plants, that all shopmen are to work from now on a four eight-hour day schedule week.

Wage Cuts Kept Up.

Wage reductions are continuing. The Tamarack Mill at Pawtucket has cut wages ten percent. In Philadelphia, there is talk of reducing the wages of the clothing workers. In Haverhill, Mass., the counter and top lift manufacturers are demanding that the Shoe Workers' Protective Union should accede to a wage cut of twelve and a half per cent and a restoration of Saturday morning work. Similar demands are being made by the manufacturers of Boston, Mass. The workers employed by the Panther Rubber Company at Stoughton, Mass., are on strike against a twenty per cent wage cut.

After operating on part time for several weeks, for the first time in a quarter of a century, the Spencer Wire Company Mills, of the Wickwire-Spencer Steel Corporation, has decided to cut wages about ten per cent.

Business Panorama Dark.

"General production thruout the country is, at the present time, running fifteen per cent below normal" says the last issue of Bache's Review.

The preliminary estimates issued by the United States Geological Survey show that the production of bituminous coal for June was the lowest on record except for the strike year of 1922. Anthracite output was the lowest since June, 1919, except for the strike months of 1922. The Interstate Commerce Commission is attempting to help the coal market by asking that autumn and winter purchases be made now.

Loadings of revenue freight for the week ending July 12, show a decrease of ten per cent from the corresponding period of last year. Miscellaneous and merchandise freight are in a similar condition.

Steel and Oil Down.

The iron and steel industry is still running at about forty per cent capacity. The Bethlehem Steel company, the largest of the independents, has passed its dividend on common stock for the second quarter.

There is heavy reduction in the oil industry. At the first of the month copper stocks showed a drop of nearly three million pounds from June first.

Two of the biggest mail order houses in the country are reducing their prices by nearly ten per cent in order to stimulate business.

In the Chicago Federal Reserve Bank district, there was a further decrease of nearly four per cent in the number employed and nearly six percent in the wages for last month. Iron and steel mills laid off nearly ten per cent of their men in addition to curtailing production.

The latest Federal Reserve Bank report shows that production in the basic industries declined nine per cent in June and was, on July first, twenty-two per cent below the level of the first two months of the year. The iron, steel, and cotton, were hardest hit, the decreases were general in almost all the other industries.

Bluffing the Country.

Altogether too great stress is now being laid on the billions of dollars that are supposed to be flowing into the coffers of the farmers because of the failure of European crops and the shortages in Canada and some of our own states.

The fact of the matter is that even if the farmers were to get all the money that they are supposed to be getting, but which the speculators are now actually getting thru the rise in the price of wheat, corn and hogs, there would be no increase of purchasing power for the whole country. This is true because something like eighty-eight per cent of the wheat produced in the United States is consumed in the country and the additional money that the farmers are supposed to be getting now thru higher prices would therefore, have to come out of the pockets of the country.

At best the rise in the much over-advertised farm prices can be only a shifting and not an increase of purchasing power. Besides many of the farmers have sold their wheat, have assigned it long in advance in order to meet mortgage payments, bank notes, and tax bills. Then, it will take years of genuine widespread prosperity to put the farmer's head as out of the hole in which they have been thrown by the last five years of severe depression.

The few and scattered signs of revival in some of the lesser important industries are only seasonal. In the view of the authoritative financial journal, The Annalist, the present situation is to be summed up as follows:

"Unemployment, which in the factory field has already attained an alarming rate of increase is becoming more marked. The Minneapolis Federal Reserve District sees an excess of farm labor in all sections of the district.

Kidding the Country.

"But there is no doubt that Wall Street would like to see the country talk itself into a state of cheerful optimism toward the future and is willing to lead the way. It is quite as true in business as in other human contacts that optimism is both contagious and infectious. If such a condition develops, and it would represent nothing more nor less than a psychological change in commercial sentiment, it should first be evidenced in an increase in forward orders. In this one direction lies the main difficulty. Those whose products are a long while in the process of manufacture have been literally geared to a hand-to-mouth scale, and they continue to be so geared."

Here we have the real objective of the grand offensive that has been launched to psychologise the country into the belief that prosperity is with us again. The employing class propagandists have political and economic reasons for their campaign of misrepresentation of the present state of affairs in industry and business.

Fur Workers Tie Up Berkowitz's Scab Newark Shop

TUCKAHOE, N. Y., July 31.—The Fur Workers' Union is hard on the trail of Berkowitz Bros., who moved here from Newark, N. J., three years ago, where they had operated a union shop, though constantly violating their agreements with the union. Their attempt to operate a non-union shop here is now confronted with a strike of their sixty to seventy workers, who demand a union shop and improved conditions.

To Compel Testimony.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—A legal campaign to compel officials of railroad labor organizations to testify the United States Railroad Labor Board outlined here today at a conference between Ben. W. Hooper, chairman of the board, and officials of the Department of Justice.

No Radio Opera Here.

There will be no broadcasting by radio of Chicago Grand Opera next season. It was such a success—to radio receivers—last winter that there were too many vacant seats at the opera house. Subscription lists opened today.

Honduras Torn by Rebels?

New Orleans, La., Aug. 3.—The Local age Sc a pound for swine. When the structions from its main office in New York "not to guarantee the delivery of any message to Honduras on account of the revolution."

Send in that Subscription Today.

FACTION OUSTED FROM I. W. W. IN PLANNING SPLIT

(Continued from page 1.)

Union, contend that the group acted in violation of a rule adopted by the last convention requiring two-thirds majority for any legal action of the General Executive Board. Further, that the Rowan-Bowerman group continued to violte this rule after being warned, attacked the right of the general convention to make this rule for the G. E. B., and rejected the peace offer of a proposed board meeting to include all members, which was at first one of their leading demands.

In the special bulletin mentioned above, the membership is solicited for decision on a number of constitutional questions arising in the controversy, such as the power of the General Organizer on the General Executive Board, the authority of the administration in suspending three members who violated the adverse ruling of the last convention on the commutation controversy, and the membership's desire for a special convention to take up the present differences.

Decay or Revival.

So far, the controversy appears on the surface to be legalistic, and neither side has yet defined or analyzed its own or the opposition's action from anl other viewpoint. Neither side has yet offered a statement explaining or justifying their action from a point of view of revolutionary unionism. It remains on the surface as similar in nature to the internal quarrels for control in the regular non-revolutionary unions. The only indication that this controversy may yet assume a nature of a revival of the traditional fighting spirit which has largely been dissolved by the pacifist and liberal penetration and control, is the activity and prominence of a rank and file committee. If this indication does not materialise, and the struggle for control remains unexplained by either side from the viewpoint of the revolutionist, the controversy will indicate that it is a crisis of disease and not of returning health.

FARMER-LABOR OF PRIL A. FOR FOSTER-GITLOW

(Continued from page 1)

the Local Farmer-Labor Party to unite the workers of Philadelphia for Independent Political Action. It was our hope that a great National Farmer-Labor Party will be the outcome of the St. Paul and Cleveland Conventions held during the months of June and July.

"We learn, however, that the Farmer-Labor Party movement has been betrayed and prostituted by the so-called Conference For Progressive Political Action. By its endorsement of the independent candidacy of Senator La-Follette it has completely surrendered to the two old capitalist parties.

"The LaFollette movement is not a working class movement, and is calculated to completely obscure the issue of Independent Political Action. It is a movement of small business, manufacturers, bankers and rich farmers. The working class has nothing to gain by supporting the small exploiters against their more powerful rivals.

LaFollette Danger.

"The action of the Pennsylvania State Conference for Progressive Political Action held in Harrisburg, July 21, and attended to by a few hand-picked and self appointed "delegates" shows clearly that the LaFollette movement is a big danger to the Farmer-Labor Party movement of this country. A motion to run LaFollette in this state on the Farmer-Labor Party ticket was voted down. Furthermore, the Harrisburg conference decided not to nominate an independent State ticket, but to indorse various candidates of the old capitalist parties. The Harrisburg conference thus decided to continue the old outworn policy of 'reward your friends and punish your enemies.'

Foster and Gitlow.

"Against this petty bourgeois movement of LaFollette are the outstanding figures of William Z. Foster and Benjamin Gitlow, the candidates of the Workers Party, whose true working class character no one can deny.

"The Workers Party has for the last two years carried on and still continues to carry on a vigorous campaign for the formation of a truly working class Farmer-Labor Party. It is at present the only political labor organization which refused to betray the working class of this country and which struggles against LaFollettism dominating the labor movement.

"The Second Conference of the Farmer-Labor Party at Philadelphia therefore approves the action taken by the National Executive Committee of the Farmer-Labor Party formed at St. Paul in indorsing the candidates of the Workers Party and pledges itself to support in every way possible the campaign and the candidates of the Workers Party, and calls upon all workers of Philadelphia to do likewise.

Turpin and Gloria to Jazz Workers on the Bosses' "Labor Day"

By J. LOUIS ENGDAHL.

TODAY, and during the days of the rest of this month of August, the workers in their trade unions will be discussing the celebration of this year's Labor Day, Monday, Sept. 1.

The discussions, the committee reports, the recommendations, concerning the Labor Day celebrations will all be a confession of how the organized workers, bankrupt in idealism, possessing no militant program, and lacking in aggressive leadership, do not know how to celebrate a holiday of their own.

* * *

Instead of planning huge demonstrations, raising vital demands against their exploiters, the trade unions will arrange picnics, baseball games, horse races, barbecues, or some other form of outing, without meaning, the only purpose of which will be to bring in funds for high-salaried and reactionary officials to spend. Sometimes the affairs are arranged by business agents, organized together for the purpose, who pocket all the proceeds themselves. At other times old party politicians arrange the affairs for their own aggrandizement.

Occasionally parades are held, and an effort made to give them a real working class nature. But these instances are few and far between. Chicago, for instance, hasn't had a parade in years. "It's no use," say the officials. "The workers won't come out."

* * *

Thus we accept, as something to be expected, the headline in the socialist weekly, the Oklahoma Leader, of Oklahoma City, Okla., announcing "MOVIE STAR IN LABOR DAY FETE—WEEK OF ENTERTAINMENT IS PLANNED BY COMMITTEE." That is typical.

* * *

Glenn Smith, chairman of the trades council's Labor Day committee, announces that, "Oklahoma City's Labor Day features will include a visit here, of Gloria Swanson, Mae Murray or Ben Turpin." This publicity sounds more like Oscar Ameringer, editor of the Oklahoma Leader, and P. T. Barnum of the socialist movement, and not like Labor Leader Smith. Gloria, the vamp, or Ben, the slapstick comedian, are to give the workers a thrill on Labor Day that will keep them jazzed up in the service of the bosses for the rest of the year.

* * *

It is seriously announced that in the event the movie clown, Turpin, comes to town, he will be allowed to lead the Labor Day Parade. Gompers should be at his side. But if "the gilded dolls of the silver screen" appear, they will be permitted to ride in the float with the Labor Day queen. Balloting on the queen has already started.

* * *

This is the Labor Day that the bosses have legalized for the workers. No "red plots" are announced for this day. The day is thoroly respectable in every way.

Labor Day had a little meaning in the beginning. It was intended to offset the drift of the workers to the real holiday of labor, International Labor Day, May 1st.

It was in 1882 that the Knights of Labor paraded in New York City on the first Monday in September. In 1884 another parade was held. It was then decided that this day should be set aside as a regular holiday.

In 1887, open shop Colorado, with its Cripple Creek strike, numerous struggles of the coal miners, the Ludlow massacre and the kidnapping of Moyer, Pettibone and Haywood, made the first Monday in September a legal labor holiday.

By 1909, Labor Day was observed thruout the United States, we are told, except in Arizona and North Dakota. In Louisiana it is only a holiday in New Orleans, and in Maryland, Wyoming and New Mexico it is not established as a holiday by statute, but in each may be proclaimed as such in any year by the governor.

* * *

It is well that the political spokesmen of organized greed call it "Labor Day." Otherwise the workers might not know it was a day set apart for them. They will learn, this year, for instance, that all the capitalist politicians will use the day, in conjunction with movie queens, race horses, and sports of various kinds, to drum up a crowd to listen to their usual bunk about the full dinner pail, and the promised prosperity that will surely come in the glorious future if the workers and farmers will only cease listening to the terrible Communists.

* * *

This year's Labor Day will not be different from those that have preceded it. It will as usual serve notice on the rich parasites that it is time to come back to cities after summers spent at the seashores, the inland lakes or in the mountains. To be sure they must come back to the cities for a short time before running off for the winter to Florida or California or Europe.

But for the workers, Labor Day, the first Monday in September, has ceased to have any significance, if it ever had any. The task of the Communists is to win all workers instead for International Labor Day, May 1st, the day when enlightened labor in all lands unfurls its challenge in the face of the hostile ruling class, and demonstrates its strength thru its united numbers.

While the organized workers, many of them very innocently and ignorantly, are making plans for silly celebrations on September's Labor Day, let class conscious workers carry on an incessant fight for Labor's own holiday, the First of May.

MEXICAN RECOGNITION OF RUSSIA PUTS GOMPERS IN ABSURD POSITION

(By The Federated Press)

WASHINGTON, August 1.—Announcement from Mexico City that the Obregon government has recognized the Russian Soviet government came as a complete surprise to Latin-Americans here. It was known that President-elect Calles favored recognition of Russia, but it had not been anticipated that President Obregon would shoulder the responsibility of disposing of this issue before his friend should come into office.

Speculation began as to whether Gen. Calles, on the three months trip in Europe which he is about to undertake, would get as far east as Moscow.

One of the humors of the Mexican recognition of Russia is the fact that the American Federation of Labor has taken pride both in its sympathy with the cause of Obregon and Calles and in its opposition to any American dealings with the Russian workers and peasants government.

LITTLE FACTORY SLAVES' BLOOD ON LEOPOLD, SENIOR

(Continued from page 1.)

kept up. The Reliance prison manufacturing trust, which exploits thousands of convicts, must be supplied with its Black Beauty shirt boxes. Nathan Leopold junior was in trouble for butchering another son of the perverted rich. Profits had to be ground out to pay for the million dollar defense of the carefree "Babe."

Suddenly it happened. Donald's foot, weary from the long hours of standing on the hard cement floor, slipped into the relentless Leopold machine. There was the crunching sound. Donald is now seriously hurt, his right leg mangled and crushed, his toes smashed, his bones broken.

Dr. H. M. Ferguson, 50 year resident of Morris who once before came into the Franks case as the eye specialist who help put the prosecution on the track of the lower of the glasses, now re-enters the case in a less glorious role. Ferguson is the corporation doctor of the Leopold plant. He treats all the accidents in Nathan Leopold's sweat shop.

Leopold Doctor Talks.

Dr. Ferguson, when interviewed by the DAILY WORKER, admitted he is entirely satisfied with the Nathan Leopold plant. He gets all the accident cases, and he admitted there are many. "Steele was pretty badly hurt," said Dr. Ferguson. "I told W. Beckwith, the manager of the plant, it was not absolutely necessary, but was most advisable, to send Donald to the hospital. Beckwith immediately said, 'sure, send him to the hospital. That shows how well Leopold treats his help."

But after the DAILY WORKER reporter had telephoned the Morris Hehald, and they had refused to give any information on the case, saying, "he was only slightly hurt," another reason for sending Donld to the hospital became apparent. The Morris hospital is over two miles out of town. Better for the "good name" of Nathan Leopold to have the cripple secluded from the eyes of the other workers, than to have him hobbling around the Morris streets, a walking advertisement to the other workers of the horrors inflicted by the Leopold factory.

While Nathan Is Smiling.

At the very moment when Nathan Leopold, Jr., sat smiling in the court room, amused by the $250 a day alienists testimony as to Nathan's childish "queerness," Donald Steele was writhing in pain at the injuries inflicted by Nathan Leopold, Senior's, machines. While the Chicago kept press is heaping sympathy upon the elder Leopold for the "sins inflicted by his child," other children—but poor people's children—are made to sap their best energies, their toll-racked bodies, their dull souls, to pay for these alienists. Nathan Leopold is willing to pay $250 a day for an alienist to save his perverted son from the gallows, but he begrudges even $15 a week to children whom he has been willing to take out of high school in order to roll up his ill spent wealth.

..... Cheating the Cripples. .....

"Leopold takes good care of his injured help" asked one of Donald Steele's companions when told that Dr. Ferguson had said they were well taken care of. "Like hell he does. They get yanked down to Ferguson, treated and sent home or to the hospital. The Leopold factory is supposed to pay half the wages, which is just $7.50 a week. But very often the men don't get even that, and they have eno way to get justice."

SPAIN'S MOROCCO VENTURE A BIG WHITE ELEPHANT

MADRID, Aug. 3.—Primo de Rivera is between the devil and Morroco. The Spanish military campaign in that country has gone from bad to worse and the dictator would fain wash his hands off the whole business but he finds his hands tied.

Recently he announced that the directorate which rules Spain decided to withdraw the troops from many of the outposts held by the army. But when the proposition was broached to the army officers who captured those posts it became a formidable task and discomfort, they would not hear of it.

Then the Moors waded in so insistently that the Spanish troops could not let go even if they wanted to. It looks as if the Mobrs feared a loss of their favorite outdoor sport if the Spanish troops withdrew.

The latest communique from Morocco is to the effect that Spanish artillery bombarded the positions of the rebel Moorish tribesmen causing many casualties.

In the meantime the King of Spain is enjoying himself at the watering places dancing with prepossessing American heiresses.

MILWAUKEE, August 3.—A day off for city and county employes who are by the nature of their work compelled to be on duty Sundays and holidays, is asked of the council by the City and County Public Service Employes' union.

"BLACKJACK" PERSHING COMES FROM EUROPE'S BATTLEFIELDS TO MOBILIZE FOR NEXT WAR

"Blackjack" Pershing is back in Washington after dining around Europe with the Belgian king and other notables in France and England.

General John J. Pershing, who commanded United States forces in the last great war, has just returned from "inspecting" the cemeteries where the thousands of young men whom he sent to slaughter for the imperial capitalists are rotting.

And this same Pershing has the audacity to come "home" in time to assume charge of the preparations for the next big "killing" of the best young men of the nation, thousands more of the young workers who were under age or escaped death in the last world war.

"Blackjack" Pershing is taking personal charge of the plans for National Mobilization day, Sept. 12 and he has come fresh from the burial mounds of the battlefields of Europe where American lads lie sacrificed to the greed of imperial capital.

Governors Line Up.

One by one the states' governors are getting behind President Coolidge in this great militaristic mobilization. If the governors are democrats they grumble a little and pretend that Coolidge is "going too far," but they would go the limit themselves if war were forced upon them by the international financiers and capitalists.

John W. Davis, democratic presidential nominee, has seconded his running mate's, Charlie Bryan's weak protest from Nebraska, mildly criticising the little puppet in the white house for including civilians in the mobilization and "inculcating the militarist spirit" in the people. But Morgan with a crook of his finger would make both Johnny and Charlie run to do his bidding and order the boys out from all the factories, mines, mills, and workshops (except munitions works) in the country to make real war on workers of other lands.

Utah Ready.

Governor Charles R. Mabey of Utah has announced that he is "squarely behind President Coolidge in his call for the observance of National Defense Day." He even uses Cal's relished name for the military holiday of the war lords.

Governor Fields of Kentucky has mentioned "the day" and is taking an active part in arranging the details for his state's participation.

Bob's Man Approves.

Governor "Jake" Preus of Minnesota has vowed he will do all he can to make Mobilization Day a success in his country altho the farmers are not interested in fighting for a government which has given them no consideration whatsoever.

Governor Blaine, LaFollette's reactionary "tail" in Wisconsin, has issued a proclamation demanding the observance of the Mobilization Day, Sept. 12. The Socialists will probbaly go along here, too, with Bob and his tough old governor.

Governor A. V. Donahey of Ohio will assist in the mobilization of all possible military forces in his state in spite of a storm of protest from church organizations whose appeals to Secretary of War Weeks may be found in his waste basket.

Texas Waiting.

Governor Pat Neff of Texas is "considering" what his position on Mobilization Day will be. He has received the official propaganda of the Coolidge Republican imperial-capitalist-militarist gang on the subject and will undoubtedly fall in behind the patriotic herd.

And this is just the beginning of the lining up of forces. Illinois mayors meet next week to decide their part in the military show. All over the country from now until Sept. 12 the state and local politicians as well as the national ones will be scheming how to get the most votes out of their participation in the Mobilization Day.

To Scare World.

By "the day" the forty-eight states will be in line, whether they all like it or not, and the workers will be forced to lay off a day and strut around in goose-step to intimidate Japan and France and all other nations that may entertain any idea of hindering American imperialism's triumphant march across the world.

The workers will have to submit in an effort to frighten such of them as may be intelligent enough to resent and resist the predatory wars of capitalism. It will be the task of Communists everywhere in that day to carry the message of this Anti-capitalist War Week commemorating the beginning of the World War thruout the land, into the ranks of the mobilised workers in every state so that they will not be deluded again when the real war comes.

RIVERVIEW
RAIN OR SHINE
August 10th — Sunday
Press Picnic Day

N. Y. PAYROLLS DROP $1,500,000 IN SINGLE WEEK

Hard Facts Refuting Prosperity Boosters

(Special to the Daily Worker.)

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 3.—Another million and a half dollars was clipped from the weekly payrolls of factories in New York state between May and June, according to commissioner of labor, B. L. Shientag. The reduction since March in the monthly income of the factory population amounts to $20,000,000.

Wage rate decreases, says the report, were significant for the first time in 2 years. Wage cuts during the month outnumbered the increases.

In June 1923 factory payrolls in the state reached the highest point of the boom then under way. Weekly payrolls were estimated at not less than $38,000,000. This June they were down to about $32,500,000, a decrease of $5,000,000.

The heaviest drop in payrolls for any group of industries is in textiles. Average weekly earnings of individual textile workers were cut almost $2. The reduction went over $2 in cotton, carpet, and knitting mills. All wearing apparel industries the same way.

Conspicuous decreases are also noted in the metal industries where payrolls have been cut in half in the iron and steel mills and cut one-third in the automobile factories. Paper mills and shoe factories have been severely affected. Average earnings in Rochester shoe factories were down to $19.49 compared with $22.72 in June, 1923.

Russian Chemical Association Plans Widespread Action

(Rosta News)

MOSCOW, Aug. 3.—At the last session of the "Dobrochin" (Volunteer Chemical Association), held under Mr. Trotsky's, the People's War Commissary's chairmanship, a number of important questions were discussed, connected with the statutes, the organization of branch associations thruout the Union of Soviet Republics and the raising of funds. Mr. Trotsky has been finally elected Chairman and Mr. Frunze (Acting People's War Commissary), Mr. Pistakoff (Chairman of the Chief Concessions Committee) and Mr. Ipatieff—Vice-Chairman of the "Dobrochin."

A number of sections and undersections of the Bureau have been organized, covering all the various eventual activities of the new national organization. The main objects of the "Dobrochim" are to propagate and practically find ways and means for the application of chemical resources in all the fields of the life and activities of the Union of Soviet Republics, including national defence and the economic restoration of the country.

Send in that Subscription Today.

GET THE NEXT ISSUE
"DAILY WORKER" MAGAZINE SECTION
SATURDAY AUGUST 9TH

1. Barren Wisdom—A reply to L. Boudin.....Alexander Bittelman
2. Negro Migration and It Causes.....By Louis Zoobock
3. "Danko"—A Story.....By Maxim Gorky
4. Civilization Through Bombs.....By Earl R. Browder

VERSE PICTURES ILLUSTRATIONS

ORDER NOW!
THE DAILY WORKER,
1113 W. Washington Blvd. Chicago, Illinois

5,000 WORKERS PLEDGE SELVES AGAINST WARS

Boston Common Packed in Anti-War Meet

BY JAMES J. LACEY.

(Special to The Daily Worker)

BOSTON, Aug. 3.—Five thousand workers on Boston Common pledged themselves to refuse military service and to fight and oppose the next imperialist war that this country engages in. At a mass demonstration held under the auspices of the Workers Party as part of the International Anti-War week campaign, John J. Ballam, District Organizer of the Workers Party, Lewis Mazrks of the Young Workers League and Charles G. Roberts of the Friends of Soviet Russia spoke to the assembled thousands and for two hours received their undivided and enthusiastic attention. At the close of the meeting fully 90 per cent of those present held up their right hand and pledged themselves to unalterable opposition to all imperialist adventures of the ruling financial oligarchy of this country.

The meeting was opened by Comrade Harry J. Canter who told of the International Demonstration being arranged simultaneously in every country of the world by the affiliated sections of the Communist International in these countries. Comrade Roberts spoke of the feeling in Britain at the opening of the last war, of his and his comrades' experiences with the Defense of the Realm Act (their equivalent to our Espionage Act) when they pointed out the hollowness of Britain's claims to the title of Protector of Small Nations in the face of their treatment of the peoples of Ireland and Egypt.

U. S. Sailors Interested.

The chairman introduced Comrade Ballam by holding up a copy of the Transcript of last September in which contains a reproduction of Ballam's photograph and Bertillion measurements taken from the records of the Plymouth County Jail (where Comrade Ballam served a year under the charge of obstructing recruiting). The significance of this and the fact of Ballam's unchanged opposition to all capitalist wars was not lost to the audience which stormily applauded his appearance and applauded again and again every point he made against the war makers and their assistants the Social-patriots. Many sailors of the U. S. Navy were in the audience and they followed with interest his remarks on the gross profiteering that went on under the Wilson administration.

Forward with Foster.

Placards and posters bearing lettered slogans were loudly applauded as they were hung on the railing of the stand. Among others were these slogans: "Back to '76 with LaFollette or Forward to Soviet America with Foster." "Universal Peace thru the Communist International or Imperialist War thru the League of Nations." "Millions for War but not One Cent for Unemployment." "War is Hell—Let the Boss Go to War." "A vote for the Workers Party is a Vote Against War." "Capitalism is the Cause of War—to Abolish War Abolish Capitalism."

During the rest of the week at all street meetings thru the city demonstrations on a small scale will be held.

Bill Lloyd Himself Turns Up With Red Bandanna Bundle

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 3. — A suspicious trousers created a good deal of commotion among the guests at a tea given by the pacifist women of Milwaukee. The uninvited guest was badly in need of a shave and took very kindly to the cake and ice cream which he grabbed without ceremony. He failed to remove his evil looking felt hat which apparently had negotiated the biblical food and every storm since then. His unshined heavy shoes did not improve the rugs. His red bandanna bundle, slung over his shoulder, came dangerously near the painting on the walls.

It looked like one of the lamentable situations where a pacifism breaks down and force and violence comes to the rescue until he made himself comfortable in a Chippendale chair and recited:

I think the youth on land and sea,
Who meet the next emergency
Will wish before the end is gained
That oldstyle war had been retained,
And quoting Shakespeare awfully well,
Say, "War by any name is hell."

That was some relief for the pacifist women. With one accord they applauded and gave rousing cheers for Bill Lloyd, author of the Dinner Pail Epics, the Federated Press jingles.

Award, Switchman $15,000.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 3.—The Missouri supreme court has sustained a verdict for $15,000 in favor of Lucien Declue, switchman, against the Missouri Pacific Railroad Co. The award is for injuries sustained in 1920, while he was switching cars for the defendant company.

ANOTHER IRISH CRISIS FACES J. BULL CABINET

MacDonald Caters to Ulster Tories

(Special to The DAILY WORKER)

LONDON, Aug. 3.—Another Irish crisis confronts the British government. The British Labor Party officials are dealing with the situation in much the same fashion as previous governments handled it. That is, by truckling to the Ulster reactionaries.

The present crisis is over the boundary commission. The Ulsterites refused to accept a third man appointed by the British government on the commission. The law creating the Free State called for this but the Belfast plutes care very little for any law that does not suit themselves. In 1914 the Orangemen took up arms against the threatened enforcement of the Home Rule Bill. The leader of the rebels, Sir Edward Carson, was rewarded by a cabinet position. The same government that placed the woolsack on Carson, soon afterwards murdered James Connolly, opposing conscription with arms.

The MacDonald government is following the policy of Asquith, Lloyd George and Baldwin in dealing with the boundary crisis. To show his absence of party spirit he invited leaders of all the other big parties into conference and the signatories to the Free State treaty.

The privy council has ruled that the government cannot create a new commission to settle the boundary question unless new legislation is enacted. With the opposition of the Tories this will be difficult. To complicate matters, Ulster members of parliament are on their way to London to oppose such legislation.

Shown the "Gold Fish."

After a running gun battle today with two boys whom they discovered, they say, robbing a South Side store, police captured Albert Green and Robert Karkovitch, each 15 years old, who confessed to 215 robberies in the past few weeks. The boys, who said their activities last night included eight burglaries, took police to a cache where thousands of dollars in loot was discovered.

AS WE SEE IT

By T. J. O'FLAHERTY.

(Continued from page 1)

wanted to write some sweet nothings about Mr. Davis' family. Nothing doing says the female scion of the House of Davis—not David. The reporter persisted. He got the "look." It is in the family.

Of course every capitalist candidate must be lousy with virtue once Wall Street decides to put him on the tracks for the great political marathon. Nothing more can be said about Coolidge and he keeps perfectly silent. He does not make news. Davis is a good subject for the reporters to work on. Those who read the capitalist press should not take capitalist reporters too seriously. They write what they must write. A New York World reporter, at the Indianapolis convention of the United Mine Workers of America, got a sick stomach listening to James J. Davis, the Secretary of Labor making a speech. "That nut makes me sick," he said. "He is crazy anyhow. Why, he jumped off a train one night while on his way to a convention," etc. And so on. But that reporter wrote a glowing account of Mr. Davis' speech, telling how eloquently he flayed the radicals.

• • •

Bennett is doing the same thing for Davis. This "look" which the Davis family inherited is a cross between a look of dignified command and one of withering reproach. How does Mr. Davis look when he comes into the presence of J. P. Morgan, his lord and master? The donkey jockey will need much more than the ancestral look to prove to the American workers that he means anything to them except a willing taskmaster. It is significant that the capitalist press argue as fulsome in their praise of Davis as they are of Calvin Coolidge. It means that whatever difference hitherto existed between the two parties are now practically eliminated.

• • •

Peggy Joyce has dropped the Count. Not so very long ago she took the Count. It happened very hastily as is usual with Peggy when doing such things. "Marry in haste and repent at leisure," is an admonition having no terrors for the conjugally versatile actress. Four times, if her memory serves her right, Peggy had been over the road, when Count Costa Morner came into her lonely life. He was the picture of a viking, had a title, and had recently launched into a campaign to make money via the tooth paste route. Swedish Count and tooth paste king! Peggy was intrigued so she hopped onto him. The Count took the count in short order, threw up the sponge and threw up his job as a manufacturer of tooth paste. Instead of cleaning teeth he was going to clean up on Peggy.

• • •

But ah! Peggy found out that he was cruel and the Count left nothing to the imagination after he asked the Countess to pay his laundry bill for the 99th time. "A man who cannot maintain himself in clean linen is no viking," said Peggy, or words to that effect, whereupon, the Count invoking Thor, hit on Peggy. She did not have a Chinaman's chance. The next act will be staged in the divorce court. There is no moral to this tale. It is sufficiently adorned without one. Neither the Count nor Peggy are Bolsheviks, so the capitalist press and William Jennings Bryan will draw no nasty conclusions from the incident, or blame it on evolution.

• • •

Mexico has recognized the Soviet Republic. The president-elect of that country will visit Europe and may take a trip to Moscow. This news will not add to the equanimity of our hawkishered Mr. Hughes. The latter is now in Europe trying to clear the road for the Dawes' plan. Rakovsky, the Soviet delegation leader in London, is reported to have suggested to Moscow that unless the British government get down to business it is no use wasting any more time in London. France is snuggling closer to Moscow. Germany has just salaamed to the Soviet Republic. Stresemann did not exactly rub his forehead in the mud but his head went below his knees. Ramsay MacDonald's so-called labor government refuses to recognize Mexico because the latter was not exactly nice to Lord Cowdray's oil company. Lots of news in one paragraph. One other item. British airplanes were wrecked while bombing Indian villages. This happened a few days. Not for the first time. Will Debs and Oswald Garrison Villard protest to MacDonald? They will not.

GERMAN LABOR FEELS DANGER IN DAWES PLAN

Minister of Finance Gives No Comfort

BY LOUIS P. LOCHNER.

(Federated Press Staff Correspondent)

BERLIN.—(By Mail.) The leaders of the German trade unions, not only of the General Federation, but also of the Christian unions and of the Hirsch-Dunker independent trade unions, have appeared before the government to express their fear that when the Dawes reparations report is put in effect, the obligations will in the main have to be borne by the workers. The unions insist that there must be an adequate distribution of the burden.

Little encouragement did they get from the government. Minister of Finance Luther blandly declared that the workers must abandon the dream of a further lessiure of property. In other words, income taxes, inheritance taxes, taxes on profits, etc., are not to be increased. The minister of finance holds that the possessing class is carrying all that the traide will bear.

Luther holds that the only way to meet the additional obligations is by indirect taxation on consumption. This means that the workers will be the hardest hit.

More than ever the Dawes report will be executed on the backs of the workers.

• • •

14 Cent Hourly Wage.

The average wage per hour of a male skilled worker in a German factory today is 55 pfennigs ((14c), for an unskilled worker, 45 pfennigs (11c), and for a female worker, 35 pfennigs (9c).

The skilled worker, it employed full 50 weeks per annum, gets on an average, $325, an unskilled male worker, $265, and a female worker $200 for the year.

RIVERVIEW
RAIN OR SHINE
August 10th — Sunday
Press Picnic Day

Printed on a fine grade of paper, 12 inches wide by 18 inches high. Suitable for framing or posting in your window.

VOTE and WORK
FOR
FOSTER for PRESIDENT

Get a photographic reproduction of this new picture of Foster free.

Every Reader of THE DAILY WORKER
will be a worker for
FOSTER FOR PRESIDENT

THE DAILY WORKER
will be the best, the most incessant worker for
FOSTER FOR PRESIDENT

YOU!! WORK!!
For Foster for President by securing new subscribers to THE DAILY WORKER

4 MONTH SPECIAL ELECTION CAMPAIGN
SUBSCRIPTIONS (For new subscribers only) $2.00

Get a New Reader for the DAILY WORKER and a Big Picture of Foster for Yourself

USE THE COUPON

THE DAILY WORKER
1113 W. Washington Blvd.,
Chicago, Ill.

I have sold a Special 4-Month Election Campaign sub. Please send me FREE the picture of Foster.

Name: .....
Street: .....
City: ..... State: .....

New Subscriber's
Name: .....
Street: .....
City: .....
State: .....

PARTY RULES FOR LEAVING COUNTRY TOLD

Must Get Permission of National Office

The National Office of the Workers Party is receiving from time to time requests from members of the Party for credentials authorizing them to transfer to the Communist Parties of other countries.

It is the rule of the National Organization, established by the National Convention of 1922, that no Party member may leave the United States without first securing permission from the Central Executive Committee of the Party.

Apply To National Office

Party members who desire to leave the United States in an organized commune or individually, should write to the Nat. Organ. or to the Dist. Office for an application blank. This blank must be filled out in complete form and must be endorsed by the branch of which the applicant is a member and by the City Central Committee and District Executive Committee and forwarded, thus duly certified to the National Organization to be acted upon by the Central Executive Committee.

In regard to emigration to Soviet Russia, the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics has made a very strict rule that workers desiring to come to that country must come as part of an organized commune. This rule is intended to promote the Socialist basis of the economic system in that country. Individuals are permitted to enter Soviet Russia only under special conditions and no individual can enter the country without first having received permission of the Soviet authorities.

Russian Rule Strict

Party members who desire to enter the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics will, if permission is granted by the Central Executive Committee to leave the United States, be advised as to how to proceed to secure permission to enter Soviet Russia. As stated above, however, such permission can only be secured in very exceptional cases for individuals and no individual who is a Party member will be able to secure such permission without having first secured consent from the Central Executive Committee to leave the United States.

What If Bankers Press?

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., August 3.—Farmers of the northwest should not sell wheat for less than $1.75 per bushel this year. They will receive that much or more if they are not too quick to sell, according to T. H. Hagen, Dakota County "Farmer," member of the Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce and formerly manager of the U. S. Grain Growers' Sales Company. Mr. Hagen is decidedly bullish on all food products and particularly wheat, rye and corn.

Send in that Subscription Today.

HARRY THAW PAID ALIENISTS $15,000; HOW MUCH WILL GO FOR LOEB-LEOPOLD DEFENSE?

The battery of alienists employed by the defense for Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb will eat well into the "millions for defense" if the Harry Thaw specialists' bills are an indication. The trustees of Thaw's estate have just turned in their account, showing that $15,000 was spent for alienists alone to get the rich murderer out of the hospital for the insane. The lawyers' choice fees were not mentioned.

Harry Thaw, rabbit-biter, did not have such a brilliant gallery of psychiatrists and mental disease specialists as the two debonair young millionaires. The Loeb-Leopold defense has gathered from all over the country the most respected (and most expensive) men in their profession. These doctors have tested and examined the nonchalant slayers in every way, mentally and physically.

Wanted to Use Dough.

Harry Thaw was trying to prove himself sane so that he could come out in the world and enjoy the million dollars that had accrued to him during the seven years of his incarceration in the insane hospital. His yearly income from just two trust estates belonging to him is $60,000, besides which he has securities to $70,000, according to his trustees, Walter Riddle and Howard Irish.

Dr. Hill, chief medical expert called by Thaw, will get more than $2,500 and other alienists employed will get between $1,500 and $2,000 each.

Six Famous Doctors.

In the Loeb-Leopold defense there are at least six internationally known American alienists who will testify, when Clarence Darrow, leading defense attorney wins the court fight now on between State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe, Judge Caverly and Darrow. The "millions for defense" will undoubtedly win a hearing for the young murderers. There are other medical experts who have spent considerable time examining the boys and whose findings were incorporated into the general report issued by the defense on the mental state of the boys.

It won't take the exploited workers who are making the "millions for defense" of Leopold and Loeb long to figure out that the blood money of their toil will go into the pockets of a lot of alienists and lawyers and maybe into official hands that shouldn't be mentioned so that the two degenerate boys who had too little to do may live, even the behind the walls of an insane hospital or behind the bars of the penitentiary. Quiet departures from such cloisters can easily be arranged after a lapse of time, for wealthy victims. But workers know that never such a chance comes to them.

The workers who are making the "millions for defense" see their wages diminish as the defense bills pile up; see their hours lengthened; see improvements in the places where they work vanish. And all to save two parasites who might have used their superior intellects and training for the welfare of all under a different society.

ANTI-WAR NEWS SPREAD BY N. Y. 'PARTY MEMBERS

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—The distribution of the anti-war leaflet, "Ten Years After," by the party membership in New York City has been a splendid demonstration of the enthusiasm with which the comrades are now getting into party activities.

In every section of the city, the call to branches to elect committees for the work of distribution, met with a fine response. A house to house distribution was organized in important centers which proved the most successful one yet arranged in the city.

Even Kids Help.

Over three hundred comrades reported at the headquarters of the Harlem section on Sunday, July 27, where the various branches were assigned the territory to be covered. A committee of 50 represented the Finnish branch. Almost the entire membership of the Scandinavian Branch responded to the call, which is all the more significant as this branch has been rather inactive for some time. The Italian Branch, lately organized, showed its eagerness to take part in party work by coming down almost in full force. In fact, not a single branch in Harlem the biggest section in Local New York, failed to participate in the distribution.

In Williamsburg, a much smaller section, the response was equally as good, more comrades reporting for duty than at any previous distribution.

Brownsville also gave evidence of the new spirit of activity within the ranks. The English and Jewish branches of the Workers Party and the Young Workers League have each been assigned an evening for distribution. Even the junior section of the Y. W. L. has been enlisted.

All Sections Work.

Other sections, the Bronx, Lower Manhattan, and South Brooklyn all reported success. Credit for organizing the distribution must be given to Comrades Nemser, Wessin, Levy, Belle Robbins, Cohen, and others active in building up the section committees. Good co-operation was also given by branches of the Young Workers League.

The unusual turn-out of the membership for the distribution evidenced new life within the party organization. A spirit of enthusiasm and willingness to work is manifesting itself in all branches. The present political policy of the party and the program of action have caused a general awakening up and down the ranks. They can be depended upon to put their utmost energy into making the coming election campaign a success in New York City.

50,000 WORKERS OF WASHINGTON GAGGED BY LAW

Civil Service Employes Can't Talk Politics

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—When old Washington Gardner, head of the Pension Bureau, some two years ago discovered that one of the clerks in his bureau had confessed to being a Socialist, the man was brought before him, lectured on his "lack of patriotism," and dismissed, on charges of political activity.

But when the press room at the White House, at the start of the presidential campaign, sends out over the country an account of how President Coolidge had a political conference with Inspectors J. P. MacArdle and Joseph Bromley of the safety appliance bureau of the Interstate Commerce Commission, not a single whisper of protest is heard. MacArdle is a former active member of the Order of Railway Conductors, and Bromley was formerly active in the Locomotive Engineers. MacArdle has been under the protection of the classified civil service law for 10 years, and Bromley for 15 years. They were quoted at the White House as having assured Coolidge that lots of the railroad brotherhood men are for Cal.

Favored May Speak.

When their bureau chief was asked whether these inspectors would be disciplined, or whether the political gag was off the entire staff of the Interstate Commerce Commission, he anxiously denied that they had been given permission to talk politics. Certainly the gag was on the rest of the staff, and would stay on.

"Mr. MacArdle is in charge of the Massachusetts district, and is a friend of Mr. Coolidge," he explained. "His was a purely personal call and Mr. Bromley, who has the New York district, accompanied him. Mr. Clark one of the secretaries to Mr. Coolidge, is a special friend of Mr. MacArdl, and I assume it was in that way that the political story was given out."

Praise Cal Only.

Fifty-five thousand government employes in the District of Columbia are forbidden to talk politics, under the civil service regulations. But any body who can say anything favorabl to the unattractive and colorless individual who now holds presidential power will henceforth during the campaign feel safe in applying the Daugherty principle. They try to qualify for better paid jobs regardless of law.

FARMERS SWINDLED FOR LOEB

(Continued from page 1)

After early training in mercantile unscrupulousness as a free lance soap box salesman he hit upon a neat scheme to do the buyer thru the mails. Country folks sometimes got wise to him when they saw him face to face: Sears thot they might fall for writing.

Working the Expressman.

His first mail order ventures included the sending of fake gilt watches to false addresses. The watches would cost Sears about thirty-eight cents each but the express declarations would be made on a basis of fifteen dollars a watch. By and by the expressman would write in that there was some mistake and would ask what he should do with the package. Sears in reply would generously offer to let the expressman—poor sucker—keep the watches at five dollars apiece.

Rattlesnake Oil.

Quickly Sears was doing a national business. With the capital by this chicanery he went in for more bunk stunts. The rural population was his chief meat. His glowing advertisements lured farmers in Kansas, Missouri, Wisconsin and Indiana to try his electric belts, ratsnake oil and above all his patent medicines. There were speedy panaceas for every kind of ailment: lost manhood, lost stomachs and lost kidneys were to be restored at a dollar and more a bottle.

"Corporation Finance."

The mail order business grew apace: as the business began to adopt more and more the methods of regular merchandising, depending for its profits on low costs rather than the cruder flim flamming of earlier days. Finally about 1903 Julius Rosenwald—an experienced merchandiser —came into the enterprise and the company was reorganized on a huge watered-stock scale.

Thirty million dollars of preferred stock were floated, with one share of common stock given away with each share of preferred. Thus the $30,000,000 common stock in 1903 is seen to be pure water and the $160,000,000 common stock of today is just five times that amount of water. This is pleasantly called corporation finance, not common robbery.

Albert Loeb's Influence.

Richard Sears eventually died. Albert Loeb's influence in the Sears-Roebuck combine grew more and more powerful until he gained the leadership in the board of directors. The business got on what is called a sound management basis in place of the looser methods of raping the public that had prevailed earlier. The patent medicine swindle game was continued however until a few years ago when numerous journalistic exposes of these poisons made their sales less profitable.

The reorganized mail order business found that the big money lay in lower costs. So the management set itself to getting control of the factories where their medicines, pants, furniture and the thousand and one other items in the mail order catalogs were produced.

Getting the Factories.

A small manufacturer who wanted customers would be approached by the big mail order house. They would agree to take his entire output, on a cost plus basis that kept his profits down to bare wages. When the manufacturer's machinery wore out Sears-Roebuck would give their contract elsewhere. He was scrapped like a worn out worker.

Sometimes a manufacturer, whose sole market was the big mail order house, would find at the termination of the contract that he was at Sears-Roebuck's mercy. His old customers were gone. There was nothing to do but accept such terms as the mail order management offered him, which often meant that he had to sell them his concern at far less than its original cost.

The Taylor System.

The corporation eventually got possession of factories in every part of America. In all these factories the one aim of the management was cheap goods. To cheapen the cost of production strikes were broken, child labor was used and a speed-up system was introduced.

In the numerous producing shops and mills of the company and in the big mail order branch houses in Chicago, Seattle, Philadelphia and Dallas something akin to the Taylor system is in use to sweat all possible profits out of the workers. When a worker is worn out by speeding he is scrapped, just as the contract manufacturer whose machinery had worn out.

Loeb's Secrets of Success.

Sears, Rosenwald and Loeb knew the secrets of American financial success. It consisted for them of doing the worker who made the goods and the buyer who bought them. By such means they have been able to issue stock dividend after stock dividend until the parasitic beneficiaries of this exploitation were able to reef that flower of idleness and debauchery whose hope lies solely in the famous "million dollar defense."

But Albert Loeb is an honorable man, so is Nathan Leopold, Sr.; both honorable men by capitalist standards.

CANADIAN FRUIT FARMERS IN GRIP OF TWIN COMBINE

Government Stalling in Secret Probe

BY SYDNEY WARREN
(Federated Press Staff Correspondent)

VANCOUVER, B. C., Aug. 3.—The Canadian government has a special committee to investigate the machinations of the fruit combine in British Columbia but it is holding all its sessions in secret. The fruitgrowers charge they are at the absolute mercy of the fruit and vegetable jobbers, represented by two companies—the Mutual and the Growers' Sales agency, who, they charge, operate under different trade names thruout the prairie provinces and in Minneapolis.

Under the arrangement the growers are kept in ignorance of their crop returns for months after the fruit has been shipped and for the past two years apple prices have barely brot the grower the cost of growing the fruit. One grower who has the best 10-acre orchard in Okanagan valley, as well as growing the best grade of apples, received for his crop last year $632. Another man who spent all his savings and borrowed capital amounting to $10,000 has been forced to sell his rights to an orchard for $1,000 quitclaim and return to the city practically penniless. Orchard men who are hanging on in hope of better fruit prices this fall have had to work out at odd jobs to make ends meet as the banks have refused to make any advances whatsoever on prospective fruit crops and the wholesalers have compelled the local merchants to refuse further credit to their customers.

The combine investigation is regarded by many as a political move in view of the impending federal election.

Russian Export Plan Succeeding Despite Great Difficulties

(Rosta News)

MOSCOW, Aug. 3.—At the recent national delegate conference of the "Exportkhleb" (Grain Exporting Syndicate), Mr. Prigarian, General Manager of the organization, reported that "Exportkhleb" had overcome all the numerous difficulties standing in its way and had managed practically to carry out the export plan.

Thus, by the end of last May there were 183.5 million poods of grain concentrated in the Soviet ports, which was nearly 100 per cent of the export programme, while by the 31st of that month about 170 million poods, or over 90 per cent of the entire program had been sold to foreign purchasers.

As for the various descriptions of grain products destined for export, they were as follows: rye—81 million poods; wheat—35 million poods; barley—18 million poods; oats—9 million poods; maize—7 million poods; oil cake—17 million poods; various other grain products—16.5 million poods.

Sun Yat Sen Blamed For Strike Against White Domination

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3. — Sun Yat Sen, founder of the Chinese republic and head of the radical movement at Canton, is credited here with having encouraged the Chinese servants in the foreign quarter at Canton to strike against the arrogant race discrimination which has been imposed upon them by the foreigners there. Sun's influence has always been behind the formation of trade unions in China, the refusal to accept white domination, and the plan for ultimate supplanting of all whites by Chinese in public service, commerce and the professions.

"Law 'n' Order."

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 3.—"Law 'n' Order is saved again, for a "Law and Order League" has been formed here. One man listed as an officer says he knows "nothing about it" and will give no information. The application for membership gives as the aims of the organization, "upholding and maintaining the Constitution and ideals of the United States." A similar group sprang into being here last year, made considerable noise for a time and died suddenly.

RIVERVIEW

RAIN OR SHINE

August 10th — Sunday

Press Picnic Day

WITH THE YOUNG WORKERS

CONDUCTED BY THE YOUNG WORKERS LEAGUE

Definite results and great experience gained from participating in the life of the Chicago workers marked the reports given at the city convention of the Young Workers League of Chicago, held here Sunday at the Workers' Lyceum.

The report of the organizer, Comrade Peter Herd, showed that the league here had taken part in every important strike in the city and vicinity; that it had taken the important first steps towards the organization of the league on the basis of shop nuclei; and that they were getting out among independent league campaigns among the youthful workers of Chicago. Wherever mistakes were made and wherever shortcomings could be found, they were bluntly disclosed and criticised in order that future work would find the league in a position to make good use of the experience gained in its various fields of activity.

The campaigns of the league and its official organ, The Young Worker, in the Pullman strike, the Western Electric, Bunte Chocolate Co., and National Biscuit Co., were reviewed. It was pointed out that the eyes and minds of the membership were being slowly but surely turned away from the direction of routine internal work and that it had participated also in the young workers who feel the bitter lash of exploitation in the factories.

The report of the district organizer, Barney Mass, was received with enthusiasm. The short time of the existence of the newly organized district executive committee had already proved its worth in initiating the various economic campaigns. Especially pleased were the two-score of delegates assembled to hear of the organization of the hoater boys who are still striking out in Hegewisch.

Manuel Gomez, in reporting as fraternal delegate from the Workers Party, local Chicago, indicated that the two local units enjoyed about the best relationships in the entire country. Successful joint work was recorded, especially in the trade union and political campaigns of the party. It was pointed out that the relationships would have to be cemented even more strongly. "We are two essential wings of one movement—the Communist movement of this country," said Comrade Gomez.

An interesting debate was aroused by the industrial organizer's report, in which many delegates participated. Many misunderstandings were cleared up, and the discussion was at times heated, it helped to clear the atmosphere of incorrect tendencies in the organization. Plans for further industrial work were referred to the incoming city executive committee.

The report of the representative of the junior section, the educational director and other officials were accepted by the convention with practical unanimity. It was also decided unanimously to appeal to the C. E. C. of the Workers Party to reconsider its action and to permit the publication of a Jewish youth organ. It was also recommended to the district executive committee to hold a convention of the district Young Workers League in October.

The following city executive committee was elected: Al Schaap, organizer and publicity manager; Valeria Meltz, secretary; Charles Erickson, financial secretary; R. Garver, industrial organizer; John Harvey, educational and recreational director; M. Kabanovsky, literature agent; Austra Sungail, junior director; Frank Buckley, social and sports; and a representative to be selected by the local Workers Party.

The new city executive committee has already met and laid out plans for future activity which will put Chicago in the position where it will more than hold its own for actual work than any other two local organizations of the league.

Philadelphia to Hold Huge Anti-Capitalist War Meet Wednesday

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., August 3. — The Workers Party of Philadelphia is calling a huge mass meeting on Wednesday, August 6, 1924, the 10th anniversary of the great world war.

Ludwig Lore, the well-known editor of the New York Volkszeitung and speaker of national reputation, will head the list of splendid speakers who will address this great demonstration.

The meeting will be held in the Machinist Temple at 13th and Spring streets, Wednesday, August 6, 8 p. m.

Those who have heard Lore at the famous Lenin memorial meeting will not fail to hear him again.

This anti-war mass meeting is a part of the great world-wide demonstration staged by the workers of all countries against the imperialist wars of the past and the great world war of the future that the imperialist powers of capitalism are preparing even now while we have hardly recovered from the last deadly debacle.

Comrades and fellow workers, while your attention is being absorbed by the daily struggles to earn a livelihood, the capitalists of the world are scheming a new and deadlier war than the world has yet seen and your lives and the lives of your children will be but so much cannon fodder when the signal for the great slaughter is given.

Protest against the imperialist war that is coming. Demonstrate your solidarity with the workers of the world. Come to the great anti-war demonstration. Hear one of the foremost opponents of capitalist wars.

BERLIN JUNKERS CROOK A KNEE SOVIET REPUBLIC

Make Good Damages for Embassy Raid

BERLIN, August 3.—The German government made a complete and unconditional surrender to the demands of the Soviet government over the raid on the Russian trade legation, which resulted in the Soviet government breaking off relations with Germany and closing up all its trade offices in that country.

The pretext for the raid was the alleged escape of a prisoner escorted by German police into the Soviet legation. But the police who went to look for him, instead of making an effort to find the missing prisoner, ransacked the Soviet files and carted away thousands of documents and arrested several hundred employes.

Great indignation was felt in Moscow over the incident. The Prussian police official who instituted the raid was dismissed and the Prussian German government disavowed the incident. The Soviet government was not satisfied but demanded reparations for the damage done and the establishment of the right of extra-territoriality for Soviet embassies in Germany.

These demands have been met by the German government and both governments have agreed to rush work on a commercial agreement and have it concluded if possible before the end of the year.

The German surrender coming shortly after the recognition of the Soviet Republic by China, is further proof of the growing power and influence of the workers' government.

Daily Worker Music Critic Writes from Europe About "Scoop"

The music critic of the DAILY WORKER staff, Alfred V. Frankenstein, has sent a card from on board the S. S. America on which he is journeying to Europe. Says Frankenstein:

"Aboard is Herma Menth, a wonderful pianiste, whose Chicago concert I was the only person to review. I have scooped them all by a year on that."

Frankenstein will send special articles of interest directly to the DAILY WORKER during his European travels.

Party Activities Of Local Chicago

BRANCH MEETINGS

Monday, August 4

Enlarged Executive Committee—Room 303, 166 W. Washington St., Federation Secretaries attend.

Douglas Park, English—2322 Douglas Blvd.

North Side, English—2409 N. Halsted Street.

Italian, Cicero—1402 S. Fiftieth Ct., Cicero, Illinois.

Nineteenth Ward, Italian — 1102 S. Loomis Street.

Tuesday, August 5

City Central Committee Meeting—2733 Hirsch Blvd.

Matters to be taken up:

1. The Details of the W. P. Election Campaign.

2. Activities of various language units and problems.

3. Industrial registration.

4. Final arrangements for the Press Picnic.

Czecho-Slovak, Town of Lake—Bohemian Prolet School, Whipple and South 51st Street.

Wednesday, August 6

Roumanian Branch—2254 Clybourn Ave.

Douglas Park Jewish—2420 W. Roosevelt Road.

Terra Cotta, Italian—2707 N. Marshfield Ave.

Fifteenth—Slovak, Cicero—Masaryk School, 57th Ave. and 32nd Pl. Cicero.

Mid-City, English—Emmett Memorial Hall—2150 Lincoln and Wrightwood.

Englewood, English—6414 S. Halsted Street.

Czecho-Slovak No. 3—2548 S. Homan Avenue.

Thursday, August 7

Finnish—Imperial Hall, 2409 N. Halsted Street.

Seventh Ward, Italian—2439 S. Oakley Blvd.

Thirty-first Ward, Italian—511 N. Sangamon Street.

South Side, English—3201 S. Wabash Ave., Chicago, Ill.

Russian, Ward 1902 W. Division Street.

Scandinavian Karl Marx—2733 Hirsch Blvd.

Friday, August 8

Scandinavian—South Chicago, 641 E. 61st Street.

Lettish—4255 Thomas Street.

Polish Slovak, Jackson Park—Bohemian Freethiek School Rovnost, Mansfield Ave. near Grand.

Saturday, August 9

Daily Worker Agents' Meeting — 2:30 p. m., at 1113 W. Washington Blvd.

Prelim. Pol. Committee Meeting—166 W. Washington St., Room 207, 3 p. m.

BOSTON PARTY ACTIVITIES

Street Meetings, 8 p. m.

Tuesday—Revere at Shirley and Walnut Street; Harrison Avenue and Davis Street, South End.

Wednesday — Chambers and Spring Streets, West End.

Thursday — Blue Hill Avenue and Woodrow, Roxbury.

Friday—Heath Square, Roxbury.

Saturday, Saline Hill Avenue and Lawrence, Roxbury.

Hughes With Belgian King.

BRUSSELS, Aug. 3. — Secretary of State Charles E. Hughes, who is visiting England, France, Belgium and Germany, will dine with King Albert tonight at Laeken summer palace. Hughes will leave for Berlin tomorrow.

CANADIAN LABOR MINISTER HATED LIKE JIM DAVIS

Workers' Convention Ready to Razz Him

TORONTO, Aug. 3.—If the Canadian minister of labor ventures to show his face as dominion labor conventions he will get as hostile a reception as Coolidge's secretary of labor, James J. Davis, got at the miners' convention in Indianapolis last January and at other conventions since. Both of these unwelcome figures carry union cards.

James Simpson, a former official of the Dominion Trades and Labor congress, made a vigorous attack on James Murdock, minister of labor in the federal cabinet, on the floor of the Toronto Trade and Labor council.

"Murdock is the greatest misfit that ever entered the labor office in this country," declared Simpson. "He has done more harm and thrown the labor movement into the dust and disgrace more than any man with a union card in this country. He is not fit to enter the halls of a labor organization. If he shows his nose in the Trades and Labor congress in London (Ontario) and I have the honor to be a delegate, I will create a scene there that Murdock will remember as long as he lives."

Simpson has been elected a delegate to the congress.

Send in that Subscription Today.

PHILADELPHIA READERS, NOTICE!

ANTI-WAR DEMONSTRATION

10th Anniversary of the World War

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 6, 1924, 8 P. M.

at MACHINISTS' TEMPLE,

13th AND SPRING GARDEN, PHILADELPHIA, PA.

LUDWIG LORE,

Editor of the "New York Volkszeitung"

and other prominent speakers will expose the Imperialist conspiracies for the next world war.

ADMISSION FREE.

Auspices, Workers Party, Local Philadelphia.

The World of Labor - Industry & Agriculture

ANOTHER LABOR PARTY VICTORY IN AUSTRALIA

Workers Now Lead in Victoria Parliament

BY W. FRANCIS AHERN.
(Federated Press Staff Correspondent.)

MELBOURNE, Australia, Aug 3.—The state elections in Victoria mark another stride in the reconquest of Australia by the labor party and also indicate a union of city and land producers.

Five of the six states in the commonwealth of Australia now have given Labor the largest representation in their legislatures. Victoria, the most conservative state in Australia, failed to give the Labor party the clean majority it has in Queensland, Western Australia, South Australia and Tasmania but it gives a Labor lead of 12 representatives over the Conservatives, the second party.

Prior to the June elections the state of parties in Victoria was: Conservatives 39, Country Conservatives (so-called Farmers' party) 12, Labor 22, Independent 1. Now it is Labor 29, Conservatives 17, Country Conservatives 12, Liberals 2, Independent 1.

Electoral System Unfair.

The electoral system had been fixed to keep Labor out of office. In the city districts, mostly held by Labor, the boundaries were so drawn that up to 60,000 voters were included in a single electorate. But in the country, where the Conservatives predominate, the districts held as low as 5,000 voters.

As the city districts numbered 15 and the country 50, it will be seen that under ordinary circumstances there would always be a preponderance of Conservatives over Labor members. A big swing of dirt farmers to Labor helped Labor capture many small country seats.

Not in Government Yet.

Labor is not yet able to form a government in Victoria as its own followers might be able to with the 6 liberals. But on top of the recent Labor victories in the other Australian states it is an indication that there is a big swing to Labor thruout the continent.

There is one other Australian state, New South Wales, in which a state election is to be held, and it seems certain that this state will also return a Labor government. It is also confidently expected that Labor will sweep the federal elections in Australia in 1925.

FARMERS' FAILURE TO BITE BANKERS' BAIT DELAYS GRAIN MERGER

The Chicago Grain Marketing Company, which was scheduled to take over five old line grain and elevator concerns and begin doing business at once failed to materialize. It was stated at the offices of the company that there had been an unexpected but merely temporary delay in complete crystallization of the $26,000,000 merger.

NEGRO WIDOWS VICTIMIZED BY U. S. WAGE CUT

Capital Scrubwomen Brutally Treated

(Special to The Daily Worker)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—Widows with dependent children, and women so for on in years that they cannot get more bearable jobs, make up the army of char-women who are now holding protest conferences against the reduction in pay which has been announced by the civil service classification board. At least two-thirds of them are colored—a fact which makes them the less able to defend themselves.

Col. Sherrill, of the army engineer corps, superintendent of public buildings and grounds, is the master of those char-women who are employed in the buildings occupied by the state, war, navy, interior and certain other executive departments. He got control a few years ago by order of Sen. Smoot, who discovered that the military autocrat could cut down the cost of scrubbing the doorways.

In ancient Rome an official known as a hortator was employed to lash the rowers in the galleys when they fell exhausted at their oars. Sherrill is serving the title. He does not permit these women, for instance, to go up and down in the office elevators with their pails and mops—no matter how early or late the hour. They must climb the stone stairs.

Colored men, backed by the colored press, are demanding that this brutal treatment of scrubwomen cease. They are denouncing Smoot and Sherrill, and turning on Coolidge, who keeps Sherrill on the job. Sherrill's glittering uniform is conspicuous at all important white house social affairs.

LABOR DEFENSE COUNCIL ELECTS E. C. WENTWORTH

Robert Buck, Resigning, Lauds Council's Record

Unanimous approbation is expressed at the election of E. C. Wentworth, of Chicago, as the new chairman of the Labor Defense Council, succeeding Robert M. Buck, who resigned, having to leave town. For many years, Mr. Wentworth has been known as an ardent champion of free speech and civil rights. While not affiliated to any working class organization, he has given his support to the workers in numerous struggles. He is the author of several books, the latest of which is the recently published novel, "The Education of Ernest Wilmerding."

Mr. Buck's letter of resignation is as follows: "As national chairman of the council it has been my aim to exercise direct scrutiny of all operations in order to be in a position at any moment to vouch for the conduct of the cause the council represents. Since I expect in the near future to move from Chicago, it will be impossible for me to continue to function in this manner. For that reason I hand you my resignation.

Praises Council's Record.

"In leaving the chairmanship, I wish to express my satisfaction with the conduct of the defense in the Michigan cases and the manner in which funds have been solicited, collected and expended. I trust the excellent support the defense has had, will continue in this very important battle in the cause of freedom of speech and political opinion. In this cause I shall maintain an unflagging interest and activity and if there is service I am able to render the council, I trust you will not fail to notify me promptly."

As soon as it became known that Mr. Buck could no longer serve, members of the National Committee of the Labor Defense Council expressed their unqualified endorsement of Mr. Wentworth for the place. John A. Lapp of the National Catholic Welfare Conference, wrote in to say: "I am very happy indeed that you have landed Mr. Wentworth, who is a fine man for the job."

Ruthenberg's Appeal.

The Labor Defense Council was organized to defend William Z. Foster, C. E. Ruthenberg, and the 29 other Communists indicted in Michigan, following the raid on the Communist Party Convention in the summer of 1922. The Council is now actively engaged in preparing for the appeal in the case of Ruthenberg.

Contact with the actions of Burns-Daugherty, stool-pigeons in the Michigan cases, brought the attention of the Labor Defense Council to the whole question of Professional Spies in the ranks of labor, and it has now undertaken to prepare a comprehensive pamphlet—an encyclopedia of labor spies—which will tell something of the individuals who are engaged in this vile trade. It is expected that the pamphlet will be published sometime in the Fall.

French Rail Strikers Regain Places They Lost in 1919 Fight

PARIS, Aug. 3.—Several thousand French railway workers who participated in the gigantic railway strike of 1919 in defiance of the government and were dismissed are to be reinstated. The reinstatement follows automatically upon the general amnesty law adopted by the new French parliament.

It is an open question whether amnesty was extended to the railwaymen as an act of justice or to relieve the great shortage of railway workers. The railway administration has for months been clamoring for additional personnel. The men who were given amnesty will be absorbed immediately.

GERMAN BANK CLERKS WALK THE STREETS

Halve Forces as Mark is Stabilized

BY LOUIS P. LOCHNER
(Federated Press Staff Correspondent.)

BERLIN, Germany, Aug. 3.—Half of the German bank clerks and employes who held jobs during the deflation period are now walking the streets or else holding on to temporary make shift jobs in the hope of later returning to the banking business in which they have been trained.

While Germany was flooded with paper billions and trillions, whole armies of bank clerks were needed just to count the money. The handling of foreign exchange and of the many securities that were bought on speculation required a staff almost three times as large as pre-war days. Young men and women deciding upon a career naturally thought that clerking in a bank offered good chances for advancement.

With the stabilization of the mark, the banking business has gone down to a low ebb. The "deflation" of human material in a number of the largest financial institutions of Germany has been:

Bank	Employes during Inflation	Employes Now
Deutsch Bank	30,000	23,000
Darmstaedter Bank	26,000	16,000
Commers und Privatbank	26,000	16,000

Illinois Postal Clerks Continue Fight for Raise

(Special to the Daily Worker.)

JOLIET, Ill.—Protests against President Coolidge's veto of their wage increase preceded a resolution by the Illinois Postoffice Clerks to continue the agitation to bring the compensation of postal workers somewhere up to a living wage. It was the fourth annual convention of the Illinois State Federation of Postoffice Clerks, held at Joliet in July.

Speeding up of clerks in the Chicago postoffice was complained of and Postmaster Lueder, recently defeated for the mayoralty of Chicago, was charged with listening only to the highups and not to the rank and file of workers.

The Chicago clerks have organized the Chicago Postoffice Clerks Union Loan Assn. in the federal building to provide credit to their members and promote thrift. It is on the co-operative basis. Funds for lending are taken from the sale of shares and deposits in the loan association.

Not So Yellow in St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 3.—The machinists' union is negotiating with the Yellow Cab Co. to unionize its St. Louis garage mechanics. That would make this concern strictly union in St. Louis. The drivers recently won a strike lasting nearly two years for the union shop and better wages. The same concern operates notoriously anti-union in other large cities. The company spent $500,000 fighting the local strike.

Send in that Subscription Today.

SCAB PENNSY CHIEF SWINGS AT CHURCHES

Atterbury Defends His Company Union Pill

(By The Federated Press)

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—Strike-breaking Atterbury, Vice President of the Pennsylvania railroad, is on the warpath again, this time against the Federal Council of Churches which recently published a mildly adverse report of Atterbury's company union farce among the shopmen on his road. Atterbury writes a long propaganda statement to the Council demanding that it be sent out to correct what he calls unfair conclusions arrived at by the investigators' report.

The report had pointed out that employees under the company union system say their grievances are not satisfactorily met. Atterbury blandly replies: "To predicate any conclusions on grievances as a factor does not appear to be sound."

"2nd: The report seems to stress what it regards as a lack of enthusiasm for the plan or indifference toward it," Atterbury continues. "This also we feel is an unsound criterion."

"3rd: It is stated that the employees do not regard the plan as affording them any real economic power for the purpose of dealing collectively with the company," Atterbury admits, and then fires his biggest gun: "This undoubtedly refers to the strike weapon and this consideration also goes to the fundamental conception underlying our plan as opposed to the popular and mistaken notion that strike rather than peace is a natural and inevitable state of industrial relations."

Jugo-Slav Miners Find Kuzbas Work Progressing Well

By W. A. WARREN
(Special to The Daily Worker)

KEMEROVO (By Mail).—The Jugo-Slav miners' group has arrived and are now at work. Comrade Babich has also arrived and is in charge of the fairly well equipped tailor shop. Electric motors have been installed at the mines and they are running four coalcutting machines by electric power. Motors have been installed in the kitchen, the shoe shop and the laundry and others are to be installed at the dairy and the carpenter's shop.

Coal is being shipped by water transport to Tomsk and Novo Nikolaevsk. The river barges have a draught of between 5 and 6 feet of water, are strongly built and decked over. They are strong enough for a sea voyage. One tug boat takes two barges, each with about 500 tons of coal.

The Colony dairy has now 130 cows and a start has been made in establishing a modern dairy. Last month the Colony sold 150,000 gold roubles worth of coke and got the returns for it. From 15 to 18 cars of coke are being shipped every day to the Urals. A large garden has been planted but summer is slow coming this year.

American Co-operatives Prosper.

The new Armenian Central Co-operative Society, the "Alcap," reports to the All American Co-operative Commission the rapid growth of 50 co-operative societies with a combined membership of 16,000. These co-operatives exist in 20 towns or villages as well as throughout the country districts. Besides the co-operative distribution of food and clothing at cost, the American farmers have organized seven central dairy co-operatives and three market garden societies to supply food to cities.

New California Labor Daily.

OAKLAND, Cal., Aug. 3. — The Union Labor Record, founded as a weekly labor paper in Oakland in 1915, plans to come out as The Daily Record in August. It will be issued six days a week with a pro-labor policy by the Union Labor Publishing Co., 286 12th street, Oakland, Cal. Stanton W. Lore will continue as editor and manager.

Send in that Subscription Today.

N. Y. RENTERS WON'T BUDGE FOR LANDLORD WHO DOUBLED RENTS

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—Tenants protesting increased rentals at a west Sixty-sixth street apartment house today barricaded themselves in and refused to admit the owner or his agents. The property has been rented on a semi-philanthropic basis, but was sold recently and the new owners raised rents, in nearly every case double and in some more.

All tenants have refused to pay the increases and most of the men are staying home to guard their firesides. About 1,000 persons, making up 400 families, occupy the property.

ITALIAN MOTHER WINS RETURN TO HER FAMILY HERE

Immigration Men Would Have Kept Her Out

(Special to the DAILY WORKER)

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—Marie Liberatori, whose home is in Milwaukee, was speeding westward today to her four children, having been held at Ellis Island for a month.

Mrs. Liberatori, who is fifty years old, came back to America in June after a two year visit to Italy, her native land, only to be told that she was "excess quota" and "likely to become a public charge." She left the United States in 1922 under the provision of the old immigration law, which granted aliens the privilege of returning to their native lands for a period of six months.

But that she was likely to become a public charge seemed a little unfair to Mrs. Liberatori. She had first come to America in 1908, with her husband and a young son, Francesco. After his father deserted his mother and sisters, Francesco supported the family.

Came the war of 1917, and Francesco, then 18 years old, felt the call of duty. He enlisted in the United States army, was put through hasty military training and was in France within a few months. Three days in France and he was in the front line trenches. Three hours in the front line trenches and he was dead.

The terse dispatch from the war department drove Mrs. Liberatori to distraction, brought on a nervous breakdown and she was soon in the Wisconsin state asylum, an insane woman. Six months' treatment restored her sanity, and upon her release she went back to Italy, for a rest.

The department of labor refused to readmit her until bond was furnished.

Labor Day in Calgary.

CALGARY, Can., Aug. 3.—Labor day will be celebrated on the usual large scale by the Calgary Trades and Labor Council which has taken St. George's island for an athletic program and dance.

Send in that Subscription Today.

BOYCOTT FINNISH LOAN, CLASS WAR PRISONERS URGE

1,000 Politicals Still Jailed in Finland

(Special to the DAILY WORKER)

HELSINGFORS, Finland, Aug. 3.—While a huge Finnish loan is being floated in the United States, the reactionary government of Finland is hounding its political prisoners at home.

Following the butchery and extermination of 30,000 radical Finnish workers in concentration camps and prisons by the counter-revolutionary government that was installed after the 1917 revolution by Germany and then the allies, the remaining Communists and other radicals have been steadily persecuted. Over 1,000 of them are in prison despite false propaganda about amnesty intended for foreign consumption.

At the Tammisaari institution of penal servitude drunken and perverted jailers inflict punishment at their own whim. Attempts at suicide by the politicians, crazed attempts at murder and other unusual phenomena reveal the desperation of the men who are imprisoned for no overt act but for their opinions or for belonging to the Communist party which has been outlawed by the government.

These politicals appeal to the civilized world, particularly America, to institute an economic boycott of Finland. If the Finnish loan, floated in the United States by Lee, Higginson & Co., should fail to find purchasers and if trading with the reactionary Finnish government should be curtailed, better treatment is expected to result for the political prisoners.

(The American Labor Yearbook, published by the Rand School, declares "Finland is still in the grip of a strong reactionary government.")

WM. Z. FOSTER

What do you know about him?

When speaking to your neighbors, friends and shopmates and wanting them to support and vote for William Z. Foster, the working class candidate for president, at the coming election, you will have to tell them what Foster has done for the labor movement. For this we recommend Foster's book:

"THE GREAT STEEL STRIKE AND ITS LESSONS"

The story of the steel workers fight for organization and recognition, led by William Z. Foster.

AN AUTHOGRAPHED COPY of this wonderful story sent to any address for

$1.00

Regular price of this book is $1.75. Order at once, while the supply lasts! Remember: AN AUTHOGRAPHED COPY.

Literature Department,
Workers Party of America
1113 W. Washington Blvd.,
Chicago, Ill.

COMMUNIST CHILDREN'S COLUMN

ME AND JIM.

By SUNNY JR.

We are watching Jakie Jones' party. Me and Jim were not invited. You see Jakie's Pa is boss of a big newspaper. He has lots and lots of money and Jim is only one of his many little newsboys. You see, of course then, that Jim wasn't fit to be invited to Jakie's party. I wasn't either cause I only delivered the Jones' groceries. Jim got a box for us to stand on and we put it up against the side of the house and when we got up we could look in at all the rich kids having a party.

Gee, it was swell! All those kids was dressed up in silks and velvets and everything in the room was beautiful. All kinds of heavy silk stuff hung on the walls and thick carpets and everything. And you should have seen the eats! Yum! I hadn't had money enough to buy a supper and Jim hadn't even had dinner and when we saw all those swell things we got an awful empty feeling in our middle.

Just then Jim swore an awful swear word and then he began to talk kind of excited.

"Look at that kid enjoying himself. Look at the rest of those rich kids enjoying themselves. Everyone of their fathers has plenty of time for golf and everything else and does nothing all day but enjoy himself. The only worry they ever have is to see where they could spend all the money they have. And where do they get the money? My pa and your pa and a lot of other poor workers work hard for them all day and sometimes long into the night. Even our mothers work and still we haven't enough to even buy rye bread and salt herring to eat and we kids have to work.

"They never work, and look what they have, and we are always working, and look what we have. The place where you live and I live is cold and dirty and the walls have been cracked for the last fifty years. All we ever have to wear is ragged clothes that we get from charity, and if we get a cotton suit once in a couple of years we only wear it like when we go to the circus with the rest of the settlement children, and we think we're swell 'cause most of the kids have to wear dirty rags.

"And what have we got to eat? Look at the ice cream and cake and fruit that maid is passing around to those kids. Say, do you know my little sister is sick and the visiting nurse says she must have fruit, and all we have to give her is dry rye bread and salt herring. I got her a dried up orange yesterday. I had to hook it from the peddler and the cop chased me and I nearly got caught, but sis was so happy to get it that I am glad I did it.

"It makes me mad to see those rich kids in there stuffing themselves with fruit and cake and ice cream. I hope they eat so much it makes them sick. But what's the good of hoping that. If they get sick they have good doctors, not just visiting nurses who don't know very much.

"I tell you, Mike, I used to think that everything was as it had to be and that it couldn't be helped, but since I have been going to those Junior Group meetings I have learned different and I think the workers are crazy if they don't get together and do something so that they will get what belongs to them."

What do you think? Do you think Jim is right? I think everything he said is the truth, and I am going to join his Junior Group. You just bet I am, and pretty soon when all the workers get wise we will put all the rich guys to work and have a Workers' government all over the world.

For information about the Junior Groups, write to Y. W. L. 1113 W. Washington Blvd., Chicago.

Words And What They Mean.

Toil—work very hard.
Textile—cloth woven.
Roar—noise.
Ragged—torn.
Chill—cold.
Hasten—go fast.
Master—one who owns property and makes others work for him. A ruler. An owner.
Property—factory or house. Anything that is made may be someone's property. Goods.
Weary—tired.
Gloom—dark.

RIVERVIEW—RAIN OR SHINE
AUGUST 10th—SUNDAY
PRESS PICNIC DAY

PITTSBURGH, PA.
DR. RASNICK
DENTIST
Rendering Expert Dental Service
for 20 Years
THE SHERIDAN A.C. Cor. 7th Ave.

THE WORKERS PARTY

Press Picnic

will be held at

Riverview Park

August 10th, SUNDAY, Admission 35 cents

The ticket also entitles holder to reduced rates on all the amusements.

Support the

Communist Press

Auspices: Workers Party, Local Chicago

All profits for the DAILY WORKER and other party papers.

UNCLE WIGGILY'S TRICKS

A LAUGH FOR THE CHILDREN

THE DAILY WORKER

Published by the DAILY WORKER PUBLISHING CO.
1113 W. Washington Blvd., Chicago, Ill.
(Phone: Monroe 4712)

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

By mail:		By mail (in Chicago only):
$6.00 per year	$3.50....6 months	$5.00 per year	$4.50....6 months
	$2.00....3 months		$2.50....3 months

Address all mail and make out checks to:
THE DAILY WORKER
1113 W. Washington Blvd. Chicago, Illinois

J. LOUIS ENGDAHL, WILLIAM F. DUNNE } Editors
MORITZ J. LOEB Business Manager

Entered as second-class mail Sept. 21, 1923 at the Post-Office at Chicago, Ill., under the act of March 3, 1879.

280 Advertising rates on application.

The Alliance of the Dying

Samuel Gompers, nearing the end of a career of treason to the working class, has, like the expiring serpent's tail, given a final wriggle. He has endorsed LaFollette, another ancient fake, who is so debilitated by age that he has to sing his "swan song" by radio.

It is all very much like the romantic fiction of "twin souled" lovers drawn to each other across the seas and the ages, finding in each other's arms the first and final solace this side of the grave. It has been a long road and Gompers has not always felt the "soul urge" in spite of his statement that "Samuel Gompers has never led any movement opposed to LaFollette," which is a queer way for a democratic booster to refer to a republican, but which may be accounted for by the usual lover's lie: "I have always loved you from the day we met."

A touching sight it is, indeed, to find the last hours of these two happy lovers somewhat complicated by the tiresome triangle of the divorce courts. Debs, the decrepit remnant of the Second International, suddenly insists that LaFollette is his "dream-girl" for which he has been wasting his socialist heart away during the eons. From a socialist heart away during the eons. From a socialist heart away during the eons. From a

YALE UNIVERSITY
NOV 2 1924
LIBRARY

THE DAILY WORKER RAISES THE STANDARD FOR A WORKERS AND FARMERS' GOVERNMENT.

THE DAILY WORKER

Entered as Second-class matter September 21, 1923, at the Post Office at Chicago, Illinois under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Communist Candidates
For President:
WILLIAM Z. FOSTER.
For Vice-President:
BENJAMIN GITLOW.

Vol. II. No. 118. SUBSCRIPTION RATES In Chicago, by mail, $8.00 per year. Outside Chicago, by mail, $6.00 per year. TUESDAY, AUGUST 5, 1924 290 Published Daily except Sunday by THE DAILY WORKER PUBLISHING CO., 1113 W. Washington Blvd., Chicago, Ill. Price 3 Cents

NEW LEOPOLD CRIMES EXPOSED

Workers Party Salutes Big Race Congress

ASKS NEGROES TO UNITE WITH INTERNATIONAL STRUGGLE FOR CLASS AND RACE EMANCIPATION

Realizing that the only hope of emancipation for Colored and White workers is universal solidarity of labor, the Workers Party sends its ardent greetings to the representatives of the oppressed Negro Race who are gathered together in Liberty Hall, New York, under the banner of the Universal Negro Improvement Association. The greetings follow:

* * *

TO THE FOURTH INTERNATIONAL CONVENTION OF THE UNIVERSAL NEGRO IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION, Meeting at Liberty Hall, New York, August, 1924.

BROTHERS AND SISTERS, COMRADES:—

THE WORKERS PARTY OF AMERICA extends to you its fraternal greetings. May your work in this historic convention be fruitful for the liberation of your Race.

We live in a world ruled by a capitalist class which for its own purposes cultivates a superstitious belief in the "superiority" of certain races and, within those races, of an upper class supposed to be divinely endowed with the right to rule over all other peoples, especially those of darker color.

The great majority of the world's population is composed of peoples of darker color. More than half the world today labors under colonial bondage to imperialist powers whose ruling class considers that men of color exist only to be exploited under colonial regimes.

At the same time, within each imperialist nation the laboring class of the population, altho creating all of the wealth of the country, is robbed of its product and exists only to be exploited by the ruling class. Capitalist exploitation for profit is the basis of all colonial and domestic oppression, from which to seek your freedom is your purpose in assembling here.

Times of Change.

But you are meeting in a time of momentous change in the world's affairs. The great imperialist States have had their foundations shaken by the World War and by the breakdown of their economic systems, as well as by the great unrest of their working classes and among their colonial subjects. Within a decade three of the mightiest empires have fallen. The world's most terrible autocracy, Tsarist Russia, has crumbled under the

(Continued on Page 4.)

AS WE SEE IT

By T. J. O'FLAHERTY

Ramsay MacDonald was not as successful with his conference, called for the purpose of settling the boundary dispute between the Irish Free State and the Northern government as he was with the allied conference. The Orangemen refuse to obey the provisions of the treaty and MacDonald proposes to obtain special legislation to enforce the terms of the pact on Ulster. The Tories will back Ulster in this fight as they always have done in the past, but in the event of MacDonald going thru with his threats and should the House of Lords throw out the proposed bill, a general election on the issue would greatly strengthen the Labor Party and weaken the Tories and the House of Lords.

* * *

As was predicted in the DAILY WORKER some time ago, a split has taken place in the Irish Transport Union and the bosses as usual are taking advantage of the situation, to put their business on an open shop basis and reduce wages. The struggle between the executive committee of the Transport Union and James Larkin has resulted in the formation of the Workers' Union of Ireland, led by the latter. Several strikes are on in Dublin at present, but the split in the ranks of labor on the industrial field places them in a disadvantageous position against the united power of the capitalists.

* * *

The release of Eamon De Valera has not created very much of a sensation in Ireland. Rumors of an agreement between the released prisoner and President Cosgrave over the Ulster boundary question are not confirmed but it should be clearly understood that De Valera is not a revolutionist and his difference with those who signed the treaty with England in 1921, was only over the wording of the compromise. The republicans, leaders in their relation to the economic question are as reactionary as the Free State gang. Some of their most prominent publicists are now asserting that James Connolly ideas are not any part of the program of the Republican Party. Now that the military campaign of the Republicans against the Free State is admitted to be a fiasco by the Republican leaders it remains to be seen whether De Valera will decide to enter the Dail with his followers who were returned in the last elections or whether he will maintain his present policy of abstention.

* * *

The Davenport Free Press is edited by a socialist by the name of W. G. Daniel. The issue of July 25, carries the following paragraph:

"Some men seek notoriety, while others have notoriety thrust upon them. It is unfortunate that a prominent Socialist should enjoy such popularity with the gentlemen of the press that they should continually

(Continued on page 2.)

MINOR REPORTING BIG NEGRO CONVENTION FOR DAILY WORKER'S PAGES

Robert Minor has left for New York where he will report the international convention of the Universal Negro Improvement Association for the DAILY WORKER. Watch for Minor's illuminating articles and distribute them to your friends among the Negro workers.

In another column you will find the Workers Party salutation to the big Negro convention. The Communist International realizes that emancipation of the world's workers cannot be attained without the support of the workers in the great Negro Race.

It is your duty as a revolutionary worker to aid in the distribution of this issue of the DAILY WORKER to the colored workers. Its value depends on wide distribution. Do your Communist duty.

ALL SOCIALISTS IN DENVER JOIN WORKERS PARTY

Bid Yellow Misleaders Adieu; $10 to Debs

(Special to The DAILY WORKER)

DENVER, Colo., Aug. 4.—The entire Socialist Party, excepting only the financial secretary, in this city joined the Workers Party in a large membership meeting. The Socialists sent the ten dollars remaining in their treasury as a farewell present to Eugene V. Debs.

The Denver Socialists have been interested in the Farmer-Labor movement as it has progressed. The Cleveland betrayal of the party officials tore the final veil of illusion from their eyes and they saw that the working class could not look to such men as Hillquit and Berger for guidance. Socialists have been attending various Workers Party functions for some time here and showing more and more desire to join actively in the fight for a real working class government; in the fight that their own party had abandoned because of bourgeois officials.

Anti-War Meet

The anti-capitalist war demonstrations have been tremendously successful. One great out-door meeting at which Ella Reeve Bloor was the speaker denounced emphatically the predatory wars of imperial capital and cheered long for the war of the working class upon the oppressive employers.

The Workers Party convention is in session here today and will take up the problems of the political campaign locally and nationally and arrange for more activity in putting the party industrial program into effect among the workers of Colorado.

Tallentire Speaks

Norman Tallentire, now making a tour of the western states for the Workers Party, will speak here tonight on the subject "Ten Years After" and point out what the results of the last great war of the capitalists has been and what the task of the workers is in the next one.

"Mother" Bloor speaks among the Colorado miners during next week. She has had great success wherever she has spoken and is largely responsible for the increased interest and activity of Workers Party members and for addition of new members in this vicinity.

100 U. S. CAPITALISTS VISITING MEXICO TO PLAN ITS EXPLOITATION

(By The Federated Press)

NEW YORK, August 4.—One hundred American capitalists will shortly journey to Mexico to investigate the possibilities of further exploitation and control of Mexico by Big Business of the United States. William Wallace Nichols, president American Association of Manufacturers, announces that his organization has accepted such an invitation from the accrue from the trip is indicated by mayor of Mexico City.

That rich profits are expected to the big guns heading the financial invasion. They include Samuel Vauclain, president Baldwin Locomotive Works, George E. Smith, president Royal Typewriter Co., and Frank D. Waterman, president L. E. Waterman Co.

LENIN'S TOMB REOPENED WHILE FRENCH COMMUNE FLAG IS HUNG

MOSCOW, Aug. 4.—A great ceremony marked the reopening of Lenin's tomb today. The tattered red banner of the French Commune was placed in the mausoleum which was then declared open to the public after being closed while the body of the Soviet premier was being re-embalmed.

Foreign visitors were forced to enter the tomb of the great revolutionist in one of the groups conducted by members of the district Soviet. No one was allowed in alone nor could anyone take in a cane or umbrella or package of any kind.

The French Commune flag was presented to the Moscow Soviet at a tremendous gathering of half a million people on the anniversary of the federation of the Socialist Soviet Republics.

FRENCH OUST KERENSKYITE AMBASSADOR

Wrangel Next to Lose Official Favor

(Special to the DAILY WORKER)

PARIS, Aug. 4.—The French government has persuaded W. A. Maklokov, ambassador of the provisional Kerensky regime, to give up his residence in the Russian embassy building in Paris and turn the building over to the French authorities.

Maklokov has been playing a role in France comparable to that of Boris Bakmetiev in the United States.

Just as Kerensky's man continued to pose as an ambassador in Washington long after the Kerensky regime had disappeared, so Maklokov continued until recently to issue passports, presonal credentials, etc., in the name of a non-existent provisional government.

The reclamation of the embasy by the French government is to be followed by turning over the building to the Soviet authorities.

The French government is planning to take the Black Sea fleet of General Wrangel, now riding at anchor in the French harbor of Biserta, in Africa, and return it to the Russian government.

MOSCOW TOILERS PARADE WHEN R. I. L. U. OPENS

Losovsky Opens Debate on Unofficial Strikes

(Special to the DAILY WORKER)

MOSCOW, Aug. 4.—In honor of the Profintern Congress there was a huge parade of the Moscow workmen, which lasts for three hours. The delegations from the factories are welcomed by addresses from the deegates to the Congress. In the name of the International Women's Conference Clara Zetkin, and also Chinese and Turkish women, greet the Congress.

In the debate concerning strike strategy, Losovsky declares that the strike presents a continuation of trade union tactics by different means. There should be a clear understanding of its political and economic connections, as well as of the strength of the strikers and the influence of the reformists. Condemnation of unofficial strikes is wrong, and it is necessary to support these strikes and to bring revoutionary influence to bear upon them. It is necessary to have political leadership for these strikes, and to appraise their political value.

Tom Thomas (South Wales) states that the English trade union bureaucrats have a capitalist ideology, and declares himself in favor of uniting the forces of the separate union movements.

Semard (France) stands in favor of the unification and coordination of union fights.

In closing, Heckert explains the part that spontaneity has to play, although its role is less important than it has been in the past.

Monmousseau goes on to say that strikes in Germany differ in character from strikes in other countries. Political backing is necessary for these strikes. Without spontaneity of the masses no revolution. The masses who are under the influence of the left-wing Amsterdam unionists must be won over for the cause of the revolution.

RIVERVIEW—RAIN OR SHINE
AUGUST 10th—SUNDAY
PRESS PICNIC DAY

FOSTER AND GITLOW TO SOUND CHALLENGE OF WORKERS PARTY THRU U. S. IN NATIONAL TOURS

National tours arranged for William Z. Foster and Benjamin Gitlow will bring the revolutionary message of Communism straight to the workers of America thru the tongues of the Workers Party candidates for president and vice-president.

The following statement, prepared by campaign manager Joseph Manley, gives the reason for this intensive campaign and lists the cities and dates in the Foster-Gitlow itineraries:

The enthusiastic American response to the candidacy of William Z. Foster and Benjamin Gitlow, is vividly shown by the flood of requests for speaking dates pouring into the office of the Campaign Manager. These requests come from all over the country.

A coal miner in Southern Illinois writes:

"We are all out of work here, but we will pay the railroad fare of Foster, whom we recognize as the one candidate who has a real message for us coal diggers."

A farmer writes from North Dakota:

"For God's sake let Foster come to North Dakota; we need him."

From Michigan word comes that "many big meetings can be arranged for Gitlow."

Because of this demand from every part of the country a complete national itinerary for both Foster and Gitlow has been mapped out.

Foster will make a series of tours from Chicago as the center, one covering the far West and Pacific Coast, two covering the middle West and three tours covering the entire East.

Gitlow will start from New York and cover numerous industrial cities thruout the East, returning to New York and again starting out to the cities of New England, then going west, taking in all the principal centers. He will travel from Chicago to the Pacific Coast over the northern route and return by the southern line of travel, the same day Foster returns from the East, arriving in Chicago on November 3rd, the day before election.

Notices are now being sent out to the various cities and the City Central Committees and Campaign Committees are urged to immediately send to the Campaign Manager their acceptance of the following dates, which have been set to meet the widespread demand and to avoid confusion.

FOSTER

FIRST EASTERN TRIP.
Youngstown, August 17.

FIRST MIDDLE-WEST TRIP.
Minneapolis, August 21.
Duluth, August 22.
St. Paul, August 23.
Milwaukee, August 24.
CHICAGO, August 24.

SECOND MIDDLE-WEST TRIP.
Sioux City, August 29.
St. Joseph, August 30.
Omaha, August 31.
Kansas City, Sept. 1.
St. Louis, Sept. 2.
Zeigler, Sept. 3.
Springfield, Sept. 4.

SECOND EASTERN TRIP.
Elizabeth, Sept. 10.
Newark, Sept. 11.
Philadelphia, Sept. 12.
Paterson, Sept. 13.

WESTERN TRIP.
Butte, Sept. 21.
Spokane, Sept. 22.
Seattle, Sept. 23.
Portland, Sept. 24.
Tacoma, Sept. 25.
Astoria, Sept. 27.
Portland, Sept. 28.
Frisco, Sept. 30.
Frisco, October 1.
Frisco, October 2.
Los Angeles, October 3.
Salt Lake City, October 5.
Denver, October 7.

EASTERN TRIP.
Detroit, October 14.
Toledo, October 15.
Cleveland, October 16.
Buffalo, October 17.
Rochester, October 18.
New York, October 19.
Reading, October 21.
Scranton, October 22.
New Haven, October 23.
Hartford, October 24.
Worcester, October 25.
Boston, October 26.
Washington, October 27.
Baltimore, October 28.
Pittsburgh, October 29.
Columbus, October 30.
Cincinnati, October 31.
Louisville, November 1.
Indianapolis, November 2.
CHICAGO, November 3.

GITLOW

EASTERN TOUR.
Paterson, August 20.
Elizabeth, August 21.
Newark, August 22.
Trenton, August 23.
Washington, August 24.
Richmond, August 25.
Reading, August 26.
Scranton, August 27.
Binghamton, August 28.
Syracuse, August 29.
Rochester, August 30.
Buffalo, August 31.
Pittsburgh, Sept. 1, 2 and 3.
Youngstown, Sept. 4.
Canton, Sept. 5.
Akron, Sept. 6.
Cleveland, Sept. 7.
New York, Sept. 9 and 10.
Stamford, Sept. 11.
Bridgeport, Sept. 12.
Springfield, Sept. 13.
Boston, Sept. 14, 15 and 16.
Worcester, Sept. 18.
New Haven, Sept. 19.
Hartford, Sept. 20.
Providence, Sept. 21.
Hartford, Sept. 22.
Schenectady, Sept. 23.
Erie, Sept. 24.
Ashtabula, Sept. 25.
Toledo, Sept. 26.
Lima, Sept. 27.
Detroit, Sept. 28.
Grand Rapids, Sept. 29.
Muskegon, Sept. 30.
South Bend, October 1.
Gary, October 2.
Chicago, October 3 and 4.
Milwaukee, October 5.
Duluth, October 6.
Superior, October 7.
St. Paul, October 8.
Minneapolis, October 9.
Fargo, October 10.
Bismarck, October 11.
Butte, October 12 and 13.
Spokane, October 14.
Seattle, October 15.
Tacoma, October 16.
Astria, October 17.
Portland, October 18 and 19.
San Francisco, October 20 and 21.
Los Angeles, Oct. 22 and 23.
Salt Lake City, Oct. 24 and 25.
Denver, October 26 and 27.
Omaha, October 28.
Kansas City, October 29.
St. Louis, October 30.
Zeigler, October 31.
Springfield, November 1.
Chicago, November 2.

FATHER'S SLAVES USED BY "BABE" TO KILL BIRDS

Boasted in Chicago He Was Great Shot

BY KARL REISS.

(Special to the Daily Worker)

MORRIS, Ill., August 4.—Nathan Leopold, Jr., using his father's employes here as his personal servants and lackeys, has many times come to Morris, taken his fathers employes out of the factory, coaxed them to shoot birds for him, and then gone back to Chicago to show these birds, boasting to his own friends what an excellent shot he was.

The "Babe," himself hardly able to pull a trigger or load a gun, let alone shoot a bird, with the parasitical cunning characteristic of the dependent rich, not only threw to the winds the money representing the blood and toil of his father's slaves, but in his underhand personal exploitation revealed for the first time the secret of his psychology.

The "Babe" drew upon his father's employes in the Morris Paper Mills up upon a reservoir which was there for his own personal use. His antics in Morris reveal a psychology of disdainful egotism of cunning trickery tha throw a new light on the Franks murder case. The Franks murder was a class murder—the result of the social structure and the time honored custom among the idle rich of securing their own desires regardless of the suffering of their fellow human beings.

Refused to Work.

"Babe's" mean underhandedness to the workers is well known here in Morris. "Babe," of course, refused to do any work. Why should he work when his father reaps millions by exploiting the five hundred Morris girls and boys for $15 dollars and less a week Why take a chance on being mangled in his father's relentless machines? Let the Donald Steeles and the other high school lads go to the hospital. "Babe" never walks abroad with his hair mussed.

"'Babe' used to come to Morris often and hunt," said Joe Harrington, 606 East Jackson street, to the DAILY WORKER. "He always hunted birds. He was fond of them. But 'Babe' himself couldn't hit a barn door. He didn't know a thing about hunting. 'Babe' hated more than anything else to admit to his friends his inferiority in any line."

Superiority Complex.

"'BaBbe had the idea that being a rich man's son made him superior to ordinary human beings. He would come down to his father's factory, go around and pick out the men who were crack shots, and take them away from the machines to go out and hunt for him. 'Babe' would collect the birds his father's workers shot, send the men back to work, and then take the birds up to Chicago with him.

(Continued on page 3)

"BILLION DOLLAR" ADVANCE IN GRAIN PRICES FATTENS BANKERS; FARMERS THE GOATS AS USUAL

By LELAND OLDS
(Federated Press Industrial Editor)

Financiers in the east are going to gobble up the lion's share of any billion dollar increase in value of farm products. Banks and other creditors rather than the farmers themselves will be the first to benefit by speculative increases in the prices of wheat, corn and hogs.

"It is to be remembered," says a Kansas City story in the New York Times, "that some 400 country banks in the grain

(Continued on page 3.)

See Page Three

BOOST COMMUNIST PRESIDENTIAL CAMPAIGN BY GETTING NEW SUBS FOR "THE DAILY WORKER"

See Page Three

BIG WAGE CUTS ACCOMPANYING UNEMPLOYMENT

Crisis Shows Failure of Capitalism

By LELAND OLDS
(Federated Press Industrial Editor)

Over 1,100,000 employes of manufacturing industry in the United States have been laid off since a year ago, according to the June employment report of the U. S. department of labor. This is a drop of 12.9 percent in the number on factory payrolls and brings the total number of unemployed factory workers to a level 18½ percent below the average of the census year 1919. This means that approximately 1,689,000 who had jobs then are out of a job today.

The setting off in the purchasing power of the working class since last June is shown to be even more serious than these unemployment figures would indicate.

Big Cut in Payrolls.

Total payrolls have been reduced 16.3 percent, meaning a loss in wages paid to workers running at about $25,000,000 a week, or some $100,000,000 for the single month of June. This includes a loss of 4.6 per cent in average per capita earnings, which fell from $24.75 in June, 1923, to $23.60 in June of this year.

Employment fell off 3.5 per cent in the single month May to June. Pay rolls were reduced 6.7 per cent and per capita earnings 3 per cent during the same period. Decreased employment appeared in 42 of the 52 industries covered in the report, while 39 showed decreased wage payments and 40 lower average wages. The largest decreases in per capita earnings during the month were ship building, 12.3 per cent; iron and steel, 10.5 per cent; carpets, 9.7 per cent; automobiles, 7.7 per cent, and cotton goods, 5.4 per cent.

Compared with a year ago, employment decreased in 47 of the 52 industries. In 39 of the industries the loss in employment was over 10 per cent. Total wage payments fell off in 43 of the industries. The percentages by which employment, total wage payments and average wages were reduced in the course of twelve months is shown for the 15 largest industries in the following table. Two instances of slight increase in per capita earnings are starred.

	Employment. Pct.	Total Wages. Pct.	Aver. Wage. Pct.
Automobiles	16.5	23.7	8.5
Auto tires	10.9	16.5	6.3
Boots and shoes	13.6	19.0	6.2
Car building and repairs	22.2	22.7	.06
Men's clothing	11.2	19.4	9.3
Cotton goods	18.8	35.0	20.0
Elec. apparatus	7.4	6.9	0.6*
Foundries and machine shops	32.5	28.3	5.9
Hosiery and knit goods	12.6	17.4	4.4
Iron and steel	12.4	21.6	10.5
Lumber and saw mills	4.7	3.5	.04*
Paper and pulp	2.3	4.5	1.3
Slaughtering and meat packing	7.1	7.6	0.5
Silk goods	19.4	14.9	5.1
Woolen goods	14.8	23.6	10.3

Wage rate cuts appear for the first time as a material factor in the reduction of per capita earnings. Decreases averaging 10 per cent were reported, affecting 15,000 employes in 125 establishments. This contrasts with increases in wage rates averaging 8 per cent and affecting less than 1,000 workers in 23 establishments. Of the 25,000 workers hit by wage cuts during the month, 13,324 were in sawmills, 2,372 in the hosiery and knit goods industry, 2,125 in cotton goods manufacture and 1,482 in men's clothing.

Part Time Operation.

Part time operation, however, continued as the chief cause of reduced earnings. Of the establishments covered in the report, 4 per cent were idle. Those operating were running at only 77 per cent of full capacity and 85 per cent of full time. This means that production in manufacturing industry during June amounted to not more than two-thirds of the possible full time production of the country's manufacturing plant.

Any attempt to estimate the full extent of the unemployment problem in the United States today must take into account the number of workers added to the urban population since 1919 through growth of population, which must have added at least 5,500,000 to the number gainfully employed, the drift of the farm population to the cities, and the tens of thousands of coal miners and railroad workers who are looking for a job.

RIVERVIEW
RAIN OR SHINE
August 10th — Sunday
Press Picnic Day

RUSSIAN WORKERS PARADE IN HUGE ANTI-WAR DEMONSTRATIONS

By A. L. PERCY.
(Special to The Daily Worker)

MOSCOW, August 4.—A tremendous parade of hundreds of thousands of workers and students and Soviet officials concluded the Anti-Capitalist War Week which the Communists all over the world have been celebrating in his anniversary week of the beginning of the last great war. Similar parades were held in all the cities and towns of Soviet Russia and in many other lands.

The trade union council closed the factories at noon so that the workers could participate in the gigantic demonstrations. Huge banners and streamers with slogans against militarism and capitalism were borne by the marchers.

Speeches were made against capitalist society, and against the Second International which betrayed the workers in the last great struggle of capitalist forces.

Nicolai Lenin's tomb was reopened in the Red Square after the body of the dead Soviet premier had been re-embalmed. Thousands of the marchers bearing special permits from the district soviet were admitted.

AS WE SEE IT

By T. J. O'FLAHERTY.

(Continued from page 1)

be following him about. But, alas, that is the reward of true greatness. If they desire to advance the candidacy of Robert M. LaFollette for president, there can be no valid objection, but, having brought discredit upon their own organization, and made a sorry mess of an opportunity such as comes but once in a generation, our Socialist brethren ought to have the good taste to discretely remain in the background."

Who is he knocking? Hillquit.

* * *

Many pacifists looked on the Washington Conference as a great victory for peace. We remember Oswald Garrison Villard figuratively slapping Charles Evans Hughes on the back for his pacifist speech in opening the conference. Radicals were not so optimistic about it. They said it was a war conference and not a peace conference. The delegates came armed and left armed. England was represented by the wily Balfour. He did so well that the Empire went out of its way to honor him on his return. Japan was not so well satisfied. Neither was France. The American militarists were not so well pleased. They want to elevate their naval guns and thus increase the range of their fire. It seems England has been doing this. England will not stand for the change and says it is against the treaty. The American militarists are saying "so much the worse for the treaty." Treaties are only scraps of paper when they don't suit.

* * *

There were several more or less peaceful conferences held since the Washington Conference. The first with which the capitalist nations are arming it does not appear that Mars is licked yet. The threatened war between Japan and the United States over the domination of the Pacific and the exploitation of the Orient has been brought much nearer by the law excluding Japanese. The feud between England and France will not down this side of another war. The Dallas are a regular powder magazine with drunken cigarette fiends jostling about. A spark and another catastrophe is upon us. It is clear from the evidence that another war is unavoidable, unless the working class take power into their own hands as they did in Russia. But that would also involve war.

Can the workers prevent war? They surely could if they would. But will they? Comrade M. Pavlovitch quotes Lenin on the question of war prevention. The great revolutionist said:

"It must be definitely explained how great is the secrecy surrounding the birth of a war and how helpless is an ordinary labor organization in face of a really impending war. It must be explained over and over again in a thoroly concrete manner, how the situation looked on the last war and as to the reasons why the situation could not be otherwise. Special attention must be called to the fact that the question of defense of native country will inevitably be puts the question: "Wherein lies the jority of the workers will inevitably solve this question in favor of their own bourgeoisie."

* * *

Comrade Pavlovitch, after quoting Lenin, continues the discussion. He puts the suestion: "Wherein lies the only real means of fight against war?" and supplies the answer: "In the maintenance and extension of an illegal organization for the permanent work against war of all revolutionaries participating in the war. The Communists cannot prevent the outbreak of war-but they must strive to change this war into a civil war, the world revolution." The war to end war will be the class war.

* * *

The Communists say that the capitalist system, like all previous social systems, bears within itself the germs of its own decay. In other words, it is bound to collapse, not because it is unjust or violates the Golden Rule of the pacifists, but simply because it keeps too many stomachs empty in the midst of plenty. Under capitalism the machinery of production has become highly developed, but owing to the fact that this machinery is in the hands of a few, and the workers who operate it receive for their labor only a small portion of what they produce, there is unemployment, hunger and want. Millions of unemployed, chronically unemployed, are living testimony to the inability of capitalism to justify its existence. The capitalist system must go and the sooner it goes the better. Therefore, our readers are urged to join the Workers Party and take a hand in getting rid of the capitalist system and preparing the ground for the erection of Soviet Republics instead of the rotten and corrupt governments that now serve the capitalists.

* * *

The National Association of Manufacturers with offices at 50 Church Street, New York, does not like the DAILY WORKER but the officials of that organization read it nevertheless. The N. A. of M. sends out publicity to its members on the industrial situation and the activities of unions and working class political bodies. In a circular letter dated July 15, it tells its clients that the Citizens' Alliance of Minneapolis maintains an employment bureau that costs the business men of that city $10,000 a year. It attacks the Ice Wagon Drivers' Union of Minneapolis for opposing the cash and carry stations. It denounces the DAILY WORKER for its exposure of the Detroit Employers' Associations' threat to recruit scabs to break the threatened strike of the street railwaymen, and when the Associated Industries of Spokane, Washington, compelled the educational authorities to cancel a lecture on the Centralia I. W. W. case, the N. A. of M. officials found the story in The DAILY WORKER.

* * *

This looks like a very good talking point for the circulation drive now in full blast. During the four months of the election campaign new subscribers are offered The DAILY WORKER for four months for the small sum of $1.00. No better testimony could be given The DAILY WORKER than the hostility of the notorious strikebreaking organization, the National Association of Manufacturers. Ramsay MacDonald in his interview explaining what socialism has degenerated into, stated one fact when he gave the capitalists credit for being class conscious. Of course, Ramsay is not, being merely a capitalist lickspittle. But the workers should be as class conscious as the capitalists. They will learn why by reading The DAILY WORKER. Every member of the Workers Party who is worth his salt will bring in at least one new subscription during the present campaign.

ASSAULTED WAR VET CAN PROVE MURDER WAS AIM

West Virginia Lumber Company Responsible

(Special to The DAILY WORKER)

CASS, W. Va., Aug. 4.—Lawson McMillion, World War eterans organizer who was beaten and arrested by Ku Klux Klan and West Virginia Pulp and Paper company-owned town officials, will prove by many witnesses when his case comes up in circuit court that he did not resist arrest. The brutally beaten vet can get a hundred or more witnesses, who saw Lincoln Cochran, town sergeant and special company agent, beat McMillion with his gun.

Company Town.

Hob Rose, mayor of Cass, is mill foreman of the company. The rest of the town council and their positions with the lumber company are as follows:

Dr. W. H. Hannah, company director.

Joe Graves, mill foreman.

Bob Hivich, superintendent over railroads and mines.

C. Glyspie, time keeper.

Bill Anderson, mill foreman.

George Graham, head bookkeeper.

Lincoln S. Cochran, town sergeant and special company agent.

K. K. Klatter.

The crude letter which the knights of the bedsheet gave to McMillion, reads as follows:

Cass, W. Va., July 16, 1924

Mr. McMillion, organizer of the W. W. V. or I. W. W.:

You have been seen on our streets for the past six months or more and the one has ever known of your working. No man can gain an honest living without working, from what we can learn, you are doing your utmost to get men dissatisfied with their work and join the union of men who will not work.

You are hereby notified to either get honest work and stick to it or leave town,

The Cass Klavern of
The Knights of The Ku Klux Klan.

President Leaves As Two Congresses Start Quarreling

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 4.—The attempt to seat the newly-elected congressmen is causing tumult and strife between the contending political parties. The labor-farmer faction maintains that the Plutarco followers are trying to seat those illegally elected, while the Floristas accuse the Calles followers (farmer-laborites) of the same attempt. Mounted police are patrolling the streets around the congress, while others are watching the examination of credentials. The labor-farmer block, under the leadership of Luis N. Morones, president of the Mexican Federation of Labor, is threatening to form a legislature of its own; the other side maintains the same. In the meantime Calles is going to Europe to escape whatever results may arise from these dissentions.

RIVERVIEW—RAIN OR SHINE
AUGUST 10th—SUNDAY
PRESS PICNIC DAY

NEW LEOPOLD CRIMES EXPOSED

(Continued from page 1)

boasting to his rich friends there what a good shot he is."

Many other employes of Nathan Leopold told the same story to the DAILY WORKER. "Babe' Leopold always liked to get the best of a man in an argument," Dr. H. M. Ferguson told a DAILY WORKER reporter. "The girls around here all fell for him, and he liked that. He impressed me as being of very superior intelligence, and classed himself as superior to the every day poor college boy."

The "Babe" liked to come to Morris because Nathan Leopold holds Morris in the hollow o his hand. The busines smen of Morris blind themselves to the sweat shop methods and slave-driving tactics practiced on the youth of the town, because the paper mill is good for their business. The workers have to swallow the whims and brutalities of the younger Leopold because they don't want to lose their job.

Leopold junior was in his glory here. He realized, and took as a matter o fcourse the power of his father's riches, but transferred this power to his personality, feigning that everyone jumped when he spoke because he was a superior human being. "Babe" took advantage of these catering small town ex-farmers to play with them as a cat plays with a mouse. He came down every few weeks with his father on tours of inspection, lowering himself, as he put it, chat with the workrs when the mood upon him. But Leopold junior always maintained the attitude of class superiority. Did he not practically own the lives of 500 citizens of the town?

"Babe" would allow the men he took out to hunt for him to draw three dollars a day pay, but he never gave them any extra money ofr it. the DAILY WORKER is informed.

Want "Fair" Cops.

BALTIMORE, Md., August 4.—The unfairness of police in all dealings with workers has attracted the attention of even one of the capitalist sheets of the town. The brutal and unwarranted beating of striking garment workers who were picketing their shops made the local paper open its eyes and spout its unorthodox opinion with inky sputters on the front page. "Absolute fairness to both sides," is the demand that this paper makes of the cops. It's a good talking point; that's about all.

MEXICAN REPUBLIC LATEST TO RECOGNIZE SOVIET GOVERNMENT

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 4—The Mexican foreign office announced that it will soon appoint a diplomatic representative to Soviet Russia. In a short statement the Mexican government stated that it had nothing to do with the origin of any government and recognized the right of each country to select the form of government most convenient to it.

President-elect Calles is leaving for a trip to Europe and it is expected he will visit Soviet Russia.

Mexico was one of the countries to send a message of condolence to the Russian government on the occasion of Lenin's death, something that the so-called Labor government of England did not have the decency to do.

Fairbanks Feeds the Hungry and Gets the Publicity He Wants

By J. LOUIS ENGDAHL.

TODAY, hundreds of homeless men who grab an occasional wink of sleep on the grass in Grant Park, on Chicago's downtown lake front, are still wondering where the next meal is coming from.

Yesterday, Douglas Fairbanks, who gathers in money by the cartload as a "movie" star, gave them a meal and got another burst of publicity in the daily press.

But today neither the yellow press nor the movie star are worrying about these hordes of hungry jobless. In fact the old party politicians claim they do not exist.

* * *

Fairbanks discovered there was an unemployment problem in the land when he sat down to luncheon with Mary Pickford at a window table of the aristocratic dining salon of the fashionable Blackstone hotel. From the window Fairbanks could look across "Boul Mich," the European name that has been given to Michigan Boulevard, and see the hundreds of idle men stretched out on the thin grass that joins the cinders from the passing Illinois Central Railroad engines in covering the narrow strip of land known as Grant Park.

* * *

Numerous hotels, like the Auditorium and Congress, in addition to the Blackstone, patronized by the rich, as well as a host of exclusive clubs front "Boul Mich" and their patrons, like Douglas Fairbanks, cannot help but look out and rest their haughty gaze upon the outcast workers. It is to them a very shocking sight. The police have been busy all these years, walking up and down, hitting the soles of the feet of the tired sleepers, waking them up and chasing them away. They have been trying to obliterate this shocking sight. But in vain. The homeless, the hungry, the jobless, after hunting work thru the day in "The Loop," or around the big shops and factories of the city, always come back for brief solace in Grant Park. The police might just as well try to push back the restless waves of Lake Michigan lapping the shores just the other side of the railroad tracks.

* * *

Up north, at Oak Street, the police tried something similar. Bathers from the rooming house district and the slums would press across the "Gold Coast," residence district of millionaires along the Lake Shore Drive, and claim the beach as their own. It was very shocking again. There were fights with the police who tried to drive them away. But the proletarian bathers won. And the Oak Street Beach is now one of the most frequented in the city.

* * *

But there was Douglas Fairbanks at the open window of the Hotel Blackstone's dining room. He was not worried by the sight of the jobless. It gave him an idea. All Fairbanks' ideas are for his own enhancement. Here was a chance to break into the yellow press with a little sensation.

Fairbanks called his publicity agent and the Blackstone's headwaiter. Then Fairbanks spoke:

"Go over there," he said, "and see what those gentlemen will have to eat. And give me the bill."

And a few hundred hungry, who were rounded up, were fed one meal at the expense of Douglas Fairbanks, an expenditure that he got back, many times, in the free advertising that he received.

* * *

Fairbanks will not repeat that stunt again, not very soon. The big reason will be that such a stunt is only news once. He'll have to try some other stunt the next time.

* * *

But the jobless army remains. In these days of growing industrial depression it is daily growing bigger and bigger. The United States government will not try to feed these growing masses of hungry. The employers want them to clamor at the gates of the mills, the shops, the factories, for "WORK!" to beat down the wage scale of those who still have jobs.

The existence of a huge jobless army is a serious necessity for the big employers, fighting to maintain and extend their open shop on the nation's industries. Douglas Fairbanks makes it serve his necessity—to keep continually and dramatically in the public eye.

* * *

But the time will come when this growing army of hungry and jobless men will begin to take their own condition seriously. They will not be content to keep company with the cinders in Grant Park, or any other park. They will refuse to accept crumbs thrown from the millionaire's table. They will fight and conquer, they will destroy the social system that creates the hosts of the miserable many, and build a new society that recognizes the right of all, not only to life, but to enjoy life.

One "Generous" Boss Gives His Workers, And Son, Business

Here's a rare boss who has turned over his business to six of his workers. They have made him a handsome profit during the many years in which they have been faithful slaves of their exploiter and are now rewarded (before heaven) with a share in the fine livery business.

J. R. Emery, president and owner o fthe Union Club Motor Delivery, 175 E. Chicago avenue, made this gesture of generosity to his six oldest employes. The business is worth $100,000 and Mr. Emery, now 60, retains a share in it himself as added protection against his ever going "over the hill."

Fred Lorenz, day manager, John Sweeney, night manager; John Forsberg, shop foreman; James Bray, electrician; Helen Campbell, bookkeeper; and H. G. Emery, purchasing agent. O yes, the last named man is the son of the magnanimous donor.

RIVERVIEW—RAIN OR SHINE
AUGUST 10th—SUNDAY
PRESS PICNIC DAY

Oppose Pardon of Rich Criminal

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 4.—The Minnesota State Federation of Labor is opposing the pardoning of H. H. Biglow, of Brown & Biglow of St. Paul, who has been sentenced to fine and two years of imprisonment for falsifying income tax returns. The prison term is to begin Nov. 1, ostensibly to give Biglow time to arrange business matters, but the delay is being used for the circulation of petitions for pardon. The federation's resolutions recite that Biglow has been an unscrupulous enemy of organized labor, while pretending great concern about law and morals.

Explore Forests.

VLADIVOSTOK, Aug. 4.—The Maritime Forest Department is equipping a big expedition to Northern Saghalin and the Maritime Region for exploration of large and not-well-know forest areas.

This expedition consists entirely of scientific workers and authorities on forestry. Besides engaging in the accomplishment of purely practical purposes, the expedition is also to make scientific investigation and to map all the regions it will traverse.

Send in that Subscription Today.

WORKERS PARTY HITS GOMPERS WITH HARD FACTS

Faker Resents Being Branded Traitor

ATLANTIC CITY, Aug. 4.—The reply of the Workers Party to Samuel Gompers charging the latter with being a betrayer of the workers got under the labor faker's skin. He issued another commnique charging Foster and Rothenberg with trying to secure the endorsement of the Wisconsin senator at St. Paul. That this statement was false none knows better than Gompers, but lies are his stock-in-trade.

The Executive Council has not yet issued its endorsement of LaFollette, tho the document is reported to be already written up and ready for the press. The injection of the "mobilization day" issue may have delayed the publication of the LaFollette endorsement, but the Japhet leaders know the value of publicity and they protest to keep the newspapermen in a state of anxious curiosity until the psychological moment arrives to spring the news.

Punishing His Friends.

The endorsement will only go so far as to help LaFollette and Wheeler personally for it will make it quite clear that no third party is endorsed. Gompers considers this a good way to punish the Democratic party for ignoring him at the last convention.

The latest infantile capitulation to defeat LaFollette is made by Judge Daniel P. Cohalan of New York. Cohalan backed Governor Smith the president on the Democratic ticket. He supported Harding against Cox in 1920 and switched from the Republican party to LaFollette because the Republicans repudiated their anti-League of Nations position. Cohalan is anti-British and a jingoistic American. He is a friend of William Randolph Hearst and had a big row with Tammany Hall because Charlie Murphy opposed his brother John for the surrogateship.

Lowly Camp Followers.

The reactionary labor leaders are secretly laughing at the role given to the socialists in the LaFollette organization. They are the hewers of wood and the drawers of water. Of course this does not apply to Morris Hillquit who is aiming at a position of prominence as edits a sick list for the needle trades unions in New York largely controlled by the socialist party will be compelled to come across in order to prove to LaFollette that he has more to gain by associating with the socialists than he will lose because of the enmity of a million Gompers supporters to even the word "socialism."

Replying to Gompers' latest He about the Workers Party trying to endorse LaFollette at St. Paul, Joseph Manley, campaign manager for Foster and Gitlow, declared that the Workers Party for months prior to the St. Paul convention had carried on a campaign of criticism against LaFollette and the fakers at the head of the C. P. F. A. At the St. Paul convention Foster, speaking for the Workers Party declared: "The Workers Party will accept LaFollette as a candidate if he agrees to run as a Farmer-Labor candidate, to accept that party's platform and its control over his electoral campaign and campaign funds."

Railway Slaves Get Lemon from Govt. In New Zealand

By W. FRANCIS AHERN.
(Federated Press Staff Correspondent.)

WELLINGTON, New Zealand, Aug. 4.—Altho the railway men who went on strike recently in New Zealand resumed work on the understanding that their grievances—mainly relating to hours and wages—would be dealt with by an independent tribunal they got fooled. In the meantime the New Zealand government increased the working hours from 44 to 48 a week.

The increase in working hours applies to guards, porters, switchmen, signalmen, maintenance men, storemen, and shop employes generally—all members of the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants, who struck work. The increase in hours does not apply to locomotive firemen and hostlers, who did not strike.

Along with the increase in the working hours is the announcement that the minimum wage is to be raised from $19.16 for a 44-hour week to $20.90 for a 48-hour week. The men were entitled to the higher wage because of the increase in the cost of living without any increase in the working hours.

China Flood Destructive.

PEKIN, August 4.—With tributary rivers still pouring flood waters into the Tien Tsin delta, the city of Tien Tsin was seriously menaced by flood today.

An airplane trip over northern Chihli today revealed the extent of the flood area, hundreds of square miles being covered with muddy waters. Huge crop damage has been done and great suffering caused.

Send in that Subscription Today.

GOMPERS MAKES PUBLIC OFFICIAL O. K. ON "BOB"

Suddenly Finds 'Dems' Are Bankrupt

(Special to The Daily Worker)

WASHINGTON, August 4.—The Executive Council of the American Federation of Labor released the endorsement of the hybrid political ticket of La Follette-Wheeler according to plan.

The plan was to make the document public in time for its appearance in the Monday papers. Sunday is generally a quiet day in newspaper offices and editors are grateful for anything that may come along, even a repetition of the Gompers political formula, condemning friends and punishing enemies.

The council's statement makes it quite clear that Gompers has not deserted from his time-worn policy of non-partisanship. It also takes a left hook at the Socialists who insist on completing the combination republican-democrat ticket, when the report states that the endorsement of the LaFollette candidacy does not mean that the A. F. of L. has anything in common with the views held by other groups that may support the LaFollette-Wheeler ticket. No matter how low the socialists stak Gompers will insist on bumbling them still more.

Suddenly Opens One Eye.

The executive council of the A. F. of L. suddenly realizes that the republican and democratic parties are in a state of moral bankruptcy "which constitutes a menace and a peril to our country and its institutions." But the "moral bankruptcy" of both parties consists of their willingness to serve the big capitalists of this country to not to any lack of mental vigor. The latter deficiency is easily more observable in the high places of the A. F. of L. and proof of this intellectual inertia and bankruptcy can be seen from the fact that when one of the labor takers are forced to change their political bearings it is as the result of pressure from the outside, as was the case when Glenn S. Plumb roused the federation from its lethargy with his railroad program and now the republican politicos in La Follette with his "back to 1776" platform.

The document states that the present non-partisan policy of the A. F. of L. was inaugurated in 1906. It has worked out so well, despite a heavy crop of injunctions whichits friends were unable to block that the policy is good for ever.

Leaves "Cal" Alone.

Gompers does not attack Coolidge but hands a couple wallops to Dawes and the Minute Men of the Constitution. The general is not talking much about his strikebreakers these days.

The democratic party is attacked because it platform is silent on the injunction pledges itself to legislate to regulate hours and conditions of all labor and fails to recommend the ratification of the child labor law by the various states.

Mr. Gompers does not say that strikebreaker George L. Berry, with the support of Gompers was perfectly willing to run for the vice-presidency on this obnoxious ticket and that Gompers kept his mouth shut until Berry was dropped by the democratic convention.

After setting the seal of approval on LaFollette and Wheeler, the Gompers document takes a slam at the Conference for Progressive Political Action, which is the Federation's foremost rival in the non-partisan field. This is the horseshoe in the glove:

"In the campaign to elect men to Congress, regardless of their political group or party affiliation and deserving of labor's support, there must be unity of purpose and method, therefore leadership must lie with the only organization having the right to speak for the entire labor movement. In this the American Federation of Labor yields to none, but will maintain unimpaired its leadership, guidance and direction."

Part of Bargain.

The LaFollette attack on the Communists and his refusal to consider the formation of a third party is looked upon as part of his bargain with Gompers for the endorsement of the A. F. of L. What this endorsement may bring in votes cannot be appraised with any degree of accuracy. Gompers was not able to deliver the labor vote to Cox in 1920 and but for the widespread antagonism against the two old parties among the working class it is not likely that Gompers' approval would mean so much now.

What Gompers, LaFollette and the other bourgeois elements who dominate the so-called independent ticket have accomplished at this time is to block the formation of a mass Farmer-Labor party which was the need of the hour and the brazen anti-labor conduct of the two capitalist parties presented a splendid opportunity to launch such a party.

MICHIGAN MOVES TO BRING RUTHENBERG'S CASE IN HIGH COURT

(Special to the DAILY WORKER)

LANSING, Mich., Aug. 4—Assistant Attorney General O. C. Smith, who prosecuted the case against C. E. Ruthenberg at St. Joseph, Mich., has finally moved to bring the case before the higher courts.

Attorney I. E. Ferguson, for the defense, submitted to the prosecution last November the record in the case which was to be O. K'd by the prosecutor before the case could be brought into the higher court. Since that time nothing has been heard from the prosecution.

Today O. C. Smith called Ferguson by long distance asking him to meet him in Lansing on next Monday for the purpose of agreeing upon the record. This will likely mean that the case will come before the Michigan Supreme Court during the fall of this year.

MILLIONS MADE BOYS SEEK ONLY OWN PLEASURES

Workers' Blood Money Spent by Parasites

Neither Richard Loeb nor Nathan Leopold, Jr., allow anything to interfere with their personal pleasures. This is the testimony of Dr. William Healy, one of the best-known psychiatrists in the United States, who is the second defense witness.

The "millions-for-defense" have already secured the services of Dr. William A. White of St. Elizabeth's hospital, Washington, who was first witness. The millions will bring at least ten more expensive medical witnesses to the stand in the attempt to save the young murders from hanging.

Cheat Sensation-Seekers.

Dr. Healy whispered testimony of the sexual aberrations of the young gentlemen of too much leisure and then continued aloud:

"Loeb has told me that he has never found anything in himself that would act as a deterrent, anything that would deter him from doing what he wanted to do, or that would deter him from doing anything he desired.

"On the part of Leopold, I have a statement from him that he would continue also in this form of association, and these acts, that the gratification of his personal desires would be enough to compensate him for any intellectual dislike he might have for them."

"Crimes of the Fathers."

In the whispered testimony Dr. Healy told of the "childish compact" which bound the two young wealthy men together in criminal activities.

The "millions-for-defense" are attempting to prove that the boys who had so much money and time used that time and money for their own perverted pleasures and criminal deeds culminating in the killing of Bobby Franks and are now using (thru their parents) their money to save their lives.

The boys felt no necessity of working and took no heed of the injustice of the capitalistic system which gave them so much and deprived the thousands of workers in their fathers' factories and shops of the ordinary good things of life.

Philadelphia Holds Big Outdoor Meeting

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 4.—Local Philadelphia held a very successful open air meeting at the corner of Girard and Marshall Street on Tuesday evening, July 29th, 1924. This was the first meeting held in this section for 10 years and the meeting was a success in every sense of the word. A crowd of over 800 people attended the meeting and the main speaker of the evening, was Comrade Harry M. Winitsky from New York.

The audience was very enthusiastic one and applauded every mention of the Soviet Republic and of the Workers Party of America. Although the meeting was called to protest against the U. S. Court decision granting to Kerensky and his representatives $1,5000,000 belinging to the Soviet Russia, the speakers dealt with the political situation in this country and spoke on the anti-war campaign now being conducted by the Workers Party the American section of the Communist International.

* * *

PHILADELPHIA, August 4. — The workers of this city will participate in a huge anti-war demonstration on Wednesday, Aug. 6, at 8 p. m. in the Machinists' Temple, 12th and Spring Garden. Ludwig Lore, editor of the New York "Volkszeitung" will be the chief speaker. He and others will point out the imperialists' conspiracies for the next world war. Admission is free. The meeting is under the auspices of the Workers Party, Local Philadelphia.

Girl Tarred, Feathered.

MEYERSVILLE, Mo., Aug. 4.—Miss Dorothy Grandon, 20 years old, was tarred and feathered by an angry mob near here late last night. One woman participated in the attack upon the girl, whose home is in Martinsburg, West Virginia.

CARMEN'S UNION FORMING LOCAL AT HEGEWISCH

Steel Car Strikers Organizing Today

The organization of a local of the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen in Hegewisch, where the Western Steel, Car and Foundry company is no strike, is progressing rapidly.

More than twenty-five new applications for membership were received by E. Hogan, organizer for the union at the strike meeting yesterday. It is expected that many more of the strikers will join at the meeting which has been arranged for this morning at 8 o'clock.

Brother Hogan spoke on the necessity for organization. He pointed out to the men that unless they could carry on the fight in an organized manner their strike were not likely to be successful. "You are compelled to strike frequently", he said. "The bosses are preparing to cut the wages of the workers this fall and unless you are organized into a union you cannot prevent this cut." He went on further and told the men that any victory they might win in the strike could easily be taken away from them if they were left without organization. Max Salzman of the Young Workers League also spoke and emphasized the necessity of joining the union.

The bosses cannot get men to return to work at the wages they offer. Their orders are still waiting to be filled. The workers are staunch in their demands.

When it was suggested that a conciliator be asked for from the department of Labor, in order to get the company to reach an agreement with the men, it was pointed out that the Department of Labor is controlled by the same groups that own the factories in which the workers of Hegewisch and other places are employed. It was also brought to the attention of the strikers, that in Pullman strike, the Department of Labor conciliator settled the strike, the bosses getting the best of the bargain.

At the meeting to be held today the men will again take up their demands and send their committee to meet with the officials and try to get them to agree to the woirkers demands.

CARELESS COPS PICK UP CAL'S CAMPAIGN MAN

G. O. P. Boss Caught with Wet Goods

Judge John O'Donnell was blinded by the rag of "justice" and couldn't see how the coppers "got that way" when they arrested J. Mercer Vernon, assistant to William M. Butler, Calvin Coolidge's campaign manager, for violation of the federal prohibition law.

The Republican politician sat in the Gold Coast House of Correction sipping from his flask when the sergeants descended upon the place and seized his political "highness." The more Vernon protested in the wagon what harm the publicity of his arrest would do to "a lot of big people in this country," the more the bulls were convinced that he was drunk.

U. S. Senator George H. Moses of New Hampshire, another ardent "Calvinite" rushed to the jail from the Congress Hotel and stripped off one of his $1,000 bills to pay bond for Vernon.

Vernon's office is with the Republican national headquarters in the Wrigley building. Little Coolidge's "dear friend" Butler won't thank the careless coppers but maybe Judge O'Donnell will be kindly 'remembered.'

Illinois Farmers to Investigate Bankers' Grain Elevator Plan

The Illinois Agricultural Association has entered into a "sweeping investigation" of the new Grain Marketing combine of five big elevator companies who are trying to get the farmers of the mid-west to support them.

Detailed reports for the past five years, made by a public auditor, will be demanded of the bankers' and big packers' new grain monopoly.

The farmers who were supposed to bite on the bankers' and packers' bait have shown decided reluctance to be fooled also some of the reactionary "gentlemen farmers'" organizations have endorsed the new combine.

Jewish Delegates Leave

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—Delegates of the American Jewish congress have left New York for the Carlsbad World Jewish Relief conference beginning August 12, which is to deal with pogroms, racial discrimination, and other problems affecting the rights of Jews.

RIVERVIEW
RAIN OR SHINE
August 10th — Sunday
Press Picnic Day

FIVE SHOT IN BATTLE WITH KU KLUX ARMY

Haverhill Klansmen Mobilize in Force

(Special to The DAILY WORKER)

HAVERHILL, Mass., Aug. 4.—Five thousand members of the Ku Klux Klan clashed with hostile masses in the neighborhood of Groveland, early today. The casualties are: five men suffering from gunshot wounds and scores injured by sticks and stones.

The battles began as the white hoods were concluding spectacular initiation ceremonies on a high hill and the fighting continued as the kluxers started homeward in a thousand automobiles.

James Connelly, Francis Cotter, Edmund Lucey and a man named Buckley, four of the injured persons, say the klansmen opened fire on them from a large truck. Twenty-three arrests were made, most of them residents of Haverhill and the vicinity.

Growth of the Ku Klux Klan in this vicinity is felt to be a menace to the large foreign-born population and especially to the organized workers in the shoe industry.

Klansmen Bombers?

LAPARTE, Ind., Aug. 3.—Identity of persons who hurled a dynamite bomb into the residence of Rev. Father Vanrie, pastor of the Catholic church at North Judson, Ind., is sought. Father Vanrie has been active against the Ku Klux Klan.

Furniture Movers Win.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 4.—Since union furniture movers ,van drivers and helpers won an increase of 10 cents an hour in wages after a strike lasting two weeks, the moving van owners' association announces an increase of 50 cents an hour in moving rates.

Treat Her Well!

MOSCOW, (By Mail)—The London papers have published an official communique of the British Admiralty, announcing the pending visit to English ports of the Soviet war-vessel Vorovsky and instructing that she be accorded the usual facilities and privileges.

Send in that Subscription Today.

FAT BANKERS GET GRAIN PROFITS

(Continued from page 1.)

states are in the hands of receivers and their assets in notes are being collected with vigor.

This will account for some of the (farm) income in such localities. Store accounts, farm equipment, motor car payments have been delayed and must be met. Farm mortgage indebtedness has increased, Companies generally having been lenient with defaulted interest until the crop could be gathered. This money will go east."

The product of the farmer's toil does not belong to himself but to his creditors, the financiers, who will leave him just enough to keep going and produce next year's crop for them.

* * *

Admit Banks Get It.

Officials of the U. S. treasury confirm this view of the situation. The high prices of wheat, they say, have placed the financial institutions in many states on their feet again. Millions of dollars in credit extended to farmers will be liquidated or the loans reduced this fall and paper which some of the banks had been forced to charge off as uncollectable will now become obligations upon which the banks will realize.

* * *

One of the groups of creditors who will suck the profits out of the farmers' apparent good fortunes are the so-called seed pool men. According to advices from Topeka, these men gambled on thig year's crop, providing the farmers with seed and other working capital. They now have a right to their share of the produce.

* * *

Gross Faking.

The $1,000,000,000 to $1,500,000,000 increase in the value of farm products about which the capitalist press is doing so much talking is, as a matter of fact, a gross exaggeration. Statisticians of the Sears Roebuck Agricultural foundation in a careful study found that the increase in prices up to July 19 had not increased the farmers' possible receipts by more than $400,000,000 and pointed out that "most of the increases in prices of farm products represent paper profits" so far as the farmer is concerned.

* * *

Farmers Aren't Getting It.

This raises another interesting point. Wheat reached $1.42½ a bushel July 26. But reports from the southwest indicated that the actual farmers were only getting a little more than a dollar for the same wheat. If it cost as much to produce wheat during this crop year as it did a year ago the farmer must get at least $1.34 a bushel before he makes any profit, according to the cost of production figures of the department of agriculture.

Whether grain prices hold present gains or even increase when the bulk of the crops is marketed depends upon the correctness of market estimates which forecast a decrease of some 286,000,000 bushels in the world wheat crop alone. The major part of that decrease is in Canada. That these forecasts are open to serious question is indicated by the assertion of Canadian government officials that either the wheat market has been figged or else their million dollar statistical system of obtaining information is valueless.

Russia Will Export More Grain This Year; Sown Area Increased

(Special to the DAILY WORKER)

MOSCOW, Aug. 4.—It is learned officially that in spite of a partial failure of the crops in the Trans-Volga and the South-Eastern areas, where some 60 million poods of grain have perished, the current year's total harvest will be somewhat larger than last year's (it is estimated that the corps will yield 2736 million poods as against 2748 millions poods last year), mainly due to an increase of the sown area.

Official computations estimate the marketable surplus of the crops at 700 million poods, which affords the possibility of increasing the exports of grain in comparism with last year's figures.

Russian Grain Beats American.

LENINGRAD, Aug. 4.—The discontinuance of commercial intercourse with Germany has not affected Soviet grain exports, which have been carried on without interruption. From Leningrad these products have been shipped to Finland—where it may be noted that Russian grain, owing to its good quality, has ousted its American competitor, then to England, Holland, and other countries.

Send in that Subscription Today.

BRITISH LION ROARS WARNING TO MEXICANS

U. S. Officials Protests Woman's Death

(Special to the Daily Worker.)

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 4.—The American charge d'affairs, Arthur H. S. Schoenfeld, sent a formal protest note to the Mexican Government for the British Government on account of the death of Mrs. Rosalie Evans.

Mrs. Evans, a wealthy widow, inherenda owner who has made a great deal of trouble for Mexican authorities, was shot late Saturday night. She disregarded all the laws of the country concerning the hours at work for her employes and never heeded provisions for the welfare of the peons whom she treated almost as slaves. She hired gunmen to "protect" her.

British Agent Helped Her.

Her husband is a British subject, once president of the London Bank in Mexico City. She was from Texas. It was largely due to his efforts to fame the Mexican government's position in regard to Mrs. Evans that the British agent and supposed "sradicalist" H. A. C. Cummins, was recently forced to leave Mexico. Mrs. Evans refused to accept the gift of the American government offered for her head.

Secretary of state Cobigna stated that the Mexican government must deplored the shooting and would make every effort to arrest the guilty persons.

Oil Troubles.

Relations between British and Mexico have not been friendly for some time, Britain has never recognized the Obregon government and Mexico has been subjected to much abuse by the El Aguilar Oil Company, a British concern, which has not honored the Mexican constitution.

Premier MacDonald, the Labor and Socialist-of-the-future Britisher, will trumpet the sentiments of the imperial British capitalists to Mexico over the killing of this woman, British-by law only.

RIVERVIEW—RAIN OR SHINE
AUGUST 10th—SUNDAY
PRESS PICNIC DAY.

Send in that Subscription Today.

Printed on a fine grade of paper. 12 inches wide by 18 inches high. Suitable for framing or posting in your window.

VOTE and WORK
FOR
FOSTER for PRESIDENT

Get a photographic reproduction of this new picture of Foster free.

Every Reader of THE DAILY WORKER
will be a worker for
FOSTER FOR PRESIDENT

THE DAILY WORKER
will be the best, the most incessant worker for
FOSTER FOR PRESIDENT

YOU!! WORK!!

For Foster for President by securing new subscribers to THE DAILY WORKER

4 MONTH SPECIAL ELECTION CAMPAIGN SUBSCRIPTIONS (For new subscribers only) $2.00

Get a New Reader for the DAILY WORKER and a Big Picture of Foster for Yourself

USE THE COUPON

THE DAILY WORKER
1113 W. Washington Blvd.,
Chicago, Ill.

I have sold a Special 4-Month Election Campaign sub. Please send me FREE the picture of Foster.

Name: .....
Street: .....
City: ..... State: .....

New Subscriber's
Name: .....
Street: .....
City: .....
State: .....

Negroes Asked to Join Labor's World Struggle

(Continued from page 1)

blows of its most oppressed class, and upon its ruins has been erected a new form of State thru which the "hewers of wood and drawers of water" of the great Russian nation have made themselves the rulers and builders of their own destiny.

This within the past seven years one-fifth of the globe has come to the possession of the disinherited, the classes once despised as serfs and mental laborers. And the ever-increasing ferment within the other great nations' working classes, together with their continued inability to restore the old order of economy, promises more great changes in the immediate future.

The upheaval which is surely coming within the capitalist countries in the early future, unquestionably will be accompanied with an equal upheaval among the colonial peoples.

THE COLONIAL UPHEAVAL

Africa, the great black continent whose people have suffered for four centuries under the unrestrained violence of predatory governments, with its people dragged off to be sold in slavery, its boundless natural wealth held to be the natural loot for foreign aggression, has at last entered upon the period which will see its opportunity for liberation.

Asia, the vast yellow and brown continent containing more than half the world's population, is a great cauldron boiling with rebellion. India's 300,000,000 are preparing to revolt against the oppressor. China's 444,000,000 of despised yellow people have at last realised that their only friend among established nations is revolutionary Russia, and are preparing to assert their freedom against the imperialist enemies.

Likewise the little Negro republic of Haiti, the brown men of the Philippines and the other island peoples of color—all are stirring in the great unrest of today.

Under there circumstances the representatives of hundreds of thousands of an oppressed race, coming in a great international assembly, have but fearlessly to face their duty in order to become makers of history.

Africa.

Your duty calls you to struggle against the Imperialists who are looting Africa and subjugating the peoples of that continent. Your determination should be to fight with your and our black brothers of that continent for their full and free right to self-determination, with their right to build whatever independent nation or nations they may desire. Not only as a political party within the borders of the United States, but as a section of the great international political party, the Communist International we stand for driving the imperialist powers out of Africa and for the right of self-determination of the peoples of Africa. In taking this stand we point out that it need not and must not involve a surrender of the Negro's rights and equality in America or any other land. Indeed the liberation of the African peoples is possible only with a co-ordinated internal and international struggle against the imperialist governments who are oppressing Africa, and closely connected with the world-struggle for the liberation of all colonial peoples.

Education.

We gladly observe that you intend to discuss the question of education from the point-of-view of rejecting the so-called educational matter prepared by a ruling class for the poisoning of the minds of the Negro youth, teaching the ideas of inferiority and of submission as willing servants of the class which oppresses them. The educational system of this country is one of the institutions by which the system of oppression is maintained. We are confident that you will remember that the real history of the Negro people is not found in the literature of the class-society which regards them as inferior. The Negro must work to establish his own independent educational material, full with the dignity of its race and its noble achievements, with especial emphasis upon its brave struggle for freedom.

NEGRO POLITICAL UNION

Your proposal to discuss the formation of a "NEGRO POLITICAL UNION" is one of highest importance. Political action is action toward taking over the power to rule. Therefore when an oppressed and exploited people boldly and militantly enters this field it is time for tyrants to tremble.

You approach this subject correctly, as both an international and a domestic problem. Your militant solidarity with the oppressed colonial peoples internationally is an honor to your organization. Your apparent determination to make an equally militant fight for the rights of your people in all lands where they now reside, including the battle against the caste system in the United States, will add to the honor which is due you. For he who will not battle for his rights where he is, can win no rights anywhere.

The most hopeful portent of the future of the UNIVERSAL NEGRO IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION is to be found in the class composition of your organization. For your membership is overwhelmingly composed of the class which will control the future of all nations—the working class. As other classes have ruled in the past, so the working class will in the immediate future become the ruling class in all countries thruout the world. It is the revolutionary working class alone which thru its own enlightened self-interest can and must lay low all barriers of caste and inequalities of races, and which can and must and does call upon all the oppressed peoples of the earth to join as its allies against the common enemy, the imperialists, the capitalist class.

Attitude Toward War.

Your proposal to discuss the Negro's attitude in the next great war, is particularly appropriate at the present time. It is an open secret that the next world war lies in the immediate future, and all the great powers are feverishly preparing for its coming. It will unquestionably be a larger and more terrible war than ever before known to mankind—a universal struggle between the imperialist powers for the world-markets and colonial territories. The re-division of the black, brown and yellow peoples between the great Powers as subjects for exploitation will be the issue. Whether these peoples of color will again allow themselves to be first used as cannon-fodder for their own subjection, and then to be parcelled out as slave-trophies to the victors, remains to be seen. The duty of any colored people, as well as the industrial working class of whatever race, in the coming war is clear: To strike for their own freedom. It is to be hoped that the Fourth International Convention of the UNIVERSAL NEGRO IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION will take a clear and courageous stand on this most vital question, for the sake of the many who look to it for guidance.

IN ADDRESSING KINGS AND PRESIDENTS

We observe in your agenda that you are contemplating sending petitions to "His Excellency the President of the United States," and to "His Majesty King George V. and the Parliament and House of Lords of Great Britain," and to the kings of Italy, Spain and Belgium, and their parliaments, and to the presidents of France and Portugal. Your intended address to these gentlemen would be on behalf of the rights of the Negro in Africa, America and the colonies.

We fraternally suggest to you that these "Excellencies" and "Majesties" are the heads of the imperialist powers which are now engaged in pillaging and strangling the darker races of the earth, as well as exploiting and oppressing the working class, of whatever race, at home. Their power is built upon the exploitation of the groaning millions of colonial and working peoples. To ask the king of Belgium to cease murdering and plundering the black people of the Congo is to ask him to cease to be "His Majesty" and to destroy the vast structure of blood and tyranny of which he is the figure-head, and which largely furnishes the basis of the life of ease and luxury of the ruling class of Belgium. To ask the king of England and his parliament and House of Lords to withhold the whip from the backs of the toilers in the fields of Africa or India, is to ask them to abdicate and pull down the vast pyramid of empire which it is their function to protect. The same applies to such requests to the rulers of Spain, Italy and Portugal. The president of France can and will do nothing for the Negro; but on the contrary must continue the work of enslaving Africa as the "back yard" of an European empire. The American president can and will do practically nothing for the Negro, either in Africa, Haiti, or America. If he turns his attention to Africa, it will be only to compete with the Belgian, French and British governments to seize a portion of Africa for exploitation of American financiers, as Haiti, San Domingo and the Philippines are exploited and their people subjected. About the Negro's right in America, the president will do nothing but to suppress them and to help the southern ruling class to preserve the caste system as an aid to class exploitation, just as his predecessor, President Harding, promised to do in Birmingham, Alabama in 1920. Nor will Mr. Coolidge do anything to help the Negro to leave America, for the American capitalist class for whom the president is the spokesman needs the Negro as exploited wage-slaves or as legions of unorganized soldiers to send thruout the world to die for the ruling class' gain, for the subjection of their black, brown and yellow brothers in foreign colonies or the subjection of the working class everywhere.

To ask any of these "Excellencies" and "Majesties" to undo the wrongs on which they thrive, is like asking pickpockets to ensure the safety of pocketbooks.

THE ENEMIES OF YOUR ENEMIES

We suggest that it is not to your enemies that you should direct your appeals, but to the enemies of your enemies—to those who suffer with you and who have a common interest with you in overthrowing your enemies. In this connection, we will mention again that here is a class struggle going on within each of those imperialist countries—against those "Excellencies" and "Majesties" and against the ruling "class which they represent. In each of those imperialist countries there is a powerful revolutionary working-class movement called the Communist Party (in American the Workers Party) which has the same enemies as you and with whom interest in overthrowing those enemies. The Communist parties in all countries are organized for the purpose of overthrowing the capitalist-imperialist system of each and all countries, liberating all of the suppressed peoples and classes thru establishing the dictatorship of the working class, socialising the means of production and distribution in the hands of the working class, abolishing forever the exploitation of labor and of colonial peoples, destroying all class and caste divisions in society, and thus creating a free world without "superior" and "inferior" classes or races. The Communist parties especially emphasize the indespensability of the colonial peoples breaking away from their capitalist-imperialist masters, as a measure without which no lasting emancipation can be accomplished. This is one basis for our common interest with you. The Russian Communist Party, in establishing the rule of the working class in Russia and in freely liberating all of the suppressed nationalities which had been held in subjection by the Tsarist and capitalist governments of Russia, proves the sincerity of our claim.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS

We note that you will discuss the question of sending an appeal to the League of Nations for turning over to the Negro peoples certain mandatories in Africa, and for amicable adjustments of the race issue and a rearrangement of the system under which Negroes are governed, and that you will discuss the question of the sincerity of the League of Nations as a clearing house for the ills of the world. The so-called "League of Nations" has from the first day of its inception shown itself to be, not a league of nations, but a league of imperialists to strangle the nations. It is a clearing house, not for the ills of the world, but for the plunder of the world. It has never freed an oppressed colonial people, it has never spoken for or listened to a down-trodden class. Systematically from the beginning it has used every device of violence, fraud and hypocrisy to perpetuate every enslavement and to add many more. To ask this league of international bandits to do anything for the freedom of colonial peoples, is to ask them to defeat their own purpose—It would be like asking the late president of the Southern Confederacy, Jefferson Davis, to write the Emancipation Proclamation. We trust that your discussion of the League of Nations will result in your reaffirming the position taken in your "Declaration of Independence" adopted by your First Convention:

"Be it further resolved that we as a race of people declare the League of Nations null and void as far as the Negro is concerned, in that it seeks to deprive Negroes of their liberty."

COMMUNIST INTERNATIONAL

We fraternally suggest that there is another international league which is far more potent to give aid to the classes and races struggling for freedom. The League of Nations is the international organization for the purpose of holding down all suppressed classes and peoples. The Communist International is the international league for the liberation of all suppressed classes and peoples. It is to this body that such appeals can more effectively be addressed. At the world congresses of the Communist International the representative of oppressed colonial peoples and of the working class everywhere come together for the sole purpose of considering ways and means for liberation. Your representatives would find themselves honored guests at its deliberations. The people that is ever held to be loyal to freedom by the Communist International, over the ruins of the so-called "League of Nations."

* * *

THE AMERICAN NEGRO

The American Negro no less than the peoples of color abroad has entered the period of the great awakening. The Negro in this country is fast approaching the crisis when he will act and must stand uncompromisingly for his full and free equality in all the phases of life on exactly the basis enjoyed by any other race. The WORKERS PARTY OF AMERICA, composed of men and women of all races, pledges itself to stand with you for full and complete equality without reservation or evasion.

The twelve million Negroes of the United States are no longer the meek and hopeless group, consenting to remain under the yoke of a superior class, which they were supposed to be before the world war. They are now fired with the determination to take and hold their place as the equals of all other men.

You as leaders of your race, meet in the greatest Negro city in the world, the metropolis of the country which is the virtual center of the Negro world. Yet as you meet here today you are not accorded the full rights of men and women in the civilization which surrounds you, as evidenced by the fact that the accommodations of this city, hotels, restaurants and theaters, although partly the product of the industry and the genius of your people, will be largely closed to you as to a lower and despised caste, in disregard of the dignity and importance of your mission. The resentment of such injustice we join you, as well as in determination not to rest until the last vestige of this caste system is removed.

The labor and suffering of millions of black men and women have been a major factor in transforming a wilderness and building the wealth of this country. This is as much a Negro's as it is a white man's country, and it is the duty of the Negro to claim his equal rights within it.

Race Problem in South.

You propose to discuss ways and means of adjusting the race problem of the southern states "to the satisfaction of all concerned." We would not be willing to join in any attempt to settle the race problem to the satisfaction of the southern white ruling caste. We should like, however, to pose you the real issue in question to the satisfaction of the Negro workers and the white workers on the basis of exact equality and the complete abolition of the caste system. This can only be done by bringing the Negro workers and the white workers together for a common class struggle for the overthrow of the cotton kings, the financial emperors and industrial lords of this country. A ruling class has never yet willingly surrendered its privileges. It is a proven fact of history that an oppressed class can liberate itself only by organizing itself and struggling for its own independent political power.

* * *

KU KLUX KLAN

The WORKERS PARTY observes that you propose to discuss the Ku Klux Klan, and that you specify that the discussion should be "without prejudice." This is a subject which it is extremely difficult for us to approach without prejudice. We frankly admit that we have been prejudiced against the Ku Klux Klan by the following unquestionable facts:

1. The Klan is devoted to the principle of "White Supremacy," meaning the preservation and further enlargement of a caste system in the United States, which places the Negro race must forever remain a despised and terrorized caste, subject to murder and pillage as well as inhuman exploitation, without political, social or industrial equality. The "Imperial Wizard" of the Klan, H. W. Evans, in a public speech at Dallas, Texas, on October 24, 1923, officially speaking for the Klan, gave the basis of its program of criminal operations against the Negro as follows:

"First, there is the Negro—10,500,000. They have not, they cannot attain to Anglo-Saxon level. Both biology and anthropology prove it. The low mentality of savage ancestors is inherent in the blood-stream of the colored race in America. No new environment can more than superficially overcome this age-old hereditary handicap."

2. The organization based upon this false, unscientific, debased and contemptible attitude toward the Negro, attempts to put its theory in practice by mobbing, hanging, burning at the stake, disfranchising and terrorizing the colored population of the United States, and in communities where the Negroes "form the majority population" as well as where they are a minority.

3. The Klan takes a similar attitude toward, and attempts the same methods against, members of other races and of religious faiths different from their own.

4. The Klan, altho it deludes some workingmen into its support, is in effect a weapon of violence and terror against the entire working class, black and white, for the benefit of the ruling class. It is a class instrument for the oppression of the working class, of whatever race.

In view of the facts regarding the Klan, we trust that you will pledge yourselves with us not to rest until the last vestige of the Klan is extinguished from the land, and until its philosophy of "White (capitalist class) Supremacy" and hatred of the Negro as a lower caste is rooted out.

* * *

THE NEGRO AND THE LABOR MOVEMENT

The WORKERS PARTY notes with interest that your program adopted in 1920 contains the articles:

"VII. We are discriminated against and denied an equal chance to earn wages for the support of our families, and in many instances are refused admission into labor unions, and nearly everywhere are paid smaller wages than white men,"—and

"23. We declare it inhuman and unfair to boycott Negroes from industries and labor in any part of the world."

The Workers Party regrets that the direct question of NEGRO LABOR, as treated above, does not appear on your agenda this year for further development and for the consideration of concrete plans to win the rights of the Negro in the industrial labor movement. The fact that certain middle-class Negro and mixed organizations have taken up this issue, some assuming the most treacherous and reactionary position and others taking more advanced positions, makes it possibly necessary that your organization should consider this vital question which is more pressing today than ever before. More than one-third of the Negro people in the United States, since the northward migration, live in cities and towns, a considerable number are engaged in industrial labor. Your organization is composed overwhelmingly of the best class in modern society—the industrial working class. This is the class which is historically destined to lead in the coming liberation of the world. Therefore it would be inappropriate for your organization to leave the question of the Negro's rights in the labor movement, in the hands of middle-class intellectual leaders who by the very nature of their economic class interests are bound ultimately to lead the Negro working masses astray.

The WORKERS PARTY fraternally suggests the urgent need of your taking up at your convention the question of the Negro's rights and duties in the Labor Movement, and discussing it on the basis of the primary demand for full social, political, and industrial equality of all races, and the solidarity of the working class. On this basis we will promise you our most energetic support. We should especially like to co-ordinate our efforts with yours in a drive to open the doors of all labor unions (or such of them as pow discriminate) to the full and equal admission of Negro workers, with the demand for equal wages and no discrimination in obtaining work; and, further, in a plan for the complete organization of Negro labor with the white workers in the same unions. This involves the need of educating the white workers to eradicate the influence of capitalist propaganda which purposely plays each race against the other. We stand uncompromisingly for the right of Negroes to engage in industrial or any other work on an equal basis with white workers.

Crystalizing of Class Lines.

We take the liberty of reminding you that the drawing of class lines within the Negro race is an inevitable historical fact, bound to be more and more evident as the struggle sharpens. This is already shown by the numerous cases in which prominent Negroes have for their own sordid interests gone into the service of the ruling class and caste as purveyors of "Negro support." We find colored politicians slavishly serving the governmental and political machine which represses their people. We find Negro teachers who deliberately attempt to defend the segregated school system on the servile theory that only in "jim crow" schools can Negroes teach, instead of taking the manly stand that Negro teachers have the right to teach in any school and that color-discrimination in schools but lays the foundation for all of the future "jim-crow" existance of the Negro. We find Negro real-estate speculators deliberately supporting the segregation of Negroes in "black belt" districts to give themselves the best opportunity to exploit their own people at exorbitant rents. Worst of all, we find certain Negro leaders trying to demoralise the Negro working class in the interest of the capitalist exploiters. In short, we find a whole class of Negro bourgeoisie tending to ally itself with the ruling class against their own race of the working class. The racial solidarity of the Negro masses with Negro leaders who betray them to the ruling class, is a serious danger to Negro freedom. As Karl Marx, the great founder of the Communist movement said: "The more the ruling class is able to assimilate the most prominent men of a ruled class, the more solid and dangerous is its rule." (Capital, vol. III, chap. XXXVI.)

The Religious Question.

We note that a subject on your agenda for discussion is the religious question. We trust that you will follows from the historical fact that nearly all movements for the Negro's emancipation in the past have been associated with religious movements. One of the first phases of the struggle was the movement for the Negro's right to practice in the religious observances of the white race; the earliest forms of Negro slave gatherings and organizations were of religious nature. It was no accident that the brave Negro preacher, Nat Turner, was one to organize and lead his people in a revolt for freedom. It was in the logic of history that the early leaders of the Negro people have been preachers. But as your leader, President-General Garvey, has had occasion to point out, the ruling class of this country has not had the interests of the Negro at heart in teaching him the religion of the ruling class. Speaking of the encroachments upon the independence of colored peoples, Mr. Garvey has truly said: "The capitalists send their agents. The first agents are the missionaries. He is the advance guard. The preacher, the so-called minister of the Gospel, who is part of the modern material organization, who is the advance guard of commercialism, graft and plunder and rum and murder. He was the advance guard in Africa, and to-day there is nothing in Africa but robbery and plunder, east and west, north and south. The same thing they are doing in South America, robbing, exploiting and "civilizing" the heathen. This is the modern trend of Christianity as followed out by the white man." We trust that in your discussion of the religious question progress will be made toward the realisation that the Negro's road to freedom lies not in imitating the beliefs and institutions of a society that was built upon his subjection, but in freeing himself from all superstitions and embracing modern scientific thot.

The WORKERS PARTY OF AMERICA greets you, Brothers and Sisters of all lands, wishing the utmost success in the struggle of your Race for freedom.

THE WORKERS PARTY OF AMERICA,
WILLIAM Z. FOSTER, National Chairman.
C. E. RUTHENBERG, National Executive Secretary.

Your Union Meeting

First Tuesday, August 5, 1924.

No.	Name of Local and Place of Meeting
39	Amalgamated Clothing Workers, Kedzie and Ogden Ave.
61	Amalgamated Clothing Workers, 1564 N. Robey St.
152	Amalgamated Clothing Workers, 175 W. Washington St.
270	Amalgamated Clothing Workers, 409 S. Halsted St.
47	Asbestos Workers, 180 W. Washington St.
30	Bindery Workers, 19 W. Adams St.
588	Boiler Makers, Chicago & Western.
598	Boiler Makers & Workers, 1939 Milwaukee Ave.
49	Brick and Clay Workers, Clark and Devon.
21	Bricklayers, 912 W. Monroe St.
136	B. S. I. W., 738 W. Madison St.
275	B. S. I. W., 3127 S. Ashland Ave.
58	Carpenters, Diversey and Sheffield.
1127	Carpenters, 8023 S. 75th St.
271	Carpenters, 9442 Cottage Grove Ave.
1727	Carpenters, Moose Hall, Chicago Heights, Ill.
1128	Carpenters, Moose Hall, La Grange, Ill.
1727	Carpenters, 10th St. Hall, North Chicago.
1786	Carpenters, Springfield and 26th.
15	Coopers, 2325 S. Halsted St.
885	Electricians, Armitage and Crawford.
2	Elevator Constructors, 2901 West Monroe Street.
402	Engineers, 180 W. Washington St.
188	Firemen and Enginemen, Lake and Francisco Street.
22	Hatters, 166 W. Washington St.
5	Hod Carriers, 25 E. 15th St. Chicago Heights, Ill.
81	Hod Carriers, 180 W. Harrison St.
1	Ladies' Garment Workers, 328 W. Van Buren St.
390	Machinists, 3217 Sheffield Ave.
842	Machinists, 7414 Wentworth Ave.
1	Maintainers of Way, 5445 Lawndale Ave.
1072	Maintenance of Way, 3127 W. 38th Street.
1	Marine Fire and Oilers, 357 No. Clark St.
320	Meat Cutters, 11405 Michigan Ave.
16	Painters, 35th and Wood.
140	Painters, 20 W. Randolph St.
147	Painters, N. W. cor. California and Madison.
184	Painters, 5414 S. Halsted St.
191	Painters, N. W. cor. State and 55th.
225	Painters, 9202 So. Chicago Ave.
275	Painters, 220 W. Oak St.
371	Painters, Chicago Heights, Carpenters' Hall.
396	Painters, 810 W. Harrison.
521	Painters, Trumbull and Ogden Ave.
637	Painters, Morgan and Peoria Sts.
700	Railway Carmen, 2345 S. Keeler Av.
1010	Railway Carmen, 1128 W. 18th St.
333	Railway Clerks, 11411 Michigan Av.
1505	Railway Clerks, 5456 Wentworth Ave.
2319	Railway Clerks, 509 W. Washington.
222	Railroad Trainmen, 20 W. Randolph Street.
69	Signalmen, 425 W. 63rd St.
17183	Stereotypion Slide Wkrs., Great Northern Hotel.
83	Switchmen, 901 E. 75th St.
712	Teamsters, Laundry, 220 S. Ashland Blvd.
12787	Tent and Awning Makers, Washtenaw and Wabansia Ave.
17352	Theatre Wardrobe Attendants, 912 Capitol Bldg., 7 p. m.
16171	Waiters, 234 W. Randolph St.
	Ward Superintendents, Palmer House, 2180 p. m.

(Note—Unless otherwise stated all meetings are at 8 p. m.)

Party Activities Of Local Chicago

BRANCH MEETINGS

Tuesday, August 5

City Central Committee Meeting—3720 Hirsch Blvd.
Matters to be taken up:
1. Further Details of the W. P. Election Campaign.
2. Activities of various language units and problems.
3. Industrial registration.
4. Final arrangements for the Press Picnic.
Czecho-Slovak, Town of Lake—Bohemian Fraternity School, Whipple and South 51st Street.

Wednesday, August 6

Roumanian Branch—2254 Clybourn Ave.
Douglas Park—Jewish—1202 W. Division St.
Irving Park—Scandinavian Karl Marx—2733 Hirsch Blvd.

Friday, August 8

Scandinavian—South Chicago, 641 E. 61st Street.
Letlish—4339 Thomas Street.
Lithuanian—Town of Lake—Bohemian Freethink School Rovnost, Maxfield Ave. near 22nd.

Saturday, August 9

Daily Worker Agents' Meeting—7:30 p. m. at 1113 W. Washington Blvd.
Press Picnic Committee Meeting—1902 W. Washington St., Room 307, 2 p. m.

Send in that Subscription Today.

FURNISHED ROOMS, APARTMENTS AND BUNGALOWS.

REDS COMING TO WASHINGTON, D. C.
Furnished Rooms, $10 to $25 a Month.
Apartments, $25 to $60 a Month.
Bungalows, $45 to $75 a Month.
Mrs. Batelar, 32 G Street, S. W. Washington, D. C.

GERMAN COMMUNISTS' ANTI-WAR DEMONSTRATIONS UPSET SOCIALISTS

BERLIN, August 4.—Shouts of "Down with war," "Down with the murderous reichswehr" and "Long live the Soviet Republic" broke up the hypocritical mourning of the German socialists and nationalists for the war dead. The Communists completed the demonstrations of their Anti-Capitalist War week by attending the "mourning" at which President Ebert was making the address and showered thousands of red leaflets denouncing the wars of capitalism and the betraying yellow socialists of the Second International.

The government had extra forces of police and militia stationed about the city and these immediately took action against the Communists, beating hundreds of them brutally with their clubs and throwing many in jail. The fascisti unofficially aided the police and attacked all known Communists seen on the streets. Hitler-Ludendorff forces also led in the fighting.

Communists led vast parades of workers with banners calling for the masses to enlist in the last war against the international bourgeoisie.

COMMUNIST WOMEN GATHER FROM ALL LANDS IN GREAT CONGRESS

(Rosta News.)

MOSCOW, (By Mail.)—After the close of the V World Congress of the Third (Communist) International, there was held here the Third International Conference of Communist Women. Women-delegates were appointed to this Conference from the Communist Parties of all the countries of the West, as well as Japan, China, Mongolia, Turkey, Persia and other Oriental countries. Women-representatives of Communist Parties from all the outlying regions of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics attended.

Besides Communist women-delegates, there have been invited to the Conference also women from Oriental countries who, tho they may not have formally joined the Party, are however in sympathy with the Communist movement.

The World of Labor • Industry & Agriculture

RESTORE WAGES MILITANTS OF A. C. W. DEMAND

Exposes Camouflaged Cut in Wages

Members of the Trade Union Educational League in the Amalgamated Clothing Workers met Tuesday night to consider the situation in the industry. The issue of the "readjustment" which has just been carried out was uppermost in the minds of the members. After a short discussion, in which most of the 75 members present took part, the following statement was unanimously adopted:

THE READJUSTMENT IN THE MEN'S CLOTHING INDUSTRY IN CHICAGO.
A Statement by the Needle Trades Section, T. U. E. L.

Workers in the men's clothing industry have awakened to the fact that a general reduction in earnings have taken place in the Chicago market, without previous warning and without any struggle being made to prevent it. How was this possible? It was accomplished under the pretext of granting readjustments to particular manufacturers, whose costs, so it was claimed, were above the general level of the market; and under cover of this pretext the employers generally have been able, in many cases with the assistance of the officials of the union, to reduce the general level of earnings in the entire market.

When the real adjustments were entered upon, it was stated to meetings of the shop chairman: "We have been able to convince the manufacturers that they should withdraw their demands for a general reduction. But there are individual cases of outstanding manufacturers who can succeed fully prove just claims for readjustments, where they can show that their manufacturing costs are above the general level of the market. In such cases we consider that it is better to grant these readjustments and save the manufacturers' standing in the market, rather than have our people thrown out of employment."

But what have been the actual developments under this "readjustment" plan?

Out of 35,000 workers in the market, not less than 5,000 have had their wages cut thru readjustment of prices, or thru laying off of week workers and reorganization of shops with assistance of union officials.

Throout the market, in those shops where direct readjustment of prices has not taken effect, the actual earning power of the workers has been reduced by raising the requirements of quality in production.

In innumerable shops the earnings have reduced by production of new models, with new and lower prices, which enables the employers to make more profits, but under which the workers make less wages.

We can estimate that at least half the workers in Chicago have been directly affected, and most have felt the effects indirectly, in the smaller pay at the end of the week.

What has been the extent of the reductions? As complete and systematic compilations of figures for the entire market cannot be made except by the union, we will have to wait for the exact figures. But inquiries in all the principal shops gives us an idea of how far this reduction has been carried.

Workers from various sections of representative shops all over the city report that:

ACTUAL EARNINGS FOR A 44-HOUR WEEK ARE NOW FROM 15 PER CENT to 20 PER CENT LESS THAN FOR THE PAST TWO SEASONS.

• • •

Workers in the clothing industry! These are the conditions in Chicago today. We have been fooled into accepting a reduction that we would never have agreed to if we had known the truth. We have found ourselves led into a general reduction of earnings, under the guise of "readjustments."

The workers in shops have protested against these reductions. They have been ready to fight against them. But they have found this impossible, because they were isolated, each shop by itself, and the general membership in ignorance of what was going on thruout the market.

In order to fight against this reduction, it is necessary that all the workers shall know what is going on. We must all know that our wages are being generally cut, and that we must make a general fight.

Demand a complete investigation of the extent and nature of the reductions of wages and raising of quality standards thruout the Chicago market!

Demand that the local unions, and the officers of the organization, shall make an explanation of this camouflaged surrender to the bosses!

Demand that the general level of wages shall be restored to what they were in the past seasons!

Demand that the union shall prepare to fight if necessary to restore our former earning power!. Signed:

Needle Trades Section, T. U. E. L.
Erwin Gersh, Secretary.

Tablets or Liquid
Sold Everywhere

LEOPOLD MANAGEMENT FIRES STRIKE LEADERS; "WANT NO UNION MEN"

By KARL REEVE.
(Special to the Daily Worker.)

MORRIS, Ill., August 4.—Nathan Leopold, Sr., is reaping enormous profits running his Morris paper mills twenty-four hours a day, fleecing the younger citizens of Morris coming and going.

When asked if unions were allowed in the plant, the bookkeeper of the plant replied: "No! Last week the two leaders of the caddie department strike were fired for talking unionism after returning to work. We don't want any union men here; we've had too much trouble with them. The company is the only one in Morris working steadily. What would Morris do without the paper mill?"

The Leopold plant on the night shift works from five-thirty until seven in the morning with the same wages of $3.50 to $4.00 a day as are paid for the ten-hour day shift. This is the paper making foundry.

Most of the girls, I find, are started in at twelve dollars a week in the box factory on the same jobs where the men make fifteen dollars. No wonder Leopold will allow no unions.

Canada Finds Sales Tax Like Mellon's Is Burden on Business

OTTAWA, Can., Aug. 4.—When the big business men of Canada were demanding a sales tax on food and clothing a few years ago, the Canadian Cooperative Union stood almost alone among organized bodies in denouncing this tax as economically unsound, and morally unjust. It declared that the tax would place a heavy handicap on business, would reduce the purchasing power of the consumer, increase unemployment, and prove so expensive of collection as to defeat its own end.

Now comes the Canadian Manufacturers Association with the discovery that the sales tax is injuring business, and that instead of making bigger profits for the manufacturers, it has raised the cost of living to such an extent that people are not buying. The cost of the tax, it seems, has been pyramided to such an extent by jobbers, wholesalers, brokers, commission agents, retailers, and other middlemen that the consumer often has to pay several times the original tax.

This is the same sort of sales tax that Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and Senator Smoot have been endeavoring to foist upon the American people so as to reduce taxes on big incomes.

Russian Grain Will Go Into Balkans and Holland, Not Germany

MOSCOW, Aug. 4.—The cessation of commercial deals with Germany cannot affect the carrying out of the Ukrainian grain export programme, according to Mr. Volynsky, director of the all-Ukrainian office of the "Exportkhleb" (Grain Exporting Syndicate).

Indeed, previous to the recent Russo-German incident, the center of gravity of Soviet grain exports had shifted from Germany to the Baltic States and Holland. Under such conditions and owing to an increaseddemand on their part, the grain originally destined for Germany can be disposed of in these countries.

RIVERVIEW—RAIN OR SHINE
AUGUST 10th—SUNDAY
PRESS PICNIC DAY

LA FOLLETTE IS REPUDIATED BY READING F.-L.

Backs Candidates of Workers Party

By ABRAM JAKIRA.
(Special to the Daily Worker)

READING, Pa., Aug. 4.—The Farmer-Labor Party of Berks County adopted a resolution condemning the petty bourgeois LaFollette movement and endorsing the candidates of the Workers Party as the only working class candidates now in the field. The statement issued by the Reading Farmer-Labor Party among other things states:

"To make the issue clear, we do not favor LaFollette and Wheeler because they are supporters of the capitalist system. We cannot conceive that with the interests back of them, they will do very much 'to eradicate the evils that exist.

"As for the labor leaders who have swallowed this concoction it is evident to us that there is very little difference between them and the average politician. They were careful to retain their standing in their own localities with the political parties they assume they are fighting against, and they endorse LaFollette as an independent candidate, which left them free in their states to support the friends of labor in the old parties.

"It is beyond our understanding how they can reconcile themselves to this condition. Excepting that they see a fighting chance to find a place to hang their hats on.

Still a Republican.

"LaFollette declared himself still a Republican, and only reiterating against the present machine. Wheeler likewise announced himself still a democrat for the same reasons. They are only opposed to the worst forms of the existing system of things.

"As members of working class political parties and labor unions for many years, we can not see any real value in supporting such elements.

"In the struggle for a better and freer life we know the impossibility of trying to keep one foot in capitalist parties and the other in a working class party and make progress at the same time.

"Neither can we see how, after years of agitation among the working class, these men who pointed out the absolute necessity of a working class party that should be owned and controlled by the workers at all times, can now say: 'it's something just as good,' or 'a step in the right direction,' and suddenly shift and say 'Vote for LaFollette and Wheeler.'

Confuses the Workers.

"We, the members of the Farmer-Labor Party, consider the LaFollette-Wheeler movement as one that tends to confuse the workers and those dissatisfied with existing wrongs. The idea of a labor party growing out of it looks deceptive, because to circulate petitions in every state for LaFollette and Wheeler entails just as much work and effort as it would for a real labor party. To organize campaign committees and clubs for the collection of money and other political work, such as meetings, etc., means the same effort for LaFollette and Wheeler as it would for a real labor party.

"We know that the Workers Party was the first to try to form a real labor party that stands for a farmers' and workers' government. It has not changed its attitude to meet the desires of a few men. Foster and Gitlow have always been outspoken against the reactionary elements, both in the labor movement and out of it, and have been active in such important movements like the amalgamation of craft unions into industrial unions."

• • •

Chester Headquarters.

CHESTER, Pa., Aug. 4.—The City Central Committee, which was recently organized in this city, has now secured regular headquarters at 73, Caldwell street. From now on the meetings of the City Central will be held at the headquarters every first and third Mondays. The English branch meets at the same place every Thursday evening. Non-party members are invited to attend and get acquainted with the work of the Workers Party. Many comrades from Chester have attended the Rutheberg-Foster meeting in Philadelphia and arrangements are now being made to carry out the new policy. The Chester English branch made its first ten dollar contribution to the Foster-Gitlow campaign fund.

Send in that Subscription Today.

FIGHT MILITARISM OF CAPITAL BY JOINING INTERNATIONAL RED RELIEF, GERMAN PARTY PLEADS

The German Working Class Fights for the Liberation of its Political Prisoners.

Workers of Great Britain! Join the Front!

According to the decision of the National Executive Committee of the Communist Party of Germany and of the Central Committee of the German "Red Relief," an intensified campaign takes place from July 27 to August 4 for the political prisoners and for the International Red Relief. The German party considers it necessary to organize.

A Day for the Proletarian Victims of the Civil War, in connection with the protest actions which will take place in the anniversary days of the outbreak of the world war.

At present more than 7,000 revolutionary workers are in the prisons of the German bourgeoisie. They are mostly workers organized in the trade unions, who, in the months of inflation, fought against the low wages, the profiteers, the dollar speculations, and starvation. These brave and honest revolutionists whose courageous actions in the inflation months of last year found the approval of the great majority of the German population, have been thrown into prison by hundreds and thousands. Bourgeois judges have tried them for breaches of peace, riot, high treason, and whatever the names of the "crimes" may be. Thousands of fathers, old and young proletarians and working women were thrown for more than a decade into the damp and dark graves of prisons. Heart-rending scenes took place before the courts when the harsh sentences were passed, when the father was torn from the family and the mother from her helpless children for many, many years.

What misery, what painful sorrow reign today in thousands of proletarian families! The father in prison, the mother unemployed because she is the wife of a "rebel," the children ill, starving, tuberculous, scrofulous. Who still possesses human feelings must be moved at this. There is no help from anywhere. The State does nothing for the families of political criminals!

The International Proletariat Must Help!

Working men and working women we appeal to you!

Help the German Workers in their struggle for the political prisoners!

Show your solidarity during the militant week of the German workers.

Arrange meetings everywhere, during this week. Uncover the horror in the German prisons. Show the proletariat of your country the hypocrisy of the German bourgeoisie which howls its indignation at the 1,500 German prisoners in the prisons of the French bourgeoisie, but permits 8,300 German workers to rot miserably in the GERMAN PRISONS.

The protest against the imprisonment of German workers must find a resounding echo in all countries!

Workers! Help your German fellow-workers in their struggle! You, too, collect money for the support of the victims of German reaction!

In Russia two million workers have already joined the organization of the "International Red Relief."

Comrades! Assist the organization of the "Red Relief" in your country.

Join the International Red Relief!
Collect for the German Prisoners!
Raise your protest, demonstrate for an amnesty for the revolutionary workers in the German jails!
Show that you are class fighters!
Demonstrate your solidarity! Help!

THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF THE "INTERNATIONAL RED RELIEF."
Central European Bureau.

MASS TRIALS IN GERMANY.

According to a statement of the legal department of the Central Bureau of the "Red Relief," in the time from January 1st, 1924 to April 1st, 1924, 8,448 accused have received legal aid. In all parts of Germany mass trials are taking place against revolutionary workers who participated in the disturbances of the inflation period of last year. In January there were 2,500, in February 2,000, in March 2,500 and in April over 3,000 political trials. In contradistinction to the proceedings against counter-revolutionary officers and students, the condemned revolutionary workers are never put upon probation. In the majority of cases they are sentenced to hard labor. Membership in the Communist Party during the time of illegality is pushed with a fine of 3,000 gold marks (150 pound sterling.) In all the trials maltreatment of the prisoners by the police at the time of arrest has been revealed. The families of the prisoners are in great suffering and need.

At present there are 8,250 working class political prisoners in Germany. As the general misery in Germany is great, the families of the political prisoners suffer terribly. The German "Red Relief" is at present carrying thru its fourth collection campaign for the proletarian victims of this class struggle.

Workers of Great Britain! Workers of America!

Help the proletarian prisoners of the German bourgeoisie! Send "Red Relief!"

A Revolutionary Poet Is Dying in Prison!

In the Bavarian prison of Niederschoenfeld, in the country of Monarchist reaction lies the revolutionary poet Erich Muhsam under a sentence of fifteen years. He has suffered already for five long years and he must still suffer another ten. He is fifty-five years old and in the last weeks he has become seriously ill. Bavarian reaction, however, does not allow him to enter a hospital, but holds him to perish miserably in the damp prison cell.

And this is the fate of 8,350 workers and revolutionary intellectuals in Germany today.

Workers and Intellectuals of Great-Britain! of America! Protest against this shame in the German prisons!

Send "Red Relief" to the prisoners!

"We Lack Tobacco!"

The "International Red Relief" has received the following letter from the Saxon prison of Waldheim:

"Comrades! If you want to relieve our sufferings and the monotony of our prison life, please send us tobacco and cigarettes. Every single cigarette is a light spot in our miserable lives."

Workers of Great Britain, of America! Send tobacco for the "International Red Relief!"

Murder and Outrage of the Dead by The Gerhan Police!

What shameful cultural conditions rule in the present Germany of Marx and Stresemann! In Mecklenburg, the country of the German junkers, recently Comrade Harry was shot by a policeman "whilst attempting to escape." The seriously wounded comrade was not, however, carried to the hospital, where his life might have been saved, but to the police station, where dying, he was tortured to induce him to give his name. He remained there for one hour without his wounds being bandaged. In the hospital where he was later taken, the torture was continued despite the energetic protest of the doctors. The eyes of the dying prisoner were covered with camphor to prevent him from falling asleep forever. But the illegal comrade Harry took the secret of his identity with him to his death. However, the German police did not shrink from a profanation of his dead body. They dressed the corpse with a suit and collar and tie, photographed him and took his finger prints.

All this outdoes the conditions which prevailed in Germany during the 30 years war. At that time people were at least only killed, but today they are killed and their bodies outraged.

Workers of Great Britain, of America! Protest against these shameful conditions in Germany! Protest against the maltreatment of your class comrades by the German police!

Long life the international solidarity!

Agitate for the "International Red Relief!"

They Transport Us Like Wild Beasts!

The following incident, which caused a great sensation when it was revealed at the trial, shows the state of justice in the free republic of Seeckt and Ebert. An accused Bartel was taken from the prison in Prenzlau by two policemen with a cord around his neck, like an animal. He was transported with this cord, which ended at his hand with a knot, in an overcrowded train from Prenzlau to Berlin among the general public and in this revolting manner he was taken by tramway in Berlin from one station to the other and from there in a third class carriage to Liepzig. This manner of transporting a political prisoner caused even the consternation of the fascist president of the State Court in Leipzig.

Workers of Great Britain, of America! Protest against the maltreatment of your fellow workers by the German police!

Agitate for the "International Red Relief!"

Packed on a Lorry One on Top of the Other!

On the occasion of the disturbances in Bergedorf near Hamburg, arrested workers were brutally maltreated. One worker received a kick from a policeman, which caused his death after great pain. The arrested workers were loaded like slaughtered animals into the lorries, one on top of the other and on top of them all trampled heavily armed policemen. Through this transportation, several workers had arms broken and face bones smashed. To the screams of the prisoners, the lorries drove thru the village to Hamburg. In various villages, thru which the prisoner transports passed, the workers went on strike as a protest against the social democratic police president, who was responsible for these inhuman prisoner transports, and the social democratic workers hung up their Party books on the roadside trees.

Before the police presidium, the prisoners had to pass through a cordon of police by whom they were beaten with truncheons. If all the tortures of the prisoners were recorded, the resultant volume would be thick and heavy.

Workers of Great Britain, of America! Protest against the maltreatment of your class comrades by the German police!

Agitate for the "International Red Relief!"

The Wives of the Prisoners Are Persecuted by the Police!

The Communist fractions of the Reichstag and the Diet frequently receive complaints from women, whose husbands have disappeared since the last fights, that the police continuously visit their homes in order to discover the whereabouts of their husbands. The women are threatened with imprisonment to induce them to make confessions. They are summoned to the police station and there they are insulted and threatened. One woman in Furstenwalde who refused to reveal the whereabouts of her husband to the police was deprived of the unemployment relief on account of her refusal.

Workers of Great Britain, of America! Protest against the maltreatment of your class comrades by the German police!

Agitate for the "International Red Relief!"

"Red Relief" Is Necessary!

The "Red Relief" continuously receives appeals from the families of political prisoners, saying that they cannot live on the support they receive from the "Red Relief." "I have no potatoes and not the least bit of bread. My children would be glad if they could have a piece of dry bread."

Workers of Great Britain, of America! Join the "International Red Relief! Form a section of the "International Red Relief" in your country!

Collect unceasingly for the "Red Relief!"

(Editor's Note: In the United States the International Workers Aid, national headquarters at 19 So. Lincoln St., Chicago, Ill., represents the Red Relief.)

"BETTER BABY" SHOW FOR BUDDING SLAVES IN LEOPOLD COUNTY

MORRIS, Aug. 4.—A Better Baby show will be held at the Grundy county fair on August 8-9 in Mazon, to make better babies, more healthy, energetic babies, whose energy, at an all too early age will be fed to the father of Nathan Leopold, Jr., slayer and pervert. One out of every ten in Morris work in the plant.

The officers of the Morris Paper Mills Company, which is controlled in addition to Nathan Leopold, President and majority stockholder, are: J. C. Gedwin, vice-president; W. H. Beckwith, mills manager; Foreman Leopold, treasurer; and A. G. Salinberg, secretary.

Studebaker Reports Plenty of Profits; But Lays Off Workers

(Special to The DAILY WORKER)

NEW YORK, August 4.—"Despite the generally unsatisfactory conditions of business this year," stated President Erskine of the Studebaker corporation, in his report, "we nearly made our full years' dividend in the first six months, the net being $3.55 a share for the common stock."

The corporation reported net profits of $4,030,010 for the last quarter. This is about half of the reported earnings for the two preceding quarters, and one-third as much as the record breaking earnings of $13,371,174 in the first three months of 1923.

The workers at South Bend, Ind., however, have not shared in the profits and many have been laid off.

Worker's Speech Restored

SPRINGLAKE, N. J., Aug. 4.—John Hansen of Manasquan was struck over the head by a policeman last year and the resulting skull fracture deprived him of the power to speak. Today Hansen can again talk normally because of an unsual operation in which part of his shin-bone and part of the fatty tissue of his abdomen were substituted for the fractured section of skull bone.

MOSCOW OPENS ENGLISH CLUB FOR VISITORS

Russian Comrades Give to English-speakers

The Central Executive Committee of the Workers Party is in receipt of the following letter in regard to the opening of a club for English speaking immigrants and Party members in Moscow:

"To the Central Committee
Workers Party of America.
Dear Comrades:

The above Bureau of the Moscow Committee of the Russian Communist Party has opened a Club at the above address for the use of English-speaking immigrants who are either Party members or factory workers.

The Club building is the old headquarters of the Moscow Committee which has bombed by Anarchists in 1919 on which occasion a number of comrades, members of the M. C. were killed. The building has been rebuilt, and the R. C. P. commemorates the death of these comrades by giving the building as a Club for political immigrants who seek refuge in Workers' Russia.

In the Club we have established a Library and Reading Room, in order to keep foreign comrades in touch with the movement in the English speaking countries.

The Bureau is asking the Communist Parties of the English-speaking countries to accept patronage of the Club. This will entail the supply of Party newspapers and publications. Also, if the Party has spare books and other literature we shall be glad of same for the Library.

Comrades visiting Russia will be welcomed both to the Party fraction meetings and to the Club.

With Communist Greetings,
(Signed) H. M. EMERY,
Secretary of the Bureau."

The Central Executive Committee of the Workers Party has been very glad to give its support to this club and is sending all of its Party publications to the Club.

British Warship Proceeds to Butt Into Brazil Fight

RIO DE JANEIRO, August 4.—The federal troops have taken Sao Paulo, according to official statistics. The rebels are being pursued in their retreat.

The British warship Curlew was ordered by the English House of Lords to proceed from Trinidad Island to Brazil.

The United States did not send the navy cruiser in response to the plea of the American consul at Santos.

Faithful Comrade Praised.

PORTLAND, Ore., August 4.—Comrade Shovee has resigned as city agent for the DAILY WORKER, according to the report of F. Levitt, secretary of the C. C. C. The committee found Shovee's reasons sufficient and desires to express its deep gratitude for the work he has done. Comrade Shovee was an earnest and efficient worker.

Joe Ganapole, 80 Third St., has taken over the work as DAILY WORKER agent and all communications should be addressed to him.

Roumanian-U. S. Treaty

BUCHAREST, Aug. 4.—The United States and Roumania have signed an extradition treaty thru the American Minister Jay and Foreign Minister Duca of Roumania. This will enable Roumania to accept deportees from the United States and to send back any "wanted" persons to the U. S.

Send in that Subscription Today.

RUBBER STAMPS AND SEALS
IN ENGLISH AND IN ALL FOREIGN LANGUAGES
INK, PADS, DATERS, RUBBER TYPE, Etc.
NOBLER STAMP & SEAL CO.
73 W. VanBuren St.
Phone Wabash 8680
CHICAGO
MAIL ORDERS PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO

Improve Your Property
Damaged Buildings Restored.
LOANS TO IMPROVE
New Floors, Fronts, Shelving
MID-CITY CARPENTER SHOP
508 S. Irving Ave. Seeley 1632

PITTSBURGH, PA.
DR. RASNICK
DENTIST
Rendering Expert Dental Service for 20 Years.
Suite 3 SMITHFIELD ST. Near 7th Ave.
1501 CENTER AVE., Cor. Arch St.

THE DAILY WORKER

Published by the DAILY WORKER PUBLISHING CO.
1113 W. Washington Blvd., Chicago, Ill.
(Phone: Monroe 4712)

SUBSCRIPTION RATES
By mail:
$6.00 per year $3.50...6 months $2.00...3 months
By mail (in Chicago only):
$5.00 per year $4.50...6 months $2.50...3 months

Address all mail and make out checks to
THE DAILY WORKER
1113 W. Washington Blvd. Chicago, Illinois

J. LOUIS ENGDAHL, WILLIAM F. DUNNE } Editors
MORITZ J. LOEB Business Manager

Entered as second-class mail Sept. 21, 1923 at the Post-Office at Chicago, Ill., under the act of March 3, 1879.

Advertising rates on application.

It Was a Fine War

The American Legion Weekly, in its current issue publishes a symposium on "what did the world gain by the world war?" to which various celebrities have contributed, among whom are the German Crown Prince, General Pershing and Samuel Gompers.

The Crown Prince finds that instead of peace being established by the late war, all nations are arming more feverishly than ever and dictatorships of one sort or another are becoming the fad in Europe. Democracy is wearing a crown of thorns or sitting on Woodrow Wilson's fourteen points.

General Pershing says it is yet too early to appraise all the benefits gained from the slaughter of seven million men and the maiming of twice as many but domination by autocracy was killed and the war proved that the free peoples of the world will unite to prevent autocracy.

Gompers declares: "The world gained as a result of the great war a freedom from the menace of organized militarist imperialism without which all peoples sooner or later would have been enchained in bondage and vassalage. Democracy is in the ascendance, the dominant form of government."

Of the three opinions, the Gompers drivel is by all means the most stupid and vicious. The Crown Prince, is something of a realist. Pershing, being a general and making his living at the killing business, it is not surprising that he should find virtue in such a magnificent blood carnival as the late war.

But Mr. Gompers, head of a labor organization with almost four million workers as members! One would expect something better even from such a notorious lackey.

Gompers knows as well as anybody else that the late war did not free the world from the menace of militarist imperialism and did not strengthen democracy. Militarist imperialism is today a greater menace than it was before 1914 and democracy is anything but vigorous. Several European countries are in the grip of capitalist dictatorships and even in those coutries where capitalism is still able to pull along with its pseudo democracy, there are militant reactionary forces urging the scrapping of democracy and establishing a dictatorship on the Mussolini model.

None of the contributors to the American Legion symposium mentioned the rise of the Russian Soviet Republic as a war blessing. Neither did they say that the failure of the capitalist system to recover its pre-war vigor is a gain for the world. These are not blessings in the eyes of capitalists and their lieutenants.

There is more militarism in the world today than ever before. There is less freedom and security for the workers. But this very fact is a symptom of the condition of decay in which capitalism finds itself and brings the workers closer to the day when they must confer a real blessing on humanity by consigning the capitalist system to the dump heap of history.

Precedent as Principle

Mayor Dever is, of course, a "friend of organized labor," but just as a side line he doesn't intend to have any of the demands of organized labor put into effect if he can help it. The Structural Iron Workers' Union members, who are repairing the State street bridge, must not work overtime to finish the job and clear traffic congestion, because, says Dever, "if they are allowed double pay for overtime, a dangerous precedent would be set."

Considering the growing numbers of unemployed, we can see no valid reason for overtime, if the union does its duty by taking more men into the union as the city should take more into the work. Neither can we see any reason for the traffic congestion. We do not believe in overtime and that is just the reason that we want to see it penalised by making the employer pay double when he forces workers to toil longer than the minimum hours agreed upon.

Mayor Dever, however, is not opposed to overtime at all. He is merely opposed to paying for it. He fears that if the "precedent" is set of the city paying one group of workers double pay for overtime, the other groups of city slaves working as scrub-women, street-sweepers, under-paid "white-collar" clerks, etc., would use this case as a precedent against working more than the agreed hours without they get more pay than straight time.

The "principle" of the thing is the same "principle" that makes bosses pay a scab twice as much as a union man just to break the union. Mayor Dever believes in overtime without pay, i. e., he believes that the eight-hour day is all rot. Mayor Dever is no "friend of organized labor."

A new member for the Workers Party and a new subscriber to The DAILY WORKER.

"Dickie" and "Teddie"

Some folks may not understand the full significance of the fact, testified to by alienists (not subject to the alien immigration law), that Dickie Loeb still, in dreams at least, takes his "teddy-bear" to bed with him.

This burlesque on the animal kingdom was born and has lived a saw-dust filled life, as a symbol of the rough and ready, bearish personality of Theodore Roosevelt.

Theodore Roosevelt was, of course, and remains to many, the beloved "Teddie." As the $250 per day alienist has testified, "Dickie" is called "Dickie" and not "Richard," because he is still, emotionally, an irresponsible child, "from five to seven years old." Doubtless the world will soon understand what the Communists long have known that Theodore Roosevelt was "Teddie" because he was a case of arrested mental development, a child. And a child, anyeverone knows, is a potential savage. Certainly "Teddie" Roosevelt was a spoiled child, running amuck at the head of an imperialist government. The brutal treatment he accorded the central American republics of Panama and Columbia is eloquent testimony.

But a further indication of what "emotional" bond connects these two morons—to use the term in its general and not in its scientific sense, is seen in the fact that when "Dickie" Loeb was twelve years old, he wrote an essay depicting "Teddie" Roosevelt as his "ideal."

Now "Teddie" Roosevelt is also the ideal of the editor of The Chicago Tribune. This is strong corroboration for the theory of the defense put up by Attorney Darrow, that Loeb's murderous tendency is a case of weird varieties of insanity. The Trib. is both murderous and insane. Except in this case, where the defense millions make the difference, the Trib. howls for the hangman to break the neck of any man or woman who kills without the proper approval of prestige, or for "defense" of "American institutions." The Tribune editor is Joseph M. Patterson, doubtless known to his familiar friends as "little Joey."

They all believe in murder. They differ merely in the means. The obscure moron, as any news writer will aver, always uses "some heavy, blunt instrument." The Trib. prefers to do it by cracking the victim's neck with a rope. "Dickie" Loeb chose a heavy chisel wound with tape to crush the skull of young Franks. "Teddie" Roosevelt, giving the thing more care, evolved, as Commissioner of the New York Metropolitan Police, a weighty club ingeniously constructed so that it could be swung on a striker's skull either as plain hickory or, by pressing a button, with a number of terrible steel spikes. If the picket line didn't yield for plain hickory—or even if it would—the steel spikes would bury themselves in the worker's brain in the most charming Roosevelt manner. Only because other "older" people stopped him, did "Teddie" give up this weapon's use. If "Dickie" had only been a cop, or could have "fought for his country" from behind a sugar kettle in Cuba, he would have been a good citizen or even a president. "Dickie" should be a good "progressive party" candidate.

A Cracker-Jack

Really informative reading upon the labor movement is not at all plentiful. Much is written but little is said. Particularly upon the controversial subject of the work of the Communists in the labor union and the general fight of the left wing revolutionary group against the reactionaries who seek to hold the ranks of labor for conservative and even class collaborative policies.

The question of what the A. F. of L. is doing and has done in the steel drive is a subject of first importance. Thousands and tens of thousands of dollars have been spent. What the results are is told by Wm. Z. Foster in the August Labor Herald, in a spirited criticism of the A. F. of L. officials in charge of the so-called "campaign." Since Foster, when he resigned as secretary-treasurer of the great steel strike of 1919-20, left $130,000 in the treasury, it would interest anyone who cares at all about the labor movement to know what Foster charges has been done by the present officers to spend this great treasury. Read it in the Labor Herald for August.

Another article of great clarity and worth is dealing with the reasons why, after years of effort to establish a broad labor party, the Workers Party was compelled to nominate its own candidates to defend as the only political party of labor, the principle of independent working class political action.

Perhaps the most informative article of a timely character deals with the Dawes Plan as an international "open shop" movement. This article, written by Harrison George, exposes not only Dawes and the movement to enslave German labor, but lays bare the fundamental contradictions of capitalism which now are forcing it toward its historical doom.

Articles on the unions among the needle trades and a vividly sharp analysis of the international problems of the world's unions by A. Losovsky, secretary of the Red International of Labor Unions, are among numerous good things in the Labor Herald for August.

The chief item on which the French cannot agree with the other bandits now holding forth at London is, say the dispatches, "the disposal of the money." Many a murder of one burglar by another has taken place over the division of the swag, so this sharing of "the money" may easily lead to murder in a wholesale way. Capitalist peace is a prologue to war.

Introducing Mr. Mellon

By Jay Lovestone

ONLY the future can estimate accurately the significance of the visit that our Secretary of State, Charles Evans Hughes, and our Secretary of the Treasury, Andrew W. Mellon, are now paying Europe.

These two men, amongst the ablest of American diplomats and financiers, are not accustomed to deal with small matters. These two giants of our imperialist junta are the mainspring of a most gigantic attempt now being made by the Yankee capitalists to dominate the most highly developed industrially and politically continent, Europe. Of the two Mr. Hughes is more of the talker. Mr. Mellon is the doer.

The Rival of Rockefeller.

Mr. Mellon, whose name is now frequently associated with such international financiers as Thomas W. Lamont, of J. P. Morgan & Company, Montague Norman, Governor of the Bank of England, and Reginald McKenna, Chairman of the London Joint City and Midland Bank, is himself one of the richest men in the world. Many believe that our Secretary of the Treasury is the rival of Rockefeller. Some consider him the wealthiest man in the world.

At any rate, when Mr. Mellon is in Europe, it is a sure sign that business is being handled and that it is being handled on a stupendous scale. Looking into the role played by Mellon in American industry and finance, one gets an idea of the game he is up to in London. When Mr. Mellon takes a hand in settling the debt parley, he is not engaged in threshing over old straw with negative results.

Mr. Mellon is a business man; from head to foot, Mr. Mellon symbolizes the very height of industrial and financial America. Mr. Mellon is the very personification of the octopus of American imperialism whose tentacles are now being fastened with deadly effect on the war-ruined countries of Europe. Mr. Mellon's business record speaks for itself. It shows what Mr. Mellon is up to in Europe. It shows what Mr. Mellon, in company with the Morgan interests, his close allies, will be doing while Mr. Hughes will be talking.

Richer than Croesus.

At the time Mr. Mellon was appointed secretary to the treasury, he was either director or president of four banks, four insurance companies, and sixty-two other corporations. Oil, aluminum, locomotives, steel, radiators, railway cars, plateglass, motor trucks, carborundum, bolts and rivets, and more than a hundred other commodities, shipped to all parts of the world, are in the grip of the Mellon corporations. The Mellon National Bank of Pittsburgh has a total of more than one hundred and ten million dollars in deposits and nearly a hundred and fifty million dollars in resources.

It has been estimated that on the eve of his becoming secretary of the treasury Mr. Mellon was directly and actively interested in corporations whose resources were well over one billion dollars. Of course, on assuming office, Mr. Mellon formally tendered his resignation to several banks and corporations. However, his interest in these corporations has been increasing since his entry into the cabinet. We cite some of the leading financial and industrial interests of Mr. Mellon who is now posing as a sincerely interested peacemaker in, and rebuilder of the war-ravaged countries of the world.

The Mellon National Bank—
Deposits	$111,000,000
Resources	150,000,000
Union Trust Company—
Deposits	100,000,000
Resources	150,000,000
Union Savings Bank—
Deposits	27,000,000
Resources	29,000,000
National Bank of Commerce, New York—
Deposits	500,000,000
Resources	600,000,000
Banks and Trust Companies having total capitalization of about	250,000,000
The Pittsburgh Coal Co.—
Assets	170,000,000
Aluminum Company of America—
Capitalization	20,000,000
Controls five companies with a capitalization of	20,000,000
American Locomotive Company—
Capital	50,000,000
American Metal Company—
A holding company with capitalization of	$ 25,000,000
And controlling twelve companies having a combined capitalization of nearly	10,000,000
Baltimore Car & Foundry Co.—
Capitalization	$ 1,500,000
The Carborundum Company—
Capitalization	$ 2,500,000
Gulf Oil Corporation—
Total assets	$350,000,000
Controls nine companies with combined capitalization of	25,000,000
Pennsylvania Railroad—
Assets more than	$1,000,000,000
Grand total capitalization	$750,000,000

Prior to 1921 Mr. Mellon was a director of this railroad.

Mellon—A War Profiteer.

These are the references Mr. Mellon can show to the MacDonalds, the Herriots, the Stefanis, the Themistocles, the Kelloggs, and the swarm of lesser lights of international capitalist diplomacy.

These industrial and financial connections of Mr. Mellon are his qualifications for rebuilding the war-torn Germany. It is the irony of history that many of the corporations in which Andrew W. Mellon is interested, were the ones which garnered fabulous profits out of the war and its destruction of life and property.

These are the humanitarians, these are the philanthropists, these are the angels of peace—the Mellons, the Lamonts, the Morgans—that American imperialism is sending to help put suffering Europe on its feet.

Are You Opposed to War Mr. LaFollette?

BY HARRISON GEORGE.

IN YOUR statement, Mr. LaFollette, in which you announced your candidacy for the presidency, you said: "The ill-gotten surplus capital acquired by exploiting the resources and the people of our country begets the imperialism which hunts down and exploits the natural resources and the people of foreign countries, erects huge armaments for the protection of its investments, breeds international strife in the markets of the world and inevitably leads to war."

Logically, if your supposed opposition to war would be sincere and consistent, the working class which you expect to support you, should find in your program adopted at Cleveland, something aimed at what you acknowledge is the source and root of war—i.e., the surplus over their wages taken by capitalists from the working classes thru the private ownership of the means of production and distribution.

Your Platform Exposes You!

But what does your platform show, Mr. LaFollette? Is there in it from the first to the last, one word aimed at complete and permanent abolition of "surplus capital acquired by exploiting the resources and people of this country?" Do you anywhere pledge yourself that, if elected to the presidency, you will work for nationalization of all industry and resources, including the "monopolies" you always claim to oppose? There is positively not one word in your platform to this effect! Nothing! Nowhere do you pledge yourself to oppose the cause you, yourself point out, of war.

You must advocate abolition of surplus capital exploited from the workers, or you must acknowledge that whatever you do advocate is not enough, that you have nothing in your program to give security to the workers from slaughter in capitalist wars. Which is it? It is a fact that you not only evade a real solution, are silent upon any real solution, but you denounced and politically assassinated the National Farmer-Labor Party, whose program declared for: "The nationalization of all monopolized industries, such as railroads, mines, super-power plants and means of communication and distribution." So you are not such a terrible foe of "monopoly" after all! Even this mild measure is opposed by you, Mr. LaFollette!

Still more. You denounced the Communists of the Workers Party, whose program provides for complete socialization of all industry and the administration of industry and government together under control of councils (soviets) of workers and working farmers. Yet what program could be better devised to end forever the danger of capitalist wars?

A Fake Solution Already Bankrupt.

It being proven that you do not intend, if elected, to work for any fundamental measure to end capitalist wars, what you in fact oppose are measures—any other proposal in your program is, naturally, only superficial. But we have a right to expect even this superficiality to be plausible. But what do we find?

We find that your program says only that it favors an "active" foreign policy "to promote firm treaty agreements with all nations to outlaw wars." That is a ghastly jest! Who is to wage war against America if not the governments of foreign nations? And do we not now have treaties with each of them (except Soviet Russia) pledging peace between us? If any would break their present treaties of peace and amity, what idiots are we to believe that they wouldn't break any other or different treaty? Or do you intend, under this pretext, to wheedle us into some "Holy Alliance" or the "League of (Imperialist) Nations?"

But why should any nation—including America—break any treaty and go to war, Mr. LaFollette? I refer you to Mr. LaFollette for reply: Just as in this country, so in others (except Soviet Russia), "surplus capital, acquired by exploiting the resources and people of the country begets imperialism . . . which breeds international strife in the markets of the world and inevitably leads to war."

But you have no solution for this war-making capitalist system, Mr. LaFollette. Only the Communist international can cut this Gordian snarl of conflicting capitalist interests, with the sword of international revolution of the proletariat!

What silly nonsense is this making of "firm" treaties to "outlaw" wars!

At this moment the very governments upon which such treaties would rely, are in bitter London quarrelling over the Dawes Plan, which is one plan of dividing the spoils of ruthless slavery of German labor. And in their quarreling Britain's "labor" government is showing the teeth of forty miles of warships to France which, insulted in its turn, has her "socialist" government with threats of airplanes and colonial armies. And by your failure to denouce the Dawes Plan you lend silent approval to these war-making "pacifist" imperialists!

Though you have endorsed them, and said your government would be like unto them, the workers can put no trust in such governments as that of England, which massacres Indians and Egyptians and oppresses its own workers, or the French government, the sabre-rattler invader of the Ruhr, or the German government, model of socialist treachery, murderer of Liebknecht—the one man in the parliaments of world capitalism who attacked war in time of war. Nor can the workers trust you, LaFollette, who urge peace with such murderers. Only when the world proletariat has overthrown and suppressed capitalist governments and capitalism, will it be safe from capitalist wars.

You Have Two Faces, Mr. LaFollette.

There is still another reason why you should not be trusted by the workers in the future threats of war, Mr. LaFollette. Your performance in the past war is an example of "Mister-Facing-both-Ways."

Before war you repeatedly said that the American people were being "stampeded into war." Why, then, did you apologize for your voting against Wilson's request for war declaration? And why did you vote for $25 out of the 50 war measures passed by Congress? You even boasted about it! LaFollette, if not a "hundred-per-center" is at least a "Ninety-two-per-center" patriot! You even pride yourself on having voted for every measure which provided appropriations for building ships." Yet these are the appropriations almost wholly stolen by profiteering grafters while the soldiers and sailors went to their deaths insufficiently clad, armed and fed. And you knew this would happen when you voted, didn't you, LaFollette? Just as I knew, and stated—and went to prison for stating. Everyone knew the profiteers were going to "clean up"—and so you knew it. Why did you help the grafters?

Debs, pitiful figure, now tries to find in your wife's puny, charitable gesture for his release, some excuse for his support of your candidacy. But you yourself, never opened your mouth for amnesty for class war prisoners. So timid were you that you did not speak for the release even of the pacifist "conscientious objectors" held by the war department until a full year after the war ended! You were no Liebknecht! You did not have the bravery to attack the war in time of war! And you cannot now gain support from radicals on the ridiculous ground that your wife asked release from some of those who did attack war. Your wife may be a noble woman as Debs states—in fact she seems to be a better man than you are—but your "war record" is a record of timidity and cowardice, LaFollette!

You talk of "liberty." Yet you opposed the infamous "Espionage Act" —not because it sent men to prison, but because—according to your own claims—it carried a provision that the postoffice department could deny certain mailing privileges to newspapers! And you own a newspaper! What were to you, the hundreds of workers thrown into prison under this outrageous law? Less than nothing? You never raised your voice in protest over the lumber strikers of Washington being thrown into "bull-pens." Nor the crime of the "Bisbee deportation" known around the world! Nor the illegal persecution of the socialists and the I. W. W.! Liberty, even bourgeois, fake liberty, would have died utterly if its life had depended on your courage in time of war, Bob LaFollette! Few were the voices raised in our defense when we laid in prison as workers objecting to capitalist war. And yours was not one of them! You had learned your lesson from the capitalist criticism of your St. Paul speech, and you were silent. Where is your "war record," Mr. LaFollette?

How Do You Differ From Other Frauds?

But you say you are against war. You say so. So did Woodrow Wilson. We want no more Woodrow Wilsons. Only the other day Mr. Coolidge said he was, "unqualifiedly sympathetic with the aim to make war impossible." The democratic party platform declares against war and for a visionary referendum just as does yours. But since neither yours nor the democrats' platform offers to abolish capitalism, the cause of war, both are equally hypocritical. Both are aimed to lull the masses into trusting that war will be avoided —until they are in it. Then, like LaFollette, and all your kind, will again vote appropriations and give full support—just as you did before.

You are the same kind of fraud as Bryan, who, on the verge of war, said: "If war should come, we will all support the government, of course, yet at this moment it is our sacred duty to preserve the nation from the horrors of war." All that the government of Wilson, the hypocrite, had to do to silence Bryan, the hypocrite, was—simply—to declare war! By this simple means all fools and pacifists, liberal, labor and socialist traitors, were won over at once, "of course"—to support the government and the war!

Away with Cheats and Frauds!

"War is the consequence of capitalism," say we Communists. War is but an extension of political quarrels between rival imperialist nations.

In this campaign the Communists will point out that just as you failed to oppose war in the past, so you will fail in the future. More, that in your platform, you make no pretense at a solution for capitalist wars. That you are deceiving them with phrases and lulling them to a sense of false security from which they will be awakened by the thunder of guns and the call to the trenches and death. In this campaign the Communists will say: Down with capitalist wars! Down with hypocritical phrases! Against war the workers shall raise the banner of proletarian revolution!

THE VIEWS OF OUR READERS ON LIFE, LABOR, INDUSTRY, POLITICS

We'll Fool Him.

Your paper reminds me of the Appeal to Reason of 15 years ago, just as your party reminds me of the Socialist party of that period. But look at the Socialist party now,—a corpse. And that's what the Communist party will be in a few years.

However, cheer up, there's a good (?) living in it for a few agitators and it keeps life from getting stale,—too cut and dried, as it tends to become under the big capitalists.

No gentlemen, so far as I can see, the U. S. is not a very fertile ground for radicals. The country is too prosperous. The well-fed middle classes are too large to let you turn things upside down. Things will have to get much worse than they are before there's a revolution. There are too many men willing to follow Bryans and Roosevelts and LaFollettes.

There's too much eternal hope that the capitalist system can be repaired, improved, oiled, meliorated, revivified, pruned. However, in the meantime we have you to prod us, to keep us discontented, stirred up, to worry the judges and lawyers, the Mitchell Palmers and so forth. Sincerely, W. B. Barrows, Magog, Quebec.

A Bankrupt Farmer.

To The DAILY WORKER: I have no income, except from my farm in Oklahoma, and that is heavily mortgaged, and it keeps me hard pressed to keep the interest and taxes paid up. So far, for the past twenty years, I have paid twenty-three hundred dollars interest on a two thousand dollar loan—$300 more than the original loan, and the mortgage yet unpaid. Many of my neighbors who also borrowed money at the same time have lost their homes, and are now renters. Hence, I may be classed as one of the thousands of bankrupt farmers of America. But I do not despair. I will pull through some day.

You have a great paper, because your editorial staff are able men and bold defenders of the truth. Your friend and Comrade, M. H. Owen, Brownsville, Tenn.

"Prosperous" Farmer.

To The DAILY WORKER: To your reply for articles from farmers. I was working on a farm in Wisconsin for a few days and found out some points. I'm sending you one.

In the papers you read that the Stock Yards are paying on the average 3 cents for swine. When the farmer takes his swine to the Stock Yards he only gets 6 cents a pound and sometimes 5 cents. Most of our farmers prosper in papers only but not in real life. If you are writing an article I hope this will help. Comrade Joe Jenkin of Y. W. L., Marshfield Branch.

Send in that Subscription Today.

YALE UNIVERSITY
NOV 221924
LIBRARY

THE DAILY WORKER RAISES THE STANDARD FOR A WORKERS AND FARMERS' GOVERNMENT

THE DAILY WORKER

Entered as Second-class matter September 21, 1923, at the Post Office at Chicago, Illinois under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Communist Candidates for President: WILLIAM Z. FOSTER. For Vice-President: BENJAMIN GITLOW.

Vol. II. No. 119. SUBSCRIPTION RATES In Chicago, by mail, $5.00 per year. Outside Chicago, by mail, $6.00 per year. WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 6, 1924 Published Daily except Sunday by THE DAILY WORKER PUBLISHING CO., 1113 W. Washington Blvd., Chicago, Ill. Price 3 Cents

SEES U. S. IMPERIALISM CRUSHED

(Special to THE DAILY WORKER.)

MOSCOW, August 5.—Leon Trotzky, head of the Russian Soviet army, in a speech at a big demonstration of engineers today bitterly attacked American imperialism. Trotzky charged that Secretary of State Charles E. Hughes' "participation in the London conference and his visits to the European capitals is an attempt to Balkanize Europe, making her dependent upon America."

"America wants to put Europe on rations," continued the war commissar. "America seeks world hegemony. Altho Secretary Hughes came to Europe unofficially, it is clear he bosses the show. America's pretended Pacific policy is pregnant with war. There is a struggle between Leninism and American imperialism upon which the fate of humanity hangs. But we believe Americanized bolshevism will conquer and crush imperialistic Americanism."

Workers Party Announces 1924 Platform

CAMPAIGN CALL FOR FOSTER AND GITLOW IS CHALLENGE TO DICTATORSHIP OF CAPITALISTS

The Central Executive Committee of the Workers Party today made public the platform on which the Workers Party will ask the support of the industrial workers, agricultural workers, and exploited farmers of this country.

The platform declares that the fundamental evil of the existing social system is the fact that "the raw materials and industries of the United States are owned by the Garys, Morgans, Rockefellers, Fords, McCormicks, and other great capitalists.

The workers and farmers alike pay tribute to these capitalists. They are compelled to accept a low standard of living in order that the capitalists may amass even greater fortunes for themselves."

This private ownership of industry and system of exploitation is maintained thru the capitalists' grip on the government of the United States. "The government of the United States is and has been a government of, by and for the capitalists," the platform declares.

Strikebreaker, Morgan Lawyer.

To maintain this capitalist dictatorship, the platform says, the capitalists have nominated two candidates, "the Republican strike-breaker Coolidge and the Morgan-Rockefeller Lawyer, Davis." Dealing with the independent candidacy of LaFollette, the platform states, "LaFollette, who is running as an independent progressive Republican, is equally a supporter of the capitalist system of exploitation."

The platform calls upon all workers and farmers to support the only workers' candidates, Foster and Gitlow, against these representatives of the capitalist system.

Rule of Workers.

"In place of the capitalist dictatorship there must be established the rule of the workers. The governmental power must be used in the interests of the workers and farmers as it is now used by the capitalist dictatorship in the interests of the capitalist class.

"The Russian workers and peasants have established their rule in the form of the Soviet Government and are using their power against the capitalists and for themselves—to build a Communist social system which will give the workers and farmers the fruits of their toil."

This, the platform declares, must also be the goal of the workers and farmers of the United States.

Millions of copies of the platform in leaflet form are to be printed immediately and to be distributed thruout the United States thru the Workers Party organization. The platform as a whole follows:

* * *

FORWARD TO THE WORKERS AND FARMERS' GOVERNMENT!

Platform of the Workers Party

THE workers and exploited farmers of the United States face the question of how to organize and use their political power in the coming election. Before deciding this question every industrial worker, agricultural worker and exploited farmer should give fundamental consideration to the situation which exists in this country.

In the Grip of the Exploiters.

The United States is the wealthiest country in the world. We have natural resources which supply us with raw materials and a great industrial organization which can turn these raw materials into the finished products which satisfy human needs. With the raw materials available and the tremendous machinery of production we have the means of giving a high standard of life—good food, good clothing, good homes, the opportunity for education and recreation—to every

(Continued on page 6)

AS WE SEE IT

By T. J. O'FLAHERTY

Three hundred guests assembled at the home of Edward L. Doheny in Los Angeles, among them several attorneys and the honorable Albert B. Fall. They joked and laughed over the oil indictments against Doheny and his friends for their success in grabbing the California naval oil reserves from the government. Mr. Fall did not look the least bit like a sick man. He was scheduled to deliver a speech but his activities were gastronomical, rather than oratorical. The way he put away a big dinner must be encouraging to his physicians considering how very ill the gentleman was when the public lands committee had the oil fields under investigation. Capitalists do not seem to bother much over indictments. But in the very state where these lawbreakers held the banquet, Tom Mooney and hundreds of other workers sat in jail not for robbing the government but because they tried to organize the workers to get a better standard of living. And yet we are told there is no class rule in the United States.

* * *

The Chicago Daily News remarks that the socialist party was born in one jail and died in another. When Debs was jailed for his activities in the A. R. U. strike Victor Berger visited him in jail and brot him a book on socialism. Thus the socialist party was born. When Debs went to jail for his anti-war Canton speech, the socialist party died. That is a rather naive explanation of its birth and death. But there is a general agreement that it is dead.

* * *

Another revolution has broken out in Honduras despite the peace agreement recently negotiated thru the efforts of the United States, said a dispatch to the state department. American experts are figuring more and more in the internal affairs of South America. The United States financiers are not satisfied with dominating South America but stretch out their hands all over the world for more fields to conquer. This is the country that went to war with Germany in 1917 to save the world from imperialism. It was that hypocrisy was a British virtue but the latter do not seem to have a monopoly on it.

* * *

Arthur Brisbane says we should not get worried over the fear that the

(Continued on page 3.)

Americans Gobble Government Wire System of Mexico

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 3.—The Mexican Telegraph & Telephone Co., under government control for over 8 years past, is passing into private American hands. Boaz Long, representing the Intl. Telephone & Telegraph Co., is arranging the details.

LENIN LIES LIFE-LIKE, SMILING, AFTER BEING PERFECTLY EMBALMED

By A. L. PERRY.

(Special to the DAILY WORKER)

MOSCOW, Aug. 5.—Nicolai Lenin rests in his tomb as tho he were merely sleeping. The embalmers have done a perfect job of restoring the body of the Soviet premier to life-like state.

The body rests on a revolutionary red velvet bier in a hermetically sealed glass covered coffin. Even the smile of the Russian proletarian leader is preserved.

An armed Red Soldier stands at the head and another at the foot of the bier.

Professor Sbarski, Moscow Institute of Chemical Science, and Professor Vorobeff of Kharkov University, are responsible for the four months' embalming process, using the first purely scientific chemical formula, based on pathological research. A solution of glycerine and calcium replaces the water of the body. The professors claim this is a greater triumph than that of the Egyptian embalmers.

They declare also that Lenin's body should last forever if no great change takes place in the temperature of the mausoleum. The present temperature is 68 degrees Fahrenheit or 16 degrees Reaumur. The cost of the embalming was $7,500.

RUSSIA REFUSES SURRENDER ON DEBTS OF CZAR

No British Treaty Is Coming Just Yet

(Special to THE DAILY WORKER)

LONDON, August 5.—Soviet Russia's refusal to surrender to the creditors of Czar Nicholas and Kerensky has halted the negotiations between M. Rakovsky and Ramsay MacDonald.

As the result there is no immediate prospect of an Anglo-Russian treaty, tho the recognition of the Soviet government still stands.

Russian representatives informed the British diplomats that the Soviet republic could not consider, alleged British obligations unless the British in turn admitted their debts to Russia. Billions of gold rubles worth of damage have been caused directly and indirectly by invading armies. Britain herself sent troops against Russia and she gave aid and comfort to imperialistic forces from other nations.

Premier MacDonald's staunch support of the financiers who hold the Czar's paper gives little surprise. The Labor Party has stated more sympathy with Asquith liberalism than with his own party's program since coming into office.

Failure of the treaty parleys at this time is not regarded as highly critical for Russian foreign trade. The treaty would have facilitated trade with Britain but a considerable amount of trade with that country is going on under present conditions.

Martial Law In Roumania

PARIS, Aug. 5.—Martial law has been proclaimed throughout Roumania, following receipt of information by the government that a high army officer was planning a coup d'etat, according to a report from Bucharest this afternoon.

DAILY WORKER TRAINS GUNS ON CAPITALIST CANDIDATES; LAFOLLETTE FIRST TARGET

THE DAILY WORKER will soon begin a series of articles on the leading presidential candidates of the capitalist parties.

"Silent" Cal Coolidge, the Morgan-Rockefeller attorney, John W. Davis, the "independent" LaFollette, "Hellan'-Maria" General Dawes and the others will all be analyzed and examined in their true light.

The records of the standard bearers of capitalism, in and out of office, will be carefully scrutinized and dissected. From Coolidge to LaFollette, all of these defenders of the present system of exploitation of the city and rural workers and the growing army of dispossessed farming masses will be called upon to tell by word of their own mouths or by their own deeds where they stand on the most pressing needs of the working class.

* * *

LOVESTONE WILL FIRE GUNS.

Jay Lovestone, Director of the Research Department of the Workers Party, and author of "The Government—Strikebreaker," "American Imperialism," etc., will fire the DAILY WORKER'S guns against the presidential aspirants of the big, middle, and small bankers and manufacturers. The indictment of the DAILY WORKER will be based on the most authoritative and outstanding facts of the lives and activities of these champions of the various sections of the employing class.

The opening shot will be fired by us in the issue of Monday, August 11. In view of LaFollette's pretensions to being a champion of the working and farming masses, in view of the great volume of noise the Wisconsin senator is now making about his enmity to the big business interests, we will begin our series with an examination of the record of this newly self-appointed friend of the workers.

LaFollette's labor record, his war record, his general behavior in the senate, his evolution from a henchman of Mark Hanna's puppet, McKinley, to the present day, his political machine, the class he represents, the conditions of the working men in LaFollette's "Model Commonwealth" of Wisconsin and the meaning and dangers of LaFollettism will be treated in a thorogoing fashion.

* * *

CAN'T AFFORD TO MISS IT.

The other candidates will be analyzed in a similar fashion. No worker can afford to miss this important series. These articles are essential to an understanding of the present political conflicts, the class struggles of today. No Workers Party member, no Communist speaker, agitator, and organizer should miss a single article of the series. They will be indispensable to the campaign. These articles will be an arsenal of irrefutable facts.

Make sure to get the whole series. Get them for your friends and workers in the shop and mill and on the farm. Order a special supply of the DAILY WORKER containing these exposures. Send in your bundle order today.

STRIKERS HAIL BIG CALUMET STEEL DRIVE

The International Brotherhood of Railway Carmen is holding a big mass meeting next Friday night at Hammond, Ind., as the first step in a serious campaign to organize the steel car builders in the great Calumet district at the foot of Lake Michigan.

Hammond is the heart of the enemy country where seven steel workers were butchered by thugs in the great organization campaign of 1919.

Preliminary organization work among the Standard Steel Foundry company employes at Hammond has evoked such a response that a big turn out of workers anxious for organization against the open shop steel forces is expected when the doors swing open at the hall at Columbia and Morton streets, Hammond.

Cheers greeted Organizer Edmond K. Hogan of the carmen's union when he announced the Calumet drive to the strike meeting at the Western Steel Car Foundry at Hegewisch yesterday. Telling the strikers that success was not possible without united action Hogan pledged his union to a determined movement thruout the entire Calumet district.

Hogan was followed by Jack McCarthy, Tom Bell of Canada and Barney Mass, representing the Workers Party and the Trade Union Educational League and the Young Workers League respectively.

The Hegewisch strike is now in its fourth week and production is paralyzed in the big plant. The morale of the strikers was evidenced by the enthusiasm they displayed at the meeting and their endorsement of an attack Hogan made on several procompany men who have been whispering defeatist propaganda.

RESCUERS TRYING TO RECOVER BODIES OF GARY EXPLOSION VICTIMS

GARY, Ind., Aug. 5.—Rescuers were working feverishly late today trying to recover bodies from a mass of twisted steel in the Gary works of the Illinois Steel Company plant, in which three workers are known to have been killed and a half dozen others injured.

The explosion occurred late last night and completely wrecked the newly repaired number 5 blast furnace.

The badly burned and horribly mangled body of Walter R. Nystrom, 35, foreman who returned to work last night from his vacation, was recovered early today after the workers had combed the ruins thru the night. Altho it is known that two more bodies are lying under the many tons of twisted steel, fire brick and debris, it is believed the final toll may reach a higher figure.

The accident occurred when gas which had been turned into the furnace ignited. The blast was terrific, hurling steel and brick for two blocks.

The Lake county coroner is now investigating the blast but he has so far been able to gather little information.

LEOPOLD FIRES ANYONE TALKING ABOUT UNIONISM

Makes Them Get Out, Secretary Boasts

By KARL REEVE.

(Special to The Daily Worker)

MORRIS, Ill., August 5.—Not only does Nathan Leopold, strikebreaking head of the Morris Paper Mills here, not tolerate a union, but any employe caught talking unionism is immediately discharged. No one suspected of favoring the organization of labor into unions is hired at the plant.

Clarence Darrow, in his defense of Nathan Leopold, jr., degenrate son of a labor-hating and ruthless father, said, "Every human being is the heir of all the past." Certainly that is a good defense of Nathan Leopold, jr., who from the earliest childhood has taken it for granted to pile up the profits necessary to supply delicacies and dainties to his superior ego.

Leopold's Hunting Trips.

Nathan Leopold, Jr., has taken many hunting trips in and around Morris. He never had anything to do with the employes in his father's factory, content to look upon them merely as a source of his father's wealth.

"What do you think of the Leopold family?" the DAILY WORKER asked the secretary of W. E. Beckwith, manager of the Morris Paper Mills.

"We think they are all right," answered the girl, evidently afraid to say anything that wasn't "kosher." "Sam Leopold has been in the plant more than his younger brother, Nathan, Jr. And he's so nice to the girls. He talks to us just like a pal. We all like the Leopolds."

"What do you think of Babe? Do you thing it was a very nice thing he did to the Franks boy?"

Sorry for "Babe"; Scorns Workers.

"I feel sorry for him. I don't be-

(Continued on page 2.)

AMALGAMATED URGED TO ERASE STAIN OF "BOB"

Workers Party Puts Issue to Members

The Workers Party addresses the following communication to the rank and file of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers' Union urging them to repudiate the endorsement of the Wisconsin republican senator by their General Executive Board and to back the working class campaign of Foster and Gitlow:

To the Locals of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America:

Brothers:—The press dispatches from Rochester announce that the General Executive Board of your organization has endorsed the candidacy of Senator LaFollette for the presidency and called upon your organization to give your support to the LaFollette ticket.

This action by your General Executive Board is a repudiation of what the members of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers have stood for in the past and also of the action of your last national convention.

Amalgamated's Record.

The members of your organization have in the past been in the forefront of the labor movement in this country. It has been generally recognized that the members of the Amalgamated were conscious of the character of the struggle going on in industry under the capitalist system. The fact that this was a class struggle in which the workers have definite and distinct interests separte and apart from any group has been recognized in many actions of your union.

The endorsement of Senator LaFollette by your General Executive Board nullifies the past record of the Amalgamated. This action is calculated to lead back the members of your organization to the position of those backward groups among the workers who do not accept the fact of the class struggle and who believe that the government is an institution which serves all the people alike, and that the workers should not attempt to secure political power for themselves.

This is the position of Senator LaFollette. It is the position he expressed in reply to the Gompers endorsement, calling upon organized labor and business men to unite on the basis of "good citizenship."

LaFollette Not For Workers.

Senator LaFollette is not a representative of the workers. His program is not a program in the interest of the workers. The LaFollette program everywhere is making compromises with Republicans and Democrats and will support Republicans and Democrats in the election cam-

(Continued on page 2)

MOBILIZATION DAY, JAPANESE EXCLUSION DEPLORED BY QUAKERS

(Special to the DAILY WORKER)

RICHMOND, Ind., August 5.—A group of 300 young friends in general conference here has sent a message to President Coolidge protesting against national defense test day and at the same time forwarded a message to Japan deploring the policy of the United States in excluding Japanese immigration.

See Page Three

BOOST COMMUNIST PRESIDENTIAL CAMPAIGN BY GETTING NEW SUBS FOR "THE DAILY WORKER"

See Page Three

BOB HAILS SAM'S AID IN WHITE HOUSE CANTER

Illinois "Progressives" to Support Small

(Special to the Daily Worker.)

WASHINGTON, August 5.—There is great rejoicing in the LaFollette camp over the support of the officials of the American Federation of Labor, pledged by the executive council. A meeting will be held in Washington this week at which the leaders of the Federation and the LaFollette generals will arrange to co-ordinate their activities.

Matthew Woll, who once had the ambition to succeed Mr. Gompers as head of the American Federation of Labor, made a public a statement which for vagueness runs a close second to the best Mr. Coolidge has issued.

Mr. Woll says: "The declaration adopted by the executive council, together with Senator LaFollette response in reality constitute a ceremony tantamount to the customary nomination and acceptance, form a solemn pledge to the whole American people, a pledge of restitution, renovation and democracy in government. La Follette's complete accord with the labor declaration of both economic and political philosophy should be appraised as a declaration of constructive policy, in accord with the shot and practice worked out thru years of study and effort by the great union movement of the country."

Restoring the government to the "people" clearing up filth in Washington and democratising capitalism, that is what "Bob" is expected to do if he lands in the White House.

Trainmen Non-Partisan.

The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, headed by William G. Lee, grand president of the organization will not endorse "Bob's" candidacy, but Lee will lay the records of the three presidential candidates before the 180,000 port Norman Thomas, in return for the

The place on the committee which is directing the La Follette campaign left vacant is now expected to be filled by Gompers, either personally or by one of his appointees.

In his telegram to Gompers after being notified of the A. F. of L's endorsement of his candidacy, La Follette welcomed the aid of the Federation in his crusade "to break the grip of selfish interests upon government." That is the mission of the new Moses, not to take the government away from the capitalist robbers and place it in the hands of the producers but simply to substitute a set of "honest" parasites for the shameless brigands who now have it in their hands. It is significant however that in all the La Follette publicity, there is hardly a word of criticism of the record of Strikebreaker Coolidge. Judge Cohalan of New York in announcing his espousal of "Bob's" campaign, said that even in the event of the Wisconsin senator not being able to "make" the White House he would probably be in a position to make a deal with Coolidge which would be satisfactory to the liberals.

Smith Cautious.

"Al" Smith of New York has declined the offer to run for governor of that State, according to reports. Mayor Hylan has his ear to the ground waiting for the call. Should Hylan run, it is likely the C. P. P. A. crowd would endorse him, unless La Follette made a bargain with Hillquit to support Norman Thomas, in return for the campaign contributions from the needle trades unions.

It is a great game of trade and barter.

All is not well with the LaFollette-Wheeler campaign in Montana. The "La Follette Progressive Party" of that State wired national headquarters stating that they reserved the right to circulate petitions for La Follette and Charles W. Bryan for second place. Robert La Follette Jr., has been sent to Montana to buy off the disgruntled. It appears that considerable opposition has developed to the candidacy of T. J. Walsh on the Democratic ticket and Wheeler, tho riding the elephant, is also hunting with the jackass and supporting Walsh, the big corporation

GET THE NEXT ISSUE

"DAILY WORKER" MAGAZINE SECTION

SATURDAY AUGUST 9TH

1. Barren Wisdom—A reply to L. Boudin.....Alexander Bittelman
2. Negro Migration and Its Causes.....By Louis Zeobook
3. "Danko"—A Story.....By Maxim Gorky
4. Civilization Through Bombs.....By Earl R. Browder

VERSE PICTURES ILLUSTRATIONS

ORDER NOW!

THE DAILY WORKER,

1113 W. Washington Blvd. Chicago, Illinois

COOLIDGE URGED TO GRANT FARMER RELIEF IN ST. PAUL WIRE

Asserting that present high prices for farm products, and particularly grain and livestock, are "only temporary relief," and that the fundamental causes of agricultural depression have not been removed, the American Council of Agriculture, organized last month in St. Paul today telegraphed President Coolidge asking that he appoint an "extraordinary commission" to study basic needs of agriculture and recommend remedial legislation to congress. The request says such legislation should be enacted at the coming short session.

lobbyist and hard shell reactionary.

In Illinois it appears that the deal with Small is practically consummated. There are kinks to be ironed out yet, but from reports in circulation here, Small will be supported by the La Follette forces for governor and the latter will throw his support to the La Follette national ticket. In this way it is quite possible the Illinois electoral vote may go to "Bob." The charges of stealing state funds made against Small, charges that appear quite justified, do not cut any ice with La Follette who only wants to make Washington habitable for himself. Rottenness in the state governments can wait while the scavengers turn the hose on the Capital.

The labor fakers of Illinois had already made a bargain with Small and the present arrangement will be satisfactory unless William Hale Thompson upsets the apple cart. The Illinois Federation of Labor will endorse Small declared John L. Walker.

In raising funds the slogan will be "A half-day's income for battling Bob,' and the sub title "to buy an interest in a crusade of righteousness." Everything is for "Bob" even the money.

The Illinois committee appointed to decide who if any, shall be the candidates for United States senator includes Sam Levin of the needle trades, William R. Snow, socialist, and Louis J. Link, German-Americans.

Won't Have One-Man Cars.

PORT HURON, Mich., Aug. 5.—Citizens here were being transported on rubber tired wheels and all the street car service save operation of interurbans has been suspended. Busses were put into operation after city authorities refused to allow one-man street cars to operate.

RIVERVIEW—RAIN OR SHINE
AUGUST 10th—SUNDAY
PRESS PICNIC DAY

LEOPOLD FIGHTS TALK OF UNIONISM

(Continued from page 1)

lieve he was in his right mind. The trouble with him is, he's too smart."

Beckwith's secretary waxed eloquent when she talked against unionism. She talked as a woman who was superior to the unfortunate girls who, while we were leisurely chatting, were with quick mechanical motions tending the heavy machines and for fifteen dollars a week, amassing the Leopold fortune. These poor girls were from a different world—they were nothing but workers.

"There is not a union in the place and Leopold will not tolerate one," said the secretary.

They Can "Get Out."

"He takes the position that if the employes don't like the wages they can get out and look for another job. This union talk has given us too much trouble already. Just last week we fired two men in the caddie department because they stirred up trouble and called a strike."

"They came back to work with the others, but insisted on their unionism talk, and were fired. The people of Morris don't criticize the conditions here much. What could they do without the paper mill? It is the only plant in town which is working steadily. If it weren't for the Leopold factory, most of the younger people would have to leave town."

When asked what other labor trouble there had been besides the strike in the caddie department, Beckwith's assistant checked her tongue and replied, "Not much more. The plant is a pretty safe one, and considering the size of it, we don't have so many kicks."

14-Hour Shift.

Those who work in the plant, however, confide their unrest to the DAILY WORKER. The paper making factory is working twenty-four hours a day. The night shift starts at 5:30 in the evening and works thru until seven in the morning. The men start in at $3.00 a day, the same pay being given for the fourteen hour night shift as is paid for the ten-hour day.

"They work you hard as hell in the paper manufacturing department," one employe who cleans the screens, confided to the DAILY WORKER. "We have to change shifts every week and that breaks down our health. One week we are working in the day time and the next week at night. We consequently are always in a restless, nervous state. We have trouble getting sleep in the day time. I make twenty dollars a week, and would move to Chicago if it were not for unemployment there.

Paper Beating For Leopold.

"I work in the paper beating department," another man said to the DAILY WORKER. "The rags, old papers and stuff which starts the paper thru the process of being made into card board, is thrown into the beater. This is a huge vat which grinds the old stuff and pours into a pulp. This department is unusually dirty work, besides being almost unbearably hot. Heat and terrible smells are constantly being given off by the vats which make us continually sick to our stomachs. In spite of the dirty and sickening work and the long night shift, the pay is no more than the pay Leopold gives in the box factory.

"The chemicals which are put in to color the paper stain our hands and clothes and have a bad effect on our lungs. The air in the paper mill is thick and stuffy. All the work is hot and unhealthy and most of it is heavy work, such as trucking the paper."

Wherever Labor Is Cheap.

W. H. Beckwith, manager of the plant, is "out of town." He has just received confidential word about European conditions in the paper industry and hastened away to do conference. The Leopold factory has become exceedingly interested in European affairs recently, especially in labor conditions and the paper business in Sweden. It seems to be the policy of the "nice" Nathan Leopold to establish himself wherever labor can be secured exceptionally cheap.

Beckwith's secretary told the DAILY WORKER that one of the largest customers of the Leopold plant is the Reliance Manufacturing company, which is the prison trust, selling convict made Black Beauty and Big Yank shirts. Birds of a feather flock together.

Eight Churches in Morris.

There are eight churches in town, as Morris professes to be exceptionally pious and religious, even if the Chamber of Commerce of Morris does encourage scab concerns to come in and exploit the younger generation.

INDICT GARVEY IN G. O. P. PLOT AGAINST RACE

Time Blow to Disrupt Fight on Imperialism

By ROBERT MINOR.
(Special to The DAILY WORKER)

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—A republican party attempt to disrupt the international convention of the Universal Negro Improvement Association in session at Liberty Hall here is seen in the federal indictment and threatened arrest of President Marcus Garvey on an income tax charge.

The indictment relates to an affair more than two years old. Convention Negroes charge it was purposely held back and timed to spring on the convention as the representatives of their race were considering plans for a sweeping attack on international imperialism and domestic oppression.

The indictment bears the earmarks of a political conspiracy. Federal District Attorney Mattuck, who handles the indictment, is the same prosecutor who obtained Garvey's conviction a year ago on a charge of misuse of the mails.

Mr. Garvey received the indictment news stoically while on the convention platform, commenting that it was a political act by the republican party thru Mattuck. The indictment charges a false income tax return involving $493 and perjury in connection with the same.

Earlier Garvey told the 2,500 delegates that the prejudice against the Negro was not due to color but to his lack of industrial development.

The Negro leader said: "Establish your Pennsylvania railroad system in Africa and control billions there and America and the whole world will look up to you. Then there would be no color line here in twenty-five or fifty years."

Speaking of the enslavement of the Negroes and of the lynchings in the Southern states, particularly Georgia and Mississippi, President Garvey warned the enemies of Negro rights to watch their steps in their persecutions.

MOBILIZATION DAY BACKED BY SAM GOMPERS

Denounces Communists Opposing War

(Special to the Daily Worker.)

ATLANTIC CITY, Aug. 5.—Contrary to pacifist expectations the executive council of the American Federation of Labor, in session here, supported the mobilization day plans of the war department and issued a statement denouncing Communists and pacifists.

Labor was urged to hold "appropriate exercises" Sept. 12, the day on which the republican party government will test the ability of American capitalism to muster its war machinery in order to suppress internal trouble or wage a foreign war.

The resolution condemning President Coolidge's defense day plans was sidetracked and a counter resolution introduced by Samuel Gompers or at his direction.

The red spectre of Communism again appeared at the side of the veteran labor faker, when he saw in the nation-wide wave of protest against capitalist militarism, the lead of the Communists who hold that the workers should unanimously resist the militaristic schemes of the capitalist class. The greater part of the screed issued by Gompers was devoted to an attack on the Communists who are recognized by the reactionary labor faker as the only active revolutionary political party in the United States. Gompers' statement issued thru the messenger boy Woll, is as follows:

Hostile to Morgan.

"Much of the criticism of Defense Day, is insincere, a part of the world-wide organized pacifist propaganda, and hostile to American democracy.

"We have denounced both militarism and pacifism. We understand the designs of the militarists who would take advantage of every opportunity to feed and promote the war spirit, and we, likewise understand the designs of the pacifists who would disarm America first and other nations later. Most of them now prefer to disarm all nations except Soviet Russia, so that dictators of Moscow may find easier their road to a greater dictatorship. We oppose that most of all.

Insincere Criticism.

"It is true that the suggestion for civilian mobilization on Defense Day has opened the door to much pacifist criticism, and to criticism also by those who are not at all pacifists.

"But I am confident that a great deal of the criticism is insincere, a part of the world-wide organized pacifist propaganda and hostile to American democracy. Defense Day itself is a matter of law and I think most labor men will feel that our military establishment may participate properly in the exercises. Our military establishment is no danger and it is composed of Americans who are just like the rest of us in their love of freedom and their love of their country.

Assails Communists.

"The Communists miss no opportunity to turn loose destructive propaganda to undermine American institutions. We know this propaganda from contact and we know its purpose. The most active pacifist influences at work in America today are those directly under Moscow control.

"We oppose militarism at every turn. We have set forth our belief in regard to world peace and we do not delude ourselves into a notion that it is coming thru the efforts of pacifists. It will come thru proper organization.

Balkan War Brewing.

BELGRADE, Bulgaria, Aug. 5.—More than 3000 reservists have been mobilized in spite of protests by Jugo-Slavia. The Jugo-Slavian minister to Sofia is seeking the intervention of France and Britain to prevent another Balkan war.

Arrest Jobless.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 5.—John Walsh, I. W. W., was arrested July 7 and sentenced to 180 day on a vagrancy charge; V. B. Weatherford was sentenced to sixty days in jail on same charge.

No Freedom for Wob

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 5.—John Golden, I. W. W. recently released from San Quentin after having served nearly five years under the Criminal Syndicalism law has been arrested under the Busick injunction and trial set for Sept. 2.

Y. W. L. Open Air Meet Tonight.

The open air meeting held every othe Wednesday by the North Side Branch of the Young Workers League of Chicago will be held this week on the corner of Lincoln and Berry (thirty-one hundred parch, and fifteen hundred west), south-west corner, at 8 p. m. sharp. Interesting speakers will address this meeting and all young workers are cordially invited to attend.

North Side Branch, Y. W. L.

Goose-Step College Hears Discussion of Problems of Russia

By J. LOUIS ENGDAHL.

TODAY, Dr. Boris A. Bakhmeteff prepares his notes for a lecture before the Institute of Politics at Williams College, Massachusetts. He will talk on: "Russia and Its Problems."

* * * *

Bakhmeteff is thoroly acceptable in America's "Goose-Step" colleges. He is received with open arms. He is not "red."

Bakhmeteff will be just as welcome as other "Anti-Soviet" experts like the renegade socialists, John Spargo and William English Walling, and the Bolshevik baiter, Samuel Gompers.

The New York Times will solemnly publish the discussions and join in the hope that Soviet Rule in Russia may yet be overthrown.

* * * *

But the European news will be very disquieting to the enemies of the Russian workers and peasants gathered at Williams College.

Very impolite questions might be asked Dr. Bakhmeteff as to what he thinks of the French government kicking the Kerensky ambassador out of the Russian embassy building at Paris. For W. A. Maklokov is the French duplicate of Bakhmeteff.

Dr. Bakhmeteff came to the United States as the Kerensky ambassador. But before he arrived in Washington nearly seven years ago, Kerensky had been overthrown and Soviet Rule had been established. But the United States recognized Dr. Bakhmeteff just the same and helped him squander some millions of dollars, belonging to the Russian workers and peasants, held in the United States treasury at Washington.

But supporting Bakhmeteff, "the ambassador without a country," became even too raw a proposition for the czarloving capitalist statesmen at Washington, and the "Dr." was relieved of his duties, just as Maklokov has been dumped in Paris.

Yet, in spite of the fact that he has not been in Russia for seven years, Bakhmeteff is duly qualified to lecture before the America's "Goose-Step" educators on "Russia's Problems."

* * * *

That Soviet Rule in Russia intends staying right on the job is shown by the fact that the Russian workers and peasants refuse to pay the czar's debts, even to the so-called "labor government" of J. Ramsay MacDonald, in Great Britain.

It was with a grand gesture that the MacDonald government, when it came into power, recognized the Russian Soviet Government. But recent events have shown that this was merely a gesture. MacDonald will have a hard time explaining to British workers why he insists that the Russian workers should pay the debts of the czarist regime, debts owning to British bankers and big industrialists. Money loaned to the czar was money extended to the bloody rule of Nicholas, and his ancestors, to keep the Russian workers and peasants in chains.

When Moscow rejects this insulting demand coming from MacDonald's fake "labor" government, it merely testifies to the strength of Russian Soviet Rule, and it exposes the sham government reared in London in the name of the British oppressed.

* * * *

Bakhmeteff may soothe the jumping nerves of prostitute professors at the Williams College clinic on the prospects of the world social revolution. If Bakhmeteff couldn't act as a soothing syrup on vital world problems he would never have been called to Massachusetts' peaceful scholastic retreats.

But Morgan, Lamont, Mellon and Hughes are in Europe, putting up the battle of their lives in diplomatic conferences, because they know that "The Problems of Russia" are "The Problems of the World," and that oppressed labor everywhere is moving forward to solve those problems triumphantly for themselves in spite of the Morgans, the MacDonalds and the Williams College Institute of Politics.

BLOT OUT THE STAIN OF "BOB"

(Continued from page 1.)

paign. In the state of Illinois the report is current that the LaFollette forces will support Governor Len Len Small on the Republican ticket.

Are the members of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers who have taken a stand for a class party of workers and farmers, going to turn back and become part of the LaFollette movement which still has one foot in the Republican Party and the other in the Democratic Party?

For the Amalgamated to endorse LaFollette and the LaFollette movement is to surrender the proud record of the membership of the Amalgamated for class conscious political action, and take a step away from the struggle of labor to establish its own political power and to use that power against the capitalists and the capitalist system.

Repudiating LaFollette.

The locals of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers have been in the forefront of the Farmer-Labor movement. We do not believe that they will now turn back. Already locals in Boston and Philadelphia have repudiated the action of the General Executive Board. They have aligned themselves in support of the only candidates in this election who represent the class interests of the workers—the Workers Party candidates, Foster and Gitlow.

We call upon the members and the locals of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers everywhere to follow this lead and to repudiate the action of the General Executive Board which attempts to make of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers the tail to the kite of the LaFollette movement.

Stand firm for class action and the class striuggle!

Central Executive Committee,
WORKERS PARTY OF AMERICA,
WILLIAM Z. FOSTER,
National Chairman.
C. E. RUTHENBERG,
Executive Secretary.

FOREIGN DEBTS TO U. S. MUST BE PAID SAYS 'TEDDY' BURTON

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Aug. 5.—Foreign debts owing to the United States will not be cancelled and there is no desire on the part of the American people that they should be cancelled.

This was the gist of a letter from Theodore E. Burton, member of the United States Debt Funding Commission, read today before members of the Institute of Politics in session here.

Booze and Nighties Big Issue in Mule State Election Fight

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 5.—The Ku Klux Klan and prohibition were the dominant issues today as Missourians went to the polls to cast their ballots in the state primary election.

The day was a legal holiday thruout the state, dawned clear and hot but by 10 o'clock, reports reaching here from all sections of the state, indicated the vote might prove one of the lightest ever recorded in Missouri.

Lynch Negro.

SCOOBA, Miss., Aug. 5.—A mob took Harry Shelton, a Negro, held on charges of assaulting a white woman, from the jail at Scooba and lynched him.

RICH SLAYERS' TRIAL PICNIC OF PUBLICITY

Workers Pay Bills for Loeb-Leopold Play

The trial of the two million aire slayers, Loeb and Leopold, is like a satirical play. The judge, State's Attorney Crowe, and the lawyers are pleased because they are getting the publicity of their careers. Those allowed inside the courtroom as spectators are tickled at the "distinction." Loeb and Leopold are pleased because they are the center of the stage. They seem to know they are not going to be hung.

Those concerned with the trial are making a social function out of it. Everybody is allowed to talk plenty of time, and to talk as much as he wants. When Dr. Healy, defense allenist, "couldn't remember which defendant planned the murder," Judge Caverly allowed half hour recess for the doctor to scan his notes and refresh his memory. Why not? All the court expenses are being paid for out of the taxpayers' money and the lawyers are well-paid by the Loeb and Leopold families, who get their money from the labor of children and underpaid workers.

C. S. Defense.

Members of the Loeb family have hit upon a novel way of getting their son out of danger of the gallows. "Mrs. Loeb is a Christian Scientist," a Southern newspaper woman told the DAILY WORKER. "She has hired the most eminent Science practitioners in America, and they are sitting in the court room now, holding the right thot, that there is no evil and, in their way, praying to their God to get Dickie off."

Dr. William Healy testified that Nathan Leopold, Junior, and Richard Loeb were "not perverted, not in the sense of the word usually implied, but are childishly perverted." More whispering sessions were held, with Clarence Darrow and the other defense attorneys putting their heads up to Dr. Healy's ears to protect the public morals.

Other Perverted Sons.

In spite of Dr. Healy's statement that it is unusual for a millionaire son to be mixed up with a murder case, the reporters recalled numerous instances of perverted sons of the rich. Not only the case of Harry Thaw, but of Walter Ward, who killed a sailor last year in White Plains because the sailor threatened to expose Ward's perversion. Young Ward was found not guilty on a plea of self-defense, and the capitalist papers withheld the facts because of the immense amount of advertising that the Ward Baking Company threatened to withdraw from the papers.

Nathan Leopold, father of one of the murderers, sat in court, blinking down into his vest. The DAILY WORKER reporter recalled the employes of Leopold, who, while the trial was going on, are working in Leopold's factory at $15 a week, piling up the money to pay the expenses of the trial of the "childish perverts."

MORGAN AGENTS GOING THRU A SIFTING PROCESS

(Special to the DAILY WORKER)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—The American diplomatic corps is now known officially as the foreign service—has undergone so many rapid changes in recent weeks and so many others appear to be impending that President Coolidge is finding it necessary to look around for some new envoys for Ambassador Rank.

On the president's desk today was the resignation, already accepted, of Charles Beecher Warren as the United States Ambassador to Mexico.

Japan Post Vacant.

Only a few weeks ago, the president likewise accepted the resignation of Cyrus F. Woods, ambassador to Japan.

Even while Warren was at the White House and his resignation was simply a matter of putting the brief words on paper, reliable reports reached Washington from Paris that Myron T. Herrick, who first went to France as the American ambassador in the Taft administration and served there in the days of the war, waited to get out of the foreign service and back to his home in Ohio.

Relations With Mikado Critical.

In the case of Japan, whose ambassador to the United States is now in his own country on leave of absence, the State Department has not decided whether to send out another ambassador to take up Woods' duties.

Another important European post which may be vacated, according to reports in political circles, here, is that at Berlin, now occupied by Ambassador Houghton.

BANKERS RUSH TO EUROPE FOR GOLD HARVEST

J. P. Morgan and Host of Others Come

By JAY LOVESTONE.

Never before in the history of the United States have so many American bankers "vacationed" or openly worked in Europe. Not even in the days before the Yankee Expeditionary Force was rushed to Flanders field, not even in the days when the American bankers and manufacturers were reaping a harvest in supplying ammunition and food to the Allied armies have so many Wall Street financiers filled the alleys and by-ways of the European business streets.

Before the summer is over nearly every American bank of standing will have its representatives in London, Berlin, Paris or some other big center across the Atlantic. They are all gathering these in expectation of a big "killing" as a result of the Dawes plan being accepted by the London Reparations Conference. Of course, the biggest banks are on the job first. The smaller banks will follow suit.

Morgan, Jr., Leads.

We reproduce only a partial list of the representatives of the gigantic American banking houses already present in or about to sail for Europe.

1. J. P. Morgan, of J. P. Morgan & Co.
2. Thomas W. Lamont, of J. P. Morgan & Co.
3. Owen D. Young, of The Bankers Trust Co.
4. Seward Prosser, of The Bankers Trust Co.
5. Andrew W. Mellon, of The Mellon National Bank, etc.
6. Otto H. Kahn, of Kuhn, Loeb & Co.
7. Mortimer L. Schiff, of Kuhn, Loeb & Co.
8. George F. Baker, Jr., of First National Bank of New York.
9. Ernest Stauffen, Jr., Vice-Pres. of The New York Trust Co.
10. George F. Fraker, Vice-Pres. of the National City Bank.
11. E. F. McManus, of The Corn Exchange Bank.
12. J. Wray Cleveland, Vice-Pres. of the Title Guarantee & Trust Co.
13. H. C. Richard, President of the State Bank of New York.
14. George LeBlanc, Vice-Pres. of the Equitable Trust Co.

The above banking overlords are only the advanced guard of the army of American exploiters that is rushing "over there" to garner a harvest of fabulous profits.

Thru Woodrow Wilson.

In 1918 American capitalist imperialism, thru its pliant tool, Woodrow Wilson, laid down the hypocritical fourteen points for Germany's political surrender. On the tenth anniversary of the outbreak of the World War, American capitalist imperialism has sent fourteen of its leading bankers to lay down the terms of Germany's economic surrender, to work out the ways and means of turning the German workingman into willing wage slaves of Wall Street's newest sweat shops.

Who would dare say what the next decade will bring to the United States and the rest of the world if the international exploiters' hands are not stayed soon by the working class in the manouver to enslave scores of millions?

Young Workers Plan Picnics with Soviet Technical Aid Group

In response to the call sent out by the National Office of the Young Workers League to help finance their semi-monthly organ, THE YOUNG WORKER, the Chicago League is making hasty preparations for a big Picnic to be held in conjunction with the Society for Technical Aid to Soviet Russia on Sunday, August the 24th at National Grove, Riverside, Ill.

Amusements such as soccer ball games, baseball, races of all kinds, bowling, dancing and music will be of course abundant.

All the Chicago Junior Groups will take part in this Picnic. There will be speakers, there will be Junior demonstrations. The Juniors of Chicago will do their share to help raise finances for their official organ, THE YOUNG COMRADE.

This promises to be an unusually interesting picnic. More details will follow.

John D.'s Daughter to Blame.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—Action of City Magistrate, Norman Marsh in giving Abbey Rockefeller, daughter of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., a suspended sentence when she was brought before him as a second offender for speeding was referred today to the bar association by Mayor Hylan. The Mayor enclosed the report of Commissioner of Accounts Hirschfeld blaming Marsh, and demanded the law be applied "with equal force to all."

"Trade-Mark" Registered 157417

TAKE NO CHANCES
BUY THE ORIGINAL

THE GENUINE
THE RELIABLE

High Test "No Boil" Malt Extract

If you want purity— If you want reliability— If you want results— If you want to save time, worry and fuss— Insist on "No-Boil."

It is the original "No Boil" Malt Extract manufactured solely from the choicest Malted Barley.

For Sale by Leading Dealers

HIGH TEST MALT EXTRACT COMPANY
20 East Eighth Street Chicago, Ill.
Phone Wabash 2580

1917 North Western Avenue
6748 South Halsted Street
605 East 63rd Street
5062 Lincoln Avenue
1503 Roosevelt Road
Leiter Store Basement

NEW YORK CITY Party Activities

OPEN AIR MEETINGS.

Thursday, August 7.

Section 2—110th St. and 5th Ave.—Speakers to be announced.

Friday, August 8.

Section 1—Irving Place and 14th St.—Speaker: W. Weinstone. 14th and 5th Ave.—Speaker: S. Felshin. Jefferson St. and East Broadway—Speakers: S. Nessin and others.

Section 2—110th St. and 5th Ave.—Speakers: Joe Padgug, Margaret Undjus, and others.

Section 3—138th St. and Willis Ave.—Speaker: Carl Brodsky, etc.

Section 4—Grand and Rockling Sts.—Speaker: George Siskind, Union and So. 2nd Sts.—Speakers: Mary Hartman, Ettlinger.

Section 5—Stone and Pitkin Aves.—Speakers: Ludwig Lore and others.

Section 6—12th Ave. and 42nd St.—Speakers: George Primoff, Piason.

Saturday, August 9.

Section 3—Oliver and Madison Sts.—Speaker: Ettlinger.

Section 4—163rd St. and So. Blvd.—Speaker: Rebecca Grecht.

Section 6—Grand Street Extension—Speakers: Rose P. Stokes and George Primoff.

Section 5—Stone and Pitkin Ave.—Jos. Brahey.

Section 6—35th St. and Mermaid Ave.—Speakers to be announced.

Union Hill, New Jersey.

Tuesday, August 5—14th St. and Bergenline Ave.—Speaker: Sam Darcy.

Wednesday, August 6—Speaker to be announced.

GOVERNORS IN MILITARISTS' GOOSE STEP

Communists Protest Against War

(Special to the DAILY WORKER)

WASHINGTON, August 5.—Officials' defense of "Defense Day," rechristened from "Mobilization Day," continues apace with increasing dissatisfaction among the people at the government's militaristic move.

Secretary of War Weeks explains to an inquisitive clergyman that the "defense test" . . . "will be an endeavor on the part of the federal government to inform our people as fully as possible on the present status of our security."

In other words, the "defense day" can be used as the basis for propaganda for an increased army and navy to carry out the United States capitalists' imperialistic plans.

Other defenders of the status quo and of "Mobilization Day" are claiming that the "defense test" is merely a "fire drill on an adult scale.

Governor's Approve.

Governor W. W. Brandon of Alabama has issued his proclamation calling on the state to co-operate on Sept. 12 in "Mobilization Day."

Gov. Al Smith of New York is straddling the issue at present and refuses to ask his state's co-operation with Coolidge, altho he doesn't loudly dissent with Charlie Bryan and John W. Davis.

Gov. Ross of Wyoming said: 'Since the United States is so overwhelmingly against the League of Nations . . . there is nothing to do in the U. S. but to prepare to fight.' And he is planning how to mobilize Wyoming for Sept. 12.

Sweet Stumbling Block.

Gov. Sweet of Colorado is the first governor on record definitely against "Mobilization Day." He said: "I do not propose to mobilize the National Guard of Colorado, Sept. 12. . . . Nor do I propose to ask participation of civilians in military affairs." Gov. Sweet may change his mind when the politicians get busy.

The Seattle Fellowship Club have protested to little Calvin against the "warlike move." Various peace societies are of course protesting, tho most of them could be fooled into another war by a George Creel and the help of the capitalistic newspapers.

Reactionaries Ready.

All the warlike "veterans" (not the World War Veterans organizations); daughters of this and that war; camp fire girls and boy scouts; Sentinels of the Republic; National Security League; National Civic Federation; American Legion; Citizens Military Training camps; and the rest of the reactionary "patriots" are for "Mobilization Day." Gives them a chance to show off and sputter a lot of glowing sentiment to cover up their greed.

Sammy Gompers, a member of the black National Civic Federation, is hesitating about croaking against "Mobilization Day." His friends of the American Legion and the Civic Federation will tell him what to say.

The Communists alone protest sincerely against capitalist wars and "Mobilization Day" as a military gesture.

Goose-Step.

General "Blackjack" Pershing, who hasn't been getting so much publicity sine he "won the war" for America, is confident that all the states will be in line Sept. 12. They will probably be forced into the goose-step.

Following the demonstrations, reports will be rendered by each community to the war department showing the following:

(A)—Personnel of regular army, national guard and organized reserves participating in each locality.

(B)—Approximate number of other personnel participating.

(C)—Character of demonstrations—parades, public meetings or other ceremonies.

(D)—Activities relating to securing recruits for the day.

(E)—Local management of demonstrations, how constituted and operated.

(F)—Interest aroused and general results believed to have been accomplished.

Cal's "He-Men."

WASHINGTON, August 5.—JOn the strength of charges made by Henry P. Whitesell, a crippled world war veteran, two sailors from the presidential yatch Mayflower—John a Shepherd and Frank Moore—were arrested today. Whitesell said that two sailors beat him into unconsciousness and robbed him of $85.

Oil Capitol Debtless.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—The City of Washington is out of debt, for the first time in history, District of Columbia commissioners announced this after it was made known that funds for the retirement of the last remaining bond issue of the city were available in the treasury.

BISCUIT MAKERS IN MANY CITIES HEAR OF Y. W. L.

Young Workers Listen to Communist Youth

The Young Workers League drive to educate the workers thru out the country working in the National Biscuit company to the aims of the League is now on in full swing in New York, Pittsburgh, Detroit, Cleveland and many other cities. Over one thousand copies of the last issue of the Young Worker, which exposed the sweat shop conditions imposed by the Biscuit company, were sold in front of the Chicago plant at 1000 West Washington Street.

Summarizing the results already achieved in the National Biscuit Company drive, Barney Mass said, "The result obtained is an existing potential nucleus, also the sale of eleven hundred Young Workers; the furthering of the shop [economic demands; popularizing the League thru these demands; and the general propaganda values."

Street meetings have been held outside the factory, at which the young workers of the company have listened attentively, in spite of the grumbling of the special police hired by the company to protect the workers from contamination by the "red menace."

The investigatiaon of the conditions in the plant discloses that while the company is very strong financially, wages are being lowered, the employees being put on part time, and unionism is not allowed.

"The employes work all day in suffocating rooms, standing on their feet," says Barney Mass. "Toiling for 9 and 10 hours per day and not being paid overtime. Keeping the boys and girls divided in issues of nationality and religion is another means the bosses use in wringing more profits from their labor."

Fight Over Votes.

PANAMA CITY, Aug. 5.—Two persons were reported killed today in an election fight in the interior. General Quintero, 'hero' of the armed clash between Panama and Costa Rica, was defeated by the administration candidate.

AS WE SEE IT

By T. J. O'FLAHERTY.

(Continued from page 1)

earth may become over-populated. Note, says Arthur that the trees do not grow up into the moon and that the tails of dogs stop growing just in time. Wise Arthur also pities the Russian people because he sees millions of them dying of another famine. Fortunately Mr. Brisbane is careless with his facts. After predicting a business boom, this Pollyanna pays Mussolini a compliment and calls it a day. The striking pressmen on Hearst's Seattle Post-Intelligencer, picture Brisbane and Hinman, one boosting liberalism and the other standing for Big Biz as two dolls sitting on the lap of the ventriloquist Hearst. That's about the size of it.

* * *

J. Mercer Vernon, assistant to William M. Butler, campaign manager for President Coolidge, was arrested with a whiskey flask on his hip pocket in one of the lively restaurants that still attract devotees of the gay and unconventional night life in the city of Chicago. It appears that the Republican chieftain was so engrossed in the observation of several lady entertainers, dressed in the earliest fashion, that he did not notice the approach of the police. The police, being democrats did not hearken unto the plea of Mr. Vernon, that publicity on the arrest would bring harm to many men of prominence. Whiskey and oil seem to stick to the present administration.

* * *

The Republicans claim that the endorsement of the LaFolette candidacy by the American Federation of Labor means a gain for Calvin Coolidge and a loss for James J. Davis. The Democrats claim that the LaFollette candidacy is going to hurt Coolidge and will prove a boon to the Democratic ticket. The Democrats are apparently taking this idea seriously, so some of their papers are giving LaFollette more publicity, than is given to their own candidates. That the workers are thoroly disgusted with both capitalist parties is evident and but for the treachery of the labor fakers and the socialists they would not be obliged to act as the tail to the political kite of a bourgeois politician.

* * *

Many amusing the incredible yarns have emanated from Berlin, Riga and other European cities about what is transpiring in Russia, but the clumsiest and most ridiculous tale yet given prominence in the American capitalist press is the story of Lenin's thumbnail sketch of Zinoviev, Kamaneff, Trotsky and other Communist leaders. According to the yarn Lenin did not hold his comrades in high esteem. Trotsky loved to pose, Zinoviev had no ability, Stalin was small minded, Bucharin was dull, and Kameneff unreliable. The story was such an obvious frame that nobody but an imbecile would take it seriously, yet the Chicago Tribune writes a lengthy editorial on the fable, winding up with the jaded assertion that the Russians like tyrants and therefore tolerate Lenin's successors, while Americans are so different.

Anti-Capitalist War Sentiment Is Forcing Militarists to Fight

NEW YORK, August 5.— Popular protest against the government's Mobilization Day, September 12, is rising in the east on the ground that this is an attempt to militarize the nation comparable to the pre-war preparedness hysteria which led the country directly into war. In order to combat the growing pacifist and anti-capitalist war sentiment and make Mobilization Day a success in the New York district, Maj. General Robert Lee Bullard, U. S. army, has called a conference of 19 so-called patriotic organizations for August 14. This conference is expected to envolve plans to put over Mobilization Day despite popular protest. Bullard has issued a public defense of Mobilization Day along the lines of Coolidge's and Pershing's propaganda.

Canadian Unemployment.

TORONTO, Ont., Aug. 5.—Over 3000 men are out of work in this city alone which is an unusual number for this time of the year. Thirty men a day are leaving for the farms. There is no call for workers in the timber regions and none on the Welland Canal where there is almost always work. The workers expect an even lower wage scale in the lumber camps than last year.

Send in that Subscription Today.

DAVIS STRADDLES MILITARIST AND PACIFIST CAMPS

Generals Worried by Public's Apathy

(By The Federated Press)

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.— John W. Davis, Morgan-Democratic candidate for president, true to his position of evasion on the labor, klan and liquor issues, is trying unsuccessfully to straddle the fence on the question of militarism. In order to support a similar gesture by his running mate Governor Bryan and strike a political blow at Calvin Coolidge, Davis has issued a statement opposing civilian mobilization as provided for by the government in its plan for a militarist demonstration. It is pointed out that employers object to giving a one day vacation to workers anyway.

But Davis is careful not to offend the militarists. He is all for keeping "the military organizations of the country in adequate practice."

Fire-brand Pershing has arrived from Europe and, after giving out a long propaganda statement supporting the proposed mobilization of which he was one of the initiators, ends with this provocative threat: "I can say right now that I and every ex-service man is ready to go to the mat on this question of national defense."

Frightened by the popular lack of interest in mobilization day or open hostility to it, the army is calling out its generals to fight in the after-dinner trenches. Brig. Gen. A. C. Dalton, Asst. Quartermaster General, was rushed to the Rotary Club front at the Hotel McAlpin and laid down a gas barage for the militarists.

Dictator Stepping Down?

DIJON, Aug. 5.—General Primo Rivera, head of the Spanish directory government, declared in a speech today that the directory will soon resign, handing the government over to a constitutional assembly.

Another Reactionary Out.

JACKSON, Mich., Aug. 5.—Charles Elroy Townsend, for 12 years United States Senator from Michigan, is dead. For 12 years, 1910 to 1922, Mr. Townsend "served" Michigan in the Senate, being defeated in 1922 by Senator Ferris.

Printed on a fine grade of paper. 12 inches wide by 18 inches high. Suitable for framing or posting in your window.

VOTE and WORK
FOR
FOSTER for PRESIDENT

Get a photographic reproduction of this new picture of Foster free.

Every Reader of THE DAILY WORKER
will be a worker for
FOSTER FOR PRESIDENT

THE DAILY WORKER
will be the best, the most incessant worker for
FOSTER FOR PRESIDENT

YOU!! WORK!!

For Foster for President by securing new subscribers to THE DAILY WORKER

4 MONTH SPECIAL ELECTION CAMPAIGN SUBSCRIPTIONS (For new subscribers only) $2.00

Get a New Reader for the DAILY WORKER and a Big Picture of Foster for Yourself

USE THE COUPON

THE DAILY WORKER
1113 W. Washington Blvd.,
Chicago, Ill.

I have sold a Special 4-Month Election Campaign sub. Please send me FREE the picture of Foster.

Name: .....
Street: .....
City: ..... State: .....

New Subscriber's
Name: .....
Street: .....
City: .....
State: .....

The World of Labor — Industry & Agriculture

WHEAT FRAUDS BY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE HEAD

Julius Barnes Branded as Crooked Exporter

By LAWRENCE TODD.
(Special to the Daily Worker.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5. — Julius Barnes, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, chief oracle of business morality—after Judge Gary and James M. Emery—wherever men of "substance" gather around an expensive dinner board, is in trouble.

It isn't because he is the last faithful follower of Herbert Hoover, once prominent in American politics and price-fixing, nor because he is responsible for the mysterious conditions under which the million dollar "American-plan" headquarters of the Chamber, opposite the White House, is being erected by an all-union force of building mechanics.

Barnes is embarrassed by this billet-doux from the Federal Trade Commission:

"The Commission has issued a citation directed to Barnes-Ames Company, New York City, and a subsidiary, the Barnes-Irwin Co., of Philadelphia, exporters of wheat. The complaint alleges that the respondents have shipped to foreign customers wheat of an inferior quality than that specified, such wheat containing quantities of chaff, straw, weed seeds, soil, sand, and other foreign substances.

"According to the citation, the respondents' alleged acts have the capacity and tendency to injure and damage generally the reputation and business of persons of the United States competing with respondents in export trade, and to bring into disrepute in foreign countries the respondents' competitors.

"Under the law, whenever the Commission has reason to believe that an unfair method of competition has been used against the public interest, it must issue its complaint. However, the question whether or not such method has been used is passed upon by the Commission until after respondents have had 30 days in which to answer and the issue has been tried out."

Radio Makes Prisoner's Fame

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Aug. 5.—Fame waiting at the prison gates for Virgil Coombs, came today in a guise that was unknown when the 23 year old boy started serving time for murder seven years ago. His "Peaceful Village" prison band is known to radio audiences as one of the best in the country and that acclaim has brought him flattering offers.

The boy was sentenced to life for conspiring with a woman for the murder of her husband. He was taking music lessons from the couple when the woman became infatuated with him. Governor Hyde commuted his sentence a year ago.

Send in that Subscription Today.

PRETTY CHORUS GIRLS NO LONGER AT MANAGERS' MERCY; ACTORS' UNION GIVES THEM PROTECTION

By BEATRICE CARLIN
(For the Federated Press)

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—With the opening of the theatrical season only a few weeks off, the Chorus Equity Association is putting into operation its new 10-year agreement with the Managers' Protective Association. The contract provides that at least 80 per cent of every chorus shall be Equity members, and the other 20 per cent shall be required to pay to the Chorus Equity an amount equal to the dues they would pay if they were members of Equity in good standing. All other managers are guaranteeing a 100 per cent Equity chorus.

This union has accomplished changes of far-reaching effect in the last six years, for its chorus men and girls. In this profession, where youth and beauty are ever at a premium, members come, have their little vogue, and go again, so that within 5 to 10 years there may be an entire shift of personnel. Comparatively few of the younger members of the present-day chorus are veterans of the bitter fight of 1919.

Paying Her Bills.

In the old days before the 1919 strike, the chorus girl had to pay for her shoes and stockings. One girl tells of rehearsing for 10 weeks, (without pay as was then common), and having a $60 shoe bill presented to her the opening night out of town. To pay this bill $5 a week was deducted from her salary of $25. But the manager decided to change costumes for one number before the New York opening so the shoes for that number had to be discarded and others purchased. The week before the opening, the cast was laid off without salary, new shoes and stockings had to be bought at six week intervals during the entire New York season, and when the show finally closed our gay young chorus girl was in debt $55 to the management, altho $5 a week had been taken out of her salary all season.

Since the Chorus Equity turned the tables on the managers by making them pay for shoes and stockings, one or two sets have a friendly way of lasting thru the season.

Pay For Rehearsal.

There used to be a little trick in the game, of rehearsing from 2 to 4 weeks, without pay, just on the chance of being kept on for the show. But if, after 3 or 9 weeks rehearsal without pay, a girl did not suit, or the manager took a notion, for personal reasons, to dismiss her, he was within his rights in doing so. The Chorus Equity has scotched that by insisting that all rehearsals over 4 weeks be paid for and the managers who had called the heavens to witness that a show could not go on without at least 8 weeks rehearsal, contrive very well now with 4 weeks.

Protection on the Road.

Before the strike, managers jumped chorus people all over the country, —the chorus paid for their own sleepers. The managers pay now, and forthwith it has become possible for the chorus to travel in daylight hours. Since August, 1919, the old abuse of letting girls out without notice, sometimes far from home, without return fare, has been made impossible. Likewise, if a member chooses to leave the chorus after proper notice, it is necessary for her to pay only half own fare back, and not also the successor's fare on. If the management wishes to fire a member of the chorus, two weeks' notice is required and fare paid both for the outgoing and the oncoming member.

WORKERS ON KNIT GOODS FORM UNION

Strong Philadelphia Local Organized

BY L. F. LA BRIE.
(Special to the Daily Worker.)

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Aug. 5.—A Philadelphia Local of the Knit Goods Workers Union was organized at an enthusiastic and well attended meeting held at the Amalgamated Center, 121 Pine St. The meeting was conducted under the chairmanship of Brother Wm. Borland, secretary of the Amalgamated Lace Operatives of America. Brothers Wm. Vance of the Tapestry Carpet Workers Union of this city and L. F. La Brie, secretary-treasurer of the Federated Textile Unions of America were the principal speakers. Anna Litvakoff of the Ladies Garment Workers Union addressed the meeting in Yiddish.

The speakers ably pointed out that the only form of organization that is capable of successfully fighting the bosses is the industrial form which takes in all workers engaged in all the various branches of the industry. Numerous instances were brought to light which clearly showed how craft unionism helps to divide the workers instead of uniting them.

The Executive Committee was elected consisting of one representative from each shop. Frank Goodison was elected secretary. It is planned to hold a series of meetings in the near future in various sections of the city where the Knit Goods shops are located.

A letter of greetings from the Knit Goods Union of New York was read and received with spirited applaudes.

Workers Organize a Group to Study Ido, Worldwide Language

PITTSBURGH, Pa., August 5.—A number of workers, who are taking the international language question seriously, gathered at the International Lyceum last Sunday night, where Comrade E. J. Horacek, vice-chairman of the Workers Ido Federation and secretary of the local C. C. C. of W. P., lectured on the subect.

In his usual clear and logical way the speaker described the evolution of the international language movement. He pointed out the enormous difficulties and waste of time at the international congresses, where so many nationalities are trying to make themselves understood by using three or four national languages. He shortly described the logical construction of IDO and also related how the C. I. C. appointed a Study Commission which recommended to base the propaganda for an international language upon the study of IDO. There are two groups of people, which show an increasing interest in this question and which will bring the final solution of the problem a step further, the fans and the Communists. The speaker showed that the working class is one that mostly need an auxiliary language and consequently are most interested in the problem.

After the lecture a local group was organized with over a dozen members. A class was also arranged for that will be held every Monday night at 7 o'clock at the International Lyceum. Those interested in joining the class or the group can get further information from the local chairman, Comrade S. Kolesar, 3110 Westborn street, N. S. Pittsburgh.

Labor Board Delays.

The Railroad Labor Board postponed until September 5th hearings in the controversy between forty-three Western railroads and the Brotherhoods of Engineers and Firemen.

SOCIALIST SAYS FRANCE WILLING TO GREET RUSSIA

De Jure Recognition Is Favored by Unions

(Rosta News.)

MOSCOW, Aug. 5.—Mrs. Jouhaux, the prominent French Trades Union leader and delegate of the French Socialist Party to the Congress of the Amsterdam' International of Trade Unions, stated that he was in favor of de jure recognition of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics. He further stated that this demand was put forth by the French Trade Unions and that the actual political position in France was such as to make possible negotiations on this matter without any complications.

The only question that might offer some difficulty is that of the old Tsarist debts to small French bond and obligation-holders, but even that question could be fairly easily solved if the Soviet showed any willingness to meet half-way the wishes of these holders.

"I can assure you with confidence," declared Mr. Jouhaux, "that Mr. Herriot is certainly in favor of de jure recognition of the USSR. At the same time, the French General Union of Trade Unions also favors the immediate resumption of normal relations with the Soviet Republics. As for various economic and financial outstanding questions between the two countries, they can always be taken up and discussed at some future time."

Referring to the question of co-operation between the Trade Union movements of both countries, Mr. Jouhaux stated that he was in favor of admitting the Russian Trade Unions into the Amsterdam International, as it was incongruous to prolong the separate existence of two parallel Trade Union Internationals. "If the Russian Trade-Unionists come forth with such a demand, they will not find the way closed to them," concluded the French leader.

Mussolini Suppresses More Newspapers for Criticizing Fascisti

(Special to the Daily Worker.)

ROME, Italy, August 5.—Premier Mussolini has had to back down on the suppression of the seven Milan newspapers (all the city's dailies except his own brother's) and rescind the order. Of course he charges that the local authorities interpreted the censorship decree "too broadly."

He has not rescinded the suppression of "Sereno" here, which started the trouble by publishing a sensational article entitled "The Dramatic Confidences of Cesare and Filippelli," in which Filippelli's letter to a friend was published. Filippelli wrote that he expected to be free soon because he "had demonstrated his own innocence."

Jewish Colonists to Get Land In Ukraine For Farming Usage

MOSCOW, Aug. 5. — The People's Commissariat for Agriculture in the Ukraine has published its decisbn to allot, from the general colonization area in the neighborhood of the Jewish colonies in the Ukraine, land for Jewish colonization purposes.

The Crimean District Committee of the Communist Party has adopted a resolution to consider in principle: first, whether it is possible to settle Jewish farmers on the free land in the Crimea, and second, to investigate, together with a special committee to be appointed for that purpose, the possibilities of settling Jewish town workers on the available land.

Flying Again.

BROUGH, England, Aug. 5.— The American round the world flyers plan to hop off Monday for Kirkwall, Scotland, where the flight across the Atlantic will begin.

GARY CHUCKLES AS HE RAISES DIVIDENDS WHILE 60,000 STEEL WORKERS WALK THE STREETS

By LELAND OLDS
(Federated Press Industrial Editor)

Sixty thousand steel workers are walking the streets and the earnings of those still with a job have shrunk 12½ per cent, but Judge Gary is optimistic. Why not? He announces with satisfaction that U. S. Steel will pay not only the regular quarterly $1.25 a share on its common stock but also the extra 50c a share inaugurated out of the generous profits of last year.

The giant corporation's profit for the second quarter of 1924 amounted to $41,831,039 in spite of the steady decline in production to less than two-thirds of capacity. Total profits for the six months ended June 30 were $91,456,484. Gary has enough profits to pay the full year's regular dividends and the extras in addition.

Soft for Baker.

Gary's privileged class won't feel the depression in their pocketbooks. There's George F. Baker, for instance, in March this multi-millionaire owned 58,650 shares of U. S. Steel. His little check for the second quarter must have been about $102,637.50. He is probably optimistic too.

But how about the steel workers whose average quarterly earnings figure at about 1-270 of the share of this single stockholder? Reports to the department of labor show that approximately one-sixth of those employed in March are on the streets today. This means from 60,000 to 70,000 unemployed in the industry. Those still at work have had their average weekly pay reduced from $31.10 in March and $30.59 during the first quarter to $26.85.

22 Per Cent Less in Wages.

The working population dependent upon the steel industry for support is getting in total weekly wage payments 22 per cent less than during the first quarter.

The corporation excess profits do not support these workers during involuntary idleness. They belong to property to keep the owners from suffering any loss in spending power even during a protracted depression. The monopolistic control exercised by this corporation enables it to maintain prices which will set a profit of $12,000,000 a month with operations cut to less than 2-3 capacity. What would the owners say to a rule which would give workers a full year's earnings even tho employed only two-thirds of the time?

Geneva Labor Bureau Secretary Would Like To See Soviet Russia

(Rosta News.)

MOSCOW, (by mail.)—In reply to a question by press representatives at Vienna, where he attended the Congress of the Amsterdam International of Trade Unions, as to his views on the situation of the workers and on the social laws in the Union of Soviet Republics, Mr. Albert Thomas, General Secretary of the International Bureau of Labor, attached to the League of Nations, stated that this was a question which interested him very much and that he considered necessary to establish direct contact between the Bureau of Labor and the Soviet Trades Union organizations. If possible, he said, the best way would be to establish there a system of correspondents just in the same way as in the United States of America.

Mr. Thomas added that, in his view, the best way of establishing effective contact would be his own trip to the Soviet Union and expressed the hope that it would be possible for him personally to go there some time.

Manganese at Pre-War.

MOSCOW, August 5.—The British from Potl, Black Sea, that this port is very active in manganese export trade, a considerable number of foreign ships being engaged in loading this Caucasian mineral. It is stated that this year's exports of manganese from Caucasus will reach the corresponding pre-war level.

Send in that Subscription Today.

Your Union Meeting

FIRST WEDNESDAY, AUG. 6, 1924.

No.	Name of Local and Place of Meeting.
38	Amalgamated Clothing Workers, 1566 N. Robey St.
179	B. & S. I. W., Stone Derrick, 180 W. Washington St.
181	Brick and Clay Federation, 62nd and Halsted.
2	Brick and Clay, Village Hall, Lansing.
10	Carpenters, 12 Garfield Blvd.
21	Carpenters, Western and Lexington.
242	Carpenters, 5443 S. Ashland Ave.
250	Carpenters, Blacker's Hall, Lake Forest.
643	Carpenters, 180 W. Washington St.
1645	Carpenters, 508 N. Clark St.
1784	Carpenters, 1638 N. Halsted St. H. Fehlin., Rec. Sec'y., 2253 Grace St. Irving 7597.
1922	Carpenters, 8414 S. Halsted St.
2298	Carpenters, 113 S. Ashland Blvd.
	Carvers (Wood), 1619 N. California.
293	Conductors (R. R.), 127 N. Francisco Ave., 7 p. m.
798	Electricians, 127 N. Francisco Ave.
85	Engineers, So. Chi., 11408 Michigan Avenue.
47	Firemen and Engineman, 7429 S. Chicago Ave., 8:30 s. m.
275	Firemen and Enginemen, Lake and Francisco, 9:30 a. m.
	Hod Carriers District Council, 814 W. Harrison St.
10	Janitors (Mun.), Keddie and Belmont.
9	Ladies' Garment Workers, 328 W. Van Buren St.
396	Machinists, 318 W. 59th St.
478	Machinists, 3002 W. Madison St.
830	Machinists, 1182 Milwaukee Ave.
815	Maintenance of Way, 8306 S. Halsted St.
	Marine Cooks, 357 N. Clark St.
25	Moulders, 2900 W. Madison St.
54	Painters, Sherman and Main Sts., Evanston, Ill.
434	Painters, 180 W. Washington St.
883	Painters, Moose Hall, La Grange.
972	Painters, Odd Fellows Hall, Blue Island.
5	Plasterers, 910 W. Monroe St.
16483	Poultry and Game, 200 Weber St.
236	Railway Clerks, 549 W. Washington.
225	Railroad Trainmen, 312 W. 59th St.
900	Railway Trainmen, 59th and University.
73	Sheet Metal, 714 W. Harrison St.
725	Teamsters (Sods), 220 S. Ashland Blvd.
733	Teamsters, 220 S. Ashland Blvd.
769	Teamsters, 6258 S. Ashland Ave.
247	Typographical, 9018 S. Clark St.
8	Will Paper Crafts, Chicago and Oak Park.

(Note—Unless otherwise stated all meetings are at 8 p. m.)

Electric Lamps in Mines.

Electric lamps for miners are rapidly supplanting the old flame safety lamps, according to a bulletin just published by the United States Bureau of Mines, department of the Interior. There are about 200,000 electric lamps in use now in the United States.

The booklet goes into the history of coal mining as connected with lamps and offers much interesting data. It may be secured by writing for Bulletin 227, "Flame Safety Lamps," to Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C.

Bread Prices Rise.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Aug. 5.—Bread prices have already gone up a cent a loaf of 18 ounces. The bakers declare this is because of increased prices of flour and wheat. From Saskatoon, in the heart of the wheat country, bread is 3 loaves for 27 cents, an increase of 2 cents per 3 loaves. The farmers are complaining because the middle-men, the stock market gamblers got the increase and they, being pressed by bankers to sell early, got poor prices for wheat and now pay dearly for bread.

Mellon Doesn't Care.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.— Smuggling of aliens and narcotics into the United States has become almost as serious a problem as illegal booze running. Following disclosures at New York that shiploads of aliens and cargoes of narcotics form a part of the notorious "Rum Row" just outside the twelve-mile limit, agents of the Treasury Department requested authority of the State Department to make an official inspection of the rum fleet to determine conditions there.

Another Bird.

LYONS, France, August 5.—Major Zanni, Argentine aviator who is attempting a round-the-world flight, left at 10:55 o'clock for Rome.

OLD SOCIALIST JOINS WORKERS AID IN GERMANY

Ledebour Dissents from Social-Democrat Stand

In the following letter to the International Arbeiter Hilfs Komite, Comrade Ledebour takes sides against the decisions of the Social-Democratic Party. Ledebour is one of the oldest Socialist leaders of Germany:

June 22nd, 1924.

To the Central Committee of the International Workers' Aid (I. A.-H.) Berlin, Germany.

Dear Comrades:

As I have consented to your proposal to become a member of the Central Committee of the I. A. H., I find it necessary to give you my position toward the I. A. H. This seems to be necessary so much the more as at the convention of the United Social Democrat Parties the propaganda which was carried on for some time against the International Workers' Aid has culminated in a decision which declares that participation and membership in the I. A. H. is incompatible with membership in the S. D. P.

The attacks made before by the same people have at an earlier stage given me occasion to express myself for the I. A. H. when in the City Hall a few months ago a protest meeting was called at which Comrade Munsenberg reported.

The conviction that I expressed at that time is still my conviction. The I. A. H. has made it its task to protect the suffering proletariat of all countries against drowning in complete misery. This is an exceptionally praiseworthy task which should be supported by the comrades of all tendencies and lines are comrades and members of all tendencies represented in the Executive bodies.

It is absurd—this claim of the S. D. P. that the I. A. H. could not be non-partisan because the Communists took the initiative in forming it. If that were our point of view, there would never be any chance for common action because it is in the nature of things that someone must always start.

It shows an exceptionally petty way of thinking if one does not participate just because another party or another tendency has taken the first step. Just because I desire that every opportunity for common action of the diverse tendencies should be exploited in the interest of the whole proletarian movement, therefore I consider it my duty, in the face of the uncalled for attacks of the S. D. P. convention to support the I. A. H. so much more vigorously.

I want to let you know that I am fully satisfied if you reprint the above lines.

With friendly greetings,
GEORGE LEDEBOUR

MITCHELL'S
INTERNATIONAL ORCHESTRA
Union Music Furnished For All Occasions
Write for appointments to M. MITCHELL, (Teacher of Saxophone) 1640 W. Congress St. Chicago, Ill.

MURINE For YOUR EYES
Night and Morning to keep them Clean, Clear and Healthy
Write for Free "Eye Care" or "Eye Beauty" Book
Murine Co., Dept. R. S., 9 E. Ohio St., Chicago

JAY STETLER'S
RESTAURANT
Established 1901
1053 W. Madison St. Chicago
Tel. Monroe 2241

AUGUST 10th—SUNDAY
PRESS PICNIC DAY
RIVERVIEW—RAIN OR SHINE

OUR DAILY PATTERNS

A DAINTY TEA APRON.

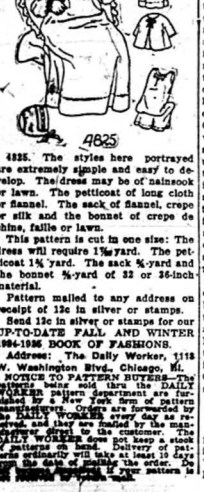
4832. Lawn, dotted Swiss or cretonne could be used for this design. It is also attractive in embroidered muslin, with pipings or bindings of contrasting material or color.

The pattern is cut in one size: Medium. It will require 2¼ yards of 36 inch material.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in silver or stamps.

Send 12c in silver or stamps for our UP-TO-DATE FALL AND WINTER 1924-1925 BOOK OF FASHIONS.

A SIMPLE SET OF INFANT'S GARMENTS.



4825. The styles here portrayed are extremely simple and easy to develop. This dress may be of nainsook or lawn. The petticoat of long cloth or flannel. The sack of flannel, crepe or silk and the bonnet of crepe de chine, faille or lawn.

This pattern is cut in one size: The dress will require 1¾ yard. The petticoat 1¼ yard. The sack ⅝-yard and the bonnet ⅝-yard of 32 or 36-inch material.

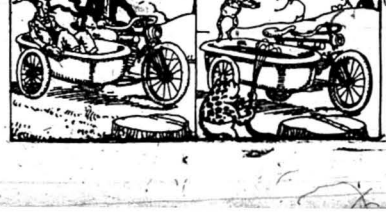
Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in silver or stamps.

Send 12c in silver or stamps for our UP-TO-DATE FALL AND WINTER 1924-1925 BOOK OF FASHIONS.

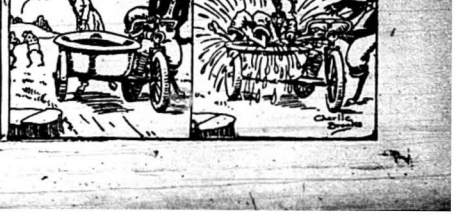
Address: The Daily Worker, 1113 W. Washington Blvd., Chicago, Ill.

HOUSE TO PATTERN BUREAU.—The patterns being sold thru the DAILY WORKER pattern department are furnished by a N. Y. firm of pattern manufacturers. Orders are forwarded by the DAILY WORKER every day as received, and they are mailed by the manufacturers direct to the customer. The DAILY WORKER does not keep a stock of patterns on hand. Delivery of patterns ordinarily will take at least 10 days after the date of mailing the order. Do not write to the DAILY WORKER in regard to lost patterns.

UNCLE WIGGILY'S TRICKS



A LAUGH FOR THE CHILDREN



THE DAILY WORKER

Published by the DAILY WORKER PUBLISHING CO.
1113 W. Washington Blvd., Chicago, Ill.
(Phone: Monroe 4712)

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

By mail:
$6.00 per year $3.50...6 months $2.00...3 months

By mail (in Chicago only):
$8.00 per year $4.50...6 months $2.50...3 months

Address all mail and make out checks to
THE DAILY WORKER
1113 W. Washington Blvd. Chicago, Illinois

J. LOUIS ENGDAHL, WILLIAM F. DUNNE, MORITZ J. LOEB — Editors, Business Manager

Entered as second-class mail Sept. 21, 1923 at the Post-Office at Chicago, Ill., under the act of March 3, 1879.

280 Advertising rates on application.

The Internal Struggle in the Industrial Workers of the World

The factional fight in the Industrial Workers of the World which is daily growing deeper and more intense, is of great significance to the American revolutionary labor movement and will be watched with the greatest interest by all militants.

But charges and counter-charges, accusations and recriminations of a personal nature will not be accepted by revolutionary workers as a strong enough platform for either group to stand on. The question of who is a liar and who is a scoundrel—who violated Section 6 of the Constitution and who violated Section 12, may be interesting, but it is not of fundamental importance.

What are the policies of these rival groups, which are driving them to such desperate measures to gain control of the organization? This is the question which has not yet been answered. Only one clear-cut issue has already developed, upon which it is possible to take a definite stand. That is the menace of a split in the organization, which is signalized by the announced intention to set up rival headquarters, coupled with implied threats of secession on the part of some of the industrial unions belonging to the I. W. W.

Such an action would only serve to further confuse and demoralize the situation. It is in basic conflict with the principle of the unity of the labor movement, which the Communists are fighting for in all labor organizations. Such a move should not and will not receive the support of the Industrial Workers of the World members who take an advanced and revolutionary view.

The same policy which brings the Communists into conflict with the Industrial Workers of the World in those fields of organization where the attempts to organise the Industrial Workers of the World involves a split in the ranks of the organized workers in those industries, and the existence of rival organizations, leads us also to a flat opposition to this attempt to make a split in the ranks of the Industrial Workers of the World. The prospect of rival organizations of the Industrial Workers of the World, especially in such fields as agriculture, general construction and lumber, cannot appeal to sincere, militant workers. The enemies of the working class would be the only gainers.

The Communists have found it necessary to take issue with the Industrial Workers of the World on a number of important points. The present administration has continued the throttling censorship of former officials against every word in favor of the Red International of Labor Unions. They deserve the severest condemnation for this.

The Industrial Workers of the World is more over, strictly out of order when it attempts to invade fields in which other labor organizations have gained substantial footing. Its attempt to ignore existing labor unions and to set itself up as the complete labor movement is wrong. Its anti-political propaganda is wrong, because the class struggle in its very essence is a political struggle—that is, a struggle for power. We are at war with the tendencies towards pacifism and liberalism, which in recent years have been entering the Industrial Workers of the World and poisoning its very life-blood.

But in spite of these differences, wherever and to the extent that the Industrial Workers of the World is functioning as a labor organization, as a center of resistance for the workers in their desperate struggle against the exploiters, the Communists support it, and stand four-square against this attempt to bring a split into its ranks.

A Healthy Sore!

The new editor of the New Majority did not have a very high opinion of the editorial ability of his predecessor, but after reading the first paragraph in a leading article on the front page of the above paper in the issue of August 2, we cannot help reaching the conclusion that a little better acquaintance with the English language would not do the present editor any harm.

In commenting on the report made by Stephen A. Doyle, on espionage in industry, before a meeting of the C. P. P. A., the editor characterized espionage as a "constantly growing sore on a healthy body."

How a body with "constantly growing sores" can be healthy is beyond us, but perhaps the editor had in the mind the American Federation of Labor which has plenty of sores but yet is sufficiently healthy to provide sustenance for thousands of parasites, known as labor fakers who prey on its membership. Among the worst of the parasites are brainless and unscrupulous editors who preside over the rags that pass for labor newspapers.

A new member for the Workers Party and a new subscriber to The DAILY WORKER.

The German Debacle and After

The wire-pulling and scene-shifting behind the diplomatic curtains of the London Reparations Conference are distinct tribute to the prowess of the American capitalist class in its uninterrupted march towards mastery of the industries and resources of Europe. For years the Washington administration of big capital has been floundering in the morasses of hesitation and doubt as to the definite foreign policy it was to pursue. Now, thanks to the good sense for profit that our capitalist class has developed, we have at last what looks like a definite European policy.

At no time was there any doubt as to what our ruling class was after in Europe. To our biggest bankers and industrial magnates Europe, like Asia, South America, and Africa, was simply another economic prize to be won in their struggle for world commercial and political supremacy. But our moneyed overlords were merely biding their time to come out in the open.

Today, American imperialist policy is being written by our secretaries of state and the treasury and is being dictated by a score of our leading bankers who are now vacationing in the capitals across the Atlantic. There is hardly a first class bank that does not have its representative in Europe at this moment. It seems as if our financial buzzards are having a merry time of it.

And at whose expense? Just how it is the ruins of what once was the mighty German industrial organization that is whetting the appetite of our profiteering class. The German Wholesalers Association says more than two thousand German firms are in a state of bankruptcy. In the last few weeks an average of twenty-six firms a day took refuge in a form of receivership called "legal business supervision." One day this number reached seventy-one. Apparently German industry has reached the stage where American capitalists feel they can set their own price for the receivership they are to establish.

But what will come after the economic subjugation of Germany by American capitalists? The continent of Europe tends to be an economic entity despite the countless artificial barriers put up against its natural functioning. Political control, in some form or other, is the next step. Then must follow attempts to "put in order" the industries of the other countries. The German debacle is only the prelude to another world conflict far more infernal than the catastrophe of ten years ago.

We Stand For the Living!

Crocodile tears stream from the eyes of every capitalist editor in America. The "silent homage" to the million dead German soldiers, was broken by the German Communists singing the Internationale, distributing leaflets and shouting "Down with war! Long live the Soviet Republic!"

The Chicago Tribune stood aghast. Though it, and the other American prostitutes of the press had charged all manner of atrocities against these German soldiers, though they had spurred on American workers to shoot, stab and disembowel these German soldiers, and be shot, stabbed and disembowelled by them—in behalf of Morgan's loans to the Allies—it wails that "the solemn dignity of the nation's tribute to the men killed on the battle fields was broken."

The Communists are enemies of "solemn dignity" of this sort. We know that the same hypocrites who, as the socialist "opposition" to the Kaiser, before war promised the German workers to prevent the Kaiser from declaring war, turned traitor, embraced the Kaiser, blessed the war and drove the workers to the trenches. More! We know that these same hypocrites are now the "socialist" government of Germany, and that any demonstration of sympathy they make for the million workers they sent to slaughter is a ghastly fraud.

We Communists further know that this fraud, if believed by the masses, would permit another million workers to be tricked into the trenches, because they trust that those traitors like Ebert and Noske and Scheidemann who show sympathy with their dead, would not make war like the Kaiser did, would not permit another world slaughter.

We Communists know this illusion of the masses. We bend every effort to expose the hypocrites in all nations who make the workers feel secure in trusting them until they trick more millions of men into war. That is the reason our German comrades risked collision with militia and police armed with rifles, to expose the gigantic and threatening fake, to tear the mask from war-making hypocrites posing as peace-makers. We want no more million dead German workers for Ebert to shed tears over. We stand for the living!

It is a fitting commemorative service for the beginning of the imperialist was ten years ago, that the first days of August should see a new world war being conceived at the London Conference. When this embryo comes to birth the astonished pacifists who now cheer for the Dawes Plan, will not recognize their god-child.

The Tribune, editorializing on Lenin, says he was "incorruptible, a type of fanatic." It is sufficient evidence, according to capitalist standards, that if a leader of labor is incorruptible, he must be crazy.

Since the "progressives" of Montana have, in endorsing LaFollette, ignored Wheeler and chosen Bryan as "flighty" Bob's side-kick, the Montana socialists will have to "embrace this golden opportunity" to support the democratic party.

The Communist Daily of Paris, France, has a circulation of one quarter million daily. Get a subscription for The DAILY WORKER.

Wrench Governmental Power from Capitalists

Workers Party Election Platform Denounces Davis, Coolidge, LaFollette as Supporters of Capitalism

(Continued from page 1)

person in this country. This high standard of life is denied the workers and exploited farmers of the United States. Millions of these producers of wealth are able to secure for their labor only the means for a bare existence. Millions of workers must work long hours, under bad working conditions, for low wages. Millions are periodically unemployed, as at present, with all the consequent misery and suffering for themselves and their families. In order to keep these conditions from growing worse, millions of industrial workers are perishy of production upon which the fight back the greedy employers. Millions of farmers have been driven into bankruptcy and from the land because of inability to earn enough for a living.

These conditions prevail in a country in which we have the means of supplying a high standard of life to every person because a relatively small class has fastened its grip upon the raw materials and industries and uses these to enrich itself at the expense of the producers. Thru theft, fraud, corruption, bribery and the capitalist system of profit taking, this capitalist class has become the owner of the land, raw material and machinery of production upon which the workers and farmers are dependent for a livlihood.

The raw materials and industries of the United States are owned by the Garys, Morgans, Rockefellers, Fords, McCormicks and other great capitalists. The workers and farmers alike pay tribute to these capitalists. They are compelled to accept a low standard of living in order that the capitalists may amass even greater fortunes for themselves.

It is this system of capitalist ownership of industry, which gives the wealth produced to the few, that denies the millions of industrial workers, agricultural workers and exploited farmers the enjoyment of that high standard of life which their labor and the wealth they produce makes possible in this country.

It is this system of capitalist ownership of industry which is the basis of the class struggle between the workers, fighting for more of what they produce, and the capitalists ever bent on securing greater and greater profits for themselves.

How the Capitalists Use the Government.

The government of the United States is and has been a government of, by, and for the capitalists. It is thru the government and use of the governmental power that the capitalists maintain their grip on the industries and their power to rob the industrial workers, agricultural workers and farmers.

During the war, with the connivance of government officials, the capitalists looted the country of billions of wealth. Since the war the shipping board, the war veteran's board, corruption, the Teapot Dome exposures, have shown how the capitalists fill their pockets at the expense of the working and farming masses.

Governmental legislation is framed so as to yield the capitalists more and more profits. Tariff laws, taxation laws, agrarian bank laws, are all framed so as to enable the bankers and industrial magnates to take more and more of what the workers produce.

To prevent the workers from securing better wages and working conditions thru strikes, the capitalists use the government to destroy these strikes. The disgraceful Daugherty injunction against the railway shopmen, the use of troops against the miners in their strike in 1922, the use of the Railway Labor Board against the railroad workers, are only outstanding examples of the continual use of the governmental power by the capitalists to protect themselves in taking greater and greater profits out of the labor of the workers.

The government is a dictatorship of the capitalists and their instrument for the oppression and exploitation of the workers. Altho the workers are permitted to vote, the capitalists are able, thru their control of the means of information and thru their economic power, completely dominate the government, national, state and local.

The Election This Year.

It is these conditions which the workers and exploited farmers must consider in using their political power in the election this year.

The capitalist dictatorship has named two candidates. The Republican, strikebreaker Coolidge, and the Morgan-Rockefeler lawyer Davis. Both are agents of the capitalist class. They, and the other candidates of the two old parties will loyally serve the capitalists if returned to power—as they have done in the past.

LaFollette, who is running as an independent, progressive Republican, is equally a supporter of the capitalist system of exploitation. The only difference between LaFollette and Coolidge and Davis is that LaFollette represents the independent manufacturers, bankers and merchants, who are seeking greater power and profit for themselves and are trying to use the workers and farmers to attain that end.

LaFollette is the representative of little business against big business, but not the representative of the workers and exploited farmers in their struggle against the capitalists. LaFollette's platform is not a workers' and farmer's platform, but a little business man's platform with some bait thrown in for sections of the skilled workers.

Against these three candidates of the capitalist system of exploitation, big and little, the Workers (Communist) Party presents working class candidates—Foster and Gitlow—and a working class platform.

The Workers Must Rule.

There is only one way in which the exploitation of the workers and farmers of this country can be ended. That is through the workers organizing their mass power, ending the capitalist dictatorship and establishing the Workers and Farmers Government.

In place of the capitalist dictatorship there must be established the rule of the workers. The governmental power must be used in the interest of the workers and farmers as it is now used by the capitalist dictatorship in the interest of the capitalist class.

The Russian Workers and Peasants have established their rule in the form of the Soviet Government and are using their power against the capitalists and for themselves—to build a Communist social system which will give the workers and farmers the fruits of their toil.

The Workers Party is fighting for the rule of the thirty million workers and their families in the United States. This rule will be established thru a Proletarian Revolution which will create a Soviet Government and the Dictatorship of the Proletariat.

This Workers and Farmers Government will wrest out of the hands of the capitalists the raw material and great industries and operate them for the happiness and well-being of the producers. It will build in place of the capitalist system of production a Communist system of production.

The Workers Party calls upon workers and exploited farmers to join it in the struggle to establish the Workers and Farmers Government in the United States. It urges them to demonstrate their support of the program of the Workers Party by voting against the three capitalist candidates and for the Communist candidates—Foster and Gitlow.

IMMEDIATE PROGRAM

1—For a Mass Farmer-Labor Party.

The Workers Party has for two years carried on a consistent campaign for the formation of a mass Farmer-Labor Party to unite the industrial workers and exploited farmers for independent political action. The betrayal of the Conference for Progressive Political action in accepting the independent candidacy of La-Follette, the betrayal of the Farmer-Labor Party by the Socialist Party and the LaFollette supporters among the workers and farmers, the attack upon the Farmer-Labor Party by LaFollette, who does not want a party of workers and farmers, made the achievement of this goal impossible in this election campaign. The Workers Party declares its purpose to continue the struggle to mobilize the workers and exploited farmers for independent political action thru a mass Farmer-Labor Party.

2—Nationalization of Industry and Workers Control.

The Workers Party declares itself in favor of the immediate nationalization of all large-scale industries, such as railroads, mines, super-power plants and means of communication and transportation, and for the organization of the workers in these industries for participation in the management and direction of the industries nationalised, thus developing industrial democracy, until industry comes under the control of those who produce the wealth of the nation, subject only to such general control as will protect the interest of the producers as a whole.

3—Compel Industry and the Government to Pay Wages to the Unemployed.

Industry in the United States is slowing down and the workers face another period of industrial crisis with millions of unemployed unable to earn a living. The Workers Party declares that industry must support the unemployed to whom it cannot give work. The government must take the accumulated profits of industry. It must levy excess profit and inheritance taxes to create an unemployment fund, to be administered by the workers, for payment of union wages to workers without jobs. The Workers Party will initiate the organization of unemployment councils to fight for these demands.

4—Down with Injunction and the Use of Police and Soldiers Against Workers.

The Workers Party calls upon the workers and exploited farmers to fight with it against the use of injunction in labor disputes, intimidation of strikers thru police and soldiers, and the use of criminal syndicalist laws to suppress the demands of the revolutionary workers, as well as other infringments of the rights of the workers.

5—Release All Political and Class War Prisoners.

The Workers Party will fight for the immediate and unconditional release of all workers imprisoned because of their political or economic views and for participation in the class struggle.

6—Land for the Users—Nationalize the Farmers Marketing Industries.

Land was created for all the people and we demand a system of land tenure which will eliminate landlordism and tenantry and will secure the land to the users thereof. We demand the nationalization of all means of transportation and industries engaged in the preparation and distribution of farm products, with participation of the farmers in the management of these industries.

7—Down with Militarism and Imperialist Wars.

The World War and its slaughter of millions and destruction of billions of wealth was the product of capitalist imperialism. The capitalist government of the United States is already preparing for a new war. It is using its power to oppress weaker nations in the interest of the capitalists, as in Haiti, Santo Domingo and Central America. It is holding the Philippine Islands in subjection. It is aiding to force the Dawes plan upon Germany in order to enslave the workers of that country. The Workers Party will fight against militarism and imperialist wars and the use of the governmental power for the exploitation of weaker nations. It demands freedom for the Philippines and the right of self-determination for all colonies and territories of the United States.

8—Recognize the Workers and Peasants Government of Russia.

The Union of Soviet Socialist Republics is the only workers' and farmers' government in the world. The capitalist government of the United States refuses it recognition and the restoration of full trade relations. The Workers Party will rally the workers for immediate, unconditional recognition of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics.

The measures outlined here are measures for immediate struggle and mobilization of the workers against the capitalist class and the capitalist dictatorship in the United States. The end of the glaring evils of capitalist society can only come with the victory of the workers and the establishment of the Workers and Peasants Government thru which capitalism will be abolished and the Communist society created. The Workers Party will carry on the struggle until this goal is achieved.

Central Executive Committee,
Workers Party of America,
William Z. Foster, Chairman,
C. E. Ruthenberg, Executive Secy.

Teachers' Councils and the Platoon System

BY KARL REEVE.

THE voluminous report condemning the platoon school system, approved by the last meeting of the Chicago Federation of Labor, is obviously an attempt by Victor Olander to gain prestige among the workers on a "safe" issue. Olander's report is in no sense a working class or militant labor document.

The report, which was written by Olander and presented to the Federation by John Fitzpatrick, on behalf of the executive board, ignores the issues of the conflicting interests of the workers and capitalists in the educational system. No mention is made of the teachers council movement. The militaristic propaganda in the schools is completely ignored. It is not explained that teachers often lose their jobs for attempting to teach the truth about history and economics. No protest is made in the report against the use of text books which glorify war, and inspire the pupils to be good industrial slaves on the chance of achieving "success."

The evil effects of maintaining schools with the tax on large corporations is not touched upon. Altho the report mentions Hindu castes, no mention is made of the class struggle between the captains of industry and the workers. The domination of the school system by corrupt politicians and by the capitalists is not demonstrated. NO CONSTRUCTIVE MEASURE OF WORKERS' CONTROL OF INDUSTRY OR PARENTS AND TEACHERS' CONTROL OF SCHOOLS IS BROACHED.

Olander weakly declares that the platoon system overcrowds the schools and injects hasty and machine-like methods which are bad for the child into the educational system.

But the report, while it eliminates all reference to the relation of the public school system to the class struggle, on the contrary, objects to the caste system of classification as an attempt to draw class lines. The class lines are most certainly there. The militarist propaganda of the capitalists is there. The attempt of big business to make the schools a Point Factory for manufacturing trained slaves, knowing a vocation, but unable to think independently, is there. The struggles of the teachers for freedom of education is there, BUT OLANDER'S REPORT DID NOT MAKE THESE "RADICAL" ASSERTIONS WHICH MIGHT GET HIM IN BAD WITH HIS POLITICAL FRIENDS.

It remained for Arne Swabeck, delegate to the Federation from the Painters' union, to expose the futility of Olander's concoction. "No mention is made of the work of the teachers councils," Swabeck told the Federation. "The teachers are the ones who know how the children should be taught. The most important issue before the Federation on this matter is a demand that the teachers councils be given control of the educational methods. And yet this lengthy report makes no mention of teachers councils."

These brief remarks of Swabeck called forth a defense by Olander which consumed forty-five minutes, and which, when stripped of its clever rhetoric and flowery oratory, was as perverted and reactionary as Olander's speeches generally are.

Olander admitted that teachers councils were very important. He admitted that the teachers thru them have done a great deal to maintain correct methods of pedagogy in the schools. "But," he said, "teachers councils are not the important issue at this time. The main thing now is to study and understand the dangers of the platoon and classification methods in the schools."

Even on the matters dealt with in the report, Olander repeatedly stated "there is no hurry," "there is plenty of time." He "refrained from naming any individual on the board of education as responsible."

While he energetically tried to prove himself a real "laborite" by denouncing the introduction of the platoon system, he kept his political contacts clear by telling what a friendly, pious lot the members of the board of education are.

Olander did his usual trick of blowing hot and cold in the same breath—praising the teachers councils, but declaring the time is inopportune to push them; condemning the platoon system, but saying "there is no hurry"; denouncing the introducers of the caste method of education, but carefully avoiding to definitely place the responsibility.

The Federation officials pushed thru the report in regular machine style. First came the reading of the lengthy report itself, consuming an hour, and touching not once upon the class nature of the Gary method of education. Then Olander's meaningless speech, followed by a bombastic harangue from Oscar Nelson, who heaped flattery upon his chief, Olander, and took as much credit to himself as he could for his work as Olander's jackey.

By the time Nelson finished his 45-minute talk, an adjournment was pushed thru, despite the desire of the militants to point out the serious deficiencies of the report. Ferris, Olander, Nelson and the other speakers for Olander's report kept hammering on the "necessity for ourselves understanding the issues involved," and of "getting the report to all the membership." It was, therefore, no surprise when Fitzpatrick announced that the report will be printed and distributed, thus giving some more advertisement to the "leaders" of labor.

Conrad's Funeral.

LONDON, Aug. 5.—Joseph Conrad, famous writer of sea stories, will be buried Wednesday, according to present plans. He died suddenly at his home in Bishopsbourne, near Canterbury, on Sunday. He was 67 years old.

Sacrificing the Proletariat.

FROM the "Volkstribune," (Socialist), Austria, August 12, 1914:

"In this war, whatever its causes may be and however little it may have to do with the interests of the proletariat, the proletariat will do its duty."

* * * *

"My Country Right or Wrong."

"ARBEITER-ZEITUNG," (Socialist), Vienna, August 5, 1914:

"Whether the diplomats acted rightly, whether the war was inevitable, later times must judge. The existence of the German people is at stake, and there is no hesitation and no faint-heartedness."

YALE UNIVERSITY
NOV 22 1924
LIBRARY

THE DAILY WORKER RAISES THE STANDARD FOR A WORKERS AND FARMERS' GOVERNMENT

THE DAILY WORKER

Entered as Second-class matter September 21, 1922, at the Post Office at Chicago, Illinois under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Communist Candidates
For President:
WILLIAM Z. FOSTER.
For Vice-President:
BENJAMIN GITLOW.

Vol. II. No. 120. SUBSCRIPTION RATES In Chicago, by mail, $8.00 per year. Outside Chicago, by mail, $6.00 per year. THURSDAY, AUGUST 7, 1924 Published Daily except Sunday by THE DAILY WORKER PUBLISHING CO., 1113 W. Washington Blvd., Chicago, Ill. Price 3 Cents

COMMUNIST TICKET IN 15 STATES

HEADQUARTERS OF THE BRITISH COMMUNIST PARTY RAIDED BY SOCIALIST-LABOR GOVERNMENT

By CHARLES ASHLEIGH.
(Special Cable to The Daily Worker.)

LONDON, August 6.—Scotland Yard's Police have just raided and searched the Communist Party headquarters. For three hours truckloads of documents were hauled out of the national office.

John Ross Campbell, acting editor of the "Workers Weekly," the official organ of the Communist Party of Great Britain, and formerly editor of the "Glasgow Worker" was arrested.

A charge of sedition has been filed against Campbell because of the articles appearing in the "Weekly Worker" issues of July 25th and August 1st, appealing to the British soldiers to refuse to serve in strikes against workingmen.

AS WE SEE IT
By T. J. O'FLAHERTY

If honesty is the best policy, Harry Sinclair does not know it and need not care. He is thriving on his present policy which was not conceived by the same mind that concocted the Golden Rule. Only a few months ago Sinclair was roundly denounced as a bribber and briber because he managed to get the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve by the judicious use of a few thousand dollar bills, a ranch, cattle and sundry other gifts to the honorable Albert B. Fall, Secretary of the Interior in the Harding cabinet. Today, the financial sections of the daily press carry the tale that The Sinclair Consolidated Oil Corporation, had a net income of over nine million dollars during the first six months of the present year, almost two millions more than during the corresponding period of last year. Of course Sinclair is no more a robber than the so-called respectable capitalist.

• • •

Not once during the orgy of investigating did the capitalist investigators show where the oil magnates got their millions from or who were the real sufferers in the campaign of robbery. The victims of the Dohenys and the Sinclairs, the Rockefellers and the other oil thieves are the workers who toil for low wages under the unhealthy conditions surrounding the oil industry. Out of the poorly paid labor of the oil workers, the magnates are able to roll up the millions that enable them to purchase governments and practically use the administration, whether Democratic or Republican, as their private agency. The oil thieves and all the other capitalist thieves will continue to rob, bribe and corrupt until the oil industry is nationalized and the government is in the hands of the workers.

• • •

A headline announces that "Hogs will figure heavily in the coming elections." They always do. The few who have "hogged" the wealth of the nation will be very important factors in the coming campaign. They have a good deal to gain by having the right kind of people in Washington, so they bestir themselves around election time. In fact, they are actively interested in politics all the year around. The great mass of workers ignore politics only when the capitalist politicians stir them up. Needless to say the capitalist headline artist was not writing of human hogs but of the four-footed kind who are good to the farmers when the price of pork goes up.

• • •

Arthur Brisbane and Frank Harris, two senile egotists have followed the great Lenin to the grave with their insulting comment. The former in his column of drivel in the Hearst papers never misses an opportunity to take a left-handed slam at the Russian revolution. Commenting on the Moscow dispatches which told of the embalming process that keeps Lenin's body in a remarkable state of preservation, this Hearst pifle expert says that Lenin's body will not be left undisturbed, that a Czar will come back and Lenin's head will adorn a pike as did the head of Oliver Cromwell after the restoration of the Stuarts. Then he remarks that it would be abominable to spend centuries with an unending grin in death. How silly and stupid? As if a dead body cared whether it was on the top of a mountain or buried thousands of feet under

(Continued on page 2)

Appeal to World's Workers.

The Communist Party of Great Britain is issuing an appeal to the Communist and working class organizations of the world protesting vehemently against the terrorism of the MacDonald Labor government. It will be recalled that Premier MacDonald, Minister of the Exchequer, Philip Snowden, and other prominent members of the present British Labor government are also among the leading figures of the Second International.

This attack on the Communist Party headquarters is looked upon by militant spokesmen of labor here as a very grave incident. MacDonald and his aides have for some time closely associated themselves with Messrs. Scheidemann and Noske who have committed numerous unutterable outrages against the German working class.

The raid occurs at an especially significant moment for the MacDonald Labor government. In the presence of the American Secretary of State, Hughes, Secretary of the Treasury of the United States Andrew W. Mellon, Thomas W. Lamont of J. P. Morgan & Company, and a swarm of other powerful Wall Street bankers, the so-called socialist government of England has completely knuckled under the pressure of the American financial interests demanding the adoption of the Dawes plan as a whole.

Comes at Peculiar Time.

This attack on the Communists who have been waging an energetic campaign against the high-handed demands made by the British bankers in conference with the representatives of the Soviet government, is coincident with the formal breaking off of parleys between the spokesmen of the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics and the British government.

It is the concensus of opinion among well informed observers here that the above events are significant straws pointing the direction in which the MacDonald government is rapidly traveling. It is said that the influence of the American bankers and government officials has done much to stiffen the backbone of the British imperialists in their attitude towards the labor party and that MacDonald and his aides are giving way still further.

The Communist Party is organizing to fight back and is taking steps to thwart these reactionary policies of the so-called socialist government.

Beat Negro to Death.

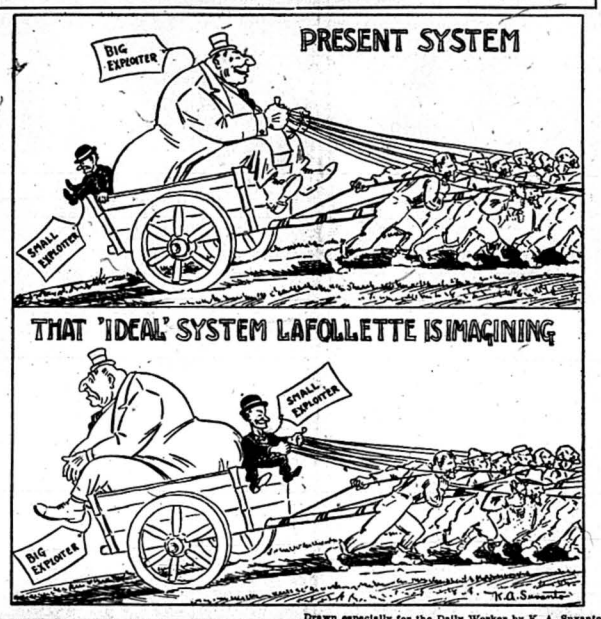
MARSHALL, Ia., Aug. 5.—Four white men, Starr, Charles and Robert Green and Jim Holmes, are held under $5,000 bond at Marshall for the death of Isaiah Sanders, a Negro, who died as a result of a flogging a week ago. The men charge that Sanders used abusive language to Charles Green.

DICKS CAN'T SEE WHAT MINERS SEE IN MORGAN ANTHRACITE MONOPOLY

(Special to The Daily Worker)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—An investigation of the anthracite coal industry by the Department of Justice has disclosed no grounds for criminal or civil prosecutions, Representative John Jacob Rodgers of Massachusetts announced. The anthracite fields are controlled by the railroads which in turn are owned by the Morgan banking interests and the industry is practically a monopoly.

SEE THE DIFFERENCE?



Drawn especially for the Daily Worker by K. A. Suvanto

OR,—You Bet There Is No Difference Between Them.

Scheidemann! MacDonald! LaFollette!

Statement by the Central Executive Committee of the Workers Party

THE British Labor government is showing itself in true colors. The news from London of the raid on the Communist Party headquarters and the arrest for sedition of John Ross Campbell, acting editor of the Workers Weekly, shows that the MacDonald government is ready to follow in the footsteps of Scheidemann and Noske in Germany in shooting down the workers in order to protect capitalism.

Scheidemann and Noske, who today are members of the Second International together with Ramsay MacDonald, answered the German workers with machine guns, hand grenades and poison gas when these workers made their effort to establish the workers' rule and end the oppression of the capitalists. Scheidemann and Noske, the murderers of Liebknecht and Luxemburg, pretending to represent the workers, actually used the power given them by the workers to put down their aspirations.

Ramsay MacDonald's labor government has been hailed as a new victory for labor by the supporters of the Second International. Now this government turns upon labor and fights for the capitalists—even as Scheidemann and Noske. For what is the "crime" of which the British Communists, whose offices are raided and their editor jailed, are accused of? The Workers Weekly, the British Communist organ, called upon soldiers not to serve against strikers! That is a crime in the eyes of this government of the Second International! That is sedition in the eyes of Ramsay MacDonald and his labor government!

There is no doubt that calling upon soldiers not to shoot down strikers is a crime and sedition. Crime and sedition against capitalism and the capitalist class. MacDonald, the leader of the Second International, MacDonald, the head of the labor government, rushes to the rescue of capitalism against the seditious Communist who don't want soldiers to shoot down strikers. MacDonald thereby shows the labor government, and the Second International in its true colors—the bulwark of capitalism against the revolutionary workers.

For American labor this event is a warning. The followers of LaFollette hail him as the Ramsay MacDonald of the United States. Let the workers of this country take warning from the German and British example showing the role of the Scheidemanns, the Ramsay MacDonalds, the Labor party, the Socialists, the supporters of the Second International. Do we need our Ramsay MacDonald in office to prove that he, too, will call the workers' struggle against capitalism a "crime" and "sedition."

The Communists fought with the workers against the Noske-Scheidemann defenders of the capitalists. The Communists are espousing the cause of the British strikers against Ramsay MacDonald's soldiers. The Communists of the United States are fighting the struggle of the workers against its American betrayer—LaFollette.

Central Executive Committee,
Workers Party of America.
William Z. Foster, Chairman.
C. E. Ruthenberg,
Executive Secretary.

CALVIN COOLIDGE OR "KAUTIOUS KAL"

"Cal" is inclined to silence and as you may see he can see very little with the left eye. He will be at the DAILY WORKER picnic next Sunday in Riverview Park—by proxy.

One of the favorite outdoor sports will be establishing friendly relations with "Cal's" right eye. The means of contact will be fast moving spheroids resembling those used by baseball players, but not so hard that they may not injure the wood.

RIVERVIEW
RAIN OR SHINE
August 10th — Sunday
Press Picnic Day

PUTTING THE WORKERS PARTY TICKET ON BALLOT IN SEVERAL IMPORTANT STATES HAS BEGUN

By C. E. RUTHENBERG
Executive Secretary, Workers Party.

The National and District organizations of the Workers Party are learning thru concrete experiences how the world-famous American "democracy" works.

This experience is being gained in the effort to place the Workers Party candidates on the ballot in the various states, so that the workers who support the revolutionary views of the Communists may have the opportunity to demonstrate that support by voting for Communist candidates.

It seems that the lawmakers in the various states have done their utmost to make it difficult for any other but the ruling capitalist parties to put their candidates on the ballot.

All sorts of ostacles, in the form of legal requirements are part of the election laws—obstacles which are intended to prevent minorities from expressing their will and to prevent them from fighting for the support of the voters during election campaigns.

$10,000 Democracy in New York

In New York State the lawmakers have expressed their views of "democracy" in an election law which requires that a new party wishing to put candidates on the ballot must secure 12,000 signature, 50 of which must come from each county in the state. Obliging businessmen who are engaged in the business of helping along "democracy" offer to secure these necessary signatures for the sum of $10,000. In other words, in order to enjoy the democratic right of participation in the elections in New York State a minority party also needs $10,000.

In the state of Ohio the law requires more than 20,000 signatures for a new party to place its candidates on the ballot. Another expression of the unbridled American "democracy."

Fifteen States to Go Over.

In spite of all the difficulties put in the way of a new party entering the fight against the parties of the capitalist dictatorship, the Workers Party will be able to place its candidates on the ballot in a large number of states.

Work is now underway in Massachussetts and Rhode Island in the New England group of states and Foster and Gitlow, as well as the state tickets will go on the ballot in these states. In New York state, in spite of the almost insuperable obstacles, the party is throwing itself into the work and there is a good chance of winning out. In Connecticut and New Jersey the party candidates will be on the ballot.

Special Work in Pennsylvania

In Pennsylvania the Steel Trust is making an effort to drive the Workers Party underground through prosecutions under the sedition laws for membership in the party. To meet this situation an extraordinary effort will be made to put the party on the ballot in that state. Some 5,600 signatures are required to accomplish. Petitions are in circulation and both the eastern and western party district organization in the state are putting their energies into the work.

West Virginia makes it easy for a new party to nominate, requiring only a convention and the W. P. will go on in that reactionary state. The Ohio comrades have their petition out and are working hard for the 20,000 signatures in that state. Nominations in Michigan are assured, as the only requirement is a state convention.

In Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin conventions have been held or are in process of organization and petitions will soon be in the field.

In the State of Minnesota the party is nominating presidential electors only, supporting the Farmer-Labor Party so far as the state and local ticket is concerned and the 2,000 signatures required will be secured. The Party will also have its state and national ticket in the field in North Dakota. Another agricultural state in which there will be a Communist column is Iowa where work has begun with good prospects of success. In the Rocky Mountain territory the W. P. will endeavor to be on the ballot in Colorado and on the Pacific slope in Washington and California.

Altogether the prospects are bright for the Workers Party ticket going over, so far as representation on the ballot is concerned in fifteen of the most important states of the union, which will be no mean achievement for a first effort to place a national ticket in the field.

ANGLO-SOVIET PACT REACHED BY CONFERENCE

Britain Surrendered to Moscow

(Special to the Daily Worker.)

LONDON, August 6.—M. Rakovsky, head of the Soviet Russian delegation to the Anglo-Russian conference, informed the DAILY WORKER'S news service this afternoon that an agreement between Russia and England has been signed.

Formal announcement had been made Tuesday that the Anglo-Russian conference had broken down and that the Russians were returning to Moscow immediately.

This afternoon, in the House of Commons, John Robert Clynes, Lord Privy Seal, and leader of the House of Commons, made an announcement which seemed to indicate that an agreement had been reached between the Russians and British and that a treaty had been signed.

Foreign office officials were then consulted, but they denied that a treaty had been signed.

Later, M. Rakovsky admitted that an agreement had been reached and signed.

• • •

Editor's Note:—The above news was received at press time. Earlier news of the Anglo-Soviet negotiations on Page two. An editorial written after the apparent break yesterday, on Page six.

ATTORNEY GENERAL PLAYS MORGAN GAME IN ANTHRACITE PROBE

(By The Federated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Attorney General Stone, identified as a Morgan lawyer when he took charge of the department of justice last spring, has shown his hand in the anthracite coal situation. He has notified Congressman John J. Rogers of Massachusetts that, after a careful examination, he finds no evidence that the anthracite coal industry is being conducted in violation of the anti-trust or other federal laws.

Massachusetts republicans have protested the price gouge and artificial shortage of anthracite which has been handed to New England, winter after winter, by the Morgan combine which controls this industry.

Investigations by the Federal Trade Commission and by committees of the Senate have shown that from $3 to $5 per ton in excess of a reasonable price is taken from the pockets of the consumers. In a pinch, the Morgan companies take much more than this. Now Stone says they are within the law, and there's nothing Massachusetts can do about it.

Send in that Subscription Today.

See Page Three

BOOST COMMUNIST PRESIDENTIAL CAMPAIGN BY GETTING NEW SUBS FOR "THE DAILY WORKER"

See Page Three

BRITISH READY TO COMPROMISE WITH SOVIETS

Signing of a Treaty Grows More Likely

(Special to The DAILY WORKER)

LONDON, August 6.—M. Rakovsky, Soviet representative at London, will not return to Moscow for the present.

Ramsay MacDonald and A. A. W. H. Pononaby, who have been conducting the British side of the Anglo-Russian treaty negotiations, declare the case is not closed and that they are hopeful of offering the Russians a compromise which they can accept.

Late this afternoon the draft of a tentative treaty was said to be in the final stages for submission to the respective governments. Russian representatives are holding fast to their stand against recognizing any of the debts of the czar or Kerensky unless the British recognize their obligation to pay for damages caused by counter-revolutionary activities they supported. Likewise, the Russians flatly oppose any suggestion calling for the revocation of nationalization of land and industry.

RAIN FAILS TO QUENCH STRIKE AT HEGEWISCH

Hogan Will Speak at Big Meeting Today

The strike against the Western Steel Car and Foundry company at Hegewisch is still going at full blast, the men reporting that the plant is completely tied up so far as production of cars is concerned. A meeting of the strikers, which could not be held yesterday because of the terrific rain, will be held this morning, at which Edmond Hogan, organizer for the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen, and others, will speak.

The work of organizing the men into the union is proceeding systematically and the drive is being spread into the Calumet territory. The spirit of the men remains unbroken, as was indicated by an incident in front of the shop yesterday. A few of the men who attempted to return to work on the grounds that they could no longer keep up their families, were persuaded by the militant strikers to remain out until the employers had fulfilled the demands of the men for a living wage and human conditions.

Edmond Hogan, who is in charge of the strike for the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen, maintains that the organizational results will soon be evident.

Outcast Russian Pauper "Prince" Picks Petty Prize

LONDON, Aug. 6.—Miss Alice Astor, 21 year old daughter of the late John Jacob Astor, and Prince Obolensky Neledinsky-Meletsky, dashing Russian exile, were married today in a register's office followed by a brilliant wedding in St. Philip's Russian church.

Miss Astor recently came into a fortune estimated between $5,000,000 and $10,000,000. The prince has been married before, securing a decree of divorce from Princess Catherine Obolensky having been made absolute just a month ago.

Send in that Subscription Today.

HERE'S WAY TO SHOW YOUR ENTHUSIASM FOR FOSTER-GITLOW RACE

(Special to The Daily Worker)

RURAL RIDGE, Pa., Aug. 6.—The workers of this vicinity sent $75 to the Workers Party campaign for Foster and Gitlow and $25 to the local office from the profits of a big picnic held here recently. The workers had anticipated having a good outside speaker come to the picnic but when none appeared they discussed the party's political campaign and the industrial program among themselves. The picnic was a great success socially and financially.

I. W. W. WON'T PERMIT SPLIT, STATES DOYLE

Says Membership Will Check Disruption

(By The Federated Press.)

That no split in the ranks of the Industrial Workers of the World will follow the temporary disagreement between the two groups at the headquarters is the statement of general secretary-treasurer Tom Doyle of the organization. "The members will not stand for the disruption of our union," Doyle said, "and if we are let alone the little flurry will soon blow over."

The flurry was the suspension and subsequent ejection from the headquarters of five members of the general executive board on charges of disruption. The suspended five refused to appear to answer charges. There have been informal negotiations looking toward reconciliation.

The ousted members will remain expelled until the 1926 convention unless the rank and file call a special convention or peace is patched up otherwise.

Pullman Party

The city central committee of the Pullman section of the Workers Party will meet tonight and every first and third Thursday night of the month at 8 p. m. at 10701 Stephanson Ave.

Send in that Subscription Today.

BIG SILK STRIKE IS SLATED FOR NEXT TUESDAY

T. U. E. L. Calls for United Support

(Special to the Daily Worker.)

NEW YORK CITY, Aug. 6.—The Associated Silk Workers' Union is calling all broad silk workers on strike beginning Tuesday, August 12, at 10 a. m.

At a meeting of the union membership two weeks ago a strike committee of 30 was elected. This committee has been very active in preparing for the strike. At the first mass meeting on July 31, arranged to bring out the silk workers of New York City and environs, an enthusiastic crowd of over 1,500 workers cheered the speakers who put up a strong argument for organization and a fight against the manufacturers. Many were unable to get into the hall, so closely was it packed with workers from the mills.

Big Meeting Friday Night.

The next big meeting at which every silk worker, organized or unorganized, is urged to attend, will be held at 8 p. m. Friday, August 8, at strike headquarters in Turn Hall, at the corner of Allison and Gross sts.

The Associated Silk Workers' Union is making great efforts to organize all broad silk weavers into a compact fighting body to battle the employers on several issues. Among these are:

The abolition of the three and four loom system and the enforcement of the two loom system, the enforcement of the eight-hour day, an increase of fifteen per cent in wages over the old schedule, recognition of the union, the right of the union representative to enter shops to take up grievances of the workers, a one-year agreement with either individual or associated employers.

T. U. E. L. Backs Strikers.

In this fight against the silk bosses in the New York district the left wing workers and members of the Trade Union Educational League are standing 100 per cent behind the strikers. The T. U. E. L. asks that every silk worker respond to the call of the strike committee next Tuesday at 10 o'clock, and stand solid thru the fight until every demand is won.

AS WE SEE IT

By T. J. O'FLAHERTY.

(Continued from page 1)

the sea. And if a Czar is crazy enough to risk his head in a counter-revolution it will mean another perfectly good head gone bad.

* * *

Frank Harris is writing rubbish against Soviet Russia for Haldemann-Julius' weekly from "somewhere in Europe." Harris is a disappointed egotist whose undoubted literary ability did not bring him the desired reward either in honor or money. He liked both very well. When the Bolshevists seized power Harris in 1917 regretted that there were no men of ability among them like Woodrow Wilson; that Lenin and Trotsky were mediocre. That Mr. Harris' judgment was poor has been proven by time. Wilson is today looked upon as a traitor to his principles, such as they were, and as a failure even in his chosen field of treachery. Lenin on the other hand is looked upon as the greatest revolutionary leader in history by millions of exploited and subject peoples throut the world and an inspiration to the working class in their fight to free the workers from slavery. Harris is only concerned with his own fortunes, his pleasures and the satisfaction of his epicurean desires.

* * *

A few years ago, Harris thot he made a great discovery when some wag informed him that Lenin, was really a man with luxurious physical tastes and actually wore silk pajamas. "A man after my own heart" thot Harris. But Max Eastman had a little fun at Harris' expense in the Liberator, and the editor of Pearson's expressed chagrin that another editor should reply to his silly article without first consulting him. It is said that the principal reason for Harris' wrath against the Soviet government was Tchitcherin's coldness to him at Genoa. The Soviet diplomat was too busy with important matters to bother with the befuddled wine bibber. Brisbane and Harris are suffering from a severe case of "sour grapes."

* * *

William (Pussyfoot) Johnson is on his way abroad again. He sailed on the Leviathan a few days ago with such celebrities as William J. Burns, ousted head of the bureau of investigation of the department of justice, Countess Von Bernstoff, the American daughter-in-law of the former German ambassador to this country, and many other men and women of wealth. Pussyfoot will try to convert the Moslems from their predilection to whiskey. While the "Pussyfooter" was sailing over the ocean on his dry errand, the prohibition agents in "dry" America were raiding the home of a relative by marriage of William Howard Taft. The agents found whiskey galore, but they made the mistake of their lives and the man who led the raid lost his job over it. Had he broken into the house of a workingman and captured some moonshine, he would be in line for promotion, but think of bringing discredit on one of our best families! "Another instance of class rule" do you say?

* * *

Another story of violence connected with the Ku Klux Klan comes from Niles, Ohio. The night shirt knights are very brave when they are alone with a helpless victim or number of to one against their foes. But in this case they were met by an equal number of Knights of the Flaming Circle, another secret society organized to combat the Klan and give them their own medicine. It is unfortunate that workingmen should be arrayed against each other in these rival organizations. It is also significant that while the labor fakers, the government and the socialist traitors babble about force and violence and assail Communists on that charge, that the Ku Klux Klan follows the violent tenor of its ways practically untouched by law and unawed by governmental force. Perhaps the big fellows feel that some day they may be able to find use for the morons of the Ku Klux Klan on a national scale as the industrialists of Italy found for Mussolini's Fascisti.

BRITISH LABOR PARTY READY TO CRUSH THE COMING HIINDO REVOLT

CALCUTTA, Aug. 6.—A warning against an impending revolution in India was sounded today by the Earl of Lytton, Governor of Bengal, in a public speech.

"An exceptionally difficult and anxious time is ahead," said the governor. "But we are quite strong enough to deal with the revolutionary movement. We shall not shrink from using fearlessly and unhesitatingly all the weapons necessary for its defeat."

The Earl stated he was speaking officially for the British Socialist government.

N. Y. SOCIALISTS AT SWORD POINTS WITH LA FOLLITES

(Special to The Daily Worker)

NEW YORK, August 6.—The relations between the LaFollette regulars here and the socialist party are not as regular as could be desired. The latter nominated Dr. Norman Thomas for governor of New York State.

This difference has reached the point where the socialists have announced that they will remove themselves from the LaFollette-Wheeler headquarters at 25 West 43rd Street and find a place where their presence will be more welcome.

Will Take Their Dough.

LaFollettes is perfectly willing to be the heir to whatever voting strength the renegade socialist party can muster. He is also willing to be the beneficiary of the collections that may be raised by the Schlesingers and Cahans and the other yellow leaders of the needle trades unions.

But when it comes to a question of allowing his candidacy to be "polluted" with the suggestion of "socialism," the Wisconsin senator draws the line pretty hard. His friends in New York are not willing to allow the socialists to get away with a clear road for the governorship in that state.

Charged With Trickery.

The Tammany crowd in the New York C. P. P. A. are charging the socialists with doing the very thing they accused the Communists of trying to do, that is, run the whole show. Of course, the Tammanyites are justified in their criticism. The New Leader, weekly organ of the socialists, frequently boasted that, with their superior machinery and propaganda ability the socialists would capture the C. P. P. A. and control it just as the Independent Labor Party in England secured control of the British Labor Party.

Tammany's labor leaders will not tolerate any such sharp practice on the part of the socialist hucksters in New York. Thinking that having a candidate for governor in the field would compel the C. P. P. A. to endorse their man, the socialists were jubilant and thought they had put one over on their friends, but they reckoned without their host or counted the chickens before they were hatched. They were warned that the socialists would not be allowed to speak for the C. P. P. A. in New York and get all the publicity, and as a first installment of the medicine which is coming to them before this campaign is over, they were summarily kicked out of the LaFollette-Wheeler headquarters as they were bounced from the C. P. P. A. conference of New York last fall.

Worst Yet to Come.

The Gompers endorsement of LaFollette does not improve matters for the socialists. Gompers hates the very name of "socialism" and even the thing is now scarcely recognizable due to the punishment it has received at the hands of the socialist party, nothing short of its decapitation will satisfy the irreconcilable Sammy.

Rumors of bad feeling between the socialists and the Tammany labor chiefs became so widespread that Hillquit got Norman Thomas to issue a public statement, which shows that the apple of discord is doing its fell work. The Reverend gentleman says:

"To set at rest unfounded rumors, I desire to state with all emphasis that no single group is trying to 'run the whole LaFollette campaign' nationally or in this state. Still less are any of the elements seeking unfair advantage over any other group in the progressive rank. We are all co-operating enthusiastically in the campaign to elect LaFollette and Wheeler. . . . .

"It is the general policy of the Progressive National Committee not to extend its endorsement to state tickets. It has enough to do in federal matters."

Such is the position the socialist party finds itself in after betraying the workers in order to win temporary gain. But it seems about the thing it has accomplished is to speed its death.

Hylan Shows August Days of Political Lapdogs Are Here

By J. LOUIS ENGDAHL.

TODAY, Mayor Hylan, of New York City, offers the startling information that the United States government will not guarantee the proposed loan to Germany under the Morgan-Dawes plan. "Hardly," says Mr. Hylan.

* * * * *

But then we remember that these are the dog days of August, and the political dogs of capitalism are running wild everywhere. They are irresponsible. It is not what they say now, but what they do after election day in November. Morgan knows that, and he knows that every old party politician, in the next war as in the last, will be out barking for the protection of Morgan's loans.

* * * * *

Hylan is one of Hearst's political lapdogs, and Hearst is one of America's prize jingoes. Hearst wants the United States to keep out of Europe, to avoid entangling alliances, but is always ready for war upon Mexico, or Japan, from the safe retreat of his own editorial sanctums. Hearst fought the last war in Europe, thru his papers, and he will be side by side with Morgan in the next European war, strings of flags waving on the first pages of all his sheets.

Considering all these facts, we cannot but conclude that Mr. Hylan must have the political rabies, or he wouldn't froth at the mouth and emit nonsense to the following effect:

"The plan of the international bankers appears to shift the burden of German reparation collection to the shoulders of American investors.

"Is the United States government to guarantee such repayment? HARDLY. Therefore, would it not be advisable to publicly advise American investors that loans advanced thru the international bankers under the proposed Dawes-Morgan plan will not have the army and navy of the United States to insure the collection of such loans."

* * * * *

Such innocence is unbecoming in one who lives as close to Wall Street as does Mr. Hylan. But we do not believe that Mr. Hylan still has a knee-pants brain. He knows what he is saying. He thinks it is good dope to poison the minds of the voters who want to be duped into maintaining their allegiance to the political parties of capitalism, and to vote for them in November.

* * * * *

Mr. Hylan is a democrat. The national democratic convention in Madison Square Garden endorsed the League of Nations and the Dawes plan. Morgan's attorney, Mr. Davis, is the democratic candidate for president.

The League of Nations plank in the democratic platform was written by Owen D. Young, co-partner with "Hell 'n Maria" Dawes, republican vice-presidential candidate, in drawing up the Dawes plan.

Mr. Young is to be general reparations agent, that is, go-between for Germany in handing over the loot demanded of her by France and the other "victorious" nations in the last war. And Young is Morgan's man.

* * * * *

Coolidge is openly in favor of the Morgan-Dawes plan. Doesn't Mr. Hylan even read the daily papers?

Coolidge is openly in favor of Mr. Morgan selling several hundred million dollars worth of German bonds to American investors, at a good commission, and Coolidge knows that the main purpose of the U. S. army and navy is to make good on those Morgan loans.

* * * * *

Hylan spills the beans completely and makes himself look as ridiculous as one of Hearst's craziest comics when he says:

"If I remember correctly President Wilson, during the early part of his first term, notified certain international bankers that if a loan of some $50,000,000 were made to one of the foreign governments, the employment of the army and navy of the United States would not be permitted under any circumstances to enforce ultimate collection."

But, if Mr. Hylan will take the trouble to recall, it was in the early part of his second administration that President Wilson led the U. S. army and navy, under Morgan's dollar flag, across the Atlantic Ocean to fight for the loans of Wall Street, especially those made to the British and French governments.

* * * * *

There was one loan, however, that Morgan has never been able to collect. That was Morgan's loan made to the last Russian czar. Morgan will not collect that loan because a Workers' and Farmers' Republic rules over all the Russias.

We take this opportunity of informing Mr. Hylan, and all the political fakers allied with him, if they do not know it already, that only a Red Army and a Red Navy of an American Workers' Republic will refuse to advance against a foreign nation in order to collect the loans of J. Pierpont Morgan and other Wall Street financiers.

Just as long as capitalism lasts in the United States, and a capitalist government sits enthroned in Washington, just so long will the army and navy of the United States government, of which the president is the commander-in-chief, be used to uphold the pillars of capitalism. These pillars stand on pretty weak foundations right now thru the inability of Western European capitalism to pay its debts to American capitalism.

* * * * *

The Dawes plan means that American millionaire investors, not the workers, are to make possible a loan of several hundred millions of dollars to Germany, so that Germany can meet her reparations obligations to France, so that French capitalism can be stabilized, and perhaps pay some of the billions of dollars of debt the French owe to the U. S. treasury at Washington, and to the House of Morgan.

* * * * *

It is capitalism's last chance. It is a vicious circle of crazy diplomats and financiers now meeting in London and trying to save capitalism from the chaos of the last war. It is inconceivable that the workers of Western Europe will much longer endure their agonies under this insane scheme of madmen. Western European labor will lift itself out of its despair and thru its own strength establish its own rule. In that hour America's workers must not allow the U. S. army and navy to be used in an effort to keep the workers of Western Europe longer enslaved to the House of Morgan.

MILLIONAIRE BOY MURDERERS SCORN WORKERS

Selfish Slayers' Only Interest Is Ego

Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, slayers of the Franks boy, have never worked for a wage, and are not interested in "social uplift," as Leopold termed Communism, they told the DAILY WORKER reporter yesterday in an exclusive interview in the Cook county jail.

Leopold believes in the Samural philosophy, which combines a disdain for women with a hedohistic pleasure-seeking, he told the DAILY WORKER. "Socialism is in conflict with my philosophy," Leopold said, "and I am not interested in it. Economics is not in my line. I took one minor course in economics at the University, but am not at all interested in it."

No Interest in Workers.

When asked if he did not think it unfair that his father's employes are working under trying conditions for $12 and $14 a week in the Leopold Paper mill in Morris, Illinois, while the Leopold family is squandering the wealth piled up by these employes, Leopold replied, "I refuse to answer on advice of counsel, but I assure you I am not at all interested in social uplift. I believe that each individual should take care of himself."

Leopold took great pleasure in talking about his own education and intellectual attainments, but when the conversation shifted to the economic structure of society Leopold invariably answered, "I am not interested, that's not my line."

Never Worked.

Richard Loeb admitted that "I may have done a little work occasionally, but I never had a regular job. I never worked for wages."

Loeb and Leopold met the reporters in the morning in the "bull pen" or exercise yard. This is an inner room with a cement floor. The prisoners walk around in a small circle, double file, getting their morning exercise. Loeb was dressed in his usual jail attire with a sleeveless undershirt. Leopold wore no coat and wore a cap with the peak turned to the back. The air of both boys is one of flippant bravado. Despite their freakish attire, Loeb and Leopold appear much less forlorn than the regular prisoners.

The reporters for the Chicago capitalistic papers were afraid that the DAILY WORKER reporter would "crab" the morning interview. They insisted that he see Leopold first. "We are afraid of feature stuff," one capitalist reporter said. "Leopold probably has a grudge against the DAILY WORKER and if we go in with you Leopold may get sore and refuse to talk. We just want to kid with the boys."

The slayers are highly pleased at all the attention they are getting. Their cells are littered with newspapers. "The DAILY WORKER is that radical newspaper, isn't it?" Leopold asked. "Do they say anything about us?"

"New Angle."

Leopold asked what the DAILY WORKER thot of him. When told that it considered him as a representative of the idle rich, born into a family of labor exploiters, he said, "Well, that's all right, that's a new angle on the case. Send me some of the papers, will you. The other papers have not touched on that phase yet."

Loeb and Leopold seemed so taken up with themselves—gloryin in their childish philosophies and the glamour of the publicity accorded them, that they could not consider the case except as it reflected their selfish egoes. "The individual is the most important thing in the world to himself," said Leopold. Then, evidently anxious to create a favorable impression for his case, he added, "Of course there are certain laws of society which the intelligent must obey, or society will decay." Leopold smiled as he said this, seeming to take a delight in his absurd inconsistency.

He spoke of a book by Wasserman which described the capitalist class. "You ought to be interested in that," Leopold said.

"But what's your point. What moral do you draw from the story of the class nature of society?" he was asked. Leopold again avoided discussion of economics by smilingly answering, "Am I the one to draw a moral? I never drew morals." Leopold said this with the same grandiose air of the meretricious soldier in Shaw's play "Arms and the Man." He considers his "superior" intellect above all inconsistencies, moralities and laws of evolution and revolution.

RIVERVIEW
RAIN OR SHINE
August 10th — Sunday
Press Picnic Day

CHARLES W. BRYAN

This fellow will ride the Democratic donkey in the presidential steeple chase. He is harmless when left alone and would be completely so but for his misfortune in being Bill J. Bryan's brother.

The Democratic vice-presidential candidate will appear at the DAILY WORKER picnic next Sunday, when the comrades will have the opportunity in casting bullets for him.

GERMAN RULERS PLEDGE FEALTY TO DAWES PLAN

Bow to Morgan Yoke at London Meet

(Special to The DAILY WORKER)

LONDON, August 6.—Chancellor Marx pledged the inter-allied conference today that the German government intended to carry out all provisions of the Dawes plan.

A still stronger statement was made by Herr Specker, acting as spokesman for the German delegation of 40:

"We have come to London," proclaimed Herr Specker, "with a sincere desire to assist in finding a method for putting the Dawes plan into action WITHOUT ALTERATION."

Premier Ramsay MacDonald, in welcoming the Germans said that the conference was strictly limited to application of the Dawes report. The allies, he added, were most anxious that the plan be put into effect as soon as possible.

Germans will throw their weight into the argument against French occupation of the Ruhr. They will plead the difficulty of paying the required tribute unless allen armies are removed. The Germans will also emphasize the growth of revolutionary Communism in their country and the need of international support in resisting this movement.

The interallied conference may end this week.

• • •

Coolidge Pleased.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—President Coolidge is highly pleased by the agreement reached by the allied conference in London for putting the Dawes reparation plan into operation, it was declared officially at the White House this afternoon.

Send in that Subscription Today.

These Petty Graft Hounds Got Caught Cheating Indiana

(Special to the DAILY WORKER)

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 6.—Perjury and the presenting of a false claim to the county, were charged in indictments returned against George Weaver and Windsor J. Weaver of the firm of George Weaver & Son, Contractors, by the Marion County grand jury today in connection with the erection of buildings at the Julietta hospital for the insane near here.

The perjury indictment had as its basis the payment of premium on the contract bond guaranteeing faithful performance. False claim was made, the other indictment charged, when fifteen per cent of the contract price was collected at a time when the Weavers knew their work did not comply with the contract.

Send in that Subscription Today.

WILL UNITED STATES WAR NEXT WITH JAPAN OVER MARKETS OF CHINA? BOTH NATIONS PREPARING

By PETER HERD.

An Associated Press despatch from London reveals the fact that the International firm of munition manufacturers, Vickers, is engaged in the production of 140,000 machine guns for Japan. The same despatch points out the fact that the Scrutton company is executing a large order for a special type of tractor lorry, used for heavy long-distance cannon, to be shipped at an early date.

During the last session of the United States Congress two "insignificant" bills were passed, allotting millions of dollars to the Army, Navy and Aircraft departments of the United States government. This money is to be used to modernize the equipment of the navy; to replace coal-burners with oil-burners in the battleships of the navy; to provide a larger number of powerful airships; to purchase rifles and cannon for the army; and to finance the Citizens' Military Training Camps, in order that these camps may efficiently train hundreds of thousands of young workers for the next war.

Money Bags' Politics.

The same session of Congress passed what is known as the Japanese Exclusion Bill. The result of this bill has been the creation of a powerful feeling on the part of Japan, for war against America. The bill, excluding Japanese immigrants from the United States, has served its apparent purpose. It has given the excuse for a protest, upon the part of Japanese Capitalists, against the United States, and an excuse, on the part of the Money Bags of America, for war against Japan.

But why war with Japan?

Is it because a little bill was passed by Congress? No! The real reason lies deeper than that.

War For Markets.

Foreign markets have become essential to the continuance of the Capitalist system. Without foreign markets the large surplus of goods produced by the various capitalist countries, cannot be disposed of. And both Japan and the United States today have these large surpluses of goods to dispose of.

Japan today controls both her own country and China, so far as the production and sale of commodities is concerned. Japanese competition with American-made goods in China is successful, due to the fact that the low wages paid the Japanese workers enables Japanese capitalists to sell at a lower price than American capitalists can sell. To defeat Japan, therefore, America must resort to war.

Both Japan and America are preparing for war at the same time. And this, together with other international complications, are paving the way for a new and more terrible world war.

Idaho Political is Free.

BOISE, Ida., August 6.—H. E. Herd, who served his full term for criminal syndicalism in the Idaho state penitentiary, was released July 15. His offense was membership of the Industrial Workers of the World. He had been in prison since 1917. An I. W. W. picnic and celebration at Boise Riverside park signalized the political's release.

IOWA WORKERS PLAN TO BACK FOSTER'S RACE

Convention Sunday in Des Moines

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., August 6.—The Workers Party membership of Iowa will meet in Des Moines on Sunday, August 10, afternoon and night, to place electors on the ballot for the fall election for Wm. Z. Foster for President and Ben Gitlow for Vice President. The question of a state ticket will be taken up at the convention also.

The place of meeting will be the Macabee Hall, formerly known as the Gibson Hall, 611 Locust street. Speaking will be part of the program at the evening session.

Circulation Petitions.

Petitions will be given the delegates attending the convention to circulate and secure five hundred signatures, the number required to place the electors at large on the ballot. Each district elector must have twenty-five signatures to have a place on the ballot. A number of the surrounding communities plan automobile trips to the convention. Sioux City, Centerville, Albia, Hiteman, Woodward, Avery and others are expected to come that way.

J. E. Snyder, district organizer, with headquarters at 206 Crounse Block, Omaha, Neb., has charge of the arrangements and will be in Des Moines at the New Lloyd Hotel from Thursday, August 7 to Aug. 11.

Mathews' Tour.

Tom Mathews, who has just resigned from the "Mid-West News" of Omaha, will take the "soap box" for a speaking and organizing tour of Iowa. He will attend the convention and then is engaged for a week at Sioux City. Comrades desiring him to work in their community can either take it up with Snyder and Mathews at the convention or else write to 206 Crounse Block, Omaha, Nebraska.

The organizing campaign will be connected directly with the Foster campaign in Kansas, Nebraska and Iowa and all comrades in these states are requested to get in touch with the Omaha headquarters at once. Help build the party, its press and make Foster votes.

This week Snyder will be at Centerville, at Des Moines from August 7 to 11, at Iowa City on August 13. Plans are under way for meetings at Cedar Rapids, Davenport, Muscatine, Woodward, Madrid and a number of the mining camps around Des Moines, Albia and Centerville.

New York on Edge For Big Picnic of Sunday, August 10

Present indications point to one of the most successful picnics that Local New York has ever arranged. Sunday, August 10, promises to be a great day for the thousands of Workers Party members and friends who will gather in Pleasant Bay Park, Bronx.

The whole party membership of Local New York as well as the Young Workers' League and Junior Section are mobilizing their forces for the athletic events—with just two weeks left to the picnic, close to 100 entries have already been received. Keen rivalry is also being displayed by the Finnish, Checko-Slovak branches, etc. Entries are coming in daily.

Among others there is a sack race for both Juniors and members of the Y. W. U., a three-legged race open to all members besides various other races. Special races have been worked out for women comrades. Beautiful silver and bronze medals with the Hammer and Sickle engraved will be awarded the winners. A base ball game between the Y. W. L. and the party has been arranged. Ben Gitlow, vice-presidential candidate will play for the Workers Party. Harry Winitsky, who umpired many games during his vacation in Sing Sing will act as umpire. The Y. W. L. is making great efforts to organize a team that will beak the party and incidentally gain the silver pennant which will be awarded the winner.

Entries can be sent in until Saturday, August 2nd. No comrade can enter more than three events. No entries will be accepted after that date.

Stop Convict Competition.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 6.—Convict competition with free labor in the printing trades in Pennsylvania will be discontinued by the state, following a recommendation by an investigating commission. For their short working day the convicts, not one of whom was a printer in civil life, received 25c to 50c a day.

Send in that Subscription Today.

TEAPOT TEDDY ROOSEVELT,S WAGES RAISED

Cal Boosts Henchman's Pay, Cuts Workers

(By Federated Press.)
(Special to the DAILY WORKER)

WASHINGTON, August 6.— While most of the 500,000 employes of the federal government, affected by the Coolidge reclassification of the civil service, get no increase in pay, and indeed many suffer a cut in wages that are already miserably inadequate, the higher-ups are being given comfortable cushions from which to survey the common herd.

In the navy department, young Theodore Roosevelt, who was frightened so badly by the Teapot Dome expose, is boosted from $5,000 to $7,500 a year. In the treasury, Assistant Secretary Wadsworth gets the same raise, and the chief clerk is promoted from $4,000 to $5,200. In the interior department, "Faithful" Finney, assistant secretary and one of the deferential aids to Albert Fall in the oil deal, gets $7,500 in place of $5,000, while the second assistant, who has drawn $4,500, likewise gets $7,500.

The increase from $5,000 to $7,500 goes also to First Assistant Postmaster General Bartlett, who has been hammering down the pay of the 300,000 postoffice workers; to the other two assistant postmasters general; to three assistant secretaries of state, and two assistant secretaries of labor. In all, 20 salaries were shoved up to $7,500, which is all a senator or congressman receives. And some 25 or 40 went up from $5,000 to $6,000. A lot of others were raised from $4,000 to $5,200.

Opium Conference.

GENEVA, Aug. 6.—The opium commission of the league of nations met in its sixth session to, outline a program for the international conference to be held here in November. Holland is representative chairman and stands with France for rigid control of opium distribution. The United States and Great Britain, the latter the chief producer of opium, want production limited. This would of course increase the price.

Send in that Subscription Today.

14-HOUR NIGHT SHIFT ROLLED UP PROFITS FOR MILLIONAIRE PARENTS OF SLAYER LEOPOLD

(Special to The Daily Worker)

MORRIS, Ill., Aug. 6.—Many strikes have occurred in the plant of Nathan Leopold, who has systematically crushed unionism in his paper mill here, it was revealed to the DAILY WORKER by Joe Harrington, 606 East Jackson Street, who was discharged by the father of the Franks slayer for leading a strike in the caddie department two weeks ago.

Leopold, taking over the factory when it paid good wages, installed the speed-up piece work system, and soon reduced the piece work rate. The plant has been kept on long shifts, with low wages, and at every attempt to form a union the workers were ruthlessly brought to terms by Leopold.

"We ought to have a union here," said Harrington. "We have had many strikes, but they have never been won because we had no organization behind us and Leopold starved us out. There was a strike in the Leopold factory about five years ago, when wages were reduced and the piece-work bonus taken away from us."

"Last spring," Harrington continued, "the night shift went on strike. The night shift had been working fourteen hours a day and had been receiving the same $3.00 and $3.50 a day as the day men received for working ten hours. The night shift in the box factory went on strike for the same rate as the day men. How could they know that Leopold had decided to cut out the night shift in the box department and run it only in the Paper manufacturing department? Leopold fired everyone who went on strike, and stopped the night shift. He just frore the men out without the slightest consideration for them or their families."

Night Shift Grievances.

"The night shift in the paper mill is at present one of the worst grievances the men have," Harrington told the DAILY WORKER. "In the paper mill the men work from 5:30 at night until seven o'clock in the morning and their highest rate of pay is four dollars a day."

"I was fired in the last strike in the caddie department because I suggested to the men that they form a union. I could no doubt go back to work if I promised to be a good little boy in the future, but I prefer to look for another job."

$15 for Pressmen.

The DAILY WORKER talked to a lad weighing not more than 90 pounds. "I am sixteen years old," he said. "I run a Gordon press for 15 dollars a week. There are a lot of fellows running presses and machines in the plant who are much smaller than me. I know Donald Steele, the boy who had his leg crushed last week. He is in his second year of high school but had planned not to go back to school this fall."

This lad described the processes of making the paper boxes. After the cardboard comes from the adjoining paper mill in appropriate sizes, girls and young men tending the machines print the labels on the cardboard, cut it to correct size, stitch the cardboard, fold it, wrap it and tie it. The presses are the most modern, there being automatic cylinder presses, Duplex presses, and Gordon presses. Some of the machines complete two processes at once. The work is turned out at a very rapid rate and the youngsters have to work at top speed to keep up to the machines. It was this extreme speed required that was the cause of the crippling of Donald Stele, in the opinion of his fellow-workers.

Leopold Speed System.

Another worker described the systematic way in which Nathan Leopold has reduced the wages of his employes and increased their output. When Nathan Leopold took over the factory less than a decade ago, he found piece work rates too high for his liking. But Leopold established the bonus system. The workers speeded up and received bonuses. Then Leopold wiped away the bonus, and reduced the piece work rate gradually, which meant that the employes had to work for ten hours at break neck speed to get an existing wage.

Send in that Subscription Today.

KU KLUX RAIDS ON JAPANESE IN HOP FIELDS

Armed Men Assail Brown Workers

By MIRIAM ALLEN DEFORD
(Federated Press Staff Correspondent.)

HOPLAND, Cal., Aug. 6.—Attacks on Japanese laborers on ranches near Hopland have culminated in the posting of a sign on a packing plant reading: Fire Warning: Oust the Japanese. Ku Klux Klan.

Three raids had been made previously, two automobiles full of armed men having driven to ranches and demanded that Japanese employes leave. Although promised protection, the Japanese disappeared in two of the places soon after. One of the ranches was owned by a Japanese, but he was not threatened. At one time the raiding party fired several times in the air, then vanished at the approach of a deputy sheriff.

These raids are the reason for recent cables from Tokio, protesting against attacks on Japanese in the Santa Rosa district of California. Hopland, which is in another county from Santa Rosa and some distance north, was the scene of the labor troubles in the hop fields in 1914, which culminated in the Wheatland riot resulting in the life imprisonment of Richard Ford and Herman Suhr. It is now given over to fruit ranches as well as hop fields, and the labor is largely Japanese.

Klan Violence.

BRIDGEPORT, N. J., Aug. 6.— A mob of robed Ku Klux Klan attempted to take Ephraim Cuff, a Negro, from the jail at Bridgeport on June 27, but were prevented by Patrolman Belcher. Cuff had been sentenced on a charge of driving a car while intoxicated.

Wobbly Trial Nears.

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Aug. 6.—The trial of the fourteen I. W. W. (H. H. Harding et al) arrested in a raid on the organization headquarters in Feb. 1924, resulted in a hung jury on June 30. November 3 has been set for retrial.

COMMUNIST CHILDREN'S COLUMN

CHILDREN'S TOWN.

Do you know that in Soviet Russia there is a Children's Town? It is near Moscow. Five hundred boys and girls live in Children's Town. Some of the children are no more than three years old. None of them are older than fifteen years.

The children live in big homes. Thirty to fifty (can you count that many) children live in each home. Of course, there are a few grown-up people to help the children in their homes and in their town.

The children are all Young Pioneers. If you were in Soviet Russia you would be in a Young Pioneer group instead of a Junior Section of the Young Workers League. The Juniors in America are like the Pioneers of Soviet Russia.

The Pioneers rule themselves. The children decide themselves what each must do as his share of the work. If some one does not do what he should, the children tell him what his punishment will be. They often will not let the "bad" child play with them, or make him do a little more work until he is willing to do his own tasks as he should.

The children have schools where they are free to draw and paint and build models of boats, farms, shops, or anything they please. They model clay dogs and cows and birds. They learn music at one school with many other children if they show that they like music very much.

The grown-up men and women who help the children are life friends and comrades to them. They do not tell the children what to do unless the children ask them.

There are 200,000 Young Pioneers all over Russia. That is as many children as there are people in a real city. But the Young Pioneers are in many places in the Soviet Republics.

The Young Pioneers dress in a khaki suit of two pieces and wear a bright red handkerchief around the neck. The handkerchief is knotted in front.

The children say very seriously that they will uphold the Red Flag and help the workers until Communism is true all over the world.

The watchword of the Young Pioneers is: ALWAYS READY.

If you would like to live in a Children's Town and have lots of time to play and have good food to eat all the time, join the Junior Group of the Young Workers League. If you belong already, try to get some other children to come with you and learn more about the Young Pioneers of Soviet Russia and their Children's Town and the country where the children rule themselves and the workers rule themselves.

VOTE and WORK FOR

FOSTER for PRESIDENT

Get a photographic reproduction of this new picture of Foster free.

Every Reader of THE DAILY WORKER will be a worker for FOSTER FOR PRESIDENT

Printed on a fine grade of paper, 12 inches wide by 18 inches high. Suitable for framing or posting in your window.

THE DAILY WORKER

will be the best, the most incessant worker for

FOSTER FOR PRESIDENT

YOU!! WORK!!

For Foster for President by securing new subscribers to THE DAILY WORKER

4 MONTH SPECIAL ELECTION CAMPAIGN SUBSCRIPTIONS (For new subscribers only) $2.00

Get a New Reader for the DAILY WORKER and a Big Picture of Foster for Yourself

USE THE COUPON

THE DAILY WORKER
1113 W. Washington Blvd.,
Chicago, Ill.

I have sold a Special 4-Month Election Campaign sub. Please send me FREE the picture of Foster.

Name: .....
Street: .....
City: ..... State: .....

New Subscriber's
Name: .....
Street: .....
City: .....
State: .....

FOSTER INVADES MAHONING STEEL VALLEY AUG. 24

To Show Up Fake Labor Leaders and Bob LaF.

(Special to The Daily Worker)

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Aug. 6.—The complete collapse of the last attempt of the American Federation of Labor to organize even a small section of the steel workers, and its criminal waste of the $75,000 fund turned over to it by William Z. Foster, in his former capacity of Secretary of the Organizing Committee, has made it the laughing stock of the steel workers of Youngstown and of the country and has destroyed all fear that Judge Gary might once have held for the former militant effort led by William Z. Foster.

This is nowhere more plain than in Youngstown and the Mahoning Valley. At the beginning of the latest effort led by Mike Tighe, great promises were made that a corps of organizers would sweep down on Youngstown and "do a real job this time". The local "labor leaders" said: "This time the "Foster idea" will not be followed". The campaign did not materialise and the Youngstown labor leaders were left high and dry.

Bob Let Workers Die.

However a saviour has appeared on the scene in the guise of Robert M. LaFollette—the same LaFollette, who in the great steel strike of 1919, kept mum on the ruthless treatment of the strikers by the steel corporation and its lakeys. LaFollette was then running to cover against the charge of being opposed to the war. The same labor leaders who are now looking upon him as a saviour, were busy whooping it up to "win the war for democracy". They, no more than LaFollette, entered any protest against the eight lives that were lost in the strike of 1919 in the Mahoning Valley.

Today the alliance between LaFollette, pseudo-Socialists, and the Youngstown fake labor leaders, with the Scripps-Howard newspaper editor and reporters, forms an aggregation known as the Mahoning Valley CPPA. The Scripps paper has always posed as a champion of "free speech, press and assemblage". Yet Wallace T. Metcalfe, Secretary of the Labor Defense and Free Speech Council of Western Ohio now points out that at the trial of Comrade Andy Kovacovich of Farrell, Pa., charged with violation of the sedition law, the accusations in glowing words cited the attack by LaFollette upon the Communists, and expressed the opinion that even this great champion of free speech drew the line at the terrible communists.

Two Big Meetings

This has not helped LaFollette with the steel workers, and his alliance with the labor leaders who deserted men in the mills is the last straw.

Among the Youngstown "labor leaders" much fear is felt, because of the announcement that William Z. Foster will speak as Workers Party candidate for President, in Youngstown on August 24th. To accomodate the day and night shifts he will address two meetings—one in the afternoon, a big open air demonstration of steel workers to be held at Avon Park; and the other at night in Ukrainian Hall, 525½ West Rayen Avenue. The steel workers of the Mahoning Valley will attend both of these meetings. The Youngstown "labor leaders" will be challenged to show their proof of LaFollette's friendship for the steel workers.

PHILADELPHIA PARTY ACTIVITIES

Street Meetings.

The enlarged open air committee of Philadelphia C. C. C. has outlined a series of street meetings for the duration of the campaign. The meetings will be held in all sections of the city and speakers in all languages will address them.

The committee announces the first meetings in the series:

Friday, August 7, from 8 p. m. to 11 p. m. Northwest corner Girard Ave. and Marshall Street.

Saturday, August 8, from 8 p. m. to 11 p. m. Northwest corner Front and Dauphin Streets.

RIVERVIEW—RAIN OR SHINE
AUGUST 10th—SUNDAY
PRESS PICNIC DAY

THE WORKERS PARTY
Press Picnic
RAIN OR SHINE
will be held at
Riverview Park
August 10th, SUNDAY, Admission 35 cents
The ticket also entitles holder to reduced rates on all the amusements.
Support the
Communist Press
Auspices: Workers Party, Local Chicago.
All profits for the DAILY WORKER and other party papers.

ONE MINER TELLS ANOTHER THAT CAPITALISM MAKES THE TROUBLE; JOIN WORKERS PARTY TO END IT

John J. Watt, secretary-treasurer, sub-district No. 4 of Illinois, United Mine Workers of America, has sent us the following letters. The first was published in the Illinois Miner, the pathetic plea of an old scrapped worker who has not yet "found the way." The second is Watt's answer to Brother Schrock and ends with the moral: JOIN THE WORKERS PARTY which the DAILY WORKER adds a "second" and a "third" even, so that all the J. C. Schrock's will get it.

Schrock's letter is in part:

No Work for Old Men.

Editor Illinois Miner: Where are we going and what are we coming up against? While some are working themselves to death, working time and half and double time, their brothers are idle, can't get a job and are on starvation. Now if you call that unionism I have another name for such workers. Talk about task masters of old. Pharoah was not in it to the side of some of our task masters of today.

I am sixty years old, haven't had a job for over a year. I am too old, so they say. Can you tell me what to do? They have talked old age pensions but I guess when us old fellows get a pension it will be when we are asleep with our toes sticking straight up. We have had our religious ranters for nineteen hundred years and we have the K. K. K. and what have they done to relieve suffering humanity? Nothing but to antagonize.

I have been in the U. M. W. of A. as a charter member when it first started in Illinois, have dug coal about 35 years. Now what am I to do? Go down to defeat? I see no other way out. For God's sake let some brother say or do something that would keep us from becoming public vagrants and vagabonds.

Yours in fraternalism,
J. C. SCHROCK,
Virden, Illinois.

Watt's answer follows:

Many Like You, Brother.

Mr. J. C. Shrock,
Virden, Illinois.

Dear Sir and Brother:

The article written by yourself that appeared in the Illinois Miner, issue of July 5th, has just been brought to my attention and your statements are true in regards to the conditions that are existing, not only in the Mining Industries but in many other industries, there are now out in the Factories of this State, not including mines or other trades, but in the Manufacturing plants alone in this State, there are at the present time over 80,000 workers thrown out of work and conditions at the present time look as though thousands more will be thrown out before this so-called "Stabilization" period is reached.

Now Brother Shrock, what is the fundamental thing that is wrong wherby not only the man past 60 years of age cannot secure work, but many young, strong, stalwart men cannot find employment? You ask that some one show the way out. I am not going to tickle you by suggesting "super-power," "Stabilization" etc., for they can only at their best just patch up this breaking down system of society and make it just perhaps a little more bearable for a few days.

Capitalism to Blame.

I say to you that the system known as "Capitalism" can no longer give the workers employment, if not why are you and the other millions of idle workers not employed? Then if it is the "system" that is wrong and we knowing that not only we but our children are going to suffer much more than we, is it not the right thing to battle to correct the fundamental evil?

"Capitalism" which means the private ownership of the means of production (the machinery) can at any time tell you whether you will work or starve, that being true should we as workers, who are depending upon "machinery" for our bread and butter, allow a few individuals to own that machinery and operate it for profit for themselves, or should all the people own the machinery that produces the necessities of life and operate for their own use when necessary?

The problem of producing the necessities of life has been solved: proof: there is an abundance of every thing we need right in front of our eyes, plenty of bread, plenty of shoes and clothing, plenty of everything piled up in piles, and all produced by the workers. Let us claim the right to the goods we have produced, and let us further claim the right to "distribute" those goods to the ones that have produced them. Isn't it funny Brother Shrock, that many of us have for years been voting for a system of society that builds your houses for the WORKERS, that cannot employ the workers, that takes every thing that the worker produces away from him, after allowing him a morsel with which to keep the bare threads of life together. Isn't it funny we have been doing that for all those years?

Now if we are sincere let's change our ways of doing things: let's supplant this system by a new system whereby the workers shall own, operate and control, the Machines of production and distribution and make goods and distribute the goods for use and happiness instead of allowing profit and ownership of those things on which our lives depend. The workers can change this system when they make up their minds to do so. This, however, cannot be done at once as the workers have so been divided in their unions, in their religious beliefs, in their fraternal orders and in their economic beliefs that it is going to take a little time yet to make the move, BUT THAT MOVEMENT MUST COME ABOUT AND IF THE PRINCIPLE IS RIGHT, THEN LET'S KEEP HAMMERING FOR THE PRINCIPLE.

There are millions of workers out of work now, because our present system cannot hire them. Each piece of machinery that is from now on invented will produce more goods and displace more workers, than the machines it displaces. (This applies to Farrington's Super-Power Idea too.) That being true will not many more thousand be on the verge of starvation and out of work, one, two, three and four years from now? Then what will they do? Will they start thinking that the ownership of the things of life are in the wrong hands, and IF they owned the things they produced, would they starve?

Join the Fighters.

Those thousands, perhaps millions added to what are already idle will start thinking for a way out, shall we that claim we know the way out, start from now predicting what is going to happen and show the way out? I say we must do that thing, we must advocate same on the political as well as the industrial fields and strive for the ends as stated in this elter. No immediate relief can we offer, but ultimately the system of production and distribution must be changed. Unite with those who are wanting to cure evil so that it will stay cured.

Now Brother Shrock, I could go at length telling you of our efforts in trying to put into practice measures that would offer temporary relief, such as the shorter work day, Government Insurance for the unemployed. I agree that those things might have brought TEMPORARY RELIEF, but the evil would still be with us. I say why fight evil, in fighting for distributing a white wife and mulatto child in Paris. Firpo, the Argentine prize fighter, who tried to bring a girl into the country and was foiled, is safe. He has been received at the White House. Siki can't understand the moral distinction drawn between himself and his Argentine brother.

What Has He Done?

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—The end of President Coolidge's first year in the White House has passed.

It was a year ago today that President Harding died in San Francisco, Mr. Coolidge taking the oath as President next morning at the home of his father in Vermont.

The President has sent a wreath to Marion, Ohio to be placed on President Harding's grave, small tolsen for the great opportunity he was given to parade his nonentity before the world.

RIVERVIEW—RAIN OR SHINE
AUGUST 10th—SUNDAY
PRESS PICNIC DAY

WORKERS REJECT COMPANY UNION PLEA OF INSULL

Electrical Workers Fight Big Boss

Beware of Insull.

EDITOR'S NOTE:—The circular letter which the correspondent inclosed is from the office of the president of the Northern Indiana Gas and Electric Company and is concluded with the name of Samuel Insull. The notorious open-shop, anti-labor, company-union plants which the letter flies as examples are: International Harvester (the foul functioning of its company union has been exposed in the DAILY WORKER); the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company; Bethlehem Steel; Standard Oil of Indiana; Goodrich Tire & Rubber Company; Public Service Company of Northern Illinois; Commonwealth Edison and Peoples Gas, Light and Coke Company.

Samuel Insull is president of the last three companies named and is also president of the Middle West Utilities Company. He is chairman of the board of directors of the Chicago and Interurban Traction Company and of the Chicago, North Shore and Milwaukee Railroad; chairman of the executive committee of the Chicago Elevated Railways; and is also active in Chicago City and Connecting Railways Collateral Trust.

Holding Up Chicago.

As head of the "L" lines in Chicago, Insull has been holding out his lines from city purchase for an altogether unreasonable sum. Mayor Dever has just passed the buck to the city council to let them take the responsibility for paying Insull's fancy price or—but they won't dare—using their power of confiscation of property for city use.

Samuel Insull is "sitting pretty" and is making a determined effort to enforce the open-shop throughout all the public utilities which he controls. We are glad to see the workers fight this move of his in Hammond, Whiting and Michigan City, but they'll have to keep up the fight and organize so that foxy Insull won't be able to play his boss-controlled company-union plan over on them when they aren't prepared.

* * *

HAMMOND, Ind., Aug. 6.— To the Daily Worker: The enclosed is a copy of a letter which was sent out by the Northern Indiana Gas and Electric Co., to the employes of the company. This company supplies gas and electricity for Hammond, East Chicago, Whiting, Indiana Harbor, Gary, South Bend and many other Northern Indiana towns.

The electrical workers are organized in the Chicago local, if I am correctly informed there has been no written agreement between the company and the union, but grievances and the matter of wages, hours and working conditions have been settled thru the representative of the Chicago local.

Workers Reject Company Union.

Now, that industrial depression is with us again it seems that the N. I. G. and E. Co., are trying to take advantage of the situation and break completely with the union by offering a form the employes' representation or company union, and all the good old bunk of co-operation between employer and the slave. It will be noted that the circular letter calls attention to several well-known open shop laboring corporations to show how nicely this proposed plan is working in those plants.

However, the workers in Hammond held a meeting and voted to have nothing to do with this proposition.

***

Remember Betrayal.

Also a vote was taken recently on the Indiana Harbor Belt R. R. to determine whether or not the employes wanted a company union.

The employes working in the shops at Gibson voted for a company union as against regular trade unions, while the freight handlers and clerks at the L. C. L. transfer voted to continue with the Brotherhood of Railroad Clerks.

This is quite natural as it will be remembered that the Gibson shops were affected by the calling off of the strike on the I. H. B. by the Railway Employes Dept. of A. F. of L. last winter without having received any concessions from the company, and leaving the shops operating with strike-breakers. They would vote against the regular trade unions as a matter of course. While the freight handlers and clerks are organized in their regular union and the ballots show that they are not in favor of giving it up for any company union.

H. W. GARNER.

French N. P. Treaty.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Formal exchange of ratifications between the United States and France on the treaty between the two countries concerning the Syrian mandate has been made in Paris, according to word received by the State Department today from ambassador Myron T. Herrick. The Treaty was signed and ratified by the American congress sometime ago.

CANADIAN WHEAT FARMERS LEARN TO FIGHT WITH WORKERS TO END ALL CAPITALIST DICTATORSHIP

By H. M. BARTHOLOMEW
(Communist Party of Canada)

EDMONTON, Alta., Aug. 6.—The agrarian crisis in Canada is becoming acute. It must be remembered that the farmers of the NorWest are dependent upon one crop—wheat. This very dependence upon wheat makes the lot of the tillers of the soil even more servile and destitute than that of his confrers "south of the line."

The past five years has witnessed the proletarization of the farmers at an alarming rate. Mortgages and debts have increased at a tremendous rate so that the majority of the farmers are completely divorced from the soil they till. 'Tis true that the farmers are still chloroformed by the poison of "private ownership" but the rapid growth of debts and mortgages is tearing the mask of ownership from off the face of the farmers. The western farmers are landless peasants masquerading in the role of a propertied employer of labor.

This rapid pauperization of the farmer is due, to a large degree, to the increasing gulf between the prices of industrial and agricultural products. Thus we find that the prices of what the farmer buys have increased about one hundred and twenty per cent in ten years, whilst the price of farm products have actually been reduced. It requires no great knowledge of economics to realize that the farmers are yearly becoming poorer.

Increasing Mortgages.

The pauperization process takes the form of mortgages and debts. The divorcement from ownership is concealed in this manner from the eyes of the tillers of the soil. He is only dimly aware of the developmenta proceeding under his very eyes.

In the three prairie provinces the farm debts total in excess of one billion dollars. The average indebtedness is about five thousand dollars per half-section of land, And it must be remembered that ninety-four per cent of the farms carry a mortgage.

These debts and mortgages are on the increase. Last year the Canadian "farmers" enjoyed the largest crop in the history of the country. But the total net proceeds of that crop fell seventy million dollars in comparison with the proceeds of the much smaller crop of the previous year. Moreover, the average price received for the wheat crop was sixty-seven cents per bushel—or thirty-three cents below the minimum costs of production.

Small wonder that thousands of farmers are forced to leave the farms —to swell the ranks of the unemployed in the cities! Small wonder that tens of thousands of farmers are face to face with bankruptcy right at this moment.

An Acute Crisis.

The writer has just completed a tour of the three prairie provinces. He knows that tens of thousands of farmers are faced with utter destitution. They are menaced with foreclosures, with seizures of crops. The sheriff of the implement and mortgage corporations looms large and ugly.

The situation is rendered more acute by the prolonged drought which has prevailed over large tracts of wheat lands. The crop yield has not only been greatly reduced in many districts but has been completely wiped out over huge tracts of land. The drought stricken farmer, already heavily mortgaged and indebted, has no money, no crops, no feed for his stock—is confronted with utter destitution.

Nor should we forget that the industrial crisis which the banking barons have tried to forestall, is hitting the productive machinery of the cities and towns. Steel, iron, textiles, coal, lumber and a host of other industries report a reduced production. The ranks of the "bread line" are increasing daily. In some towns "the city fathers" have been forced to increase the number of families on unemployed relief—in the month of July mark you!

The international prospect is by no means rosy—despite the frantic efforts of Morgan et al to rehabilitate European capitalism. It is becoming increasingly apparent that an acute agrarian and industrial crisis on a world scale is upon us.

Destitute Farmers.

The dependence of the farmers of the Northwest on the wheat market makes the crisis on the prairies even more acute. On every hand stories of hopeless indebtedness and destitution can be heard.

The slaves of the farm are face to face with increasing mortgages, mounting debts, widespread crop seizures and foreclosures.

The banking barons, implement kings and mortgage hounds have well-oiled the machinery of debt-collection. For many months these members of the ruling class have been laying their plans with care. Already the brutal process of foreclosure is under way. Rural newspapers and the rotundas of hotels are cluttered with notices of sales and seizures—a menacing forerunner of the medicine to be served to the farmers this fall.

It is becoming more and more evident that mortgages and debts constitute the immediate manifestation of capitalist dictatorship. The divorcement of the farmers from the soil proceeds apace and his true economic status revealed to his astonished eyes.

The Farmers' Union.

At this juncture the Farmers' Union of Canada, enters upon the scene. Its recent convention at Saskatoon (held behind closed doors) marks a landmark in the agrarian movement of this country.

The assembled delegates realized that they were face to face with a crisis, that the Union must act, or go down to discredit. It tackled this pressing problem of mortgages and debts in a manner which is calculated to send cold shivers of fear down the spines of the bourgeoisie of Montreal. In summary form the program is as follow:

a. Refusal to pay any debts this fall until the farmer is guaranteed eight hundred dollars per quarter section together with feed, seed, stock and equipment. This sum to constitute the minimum wage of the farmer.

b. Mass resistance to foreclosures and seizures.

Need I add that this constitutes a tremendous stride forward. After years of wandering in the wilderness of class-collaboration the farmers realize that only by organized struggle against the capitalist class can they better their conditions.

Farmers Aroused.

Too long have the farmers been fooled with the skulldullery of social pacifism. They have been "spoonfed" on the doctrine of "law and order" and reverence for the sacred rights of private property. But the Farmers' Union of Canada, faced with a crisis, proclaims the class war and mobilizes the farmers against the banking barons.

It is becoming apparent to all observers that the farmers are fast losing their conceits of being a "small capitalist." The recent bitter experiences have served to tear aside the mask of private ownership and reveal to the farmers in their true status —the hired men of finance capital.

The coming struggle regarding mortgages and debts will serve further to unmask the farmer. It will convince him of the necessity of mass action side by side with his fellow slave—the industrial worker of the cities. It will assist in the work of building up the mass movement of farmers and workers organized for the overthrow of capitalist dictatorship. In this work the Communist Party of Canada will play no small part.

Klan Rioters Jailed.

LILLEY, Pa., Aug. 6.—The eighteen members of the Ku Klux Klan and ten Lilley residents, convicted of affray and unlawful assemblage in connection with the fatal rioting at Lilley in April, were sentenced to two years' imprisonment in the county jail.

NEW YORK CITY Party Activities

House "Cooling".

The West Side Branch has opened its headquarters at 245 West 29th street, where the Greek Branch is located. Since it won't do to celebrate this event with a "house warming" in August, we'll make it an open air party, coming Friday, August 8. All will be able to enjoy dancing—active as well as passively—since the Young Workers League will send some of its stars to perform for us. If you won't be cool it'll be your fault. Come and celebrate with us the beginning of the campaign to put the Irish West Side on the Communist map.

OPEN AIR MEETINGS.

Saturday, August 9.

Section 1—Oliver and Madison Sts.—Speaker: Ettlinger.

Section 2—152nd St. and So. Blvd.—Speaker: Rebecca Grecht.

Section 4—Grand Street Extension—Speakers: Rose P. Stokes and George Prineoff.

Section 5—Stone and Pitkin Ave.—Joe Brandy.

Section 6—25th St. and Mermaid Ave.—Speakers to be announced.

Union Hill, New Jersey.

Tuesday, August 5—14th St. and Bergenline Ave.—Speaker: Sam Darcy.

Saturday, August 9—Speaker to be announced.

MICHIGAN MEET STIRS WORKERS AGAINST WARS

Speakers at Hamtramck Loudly Cheered

BY E. CONSTANTINE.
(Special to the Daily Worker.)

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 6.—Several hundred workers of various nationalities gathered Wednesday night at the International Workers Home in Hamtramck, at a meeting of protest held under the auspices of the Workers Party and the Young Workers League. In spite of the extremely hot evening the meeting was a successful one in every way.

E. H. Mody, an active member of the Y. W. L., presided. Speakers of the evening were: Comrade Owens, speaking in English; Comrade Eleszczuk, in Russian; Comrade B. K. Gebert, in Polish; and Comrade Kusanir, in Ukrainian.

They called the attention of the audience to the fact that all imperialistic wars are waged in the interest of the capitalist and that the oppressors of the working class are already mobilising their forces for another slaughter of the working masses, altho it's only ten years since the last one started, during which over 10 millions people lost their lives. To prevent such further wars—the speakers pointed out—workers of the world must prepare themselves for class war against the capitalists of the world to end all wars.

The audience applauded the speakers enthusiastically and unanimously accepted the prpposed resolution condemning capitalist conspiracies for future slaughters of the working class and calling the workers of the world to declare a war that will end all wars by abolishing the present capitalistic dictatorship and building up a proletarian state governed by the dictatorship of the working class.

Mobilization Day Becomes Political Issue for Coolidge

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Now that both the Bryan brothers and John W. Davis have joined in protest against Coolidge's militarization day scheme, and Gov. Sweet of Colorado has declared against it, the Coolidge administration discovers that "adequate national defense" is a campaign issue. The Coolidge press is assailing the Foster-Gitlow ticket as anti-militaristic, and those who are boosting the LaFollette-Wheeler movement as opposed to the plans and ambitions of the general staff and Secretary Weeks.

Two-thirds of the Democrats in both branches of congress are militarist, just as are two-thirds of the Republican members.

Fliers in Iceland.

HORNAFJORD, Iceland, Aug. 6.—Lt. Lowell Smith and Lt. Eric Nelson, United States Army round-the-world aviators departed at 9:15 o'clock this morning for Reykjavik. From Reykjavik the flyers will jump off for Greenland.

HERE THEY ARE!

Special Combination Offer
Take them along on your vacation.
OFFER GOOD TILL AUGUST 15TH
No. 1.
Deportations Delirium of 1920, by Louis F. Post.....$2.50
The Government Strikebreaker, by Jay Lovestone.....1.50
Total.....$3.00
Special sales price $2.00.
No. 2.
Capital Today, by Cahn.....$2.00
Positive Outcome of Philosophy, by Dietzgens.....1.50
Industrial Revival in Soviet Russia, by Heller.....1.50
Total.....$5.00
Special sales price $2.50.
Both combinations to any one address, including postage
$4.00
Single books at regular price. Any two books selected at 33 pct. discount
Literature Department,
WORKERS PARTY OF AMERICA
1113 W. Washington Blvd.,
CHICAGO, ILL.
Send for them before you start out.

The World of Labor — Industry & Agriculture

PICKETS DEFY SLUGGING COPS IN BALTIMORE

(By The Federated Press)

BALTIMORE, Aug. 6.—Police are beating up pickets in the International Ladies Garment Strike in Baltimore. But despite violence on the part of police and strikebreakers the strike, which began July 23, has grown until it has tied up the industry. Citizens who are disgusted with the authorities' invasion of the rights of strikers and who realize for the first time the sweat shop conditions in the Baltimore clothing market, propose that Governor Ritchie appoint a mediation commission to settle the conflict along the lines laid down by Governor Smith's commission in the similar struggle in New York City.

The 2,000 strikers, about 50 per cent of the industry here, demand the full union shop, unemployment insurance, a sanitary label, and a minimum of 14 machines in shops, which would eliminate the small irresponsible shops. The international union, which has just won the foregoing compromise agreement in the New York market, is exerting its energies to win the Baltimore struggle not only to eradicate the sweat shop conditions here but because low-grade conditions in Baltimore compete directly with the New York market.

Teachers Advised to Follow Miners Plan and Organize

SEATTLE, Aug. 6.—Coal miners can give school teachers valuable lessons in protection against arbitrary bosses, declares the University Journal, organ of the University of Washington department of journalism.

"Teachers are described by the journal as underpaid and overbossed. Miners are also underpaid—"but the miners know that better wages will not be forthcoming unless they fight and bring pressure to bear."

The editorial reminds teachers that "educators may hold meeting after meeting, talk, even rave about their inadequate salaries, but until they organize and learn to wield the big stick, their verbal wailings will sound as tinkling cymbals."

K. K. K. Branding.

ROCHESTER, N. H., Aug. 6.—Nelson B. Burroughs, of Rochester, who disappeared from his home, was found at Lawrence, Mass., branded on the chest and forehead with the letters K. K. K. Burroughs, who is a Catholic convert active in the Knights of Columbus, claims he was tortured by a band of hooded men.

Send in that Subscription Today.

SINGLE PLUTOCRATS GETTING AS MUCH AS 35,000 ORDINARY FAMILIES, TAX RECORDS SHOW

By LELAND OLDS
(Federated Press Industrial Editor)

The combined personal income received during 1922 by the country's 4 super-multimillionaires would provide for over 35,000 families at the average 1922 wage, according to figures in the 1924 preliminary report of the U. S. internal revenue. Similarly the 15 individuals who received personal incomes of more than $2,000,000 could support over 73,000 families on the same basis.

The four men who lead America's caste of wealth, with incomes in excess of $5,000,000, received in 1922 a total of $46,890,939 giving each an average income of $11,472,735. They received between them $29,948,839 in dividends alone and $13,542,709 in what is termed capital net gain (profits from assets sold after two years). Less than 1 per cent of their receipts represented return for service to the community. In 1920 there were also 4 men with incomes in excess of $5,000,000 but in that year they received only $41,455,173 or $10,363,793 per capita.

The combined personal income of the 19 individuals receiving more than $2,000,000 each was $56,507,638 of which $51,822,481 was derived from dividends and $33,105,923 from capital net gain. In 1920, the last year of prosperity before the depression, there were only 11 individuals listed with incomes in excess of $2,000,000. In that year the total income of this group was $68,712,373.

Absentee Ownership.

The extent to which absentee ownership of property is the chief source of these huge personal incomes is revealed by the internal revenue statistics. They show a steady decrease in the proportion of income for personal service, from 69.9 per cent in the case of incomes between $1,000 and $5,000 down to 0.6 per cent in the case of the 4 largest incomes.

The table shows for each income group the percentage of total income derived from wages and salaries, from business and partnerships, and from property:

INCOME CLASS 1922	Wages & Salaries etc. Per.	Business Prof. Per.	Property Per.
$1,000 to $5,000	79.5	10.4	10.1
$5,000 to $10,000	71.9	13.7	14.4
$10,000 to $50,000	59.8	22.6	16.9
$50,000 to $100,000	41.0	27.5	31.5
$100,000 to $150,000	23.9	32.7	43.4
$150,000 to $200,000	16.3	25.9	48.8
$200,000 to $500,000	8.2	18.6	73.2
$500,000 to $1,000,000	4.1	11.4	84.5
$1,000,000 to $5,000,000	3.8	11.4	84.8
$5,000,000 and over	—	—	99.4

Unearned Income.

Unearned income predominates in incomes of $50,000 or over. And this unearned income, paid simply for the ownership of the country's natural resources and machinery, looms larger in the internal revenue report than in any previous year. The receipts of property owners from rents, royalties, interest and dividends as reported to the bureau amounted to $6,919,865,492. Total dividends: $2,664,219,081 from dividends, $2,030,517,413 from interest and $1,224,928,998 from rents and royalties. These receipts from property are $874,416,316 above those in 1921 and $427,096,531 above 1920.

In contrast the return for personal service in the form of wages and salaries appears to have been $119,176,374 less in 1922 than in 1921 and $1,576,380,563 less than in 1920. This probably accounts for the big increase in proportion of the total income going to persons receiving $50,000 or more.

Your Union Meeting

FIRST THURSDAY, AUG. 7, 1924.

No.	Name of Local and Place of Meeting
	Allied Printing Trades Council, 59 E. Van Buren St., 8:30 p. m.
271	Amal. Clothing Workers, 608 S. Halsted St.
227	Boiler Makers, 2040 W. North Ave.
93	Boot and Shoe, 1939 Milwaukee Avenue.
499	Boot and Shoe Wkrs., 10258 Michigan.
14	Brick and Clay, Sharmanville, Ill.
186	Brick and Clay, Glenview, Ill.
13	Carpenters, 112 S. Ashland Blvd.
62	Carpenters, 6416 S. Halsted St.
341	Carpenters, 1440 Emma St.
484	Carpenters, South Chicago 11037 Michigan Ave.
504	Carpenters, Ogden and Kedzie.
2103	Carpenters, 758 W. North Ave.
180	Cigar Clerks, 431 S. Dearborn St., Room 1227.
134	Electricians, 1507 Ogden Ave.
795	Electricians, 7475 Dante Ave.
115	Engineers, 6223 Houston Ave.
16432	Field Assessors, Victoria Hotel.
429	Firemen and Engineers, 38th and Campbell Sts., 1:45 p. m.
269	Hod Carriers, South Chicago, 3101 E. 92nd.
25	Janitors, 59 E. Van Buren St.
60	Janitresses, City Hall, Hearing Room.
18	Ladies' Garment Workers, 328 W. Van Buren St.
54	Ladies' Garment Workers, 1214 N. Ashland Ave.
100	Ladies' Garment Workers, 328 W. Van Buren St.
12	Leather Workers, 810 W. Harrison St.
233	Moulders, 115 S. Throop St.
	Painters District Council, 1646 W. Adams St.
371	Palm and Dutt's Hall, Chicago Hts.
2	Piano and Organ Workers, 180 W. Washington.
669	Plasterers' and Peoria Sts.
291	Plumbers (Railway), Monroe and Peoria.
515	Railway Carmen, 1259 Cornell St.
724	Railway Carmen, 75th and Drexel Avenue.
1082	Railway Carmen, 1900 W. 17th St.
278	Railway Clerks, 549 W. Washington.
504	Railway Clerks, 8138 Commercial Avenue.
14872	Signal Engrs., 810 W. Harrison St.
38	Steamfitters, 4236 Princeton Ave.
12	Slate, Tile Roofers, 1224 Milwaukee.
110	Stage Employes' Masonic Temple, 10:30 a. m.
	Signs Cutters, 180 W. Washington Street.
742	Teamsters, 3206 Houston Ave.
754	Teamsters (Dairy), 220 S. Ashland.
705	Teamsters, R. E. 5th St.
110	Upholsterers, 180 W. Washington Street.
17616	Warehouse Emp., 166 W. Washington.

(Note—Unless otherwise stated all meetings are at 8 p. m.)

Flat Janitors' Union Head Indicted Second Time for "Conspiracy"

William E. Quesse, president of the Flat Janitors' Union, has been indicted again with three union men and on charges of a "general conspiracy to boycott and intimidate." Three years ago Quesse and ten others were indicted and after many delays convicted of extortion. Governor Len Small saved Quesse from going to prison this spring when the Janitors' Union men were active Small supporters in the primary election campaign.

The present indictment was brought about chiefly by testimony of Dr. A. J. Alcorn, one of the owners of the Farwell Beach Hotel, who claimed that Claude Lagey, one of Quesse's associates, ordered his janitor off the job and attempted to put in a union man. Dr. Alcorn alleged that the Janitors' Union held up deliveries to the hotel when he refused to deal with them.

Peter Lagey and Gus Van Heck are the other men named in the indictments.

St. Louis Council Just as Scabby as Mayor Stephen

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill., Aug. 6.—The city council indorses Mayor Stephen's strike-breaking tactics against the striking street paving workers. The Keeley Construction Co. replaced the strikers and the mayor complied with the contractor's request for police protection. The city council approves of the mayor's municipal strike-breaking agency.

AUGUST 10th—SUNDAY
PRESS PICNIC DAY
RIVERVIEW—RAIN OR SHINE

Send in that Subscription Today.

ANOTHER SPY AGAINST LABOR IS UNCOVERED

Pittsburgh Bosses and D. of J. Paid Him

(Special to the Daily Worker.)

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 6.—Another labor spying leech has been discovered working in this district. He is at present located in the Penn building on Penn ave. where the business agents of the Machinists, Moulders, and Patternmakers unions of the metal trades council have their offices. He is masquerading as a "realtor" and does a little bootlegging on the side.

The dick has used various names: L. M. Walsh, L. M. Wendall, C. H. Wentzell, J. P. Conred, Ed Williams and is familiarly hailed by his fellow spies and the members of the Employers' Association as "Comrade."

Spied on Radicals.

This "Comrade" has had the task of posing as a radical and reporting the activities of radical workers among the metal workers especially. He arranged to be "arrested" during the 1919 Steel Strike and of course was soon released.

It has been falsely stated that this "Comrade" dined William Z. Foster, Workers Party candidate for president, who was active in the Steel Strike. Foster declares that this is a lie and that he has never seen the man, so far as he knows.

"Comrade" first worked as an "under-cover" man for the Otis Elevator Company of Cleveland, Ohio, his native state. Later he worked for the Mintz Detective Agency in that city.

D. of J. Man.

He was assigned to the Pittsburgh office of the Department of Justice's bureau of investigation and was greeted by another special agent named Arthur Burgoyne. This Burgoyne is in the employ of the Carnegie Steel Company and has ambitions to become agent in charge of the Pittsburgh office of the bureau of investigation.

"Comrade" took an office in the same suite occupied by the Employers' Association in the Oliver Bldg. His reports remained in the files of the employers' organization and the information he gathered was published in the bulletin of that gang of exploiters. His reports remained in their files long after the D. of J. gave him the gate, because "Comrade" just fell into the arms of the bosses' association and took his pay direct from them when Burns cut him off.

Bosses' Aid.

Only a few months ago, "Comrade" moved, fearing that the Employers' bulletins would disclose his connection with the bosses if he remained in the Oliver Bldg. There is nothing to prove that the dick is not still in the employ of the employers, however.

His checks from the bosses were made out to J. F. Conrad and were deposited to the credit of Ed. Williams. He is supposed to live in a Pittsburgh suburb and have a phone under the name of Williams.

(Editor's Note: Anyone who has further information on this labor spy or on any other dick spying on labor and radical activities is urgently requested to assist the Labor Defense Council, 166 W. Washington Blvd., by supplying that data at once for their special "spy encyclopedia.")

Poland is Stricken by Unemployment; Many Bankruptcies

WARSAW, Poland, Aug. 6.—Unemployment is stalking thru Poland since the attempted stabilization of the currency. Just as in Germany, Austria, Czecho-slovakia and other countries, the minute stabilization takes place, many businesses that kidded themselves they were making money when they took in worthless paper are going bankrupt.

The industries of Poland are working only part-time, if at all. Of 300,000 workers in industry, 22 per cent are working 6 days a week, 32 per cent 5 days, 27 per cent 4 days, the rest only 3 days and less.

Send in that Subscription Today.

CAL'S AGRICULTURAL SECRETARY ADMITS "BILLION DOLLAR" WHEAT FARMERS' "PROSPERITY" IS FAKE

By LAURENCE TODD
(Federated Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Whether Coolidge and reaction shall march back to power over a highway built of lies, is the issue raised by discovery that the "billion-dollar prosperity of the western wheat farmer" is a myth. The first big campaign fake, circulated by the Associated Press and accepted by the tory press as gospel, is officially discredited by no less authority than the United States department of agriculture. Meanwhile, the primaries in Texas, Kentucky, Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma, Virginia and Tennessee, affecting the reactionary or progressive character of the next congress, have been materially influenced by this wholesale deception.

An Associated Press Lie.

What are the facts as to this "prosperity," which the Associated Press announced was "making many farmers wealthy," and was adding over a billion dollars to the assets of the wheat farmers and corn growers?

"It is possible," says Secretary Wallace's statement, "that American wheat growers will get from $100,000,000 to $200,000,000 more for their wheat this year than last, assuming that they sell something over 500,000,000 bushels." This is the situation disclosed in the department's monthly review of crop conditions. "This is considerably less than the $1,000,000,000 increase estimated in some quarters, but bespeaks an increased ability to pay off debts and a general improvement in financial conditions in the wheat country."

Corn Growers Badly Off.

"On the other hand, the corn situation is by no means good. Stands are extremely spotted, many fields full of weeds, and much of the crop is so far behind that it will need something approaching a frostless fall to mature. Corn is a feed crop and high prices add mainly to the cost of live-stock production."

Also showing that expensive corn this fall will presumably force stock men to continue to sell their breeding animals, and that hogs and high-grade cattle will be higher in price next year, the review admits that "The South is considered to be going thru critical days now," altho cotton may bring in more money than in 1923.

It winds up with this statement: The index of purchasing power of farm products is slowly rising, moving up to 79 in June (relative to the year 1913 taken as 100) or 10 per cent higher than any other June in four years."

All It Amounts To.

So the billion-dollar wheat prosperity and the two-billion-dollar farmer opulence which has been touted by Hrisbane, the Curtis Publishing Co. and the A. P. comes down to a 10 per cent recovery from extreme deflation, and to warnings that the cost of feed for hogs and cattle is going up. Most of the voters in the states whose primary elections take place before the middle of August will not know that they have been victimized by a colossal lie.

Gary Wonders if It's Worth While Obeying the Law

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—Judge Gary and the steel trust may defy the decision of the federal trade commission ordering the U. S. Steel Corporation to cease its so-called Pittsburgh plus by which it illegally increases its profits. The steel trust directorate meeting in New York, instead of accepting the decision adjourned for three weeks to await advice of counsel.

Japanese Fishers Strike.

SAN PEDRO, Cal., Aug. 6.—The striking fishermen, most of them Japanese, are attempting to prevent a cut of $70 a ton on white tuna fish, or albicore. The strike has lasted nearly two weeks and has about 8,000 men out of work and tied up 1200 fishing boats. The packers offer only $150 a ton now as against the $220 offered at the beginning of the season. They have suggested a compromise of $175 but the fishermen are holding out for a sum nearer the first figure.

BARBERS' UNION FIGHTS MASTERS' DISRUPTIVE ACTS

N. Y. Journeymen Resist Wage Reductions

(Special to the DAILY WORKER)

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—Greater insistence upon class lines is being made by the Master Barbers' Association in their attempt to reduce the union Journeymen Barbers to a lower wage level. The Master Barbers are striking against the co-operative, non-tip shops operated by the Journeymen and are forcing shops in Kings and Queens county to lock out union barbers and keep up the vicious, trouble-brewing tipping system.

The Journeymen Barber shops of 31 Sumner avenue and 1084 Broadway have offered this proposition to the bosses: that four public-spirited citizens be selected to decide whether these non-tip co-operative shops are beneficial to all the barbers and to the public, or not. The Journeymen offered to close the shops if the decision was adverse. So far the Masters have refused to consider the proposition and instead have begun a campaign of wage reductions and lengthening of hours.

Wars Start This Way.

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 6.—When the ous note of protest over the recent killing of American Vice Consul Robert W. Imbrie and the injury of Melin Seymour by a mob at Teheran will be sent by the State Department Monday to the Persian Government.

Send in that Subscription Today.

FURNISHED ROOMS, APARTMENTS AND BUNGALOWS.

REDS COMING TO WASHINGTON, D. C.
Furnished Rooms, $10 to $25 a Month. Apartments, $25 to $60 a Month. Bungalows, $45 to $75 a Month.
Mrs. Bateler, 32 G Street, S. W.
Washington, D. C.

PITTSBURGH, PA.
DR. RASNICK
DENTIST
Rendering Expert Dental Service for 20 Years
645 SMITHFIELD ST. (Near 7th Ave.)
1607 CENTER AVE., Cor. Arthur St.

BIG AUSTRALIAN UNION RUNS 3 STRONG PAPERS

Industrial Organization Has Flourishing Press

(By The Federated Press.)

SYDNEY, N. S. W., Aug. 6.—Labor dailies in Australia are generally having a hard time of it. Two have recently suspended. They were The World of Hobart, Tasmania and The Daily Herald of Adelaide, South Australia. A third The Labor Daily of Sydney is in a bad way financially.

The only Labor daily in Australia that is proving a success is the Daily Standard of Brisbane, Queensland and the success of this daily is largely due to the fact that it exists in a state where Labor has ruled for the past 10 years.

In a totally different position are the weekly Labor newspaper in Australia. The Australian Worker of Sydney, the leading Labor organ in Australia, has a circulation of nearly 100,000 and is in an exceedingly healthy financial condition. The Queenslander, Worker of Brisbane comes next with a circulation of 30,000. The Westralian Worker of Perth, Western Australia, 20,000 subscribers. All three papers are owned by the Australian Workers' Union, the largest industrial union in Australia. There are other weekly Labor organs in Australia, but not in the same flourishing condition.

OLYMPIA, Aug. 6.— Speaking before the convention of the Washington State Federation of Labor, A. D. Goss, of the farmers' State Grange said that butter substitutes had put 23,000 dairy cows out of business and had thrown 15,000 men in dairying out of a job.

E. W. RIECK LUNCH ROOMS
Seven Places
62 W. Van Buren | 422 W. Harrison
169 N. Clark | 118 S. Clark
66 W. Washington | 167 N. State
234 S. Halsted
PHONES, HARRISON 5618-7
Specialties: E. W. Rieck Boston Baked Beans and Brown Bread
Fine Soups and Fresh Made Coffee
Commissary and Bakery
1612 Fulton Ct. Phone West 2649

RUBBER STAMPS AND SEALS
IN ENGLISH AND IN ALL FOREIGN LANGUAGES
INK, PADS, DATERS, RUBBER TYPE, Etc.
NOBLER STAMP & SEAL CO.
73 W. VanBuren St.
Phone Wabash 6680
CHICAGO
MAIL ORDERS PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO

ED. GARBER
QUALITY SHOES
FOR MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN
2427 LINCOLN AVENUE
CHICAGO
Telephone Diversey 5129

SOVIET RUSSIA PICTORIAL
A Monthly Review
on the progress of the world's first workers' government
Made more interesting by
MANY ORIGINAL PHOTOGRAPHS
Feature articles by internationally known writers on RUSSIA
and working class events the world over.
SUBSCRIBE NOW!
$2.00 a Year $1.00 Six Months
SOVIET RUSSIA PICTORIAL,
19 So. Lincoln St., Chicago, Ill.
NAME .....
STREET NO. .....
CITY ..... STATE .....

OUR DAILY PATTERNS

A STYLISH COSTUME.

4836. Figured foulard with facings of satin was used for this design. It is also a good model for linen, crepe or English broadcloth. The skirt is joined to bodice or underbody portions. The blouse may be finished with very short sleeve portions or with the added long bell portion.

The pattern is cut in 7 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46 inches bust measure. To make as illustrated for a 38-inch size will require 1 yard of 36-inch lining for the underbody, 3¼ yards of 40-inch figured material and ¼-yard of plain material. The width of the skirt at the foot is 3¼ yards, with plaits extended.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in silver or stamps.

Send 12c in silver or stamps for our UP-TO-DATE FALL AND WINTER 1924-1925 BOOK OF FASHIONS.

A PRETTY SUMMER FROCK.

4845. White voile with hemstitching for a finish is here shown. This style is also attractive for the pretty cotton prints, for crepe de chine, organdy and other soft materials.

The pattern is cut in 4 sizes: 6, 8, 10 and 12 years. A 10-year size requires 3¼ yards of 27-inch material.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in silver or stamps.

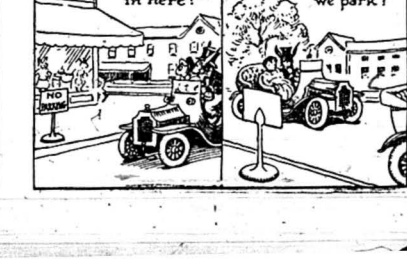
Send 12c in silver or stamps for our UP-TO-DATE FALL AND WINTER 1924-1925 BOOK OF FASHIONS.

Address: The Daily Worker, 1113 W. Washington Blvd., Chicago, Ill.

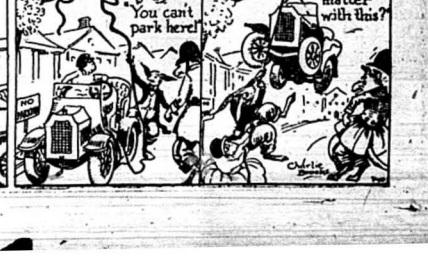
NOTICE TO PATTERN BUYERS—The patterns being sold thru the DAILY WORKER pattern department are furnished by a New York firm of pattern manufacturers. Orders are forwarded by the DAILY WORKER every day as received, and they are mailed by the manufacturer direct to the customer. The DAILY WORKER does not keep a stock of patterns on hand. Delivery of patterns ordinarily will take at least 10 days from the date of mailing the order. Do not become impatient if your pattern is not received by return mail.

RIVERVIEW—RAIN OR SHINE
AUGUST 10th—SUNDAY
PRESS PICNIC DAY

UNCLE WIGGILY'S TRICKS



A LAUGH FOR THE CHILDREN



THE DAILY WORKER

Published by the DAILY WORKER PUBLISHING CO., 1113 W. Washington Blvd., Chicago, Ill. (Phone: Monroe 4712)

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

By mail:

$6.00 per year $3.50—6 months $2.00—3 months

By mail (in Chicago only):

$8.00 per year $4.50—6 months $2.50—3 months

Address all mail and make out checks to THE DAILY WORKER 1113 W. Washington Blvd. Chicago, Illinois

J. LOUIS ENGDAHL, WILLIAM F. DUNNE } Editors

MORITZ J. LOEB Business Manager

Entered as second-class mail Sept. 21, 1923 at the Post-Office at Chicago, Ill., under the act of March 3, 1879.

290 Advertising rates on Application.

The Anglo-Russian Break

It is significant that the key question over which the reported breakdown of Anglo-Russian negotiations took place was the demand of the "labor" government of imperialist Britain that the Workers' Soviet Republic renounce its right to nationalize the industries in Russia which had been gobbled up by foreign capitalists during the Czarist tyranny. Comrade C. Rakovsky of the Soviet delegation flatly rejected this insulting trespass on Soviet sovereignty.

At the same time it is announced that the "radical socialist" Premier Herriot, of France, "is known to have become lukewarm recently toward Russian negotiations." The Wall Street press slyly notes that Morgan's whiskered messenger boy, Secretary Hughes, beat the Soviet emissary, Comrade Kameneff, to Paris.

Hughes is bludgeoning Europe into line for Morgan. The prize spokesmen of American imperialism, the New York Times, gloats over the end of "American isolation" and gleefully remarks that however "unofficial" is the visit of Secretary Hughes to the capitols of Europe, "all Europe is thanking God (read, thank Morgan) while America (read, Morgan) stands by openly rejoicing." It adds hopefully that now "we" are in Europe, we soon will be in the League of Nations.

"We" are in Europe! In Europe to stop the westward course of Bolshevism. Hughes frankly acknowledges that if Europe wants American help it must fight Bolshevism. The MacDonald insult and the Herriot "lukewarmness" toward the Soviets are the result. If Hughes can do so, it will be again the inhuman blockade, Vorovsky assassinations, "libertarian" attentats within Russia and, perhaps, war against the first Workers' and Farmers' Republic. War marches on the heels of Hughes.

In this conflict between American imperialism and Leninism, the revolutionary workers of America stand behind Trotsky in his challenge to the expansion of murderous Morganism. And Hughes, he is so little welcomed as the "savior of Europe" that in Berlin he dares not go upon the street except under heavy guard.

The Flag Follows Oil

By virtue of the American government's grabbing another strip of land from the weak republic of Panama the area of the United States is now larger by twenty-two miles.

The announcement of this land-grab was given practically no publicity by the press. Even the financial papers saw fit to give very little publicity to this incident. Following the terms of the treaty of February 26, 1904 and in the path of the revolution engineered in Panama by Roosevelt, President Coolidge went ahead and issued an executive order adding this territory to the Canal Zone.

Why the secrecy about this sudden awakening as to this need for more land in the Canal Zone? Merely to put this question is to answer it. Recent months have seen several big American oil firms acquiring an extensive acreage of land in Panama. These companies are drilling for oil. It is said that this little republic has large oil tracts of high merit.

The steal just perpetrated by the President of the United States is of two-fold import. Commercially it would be of tremendous advantage to the American capitalists to have oil close at hand in Panama. Such oil will be particularly economical in supplying fuel for the steamships passing thru the Canal. The establishment of American refineries on the west coast of South and Central America will be of invaluable aid to Yankee business men in their transactions with the Latin-American countries.

Then there is the military and naval advantage that will accrue to the United States from this land grab. In time of war American military forces stationed at the Canal would not be imperilled by the possible misfortune that might overcome tankers bringing them fuel from the outside. Oil within the pipe-line reach of the Canal Zone will release for her the warship convoy that would be necessary for the protection of these tankers.

The American flag is beginning to drip oil from every one of its corners, from every fringe and thread of its fabric in Persia, in Sakhalien, in Venezuela, in the near and far east, and in Panama. The Sinclair Consolidated owns more than a million and a quarter acres here. The Gulf Oil Co., the Texas Co., and the Standard Oil of California also own great acres of oil land in the Darien region of Panama. The Royal Dutch Shell is here to contest their inroads. Now the American flag is here, following the Yankee oil prospecters, and warning the British interests to get out. Our flag does follow oil.

Reaping the Whirlwind

Mrs. Rosalie Evans, an American citizen by birth and a British subject thru marriage, has just met with death in Mexico.

This incident may bring about a situation fraught with great dangers for the struggling Mexican republic. The death of Mrs. Evans will undoubtedly be seized upon by the British imperialist government as a further cause for demanding that the International Bankers' Committee tighten up on Mexico. Our own capitalists, being close partnership with the English financiers in Europe, may yield to such pressure.

For some time Mrs. Evans, who was a wealthy landowner in Mexico, was resisting the supreme law of the land. Mrs. Evans was violating the Mexican constitutional provision as to land. Mrs. Evans refused to carry out the law which provided for turning over to the workers of the land all acreage over the fixed limits. More than that, Mrs. Evans totally disregarded all the provisions of the constitution dealing with working conditions.

It is this flagrant disregard of the highest law of the Mexican Republic that proved a source of serious difficulties for Mrs. Evans. As a matter of fact, Mrs. Evans even went so far as to hire private armed men to defend her hacienda and herself in the violation of the constitution. Under such circumstances, with Mrs. Evans waging private war against the Mexican workers and the constitution of the republic, it was inevitable that serious consequences should ensue. Mrs. Evans is simply reaping the whirlwind she herself has sown.

For scores of years the Mexican working and farming masses have been giving away their lives and spilling their best blood on account of the manipulations of the foreign and native capitalist exploiters and landowners. After ten years of continuous revolution the masses forced the adoption of certain constitutional provisions guaranteeing them a few elemental rights. Mrs. Evans was attempting to rob the workers and peons of Mexico of these hard-earned elementary rights.

The numerous years of bloodshed for the Mexican masses has never brought a wail from our imperialist kept press. These defenders of the capitalist faith cry only when the profit system, when an exploiter is in danger or meets with defeat and disaster.

The American Okhrana

The Civil Liberties Union has done a service by issuing a pamphlet exposing the enormous growth of the government's secret, political police. This arm of the capitalist dictatorship goes under the name of the Bureau of Investigation of the Department of Justice.

This bureau did not exist until 1908. Nothing challenged capitalist rule. They didn't need it. But in 1924 it confesses to employ 700 spies engaged in spying on labor unions, workers' political parties and "radicals" of any real or pretended sort. If a union man arises in his local meeting and speaks against capitalist profits, the fact is duly entered on a card in Washington. The graft has been good. Nearly six times as much money is being spent this year than ten years ago. This years' bill will be $2,283,863.

The excuse given that these huge sums are to "catch criminals" falls flat. There has been only six and two-tenths per cent increase in cases prosecuted in the last ten years in federal courts, and actually less convictions obtained. But six times the money is used.

Aside from the card file of 200,000 workers and "radicals," the government illegally used money to practically bribe state and local officials to "raid the reds" and try them for "criminal syndicalism," as in Michigan, Upon occasion its agents commit crimes and cinch their jobs "searching for the criminals."

In a foreword the Civil Liberties Union hopefully states, "It looks like this spy system was about to be rooted out by the new Attorney-General, Harlan F. Stone." Piffle! Do you think the capitalist dictatorship is going to throw away all those nice cards with our names and doings recorded, And abandon the system? We know all will be on hand in a "pinch," with new dope and dopesters.

If we had no other evidence we would merely take the fact that before the Bolshevik revolution in 1917, "investigation" cost Uncle Sam only $617,334, but after the Soviets seized power in Russia in the name of the world proletariat, it needed $1,748,226 to "investigate" in 1918. And the sum since has been rising, just as has the Soviet "menace."

Col. James A. Logan, the American delegate to the London Conference, declares that this gathering "is the most successful one since the treaty of Versailles." Stocks rose at once on the Wall Street market. But we cannot forget that Versailles was so "successful" that this Conference had to meet to dodge the danger of immediate war between and among the Allies themselves.

After peddling a swarm of lies about the "failure" of the Soviet officials to preserve the body of Lenin, boasting that some enemy had destroyed it, and getting indignant because this mythical enemy had been shot by the Cheka, the plute press has to publish the fact that the embalmers performed a miracle of life-like restoration.

The papers are full of tosh about how Tweedledum & Coolidge spent the week-end yachting while Tweedledee Davis passed Sunday on the links. The workers will remember that these parasites pass their lives this way, while workers swelter in the slums and farmers sweat in the harvest sun. It's a nice world!

What Wall Street Thinks of Davis

By JAY LOVESTONE

WHAT does Wall Street think o. John W. Davis, the Democratic nominee for President?

Here are some of the opinions taken from authoritative, recognized, spokesmen of the biggest business interests in the country. We present the expressions from seven widely recognized organs of the most powerful financial industrial groups of the country.

Wall Street Journal

Mr. Candor of the Washington Staff of the Wall Street Journal, which has the largest circulation of American financial newspapers, said the following about the nomination of Davis in the issue of July 10th 1924:

"The Democratic national convention has reached the best possible solution of an almost impossible situation, with the nomination of John W. Davis of West Virginia and New York, for President of the United States.

"From the strictly non-partisan point of view, the Davis nomination insures a clean campaign conducted on thoroughly national issues.....

This writer knows many men of both parties who served in the Congress with Davis, and he has yet to hear one say that the new Democratic candidate is anything but able and clear-visioned. Supreme Court Justices have said that Davis, as Solicitor General, was the most able government lawyer who ever appeared before the high court. His record as Ambassador to the Court of St. James is one of the outstanding bright spots of the Wilson administration."

Coal Age

"The July 17th Weekly Review issued by the Coal Age organ of the strongest coal magnates sums up the nomination of Davis in this significant fashion:

"Clutching any straw within reach, the coal industry rejoices that the long, drawn out convention of the democrats has finally come to an end and heaves a sigh of relief that the choice of a candidate fell to one not likely to indulge in rampages for regulation it his campaign for election should prove successful. Whether this is the herald of the early approach of the long hoped-for upturn in business, or not, it marks the passing of what, in some quarters, has been regarded as on of the obstacles in the path of business resumption."

The New York Commercial

This oldest of our financial newspapers, which prides itself on being called "The National Business Newspaper," made the following observations of the Democratic nominee in its issue of July 10th:

"In nominating John W. Davis for the Presidency, the Democratic Party has assured the country that it has neither trade nor parley with that species of radicalism which has acclaimed itself "progressive," while it is really destructive.

"Mr. Davis is sane, normal, intelligent, capable, efficient, and experienced. He stands with his feet on the ground, not with his head in the clouds. He has a knowledge of the needs of the country and his record as a diplomat in the Court of St. James proves him a wise man so far as the nation's foreign relationships are concerned.

"Mr. Davis, like Mr. Coolidge, is entirely competent to fill the great office of President of the United States. In the election of either man the country has nothing to fear. It is inconceivable that selfish blocs or associations should, in the mad pursuit of government aid, get any encouragement in the White House, when it is tenanted by either Coolidge or Davis—and since one of the two is to be chosen at the polls in November, it is something of a pleasure to give that assurance to Commercial readers.

"The outcome of the long drawn-out strife of the convention in Madison Square Garden is encouraging. If Mr. Davis does not amalgamate all sane divisions of his party it will not be because he is not all right but the other way around.

"Whatever of apprehension business men the country over have been experiencing, because of the political outlook, can now be dismissed. The nomination of John W. Davis has, we believe, restored to the commercial and financial world that feeling of confidence in the future which is so necessary for the free and untrammeled progress of what we all know under the general head of business."

The National Republican

Even the National Republican, the official mouthpiece of the most reactionary section of the Republican party, could not desist from praising Mr. Davis. In its issue of July 19th it declared:

"John W. Davis of West Virginia, is perhaps second in ability to no public man of the period. A scholar and gentleman of high personal character, wide and successful experience in public affairs and of proven capacity in his profession and in public life, his fortuitous nomination by a convention worn out with fruitless effort to nominate someone else, puts at the forefront of the Democratic campaign the most creditable candidate, personally, perhaps, who has carried the standard of his party since the Civil War.

"John W. Davis is a man of great ability and high character, who if elected, would make a capable president."

Barron's Weekly

Mr. C. W. Barron, the editor of this national financial weekly, appearing in New York, Boston, and Philadelphia, was rather generous in his opinions of Mr. Davis, as can be seen from the following excerpt from an article of his appearing in his organ under date of July 21st, and purporting to be a summary of the views held in financial circles:

"Mr. Davis stands very high as a lawyer and adviser in the financial, the business, and the political world. Indeed he is ranked by certain of his admirers along with Choate and Root. He is sound in every way as a man and professionally, and the wonder is that he could come forth as a presidential candidate from such a convention as that which for so many days held the attention and something of the interest of the American people.

"Nobody can question the standing of Davis. He stands for stalwart Americanism. The Democratic party made its best possible play to redeem the convention fiasco by naming such a man."

St. Louis Liberty Central Trust Co. Monthly Review

President J. L. Johnston, of the Liberty Central Trust Company of St. Louis, expressed the attitude of Western bankers towards Mr. Davis in his last monthly Business Review, when he said:

"From the standpoint of all who desire to see our national affairs conducted on a sensible basis, with no compromise offered to destructive and unconomic forces, the outcome of the two great political conventions is highly satisfactory. The individual will prefer one nominee or the other; in any event he should rest assured that the next Chief Executive will do all in his power to keep the business, industrial, and agricultural life of the nation on an even keel."

The Commercial and Financial Chronicle

In its July 12th issue, this spokesman of the most important industrial and banking interests of the country, strongly endorsed Mr. Davis. In its lavish praise of the Democratic nominee the Chronicle declared:

"The whole business world has reason to feel gratified over the outcome of the Democratic National convention. In the turmoil through which this convention passed during the last two weeks, hardly any one had dared to hope for the selection as the nominee for President of a man of the calibre of John W. Davis. It can be said without reservation that Mr. Davis is qualified in every way to fill the Presidential Office should the choice of the electorate fall upon him.

"Mr. Davis commands the support of all the different elements of the party. There is in that circumstance occasion for the greatest rejoicing."

"BOYCOTT FINNISH PRODUCTS," PLEAD OPPRESSED POLITICAL PRISONERS OF "BUTCHER" LAND

WORKERS OF ALL THE WORLD!

The political victims of Black Finland appeal to your class solidarity.

Hear the cry of your brothers suffering in prison hells.

"Fully normal conditions prevail in Finland." This is what the representatives of White Finland state in foreign lands in order to cleanse the "innocent" blue-white flag of their country of the blood stains of the White Terror. "Finland is a constitutional state," they blazon forth, "it is the bulwark of western culture against the barbarism of the east. Finland is a civilized state."

Yes it it! Just the same as all other "civilized states" which are based on treachery, falsehood, injustice, deception and reckless violence. Bayonets, the army, and a special class-army, the weapons of the executioners of a hundred or so defense guard companies, that is what this "civilized state" rests on. Its soil is still drenched with the blood of tens of thousands of fallen, shot, mutilated and famished workers. Its prisons are still crammed full of political prisoners and its "impartial" courts hardly find time to sentence all the "criminals."

COMRADES! WORKERS OF ALL THE WORLD!

Little Finland has over one thousand political prisoners according to official information. A great portion of us are those who were still left after the great butchery that occurred six years ago, but who have since then been confined in prison dungeons. In addition there are several hundred who have been thrown behind the bars since 1918, several hundred who have dared—but to take up arms, not to revolt—but to aid the widows and orphans of their murdered comrades, to organize labor organizations and work in them, to read Communistic literature, to admit being Communists.

Even for our opinions we have been sentenced! And recently nearly two hundred comrades were sentenced to the penitentiary for many years merely for the reason of having belonged to a labor party, which has been sympathetic toward the Communist International, not affiliated with it. In this manner prisons here gain occupants, in this manner White Finland defends "western culture and legal procedure."

Torture System of our Prison Hells.

In other parts of the world political prisoners have at least partial privileges compared to common criminals. How about White Finland? Nearly to the contrary. Only a few of us may enjoy the so-called "political privileges" read bourgeoise newspapers and receive a portion of the food delivered by our relatives. These "political privileges" are remnants of the "conciliatory efforts" of the class war, by which the bourgeoisie attempted to plaster the bleeding wounds of the proletariat. Even these "privileges," as said, are enjoyed by a few, and they are being diminished from day to day. One comrade after another, who is suspected of being an "agitator," is transferred, on the basis of mere suspicion, into the same prisons with individual criminals. The greater portion of the political prisoners is therefore without any privileges and in many respects in a more wretched condition than common criminals.

We are compelled to live in cold, drafty holes, where the roofs leak and where the only properly built portions are the iron bars. We are compelled to perform our compulsory labor in crowded, dusty, stuffy shops, which lack the most elementary requirements from the viewpoint of health. In case of illness we receive no care, even tho unable to rise from our beds, and when epidemics rage we are allowed to die for lack of care in the corners of our dungeons. The "care of the sick" provided by the prisons is only an opposition upon us and mockery at the expense of the lives of the prisoners.

Cannot Write In Prison.

All means are used to suppress our efforts to educate ourselves. We are not allowed to loan books to one another. Even a great portion of the pure bourgeois books of general knowledge, not speaking of any labor literature, have been included in the list of "forbidden literature." We are not allowed to make memorandum books. Not all of the "permitted works," especially those of a social nature, and all original writing is forbidden under threat of punishment. Literacy is general in Finland, but we are not allowed to take advantage of it. Such are the educational pursuits of our "civilized state!"

Disciplinary punishment is frequently imposed. Bread-and-water and the dark cell are handed down every day and arbitrarily. Guards lacking all morals may punish any one without cause, and complaints are followed by additional punishment. When some "guilty one" can not be discovered, the entire working group is punished. The prisoners must make compensation for property lost from the prison, even tho it cannot be proven that the prisoners are guilty of the thefts often committed by the guards.

Vicious Guards.

Our guards are of the real "element of culture," uncivilized, harsh and cruel. The executioners of 1918, who are unfit anywhere else, are desired material here. Drinking bouts and rough fights among them are so general, that even certain Fascisti papers have had to demand that their weapons be taken away from them outside the prison. But here they must be armed.

Is it any wonder, then, that some of our comrades are overtaken by discouragement and melancholy? Is it any wonder that sudden cases of insanity, suicide and attempst at murder are quite numerous here? Only a few are able to keep up their full spirits under these conditions.

Comrades! Class Brothers of All the World!

We, the victims of the persecution of White Finland, the workers confined in prison, we appeal to you, our brothers; we appeal to your class-consciousness, your class might, your international solidarity; we ask: Do something in our behalf! We no longer have any faith in the amnesty humbug of our diet, we do not expect any mercy nor pity from our class enemies, and we do not appeal to them. But you, comrades, you can help us, you can at least alleviate a little the unfortunate fate of us and the entire oppressed and enslaved Finnish proletariat. You can at least brand the white executioners of Finland with the burning mark of shame, you can have them despised before the entire civilized world, you can show the foreign representatives of our country that the world does not consider Finland a civilized state. With the aid of an economic boycott you can compel Finland to free its political prisoners and cease its political oppression. You can save us and again show in a practical way the gigantic power of the united forces of labor.

Comrades! Brothers!

Do not allow our cry to echo in vain, do not consider this indifferently and allow the working class of Finland to sink down into deeper slavery. Do not betray the holy commandment of class brotherhood! Act, brothers, act, and you shall receive the undivided gratefulness of the entire working class of Finland! Trusting in you, we shall keep up our fighting spirit even in these prison hells, and we extend you our hand in firm brotherhood thru our prison bars.

Down with the butcher executioners of Finland!

Long live the international brotherhood of labor!

Long live the firm unyielding class struggle!

Long live the Soviet Republic of the Workers of the World!

Tammisaari Institution of Penal Servitude, June, 1924.

Political Prisoners of Butcher Finland.

RIVERVIEW—RAIN OR SHINE

AUGUST 10th—SUNDAY

PRESS PICNIC DAY

JOHN W. DAVIS

This fellow is good looking, witty, eloquent and wealthy. It is well for him, because he is going to be the donkey's hipe in the coming election. It is reported that even Morgan may not vote for him.

Therefore, in the interests of the poor and down trodden lackey of the House of Morgan, it is regrettable that the DAILY WORKER press picnic committee had to pick on Davis in order to turn his misfortune into money. You will see her image on the firing line at Riverview Park next Sunday.

PROSPERITY IS DOWN AT HEELS IN CAL'S STATE

150,000 Fewer Jobs Than Last Year

BOSTON, Aug. 6.—The prolonged depression in Massachusetts industries which began in March, 1923, continued thru June, 1924, bringing employment to a level 19.7 per cent below June, 1923, and 22.2 per cent below the high mark of last year. Approximately 150,000 factory workers who had a job in March, 1924, are out of work today.

The average weekly pay has also been shrinking. In June it amounted to $22.79 as compared with $23.10 in May and $24.72 a year ago. Approximately $4,000,000 has been cut from the weekly pay of factory workers in the state, nearly 25 per cent.

In June as compared with May there were decreases in the number employed in 27 of the 31 industries. Compared with a year ago every one of the 9 major industries shows a marked decrease in the number on payroll. In 5 the number fell off more than 20 per cent: cotton 26.4 per cent, boots and shoes 21.5 per cent, foundries and machine shops 22.9 per cent, rubber products 34.4 per cent and electrical machinery and apparatus 28.4 per cent.

Only 23.2 per cent of the manufacturing establishments were operating full-time full-capacity during the month. In the silk industry only 10 out of 121 plants were operating normally, in the cotton goods 6 out of 48 and in woolen goods 7 out of 38. Brockton had only 5 of 34 plants operating normally, Haverhill 3 of 34, Holyoke 1 of 11, Lynn 4 of 33, New Bedford 4 of 28.

Send in that Subscription Today.

YALE UNIVERSITY
NOV 22 1924
LIBRARY

THE DAILY WORKER RAISES THE STANDARD FOR A WORKERS AND FARMERS' GOVERNMENT

THE DAILY WORKER

Communist Candidates
For President:
WILLIAM Z. FOSTER.
For Vice-President:
BENJAMIN GITLOW.

Entered as Second-class matter September 21, 1923, at the Post Office at Chicago, Illinois under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Vol. II. No. 121. SUBSCRIPTION RATES In Chicago, by mail, $8.00 per year. Outside Chicago, by mail, $6.00 per year. FRIDAY, AUGUST 8, 1924 290 Published Daily except Sunday by THE DAILY WORKER PUBLISHING CO., 1113 W. Washington Blvd., Chicago, Ill. Price 3 Cents

BIG SILK AND CLOTHING STRIKES

The Daily Worker Outing Sunday

COURTS PERSECUTE WORKERS IN STATE LAFOLLETTE RULES; SEE JAY LOVESTONE'S SERIES

LAFOLLETTE'S high-sounding slogan for the coming campaign will be "Drive Special Privilege out of Control of Government and Restore it to the People."

This has been the battle-cry of LaFollette and his followers in Congress and in Wisconsin for years. What has "Battling Bob" done to fight the big business interests? What has the Wisconsin senator done to disturb the profits of the big open-shop corporations operating in his state?

The gentleman from Wisconsin has been rather vicious in his denunciation of the Communists as enemies of "democracy" and of law and order. What sort of democracy is Mr. LaFollette talking about when he attacks the Communists?

WHERE LaFOLLETTE IS BOSS.

What has this democracy brought the workers in the "Model Commonwealth" of Wisconsin where LaFollette is the unchallenged big political boss

More than that, Mr. LaFollette has been raving against the courts. Exactly what has this raving on the part of LaFollette meant to the workingmen when it was translated into action in Wisconsin? What have the working men and women of this state been saying about LaFollette"s courts in their treatment of the trade unionists and the unorganized?

These and many other questions dealing with the policies and activities of LaFollette's entire political life will be answered in the most authoritative fashion in the series of articles beginning in the DAILY WORKER of August 11th.

MOSES GETS LOOKING OVER.

Jay Lovestone, who will tell the story of LaFollettism from Genesis to Revelation, has had an opportunity to make a thoro survey of the activities and a first-hand study of the independent self-styled Moses now seeking to mislead the working and farming masses of the United States.

Place your special order now. Get these stories into the hands of your shop mates and friends. Make sure that every member of your union reads these articles from the first to the last. Do your bit for the Communist campaign. Get on the job and rush in your double order today.

SOVIET AMBASSADOR TO CHINA RAPS HUGHES' POLICY OF U. S. IMPERIALISTS RUNNING WORLD

(Rosta News)

PEKING.—(By Mail:)—With reference to reports from Washington showing that the American government is dissatisfied with China's last note regarding the Chinese Eastern Railway, the correspondent of the Rosta News Agency had an interview with Mr. L. M. Karakhan.

"Mr. Hughes has evidently decided to punish China,"—remarked the Soviet plenipotentiary representative,—"so that he is now against a preliminary customs tariff conference, he advises France not to ratify the Washington agreements and, lastly, because of China taking such a liberty of conduct, he proposes to revise the entire Chinese policy of the U. S. A. And, as all things evil in the world originate with the Bolsheviks, Mr. Hughes wishes at one and the same stroke to chastise the Soviet Government and, because of the evil influence it has on China, he has decided not to recognize it.

Soviets Outlive Others.

However, the Soviet Government considers quite calmly the present

(Continued on Page 4.)

UNITED STATES WILL GO AFTER ITS CREDITORS

(Special to The DAILY WORKER)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Aggressive debt collecting campaign will be launched by the United States as soon as a reparations settlement has been effected in Europe, it was learned officially here today.

The object of the campaign will be the collection or funding of the $6,000,000,000 still outstanding as a result of loans made by the United States to its European allies during the war.

Will Demand Dough.

The administration, officials declared will enter into no negotiations with the debtor nations to effect changes in the present status of their billions of indebtedness, except to establish a basis for payment with the British funding agreement as a precedent.

Information has reached the State and Treasury Departments the Prime Minister MacDonald of Great Britain planned to make representations to the United States for the cancellation of part of the $4,000,000,000 French debt.

There has been some talk in England of cancelling the French debt to Great Britain, but MacDonald is said to feel that the United States should join him in this cancellation with a view to effecting a general world wide debt agreement to follow up the work of the London reparations conference.

Germany Swallows Allied Penalties In Case of Default

LONDON, Aug. 7.—The allied council of fourteen of the reparations conference this afternoon reached an agreement with the Germans upon the first clause of the report of the committee dealing with procedure to be taken in event Germany is charged with defaulting her obligations under the Dawes plan. No changes were made in the report of the committee as published.

Russia-Persia Treaty.

MOSCOW, Aug. 7.— A treaty of commerce was signed at Teheran between Persia and the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics.

RIVERVIEW
RAIN OR SHINE
August 10th — Sunday
Press Picnic Day

THOUSANDS TO GATHER AT BIG PRESS PICNIC

Riverview Park the Place Next Sunday

One hundred Workers Party members will be at the gates of Riverview Park selling tickets for the various attractions at the Press Picnic which will be held at Riverview Park this Sunday. These tickets not only admit the bearer to the park, but entitle him to a reduced rate on all the regular attractions in Riverview Park.

One of the most interesting attractions at the Press Picnic will be the "presidential comedy" where the supporters of the Workers Party press will be given a chance to show what they think of the capitalist old party presidential candidates.

Those who attend the picnic should be careful to patronize only the Workers Party refreshment booths, as there will be other booths on the Riverview Park grounds which are not connected with the party picnic. Signs will be posted on the Workers Party booths. In addition to these booths, food will be served in the excellent dining room.

Attractions have been arranged by the various language papers, of special interest to the foreign branches.

A large modern dance floor, combined with a seven-piece orchestra, will furnish entertainment for patrons of the terpsichorean art. In addition, the satisfaction of hitting the presidential candidates in the nose, the speech of C. E. Ruthenberg, executive secretary of the Workers Party, the refreshments and concessions on the other Riverview Park attractions, are expected to combine to make the Press Picnic the biggest Workers Party get-together in years. All profits go to the DAILY WORKER and other party papers.

Garvey Denies Charges.

NEW YORK CITY, Aug. 7.—Marcus Garvey, President of the Universal Negro Improvement Association, appeared before Federal Judge McClintic, yesterday and pleaded not guilty to the indictment charging him with perjury in having sworn falsely to his income tax return for 1921. He was held in $2,500 bail.

POLISH REACTIONARIES CONTINUE TO HARASS SOVIET RUSSIA ENVOYS

(Special to the Daily Worker.)

MOSCOW, Aug. 7.—Considerable indignation is expressed in Moscow over the continued interference of the Polish government with Soviet consuls and trade agents. The Polish secret police are daily discovering plots and conspiracies much after the fashion of the American William J. Burns. Poland is carrying on this pin pricking policy fortified by the knowledge that she has the backing of the capitalist governments who, while outwardly expressing a desire for friendly relations with the Soviet Republic are secretly fostering conspiracies in the border states against the Workers Republic.

Members of the Soviet legation have been arrested by Polish police charged with distributing strike literature. Of course all this is of the same pattern as the famous Berlin raid on the Soviet embassy which finally resulted in Germany eating crow. Poland will be obliged to swallow something more unpalatable unless the rulers of that country mend their ways. The Workers' Republic will not forever tolerate such unfriendly conduct.

AS WE SEE IT

By T. J. O'FLAHERTY

NICHOLAS Murray Butler, president of the Columbia (goose-step) University, was once an ardent admirer of Mussolini, who boasted of having trampled over the putrid carcass of democracy, is now on the war path for democracy and expresses the fear that unless her friends rally to her aid Miss Democracy will die unhonored and perhaps not unhung. Class struggles are raising the devil with democracy says Butler, and whether democracy can survive the attack has become one of the most supreme world problems of the day. Democracy means the rule of the majority whether they be right or wrong says the professor, government for and by the governed, and political equality of all peoples. So that is what democracy is. You would never realize it considering the trouble union workers have had during the past years with injunctions issued by Democratic and Republican administrations in behalf of a very small minority that runs this country. But that kind of thing leaves Mr. Butler cold.

• • •

MR. Butler does not consider it at variance with his definition of democracy that a few bankers are now over in London hatching agreements with Europena governments, that are sanctioned by the Coolidge administration without the consent of the American "people". The bankers are the government today and Mr. Butler knows it. The "people" don't count and never did count. It is true that every four years they vote for a president but no matter how they vote those who own the country and the country's wealth-producing machinery run the government. That is as it should be according to capitalist ethics.

• • •

PROFESSOR Butler does not object to this perversion of what has become known as democracy, which is really a fetish nurtured by the bourgeoisie in order to blind the masses to the not so obvious dictatorship of capitalism. What dogs the heels of our capitalist lackeys like Butler is the spectre of proletarian dictatorship which has torn the false veil of the harlot face of capitalist democracy and ushered in the new democracy, the rule of the workers thru their advance guard, the Communist Party. Mr. Butler tho a reactionary is no fool and he sees this form of government becoming universal in the not far distant future. Therefore he beats the tom-tom for democracy, but industrial evolution is shoving democracy aside and the social revolution will drop it into the discard all over the world as it did in Russia. Mussolini's brand of dictatorship has become a cropper. The world moves but not backward.

• • •

JUDGE Cohalan, a rather wise Irish-American politician, in announcing his support of the LaFollette candidacy, stated that in the event of the independent ticket not being in a position to secure a majority of the electoral votes, LaFollette would be able to make a satisfactory deal with Coolidge. Many of Bob's supporters will resent this suggestion, but Mr. Cohalan is an old and practical politician and he usually knows what he is talking about. There is no bitterness among the higher-up LaFollites toward the silent little fellow in the White House. It may develop during the heat of the campaign but so far, no hints of wrong doing, nothing except general conservativeness has been charged against the present White House incumbent. Now "Bob's" son, and heir to his reputation, has assured Coolidge that his father's

(Continued on page 3.)

SILK WORKERS TO VOTE STRIKE IN PATERSON

Big Meeting Tonight of All Workers

(Special to the Daily Worker.)

PATERSON, N. J., August 7.—Thousands of silk workers are expecting to met in Turn Hall tomorrow night and vote for a strike to give the silk workers of this city and vicinity a real union organization. The Associated Silk Workers' Union has been most active in preparing for this strike and will conduct the meeting in Turn Hall, corner of Allison and Gross Streets.

The demands of the silk workers are as follows:

1. Formation of a strong union.
2. Abolition of the 4 loom system and substitution of 2 loom system.
3. 8-hour day.
4. Abolition of discrimination against the union and its members.
5. Increase of 15 percent in wages.
6. Recognition of the union.
7. Right of any representative of the union to enter factories controlled by union to settle controversies.

Strike Well Planned.

The Associated Silk Workers have been holding meetings for the purpose of planning the strike since July 21. It is trying to organise all the workers in the industry into a real fighting body.

At first it was announced that the strike would be called for next Tuesday, Aug 12, but it is probably that the actual call will be given tomorrow night.

1913 Strike.

This is the first big struggle of the silk weavers against their bosses since the strike of 1913. That battle lasted for five and one-half months and was the second only to the great Lawrence textile strike in intensity. The workers did not officially win their demands largely because of outside conditions, but when they returned to work wages were somewhat higher.

Paterson is the most important silk textile center, altho there are large mills thruout eastern Pennsylvania. These mills, in many of which wives and daughters of the anthracite coal miners work, were not on strike. The year of 1913 was also a year of depression like 1924, which worked against the silk weavers.

T. U. E. L. To Help.

The Associated Silk Workers union has made a great effort to plan this strike well and get the workers to act as a fighting unit. The sentiment for the strike is splendid, partly because there has been no fight recently and because conditions in the silk mills have been getting steadily worse.

The Trade Union Educational League of the militant workers in every industry is backing the textile strike to the limit and urges all silk workers to be present at the meeting Friday night at 8 p. m., in Turn Hall to hear and help decide the course of the strike.

The T. U. E. L. of New York also is arousing the silk workers near the city to co-operate with the Paterson workers in this big fight.

COST OF FOOD KEEPS GOING UP WHILE UNEMPLOYMENT IS GROWING

(Special to The Daily Worker)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—The retail cost of food is on the up grade, fourteen cities reporting increases during July, while five cities noted a decline, the Department of Labor announced today.

Indianapolis reported the largest increase, amounting to 3 per cent during the month. Milwaukee reported 3 per cent, while Peoria reported a 1-per cent increase.

SICK SOLON SEES PERIL TO NATION IN BRYAN CANDIDACY

BOSTON, Mass., Aug. 7.— From Naghant, the summer home of the sacred codfish, a warning note was sounded against the possibility that the topsy-turvy political situation might send Charles W. Bryan to the White House. The prophet of calamity was none other than Henry Cabot Lodge who is recovering from an operation. Lodge says it is possible Coolidge may not receive a majority of the electoral vote and the election may be thrown into the congress.

GUNMEN EVICT MINE FAMILIES IN W. VA. WAR

Miners Suffer While Davis Lies

(Special to the Daily Worker.)

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Aug. 7.—The coal baron backers of John W. Davis, who will formally "accept" his nomination for president by the Democrats on Monday at his home here, are cracking up another reign of terror in the West Virginia mine fields. Hundreds of private gunmen have been hired to evict miners and their families forcibly from company houses.

Meanwhile Davis allows the false pretense of his "friendliness" to labor to be widely published altho it is based on the black lie that he "defended" Mother Jones and Eugene V. Debs in a previous mine war in West Virginia.

Feeling of the workers is running high against the forced evacuation of their homes along Campbell creek, in the Kanawa coal fields, in Winifrede, Coalsburg, Terryville, Hanley, and other towns. The miners refuse to work under the modified 1917 agreement which has been posted as the new wage scale.

Raid Winifrede.

Percy Tetlow, president of district 17, United Mine Workers of America, told of the raid on Winifrede, saying that "a band of armed men recruited by a detective agency in Charleston and employed by coal operators appeared in the village—heavily armed with high-powered rifles pistols and had several bloodhounds in their possession. They swept into this peaceful village in high-powered motor cars and proceeded by force to empty the household effects of two miners and their families into the streets."

The employment of private gunmen in West Virginia is forbidden. Only state commissioned "guards" may be used by the coal operators, according to the law. However, the state is usually willing to deputize such agents as the coal barons hire.

Scores Suffer.

Reports have come from numerous other towns of scores of miners' families who have been forcibly ejected from company houses on one pretext or another. Thirty-three families were bodily thrust into the street with all their possessions in Hanley.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, conferred with Governor E. F. Morgan of West Virginia, but, apparently his conversation did not stop the raids upon the miners' homes.

Norman Thomas and Charles Solomon, socialist candidates for governor and lieutenant governor of New York, wired protests to Governor Morgan and to John W. Davis, democratic nominee for president and "resident" of West Virginia. Clem Shaver, also "resident" of West Virginia and now chairman of the Democratic National Committee, would not comment on the situation nor on the messages.

12,000 CLOTHING WORKERS STRIKE IN PHILADELPHIA

Amalgamated Declares Sweatshops Must Go

(Special to The Daily Worker)

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Aug. 7.—The unorganized tailors on men's suits have joined the members of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers in their strike against the wage cuts which the bosses have ordered. The strike of the Amalgamated began with great enthusiasm yesterday morning when 12,000 workers walked out of the shops at 9 a. m.

A tremendous meeting was held in Fund Music Hall after the strikers had marched out of the shops and down the streets encouraging other non-union workers to follow them.

Strikers' Demands.

President Sidney Hillman addressed the meeting of the strikers. The demands of the strikers were restated amid great applause. The workers ask for the closed shop; increases of 15 to 20 per cent in wages; elimination of home work; more sanitary conditions in the shops; an unemployment fund such as was won in New York and Chicago; co-ordination of production; no discrimination against union members; freedom of union committee to meet the employers' committee to discuss conditions and settle disputes as well as to inspect the shops.

Many of the workers on strike are Italians and are closely following the left wing point of view as expressed in "Il Lavoratore," the Communist Italian daily published in Chicago. The Trade Union Educational League members and sympathisers are active in the organization and support of the strike, while the DAILY WORKER is being widely sold among the workers who are out.

Workers Party members in the strike are excused from all other party activities while the struggle continues.

• • •

Strike Logical Step.

The Philadelphia strike is the logical result following the adoption of the following resolution at a previous

(Continued on page 2)

WEALTHY KILLERS ARE STILL RICH; WORKERS PAY BILLS OF TRIAL

The "millions for the defense" of Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb have not been spent yet, but the parents are getting worried about the "ostentatious display of high priced medical testimony." Three alienists at $250 per day have already testified of the rich youths' peculiarities to save them from hanging.

A dozen expert psychiatrists have been employed by the defense to make their case of mental disease for the boys. The trial has been on for twelve days; the alienists examined the boys for a period of almost twelve days apiece. At $250 a day that means about $72,000 has already been spent for the alienists.

The DAILY WORKER predicted that much more than the paltry $15,000 which Harry K. Thaw spent on alienists would be spent by these parasites who got their money from the slaving workers in Sears-Roebuck and the Morris Paper Box Company.

What the lawyers will get is another story, but they have never been known to fail to get all they could.

See Page Three

BOOST COMMUNIST PRESIDENTIAL CAMPAIGN BY GETTING NEW SUBS FOR "THE DAILY WORKER"

See Page Three

GOMPERS WILL SELL WORKERS TO WAR AGAIN

Communism Will Banish Wars, Manley Answers

Sam Gompers' eagerness to sell the workers again to the war lords is only further proof of the old labor faker's adoring service to the capitalists of the United States, according to the statement issued by Joseph Manley, campaign manager of the Workers Party presidential fight. Manley answers the A. F. of L. endorsement of Mobilization Day with a stinging rebuke to Gompers and his ultra-yellow assistant, Matt Woll.

Manley's statement follows:

The statement given out by Matthew Woll, the right hand man of Samuel Gompers, in which he attempts to link the Communists with pacifist propaganda, is typical of the methods of Woll and his master, Gompers. Their wordy and high-falutin' statement has but one meaning and that is: War in the interests of the capitalist class is right and war in the interests of the working class is wrong.

Deny Class War!

Gompers and his spokesman Woll, have always denied the existence of the class war, or even the very existence of classes themselves. When the World War was being fought, Gompers toured Europe in an attempt to drive the European weak kneed socialist pacifists onto his war juggernaut that he assured us times without number would make the world safe for the democracy of his late friend Wilson—the same Wilson whom he induced to come to the Buffalo convention of the A. F. of L., so that even the mildest criticism of the World War could not be made. He tried to commit the trade unions to join in the terrible slaughter.

Open Shop Reward.

In return for the treacherous role played by Gompers during the war, he was hoodwinked by the militarists of the world, while the workers of America were either fighting abroad in the war of capitalism or at home on strike fighting the war of their class, Gompers' policy and tactics were rewarded with the famous American-made open shop drive, which dealt a death blow to many of his unions.

Gompers, now in his old age by the shores of the Atlantic, refuses to change because he has always fought for his capitalist masters, against those militant workers who were willing if necessary to give up their liberty and their lives, so that militarism and its parent, Capitalism, might be destroyed.

Gompers has given a lefthanded endorsement to LaFollette. But on the question of Mobilization Day he faithfully answers the call of his master Coolidge. Gompers knows that his friend Secretary Hughes is in London. Hughes, in company with Morgan, the finance capitalist of the world, representing all the forces of American imperialism.

Gompers knows that a new war may be necessary to collect the European debts of imperialist America. True to the interests of his masters, and on the brink of the grave, he sits in his wheel chair ready again to hurl millions of young men to death and torture. Gompers knows that against such war the Communists will fight.

Gompers and Woll condemn the Communists as the leading pacifists. Yes, they may well tremble at the name of Communism. Communism will set the world free from all war when Gompersism is in its grave.

Send in that Subscription Today.

DOCILE SOLON HEAD OF AIR SERVICE QUIZ GETS WHITEWASH READY

WASHINGTON, August 7.— The Coolidge government has had its fill of investigation and those that it cannot avoid must be conducted in "a ladylike manner" judging from the statement issued by Representative Florian Lampert, from the LaFollette State of Wisconsin, chairman of the committee to investigate the government air service. This investigation will not be finished until next March declared Lampert and has no political significance.

If the publicity given out by this committee is an indication of its state of mind, the verdict will be satisfactorable to the air service. The "experts" will have a nice time trotting around the country at government expense, and the military leaders will tell them what is good for them to know.

12,000 CLOTHING WORKERS STRIKE IN PHILADELPHIA

Amalgamated Declares Sweatshops Must Go

(Continued from page 1)

mass meeting of Amalgamated Clothing Workers' members:

WHEREAS, intolerable conditions exist in the men's clothing industry of Philadelphia, practically all concerns sending unfinished work into homes of poverty-stricken workers to be completed under miserable sweatshop conditions such as existed a decade ago in the industry; and

WHEREAS, such conditions are not only a menace to the public health and welfare but also are undermining the protective standards for clothing workers that have been established in other clothing markets after years of struggle and sacrifice on the part of the workers; and

WHEREAS, the employers in this market are taking advantage of the present depression in the clothing industry to enforce wage reductions on workers who, by reason of the existing unstable seasonal conditions in the industry, already receive an annual wage far below the minimum required to properly support themselves and their families; and

WHEREAS, these intolerable conditions have been the subject of discussion by the Joint Executive Boards of the various Locals affiliated with the Philadelphia Joint Board and by the shop chairmen of the various branches of the industry in meeting assembled; therefore be it

RESOLVED, that we, members of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America in mass meeting assembled, this 22nd day of July, 1924, authorize our officers and representatives to arrange a conference with the employers in this market for the purpose of offering a peaceful adjustment, if possible, of existing grievances and unsatisfactory conditions and for securing proper assurances that there shall be no wage cuts and that work will be sent to Union shops only and also that as soon as possible there will be established a Board of Sanitary Control composed of representatives of both employers and workers for the purpose of safeguarding public health thro proper sanitary conditions, etc., in the shops where work is made up, minimum wage scales, regulation of production and a system of Unemployment Insurance; and be it further

RESOLVED, that we hereby vote full power and authority to the officers of the Organization to take any steps that they may deem necessary in order to effectively protect our interests.

* * *

Editor's Note.—An early story of events leading up to the strike will be found on page five.

STEEL DRIVE BY CARMEN'S UNION GAINS HEADWAY

Hegewisch Strikers In Stronger Position

By BARNEY MASS.

"Work in promoting a local in Hegewisch of the International Brotherhood of Railway Carmen is progressing rapidly and we intend to do the same in every factory in this territory," said Organizer E. K. Hogan yesterday after a successful meeting with the Western Steel Car Foundry company employes.

The position of the striking car men, has strengthened considerably and the prospects of the workers look brighter.

Hogan opened the daily strike meeting and explained to the men that the steel interests are planning big developments of the industry in the Calumet region, owing to the inducement of low wages and no organization. The only way the open shop interests can be beaten, said Hogan, will be thru organization offering higher pay for the car makers, and controlling the speed up system.

Hogan reprimanded the men who were accepting work in other shops for a scale and showed them the inconsistency of their acts. The strikers applauded Hogan enthusiastically.

McCarthy, Mass Speak.

Jack McCarthy of the Trade Union Educational League followed and stressed the importance of the men in confining all their discussion on the strike to the meetings. McCarthy said, nothing should be mentioned on the streets as many company stool pigeons are sneaking around looking for all information to be had. He also showed the role which the T. U. E. L. is playing in the strike.

The writer speaking for the Young Workers' League pointed out the necessity of getting the women folk into the fight as the miners have done in all their struggles.

Hammond Meeting Saturday.

An important meeting will be held tomorrow at East Hammond at Stroble's Hall, Columbia and Morton Aves., to rally the women folk to the Standard Company. We are now making preparations to call a meeting at Pullman, in support of the fight to unionize the whole Calumet district.

FARMER-LABOR SECRETARY TRIED TO HALT SAM

(Special to The DAILY WORKER)

ATLANTIC CITY, Aug. 7.—The entreaties of William B. Wilson, former Secretary of Labor, were not successful in inducing the executive council of the American Federation of Labor to continue its allegiance to the Democratic Party, and throw its influence to John W. Davis in the coming election.

To Wait For Davis Speech.

Mr. Wilson wrote to Mr. Gompers asking him not to make his decision until Davis had delivered his acceptance speech but the organized workers are so disgusted with the Democratic and Republican parties that had Gompers taken this advice a cyclone would have hit him.

The present attitude of the Democratic Party toward labor is no different to what it was in the past and Sam always swallowed the ticket. What made Gompers switch his position now, is not because Morgan placed his attorney at the head of the Democratic ticket, but because the C. P. P. A. stole a march on the federation by stealing its nonpartisan political policy, making its own of it and hanging out its shingle with as much as to say: "All those in the market for labor votes are cordially invited to come inside. The rival firm of Gompers and Co., has lost contact with its victims. We have adopted the most up-to-date methods of selling the workers, painlessly. This method is a proven success on the continent of Europe. All offers no matter how insignificant, will be courteously accepted.

"(Signed) William H. Johnston."

Feared Loss of Business.

The fear that the profitable business of peddling the labor vote would go to the rival house, compelled Gompers to drop his allegiance to the Democratic Party, at least for the time being. In every statement issued from his sick bed since LaFollette was endorsed, can be seen the challenge and the warning to Johnston and Company to keep off the reservation. The A. F. of L. will insist on leading the workers into the LaFollette party as it led them into the Democratic Party and into the World War.

There was a report that the executive council was divided over the question of endorsing LaFollette.

RIVERVIEW—RAIN OR SHINE
AUGUST 10th—SUNDAY
PRESS PICNIC DAY

CALIFORNIA WOMEN FISH CANNERS WORK FOR 75 CENTS A DAY

LONG BEACH, Cal., Aug. 7.— Fish canneries of the Curtis, Halfhill and other companies at Long Beach are paying their women workers 60c to 75c a day at piece rates, preparing fish for canning.

The conditions are reported to the Long Beach Central Labor Council as outrageous and revolting. The floors, benches and tables of the cannery are strewn with rotting and ill-smelling fish entrails and the filth smears the women and youngsters employed in filling the cans. A minister's daughter working at the cannery was fired for refusing to volunteer for Sunday work. When she told her fellow employes about it she was told to go out immediately instead of working out her week and was cursed as an agitator.

SOVIET TREATY VICTORY ANGERS LLOYD GEORGE

Cries Russia Won't Have to Pay

(Special to The DAILY WORKER)

LONDON, August 7.—Soviet Russia's success in the treaty negotiations with the British government has aroused the wrath of David Lloyd George. The late premier of Great Britain, who sent invading armies into Russia in the early days of the Bolshevik regime, made an attack in the House of Commons on Arthur Ponsonby, British negotiator, for surrendering to the Soviet diplomats on the issue of Czarist debts. He emphasized the fact that Russia is not obligated to pay any specific sum in return for the advantages which the treaty will secure her.

Further details of the proposed treaty on which M. Rakovsky for Russia and Arthur Ponsonby for Great Britain have agreed, show that the British claims against Russia are to be examined by a commission on which Russia shall be represented. Russian claims against Britain are also to be scrutinized and after accord has been reached the British government is to guarantee a substantial loan to the Russian government.

Britain concedes the Soviet administration the right to monopolize foreign trade and will not press for the return of industries, nationalized during the revolution, to former British private owners. The Bolshevik representatives were adamant on this point. The fruits of the revolution could not be sacrificed for foreign loans.

Before the treaty goes into effect it must be ratified by the British Parliament and by the Moscow authorities. Further amendments are expected.

FEMALE FOE OF GALLOWSHUSTLED TO NUT HOUSE

Mrs. Anna Lourie of Houston, Tex., is under observation by the city psychopathic hospital today because she failed to intervene with Judge John R. Caverly on behalf of Richard Loeb and Nathan Leopold, junior, slayers of the Franks boy. Mrs. Lourie advised the Judge that it would be more fair and just to try the boys before a jury of Jewish rabbis. She intimated that perhaps race prejudice might influence Caverly's verdict. Caverly waved Mrs. Lourie away with extreme annoyance and she was taken to the psychopathic hospital.

Mrs. Loeb, who is said to be a Christian Scientist, has planted many Christian Science practitioners in the courtroom to "hold the right thot," in an effort to free her son, according to reporters. Now comes a woman from the cow country trying to call in a squad of Jewish Rabbis to save the boys from the gallows.

Meanwhile, Loeb and Leopold, continue to wink at the newspaper men, talk philosophy, enjoy the extensive publicity they are reaping, and scorn the workers. Leopold says he cares nothing for the dirty Hebrews. The slayers are too busy enjoying their notoriety to bother with economics.

Max Schrayer, a class-mate of Richard Loeb at the University of Michigan, testified yesterday that Loeb was often drunk, as were many of his fraternity members.

Small Town Tradition.

GALENA, Ill., Aug. 7.—Galena was crowded today with visitors who will attend tonight the big historical pageant in which 3,000 people will take part. Scenes showing development of Galena from olden days to the present will be enacted.

Wilson, Stool-Pigeon for Morgan Lawyer, Repudiated at Last

By J. LOUIS ENGDAHL.

TODAY, another so-called labor "leader" of yesterday has had the can tied to him. He is completely discredited, even in the eyes of the most reactionary "leaders" who still remain in the labor movement, chief among them Samuel Gompers himself. He is an out-cast.

His name is William B. Wilson, and he rose to prominence because the organized coal miners are a power in the land.

From pit boy to coal miner, then from organizer to international secretary of the United Mine Workers of America, Wilson went up the ladder very rapidly.

Altho jailed in Maryland, and elsewhere, because of his union activities, Wilson became respectable, was accepted into the inner circles of the democratic party, was sent to congress and then made secretary of labor in the cabinet of President Woodrow Wilson.

* * *

Wilson has gone the way of all other labor "leaders" who drop to the rear in the class struggle, and then seek careers in the old political parties, if not actually in the service of the bosses.

Wilson is in politics what Tom L. Lewis, former president of the United Mine Workers' Union, is in industry. Instead of going into politics, when he was retired as president of the miners' union, Lewis accepted a position in the service of the West Virginia mine owners, in the non-union New River fields. He has been active in fighting the growth of the miners' union in West Virginia, and glories in a picture he had taken of himself standing in the midst of a gang of West Virginia Cossacks, sometimes called State Constabulary.

Where is the difference?

Lewis serves the non-union mine owners openly.

Wilson is a democratic politician. He is supporting the office boy of Wall Street, John W. Davis, democratic candidate for president. Lewis and Wilson are both in the service of capitalism.

* * *

Wilson had almost been forgotten. Altho prominent in the Madison Square Garden meeting of the democrats, his name did not get into the papers. Today he is on the front pages again because he wrote Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, asking him to postpone decision on the A. F. of L.'s political policy until after Davis' speech of acceptance at Clarksburg, Aug. 11th.

Wilson, ex-labor "leader," now the political stool pigeon of Wall Street, was handing out the hope that Davis, the private lawyer of James Pierpont Morgan, might have something to offer to the organized labor movement of America.

* * *

Gompers had himself been in communication with Mr. Davis. At the Atlantic City meeting of the A. F. of L. executive council, Gompers made public the fact that he had exchanged letters and telegrams with the democratic presidential candidate, in the best style of the National Civic Federation. It was all in the hope that there might be a meeting between these two worthies to discuss the relations between the democratic party this year and Gompers' A. F. of L. regime.

There was to be a meeting as late as July 29th. But Davis failed to keep the rendezvous. And he wrote no more letters. But Wilson, the renegade, was thrown into the breach with a request that the Gompers officialdom withhold their campaign declaration until the Morgan lawyer, candidate of the democrats, had spoken from his home in the midst of West Virginia's coal czardom.

* * *

However much he would like to do this, Gompers no doubt felt it would appear as too much of a sell-out to his Civic Federation friends. So he was kicked into his half-hearted support of La Follette's candidacy.

The incident is important as it marks the final break of the old party politician, William B. Wilson, even with the Gompers regime. Wilson, the go-between for Morgan's lawyer is repudiated, just as much as Tom Lewis, the agent of the scab coal barons of Davis' home state.

The day will come when all labor "leaders" who stand outside of the class party of the workers and farmers will be just as completely discarded and forgotten.

In that day Gompers, and those like him, will go the way of Wilson.

SMALL'S GRANT PARK BANK JOINS BIG MYSTERIES

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., August 7.— Banks are usually pretentious buildings and rarely invisible. Sometimes the depositors find that this rule does not apply to their money, which mysteriously makes itself scarce leaving them holding their pass books. There are exceptions to every rule and now the prosecuting attorney of Illinois and Governor Small are conducting an interesting debate on whether or not Grant Park bank, where state funds were deposited while Small was treasurer, was a reality or merely a figment of the Small imagination.

Mystery Deepens.

So far the testimony has not brought out any facts to prove the bank ever existed. Small was on the witness stand before Master in Chancery Briggles, but not alone did the governor fail to produce cancelled checks, check book stubs or even cigar butts to show that he ever had any business dealings with the alleged bank but he could not show a post card picture of the building where the mystery was supposed to be housed.

Some people dodge giving their correct age by saying they were born in San Francisco and that the records of their birth were destroyed during the great fire, but they can at least point to pictures of the wreckage. Small cannot even show a cinder.

The Cyclone Alibi.

But he has an alibi. He claimed the bank was operated in a grain shed and that a cyclone hit the building and blew away the traces of the financial institution. Leave it to Len. It is not necessary to remind the readers of the DAILY WORKER that Small is being panned for the collection of interest illegally held from the state while he acted as treasurer. It is charged that he loaned several millions of dollars to the packers at 8 per cent, turned two per cent into the treasury and turned the balance into his own bank in Kankakee credited to the account of Len Small. That's what the story says. Small throws a big fit over this charge.

Is Small Normal?

If the governor could not show any proof besides an elusive cyclone, that Grant Park was not a "phantasy" such as "Dickie" Loeb might nurture, he had witnesses who testified that senator Edward C. Curtis, who is alleged to have managed the bank existed in the flesh. They said he was a banker but had no sign on his door. It might have been a junk shop or a crap-shooting den for all the onlooked might know from looking at it.

The quizzing of Small continues but nothing tangible results. An alienist might be more successful than the states attorney.

Gompers is consiserably irritated over the reports that Hillquit is running the LaFollette campaign in New York. While Hillquit has done everything in his power to cater to Sam's vagaries, the old reactionary cannot forget that Hillquit once professed a belief in Socialism.

MACHINERY FOR ELECTION FIGHT IS PERFECTED

Left Wing Conference Being Organized

The election campaign of the Chicago district of the Workers Party has been organized with complete campaign machinery in each Congressional district. Arne Swabeck, district organizer of district 8, announced yesterday. Each Cook County Congressional district has its own Workers Party campaign committee, with the work directed by a district campaign manager.

The campaign committees of each Congressional district will meet next Monday night at the places announced, all branches having been notified to have their full campaign committee meet with the other branch campaign committees included in the district.

The street meetings will be an aid to the fall election campaign, speakers being instructed to make the first widespread election campaign to be conducted by the Workers Party their main topic of discussion.

In Full Swing.

The campaign in Indiana, Wisconsin and Missouri is in full swing. At a Workers Party nominating conference held in Milwaukee on August 2, Comrade Allane of Superior was nominated for Governor of Wisconsin and Charles Kuxdas, a painter, was nominated for lieutenant governor. Allane is well known thruout Wisconsin for his long activity in the cooperative movements.

Several large Foster meetings have been scheduled for district 8. Foster will speak in St. Louis on Sept. 2, Ziegler, Ill., Sept. 3, and Springfield, Ill., Sept. 4. Petitions to have Communist presidential electors on the ballot in the district 8 territory are now being circulated. Foster opens the Wisconsin campaign in a mass meeting in Milwaukee on August 24.

No state candidates will be placed in the field in Indiana, but a nominating conference to select Workers Party candidates for presidential electors will be held in Gary, Ind., on Aug. 10.

Big Left Wing Conference.

Much support for the Communist ticket will come out of the Left Wing conferences which are to be called in the near future thruout district 8, Comrade Swabeck stated. Many foreign associations composed of working class elements will be called together in these Left Wing conferences.

The DAILY WORKER has been made a definite part of the campaign. The party members who are now circulating the electoral petitions have been instructed to take along copies of the DAILY WORKER and secure subscriptions. This Communist publication, the membership and DAILY WORKER drives are being combined with the district eight election campaign.

EXPECT CHICAGO FEDERATION TO FOLLOW "BOB"

An intimation that the Chicago Federation of Labor will soon officially indorse LaFollette, was given at the headquarters of the Illinois Conference for Progressive Political Action in the Morrison Hotel yesterday, by William Gailing, aid to Congressman John Nelson.

"John Walker and Victor Olander have delegated Albert Towers to take charge of the LaFollette campaign matter for the American and Illinois Federations of Labor," Gailing told the DAILY WORKER. "Towers is also in charge of the LaFollette campaign for the Chicago Federation of Labor."

A meeting of the Cook County executive committee of the C. P. P. A. will be held next week, Gailing declared, which will act upon the indorsing of men for the state legislature, for Congress and for state's attorney. The decisions reached at this meeting will have an important bearing on the indorsement of state candidates by the LaFollette party, it is announced.

Some of the candidates indorsed will be independent LaFollette candidates, officers of the C. P. P. A. announce, but it is possible that some of them will be connected with the old parties. The basis of the indorsements, according to the LaFollette officers, will be the eleven acid tests for candidates prepared by C. B. Brown of the eighth Wisconsin congressional district. Some of those not indorsed will not be in any way opposed, it was admitted.

Send in that Subscription Today.

CLEVELAND READERS, ATTENTION!

CLEVELAND

Daily Worker Picnic

SUNDAY, AUGUST 10th

Sports — Games — Dancing — Speaking

At RUSSICK'S FARM

Take West 25th St. car to end, then State Road car to end.

COME, OLD AND YOUNG.

DON'T MISS THIS BIG EVENT.

"DEMS" MISSED GOMPERS O. K. BY A STRIKEBREAKER

Had They Taken Berry Sam Would Smile

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Had the Democratic Party nominated a candidate not so completely identified with Wall Street as is John W. Davis, and had it given the wishes of Samuel Gompers some consideration in its platform, none of the members of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor with the possible exception of Martin Ryan, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks would have backed the candidacy of LaFollette and Wheeler in the coming elections. This is the most popular verdict on the A. F. of L. endorsement in vogue at LaFollette headquarters.

It is also remarked between grins that the A. F. of L. attack on "General" Dawes as a strikebreaker comes with the poor grace from those who backed a professional strikebreaker, Major Berry, for the vice-presidency on the Democratic ticket. Dawes only indulges in strikebreaking as a luxury and voluntarily in the interests of his own class while breaking strikes and supplying scabs is the main business of Major Berry, in his capacity as president of the Pressmen's Union.

Feared For His Seat.

Supporters of La Follette who doubt the sincerity of the Gompers endorsement claim that had the old reactionary stayed with the Democrats this year, it would cause a revolution against him in the trade union movement. Another reason which prompted his action is the belief that he will have more power to block a third party move by being on the inside than by fighting the LaFollette candidacy from the start.

The feud between Governor Blaine of Wisconsin and Victor Berger is causing some uneasiness in national headquarters. LaFollette has endorsed Blaine, and is severely taken to task by Berger for so doing. The socialists are known to be adepts in the art of bluster and are no longer taken seriously. The LaFollette machine is ready to clean up on Berger unless he decides to come in and be one of the boys and drop his claim to be a socialist.

Lumber Barons Say Wobblies Set Fire; No Pay for Fighting

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 7.—California Branch General Defense committee reports that altho reactionary newspapers have tried to blame the prevalent forest fires on the I. W. W., a number of I. W. W. crews are actually fighting forest fires in the north. They also state that one of these crews, returned exhausted after days of fire fighting at Mt. Shasta, were met with the information that they would not be paid for their work. They suggest that it might be well to investigate the books of fire wardens and find out what became of the state and federal funds appropriated to pay fire fighters for their labor.

Ed. J. Mowe.

Do you know this man, Ed. J Mowe? He has black hair and blue eyes and is a railroad man, his brother, A. Mowe writes, asking the DAILY WORKER to help find him. If you know Ed. Mowe or have heard where he is write to his brother, A. Mowe, in care of Miss Din, 7319 Oakland Ave., Detroit, Mich.

Send in that Subscription Today.

CONGRESS OF YOUNG COMMUNIST INTERNATIONAL REPORTS WORLD MEMBERSHIP OF OVER A MILLION

(Special to The Daily Worker)

MOSCOW, July 18.—(By Mail.)—Declaring to the Fourth Congress of the Young Communist International that the world movement of the Communist youth now numbered more than 1,000,000 members, Richard Schueller, secretary of the international, gave his report on the activities of the executive committee, following a report by Comrade Manuilski on the world economic situation and the significance of the recently adjourned fifth congress of the Communist International.

The right wing has no basis for existence in the Young Communist International, reported Schueller. At all times, the youth organization has taken a position in line with that of the Comintern in the Russian party discussions, after the defeats in Bulgaria and Germany, following the advent of a British labor government and in the dissensions within the Scandinavian movement.

Shop Nuclei Justified.

The decisions of the Third World Congress on the reorganization of the leagues on the basis of shop nuclei has been more than justified. The work in the Ruhr, during the occupation by the French troops, was also of great value to the movement. The first steps towards a mass organization have already been taken and the tasks of the Congress are to find ways and means to realize fully the aim of a mass movement.

In the discussion which followed on both, reports the delegates voiced practically unanimous approval. The American delegates requested that more attention be paid to the Anglo-Saxon countries. Lothar (Germany) pointed out the necessity of working more intensely for a mass organization, since of the million members reported by Schueller, eighty per cent belonged to the Soviet union. Doriot (France) spoke on the sharpening of the world situation and the danger of war. Other delegates reported on conditions and activities of their leagues.

Greater Solidarity.

Schuller closed the discussion for the executive, indicating that the smaller leagues had not been neglected, but that, on the contrary, greater international harmony of action had been achieved. Gyptner, author of the famous pamphlet on the reorganization of the movement on the basis of shop nuclei, "From Isolation to the Masses," reported on the growth of the reorganization work, the greatest gains being those of the French, German and Czecho-Slovakian leagues. "The slogan for the approaching period is: 'Development of mass organization thru the reorganisations of the leagues,'" said Gyptner.

Japanese Co-ops. Open Central.

TOKYO, August 7.—Fourteen thousand Japanese co-operative societies with three and a half million members have combined in founding a Central Co-operative Bank to serve as a financial clearing house for the nation's co-operative enterprises.

The Japanese government is contributing one-half of the thirty million yen (15,000,000) capital of the new co-operative bank. The remaining shares are held by co-operative societies. Private individuals are not allowed to own stock in this central institution, but can become members of the local co-operative societies which comprise it.

An important function of the new Central Co-operative Bank will be the financing of co-operative purchasing societies, of which there are some ten thousand in the Island Kingdom. Many of these societies manufacture as well as purchase in wholesale quantities the goods required by their members.

FINLAND ENDS DISPUTE WITH SOVIET RUSSIA

Arose Over Murder of Soviet Officials

(Rosta News)

MOSCOW, Aug. 7.—The final settlement is officially announced of the Russo-Finnish conflict over the murder in September, 1923, by bandits coming over the border from Finland, of Lavroff and Lejneff, members of the Soviet Frontier Commission.

The Soviet Government had demanded, in a Note sent last October, that the Finnish Government should take energetic measures for finding the murderers meting punishment on them. The negotiations on this subject were carried on till May of this year, when it was at last ascertained that the murder was a Karelian refugee Lipkin, the Soviet Government pointed out to the Finnish Government that the murderer must be arrested and handed over to the judicial authorities of the U. S. S. R.

The Finnish Government has now notified the Soviet Government of its acceptance of both these conditions, as well as the adoption of measures with a view to establishing sounder mutual relations at the frontier.

Accordingly, the People's Commissariat of Foreign Affairs has again submitted for ratification to the Central Executive Committee the Russo-Finnish agreement on the navigation of Finnish vessels on the Niva, as, in November, 1923, the Central Executive Committee had declined to ratify this agreement pending satisfaction of the Soviet Government's demands in reference to the murder.

Chinese-Russian Control of Eastern To Aid Vladivostok

MOSCOW, (By mail).—Mr. Nikolsky, commissioner of the People's Commissariat of Ways of Communication for the Far East, stated, on his arrival here that an increasing number of prominent White Guards, who had been at the head of the Chinese Eastern Railway during the last few years, had left their posts even before the Russo-Chinese agreement was actually signed.

The pending transfer of the line to the new management will undoubtedly increase the export possibilities of the Russian Far East, and, in particular, the port of Vladivostok will now acquire the possibility of a broad economic development. Heretofore a number of circumstances caused the larger part of exports of oil cakes, beans and oil to go through Dairen, and not Vladivostok. This is bound to be changed now in favor of the Russian port.

Moreover, Mr. Nikolsky remarks: the passing of the C. E. R. to a new management will allow to shorten the way of export and import cargoes, which will be henceforth sent by a direct and shorter way instead of by the Ussuriysk and the Amur railways. This new situation is bound to greatly accrue to the benefit of the Soviet lines and the revival of the Russian Far East.

Ukrainian Deputies In Polish Parliament Protest Oppression

(Rosta News)

MOSCOW, (By mail).—After a two day's debate on the political situation, the Ukrainian Club of Deputies of the Seym (Polish Parliament) adopted the following resolution: "Whereas it does not give up its aspirations for the unification of all the Ukrainian territories into one independent republic, the Club of Ukrainian Seym Deputies declares before all the world that it adheres unswervingly to the principle of national self-determination and believes that Poland should be reconstructed on new lines."

Simultaneously with the passing of the above resolution, the Ukrainian Deputies' Club appealed to all the civilized world. "From the very outset of Polish occupation of Ukrainian lands, Poland started such a policy towards the Ukrainians as is directed at their annihilation." In its concluding words, the manifesto contains a fiery protest against the violence of the Polish authorities in Ukrainian districts.

Votes For Washington.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 7.—Nearly 300,000 citizens of "Voteless Washington" may now exercise the right of franchise by mail to the states in which they formerly resided. Simon Michelet of the Albee building isgiving out information as to how they should proceed.

BISCUIT MAKERS JOIN LEAGUE OF YOUNG WORKERS

Show Interest in Fight for Better World

By BARNEY MASS.

The national campaign being conducted by the Young Workers' League against the National Biscuit company is meeting with great success.

For Chicago, Comrade Garver, City Industrial Organizer, reports that altho the sale of the Young Worker was not as large as it could have been, the workers were very much interested in the appearance of the league members. Those who bought the paper are satisfied with it, as they remembered it from the last time. Many supporters for the Young Worker will be had from this activity.

The New York League is making fast progress in the drive against the plant in their city. They ordered 1000 extra copies of the Young Worker.

Pittsburgh is not to be outdone, as they have ordered 300 extra copies of the Young Worker. An organizer is being sent to Detroit to help that league in this work. It is expected that Detroit will rank high in this campaign.

Considering that the experience of the comrades in this work is very limited, the showing already made and the interest awakened is to be commended very highly. This campaign is being watched closely by the league membership and also the party members thruout the country. Many biscuit makers will be members of the Young Workers' League before the campaign is ended. Chicago has succeeded in promoting the formation of a nucleus and the other leagues will be able to boast of the same within a short time.

"Safe For Democracy."

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 7.—The U. S. veterans' bureau was censured in the inquest held over Austin A. George, ex-service man, who died as a result of overdose of a sedative taken to ease the pains of a war wound. The coroner's jury found that George had lain unconscious for several hours before the veterans' bureau sent a nurse to him, and that he died the next day, whereas prompt action by a surgeon might have saved his life.

AS WE SEE IT

By T. J. O'FLAHERTY.

(Continued from page 1)

friends will give the regular ticket a square deal in his home state. The campaign will not be a scrap between friends if "Battlin' Bob" can help it. The champions of small business are somewhat awed in the presence of Big Biz even when they inwardly rage against it.

* * *

GOVERNOR "Al" Smith, announced after the nomination of John W. Davis, that he would take off his coat and fight for the head of the donkey ticket. But so far the governor has always appeared in public with all his clothes on. Davis would like to have Smith make the run for governor in New York State hoping that Al's great personal popularity would put Davis over the top. But Smith with his famous smile announced that he would retire to private life after his term expires. Of course he would campaign for Davis in Alaska, the Philippines or Porto Rica, if his presence there was desirable. It looks pretty bad for the donkey ticket.

* * *

SCRUTATOR, the fake economist of the Chicago Tribune, takes the radicals severely to task for laying the blame for the late war at the feet of capitalism. The great loss of life may be partly attributed to capitalism, says this modern Adams Smith, to the extent that capitalism is responsible for there being so many people in the world. There would not be so many people had not capitalism provided them with things to make life worth living for. Outside of the loss of human life nothing else mattered says Scrutator. The moral decadence since the war shows that "folks" are simply worse than formerly and that is all there is to it. Quite a simple explanation! Even Woodrow Wilson admitted that the late war was caused by commercial rivalry. That explanation, broadly speaking, is now accepted by everybody excepting class conscious capitalists and morons. The Tribune liar is not a moron. He is simply a paid hack who will write whatever suits the policies of James Medill Patterson and the McCormick family.

* * *

MR. John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, Ellis Searles, editor of the official paper of the U. M. W. A. who by the way looks very much like Sir Sydney of the Jiggs comic strip, and several other payroll patriots made a tour of District 22 of that organization recently. The official paper tells us that Mr. Lewis was greeted by large throngs. The operators in Kentucky where District 23 is located have refused to sign up with the miners on the basis of the Jacksonville agreement and the only word of cheer the great Lewis had for the members of his union who were on strike was that the mining industry would improve as soon as the present supply of coal was exhausted. Until then the miners would have to tighten the belts. He did not suggest that establishing the six hour days would increase the number of jobs available, but that would cut the profits of the operators who are Mr. Lewis's good friends.

* * *

THE official journal of the U.M.W.A. gives a report of a committee appointed to look into the question of outlaw strikes in District 1. The action was taken after Mr. Samuel D. Warriner and other big coal operators preferred charge against the local unions in District 1. The substance of the charges was that the miners had violated their agreement with the operators. The committee appointed by Lewis made its report which held that the miners were entirely to blame and recommending to the officials of District 1, that the rules against such spontaneous strikes be rigidly enforced.

* * *

OCCASIONALLY one finds something to laugh at in the columns of the Searles journal. Van Bittner, one of John L. Lewis's most willing tools, was addressing a meeting of miners at Morgantown, West Va. The International Union has suspended the autonomy of District 17 and Van Bittner is the field organizer. He told a story about Sam Brady, the scab coal operator who shot up and burned the miners' hall in Brady. Brady worked a mine in Maryland during the war and his employes, patriotic souls who were working 12 hours a day, wanted to work 16, so that they might produce more coal for "their country." "No. What do you mean?" replied Brady. "You can't work 16 hours. My mules couldn't stand it." Commenting on Brady's reply Van Bittner said "But if you are likened into mules, you can't be licked." If Van Bittner made such a silly remark in the vicinity of a mule he would get kicked in the face. But the miners took it lying down.

OPEN SHOPPERS TIPPED ON HOW TO DODGE ISSUE

Caution on Debating Urged by Association

NEW WORK, Aug. 7.—Pointers to openshoppers on how to decline debate challenges gracefully are given in the Openshop News Letter No. 9 issued by the National Association of Manufacturers, 50 Church St., New York City.

"The advisability of debates with closed shop defenders has been the subject of much discussion," the openshop letter informs the shop executives to whom it is addressed. "The size and composition of the audience, the publicity to be gained, the effect of refusal to debate as giving the impression of fear to debate, these are a few of the considerations.

"The general manager of one of our co-operating associations, in recently declining an invitation to debate a prominent closed shop agitator before a large university audience made the following points, which may be useful to some of our readers:

"(1) Too much time must be consumed drawing attention to irrevelant statements and countering ordinary debating tricks.

"(2) The audience is interested in the display of mental swordsmanship; rather than in considering the soundness of arguments presented.

"(3) Best results can be obtained by an address followed by a question period."

This is expert coaching in sneaking away when a trade union debator challenges skrikers to come into the open and meet this issue on a fair field in public.

Springfield Y. W. L. Picnic.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 7.—The Young Workers League branch here has arranged a picnic for Sunday, August 10. This affair has been arranged in order to raise money for the national organization.

The committee has been very active in arranging the picnic and preparing interesting games for those who will attend. There will be dancing, the music to be furnished by the famous Doo Dad band.

The picnic will be held on Sponsler's farm, 7th and Sangamon avenues. Admission is free.

Printed on a fine grade of paper. 12 inches wide by 18 inches high. Suitable for framing or posting in your window.

VOTE and WORK FOR

FOSTER for PRESIDENT

Get a photographic reproduction of this new picture of Foster free.

Every Reader of THE DAILY WORKER

will be a worker for

FOSTER FOR PRESIDENT

THE DAILY WORKER

will be the best, the most incessant worker for

FOSTER FOR PRESIDENT

YOU!! WORK!!

For Foster for President by securing new subscribers to THE DAILY WORKER

4 MONTH SPECIAL ELECTION CAMPAIGN SUBSCRIPTIONS (For new subscribers only) $2.00

Get a New Reader for the DAILY WORKER and a Big Picture of Foster for Yourself

USE THE COUPON

THE DAILY WORKER
1113 W. Washington Blvd.,
Chicago, Ill.

I have sold a Special 4-Month Election Campaign sub. Please send me FREE the picture of Foster.

Name: .....

Street: .....

City: ..... State: .....

New Subscriber's
Name: .....

Street: .....

City: .....

State: .....

BURTON K. WHEELER

The senator from Montana is reckoned to give the LaFollette ticket a "labor character." How he could do this, being a lawyer and a Democratic politician, is beyond our comprehension, but like the "Mystery of Edwin Drood," it must remain a mystery.

But for all those who grow mad in the presence of mysteries, vacuums, and fakers, consolation will be available at the DAILY WORKER Press Picnic at Riverview Park next Sunday. For further details we refer you to Charles W. Bryan and Calvin Coolidge.

N. Y. WORKERS' SCHOOL OFFERS FINE PROGRAM

Combines Studies With Social Activities

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—The classes in the Party Training Course during the coming week will be of considerable importance. On Monday the subject of discussion will be "The World Economic Situation: The Crisis of Capitalism" led by Juliet Stuart Poyntz. The economic effects of the war and the Treaty of Versailles will be analysed, the breakdown of industry and trade after the war, the burden of war debts, governmental bankruptcy and inflation, the reparations problem and the attempted solutions. Soviet Russia as a world economic factor, unemployment and the conditions of labor since the war, the inevitable crisis of capitalism and the world revolution.

The subject of discussion on Wednesday will be the Class Struggle in America up to 1860, led by Comrade Charles Brower, who will continue his clear and interesting analysis of American social development. The conditions of the workers and farmers in America after the American Revolution, the development of slavery and child labor, the early attempts at industrial and political organization among the American workers will be outlined.

• • •

Public Speaking Class.

The class in Public Speaking will meet on Tuesday as usual. The elementary English class on that evening is under the direction of Comrade Jacobson. Comrade Weinstone will take charge of the class, and the subject of the practice speaking this week will be The World War: Ten Years Later. A third group of advanced students of Public Speaking will meet on Friday evening under the direction of Comrade Poyntz. In this third group those comrades will be taken whose delivery and English are satisfactory but who need work upon the subject matter and presentation. The present political situation and the problems of the Workers Party will be discussed.

• • •

Garden Party Every Sunday.

The garden party of last Sunday evening proved a success in every way. The party headquarters and the garden were illuminated with Japanese lanterns and made attractive by the efforts of a band of hard-working subbotnikers who have made a surprising change for the better in the appearance of the Workers School. The atmosphere of the evening lent especial interest to the speeches of Comrade Lenin from records brought from Russia, and the beautiful singing of Frances Geddes. Dancing completed an evening which convinced many comrades that even our old headquarters can make a fine meeting place and social center for our movement with some care and work. Let us push ahead this program.

This Sunday evening another vetch-erinka will be held. There will be refreshments and dancing with good dance music. Marguerite Tucker will render piano solos. An admission fee of 35c will be charged to defray expenses of music and rent and assist the educational work. There is no cooler and pleasant place for Communists to spend a Sunday evening in New York than the garden parties of the Workers School. Come and bring all your friends.

Tuesday, August 5th, 8 p. m.—Public Speaking Classes.

Elementary: Ell Jacobson.
Intermediate: William Weinstone.
Wednesday, August 6th, 8:30 p. m.
Class Struggles in America before 1860: Charles Brower.
Friday, August 8th, 8:30 p. m.
Advanced Public Speaking, Juliet S. Poyntz.

Charge for "Assisting" Latvia.

MOSCOW, August 7.—The British Government claims a sum of 2 million pounds sterling from Latvia as a compensation for the military assistance rendered Latvia by the British authorities in 1918 in the war against Soviet Russia. Britain was fostering counter-revolution for her own profit—and lost.

LIEBKNECHT ON CAPITALISM

WHILE the majority leaders of German social-Democracy were glorifying the war as a patriotic crusade the voice of Karl Liebknecht was raised to expose the imperialistic essence of this capitalistic mass murder. He said, in the August resolution:

War represents not only the failure of one of the policies most bitterly fought by us—that of competitive mobilization, of secret diplomacy, not only a direct Napoleanic blow against the labor movement; it is in its historical essence imperialistic. It is imperialistic by the very terms of its being. It is imperialistic in its aims; that is to say, it pursues the capitalist ends of expansion and the seizure of power."

SOVIET AMBASSADOR HITS HUGHES

(Continued from page 1.)

policy of Mr. Hughes, well knowing that there is not a single honest and reasonable American who understands the interests of his or her country who supports the short-sighted Russian policy of the present chief of the State Department. Numerous are the Governments which the Soviet Government has already outlived, and it will certainly without injury unto itself outlive the present rulers of America.

"What is of more interest," remarked Mr. Karakhan, "is the attitude Washington assumes towards China. Though I have not seen the Chinese Note to the American Government relative to the CER, I imagine it was most probably couched in Mr. Koo's usual most courteous and refined style and I seriously doubt there should be any ground for a charge of audaciousness. Possibly, the State Department saw audaciousness in the fact that China refused to recognize the right of America—and, for that matter, of Japan and France—to interfere in the affairs of the CER. It should be recalled, however, that this audacious proposition is based on the treaties between China and Tsarist Russia and was supported, too, by the agreement, signed on the 31st of last May.

Only Two in Pact.

"Indeed, no countries but China and the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics have anything to do with the Chinese Eastern Railway, and all the other Powers must know that we will not allow them to interfere with our own business. I don't care even to know to what extent their references are correct with regard to the Washington resolutions. The latter are non-existent in our eyes, as—for that matter—they evidently do not exist either for the Powers which have signed them; at any rate, as far as China is concerned, things did not go farther than promises and blackmailing, nor does anyone seem to have any intention of carrying out these decisions. Now, Washington—which has given birth to these resolutions—goes the length of recommending France not to recognize the child it itself gave birth to. There is no doubt but what Paris will hear this with a sigh of relief, as France has since ever so long looked upon the Washington Conference as an illegally-born child.

China Is Wiser.

"The indignation felt in Washington circles at China's action is certainly worthy of notice. Mr. Hughes evidently believes that China owes him so much for Washington, that she must now accept with gratitude any stuff the American Government may choose to approach her with. I hope, however, that those who still want to see China obedient and submissive to any acts of violence at the hands of Imperialism will every day get more and more convinced that China is not what she was some twenty years ago.

"It is not, naturally, a question of Bolshevist influence on the Chinese Government. It is foolish, indeed, to try and explain off by the influence of the Soviet Government any step of the Chinese Government which is not to other people's liking. The Chinese people is very well able itself to see what benefits and what harms it, who are its enemies and who—it friends, when its honor and national dignity are violated and when its rights are respected in deeds, not in words. No alien influences are needed for this. The work of Imperialist agents in China, who have a perfect disregard for the Chinese people, is itself the best school the people can get for the right understanding of its interests and does not need to be supplemented by influence from Moscow.

"He who has up till now failed to realize this, will regret it afterwards."

Young Workers Plan Picnics with Soviet Technical Aid Group

In response to the call sent out by the National Office of the Young Workers League to help finance their semi-monthly organ, THE YOUNG WORKER, the Chicago League is making hasty preparations for a big Picnic to be held in conjunction with the Society for Technical Aid to Soviet Russia on Sunday, August the 24th at National Grove, Riverside, Ill.

Amusements such as soccer ball games, baseball, races of all kinds, bowling, dancing and music will be of course abundant.

All the Chicago Junior Groups will take part in this Picnic. There will be speakers, there will be Junior demonstrations. The Juniors of Chicago will do their share to help raise finances for their official organ, THE YOUNG COMRADE.

This promises to be an unusually interesting picnic. More details will follow.

K. K. K. Whippers.

PABLO BEACH, Fla., Aug. 7.—Grant Tolliver, a Negro sentenced to jail at Pablo Beach for insulting a woman, was taken from jail on June 20, severely whipped and sent out of town. An armed and robed mob of Ku Klux Klan entered the jail and forced the jailer to deliver the prisoner.

BAKU, Transcaucasia, Aug. 7.—Many huge gushers of oil have been appearing in the fields here during the last two months. Most of them are in the Grosny district. The wells run down to a distance of 300 or 1,500 feet. The four new gusher wells which came thru in June yield 2,000,000 gallons of oil daily.

Cosgrave Fears the Republicans May Seize Government

DUBLIN, Aug. 7.—President William T. Cosgrave of the Irish Free State Government was reported this afternoon to have warned the English government that Irish republicans may attempt to seize the free state if there is further delay in adjusting the Ulster boundary dispute.

President Cosgrave wants a boundary commission created at once in conformity with the terms of the Anglo-Irish treaty.

Colonial Secretary J. H. Thomas and Home Secretary Arthur Henderson, of the London government, are here conferring with President Cosgrave. They informed the Irish executive today they feared that a boundary commission bill would be blocked in the House of Lords if an effort were made to jam it through Parliament.

There were informal discussions between the representatives of the English government and the free state.

Walton of Oklahoma Pictures Himself as Fiery Cross Victim

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Aug. 7.—A record breaking vote brought out by the interest in the race former governor J. C. Walton and his opponents have made for the Democratic nomination for senator was anticipated as the polls opened in the Oklahoma primary today.

Walton has pictured himself "crucified to the fiery cross," in the battles between his administration and the hooded order which preceded his impeachment as governor.

YOUNG WORKERS WIN "CORNER" OF SOCIALISTS

Lena Lewis Would Have Cops After Them

Members of the Douglas Park branch of the Young Workers League put it all over the Socialists on the corner of St. Louis and 12th streets, which the Socialists claimed was "their corner."

The young workers were on the scene at seven o'clock to prepare for their street meeting. The cop on the beat told them to end by 10:15. Just before eight a man appeared with a ladder and said that there would be a Socialist speaker on the job soon.

Y. W. L. Holds Meet.

The Young Workers League members protested and at eight o'clock began their own meeting. The speaker had an intensely interested audience for two hours and answered many questions. When the young workers were thru, the Socialists began.

Lena Morrow Lewis, nationally-known Socialist speaker and writer, started in to give the history of socialism in the United States. Five or six of her faithful "yellows" stood guard around her ladder and prevented her from answering questions.

The cop appeared at 10:40 and asked her why she hadn't stopped at the right time. She said that she had just started speaking and didn't know anything about an agreement to quit at 10:15. She said that the Communists had been speaking before her. The cop asked if she weren't Communist.

Three Old Parties.

"No!" she replied indignatly. "We are the Socialists and that bunch over there are the Communists, those very ones that you are against."

The cop asked for permits to speak and the Socialists answered that they had been using that corner for years. She said that the Socialists would easily get permits but the Communists wouldn't.

"Why shouldn't you get the permit," J. Duiko Seigel, one of the Young Workers piped up. "You're no different from the Republicans and Democrats."

St. Louis Arranges Picnic for Foster On September 7th

(Special to the Daily Worker.)

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill., Aug. 7.—Workers Party members here and in St. Louis have arranged for a great picnic on Sept. 7, to welcome the party's presidential candidate, William Z. Foster, who will give the main speech to the workers.

Proceeds of the picnic will be divided between the DAILY WORKER, the city central committee, the Young Workers League and the Trade Union Educational League.

The place of the picnic is Triangle Park. The time, all day of September 7. Everyone is invited to come with all his friends.

BIG PLUTES INTRODUCE KLUX KLAN POLICY INTO EXCLUSIVE GOLF CLUB

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—A score of New York leaders in the social, business and literary world were charged with racial discrimination in a petition, filed for the appointment of a receiver for the Rockwood Hall Country Club, exclusive millionaire golfing place of Tarrytown.

Frank M. Hitchcock, former presidential candidate, president of the club, and his assistant directors, were charged with a conspiracy to deprive members of the Tarrytown Realty Syndicate, an associate enterprise of the golf club, of their membership on the grounds they are Jews.

Those named with Hitchcock included General T. Coleman Dupont, Vincent Astor, A. J. Drexel Biddle, LeRoy W. Baldwin, Wm. Brandon, Robert W. Chambers, Novelist; Balnbridge Colby, former secretary of state; Edward L. Doheny, oil magnate; Chas. Dana Gibson, Major General J. G. Harbord, Missiore Kendall, Darwin P. Kingsley, Frank A. Munsey, Lewis Edwin Shipman and Milis L. G. Stone.

NEW YORK PARTY ACTIVITIES

REPORT OF CCC MEETING.

Anti-War Week.

The Secretary reported to the last meeting of the City Central Committee on August 1st that the anti-war demonstration held in all sections of the city were very successful. Over 10,000 people attended each of these open air meetings, and much literature was sold. The distribution of the leaflet, TEN YEARS AFTER, was one of the best the party has ever had. Reports from almost all branches responded enthusiastically, and 65,000 pieces of literature were sold. The house-to-house distribution particularly was well organized. Regular distributions of party literature is now being planned by the city committee.

Program of Action.

After some discussion on the best method of putting the program of action of the party into effect, it was decided that every branch should subdivide itself into committees, with responsible chairmen, so as to draw every member into party work. This applies to small branches as well as to the large ones. The committees to be organized are: (1) Campaign; (2) Membership; (3) DAILY WORKER; (4) Industrial; (5) Educational. Every small branch may combine two of these committees, such as 2 and 3. This must be attended to immediately. We must aim to develop greater activity among our membership, and must not be satisfied with a condition where a few comrades attend to all the work. A report from each of the committees mentioned will be produced shortly.

Election Campaign.

About 20,000 signatures of voters will have to be secured to put Foster and Gitlow on the ballot in New York State, as well as to put up a state ticket. The election laws of New York State present more difficulties than those of any other state in the country. At least fifty signatures must be obtained in every one of the 60 counties in the state, and these are valid only if those signing the petitions register at the polls (this excludes certain rural communities). The total number of signatures necessary is 12,000, but to make doubly sure that our candidates will get on the ballot, we must obtain at least 20,000. About 10,000 of these are still unsecured in New York City, not only for our state and national ticket, but also for our local congressional and assembly candidates. This means that the entire membership of Local New York must be mobilized at once for the petitioning campaign.

Every branch is instructed to elect at once a campaign committee with a campaign manager. To this campaign committee functions is to organize the branch for getting signatures. Every section committee will constitute itself a campaign committee to supervise the campaign in its district and elect a campaign manager. A special drive for a campaign fund will be made at all open air meetings and all collections will go to the district campaign fund. Every one of the comrades is responsible for the success of our election campaign in this city and state. Foster and Gitlow must go on the ballot in New York State. This is the most important campaign the party has yet undertaken, and there must be no slackers in our ranks.

Educational Work.

Our educational work has met with great success. More than 15 comrades are attending the courses in Communist Theory and in American Labor Movement given by the Workers' School. The public meetings have been divided into three groups: The class for beginners, with main emphasis on Marxism, will meet on Tuesdays; the intermediate class, on Wednesdays; the class for advanced students, on Fridays. At least ten more speakers will be available for the election campaign as a result of this course.

Every Sunday night the Workers School will have gatherings in the new garden at the headquarters for comrades and sympathisers. Attractions for those of a serious turn of mind, as well as for the merry ones, will be provided. Branches should co-operate in making these affairs successful, and thus promote our educational work.

Educational centers will be established in all sections during the fall, plans for which are now being made.

Industrial Work.

Comrades are becoming more active in our industrial work. Following out the Program of Action, the Industrial department plans a more intensive drive within the unions, beginning this month.

The party membership has been very active in the needle trades strikes. A bitter struggle is at present going on in the Furriers Union between the reactionary machine and the left wing, which is of the greatest importance for our movement.

In the food industry, our comrades are putting forth a program of the united front to counteract the campaign being carried on by the Forward machine and the United Hebrew Trades against the Amalgamated Food Workers in shops controlled by the latter.

Meetings of comrades of the various industries are being called to rouse the membership to the need of greater activity within the unions, and to outline programs of action within the different trades. An intensification of our trade union and industrial activities is one of the most important points in the Program of Action. Comrades must recognise that the effectiveness of our movement depends upon the success of our work in the industrial organizations. Here in New York especially there is much room for activity. In this field, as in all others, there must be no slackers within our organization.

A meeting of shoe workers has been called for Friday, August 8, 8 p. m., at 208 East Twelfth street. All party members must attend.

Picnic—August 10th.

Demands for tickets for the Athletic Carnival and Picnic to be held at Pleasant Bay Park on August 10, are pouring into the office. A great enthusiasm is being shown by all branches and the affair promises to be representative of the festive party in the city. Splendid co-operation will be given by the Finnish branches of Harlem and Brooklyn, and many other language branches. The Workers Athletic Alliance is also interested, is making all arrangements for athletic events. We expect this to be the biggest affair of the season, which no party sympathiser can afford to miss.

The party membership in New York is showing more enthusiasm for work now than at any time this year. A new spirit of activity is manifest in the ranks, a spirit which promises well for our fall and winter campaigns.

Branches are urged to see that their delegates attend the City Committee regularly. These take place the first Friday in every month.

Fraternally,
REBECCA GRECHT,
Secretary Local New York.

Come Into the Cool!

Pretty hot weather, eh? Too hot to stay in a stuffy class, isn't it? Well how about a little trip to cool off? Why not take a trip thru the ages with the Rykoff branch of the YWL? Thus far, we have, under the guidance of Comrade Max Bedacht, gone thru prehistoric man in his cool forest vastness to the simplicity of the pastoral age. We have traveled thru the large, cool manors of the feudal system. We have arrived at that significant event—the birth of Capitalism.

Tonight we start from 3322 Douglas Boulevard, Room 5, at 8 p. m. sharp and go to..... Come and travel with us!

Be early, or all seats will be taken and you surely wouldn't want to stand on such a long journey!

Coffee Town Damages.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Sao Paulo, Brazil, was damaged to the extent of $7,500,000 by the recent revolution. One-tenth of the damage is to machinery. Federal and state commissions are making a study of means for restoring the city, but banks are still closed.

VOLUNTEERS WANTED.

Comrades are wanted to help at the Workers Party Athletic Carnival and Picnic, August 10th, 1924.

All those willing to help should call at 208 E. 12th Street, Room No. 1. Your work will then be assigned to you.

Attempted Lynching.

DALLAS, Texas, Aug. 7.—The attempt of a mob at Dallas to take from the Sheriff a Negro, Frank Fennell, charged with murder of a white farmer, was unsuccessful. The prisoner was placed in jail at Dallas.

ROBERT MARION LAFOLLETTE

This fellow is known as "Fightin' Bob." He is one of those good fighters who never leave the enemy any the worse for the battle. He recently took a shot at the Communists so the latter, spurning the pacifist philosophy attributed to the war-like Jesus, have planned a comeback.

On next Sunday at Riverview Park, the Communists will offer all those who are in the mood to play, the opportunity of taking ten shots at "Fightin' Bob" for every shot he took at them. All the shots will be flying one way.

SLAIN BRITISH WIDOW DEFIED MEXICAN LAWS

Wouldn't Give Workers Share of Grain

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 7.—Mrs. Rosalie Evans, wealthy widow who was slain near her hacienda, refused to divide the grain crop of her many acres with the peasants, as the 1917 Mexican Constitution provides. Mrs. Evans, who was the widow of the British banker who headed the London Bank in Mexico, put an armed guard around her hacienda and whoever attempted to approach would be ruthlessly shot down if he appeared an "undesirable" in Mrs. Evans' eyes.

The peons who worked the estate were never given the consideration that the Mexican law provides for them and Mrs. Evans continued to oppress them and get rid of them if they protested.

Abused Her Power.

Mrs. Evans took constant advantage of her powerful British and American connections and influenced the British agent H. A. C. Cummins to such an extent that he was forced out of Mexico. The Mexican authorities let the rich widow disregard the Mexican law only because Mexico feared the imperialist designs of the United States and Great Britain. Both nations would have seized the slightest opportunity to threaten Mexico because of her rich resources.

Even now Mexico will probably apologize profusely and make some reparation promise, altho the financial situation thruout the country is exceedingly bad. The need for, national economy has become so urgent that the government has just ordered all its employes who are not Mexicans to leave their jobs. Even American school teachers will have to be dispensed with, the government regretfully announced, not because of nationalist purposes, but because of the poverty.

Imperialists "Investigate."

Considerable apprehension is felt among the workers and peasants over the coming of the special commission representing about 25 of the biggest industrial and banking concerns of the United States. This group of imperialists will soon arrive to "look things over." In addition a special delegation from the American oil interests, including E. L. Doheny and Standard, is due to arrive there this month for conference with President Obregon to get greater freedom of exploitation. The workers are afraid the president may give some of their hard-won privileges up to the American demands.

A special official inquiry into the death of Mrs. Evans is being made. Over 70 persons have been arrested, most of them without any knowledge whatsoever of the crime. General Montes, former Agrarian deputy, is being held also. Rodrigo Gomez, secretary of the National Agrarian party, denies that Montes had anything to do with the killing.

WM. Z. FOSTER

What do you know about him?

When speaking to your neighbors, friends and shopmates and urging them to support and vote for William Z. Foster, the working class candidate for president, at the coming election, you will have to tell them what Foster has done for the labor movement. For this we recommend Foster's book:

"THE GREAT STEEL STRIKE AND ITS LESSONS"

The story of the steel workers fight for organization and recognition, led by William Z. Foster.

AN AUTHOGRAPHED COPY of this wonderful story sent to any address for

$1.00

Regular price of this book is $1.75. Order at once, while the supply lasts! Remember: AN AUTHOGRAPHED COPY.

Literature Department,
Workers Party of America
1113 W. Washington Blvd.,
Chicago, Ill.

RAIN OR SHINE

SUNDAY

August 10

ADMISSON 35c.

The ticket also entitles holder to reduced rates on all the amusements.

The Workers Party PRESS PICNIC

WILL BE HELD AT

RIVERVIEW PARK

RAIN OR SHINE

Support the Communist Press

Auspices: Workers Party, Local Chicago.

All profits for the DAILY WORKER and other party papers.

The World of Labor • Industry & Agriculture

SOVIET OIL HEAD REFUTES RUSSIAN FAMINE STORIES

Tells America About Petroleum Exports

(By The Federated Press)

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Denial of capital rumors of a general famine condition in Russia, menacing the economic reconstruction program of the Soviet government is made by A. P. Serebrovsky, who has arrived in New York from Russia. Serebrovsky, who is President of the Azerbeijan Oil Trust, the largest oil concern in Russia, admits that some regions have been hit by the drought but the total grain yield, he says, will not be less than last year owing to the increased acreage.

Serebrovsky is in this country to supervise the execution of orders of his and other Russian Oil Trusts, and to study American efficiency methods in oil production. He reports rapid progress in the Russian oil industry, without foreign capital. In the principal fields of Baku, Grosny and Emba the present yield is 5,000,000 barrels a month. Besides new drillings of almost 18,000 feet a month. Despite the general slump in world oil prices last winter, Russian oil exports form October to March increased more than twofold as compared with the same period during the preceding year, amounting to 2,000,000 barrels of benzine and lubricating oils.

While in London on his way to America Serebrovsky made contracts for the export of large quantities of oil to England and the British colonies, and placed orders for new oil tankers to accommodate Russia's increased exports.

Capitalist Movies Invade South Bend Schools to Poison

By JOHN TEZLA.

(Special to The DAILY WORKER)

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Aug. 7.—It is not even enough for the South Bend board of education to pound the capitalist system's ways and teachings into young children's heads thru books and false sayings. Now even moving pictures are coming into style.

About a week before school session closed, a picture was shown called "Jack and the Beanstalk." Movies like this are shown in all theatres and are always protested against by the teachers. Now such pictures are being shown right in the public schools.

Children are taught murder and about false "heroes" when they are in their teens or less. Some children are even lured to Hollywood to try their fortune. But they find out what bunk the movie advertising is later and most of them find life harder in Hollywood and jobs fewer than if they had stayed where they were before.

SCAB MINES INVADE HISTORIC ILLINOIS CLOSED SHOP FIELDS; PEORIA UNIONISTS BEGIN FIGHT

By TOM TIPPETT

(Federated Press Staff Correspondent)

PEORIA, Aug. 7.—There are approximately 2,000 non-union coal miners in the Peoria field. This information came as a disturbing surprise to a mass meeting of union mine workers mostly unemployed in Peoria. It had been called by Local 4747, United Mine Workers, to consider unionization of the men employed at a mine now being sunk on an open shop basis.

This mine is seven miles from Peoria on a new hard road. Its market will be the domestic trade of Peoria with nearly 100,000 population. Motor trucks haul is made possible by the concrete highway. It is operated ostensibly by the Hilltop Coal company, but it is in reality a subsidiary of the Case Coal Co. which operates three large shipping mines in this territory all of which are unionized. The general superintendent of the Case company is also the head boss of the Hilltop mine.

The new mine shaft began to be sunk in June. It operates 24 hours a day with three shifts. In the beginning union men were employed and paid the union scale for sinking. But the company refused to recognize the pit committee. William Hartness president of the Peoria subdistrict of the miners' organization, then visited the mine and was informed by the company officials that the place was being operated open shop.

The union men left the job that day pending conferences with company officials, stock holders promised by the bosses, but which did not materialize. Nonunion men replaced the union miners and since then several men with union cards have joined the nonunion shifts.

The miners' mass meeting was held six weeks after the withdrawal of the union men and was intended to protest the alleged apathy with which the Hilltop situation was being treated. District executive board member George Stoffer and the Peoria subdistrict officials were present.

A lengthy political sparring match between Stoffer and Hartness cleared the air. There was a sharp difference as to how the organizing of the Hilltop mine should be done. The state board member said it was the work of the subdistrict. The subdistrict president said it was the work of the state. And so it went on and on. Finally an understanding was reached whereby full co-operation was pledged and the subdistrict is to tackle the Hilltop organization job.

The estimate of 2,000 non-union miners in the Peoria subdistrict was made by Stoffer who said they were employed in the many wagon mines.

Oklahoma Open Shop Propaganda

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 7.—Twenty-six newspapers in the state of Oklahoma have agreed to publish open shop propaganda distributed in a series of articles by the chamber of commerce.

Send in that Subscription Today.

AMALGAMATED STRIKE LOOMS IN PHILADELPHIA

Workers Vote for Action at Meeting

PHILADELPHIA, (By Mail)—A strike in the local mens' clothing industry looms unless the employers grant the demands of the 4,000 Amalgamated Clothing Workers for assurances against cuts, regulation of production and an unemployment insurance fund. A mass meeting of the workers, addressed by President Sidney Hillman and others, voted the union representatives "full power and authority to take any steps that they may deem necessary" to bring the employers to terms.

The Philadelphia joint board of the Amalgamated, in inviting the employers to an immediate conference, makes the following charges: "Taking advantage of the prevailing depression in the industry, attempts are constantly being made to subject our members to cuts in wages, to a progressive lowering of working standards, and to restore the conditions of the old sweat shop. Home-work under sweated and unsanitary conditions exists in the Philadelphia market. The Philadelphia joint board of the Amalgamated has resolved to protect for its members decent standards of work and living and to introduce into the Philadelphia market conditions of stability and fairness which prevail in all other clothing centers of the country."

Strikes against three firms have been in progress because of lowering of wages and union standards. Two of these have been won by the union.

Your Union Meeting

SECOND FRIDAY, AUG. 8, 1924.

No.	Name of Local and Place of Meeting.
227	Bakers and Confectioners, 2420 W. Roosevelt Road.
122	Blacksmiths, 64th and S. Ashland Ave.
429	Boiler Makers, 103th and Ave. M.
434	Boiler Makers, 55th and Halsted.
633	Boiler Makers, 42d and Halsted.
	Building Trades Council, 166 W. Washington St.
	Carpenters District Council, 505 S. State St.
2200	Cement Workers, 4329 S. Halsted St.
14286	Commercial Portrait Artists, 19 W. Adams St.
1/	Electricians, 1201 W. Monroe St.
182	Electricians, 19 W. Adams St.
853	Engineers (Loc.), 1 Madison and Sacramento.
845	Engineers, 130 W. Washington St.
474	Firemen and Enginemen, 5428 Wentworth Ave.
45	Fur Workers.
17117	Gardeners and Florists, Village Hall, Morton Grove.
21	Garment Workers, 175 W. Washington St., 5 p. m.
84	Glass Workers, Emily and Marshfield.
118	Hod Carriers, 1850 Sherman St., Evanston.
7	Janitors, 166 W. Washington St.
	Ladies' Garment Workers, Joint Board, 328 W. Van Buren.
4	Lithographers, 639 S. Ashland Blvd.
113	Machinists, 113 S. Ashland Blvd.
199	Machinists, 113 S. Ashland Blvd.
482	Machinists, 59th and Halsted St.
746	Machinists, S. E. cor. Lexington and Western.
1235	Machinists, 5341 Pl. and Halsted.
4	Metal Polishers, 119 E. Throop St.
627	Painters, School and Sheffield Ave.
73	Pattern Makers, 119 S. Throop St.
9	Photo Engravers, 314 W. Harrison St., 6:30 p. m.
	Plasterers, 180 W. Washington St.
563	Plumbers, 5312 S. Halsted St.
412	Plumbers, 9251 S. Chicago Ave.
297	Railway Carmen, 40th and Halsted
1268	Railway Carmen, Blue Island, Ill.
1307	Railway Carmen, 52d and Robey
462	Railway Clerks, 9 S. Clinton St.
16857	Rope Splicers, 4508 Milwaukee Ave.
2	Teachers (Men), 315 Plymouth Ct., 2:30 p. m.
	Telegraphers, O. R. T. Cort Club, Atlantic Hotel.
111	Upholsterers, 159 N. State St.
501	Watchmen (Stock Yards), 3749 S. Halsted St., 8 p. m.

(Note—Unless otherwise stated all meetings are at 8 p. m.)

Bank of Foreign Trade.

MOSCOW, August 7.—The British Labor and Defense has approved the decision of the shareholders of the Russian Bank of Commerce to transform the latter into a special Bank for Foreign Trade. Such a bank is indeed made necessary by the growth and development of the external commerce of the Union of S. S. Republics (the turnover of the first half of the working year of 1923-24 having reached 397 million gold rubles).

It is natural that under the existing system of foreign trade monopoly, a bank such as the one newly created should work in closest touch with the People's Commissariat of Foreign Trade. It is expected that under such conditions the new bank will be able to satisfy both the interests of the monopoly of foreign commerce and the requirements of regular banking credit operations.

COMPANY GUARDS BEAT WAR VETS' W. VA. ORGANIZER

K. K. K. Threaten and Abet Attack

By LAWSON McMILLION

(Special to the Daily Worker)

COSS, West Va., August 7.—The Greenfrier River into East Coss, about 20 strong, led by their county organizer and delivered to me an epistle demanding that I leave the county. The letter given me was addressed to Mr. McMillion, organizer World War Veterans. The Lumbia Pulp and Paper Co., with a gun strapped on him, stepped to my side. James Sutton, local justice of peace, also appeared with a big rock in his hand, declaring he would knock out my brains. Constable Bealsher drew his gun declaring he would put a bullet through me.

Spoke to Klan.

I took off my hat, stepped upon the sidewalk to address the hooded vandals. On doing so I asked the town sergeant if there could be any legal objections to my doing so. He replied there was not, to go ahead. When I declared to the hooded brigade that I would not leave Coss, West Va., until I had business elsewhere, and if their hooded outfit was challenging the World War Veterans' organization in behalf of the lumber barons, the saddle was on. I challenged the Kluxers to debate; no answer was made. I declared to them, the lumber barons were behind them and they had also company owned officials.

Lincoln S. Cochran, special agent for the company (company guard) jumped in front of me, yelling to the large crowd which had gathered to hear and see what was going on, that I was a damn lying son of a b—, that he too was an officer and not owned.

Company Guard Seats Him

I continued to speak, turning my back to Cochran. Cochran then began to beat on me with his revolver, striking from behind me. He mutilated my head badly. I was immediately rushed over the bridge into West Coss, to the bastille (town lockup).

J. Henry Ryder appeared a few minutes later to arrange bond for me and assist me in whatever way he could. On entering the mayor's office, the company agent inquired: "Have you come here to get McMillion out?" "Yes," replied Comrade Ryder. At that instant the company agent struck Ryder over the head with his gun, cut a long deep gash into the top of Ryder's head.

Mayor a Company Boss

About 12 o'clock that Saturday night we were arraigned before Mayor Hob Rose, who is a company boss, in the face of an infuriated mob. Justice of Peace James Sutton, admitted on the witness stand that he was there with a big rock in his hand to knock out my brains, and that he had sat behind me to knock my block, but as he swung the rock, Elmer Bruner was standing behind him and caught his hand.

I will write the Daily Worker full details with K. K. K. letter and give a full description of the trial, conviction, and sentence. I furnished bond, and appealed the case to the Circuit Court, October seventh.

Bakery Strikers at Vera Cruz Get Use of Prison Ovens

VERA CRUZ, Aug. 7.—The municipal prison bakery of Vera Cruz is doing double duty now. The striking union bakers, who want to start work in the regular bakeries at 7 a. m. instead of 6, have been given the use of the prison ovens by the mayor for the duration of the strike. The strike is so complete that the city is without bread except what is baked in private homes and by the strikers in the lockup.

300,000 POSTAL EMPLOYES WHET BATTLE AXE TO TEST CALVIN'S POLITICAL SKULL

By LAURENCE TODD

(Federated Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, August 7.—Three hundred thousand post-office employes thruout the United States are fashioning a battle axe to test the political skull of Calvin Coolidge. The forging has been completed, and the tempering is under way.

These postal workers asked Congress for a readjustment of wages, and Congress, in the teeth of a barrage of protest from Coolidge, Postmaster General New and Joe Stewart, special assistant to Harry Daugherty assigned to the postoffice department, passed the appropriation bill. The opposition did, however, keep a revenue clause out of the bill, and on the pretext of this lack of ready cash Coolidge vetoed the wage increase. Joe Stewart is credited with writing that veto message, which is probably the meanest, most slurring in tone, of all the presidential messages ever sent to the capitol.

Jackass Kicked Them Too.

This veto came on the last day of the session. There was no time to re-pass the bill over the veto. The rural carriers, railway mail clerks, letter carriers and postoffice clerks and laborers, then sent a delegation to the Coolidge convention at Cleveland, seeking to get a pledge of redress into the platform. They got nothing. From the Democrats they got a pious hope and endorsement of "living" wages. Then they became convinced that they must fight. They started to organize for self-defense.

Presently came a telephone call to the postal union's headquarters here from Butler, the Coolidge national chairman. The unions replied they had nothing to discuss with him. He insisted, and sent Sen. Dale of Vermont, who had voted for their bill, to get them to come to a conference. They went, and talked two hours. Butler tried to pass the buck to Congress. The postal workers and Dale refused to permit that dodge. They went back to work on that battle axe.

Represent Million Votes.

"Counting their wives and children and other members of their families, the 300,000 postoffice employes represent 1,000,000 votes," said H. W. Strickland, secretary of the Railway Mail Clerks, to The Federated Press. "We do not propose to have the country misled as to who was responsible for that veto. All the heavy machinery of the department, from postmaster general down to the fourth-class postmasters, that may be set in motion to explain it away, will not avail. Speeches by assistant postmasters general, praising the courage of the White man's White House" who signed that veto, will not help. The administration has already heard from Sen. Dale of Vermont that Congress will re-pass the bill over the veto as soon as it meets in December. We shall do everything in our power to assist Congress to understand the importance of this act of justice."

Workers Are Bitter.

Joe Stewart, assigned to the postoffice department from the attorney-general's office, is also known as the executive assistant to New. He is now in Stockholm, attending a postal congress. His staff of lawyers in the department is charged by the unions with systematically attacking all measures looking toward the improvement of conditions for the men and women in the service. Bitterness toward the administration is declared by the union officials to be more intense today than in the blackest period of the Burleson regime.

Cement Workers Quit When Union Man Gets Fired

DOWELL, Ill., Aug. 7.—Hall's Constructing Co., of St. Louis, Mo., chief enemy of organized labor, has a contract for building concrete side walks here. The company fired a man for holding a union card. This caused the other workers to walk out. A special meeting was called by an organizer of the International Hod Carriers' Union, to organize the men working for Hall. Miners of Dowell promised their support to the organizer. Hall's Constructing Co. is paying $4.00 a day, ten hours a day.

161 MINERS LOST LIVES IN COAL PITS LAST JUNE

(Special to the DAILY WORKER)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Blood on the coal is getting thicker. Accidents in coal mines in the United States resulted in the death of 161 men during June, this year. This represents 4.22 deaths for every million tons of coal mined. In June of last year the deaths were 3.73 for each million tons. In anthracite mines there were 53 deaths in June, 1924, or 6.88 per million tons, while in bituminous mines the rate is 3.55 per million tons, as compared with 3.30 for June, 1923.

For the first six months of 1924, 1,302 miners were sacrificed in accidents, of whom 1,049 were killed in the bituminous mines. This death toll represents 4.76 per million tons, as against 3.91 deaths per million tons in the first half of 1923.

The bureau of mines, making public this tragic record, says that the six chief accidents in coal mines in the six months ending July 1, 1924, took 398 lives. Explosions of coal dust and gas show an increase in fatality rates. Other causes show a decrease.

Australian Labor Party Is Probing Anglo-Persian Oil

MELBOURNE, Australia, Aug. 7.—Labor members in the Australian Federal parliament are demanding an investigation of the Anglo-Persian Oil Co., in New Guinea. They allege that though the trust is under contract to find oil for the government in New Guinea, it is purposely delaying operations so that Australian oil supplies will be drawn from the Persian fields.

The Germans discovered oil prior to the outbreak of war in New Guinea. Oil was discovered in British New Guinea in 1911.

In one case where it was reported by the trust that oil did not exist, a private party of geologists were able to scoop gallons of raw oil from the tops of pools. Samples of this oil showed it to be of first-class quality. In some places the seepages were 100 square yards in area.

Up to date $2,000,000 has been spent by the Australian government on oil research in New Guinea by the trust's experts.

RIVERVIEW—RAIN OR SHINE
AUGUST 10th—SUNDAY
PRESS PICNIC DAY

SOVIET EMBASSY BLOCKED BY U. S. BOSSES IN CHINA

"White Guard" Wrecking Consulate Building

(Rosta News.)

PEKING, Aug. 7.—The transfer of the Shanghai Consulate to the representative of the U. S. S. R. has met at the very beginning difficulties on the side of Mr. Hiu, the Commissioner for Diplomatic Affairs in Shanghai. He is closely bound with Russian Whiteguards and tries by all possible means to prolong the staying of Whites in the Consular building. He has until now refused to transfer the building and does not like even to fix the date for its turning over.

Lets Czarists In.

During the last few days the Commissioner admitted into the building some thirty armed Cossack officers from the band of Czarist General Gleben. They are invited especially to render resistance if the building would be turned over to the Government of the U. S. S. R. This action of the commissioner puts a dead stamp on his attitude. Now he has a new excuse for the further delay in transferring the buildings.

The Soviet Mission considers that the said action of the Commissioner is violating the clauses I and IV of the signed Agreement. The Rosta correspondent was told that if some officials would act in this way within the Soviet territory towards the Chinese government, he would be instantly dismissed and brought to trial.

U. S. Rules.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 7.—The Consular Corps in Shanghai took a curious attitude in the question of the Russian Consulate when the local Commissioner for Diplomatic Affairs applied to it for instructions. The Italian consul expressed himself for the immediate restoration of the building. The British consul is neutral. The Japanese and American consuls are the most violent opponents to the premises being turned over. The attitude of the commissioner for Diplomatic Affairs seems to be influenced by the opinion of these consuls.

RIVERVIEW
RAIN OR SHINE
August 10th — Sunday
Press Picnic Day

MURINE
For Your EYES
Night and Morning to keep them Clean, Clear and Healthy
Write for Free "Eye Care" or "Eye Beauty" Book
Murine Co., Dept. H. S., 9 E. Ohio St., Chicago

PITTSBURGH, PA.
DR. RASNICK
DENTIST
Rendering Expert Dental Service for 26 Years
446 SMITHFIELD ST. Near 5th Ave.
1607 CENTER AVE., Cor. Arthur St.

OUR DAILY PATTERNS

A STYLISH YOUTHFUL FROCK.

4849. This is a good model for slender figures. It is suitable for alpaca, linen, jersey, and crepe, also for flannel and taffeta.

The pattern is cut in 4 sizes: 14, 16, 18 and 20 years. A 16-year size requires 3¾ yards of 32-inch material. The width at the foot is 1½ yard.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in silver or stamps.

Send 12c in silver or stamps for our UP-TO-DATE FALL AND WINTER 1924-1925 BOOK OF FASHIONS.

A "SMART" FROCK FOR MOTHER'S GIRL.

4848. Crepe, linen or gingham may be used for this model. The closing is at the side under the panel portion of the front. This will be nice and cool in green linen with facings of white.

The pattern is cut in 4 sizes: 4, 6, 8 and 10 years. A 6-year size requires 2¾ yards of 36-inch material.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in silver or stamps.

Send 12c in silver or stamps for our UP-TO-DATE FALL AND WINTER 1924-1925 BOOK OF FASHIONS.

Address: The Daily Worker, 1113 W. Washington Blvd., Chicago, Ill.

NOTICE TO PATTERN BUYERS—The patterns being sold thru the DAILY WORKER pattern department are furnished by a New York firm of pattern manufacturers. Orders are forwarded by the DAILY WORKER every day as received, and they are mailed by the manufacturer direct to the customer. The DAILY WORKER does not keep a stock of patterns on hand. Delivery of patterns ordinarily will take at least 10 days from the date of mailing the order. So [illegible] if your pattern is

RIVERVIEW—RAIN OR SHINE
AUGUST 10th—SUNDAY
PRESS PICNIC DAY

DULUTH-SUPERIOR DISTRICT HOLDS
ANNUAL FALL FESTIVAL
Saturday and Sunday, August 9 & 10
FESTIVAL DANCE, FAIRMONT PARK, DULUTH, MINN.
Saturday, Aug. 9
Music by Minneapolis W. P. Orchestra
Admission 50c Dancing starts 9 p. m.
FIELD DAY—FAIRMONT PARK—SUNDAY, AUG 10
Athletic contests begin at 10 a. m.
Excellent program in the afternoon, including numbers by trained choruses and combined bands.
J. O. BENTALL AND OTHERS WILL SPEAK GAMES GOOD REFRESHMENTS CONTESTS

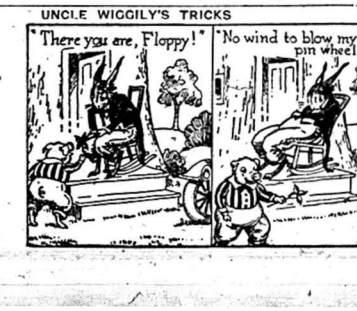
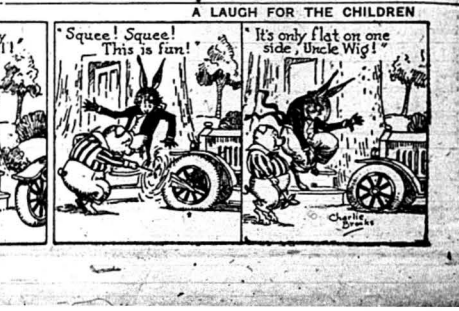
UNCLE WIGGILY'S TRICKS



A LAUGH FOR THE CHILDREN



THE DAILY WORKER

Published by the DAILY WORKER PUBLISHING CO., 1113 W. Washington Blvd., Chicago, Ill. (Phone: Monroe 4712)

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

By mail:

$6.00 per year $3.50...6 months $2.00...3 months

By mail (in Chicago only):

$6.00 per year $4.50...6 months $2.50...3 months

Address all mail and make out checks to THE DAILY WORKER 1113 W. Washington Blvd. Chicago, Illinois

J. LOUIS ENGDAHL } Editors
WILLIAM F. DUNNE }
MORITZ J. LOEB Business Manager

Entered as second-class mail Sept. 21, 1923 at the Post-Office at Chicago, Ill., under the act of March 3, 1879.

Advertising rates on application.

Support the Silk Workers

The strike of silk workers that is scheduled for next Tuesday at Paterson and New York, under the direction of the Associated Silk Workers' Union, is one that demands the support of every militant worker. This industry, which produces one of the luxuries of the ruling class as well as a technical necessity for modern machine industry, has long been one of the worst exploited in the land. The silk workers have also been among the best fighters, but have always been beaten back by the combination of bosses' wealth and labor misleaders' treason.

Now it seems that a militant union has grown up that promises another real struggle for the silk workers, with more prospects for success than the ill-fated struggles of some years ago. Setting forth a series of demands that directly attack the worst features of the sweating system in the silk mills—calling for the enforcement of the 8-hour day, abolition of the three and four-loom system, recognition of the union—the Associated Silk Workers' Union declares that it will fight until these demands are won from the rich and greedy employers.

A promise of more organization and militancy is also seen in the fact that the Trade Union Educational League militants have called upon all their supporters to rally to the striking silk workers. This, coupled with the assistance of the Workers Party, will throw new and fresh forces into the struggle, and bring victory so much closer for the silk workers of Paterson and New York.

The Chinese LaFollettes

Dispatches tell of strange things transpiring in the Standard Oil subsidiary known as "the Chinese Republic." Not long ago the American minister, Mr. Schurman, saw a good business chance and, taking $3,000,000 cash a la Doheny, bought the votes of a sufficient number of the members of the Chinese parliament, to elect a former Chinese bandit to the presidency.

Just as in America where matters of state are settled at "little green houses on K street," the dispatch adds that in China parliamentary sessions are mere formalities, that "most issues are settled previously in tea houses of the red light district and more information obtained from the sing-song girls than from anyone else." We are, it appears, witnessing an "Americanization" of China.

But there is hope. Corruption in high places has its nemesis. Not forever can monopoly brutally invade the rights of the common people. Just as in America where the petty-bourgeoisie rises in its revolutionary might and demands, through LaFollette, a larger share of the profits from the exploitation of the working class by monopolized big business, so in China is the "tribune of the people" heard.

The dispatch says that, "A small opposition party, which has not been bribed, decided to block confirmation of the nomination for premier by obstruction." A riot ensued in the parliament, inkstands were thrown and the proceeding broke up in confusion. These are bad tactics. The opposition which hasn't been bribed should take a tip, attack the Communists and charge them with wishing to overthrow the holy institution of parliamentary government. That is a sure winner. Ask LaFollette.

The King George Version

J. Ramsay MacDonald, "labor" premier of His Majesty George V, in an interview just published, gives his version of the fundamentals of socialism. It is an appalling exposure. Enough so that capitalist editors are saying that it again proves that "each nation has its own brand of socialism" and that Ramsay's is "an improvement on the socialism of Marx and Lenin."

"Socialism," says J. Ramsay, "is based on the gospels. It abhors violence. It is poetry. There is no good politics without poetry. If we can save the souls of people, we can save them altogether. Marx often misled socialism. Its work so far has been that of a defender of the state. Our form of control is not in the least revolutionary. Existing arrangements would be followed in industry."

When the interviewer remarked that it is believed "socialism condemns capital," Ramsay replied, "Another error." When asked if he had any class-consciousness, Ramsay answered: "None."

He added the theological opinion that "The human soul is a very big and comprehensive thing. Only socialism is wide enough to accommodate the human soul." Yes, Ramsay. But only hell is deep enough to accommodate the souls of the socialist traitors of the revolution and murderers of native and colonial workers.

A new member for the Workers Party and a new subscriber to The DAILY WORKER.

Patriotism Thru Terrorism

That venerable lieutenant of the capitalist class in the American labor movement, Mr. Samuel Gompers, is welcoming the opportunity to lick the boots of our strike breaking war department. This Grand Old Misleader of the workers has prodded imself from the housetops that he and what he claims and swears is his own American Federation of Labor are for the gigantic military mobilization Sept. 12.

In pledging his loyalty to the Banker-Secretary of War Weeks, who is a bitter enemy of labor, Mr. Gompers, of course, takes his daily slam at the Communists for their opposition to militarism and capitalist imperialism. Soviet Russ... is not overlooked in this pledge of allegiance to the strike breakers in uniform.

In the city of Washington, where Mr. Gompers and his rubber stamps get most of their inspiration, pressure is being brought to bear on the employes of many concerns to force them into the "voluntary" patriotic rehearsal now being advertised so extensively. Right under Mr. Gompers' nose terrorism, the terrorism coming with the threat of dismissal from work, is being resorted to.

From the reliable Christian Science Monitor we learn the following complaint made by a Washington working man to one of its correspondents: "I shall be made to appear as a slacker if I do not sign up for Defense Day, altho I do not believe in it. I may even lose my job, so deeply has my organization gone into this thing."

Here we have terrorism, force and violence of the rankest sort being employed against the working men in order to force them to goose-step in behalf of their bosses. There is nothing more terrifying to the average worker than the fear of being fired from this job and being denied the right to even a paltry wage.

And this is the kind of terrorism, of force and violence, the kind of dictatorship that Mr. Gompers, Mr. Coolidge, and the biggest open shop organizations the country over never denounce and always defend when they attack the Communists.

Farm Prosperity

We have been told that the boost in the price of wheat and corn will increase the income of the farmers more than one billion dollars. We have been asked to believe that all the suffering and hardships that the farmers have been enduring for the last five years have disappeared at a stroke.

Now the prosperity bubble has burst. The Department of Agriculture has just put the quietus on all this fraudulent talk. The American wheat growers will gain at most from one hundred to two hundred million dolars as a result of the increased price of their wheat this year. To win even this increase our farmers will have to sell more than five hundred million bushels of wheat. The small sum that the farmers will perhaps gain through the rise in the wheat price can prove only a drop in the bucket insofar as it will be of aid to them in meeting their old debts, in paying the bankers overdue notes, in liquidating the troubles that have been piling up for them in the past five years.

Add to this none too pleasant state of affairs the fact that the corn situation is by no means good. The Department of Agriculture tells us that: "Stands are extremely spotted, many fields are full of weeds, and much of the crop is so far behind that it will need something approaching a frostless fall to mature. Corn is a feed crop and high prices add mainly to the cost of livestock production."

And the latest Monthly Reviews of the Kansas City, Minneapolis, and Dallas, Federal Reserve Districts afford no glowing prospects. In the Kansas, Missouri, district the number of commercial failures rose last month from sixty-three to one hundred and thirteen, as compared with the previous month. In Dallas "Trade in both wholesale and retail channels of distribution reflected a marked contraction from the previous month." The Minneapolis district expects a reduction of sixteen per cent in its corn crop. This division is experiencing a notable decline in lumber manufactures, linseed products, mining output, sales of lumber at retail in rural yards, and department store sales.

It will take much more than the hundred million dollars above mentioned to be an economic leverage for the farmers. Besides even this hundred odd million dollars are not all going to the farmers. The speculators, the mortgage holders, and the tax collectors are the only ones cashing in substantially on the advance in price of some of the farm commodities.

"An Absurd Statement"

One of the tests made by famous alienists upon young Leopold, to find out if he was crazy, worked in the following statement, which, if he was sane, he was supposed to see the absurdity of, and if not sane, to accept:

"Make the necessities of life too expensive for the poor to reach them, and they will save their money, so that in time, provided this practice is rigorously carried out, there will be no paupers."

The expert on heads says that Leopold, being the idle son of a millionaire, easily saw the absurdity of this statement. Most remarkably, this very statement, the absurdity of which is as patent as the absurdity of capitalist exploitation, is peddled about all over the world as the sacred foundation of "our glorious institutions." Capitalist editors defend it, capitalist preachers tell us that if we don't believe it we'll go to hell, and if we still insist, they put us in jail.

Of course, our point is that we must revolt against such absurdity and end it. Then, indeed, there will be no paupers. But our insane capitalist apologists want to abolish paupers by starving them to death, as the statement clearly shows.

Steel Workers! Vote for Foster!

Editor's Note.—Our candidate for president, Comrade Foster, is well known to masses of workers in the steel, packing, railroad and other basic industries. He is known to them as standing for the alleviation of industrial grievances from which they suffer. In this campaign we must appeal to all such masses and lead them, on the basis of their immediate economic grievances, to the understanding that their economic struggles can only be successful provided they have correct political expression.

In regard to the steel industry, with which this article deals, it is well to recall that Mike Tighe, president of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, with a membership of a little over 10,000 in an industry having five hundred thousand workers, has issued an endorsement of Robert M. LaFollette, and the reactionary Tighe has urged his few local unions to support LaFollette.

* * *

By JOSEPH MANLEY,
Campaign Manager, Workers Party.

WILLIAM Z. FOSTER is the man who accomplished in the steel industry that which thousands of people said could not be done. Against the powerful opposition of the United States Steel Corporation—with all its gunmen, detectives and company police—he organized and led the strike of 365,000 steel workers, the slaves of this greatest of all great industrial molochs.

In his book, The Great Steel Strike, Foster himself has well written the story of that tremendous organizing campaign and the resultant strike action. But he has refrained from telling much of his own personal contribution—which was that of planning, inspiring and leading every phase of the mighty struggle, from first to last.

When Foster presented to the Chicago Federation of Labor, in the Spring of 1918, his resolution calling for organiation of the giant steel industry, little enthusiasm greeted the proposal. But the resolution was adopted in a Chicago Federation meeting, and it was then taken by Foster to the American Federation of Labor convention, at St. Paul, Minn. Here his efforts resulted in the convention adopting the resolution and recommending that the job of organizing the steel industry should be undertaken.

Foster was appointed secretary-treasurer of the general organization committee for the steel campaign. And with this committee as a nucleus, he immediately began organization work on a grand scale. That his organization plan could be successfully carried out was demonstrated immediately, when nearly a thousand steel workers joined the union at the first meeting held in Gary.

Immediately the entire steel industry was stirred to organizational life, and the pessimistic croakers who had said, "Nothing can be done with the steel workers," were effectively silenced. And Foster's plan being to carry the fight into every steel mill town of America, all at the same time, he moved the headquarters of the organization committee to Pittsburgh, Pa. Thus the committee challenged the Steel Corporation's gunmen in their stronghold and boldly faced the opposition of its spies within the Pittsburgh labor unions.

Here the real battle began, with the militant leadership of Foster as an inspiration to the small "flying squadron" of organizers. Despite the reign of terror inaugurated by the steel barons and their lackeys, the mayors and burgesses of the steel towns, the organization committee not only stood its ground but fought back so strongly that the Steel Corporation was forced to retreat. In an effort to stave off the rapid growth of the unions, Judge Gary granted the now famous basic eight-hour ruling. But the fight went on to its final stage, the great steel strike of 1919, which involved 400,000 of the country's steel workers—from Colorado in the far West, to New York on the Eastern coast.

Needless to say, in this campaign the organizers went to jail, times without number—and Foster went with them—in order to establish the right of the steel workers to freely meet and organize. To provide for this and other emergencies, Foster had at the very outset organized the solicitation of funds—and the total amount collected in this way was $418,141.14. Altho he had been given but $1,500 to begin the campaign, the successful raising of this immense fund enabled Foster to organize competent legal, publicity and commissary aids for the strikers. The legal department defended them in the courts, and the publicity department carried their grievances thru the nation-wide press. But the greatest of these aids was the commissary department. It was the food and other necessaries furnished the most needy strikers, during the three months' fight, that kept up the morale and put the militant spirit into the ranks. The total amount spent on the commissary department was $348,509.42.

The American Federation of Labor, under whose auspices the organing campaign and the strike had been conducted, insisted upon the carrying out of its craft-union policy—and thus were the steel workers divided against themselves. But when over three months later the National Committee voted to call off the strike, more than one hundred thousand men were still out. And the workers had come to recognize that the fundamental weakness of their strike action was the sectional division of the workers in the steel industry.

At the end of the strike, Foster resigned and turned over to the incoming secretary approximately $130,000. And it was the remnant of this sum that has enabled the A. F. of L. to make its present antiquated attempt at organizing the steel workers. Yet the $75,000 left from the fund turned over by Foster was fifty times as much as he had been allowed, with which to begin his great organizing campaign of 1918.

Today Foster is recognized as the leading champion of industrial unionism in the steel industry. He knows the steel workers and their needs, better than any other man in America.

Steel workers! When you vote for Foster, you will be voting against control of the government by the steel barons.

When you vote for Foster, you will be voting against Judge Gary, and for better working conditions in the steel industry.

ALL STEEL WORKERS should rally to their most militant champion, William Z. Foster, for President!

THE AMERICAN BOY'S OPPORTUNITY

This little boy is not "Bobby" Franks in the act of being coaxed into an automobile by "Dickie" and "Babe" to get walloped over the head with a chisel, but a little "100 percent" American, who is offered the chance of degenerating into a grinning skull for the glory of our capitalist government and the profit of J. P. Morgan.

Ex-Public Spirits Prove Heaven Is Communist-Run

Note: At a seance held recently in London, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle spoke with Lenin.

Sir Doyle: Who's there?

A voice: I am Lenin.

Sir Doyle: Are you sorry now for your misdeeds?

Lenin: Yes, I am sorry.

Press Cable.

AS IT WILL BE.

Scene: A dark room in a Communist Hall in the East End of London. Voices from different parts of the room indicate that several persons are present. These voices continue in a whisper until a Loud Voice says:

Order, Comrades, I am now in communication with the dead. Observe strict silence. Here is someone now. Hell, who's there?

Thin Voice: I am Northcliffe.

Loud Voice: Northcliffe? Oh, yes. You were a journalist, were you not?

Thin Voice: No, I was not a journalist. I bought and sold journalists.

Loud Voice: You also owned newspapers?

Thin Voice: Well, I owned and protected certain industries, and was compelled to establish newspapers to express our interests.

Loud Voice: But your newspapers were read by millions of workers and contained certain news.

Thin Voice: They were read by millions of workers, but they contained no news. Only propaganda.

Loud Voice: Then you lied to the workers.

Thin Voice: Yes, tell them that we were all liars.

Loud Voice: What would you advise the workers to do now?

Thin Voice: Join the Communist Party.

Loud Voice: Are you sorry for your misdeeds?

Thin Voice: Yes, very sorry.

Loud Voice: Is there any message that you would like to give to the workers of Great Britain?

Thin Voice: Yes, tell them not to believe what they read in the newspapers.

Loud Voice: What do you think of that parasite, Comrades? What a pity a few more of these liars were not dead. Listen, here comes someone else. Who's there?

Soft Voice: Comrade Harding.

Loud Voice: Comrade Harding? Who were you on earth?

Soft Voice: I was President of the United States of America.

Loud Voice: What was your main interest in life while President?

Soft Voice: Oil.

Loud Voice: What would you do now if back in America?

Soft Voice: Join the Workers Party.

Loud Voice: Have you seen Lenin yet?

Soft Voice: Yes, I am attending his study class on American imperialism.

Loud Voice: Are there any other classes there?

Soft Voice: Yes. General Booth is running a large class here.

Loud Voice: General Booth? What on?

Soft Voice: On "Religion is the Opium of the People."

Loud Voice: Is there any message you want delivered?

Soft Voice: Yes. Tell the American workers that they can only achieve Communism by means of a civil war.

Loud Voice: What do you know about the Teapot Dome affair?

Soft Voice: I refuse to answer. I must return now. Good-bye.

Loud Voice: Talk about Bolshevism in Heaven! The poor proletarian Jesus was a Labor fakir compared to these dead Christian imperialists. Perhaps they have had a few lessons in terrorism from old Jehovah. He was once a specialist in revolution and counter revolution. Hello! Here is another one. Who are you?

Last Voice: I am the Czar.

Loud Voice: The Czar, are you? Well, what do you think of Russia now?

Last Voice: Long Live Soviet Russia! Long live the World Revolution!

Loud Voice: Where are all the other Czars now.

Last Voice: They are all members of the Orion District Group of which I am organizer.

Loud Voice: And the thousands of political prisoners whom you have murdered? Where are they?

Last Voice: They are all members of the Golden Red Guards under the personal supervision of God—who is still minister for war.

Loud Voice: How do you spend your time now?

Last Voice: Washing my hands.

Loud Voice: Washing your hands? What for?

Last Voice: To get the blood off.

Loud Voice: What blood?

Last Voice: The blood of the Russian people. (Weeps.) I must leave you now.

Loud Voice: Why must you return?

Last Voice: Lenin has sent for me and I must not keep him waiting.

Loud Voice: Have you any message for us?

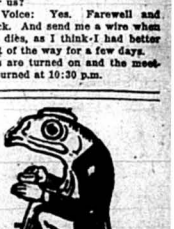
Last Voice: Yes. Farewell and good luck. And send me a wire when Trotzky dies, as I think I had better keep out of the way for a few days.

Lights are turned on and the meeting adjourned at 10:30 p.m.

HELL-AN'-MARIA DAWES

General Charles G. Dawes, also known as "Charlie" Dawes, will be "Kautious Cal's" running mate in the coming elections. The "general" smokes a pipe upside down, swears from soup to nuts and goes to bed at his B. V. D's. He is a He-man.

One of the most popular pastimes at the DAILY WORKER press picnic next Sunday will be the constant endeavors of the merry makers to knock the pipe out of the Dawes mouth. Needless to say the Dawes head will be as wooden as the pipe.



The Poor Fish Says: If I am alive next Sunday I will be at the Press Picnic in Riverview Park. I have an engagement at the Aquarium and unless I am fed to the lions for breakfast I will take a shot at Gen. Dawes at Riverview.

YALE UNIVERSITY
NOV 22 1924
LIBRARY

THE DAILY WORKER RAISES THE STANDARD FOR A WORKERS AND FARMERS' GOVERNMENT

THE DAILY WORKER

5 CENTS Including Saturday Magazine Section. On all other days, Three Cents per Copy.

Entered as Second-class matter September 21, 1923, at the Post Office at Chicago, Illinois under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Vol. II. No. 122. SUBSCRIPTION RATES In Chicago, by mail, $8.00 per year. Outside Chicago, by mail, $6.00 per year. SATURDAY, AUGUST 9, 1924 290 Published Daily except Sunday by THE DAILY WORKER PUBLISHING CO., 1113 W. Washington Blvd., Chicago, Ill. Price 5 Cents

GERMANS SURRENDER TO MORGAN

Garvey Movement Bows To Ku Klux Klan

DEBS BRANDED DESERTER BY S. P. VETERAN

Terre Haute Socialist Denounces Betrayal

The following letter was received by William Z. Foster, Workers Party candidate for president, from an old friend and associate in the Socialist Party of Eugene V. Debs in Terre Haute, Indiana. The letter speaks for itself:

Terre Haute, Ind., Aug. 5, 1924.

Dear Comrade Foster:—It was with intense interest that I read your and Debs' letters of July 15, 23 and 30 respectively.

I have been in the socialist party with 'Gene for twenty years (1900 to 1921). He educated me in the movement, here in Terre Haute, where I have just been one of the "Jimmy Higgins's" and don't claim to be only a "Jimmy" yet.

'Gene learned me the class struggle. I will never forget the first time I went to his office at 1102 Wabash ave. and asked him for socialist literature. He gave me the literature and one of the finest lectures on Marxian economics I have ever listened to since, (that was back in December 1900) and ever since he has been an inspiration to me, to always stand straight up and fight with and for my class, both politically and industrially, "to never compromise," to always march straight forward under the "Crimson Banner" of the world revolutionary working class movement, to all times be an example for my class.

On Tour With Debs.

In 1916, when the socialist party of the 9th Congressional District of Indiana (Terre Haute) put 'Gene for congress, I was the one given the hobor of driving him to and from his speaking dates thruout the district.

He rode in the front heat with me, so I never lost an opportunity to study and analyze the revolutionary quality of his talk with others in the rear seat of the car.

I seldom talked to him. I never forgot my responsibility to the socialist movement of the whole country—

(Continued on page 2)

AS WE SEE IT

By T. J. O'FLAHERTY

AN American society woman has achieved a great success in London. The most exclusive are talking about her and the green-eyed goddess is busy. The name of the new celebrity is Mrs. W. Harry Brown of Pittsburgh, and Washington. She actually succeeded in arranging a breakfast for the Prince of Wales at 4 o'clock in the morning. The social top-notcher is so elated over her accomplishment that she is negotiating for Grosvenor House, the duke of Westminister's magnificent London home. The Duke, like many of the European nobility has a title and some old castles, but very little else, but his title is still good for a square meal so long as the American workers make millions for American capitalists so that their wives, daughters and soul mates can spend it on down and out aristocrats and gay princes.

* * *

THE Italian capitalist papers are angry because Charles Evans Hughes skipped Rome during his flying trip thru the rest of Europe. Being a lawyer they claim, was one very good reason why Mr. Hughes should visit the Eternal City, the original lawgiver. They should not hold Mr. Hughes too strictly to account. He had a big job on his hands and the business was transacted in London, Paris and Berlin and not in Rome. Anyhow, Mussolini made the mistake of murdering a millionaire socialist deputy, and in those days when the socialists are so useful to the inter-

(Continued on Page 4)

GOT THE DOPE ON BOB? WATCH MONDAY'S PAPER FOR LOVESTONE STORY

"LaFollette talks ten times as radical as he votes," says one who has worked with the Wisconsin Senator for many years. Another competent political observer declares that LaFollette has grown less radical with years.

Who are some of the "angels" behind LaFollette's political drive?

What did LaFollette do towards stopping the war?.. Was the Wisconsin Senator really opposed to the war?

Concretely, what has the Wisconsin senator ever proposed or done to help the workers and poor farmers free themselves from the clutches of their capitalist exploiters?

These and many other questions of vital importance to the working class and the dispossessed farming masses will be answered in the series of articles on the presidential candidates that Jay Lovestone has prepared for the DAILY WORKER.

The first article will appear in our issue of Monday, August 11. Start right. Read them from beginning to the end. Provide yourselves and your shop mates with the necessary facts and information to make your case for the working class. Mail us your double order today.

NEGRO WOMEN APPLAUD KLAN DENUNCIATION

Natl. Assoc. of Colored Women Indict G. O. P.

With a ringing denunciation of the Ku Klux Klan, and of the Republican party for its failure to take action against the Klan, Robert W. Bagnall, field organizer of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, brought to its feet the crowd of three thousand colored women who packed the auditorium of the Wendell Phillips high school, where the National Association of Colored Women is this week holding its fourth biennial convention.

"Our debt to the party of Abraham Lincoln is more than paid," cried Mr. Bagnall. "Where the Republican party is the Ku Klux Klan, as it is in Indiana, it is the duty of the Negro to look out for his interests by aligning himself with some new party." The six hundred delegates from all parts of the country, and the South Side women who had come to hear them, shouted applause.

For Mixed School.

Bagnall's statement came like a bolt out of the blue after two days in which the convention dragged on with talk of religious welfare and missionary work, of movies, women's clubs, and Y. W. C. A. homes. With one exception, problems peculiar to the Negro had remained untouched.

That exception was the advocacy by Miss Roberta Dunbbar, Rhode Island school teacher, of mixed schools, in which Negro and white children have the same classrooms and the same teachers. Miss Dunbar's suggestion aroused a lively discussion. Southern delegates of the professional middle-class Negro group argued in favor of segregation on the ground that trained Negro teachers might be denied employment if mixed schools became the rule.

This is the same argument that wrecked the resolution denouncing school segregation which workingmen and women of the Negro race tried to put thru the Negro Sanhedrin conference in February.

Denounce Caste System.

The ilo of Southern whites, that Negroes are entitled to less education because they pay less taxes was effectively nailed by Mr. Bagnall when he stated that three-fifths of all the wealth of the south is produced by Negro labor, which gets little if any of the benefit of its labor.

Crying out against white supremacy and the caste system, Prof. J. J. Cornelius, of Lucknow college, India,

(Continued on page 2)

PRESS PICNIC IS YOUR PLAN FOR TOMORROW

Don't Miss Party Fete at Riverview

Are you all set for the Workers Party Press Picnic tomorrow at Riverview Park? Rain or shine, you won't want to miss the fun. Everybody will be there.

You can throw all the "bricks" you want at the presidential nominees of the three old parties and throw all the bouquets to the real workingclass candidates, Foster and Gitlow. Lydia Gibson drew the clever caricatures of the capitalist family: Cal, Hell-an'-Maria, Johnny, Charlie, Bob, Burt; so you can have targets for your ire against the bosses.

There will be special Workers Party and Young Workers' League ticket sellers from whom you are to buy admission into all concessions. And don't forget to patronize the Workers Party refreshment booths.

The Juniors will be delighted with all the possibilities of fun at Riverview; so be sure to encourage them to bring their parents along. C. E. Ruthenberg will be the chief speaker and will tell a lot of good news about the campaign for the Workers Party thruout the United States.

There will be special stunts arranged by the various party papers which are to profit by the proceeds of the picnic and the big dancing pavillion will be irresistible with the splendid orchestra that has been engaged.

If you think you can afford to stay away from this mammoth Press Picnic, try it, but you'll never hear the end of it from the people who were wise and went!

Pittsburgh T. U. E. L. Asks How Long Labor Spy Beattie Remains

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Aug. 8.—"How long," asks the local branch of the Trade Union Educational League, "will organized labor stand for this condition?" (Presence of labor spy Robert W. Beattie in the Central Labor Union). The T. U. E. L. has published in leaflet form the exposure of Beattie's twelve year career as a spy for the employers. The expose was printed in the Pennsylvania Labor Herald and the DAILY WORKER.

Beattie has been shown to be the agent of the big metal bosses, under supervision of the Steel Trust. He took part in the steel strike of 1919 by trying to sabotage all action for the workers. He is secretary of the Central Labor Union and has not yet resigned.

Gitlow Sees "Bob" As Capitalist War Leader in Crisis

(By The Federated Press)

BALTIMORE, Aug. 8.—Benjamin Gitlow, Workers Party nominee for vice-president, told an anti-war protest meeting here, Sunday night, that LaFollette would betray the workers into war, if the Wisconsin senator were chosen president. Just as Woodrow Wilson talked peace and made war, so, in Gitlow's opinion, LaFollette would find himself leading the American workingmen into the logical fruits of capitalist world-struggle, if he came into the White House. The business interests underlying modern capitalist society would dictate policies; LaFollette as a capitalist office-holder would take his orders; war would be inevitable.

RIVERVIEW—RAIN OR SHINE
AUGUST 10th—SUNDAY
PRESS PICNIC DAY

MASSACHUSETTS STATE LABOR HEAD EXPELLED FROM CARMENS' UNION

BOSTON, August 8. — William Walsh, president of the Massachusetts State Federation of Labor, was expelled from membership in the Amalgamated Association of Street and Railway Employes, by action of the executive board of the organization, with headquarters in Detroit.

The charges against Mr. Walsh were not made public, but William A. Mahon, president, promised a statement later.

STEEL BOSSES ADMIT FAILURE AT HEGEWISCH

Super Closes Plant as Strike Gains

Deciding that all attempts to operate the Western Steel Car Foundry company plant at Hegewisch during the strike was useless, Superintendent C. Bock yesterday noon closed down the plant. Strikers hailed this confession of the company's weakness; the action disproved the bosses' boast that they were not alarmed by the walkout.

The Hegewisch plant has more than 2,000 men and is an important unit of the Calumet steel industries to which the International Brotherhood of Railway Carmen is directing its attention.

Hammond Meeting Tonight.

This evening the union will hold an important mass meeting at Hammond, Ind., in Stroble's Hall, Columbia and Morton Avenues. Organizer Edmond K. Hogan, now in charge at Hegewisch, will conduct the meeting and lay the foundation of a union movement in Hammond.

Superintendent Bock closed the plant after a meeting of the company stockholders issued orders to reduce the overhead. No production was coming from the plant—with the most important department closed—and expenses were continuing. Stockholders declared that the strike was causing grave losses and instructed the officials to take the proper steps to get the men back.

When C. Buckley, efficiency manager, told a committee of strikers that the superintendent wanted to hold a meeting with the men in front of the gates. The strikers turned him down.

The committee had gone to seek Bock himself and wanted to know why he refused to see them? They mistrusted his proposal for a meeting in front of the gates. If he has an offer to make to the strikers, he can see the strikers' representatives, they declare.

Organizer Hogan spoke at the regular daily strike meeting. He was followed by Jack and Ida McCarthy.

Send in that Subscription Today.

SILENCE VEILS FACTS OF BIG GARY DISASTER

Steel City Officials in League with Trust

(Special to the Daily Worker.)

GARY, Ind., August 8.—At least three men, and probably from nine to fourteen, were killed in the explosion which wrecked No. 5 blast furnace of the Illinois Steel corporation here early this week, workmen in the United States Steel corporation plant charge. The company, controlled by the Elbert J. H. Gary interests, refuses to divulge any information and continues to deny that more than one man—Walter Nystrom—was killed.

"It takes from nine to fourteen men to run a blast furnace," one experienced steel worker told the DAILY WORKER. "The furnace was running full capacity when the explosion completely demolished it. There were undoubtedly several more killed besides the general foreman, the only man reported found by the company."

Mayor R. O. Johnson told the DAILY WORKER he agreed with the policy of the Gary Steel Works in suppressing the news of accidents. He said he would not investigate even if it were established that the company is hiding the death of several of the employes.

A police captian in Gary confided to a friend that he knows of two colored men who were killed by the terrific blast which completely demolished the million dollar blast furnace. The attitude of the city officials is: "We have to take the company's word.

"The Post Tribune policy is all right," Mayor Johnson told the DAILY WORKER when told that many workmen charge that Gary's only local paper is under the thumb of the steel trust. "What's the use of advertising these deaths. You know and I know that when the men go to work in the morning in the steel mills they are taking a chance on getting killed. Any day somebody is liable to get killed. What's the good of the company advertising when anybody gets killed."

SEATTLE MACHINISTS TAKING AMALGAMATION ISSUE TO CONVENTION

SEATTLE, Aug. 8—A radical program will be presented at the September 8 quadrennial convention, Internatoinal Association of Machinists, by the Hope lodge of Seattle. The convention in Detroit will listen to the following demands by the lodge: Amalgamation of metal trades unions; request of Samuel Gompers to work for recognition of Russia; reinstatement of expelled radical members; condemnation of the Baltimore & Ohio cooperative plan in shop work.

INTERNATIONAL MINERS PROPOSE GENERAL STRIKE TO STOP WARS

(Special to The Daily Worker)

PRAGUE, August 8.—If the plan of the British miners' delegation goes thru the International Miners' Congress, the coal diggers will authorize an international committee to declare a general strike of all European miners in the event of war. The miners are definitely against the recurrence of war and will ask the committee to work out plans of action for the miners to take to prevent hostilities between nations.

The economic power of the coal miners is tremendous if they maintain their international solidarity and would go far towards preventing war against other workers if it is not corrupted by capitalist influence.

The International Miners' Congress, which is now in session here, is also considering the reduction of working hours, wage guarantees for miners, and will take steps to carry out the resolution formerly adopted against the importation of coal into countries where the miners are on strike for better wages and conditions.

PHILLY BULL NEEDS SHOOTING LESSONS; STRIKERS WINNING

(Special to The Daily Worker)

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 8.—A policeman firing at strikers in front of the Cohen plant at 320 Cherry st. brought excitement into the Amalgamated Clothing Workers' walkout for a 15 and 20 per cent wage increase and the 100 per cent union shop.

Fortunately none of the strikers were injured.

Solidarity of the 12,000 strikers is superb. The workers are confident of defeating the employers.

WALL ST. MAN BIG NOISE AT LONDON PARLEY

Plan Is to Pay as the French Evacuate

(Special to the Daily Worker.)

LONDON, August 8.—Owen D. Young, head of Morgan's General Electrical company and proposed U. S. representative on the Dawes plan tribunal of three, sat today with the allies' financial experts to discuss the apportioning of Germany's annual payments.

One-twelfth of the first annual payment is expected to be paid when the French begin their so-called "economic evacuation" of the Ruhr district. This "economic evacuation" by France of a part of Germany is exchanged for the economic control of all Germany by the allied nations co-operating thru the Dawes plan.

German representatives at London have surrendered to all the demands of the international bankers. Their present debate is over the French demand for continued military occupation of the Ruhr for two years and complete military control over Germany's armaments and the demilitarization of the security police.

The Germans are urging that the security police are useful against the proletarist in revolutionary crisis. French reply that allied troops will give the necessary assistance in such repression.

* * *

Balk at Chemical Payments.

LONDON, Aug. 8.—Germany's delegates to the allied reparations conference balked late today against making payments in kind with chemicals after 1929, altho they agreed to an extension of the time in which coal and coke payments should be made.

The council of fourteen met at 230 o'clock to take up the reports of the efforts of the expert's committees which dealt with the reports of conference committees numbers 2 and 3.

Obstacles were encouraged in connection with the report of conference number 3, relating to the transfer of reparations from Germany to the allies, which probably will have to be ironed out by the council.

If it has sufficient time the council will take up the question of Ruhr evacuation. France has offered to evacuate within two years.

Klansmen Confess.

ARDMORE, Pa., Aug. 8.—Four men, self-confessed Klansmen, were arrested and charged with unlawful assembly and inciting to riot in connection with the shooting of Patrolman Francis Ray and Albert Miller, during a recent Klan demonstration. Two of the prisoners are postoffice clerks, one a member of the police force of lower Merion, and one a brother of the Commander of the Ardmore American Legion Post. The prisoners admitted their participation in the Klan attack on the Negro Boy Scout Camp in Upper Darby.

NEGRO LEADERS SURRENDER TO HOODED ENEMY

Back-to-Africa Body Fears to Fight Here

By ROBERT MINOR
(Staff Writer, Daily Worker)

NEW YORK, August 8.—The Universal Negro Improvement Association publicly went on record as acknowledging that it fears to fight the Ku Klux Klan. The excuse given is that the Negro is going to Africa; hence he need not fight for his rights in America.

There is now hardly any room for doubt that Marcus Garvey, president of the Negro organization, two and a half years ago in an interview with a sub-head of the Ku Klux Klan at Atlanta, Ga., entered into an agreement with the Klan. This was brought out with startling circumstantial evidence during the debate, when Bishop George Alexander McGuire of the African Orthodox Church, tried to lead Garvey into committing himself more openly.

Klan On Floor.

President-General Garvey, as chairman of the convention, had introduced the subject of the Klan with peculiarly guarded language, repeating that according to the agenda the subject must be discussed "without prejudice," and warning that "we must be very, very careful, very, very guarded and very watchful how we discuss it," in order not to "get ourselves into trouble." He read two documents of the Klan itself, showing the Negro as being similar to "baboons and monkeys," regretting that he was not still in slavery, "the place where he belonged," and reflecting the regime of stark terror and degradation for the Negro which is the program of the Klan murder organization. As Garvey read, it was difficult to determine whether he meant to terrorize the audience, or whether he wanted to show the terror of the Klan in order to appeal to the convention for a manly stand against its crimes.

But when the leader finished reading, it was still doubtful what position he meant to take.

Garvey Challenged.

Bishop McGuire arose with a curious air of challenge. Speaking to Garvey directly, he said, "You are our leader, sir, in this respect as well as in others. You have given us the advantage of your direction in the other subjects that were up for discussion. In the matter of forming the Negro political union we have followed you. In the matter of the defi-

(Continued on page 2.)

CALL ROSALIE EVANS A "HOLY TERROR" TO HER MEXICAN TENANTS

(By The Federated Press)

WASHINGTON, August 8.—Information brought to the Pan-American Federation of Labor from Mexico City indicates that the death of Mrs. Evans at the hands of bandits or personal enemies may have been in part to the fact that she cultivated quarrels with her Mexican neighbors upon every occasion.

She was a Texas woman who married an English bank manager in Mexico, and she ruled his estate after his death in a defiant feudal fashion, going out of her way to impress upon her tenants and employes their racial inferiority and economic helplessness.

The Mexicans described her as a "holy terror," and for that very reason hesitated to enforce the agrarian law of eminent domain for the sale of part of her lands to individual peons.

THE OUTING OF THE SEASON! DAILY WORKER PRESS PICNIC AT RIVERVIEW PARK, SUNDAY—RAIN OR SHINE

SOCIALISTS ARE DOWN AND OUT SAYS GOMPERS

Rubs Salt in Socialist Party Sores

(Special to The DAILY WORKER.)

ATLANTIC CITY, August 8.—The latest publicity blast to issue forth from the secret meeting place of the executive committee of the American Federation of Labor, is a vicious attack on the "continuously diminishing and completely discredited socialist party" to quote the statement made public by Matthew Woll, messenger boy extraordinary and publicity agent for Sam Gompers.

Kicked for Their Pains.

After what the socialists have done for Gompers and his reactionary crew in expelling Communists from the unions, their complete repudiation by the old faker is considered one of the most striking pieces of treachery in the history of the American labor movement.

Not that the socialist party has not deserved the snubbing it received at the hands of Doctor Gompers, but the punishment is cruel and unusual, and some say, unconstitutional.

After flapping his patriotic fins over "Mobilization Day," and kindly giving the Communists credit for all the anti-war propaganda "there is, a compliment which does not seem to ruffle the feelings of the Communists, Gompers in order to show how nonpartisan he can be when he tries hard enough, used the report of the Federal Council of Churches to lacerate the socialist party.

Expected To Dominate.

The report holds that the LaFollette movement will develop into a "labor party," dominating the American workers and dominated by the socialist party as the British Labor Party is dominated by the independent Labor Party, the British prototype of the American S. P.

Gompers did not at all relish the idea of being a "cossack" for Morris Hillquit and the budding "MacDonalds" of the socialist party. Gompers is out to lead the forces of organized labor behind LaFollette as he formerly led them behind Wilson into the World War and behind Cox into ignominious defeat in 1920. Gompers is grasping the leadership in the LaFollette movement from William H. Johnston and the C. P. P. A. and woe unto those who dare cross Sam's path. The socialists being the easiest marks, Sam eats them up first. He makes it quite clear that unless they conduct themselves and forget the ambition to dominate the LaFollette movement that he will give them the same medicine he gave the Communists. In fact a candidate for office in New York State on the socialist party ticket, who is also a member of a union is threatened with expulsion because he made an attack on conservative labor leaders.

Won't Take Dictation.

"The American Federation of Labor has never tolerated dictation by any force outside of the labor movement and such an attempted interference is none the less unwelcome when it comes from one of the great church organizations of the country.

"We cannot and will not accept the imputation that while one policy is being pursued by organized labor another is being covertly fostered.

"The idea furthermore of domination of the American Labor trades union movement in its political activity by a continuously diminishing and completely discredited socialist party is too ridiculous for consideration. The socialist philosophy will never become the political or intellectual guide of American labor."

Will Socialists Reply?

It is not expected that the socialist weaklies will give the same publicity to this broadside that they have given to the anti-Communist rantings of Gompers and LaFollette. It will be interesting to read what comment, if any, the complaisant Dr. Norman Thomas will make on the A. F. of L. statement. "I am the Lord, thy God," says Gompers to the American workers. "Thou shalt not have any other gods before me."

Cynical reporters who have expressed their contempt for the cheap antics of the socialists and their shameless crawling to Gompers are enjoying the discomfitures of the Hillquittes.

Printing Pressmen Aug. 25.

PRESSMEN'S HOME, Tenn., Aug. 8.—The convention of the Intl. Printing Pressmen & Assts. union opens at Pressmen's Home Aug. 25.

STENOGRAPHER WANTED: NATIONAL OFFICE.

The National Office of the Workers Party has a position open for a stenographer. Only members of the party or of the Young Workers League will be considered. Apply by letter or in person. C. E. Ruthenberg, Executive Secretary, 1113 W. Washington Blvd., Chicago, Ill.

NEGRO LEADERS SURRENDER TO KLAN

(Continued from Page 1.) ..... cation of God as a black God, we have resolved that which you put before us. We havefollowed you in each matter that came before us, and we feel that we ought to ask you to state your position in this question.

"We feel that you have an advantage over us thru the knowledge that you gained in an interview—we hope that you are not going to leave us at a disadvantage. We know that you know better than we. We want to know what is your attitude."

Garvey, who is a highly skilled parliamentarian, arose in obvious embarrassment. Speaking hesitattingly, he said:

"My attitude is that of the majority of the convention. This Ku Klux question is an extremely important one. And I don't want to influence the convention. I want to hear what the discussion brings out."

Then the Garvey lieutenants arose one by one, all attempting to justify a policy of the Negro's surrender to the Klan of every right of equality in the United States.

It was done in a manner something like this:

Whilst the methods of the Klan are said to be reprehensible—the we cannot prove it—its object is perfectly legitimate; it is the supremacy of its race. Every race has not only a right, but also a duty to do this. But the Negro is a minority race. Therefore he must get out of America. Buy stock in Garvey's steamship line. It will take you all to Africa, where all you will have to do is to fight the British, French and Belgian governments for the possession of colonies under their militiary rule. There you can be brave, and conquer; but here you must be afraid, you mustn't fight the Ku Klux Klan because you would be beaten.

The Ku Klux Klan was denounced by several speakers who declared that it habitually terrorized, murdered and burned Negroes, but every denunciation was only turned into an argument to show that the Negro could not fight the Klan and must leave America on Garvey's proposed steamship line to settle Africa.

Call Capitalist a Friend.

J. A. Hassell of Seattle spoke for laying aside the Negro's claims until "when you have carried out the program of the organization and constructed a nation in Africa." "Until then," said Hassell, "keep your mouth shut about the Klan. Don't discuss it any more than you have to." He continued:

"The only friend you have in the white race is the capitalist, and he is your friend because he uses you to tear down the standards of his own race."

J. J. Thomas of Mobile, Alabama, declared that the Klan "is a help to this movement by increasing the membership."

The surrender to the Klan became general among Garvey's lieutenants, while the chief sat silently smiling. One after the other the smaller leaders of the organization went over to Garvey's apparent "treaty" with the Klan.

Dr. Jay J. Peters of Chicago started his speech as tho he meant to bring a new note into the discussion. But as he stood directly before the curiously smiling face of his chief, Peters veered his speech around. He told how William Pickens, the Negro author, went to the LaFollette "progressive" convention with "a bunch of resolutions denouncing the Klan" and was insulted and turned down by Mr. LaFollette's agents.

Under Mr. Garvey's gaze, Peters said:

Peters For Neutrality.

"When the other fellow holds the marbles and has control, the best thing to do is to get into friendly relations with him if you can. I don't mean by that to condone the Klan for the wrong things it has done. But after a while when we have got our own country and our own battleships we can tell them to go to hell." Speaking of a compromise position on the Klan, Peters said, "it is the ethical thing." The Klan, he said, "from the point of view of the white man, is perfectly all right." He ended, "Go forward with the Universal Negro Improvement Association, and maintain our neutral position on the Klan issue."

D. M. Brown of Florida declared "the Klan has helped us a great deal," apparently meaning by driving the Negro into the ranks of Garvey as the only hope. The Floridan's remark, "I can't afford to be against an organization of that kind, and especially considering the place where I am living," brought a roar of laughter. He continued humbly, "I don't say that we ought to endorse an organization that is oppressing us, but I do say we ought to remain neutral."

Praises Enemy of Race.

Fred E. Johnson, president of the Detroit division of the Negro organization, got up and declared, "I have no respect for a white man who is not in favor of the Ku Klux Klan, because he is a wolf in sheep's clothing." Later he said, "The Klan is a power not to be tampered with. It is a friend of the Negro race, because it causes him to get out of his state of lethargy." And, "We have no fight to make against the Ku Klux Klan; they have no fight against us."

Other speakers declared that 99 out of every 100 white men look upon the Negro just as the Ku Klux Klan does.

Bishop McGuire was then given the floor by Garvey, to make a motion declaring that "we regard the alleged attitude of the Ku Klux Klan to the Negro as fairly representative of the majority of the white race." That the Negro organization would take a "neutral" position on the Klan and that the only solution for the Negro is in "securing for ourselves a government of our own on African soil."

William A. Wallace, Chicago, altho willing to surrender in general to the Klan, found it hard to swallow such a servile resolution as the Bishop's He offered a substitute, condemning the policies and methods of the Klan, but assuring the Klan that the Negro's intention is "not to take control of this country," but to "return to our God-given country" of Africa. The resolution assured the Klan that "we seek no social equality as conceived by many" and thus Mr. Wallace made the surrender of the Negro's manhood more abject than ever..

But now came Mr. Garvey into action at last. Citing the words of Wallace's resolution, "to condemn its (the Klan's) brutalities and atrocities as perpetrated upon our race by its members," he asked:

"Now, cannot we find, Mr. Wallace, some language that, er—now, you see, we don't want to get ourselves into trouble. We don't want to get our race into trouble. You are assuming that the organization is brutal in its actions against us. Now they claim that the brutalities and atrocities charged against them are acts of individuals for whom they are not responsible. Now they claim that they cannot be blamed for these acts. Now, for example, if some Negro goes across the street and kills somebody, do you think it would be right to blame this organization for it?"

Mr. Wallace jumped to his feet, demanding, "On the other hand, if they commit these atrocities in the regalia of the organization—"

But Mr. Garvey interrupted: "You should not indict the organization, but the individual."

Mr. Wallace now began to retreat, while Garvey continued. "Condemn the acts of atrocity, but do not condemn the organization."

Freeman L. Martin of St. Louis interjected the remark that when crimes are committed by "individual" members of the Klan, the Klan "takes no steps to condemn the atrocities, but winks its eye," and thereby endorses the crimes.

Johnson Aids Klan Again.

Martin was interrupted by Fred E. Johnson with the edifying point of order that "you cannot prove any case against the Ku Klux Klan until it has been proven in a court of law."

Garvey then demonstrated that "the Klan question was carried before the highest court in the land, the United States Senate, and they practically got an endorsement before the highest legislative body." Said Mr. Garvey: "Now, if you are going to condemn them for what has been alleged, then we are going to get into trouble. Now don't let us get into trouble."

It all settled down, finally, to Garvey's original purpose, with the elimination of every term or syllable that the King Kleagle would disapprove of, all of the little leaders tumbling over each other to serve and the Good Bishop McGuire declaring: "We are going to benefit from this organization (the Klan). It is going to drive the Negroes into our organization."

Martin Hits Pussyfooting.

Only Freeman L. Martin remained comparatively obdurate, declaring that he "would rather remain silent than to pass a pussyfooting resolution." A few others seemed mildly bewildered, if not disgruntled, but the Bishop's surrender resolution was passed, and Wallace's pussyfooting resolution as well.

A spectator audibly commented that he thought this the most disgraceful scene that has been written in the history of the Negro people since last a slave kissed his master's hand between the blows of the whip.

Within a few hours after the Klan resolution was passed the convention hall was ringing with belligerent speeches implying a determination to form a world-wide organization for stirring up all the colonial peoples of the world to revolt against all imperialistic governments. Speakers from Africa, Haiti, Bermuda, Trinidad and other colonies urged a general colonial movement for independence.

Coolidge Discharging Postoffice Employes On Political Grounds

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Wm. Dudley Foulke, president of the National Civil Service Reform League, in open letter to Coolidge, demands that the administration cease to violate the law by consulting Republican congressmen as to the appointment of rural mail carriers and minor postmasters. He points out that postal employes are suffering Coolidge axe being dismissed on trivial charges, in defiance of the civil service statutes.

$5.25 a Day In Washington.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Aug. 8.—The average wage of factory workers in Washington state for the first four months of 1924 was $5.25 a day, says statistician F. W. Harris, state labor and industries department.

SEGREGATION OF NEGRO SCHOOL CHILDREN HIT

Heated Discussion at High School

(Continued from page 1) characterized the "history of white supremacy" as "the history of exploitation," and the caste system of Great Britain and of America as "the result of two forces—political hypocrisy and economic greed."

"Such an incident as the entertainment at the White House of Booker T. Washington does not disprove the caste system of America. IT IS AN OUTSTANDING PROOF THAT A RIGID CASTE SYSTEM EXISTS," said Professor Cornelius.

Negro Woman's Rights.

The presence of the "South in the North," of prejudice against Negroes in the great industrial centers and the consequent need for such activities as those of the Inter-racial commission were explained by Mrs. Charlotte Hawking Moses, prominent member of the commission. With an outspoken demand that the Negro woman be given every privilege and every opportunity that the white woman enjoys, and a statement that "this is the time for the blasting and tearing up of all institutions," Mrs. Moses effectively silenced the contention of capitalist newspapers—a contention intended as praise—that the National Association of Colored Women is a mild and unaggressive group.

The raising of a $50,000 scholarship fund for promising Negro girls occasioned much excitement during the session.

Among the better known women at the convention are Miss Hallie Q. Brown, president of the Association, Mrs. Booker T. Washington, who gave a brief talk on Tuskegee Institute in Alabama, a Negro educational institution, and Mrs. Alice Dunbar Nelson, widow of Paul Lawrence Dunbar, writer of Negro lyrics.

Secretary of Labor Davis, who had been invited to address the convention, sent Acting Secretary of Labor Theodore G. Risley to speak in his place.

Denunciation of the practise of segregating Negro children in the public schools, voiced by Miss Roberta Dunbar, Rhode Island teacher, created a heated discussion at the sessions of the Fourth Biennial Convention of the National Association of Colored Women at the Wendell Phillips High School. More than 600 delegates from thirty-four states attended the meeting.

Delegates of the professional Negro middle-class of the South expressed their fears that Negro teachers might find it difficult to obtain appointments if mixed schools prevailed. This is the same argument which wrecked the resolution, advocated by working-class representatives at the Sanhedrin conference in February, favoring mixed schools for all states.

Miss Hallie W. Brown, president of the association, addressed the delegates at their opening session last night. Robert S. Abbott, Chicago, editor, spoke on "The Newspaper and the Public."

The first installment of a $50,000 scholarship fund for the benefit of promising Negro girls was raised last night. Over $12,000 was contributed by the two thousand persons present.

Well-known colored women participating in the convention are: Mrs. Booker T. Washington, widow of the founder of Tuskegee Institute; Dr. Sara Brown, of the U. S. Public Health service; Mrs. Alice Dunbar Nelson, widow of Paul Lawrence Dunbar, famous for his Negro lyrics, and Mrs. Florence Randolph, a missionary.

Secretary of Labor Davis, who was asked to address the convention, is sending in his place acting Secretary of Labor Theodore G. Risley, who will address the last session of the convention today.

Wooden Elevated Cars Murder One And Injure Forty

(By The Federated Press)

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—Partly because the money-grabbing Brooklyn-Manhattan transit company refuses to substitute steel cars for its flimsy and ancient wooden rolling stock, one person was killed and 40 persons injured, many of whom are expected to die, in an elevated wreck at the Ocean Parkway station, August 5th.

"I have been expecting just such a catastrophe as this since the transit commission allowed the B. M. T. to operate wooden cars on the same rails with steel cars trains," said Mayor Hylan, as he looked at the wreckage. "These people have absolutely no regard for humanity. All they care about is to help the B. M. T. Railroad get more nickles out of the public."

Swiss Textile Workers.

BERNE, Switzerland, Aug. 8.—The Swiss textile workers union educational commission provides vocational education, trade union instruction and teaching in sociology and finance. Of the 82 locals of the union, 41 take part in this city directly.

Send In that Subscription Today.

Russian Recognition Puts MacDonald and Lloyd George in Hole

By J. LOUIS ENGDAHL.

TODAY, hungry, jobless workers, by the millions, walk the streets of England's great industrial centers.

There is the answer to the right-about-face of the MacDonald labor government in deciding to sign an agreement with Soviet Russia.

* * * *

Arthur Ponsonby, under-secretary of foreign affairs, interpreted the real spirit of the MacDonald government, when he allowed the break to develop on Tuesday.

The anti-Sovietism of MacDonald rule had spoken thru Ponsonby; the same anti-Sovietism that had brought about the raids on the national headquarters of the British Communist Party.

* * * *

But out over the British Isles there are numerous powerful trade unions, the officials of which are kept awake nights trying to keep their various memberships appeased on the question of unemployment. These trade union officials and their memberships know that full recognition of Soviet Russia, the extension of credit and the opening of unhampered trade relations, will bring jobs to British workers. So MacDonald's anger against Ponsonby's rupture with Moscow was increased by the storm of protests which the announcement received from the trade unions."

* * * *

For the moment the cry for bread, the demand for work, has forced favorable action by the MacDonald government on Soviet recognition. MacDonald says he will sign the document that is considered very favorable to Russia.

All that saves the MacDonald government from an immediate crisis is the adjournment of the House of Commons for its summer recess until not later than October 28.

* * * *

It is clear that the MacDonald government is facing a major crisis. It will have to kneel again to its Lloyd George liberal support, that is fighting mad because of the favorable attitude adopted towards Russia, or it will continue to give ear to the cries in the street, "Bread!" "Jobs!"

If MacDonald follows in the footsteps of Lloyd George, as he has done on other propositions, it will mean that great masses of British workers will go over into the Communist movement, joining the Communist Party, just as their German comrades have gone over in great masses to the German Communist Party under pressure of the treason of Scheidemann, Ebert and Noske. That may keep MacDonald in power a little longer, until the capitalist politicians get ready to kick him into the discard, along with his Ponsonbys, who grovel in the dust before Lloyd George whining, "I never lauded the Soviet System. On the contrary, I think it deplorably bad."

* * * *

But if MacDonald recognizes Soviet Russia and demands it be given credits; that will also bring in its wake a whole series of interesting developments. There will come, without doubt, the ousting from office of the MacDonald government by the combined Conservative-Liberal forces, bringing on new elections, in which the British attitude towards Soviet Russia will be the big issue. That will be a class issue. The slogans of Workers' Rule will be raised against the shibboleths of Bosses' Rule. The Red Flag of Communism will be raised against the Black Flag of Capitalism. This will also drive new masses into the Communist Party, resulting in the creation of a mass party of Communism in Great Britain, for the first time. If a Labor Government is returned to power, it will be much more radical than anything MacDonald ever dreamed of. Such a Workers' Government would be compelled to fight a united capitalist class, solidified by the rise of labor's power, a class fight that would finally accept full Communist leadership, and press on to victory with a Communist program.

* * * *

Either way, not only the anti-Soviet MacDonald, but also Lloyd George and his capitalist class, face the workers rising to power under Communist inspiration and guidance.

The cry of the hungry and the jobless in Great Britain, as everywhere else, will not be stilled until capitalism has been entirely swept away.

VET BRANDS DEBS DESERTER

(Continued from page 1)

they were with me in spirit saying "Keep the Old Warhorse safe," and on some occasions we were out on long speaking trips from 10 a. m. to 4 a. m. next morning, and could not always get what we wanted to eat. So there were times when, after I got 'Gene home, I hardly knew how I got home myself and got my machine in the garage. I was both physically and mentally exhausted.

Was True Then.

So up to the present time this has always been my conclusion: I never found a single false ring in any of his statements. So when other Communists here criticised him I refused to believe that the "Old War Horse" had lost any of his fire of former days. I always said, "He is sick now, just wait till he gets well and we will have another Lenin on this side of the earth." And you can imagine my disappointment and chagrin when I read his letter, noted his sneers at my ideals of a real world working class new civilization, noted the weakness of his position.

The last time I ever met 'Gene was in April, 1918, at 127 So. 7th St., here in Terre Haute. This is the statement he made to me at that time: "I'm a Bolshevik from the crown of my head to the soles of my feet."

Bolshevik in 1918.

On July 19, 1918, 'Gene wrote the following in a book of mine: "Stand straight up and fight the daily battles to freedom and happiness for all without fear and without compromise." Those are his exact words meant for me, and I am going to follow them to the letter, for I stand squarely where I stood when he wrote them. I am very sorry to have to say he is the "deserter," not I.

Think of it, 'Gene Debs in class collaboration with Sam Gompers and other trade union bureaucrats, petty bourgeois, middle-class exploiters and LaFollette, the "dictator," the man who wrecked the June 17 St. Paul farmer-labor movement.

I am taking this opportunity to let 'Gene know if he expects the "old guard," the left wing—Schuhardt, Cameron, Reiz and a number of others including the writer, the ones who have always done the real work of the organization here in Terre Haute, those who have stood behind him proud of the honor—I say if he expects us to follow him into the ranks of the enemy, he is very much mistaken. I say it with all the emphasis at my command.

Debs a Deserter.

We have not left 'Gene—he has "deserted" us. We still stand for the class struggle. We stand for a clear Marxian revolutionary "Farmers' and Workers' Government." We stand for the "dictatorship of the proletariat" (the "dirt farmers" and industrial workers). No, he has deserted us.

Of course, 'Gene will have a following here of "hero worshippers" and muddle-heads" (former "lip socialists"), but we refuse to stand aside even for 'Gene if he has spent the best part of his life for the cause, so have we. We stand for a principle and fight for a cause.

I am for the "United Front" Mass Class Workers Party.

I stand behind the American delegation in their endorsement of Zinoviev's report as given on page 4 of the DAILY WORKER of August 1, 1924.

We may be a small band, but we are going to grow in numbers and perhaps 'Gene will find us on the map before the present campaign is over.

The fact that Mrs. LaFollette is a fine old lady does not make my situation one particle easier as I have been forced by an "open shop" fight to be out on strike since May 1. No work. I am going to, as in the past, "vote like I strike."

'Gene says: "I have no Vatican in Moscow to guide me." So he takes a "Vatican" which probably had been in Moscow at some time in the past to guide him (Hillquit).

We expect 'Gene to try to cripple our work in Terre Haute, but we will fight in the open on the solid foundation of the class struggle, of a campaign of education.

With all due courtesy to 'Gene and best wishes for the success of the DAILY WORKER. I am, yours truly,

I. E. Hall.

Ohio Federation, Sept. 8.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Aug. 8.—The 41st annual convention, Ohio State Federation of Labor, opens in Springfield Sept. 8.

BADGER SENATOR BIFFS KLAN ON RELIGIOUS ISSUE

Quotes Dead Prophets Against Kluxers

(Special to The Daily Worker)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Robert Marion LaFollette has finally decided that it is politically expedient for him to come out against the Ku Klux Klan with all its work and pomp. In a letter to Robert P. Scripps, the newspaper magnate, the Wisconsin senator quoted Lincoln and Jefferson against racial and religious bigotry, evidently to show his impartiality toward the spiritual leaders of the republican and democratic parties and incidentally to catch the votes of those who still hug the delusion that the two old parties of today are the heirs of the Lincolnian and Jeffersonian tradition and that what is required to purge the old parties of the accumulated filth of decades is a tidal wave of honesty which "Battlin' Bob" intends to let loose during the election campaign.

Deplores Injection.

LaFollette regrets that the Ku Klux Klan issue was injected into the campaign. All the capitalist politicians do. It should be remembered that this issue was not allowed to disturb the equanimity of the Cleveland convention where "Bob" nominated himself. Coolidge and Davis would echo the opinions of LaFollette as expressed in a letter to Mr. Scripps and quote Jefferson and Lincoln with equal ardor. Both prophets are dead and therefore harmless.

The issue is injected before the voters now, says LaFollette, is getting the government back to the "people." Stripped of all camouflage, this means that small business men and the heterogenous collection of disappointed capitalist misfits who supply the "soul" to the LaFollette movement intend to sit at the table with the big capitalists or know the reason why.

Klan on the Run.

LaFollette reasons that the Ku Klux Klan has reached the zenith of its strength and from now on will rapidly disentegrate. The victory of J. C. Walton in Oklahoma over his enemies will encourage the enemies of the Klan and LaFollette's belated announcement of his position on the hooded knights is expected to catch the Catholic vote, which is off Davis, because one of the hated Bryan family is sitting on the tail end of his bandwagon.

The senator did not refer to the ruthless persecution of the Negroes by the Klan, their anti-strike activities or their anti-radical activities.

Anti-Capitalist War Meetings Bring N. Y. Workers Out to Hear

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—Thousands of workers are participating in the anti-war demonstrations arranged by the Workers Party, local New York. The open-air rallies held thus far have all met with tremendous success.

Great enthusiasm was shown at the demonstrations on Tuesday evening at 138th St., and St. Annes Ave, 10th St. and 2nd Ave, and 7th St. and 2nd Ave. Prominent speakers addressed all the meetings on the meaning of capitalist imperialism and the class position of the international communist movement.

The crowds gathered around the speakers' platform long before the meetings started and remained for hours, listening attentively. References to Foster and Gitlow as the presidential and vice-presidential candidates of the Workers Party were vigorously applauded, as was every mention of the Soviet Republic.

Many more meetings have been scheduled for this week. Arrangements have been made for a demonstration at Columbus Circle, with Benjamin Gitlow as principal speaker.

BROWDER ROASTS BRITISH LABOR PARTY DEFENDER

MacDonald Government Imperialist Tool

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 8.—One of the best debates of recent days took place here Monday night, August 4th, between Earl R. Browder, editor of the Labor Herald, and John L. Jones, former lecturer for the British Labor Party.

The question debated was, "Resolved: That the policy of the British Labor Party is detrimental to the interests of the working class." Comrade Browder took the affirmative and Mr. Jones the negative.

Plays Yellow Socialists.

A the crowd turned out and whooped it up for Comrade Browder's lambasting of the yellow socialist laborites who, now the governmental tools of British imperialism, are trying to attach the English proletariat to the imperialist machine in its bloody business of colonial exploitation. Nor were the miseries of the working class of England one whit lightened by this collaboration with capitalist-imperialism through the Labor Party policy.

Mr. Jones, sadly, did not have the best of the argument. The Labor Party's policy of abolishing the import duty on automobiles, and other widely heralded "constructive" policies, found as little response among Kansas City workers as among those of England.

(Editorial note: The above arrived at the same hour as news of the vicious raid of the "labor" government on the British Communist Party. This seems to settle the debate.)

DAILY WORKER SEEKS TO WIN MARCUS GARVEY'S FOLLOWERS TO THE COMMUNIST PROGRAM

To the DAILY WORKER:—I was absolutely amazed at the apparently friendly attitude of the DAILY WORKER (July 29, 30, 31) towards Marcus Garvey and his clique. Amazed I am when I remember that hardly two years ago practically the entire Negro press of New York with our own comrade, C. V. Briggs, and other comrades of the A. B. B., all did their utmost to expose the schemes of Garvey to fleece Negro workers of their hard-earned dollars with his fraudulent "Black Star Line."

Since I knew that you were fully informed of the struggle by the news releases of the Crusader Service which Comrade Briggs sent you, then the only conclusion I can come to is that Friend Garvey has reformed since he left the Tombs where he was sent after his B. S. L. was found to be a fraudulent affair. This, altho possible, is hardly probable when I recall the corruption that was rampant in his organization and which was exposed not only by the Negro press but also by Claude McKay in the Liberator and by Owen and Randolph in the N. Y. Call.

You will not be surprised at my amazement when you recall also the libel suits for several hundred thousand dollars which Garvey brot against Briggs, The Call and several others and which were all, I think, thrown out of court.

In view of the above, it certainly would be a pleasure to learn that Marcus Garvey has become what the Worker represents him to be.

Hoping to hear from you relative to the above, I am

Fraternally yours,
(Signed) ISRAEL ZIMMERMAN
South Danbury, N. H.

* * *

Our Attitude to Garvey

We welcome the opportunity offered us by Comrade Zimmerman to make clear the following important points involved in his pertinent communication:

We have not changed our fundamental attitude towards Marcus Garvey. We are today as much opposed to his schemes for a Negro promised land in Africa as we ever were. We not only do not endorse but totally repudiate all schemes like Garvey's "Black Star Line" as means of liberating the oppressed and exploited Negro masses. Such commercial-semi-commercial, and fantastic proposals, even when they are conceived in the highest sincerity, do not hold out any hope for the great mass of Negro workers.

Winning Them for Communism.

We are working with the Universal Negro Improvement Association not because its President, Marcus Garvey, has improved enuf or even changed at all in the last two years to suit our view of what the American Negroes must do to win their freedom. As a matter of fact, the reason for our working with the Universal Negro Improvement Association is because we desire to win over the masses, organizationally and ideologically, following this association for the Communist program. We are striving to win these masses away from the useless schemes, away from the false race Messiahs, away from the inadequate and unrealistic program to a revolutionary, to a Communist program.

It is our task in working amongst the masses found here, to supplant the present weak, confused, and hesitating leadership with a virile, class conscious and aggressive Communist leadership. We are aiming to win over these Negro masses to fight under a genuine revolutionary leadership, to fight for the Negro workers, primarily on a class basis, and to unify the struggles of the workers of every country and color.

Reaching the Masses.

In the course of our propaganda and activity in this field, we will not hesitate to expose and mercilessly criticise all those, whether it be Garvey or any other of the present leaders, who stand in the way of the achievement of our fullest program—the Communist program. Today, as two years ago, we were committed to but one purpose in our work amongst the masses—Negroes, Whites, Malays,—the winning over of these workers to complete class consciousness, to unified working class action under the leadership of the world Communist Party, the Communist International. It is not the Garveys, or the other leaders that we are bending all our energies to win, but is is their followers whom we are seeking to make Communists out of and to win for the Communist movement.

IOWA WORKERS MEET SUNDAY TO NOMINATE

Workers Party State Convention, Des Moines

(Special to The Daily Worker)

DES MOINES, Ia., Aug. 8.—Workers and farmers from all over Iowa are showing great interest in the state convention of the Workers Party which is to be held here in Macabees Hall at 1 o'clock on Sunday, August 10. The question of nominating a state ticket is being actively discussed in all parts of the state and it is expected that there will be a great deal of enthusiasm over the coming campaign of the party.

The state convention will endorse the national campaign of William Z. Foster for president and Ben Gitlow for vice-president and will take steps toward getting Workers Party presidential electors put on the state ballot.

Dissipate Illusions.

The workers and farmers are asking many questions on the new program of the Workers Party and are instructing their delegates to get answers from the convention which will clear up many of the delusions of Workers Party opponents.

District organizer J. E. Snyder is conducting a strong organization campaign among the coal miners and reports that the workers are eager to assist in the fight against capitalism in the United States as part of the world revolutionary movement. There will be miners' delegates to the state convention to approve the program of the Communists for the fight for workers' rule.

Everybody Come!

All workers of this vicinity who can come to the state convention are invited and urged to do so by David Coutts, Omaha district secretary. The meeting is promising to be one of the most interesting party gatherings held here for some time and it is of prime importance that every interested worker and farmer take part if possible.

Iowa Stirred Up by Arrest of Klansmen On Assault Charges

(Special to The DAILY WORKER)

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa, Aug. 8.—A tense situation had developed at Anamosa today between the Klan and anti-Klan forces over the arrest of Everett Lemen of Dubuque and Edward Halligan of Monticello, alleged Klansmen, on the charge of "assault with intent to commit great bodily injury" on Thomas and Will McNamara of Anamosa.

The trouble was caused by Lemen and Halligan taking the McNamaras from an automobile which they had forced into a ditch, it charged, with the idea of presenting them at a Klan ceremonial at Anamosa. The McNamaras and a reporter on the Anamosa Journal had been copying numbers of automobile license tags with the idea of learning the identity of the Klansmen, who were attending a ceremonial.

The McNamaras got in their car and started home when they were captured. The reporter hastened to town, obtained the services of the sheriff who forced Lemen and Halligan to release the McNamaras. They immediately got out a warrant for the arrest of the men. The Anamosa Journal broke out with a page one story in which it denounced the entire Klan proceedings.

Uhlmann not Left-Wing Candidate

Thru an error it was reported in the DAILY WORKER that J. J. Uhlmann was nominated in the Chicago Federation of Labor as a delegate to the Illinois Federation convention, as one of the candidates of the left wing. This is an error. Brother Uhlmann does not identify himself with the left wing altho he is in favor of some of the measures advocated by them, and in addition to this, he has declined the nomination on the grounds that he was a delegate last year.

Klan Nerve!

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Aug. 8.—A Ku Klux Klan meeting in the hall of the House of Representatives was dispersed when Governor Hyde issued orders to have the doors of the hall opened.

Walton Leads Field Against Klansman in Oklahoma Primaries

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 8.—Former Governor J. C. Walton, removed from office in the course of his war on the Ku Klux Klan, is running hard on the heels of Congressman E. B. Howard, klan candidate, in the democratic senatorial primaries. Returns from 1,137 precincts out of 2,996 showed Howard, 37,482; Walton, 23,814; Charles J. Wrightsman, 22,793; Thomas P. Gore, 20,722 and Prince Freeling, 6,748.

* * *

TOPEKA, Kans., Aug. 8.—Senator Arthur Capper, millionaire farm journal owner, is leading the field in the republican senatorial primaries. Governor Johnathan M. Davis seems assured of renomination on the democratic ticket, with E. T. Hackney in the van among jackass senatorial contenders.

BE A CHASER

A Book Chaser

Here is an inducement or two.

OFFER NO. 3.

The People's Marx	.75
Dictatorship vs. Democracy, by Leon Trotsky	.50
The Militant Proletariat, by Lewis	.60
Lenin, His Life and Work, by Zinoviev	.15
Total	$2.00
Special till Sept. 1, 1924	$1.00

OFFER NO. 4.

Principles of Scientific Socialism, by Vail	$1.50
Revolutionary Essays, by Burrows	1.00
A B C of Communism, by Bucharin	.50
Total	$3.00
Special till Sept. 1, 1924	$1.50

Any one book at the regular price. Two or more at 33 per cent discount. Get the books and lay down to read them. Order from

LITERATURE DEPARTMENT
WORKERS PARTY
1113 Washington Blvd., Chicago, Ill.

Penetrating Analysis! Burning Criticism! Sound Logic!

THE NEW AND SIGNIFICANT BOOK ENTITLED

The World's Trade Union Movement

By A. LOSOVSKY

General Secretary of the Red International of Labor Unions

In this book, published in March at Moscow, and now made available to American readers, the leader of 13,000,000 trade unionists depicts, dissects, and measures the relation of forces developed before, during, and since the war.

The first book ever written, dealing so comprehensively with this vital subject

William Z. Foster says:

"Here are described every political, economic, and organizational force of the world's trade unions, and their role in the fight, developed since the war, between Reformists and Revolutionists."

112 PAGES, STIFF PAPER COVER, WITH PHOTO OF AUTHOR.

FIFTY CENTS PER COPY.
Bundle orders of ten or more, 35 cents each, with special rate on larger orders.

Trade Union Educational League,
1113 Washington Blvd. Chicago, Ill.

A special edition of this book has also been published for the Workers Party. Branches and members of the party are expected to place their orders with the literature department at the same address.

THE WORLD'S GREATEST TONIC for lowered vitality makes your blood tingle with joy the minute you taste it. Take a wine glass full of before meals and note the improvement of your health in a few days. Order a bottle by coupon below.

LIPSEY'S
BITTERS

LIBSEY PRODUCTS CO.
1133 Foster Ave., Chicago

Enclosed is $1.55. Please send one bottle of LIPSEY'S BITTERS at once.

Name .....
Address .....
City ..... State.....

Money Back Guarantee

"Trade-Mark" Registered 157417

TAKE NO CHANCES
BUY THE ORIGINAL

THE GENUINE
THE RELIABLE

High Test "No Boil" Malt Extract

If you want purity— If you want reliability— If you want results— If you want to save time, worry and fuss—Insist on "No-Boil."

It is the original "No Boil" Malt Extract manufactured solely from the choicest Malted Barley.

For Sale by Leading Dealers

HIGH TEST MALT EXTRACT COMPANY
20 East Eighth Street Chicago, Ill.
Phone Wabash 2580

1917 North Western Avenue
6748 South Halsted Street
605 East 63rd Street
5062 Lincoln Avenue
1503 Roosevelt Road
Leiter Store Basement

Go to eat where all the rest 100% union men and women go

Deutche-Hungarian Restaurant

29 South Halsted St.

Pure Food, Good Service and reasonable prices our motto

RUBBER STAMPS AND SEALS
IN ENGLISH AND IN ALL FOREIGN LANGUAGES
INK PADS, DATERS, RUBBER TYPE ETC.

NOBLER STAMP & SEAL CO.
73 W. VanBuren St.
Phone Wabash 6680
CHICAGO
MAIL ORDERS PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO

AUGUST 10th—SUNDAY
PRESS PICNIC DAY
RIVERVIEW—RAIN OR SHINE

FOR INSURANCE OF ANY KIND
CARL BRODSKY
1123 Broadway, New York City
Tel. Watkins 3626.

MAC'S BOOK STORE
DETROIT
Full line of Sociological and Labor Literature.
Periodicals and Newspapers
27 JOHN R STREET

ED. GARBER
QUALITY SHOES
FOR MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN
2427 LINCOLN AVENUE
CHICAGO
Telephone Diversey 5129

JAY STETLER'S
RESTAURANT
Established 1901
1053 W. Madison St. Chicago
Tel. Monroe 2241

Meet us at the Prudential Restaurant
752 NORTH AVE.
The only place to eat.

ATTENTION! ATTENTION!

PICNIC
Sunday, August 24, 1924
At National Grove
RIVERSIDE, ILL.

Speakers:
BARNEY MASS, Young Workers League and others

ATHLETICS DANCING MUSIC GAMES REFRESHMENTS

Tickets in advance 35c, at the door 50c Gates open 10 A. M.

AUSPICES: YOUNG WORKERS LEAGUE OF CHICAGO AND SOCIETY FOR TECHNICAL AID TO SOVIET RUSSIA

MITCHALL'S
INTERNATIONAL ORCHESTRA
Union Music Furnished
For All Occassions
Write for appointments to
M. MITCHALL,
(Teacher of Saxophone)
1640 W. Congress St. Chicago, Ill.

Tel. Monroe 7281
We Serve Nothing But the Best
VICTORY
Restaurant and Lunch Room
Prones Brothers
1054 West Madison St. Chicago

Res. 1633 S. Trumbull Ave.
Phone Rockwell 5059
MORDECAI SHULMAN
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
701 Association Building
19 S. La Salle Street CHICAGO
Dearborn 8857 Central 4945-4947

FURNISHED ROOMS, APARTMENTS AND BUNGALOWS.

REDS COMING TO WASHINGTON, D. C.
Furnished Rooms, $10 to $25 a Month.
Apartments, $25 to $80 a Month.
Bungalows, $45 to $75 a Month.
Mrs. Bateler, 32 C Street, S. W.
Washington, D. C.

George E. Pashas
COZY LUNCH
2426 Lincoln Avenue
One-half block from Imperial Hall
CHICAGO

Mueller's
RESTAURANT
A good place to eat.
1010 RUSH STREET
Tel. Superior 7079
Downstairs of National Office.

Furnishings
LADIES'
MEN'S INFANTS'
Trade Where Your Money Buys the Most.
Martin's
723 West North Avenue
East of Halsted St.

TOMORROW
SUNDAY
August 10
ADMISSION 35c.
The ticket also entitles holder to reduced rates on all the amusements.

The Workers Party
PRESS PICNIC
WILL BE HELD AT RIVERVIEW PARK

TOMORROW
Support the Communist Press
Auspices: Workers Party, Local Chicago.
All profits for the DAILY WORKER and other party papers.

THE DAILY WORKER.

Published by the DAILY WORKER PUBLISHING CO.,
1113 W. Washington Blvd., Chicago, Ill.
(Phone: Monroe 4712)

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

By mail:
$6.00 per year $3.50...6 months $2.00...3 months

By mail (in Chicago only):
$8.00 per year $4.50...6 months $2.50...3 months

Address all mail and make out checks to
THE DAILY WORKER
1113 W. Washington Blvd. Chicago, Illinois

J. LOUIS ENGDAHL, WILLIAM F. DUNNE } Editors
MORITZ J. LOEB Business Manager

Entered as second-class mail Sept. 21, 1923 at the Post-Office at Chicago, Ill., under the act of March 3, 1879.

290 Advertising rates on application.

The Press Picnic

Sunday one of the most important Workers Party affairs of the season will be held in Riverview Park. It is the Press Picnic. If we only had to consider the amusement which one always finds at our picnics perhaps we might not dignify the occasion with an editorial. But there is something more important.

The press is the most powerful weapon in the hands of the revolutionary movement. Without it we could not reach the masses with the message of Communism. We would not be in a position to expose the capitalist system, for what it is, a system of robbery, murder and corruption. We would not be in a position to show up the plots of the capitalists, their plans that lead to wars and other tragedies. We would not be able to organize the most class conscious workers into a revolutionary party that will lead the workers in their fight to overthrow capitalism and establish the Workers and Farmers Government.

Therefore picnics and such affairs are of great importance to the revolutionary movement because the proceeds provide us with the sinews of war to keep our papers going. With the DAILY WORKER in the field next Sunday's affair will have added interest for the members of our party and those friends who, tho not members of the party, are yet willing to help the DAILY WORKER in every possible way. Every member of the party should assist in making the Press Picnic a success. Be on the job next Sunday and between now and next Sunday sell as many tickets as possible and induce your acquaintances to help swell the crowd at Riverview Park. The money realized from the picnic will go to the DAILY WORKER, and our other papers.

Terror in Finland

In a recent issue we published an appeal from the workers incarcerated in Finland in the Tammisaari prison. It reveals the continuation unto the present day of the horrible persecution begun in 1918 by the German butcher, General Mannerheim, and continued later under the protection of Entente imperialism. Thousands of the best proletarian elements are being slowly murdered by the vicious white-guard dictatorship that stands in the best of good graces of the imperialists of Washington and London.

Appeals to the humanity of the capitalistic governments of the world are as useless as an appeal to the Finnish white-guard government itself would be. But even while the labor movement of western Europe and America is as helpless as it is today, in the grip of agents of capitalism, it is possible to bring pressure to bear upon the authors of this disgraceful torture of workers in Finnish prisons. If the rank and file of the labor movement can be roused to understand what is going on and to protest against it, the first step toward effective action to put an end to it will have been taken.

"Boycott of white-guard Finland by the workers of the world" is the slogan sent out by the prisoners in Finland. That is the first effective step toward removing this disgrace. When the workers become fully advised of the horrible tortures inflicted upon Finnish workers for daring to organize, such a boycott can be made immediately effective. Finland depends, in its economic life, upon the services of workers from many lands, especially the seamen and transportation workers. A "workers' blockade" of the terrorist government of reactionary Fascisti is called for by the suffering of the Finnish working class.

MacDonald Raids the Communists

The British Black Hundreds are still completely in the hands of the employing class, and are still being used unfailingly against the workers. At best MacDonald is only a fig leaf for the ugly capitalist dictatorship that is today dominating Great Britain. At worst MacDonald, like Noske and Scheidemann, becomes the open and uncamouflaged servant of the exploiters.

Herein lies the fundamental and decisive reason for the raid that the notorious international strike breaking agency, the British official Scotland Yards, has just made on the office of the Communist Party of Great Britain. The labor party may nominally have one of its members Prime Minister; but the capitalists are as secure as ever in their tyranny and exploitation, with the MacDonalds and the Snowdens at the official helm.

But beneath the disgraceful incident culminating in the arrest of one of the best fighters of the English working class, John Ross Campbell, the Communist editor, are to be found several other immediate reasons which are of considerable import at this moment. The influences precipitating the holdup of the Communist bureau by the paid protectors of MacDonald's Labor government are of vital significance to our own working class and poor farmers.

It is clearly evident that the strong assurances of support tendered the British imperialists by Hughes, Mellon, Logan, Lamont, Morgan and the other unofficial observers have played their part in making the English capitalists more bold, more aggressive. Very likely the raid was also staged in order to discover "evidence" affording an excuse for the expected breaking up of the conference with the Soviet Russian representatives. Then again, the British working men had organized numerous gigantic demonstrations expressing sympathy with the demands of the Soviet delegates. Therefore, the Communists must be exposed and the militant workers must be terrorized. While the working masses swing to the Left, MacDonald must be swung and swing to the Right.

The despair of the British imperialists and their Labor lackeys is evident. The raid can only help the Communists. More and more MacDonald is dropping his mask.

Political Bedfellows Fight

All is not peace and harmony within the broad political bed of Robert Marlon. Many and various are the squabbles, the hairpullings, the rough maulings administered by one or another group to allies who have joined the "great cruasde' but don't agree how the march into the void is to be conducted. Particularly interesting is the denunciation of the socialists by Matthew Woll for the American Federation of Labor Executive Council.

"The socialist philosophy will never become the intellectual or political guide of American labor," said Mr. Woll, and characterized the S. P. as "a continuously diminishing and completely discredited" organization.

Of course, this point of view expressed by Mr. Woll, which places itself in absolute opposition to even the suggestion that labor shall some day rule society, is nothing new nor is it surprising. It is the ruling attitude in the LaFollette movement, which stands four square for the capitalist system in all its essentials. It is much closer to the view of LaFollette himself than the position of those, like Debs, who piously hope for the future formation of a Labor party and justify their surrender to LaFollette by their own impotent desires.

Such little scraps, resulting in black eyes and injured political feelings, will continue to occur under the political blanket of LaFollette. But we venture to predict that none of them will cause any of the "leaders" to fall out of the bed. The possibilities of office, the joys of "responsibility," and the comfort of having a "great leader" like LaFollette to take responsibilities from their shoulders, are rewards that will hold them all together behind the leadership of Spreckels, Vanderlip and Co.

A Vital Struggle

Of national importance to the clothing workers is the strike now in progress in Philadelphia conducted by the Amalgamated Clothing Workers. It is one of the important sectors in the battle line that stretches into every clothing market in America. Thruout the United States the employers have been pressing for reductions in wages, lowering of working conditions, and general worsening of the status of the clothing workers. All too successful have been these efforts, and nothing could have stopped the retreat of the workers except a real struggle, a real battle against all cuts and unfavorable "readjustments."

A beginning was made to call the employers to order in the New York strike. Unfortunately the bosses were allowed to get away with something in the Chicago market. But the union is realizing that yielding to the employers' demand is suicide, is inviting the bosses to new demands, and the strike now on in Philadelphia is a proof that the membership, and even those workers as yet unorganized, are ready to follow enthusiastically when the union gives them a militant lead. The retreat can easily be stopped in every market, if such a lead is given, and the workers can begin to advance again.

Complete support and co-operation for the Philadelphia strike must and will be forthcoming from all elements in the union. It is a vital struggle that will affect the welfare of every worker in the clothing industry. It must be won. It must be made the basis for organizing the Philadelphia market, for stopping the wage cuts, and for launching a nation-wide demand for a new forward march of the men's clothing workers.

Workers who wonder if their jobs will last over the next pay day, or how to make their wages buy the bare minimum of food, shelter and clothing, should regard with suspicion the "divine right" of their exploiters whose deepest worries are over the Yale-Harvard boat race, or if the lawn party will be spoiled by rain. "Vacation" means nothing to the workers except those of Soviet Russia.

It is not enough that the socialist party repudiated its principles in order to please the labor fakers and the petty bourgeoisie. It is not enough that it joined the Department of Justice in making war on the Communists and reviling Soviet Russia. It still exists on paper and so long as it sticks to the once honorable name of "socialist" it will be obnoxious to Sammy Gompers.

If the co-ed whose snoring routed a burglar could be induced to use an amplifier she might be able to abolish crime all by her lonesome and calm the nerves of the "Hanging Editor" of the Chicago Tribune.

AMSTERDAM LINED UP FOR DAWES PLAN

Communists Offering All the Opposition

(Special to The DAILY WORKER)

LONDON, Aug. 8.—News that the International Federation of Trade Unions, with headquarters at Amsterdam, has received the endorsement of the Dawes plan with great satisfaction establishes the fact that the Communist International is the only powerful movement which is line up in opposition to the policies of the international bankers.

The Amsterdam officials gloss (with mild criticism), over the part the bankers are playing and make much of the supposition that the Ruhr will be evacuated. They hail the Ruhr promises as indicative of a waning of the militaristic spirit but fail to point out that the mortgaging of the German industries to foreign capital is leading to another capitalist war.

German representatives are expected to reach London late today to appear before the inter-allied conference tomorrow morning. The understanding is that they will be consulted regarding the administration of railway and Reichbank affairs in which they will have a fifty-fifty directors' control.

Reports from Berlin are worrying the allied delegates. Communist agitation is gaining strength daily. With the German Nationalist Party assuming an attitude of more hostile neutrality, in place of its firmer action opposition to the Dawes plan, the Communists have the field to themselves in attacking the program.

Bankers and British and French representatives believe that the difficult labor problems that will face the exploiters of Germany can only be handled, if at all, thru the medium of the German bourgeoisie themselves.

Ohio Workers Will Picnic This Sunday

(Special to the DAILY WORKER)

LIVERPOOL, O., Aug. 8.—Workers from Liverpool, East Liverpool, Toronto and Steubenville, Ohio, and Chester, W. Va., and Midland, Pa. will enjoy coming to the picnic arranged for Sunday, Aug. 10, by the Workers Party branch. The place is Pritchard's in Westfield—take the Y. and O. car.

There will be special attractions on the program of entertainment and two or more splendid speakers, in English and in Russian. Everyone is invited to come and bring all his friends.

RIVERVIEW—RAIN OR SHINE
AUGUST 10th—SUNDAY
PRESS PICNIC DAY

AS WE SEE IT

By T. J. O'FLAHERTY.

(Continued from page 1)

national bankers, it would not do for such a prominent tool of high finance as Hughes to ruffle the social-democratic temper by paying a visit to the murderer of one of their gang. That and other reasons should be taken into consideration.

* * *

WHEN the story broke that the Anglo-Russian conference had definitely fizzled, the capitalist editors took out their speediest typewriters and hastened to tell the world that it was impossible to reach an agreement with Soviet Russia and if Britain, the classic land of diplomacy could not deal with the Bolsheviki, how could the United States, a diplomatic virgin, be expected to have any official dealings with them. The break up of the London conference, they said, justified the policy of our secretary of state and his worthy ally, Samuel Gompers. But alas, nothing stays put these days. No sooner had these editorials hit the street than the wires carried another story, to the effect that Britain and Soviet Russia thru their respective official representatives signed treaties, subject to ratification in London and Moscow. This is bad news for Abe Cahan, Sam Gompers and Charles Evans Hughes. The capitalist editors of course, will find a way out of the dilemma.

* * *

IF a revolution breaks out in the Balkans, it will not be due to the desperate conditions forced upon the masses by the bandit governments installed by the allies there after the war for democracy ended, but owing to the activities of Communist agents "under the orders of Moscow."

This much we gather from a story with a Sofia date line, sent by a journalist with the Hibernian name of Collins. It is not difficult to imagine how Mr. Collins gets the dope. The publicity agent of the Bulgarian Fascist government fills him up with fake news and probably with something else that helps stimulate his imagination and we have a perfectly good yarn. The only trouble with the yarn is that there is not a word of truth in it. But who expects truth from the capitalist press? As far as we are concerned, if the stories are snappy samples of prevarication, and not vulgar and witless lies, we are satisfied. Watch out for that Bulgarian revolution!

* * *

THERE are two very interesting trials on now, in the State of Illinois. One is receiving much publicity, the other is barely noticed. One has a sex and emotional interest, the other has political significance. One is the Loeb-Leopold trial before Judge Caverly in the city of Chicago and the other, the hearings before Master in Chancery Briggle, at Springfield, to find out whether or not the governor got away with a large sum of money belonging to Illinois while he was state treasurer. It does not seem to be easy to establish whether Loeb, the murderer of the young Franks boy, was sane, semi-insane, or plain "bug-house." So far, several alienists paid by the defense, have proved to their own satisfaction that emotionally, he was not up to snuff. Other alienists paid by the prosecution will prove that he is sane enough to enjoy his own hanging, which is the future Attorney Crowe has mapped out for him. Loeb does not seem to be making any effort to escape punishment. Perhaps that is a method to prove that he is an emotional "nut."

* * *

GOVERNOR Small is not suspected of insanity, but the testimony in the Loeb-Leopold case is a model of normalcy compared to what was dragged out of Small by Master in Chancery Briggles. Small is charged with taking liberties with state funds. It appears that he loaned money to the packers at a high rate of interest and pocketed the difference in interest between what the state gets from the banks for its deposits and what the packers shelled out. For instance, if the packers paid 8 per cent for the money loaned to them by Small, and the banks only paid 2 per cent on state deposits, Small put 6 per cent in his pocket, turned 2 per cent into the state treasury along with the principal. Of course, Small denies all this, saying that his political enemies are trying to crucify him on a cross of gold.

* * *

THE financial jugglery is said to have been performed thru the medium of the Grant Park bank, owned by Senator Edward Curtis. Small says he put the state's money in Curtis' bank and returned it with the interest. Now, the only part of this story that can be nailed down is what relates to Curtis. It is agreed by both sides to the legal dispute that Curtis existed but there is no record of the Grant Park bank. Where was this mysterious bank? This is where Small has the alienists buffaloed. Without showing any more indications of emotion than "Dickie" did when making a speech to his Teddy Bear, the governor informed the court that this bank was located in a grain shed, and when pressed for the location of the shed, cooly informed them, that it was hit by a cyclone. Undoubtedly, the governor is a serious rival to Munchausen. But he is a capitalist and under the capitalist system, a man who "gets away with it," is honored.

The great crime is in getting caught.

NEGROES EAGER FOR WORKERS PARTY MESSAGE

Comrade Suggests Red Army of Newsies

To the DAILY WORKER:—In today's issue of the DAILY WORKER you carried the open letter of the Workers Party to the convention of the Universal Negro Improvement Association.

While I was riding in the street car reading this article, a Negro woman looked over my shoulder and asked if she could buy a copy of the paper. I gave her mine. She looked over the story and said to me: "Can you get any more of these papers?" I told her that I could. She then gave me the address of a place where a Negro organization was meeting and told me to bring a bundle of the DAILY WORKER and some subscription blanks to the meeting. "Any Negro worker would buy this paper," she told me.

This brought one thing to my mind. It showed why the DAILY WORKER is such a strong factor in the class struggle. The DAILY WORKER took up the struggle of the Negro and connected it with the general class struggle. It made the workers think. It showed that the problem of the Negro worker is the problem of the working class.

I notice that since its existence the DAILY WORKER has done this with every problem. Therein lies the secret of its future success. More power to you. You deserve the untiring support of all workers of all races.

One who reads and works for the success of the DAILY WORKER.

* * *

P. S.—Don't you think that it would be a good idea to form a Red Army of Newsboys to go into the Negro section of the city and sell this issue of the DAILY WORKER to the Negroes? This could be made a permanent army which could go anywhere to sell the paper whenever a story, which interests a particular group of workers, is published.

Klan Picnic Overruns Racine.

RACINE, Wis., Aug. 8.—Racine, a city of 60,000, was host to approximately 100,000 Klan people when the second annual mid-West Ku Klux Klan picnic, barbeque and ceremonial was held at Klan Park. Delegates from almost every city in Wisconsin, Ohio, Illinois, Indiana and Michigan attended. Men marched unmasked in a mammoth parade.

Send in that Subscription Today.

Millions of Copies of Platform Now Being Printed!

How Many Will You Distribute?

The Platform of the Workers Party of America, upon which its candidates William Z. Foster and Benjamin Gitlow, will run, is an analytical yet popular Communist document. In its interpretation of the causes of the economic and political crisis which faces the workers and farmers it is a gem. It slashes into the use of the Government by the capitalists against the workers. The platform in the name of the Workers Party of America calls upon the workers and exploited farmers to: "join it in the struggle to establish the Workers and Farmers Government of the United States."

The immediate program contained in the platform declares for the formation of a mass Farmer-Labor Party; nationalization of the industries, and workers control; government and industry to pay wages of unemployed workers; abolition of injunctions, use of police power in labor disputes; release of political and all class war prisoners; land for its users, and the nationalization of farmers' marketing organizations; freedom for the Philippines, and the recognition of Soviet Russia.

The graphic picture below is reproduced on the first page of the platform. Millions of copies of this two page document are now being printed. Orders for thousands of copies to cover every locality should be placed immediately. Every local union, fraternal organization or other workers organizations should be induced to secure a supply. See that a copy of this Communist platform is in the hands of millions of workers and farmers. Distribute it in the shop, mine, mill and factory.

ORDER NOW! ORDER NOW!

$1.75 per thousand in lots up to ten thousand. $1.50 per thousand in lots of ten thousand or more.

"The idea becomes power when it penetrates the masses." —Karl Marx.

SPECIAL MAGAZINE SUPPLEMENT
THE DAILY WORKER

SECOND SECTION
This magazine supplement will appear every Saturday in The Daily Worker.

AUGUST 9, 1924.

BARREN WISDOM

A REPLY TO LOUIS B. BOUDIN

By Alexander Bittelman

ASSUME for a moment that everything Louis B. Boudin says about the Communists in the July issue of "The American Labor Monthly" is correct. Assume further that his facts, premises, reasoning and conclusions are all faultless. Remember also that in doing so you will have assumed the following:

1. That the Workers Party has been willing to accept LaFollette as the leader of the American labor movement provided he breaks with the Republican Party.

2. The C. E. C. of the Workers Party has definitely assumed the position of the old reformists that whatever is not Big Capital, or "Wall Street," is not capitalist. And with that theoretical position of the old reformists it has also adopted the policies of those reformists: the policy of alliances with small capital against Big Capital.

Then we say to Boudin: Alright! The Workers Party and its C. E. C are absolutely no good. They are reformists of the old school, new school and all future schools put together. They are a hopeless bunch. Now what shall we do? What have you got to propose? The intellectual gymnastics of "The American Labor Monthly" are at times quite enjoyable. When we have nothing eles to do, and your worthy magazine happens to fall across our field of vision, we don't blink but look into it and see what's doing. As a rule, we find what? Meaningless glances, skeptical smiles, derisive gestures, pompous pretensions, and hatred—bitter, burning, undisguised hatred towards the Communists and the militant workers of America generally.

For the moment we might be willing to disregard even this. We would be ready to approach you in the spirit of genuine Christian humanity and speak to you thus:

Louis B. Boudin!

Our land is big and fertile, but there is no order in it; come and rule over us.

We offer you, not LaFollette, the crown of leadership, but tell us, pray, tell us, what is your program? Where do you stand in the struggle between International Reformism and International Communism? What have you got to say regarding the immediate problems of the American workers?

You are a Marxist, of course. We know it from your own mouth, also from "history." But so is, or was, Kautsky, Hilferding and Plechanov.

You are an old-timer, a veteran, so to speak. We see it from your article in "The American Labor Monthly" where you relate battles of long ago between reformism and Marxism in the Socialist Party of America.

All this is very nice, indeed, but somehow we cannot forget the fact that Kautsky too, and Plechanov, had fought reformism and "revisionism" in the pre-war Second International. Didn't they? And yet, you know what became of them when confronted with the real test.

Give Us Something Constructive.

Yes, sir, give us something constructive, something positive, something that we can build on. We are real sick of the sort of political wisdom whose highest and ripest manifestation is a disdainful look and a sour face. Speak out in concrete, positive terms if you really have something to say.

Now, as to your criticisms.

The Workers Party, you say, was willing to offer LaFollette the crown of leadership if he breaks with the Republican Party. You even go as far back as the year 862, the beginning of Russian history, to find a simillie to fit the occasion as you see it.

Let us quote a little of your high grade wisdom.

"It seems that the New Era in the American Labor Movement, to be ushered in under Socialist, or at least Socialist Party, auspices on July 4th at Cleveland, and again under Communist auspices on June 17th, at St. Paul, is to be opened by a joint deputation of these hitherto warring factions to the farming regions to the north of them, there to seek out Senator Robert M. LaFollette with an invitation to come to rule over them. Presumably the message this deputation will deliver to Senator LaFollette in the name of American Labor will say: "Our land is big and fertile, but there is no order in it; come and rule over us."

The above is a sort of a forecast of what was to happen at St. Paul on June 17th and at Cleveland on July 4th. Boudin was quite sure, as can be seen from the quotation, that the St. Paul Convention, under the leadership of the Communists, will offer LaFollette the leadership of the American labor movement.

Presumably, Mr. Boudin says, presumably the Communists will come to LaFollette and will say: Come and rule over us.

Well, it did not happen exactly that way. You know it by now. Instead of offering him a crown the Communists in St. Paul fought LaFollette with every means at their disposal. They exposed and unmasked him at the Convention as was never done before. And in order to make this exposure of LaFollette as an enemy of the workers and exploited farmers still more effective and convincing to the masses who believe in him, the Communists were even willing to offer LaFollette the nomination for president provided:

He runs as the candidate of the Farmer-Labor Party and accepts its program. Provided also—

He accepts the leadership of the National Committee of the Farmer-Labor Party and the latter's control of his campaign funds.

If it can be known that these conditions are tantamount to offering LaFollette a crown or calling upon him to rule over us, then we would be willing to accept the leadership even of Louis B. Boudin.

The friends of LaFollette at St. Paul were bitterly opposed to us putting the above proposal to a vote at the Convention. Why? Because they knew (just as we did) that LaFollette is oposed to a Farmer-Labor Party and will never consent to be its candidate. They also knew (just as we did) that by refusing to accept these conditions LaFollette will definitely expose himself as the real enemy of the working masses thereby alienating from himself the support of certain sections of the workers and exploited farmers. Because of the above reasons William Mahoney and Taylor (of Nebraska) and Starkey of St. Paul were threatening us with a split if we put to a vote our proposal to offer LaFollette the conditional nomination.

You can see now, Mr. Boudin, that on the outcome of the St. Paul Convention you were all wrong. Your presumptions were made a little bit too soon. You really should not have ventured a forecast.

And, by the way, you were a good deal wrong also on the Cleveland Convention, too, not so much regarding its outcome as regarding its nature. To say, as you do, that the Cleveland Conference was to be held under the auspices of the Socialist Party is sheer nonsense. The S. P. is only a part of that outfit, and a subordinate one at that.

CHINA IS AWAKENING

Blame the Communists Again.

Now that Boudin has found himself in a hole due to his venture in forecasting the results of the St. Paul Convention, we have no doubt that this, too, he will blame on the Communists.

He will say: "Well, it aint my fault that the Communists failed to offer LaFollette the cream. According to all available information they (the Communists) were bound to do in St. Paul as I said they will. Then they went ahead and betrayed all their commitments and promises. They simply turned traitors to LaFollette. Am I to blame for it?"

Which takes us to the real heart of the dispute. What was it that the Workers Party actually stood for in this matter of LaFollette?

First: The Workers Party has always considered LaFollette and LaFolletteism a menace to the American labor movement.

Read our party literature, our documents, statements and declarations. Go as far back as the early summer of 1923 and you will find this general idea—the menace of LaFolletteism underlying all of the strategy and tactics of the Workers Party.

We said: This petty-bourgeois struggle of the liberals and progressives within the old capitalist parties is gradually crystalizing into a movement toward a third party. We said further: This third party LaFollette movement will attempt to utilize in the interests of small capital the discontent and political awakening of the working masses of the country, thereby disrupting the movement toward an independent political party of workers and exploited farmers.

On the basis of this analysis, which events proved to be 100 percent correct, we proposed the following policy: Intensify the campaign for a Farmer-Labor Party. Unify all the adherents of independent political action and make them serve as a center of resistance against the deadly dissolution influences of LaFolletteism in the Labor movement. Our slogan was: A United Farmer-Labor ticket in the presidential elections of 1924. It was on this theory that we were working and preparing for the June 17th Convention.

Second: The Workers Party attitude toward LaFollette has always been one of opposition and fight.

Which is merely the logical conclusion of our whole conception of the LaFollette movement. The Workers Party has fought LaFolletteism in all its manifestations, politically and organizationally. A notable instance is our fight in the arrangements committee about the date of the St. Paul Convention that took place in the early spring of this year.

The LaFollettites under pressure of their chief wanted us to postpone the holding of the St. Paul Convention (originally set for May 30th) until after the Convention of the two capitalist parties. The purpose of this move was to prevent the crystallization of a national Farmer-Labor center thus leaving LaFollette a free hand to manipulate the labor forces in the interests of the petty bourgeois.

To this we said: No. We fought the attempt tooth and nail and finally carried our point. The original date had been changed only to June 17th, that is, to a date sufficiently ahead of the conventions of the two old parties to enable us to crystalize a national Farmer-Labor center.

This is merely one of the many in-

(Continued on page 8)

Negro Migration and its Causes

By LOUIS ZOOBOCK.

The recent spectacular movement of the Negroes Northward assumed such large proportions as to overshadow in its results all other movements of the kind in the U. S. The movement is another chapter in the story of the masses struggling to secure better conditions of living and a better life. It is greatly influencing and vitally changing the South; and the Negroes themselves, North and South. While the South is confronted with a serious labor shortage caused by the migration, the North is gaining large numbers of Negroes for its industries. Besides, the cessation of European immigration has made the Negro a very important factor in the national labor situation. Men in industry are looking to the black population as a reservoir of good and thoroly "American" labor to be drawn upon in the future.

Several recent writers have been prone to emphasize the development by the Negro of a "sudden desire to move," but an examination of available data soon reveals the fact that the Negro, ever since the days of his emancipation, has shown a tendenmy to migrate.

From 1875 until 1915, there was a constant, fluctuating stream moving northward. It was a part of the drift of the general population from the rural districts to the cities, and it followed an exodus between 1865 and 1875 similar to the present one. Th breaking up of the plantation system based upon slavery and racial friction of K. K. K. and Reconstruction day were the moving causes of the strikin increase in the movement of that period. Between 1890 and 1900, there was also a considerable increase in the movement due to economic and social disadvantages of the period.

The European war has simply hastened and intensified a movement that has been under way for a half century. Nevertheless, the recent migration, that of the last census, differs from the previous migrations in several important respects. And, first and foremost, in volume or amount. An examination of statistics shows that from 1870 to 1910 the number of Southern born Negroes in the North increased from 146,490 to 415,553, an average decennial increase of 67,000. But in the decade, 1910 to 1920, there was an increase of 321,890 which was more than the aggregate increase of the preceding 40 years.

Since 1920, the migration has shown still greater increase. Thus, during the year ending September 1, 1923, according to data collected by the late Phil H. Brown, the Negro migration from 13 Southern states reached a total of 478,000. Georgia alone, according to figures given by the Bankers' Association of that state, lost for the past three years nearly a quarter of a million Negroes.

Another characteristic of the recent migration is that it has been to a much larger extent than ever before a migration from the far South. The earlier northward migration was mostly from the more northern states of the South. Even as recently as 1910, 48 per cent of the southern born Negroes living in northern states came from two states, Virginia and Kentucky. The migration between 1910 and 1920 reduced the proportion born in these two states to 31.6 per cent. On the other hand the proportion of northern Negroes coming from the states farther South increased 192 per cent of the total number of southern-born Negroes living in the North in 1910 to 40.5 per cent of the total of 1920.

Negroes in the North.

In 1870 the total number of Negroes living in the North was 452,818, but of these 118,071 were in the state of Missouri, which had been a slave state. In 1920 there were 1,472,309 Negroes in the North as compared with 452,818 in 1870. Since 1920, the Negro population in the North has increased consideralby.

The movement of the Negroes to the North is not to this section as a whole, but rather to a few industrial centers. Outside of the large cities, there is only a small Negro population. It is found that 73.4 per cent of the Negro population in the North is living in ten industrial districts as follows:

District	Population
Indianapolis	47,550
Detroit-Toledo	55,918
Cleveland	58,850
Kansas City	45,393
Pittsburgh	88,273
Columbus-Cincinnati	89,651
St. Louis	102,607
Chicago	131,550
Philadelphia	242,343
New York	251,340

The total Negro population of the North is now little more than 2 per cent. The percentage, as we see, is still very small. Only one person in 43 in the northern states is a Negro. If, therefore, the Negroes were evenly distributed over the northern states, to correspond with the distribution of the white population, their numbers would not be large enough to constitute a disturbing factor in the social organism. But, as pointed out, the Negroes are concentrated largely in certain cities where they form a considerable part of the total population. It is this concentration that produced the Negro problem in the North.

The recent exodus has carried off a surprisingly large number of Negroes from many sections of the South. The movement has been confined to no one class entirely: the ignorant and the educated, the inefficient and the capable, the unskilled and the skilled Negroes have gone. They have left both the farming districts of the South as well as the cities. The South's mining, lumbering, and manufacturing districts lost a considerable number of their working forces. Indeed many of the first immigrants came out of the industrial regions of the South. The Northern manufacturers, thru their labor agents, recruited laborers first of all in these districts. These local centers in the South in turn filled up their depleted ranks with farm labor. As a result, in places like Birmingham, Alabama, the center of the South's largest mining and iron manufacturing district, a two-phased migration was taking place: one stream from industrial centers of the South to industrial centers of the North, and the second stream from the rural districts of the South to the industrial centers of the South.

The fact that the recent migration is not only from the country, but also from the city districts of the South; the fact that the migration affected all classes; the fact that the recent migration is but the accentuation of a process which has been going on for more than 50 years, calls naturally for a full discussion of the causes of this mass movement. The forces producing such an effect must be deep-seated and fundamental.

Causes of Migration.

There have been many causes of the exodus of Negroes from the South. And it is almost impossible to consider the importance of each as a separate factor. However, considering them as joint forces, the causes may be classified as underlying and immediate. The former are both economic and social. The main economic causes are: the tenant system of farming, or the landlessness of the Negro farmers, the low wages paid to Negro labor in the South; while some of the underlying social causes have been the desire for better schools, for justice in the courts, for equal political and civil rights, etc. The immediate causes have been the demand for labor in the North during the years of "prosperity," the cessation of immigration, and the activities of labor agents, the persuasion of friends. An examination of some of these causes will give us a clearer understanding of the situation.

The Negro Farmer-Tenant.

The Negro in the South still clings to the soil. His condition as a farmer is very low. He is being reduced to a state of landlessness. In four of the most congested Southern states, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, and Louisiana, containing over 36 per cent of all the Negroes in the country, 83 per cent of them are landless. The per cent of landless farmers actually increased in every Southern state during the past decade. The large plantation owners are gradually taking over the land, thus reducing tenants, white and colored, to a state of unrelieved and helpless peasantry.

The agricultural laborers and the share tenants who are little more than laborers, are low in the industrial scale. They are paid a wage on which they can hardly exist. Many are improvident and constantly in debt.

Their institutions are poor and rendered poorer because of their shifting constituency. A landless people is a hopeless people, and it is not long before hopelessness develops into shiftlessness. A careful observation of farming regions of the South reveals this fact: Negro farmers are most backward in places where they do not or cannot own land. It is in such places that schools are most backward, that home life and morals are most backward. It is in such places that plantation houses are not homes. They are little more than temporary shelter where the laborer remains until the crop is made and then moves on.

To make matters worse, the planters persistently exploit their labor. True, under the share cropping system the landlord furnishes everything except the labor, but in the end he gets everything. Tenants, croppers and other agricultural workers are subject to the overseer's driving and directions. They must respond to the landlord's bell. And when the renter has made his cotton crop he can not sell it. According to the laws of many states, only the landlords can give a clear title to the cotton sold. This gives rise to the frequently deferred settlements of which the tenant farmers, white and colored, complain bitterly. Apparently, in order to secure his labor, the landlord often will not settle for the year's work till late in the spring when the next crop has been "picked." The Negro is then bound hand and foot and must accept the landlord's terms. It is impossible for him to get out of the landlord's clutches.

The Negro, like other sections of our population, is not content with the drudgery, the homelessness, the exploitation, and the cheerlessness and discomfort which surround rural life in the South. And, whenever he is able to get out of his landlord's clutches, he moves to the North expecting to find something better.

Negro Disfranchisement.

Disfranchisement of the Negroes in Southern states is another important cause of the Negro exodus. The fifteenth amendment provided that "the right of citizens of the U. S. to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the U. S. or by any of the states on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude." But the Negro enjoyed the full use of the ballot only so long as federal troops had control of Southern elections. Following their withdrawal, the black man was debarred from the polls. At first the whites used force, intimidation and other extra-legal and illegal devices to accomplish this end. Later, wearied with such methods, the states of the South amended their constitutions in such a way as to achieve the disfranchisement of the Negro without expressly excluding him on the ground of race, color, or previous condition of servitude. Legal restrictions based on the ability to read and write, ownership of property, payment of poll tax, long periods of residence, good character, good understanding of the constitution, military service, and voting ancestors have fully achieved the purposes of those who drafted the amendments; they have deprived the Negro of the ballot.

Educational Disadvantages.

Another source of long slumbering discontent is in the matter of Negro schools. Seven years ago, Dr. Thomas Jesse Jones made a thoro study of the school situation in the South. The results of the study, embodied in bulletins 38 and 39 U. S. Bureau of Education (1917), reveals the great inferiority of the colored schools. Conditions at present are not any better. "The Negro schoolhouses are miserable beyond description. They are usually without comfort, equipment, proper lighting or sanitation. Nearly all the Negroes of school age are crowded into these miserable structures during the short term which the school runs. Most of the teachers are absolutely untrained and have been given certificates by the county board, not because they have passed the examination, but because it is necessary to have some kind of Negro teachers."

In Georgia, as a recent report shows, four-fifths of the colored pupils must meet in church buildings and lodge halls for lack of school buildings. And even these "schools" are wholly without equipment in the way of desks, blackboards, maps, charts, and the like. High schools are badly lacking: "there are less than a dozen junior high schools for colored youths, and only one with a four-year course, while there are more than 100 for whites."

Even in training for their work, the Negroes are not given a fair show, "although the Negro performs 75 per cent of the agricultural labor of our state, there is not a single first-class agricultural school for colored people in Georgia, and only 3 of any kind, and these receive such small appropriations that improvement upon what they are now doing is practically impossible; while there are 12 for whites, one in each congressional district, aside from the State Agricultural College."

As to the funds set aside for higher educational institutions, practically all of them go for the use of the whites. Thus, of a recent appropriation of $750,000 for higher educational insti-

(Continued on page 7.)

The Saw-Mill's Closed!

By Charles Oluf Olsen

The saw-mill's closed, because—so I've been told—
There's too much lumber and it can't be sold!
I scan the daily paper—There I read
Of homeless people. So there must be need,
There must be bitter need, somewhere, it seems,
Of timbers, planks and boards and beams.

The woolen mills are closed, the textile too,
And I'm told,
"There's too much clothing and it can't be sold."
And so it goes—everything—down the line—
This factory and that, and here a mine;
"There's too much coal, too many things to eat,
Too many shoes . . ." And yet—that fellow's feet,
Just look! His toes stick out—

There's thoughts that bother me—my head's not strong—
Maybe I'm crazy! Yet there's something wrong—
I'm glad the saw-mill's closed. Without a doubt
I need a lot of time to figure it out.

An International Conference of Communist Cooperators

BY ALGO.

Since the III. World Congress in July, 1921 the Communist International has taken up Co-operative work as a component part of political work. As is known, the II. International at its congress in Copenhagen in 1910 dealt with the Co-operative question from the point of view of the class struggle, and for its work within the Co-operative movement drew up theses of an ambiguous character with the result that in certain countries very radical phrases could be made use of, while in other countries, on the ground of the same theses, the most blatant opportunism was possible.

Now after three years there exists in the III. International a clearer plan which accords with the Co-operative resolution which comrade Lenin submitted as member of the Co-operative Commission of the II. International in 1910. In order to meet before hand the reformist danger of the individual party members acting as they wish in this important section of party work, the Communist co-operative theses lay it down as the absolute duty of every Communist to be a member of a co-operative society and at the same time to form nuclei in the numerous co-operative scoieties in order that a systematic work by party discipline is assured.

Already in November 1922 there took place in Moscow the first International Conference of Communist co-operators, whose task it was to lay down a theoretically based attitude for the class conscious proletariat with regard to the co-operative question and at the same time to approve the tactics by means of which the co-operatives under reformist leadership could be got into the hands of the class conscious proletariat. This task which the conference undertook, was completely accomplished and was embodied in the co-operative theses of the IV. World Congress. The Enlarged Executive at its sitting in June 1923 extended the co-operative theses in a comprehensive manner and expressly called the attention of the sections of the Comintern to co-operative work.

From the 11th to 17th of July there took place in Moscow the second international conference of Communist Co-operators, in order on the one hand to sum up the results of the co-operative work accomplished in the various countries and on the other hand to state in concrete terms the practical work lying ahead. The conference was attended by 43 delegates from 17 countries and 10 institutions. To the presidium were elected Comrades Chintchuk, Algo and Marran. The conference dealt with a very extensive agenda which included the report of the section and the reports from the various countries. The first two speakers dealt with "the role of the co-operatives in the present period of proletarian revolution," while comrade Algo dealt with the role and the task before the capture of political power by the proletariat. The co-operatives can not only serve as tribunes for revolutionary propaganda among the masses of proletarian housewives and the politically indifferent among the broad strata of the petty bourgeoisie, but they also have the possibility to render moral and material support to all trade-union and proletarian campaigns and to act themselves as class organs by setting up strike funds and acting as suppliers of provisions for the fighting working class. As regards illegal work there are many possibilities offered within the co-operative organizations, whilst co-operative work is admirably suited for the important task of the proletarian united front from below, for the revolutionizing and neutralizing of the masses.

Comrade Chintchuk dealt with the highly important role of the co-operatives during and after the proletarian revolution. Comrade Meschtcheryakov spoke on the international task of the co-operatives, comrade Marran dealt with the question of the trade-unions and the co-operatives, while comrades Stromer and Ostrovskaya spoke upon the women and the co-operative movement. Under the item "miscellaneous," comrade Tishomirov gave an interesting report on the housing co-operative societies in Soviet Russia. All the reports were followed by detailed and thorough discussions.

In the resolution of the section report, it was pointed out that the old decisions of the congress must be carried out with all energy, that a co-operative section must be set up in the party central of every country and that in the general political campaigns, as well as in the press the co-operative work must form an essential part. Resolutions were adopted to the effect that there must be a better mutual exchange of information, that an international co-operative journal, "the co-operatives in the class struggle," must appear regularly, that visits must be arranged to the various countries and a national Communist co-operative conference take place, that co-operative courses must be arranged in the various countries for the education of trained Marxist functionaries, etc. The first three reports are embodied in theses, which lay special stress upon the importance of co-operative work as regards the political education of the backward working masses and of the housewives, and further emphasize the necessity of collaboration with the trade unions, of the fight against fascism and MacDonaldism and the necessity of intensive participation in anti-war propaganda.

Young Communist Groups in Turkestan

Finally, a manifesto to all members of co-operatives was issued, the full text of which is given below.

The Conference has shown that almost everywhere there are comrades possessing the energetic will to link up the co-operative work within the frame of Communist party work. It was repeatedly stated that there was no country where sufficient work has been carried on among that great reservoir of masses of proletarian housewives and petty bourgeois elements, who are organized in the co-operatives. There is scarcely any other organization which is so highly adapted for the realization of the slogan "Into the masses" as the co-operatives.

Manifesto.

To all Co-operators.

To all Workers and Peasants.

To all proletarian Housewives in the world.

The International Cooperative Alliance (London) appealed to all co-operative societies to conduct a campaign on the 5th of July to attract the masses of the workers into the co-operatives. We wish to take advantage of these days when the eyes of the masses are directed towards the co-operatives to issue the following manifesto to all members of the working class conscious of their interests.

What are the co-operatives?

The co-operatives form an enormous organization covering the whole world; its members are recruited from all strata of the oppressed and exploited by capital; it is formed of thousands of separate organizations, tens of thousands of stores and industrial enterprises.

What could this organization become, what power could it exert?

What does it represent in reality? In what manner did the co-operatives demonstrate their power when the hideous nightmare of the imperialist war hovered over Europe? When grasping capitalists drove house-wives to despair? What did the co-operatives do to ameloriate the unheard-of distress of the working class? When and where did the co-operatives really try to place the control of industry into the hands of the workers?

The practical help that the co-operative gave the masses of workers is insignificant. All members of co-operative societies know this and are loudly expressing their dissatisfaction with the present state of affairs. The co-operatives cannot lag behind in the development of the capitalist production. The advance of capital in many countries has seriously affected the co-operatives and thrown them back several years in their development.

The illusions of the reformist leaders of the co-operative movement who thought that they could reconstruct society thru "peaceful" development, are scattered.

All conscious members of the co-operatives are beginning to understand, that it is impossible to improve the conditions of the exploited workers under the capitalist system. The only way is the victory of the social revolution. The slogan of the working class is: "Proletarians! prepare to seize political power." The class conscious members of the class co-operatives are also convinced that this is the right way.

What have the co-operatives done and what could they do to help the emancipation of the working class?

This question is most important for every co-operator. It is high time to reconsider the old theses formulated by the Rochdale pioneers in 1844. It is high time to adapt and develop the theses to suit the epoch we live in. Every co-operator must understand that the idea of political neutrality at a time when fascism is attacking the workers' organizations and ruthlessly destroying the co-operatives, is wrong and may even be disastrous. In Italy the co-operative stores have been plundered and closed, the co-operative leaders have been killed, thrown into prison and kidnapped. Both Communist and reformist leaders have suffered. The strongest workers' co-operative society in Bulgaria, the "Osvobjdchie" ((Emancipation) has been destroyed, and the peasants co-operatives have suffered considerably. Is it possible to talk of neutrality toward the present sate of affairs?

Class Conscious Workers, Women Proletarians!

We call upon you to help us to force the co-operatives to take an active part in the fight of the working class for its emancipation. The value of the co-operative societies consists not only in that they supply products cheaper and pay a dividend, but that they can be of help in the class struggle to free the workers completely from the yoke of the capitalist dic-

You must put yourselves the question: What have our co-operatives done till now? Have they established funds to help the workers during strikes? Have they supported the workers in all their demonstrations, political and trade union, that form the preparatory fights for the seizure of power? Have they formed close connections with the revolutionary trade unions and proletarian parties? Have the town co-operatives closely co-ordinated their activities with those of the country co-operatives and other organizations? What have they done to create and support close economic relations with Soviet Russia? Relations that are so essential to improve the industrial life of the world and thus ease unemployment? What have the co-operatives done to fight the constant danger of war and fascism?

The answer to these questions will show how far the co-operatives have realized the task that confront us in the great fight of the working class. It will show whether they have remained passive to the important international events and whether they have become converted into a useless, commercial, compromising organization in the hands of the reformists.

The co-operatives will only fulfil the historical tasks they are called upon the perform when they become a component part of the proletarian movement and take an active part in the fight of the working class and in this manner help establish a united front between the revolutionary workers and peasants.

We delegates to the Second International Conference are astounded at the successes of the Russian co-operatives and now understand that those achievements were only possible after the proletariat had seized power.

We participants in this conference, delegates from the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, Germany, France, England, Italy, Bulgaria, Jugoslavia, Austria, Poland, Lithuania, Esthonia, U. S. A., Canada, Brazil, Argentine, Spain, turn to you with the following call:

Working men and women, join the co-operatives and make them a weapon of the class war!

Follow the path marked out by our great leader Lenin!

Follow the slogans of the Communist International and the Red Trade Union International in the fight to overthrow capitalism!

Workers of the World, Unite!

Moscow, 17th of June, 1924.

The Second International Conference of Communist Co-operators.

South Side Branch Wants Help to Put Across Race Play

To the DAILY WORKER:—A group of us of the South Side Branch, Workers Party, are promoting a Communist play, and we ask the co-operation of friends, party members and others who can afford a little time for this effective means of propaganda, combined with entertainment.

We have selected a play dealing with Communism and the race situation. Our next step is the selection of the cast. We want to include some others in our group, and at the Press Picnic we want to meet any who might become interested.

I will be near the entrance to the picnic ground between six and six-thirty p. m., and would like to have those interested make themselves known to me. Ask for me at the gate. After introductions a reading of the play will take place.

COME IN CROWDS.

Fraternally your, Andrew Shelly, 826 North Clark St., Chicago.

Send in that Subscription Today.

Civilization Through Bombs

By EARL R. BROWDER

Carrying civilization to the natives of the East and Near East by means of bombs has long been a favorite occupation of British Imperialism.

When the Labour Party formed the Government, however, all the sentimental ladies and gentlemen of the world thought than an era of non-violent and benevolent guardianship toward these weaker brethern was to be inaugurated.

How horrified they were, then, when it became known that British (Labour Government) airplanes have been flying over villages in Irak (Mesopotamia) and dropping bombs upon them, with great loss of life among men, women and children.

• • •

Why does a "Labour Government" blow natives into kingdom-come by means of bombs dropped from the air?

This question was raised thruot the local Labour Parties in England by the Communists who represent their labor unions therein. A flood of demands for explanation poured into the headquarters of the Labour Party and the offices of the Labor M. P. s. An explanation was demanded.

An explanation was given. It was a most illuminating explanation. Mr. William Leach, M. P., Under-Secretary for Air of the Labour Government, explained the matter. And his explanation was a defense of the British military as "invariably the model of chivalry, patience, and good will", who "dislike this work as much as a judge dislikes sentencing a prisoner to death".

• • •

So far so good. Mr. Leach explains that the military forces of the Labour Government do not kill the natives simply out of thirst for blood. They look upon the slaughter as a disagreeable job which they dislike very much. We are also assured that the Labor Government that gives the orders is also much distressed by the necessity to bomb the natives of Irak.

Why, then, the bombings? Ah, it is a simple matter, if you understand Labour Party politics. You see, "we"—the British Government—"accepted the job (from the League of Nations, which means from ourselves) of straightening things out" in this country which had been conquered from the Turks.

"Quite early we converted that country into a monarchy by putting a king on the throne", quietly says this astonishing Labour Secretary.

• • •

Well, the story runs that the natives didn't like the King, Feisal, that Great Britain had so kindly given them. "They have harrassed both him and his Government with insurrectionary raids and sudden onslaughts".

"What could we do?" asks the innocent Mr. Leach, Under-Secretary for Air of the Labour Government.

It might occur to an ordinary member of the Labour Party that the imposed King might be asked to step out in favor of a Government of the choosing of the natives of Irak. But instead

"In pursuance of the mandate, British troops with armoured cars were sent after them over mountainous territory and impassible roads". But the natives got the best of it. "Costs went up enormously", says Mr. Leach, "and it looked for a while as if there was nothing to show for it all".

• • •

Now comes Mr. Leach to the rescue. The army cost too much, and didn't get results. So the airservice steps in. "This gave us prompt knowledge of brewing trouble. Warning notices were dropped which, when disregarded, were followed by bombs."

There! You see how simple it is! The reason whom the, airplanes dropped bombs was because ordinary killings by the army cost too much!

"The new methods produced immediate results", says Mr. Leach. "British casualties in Irak have practically ceased".

Peace and civilization had been established. King Feisal, appointed by Great Britain, was no longer annoyed by protesting natives who didn't want him for a king. The graves of the men, women, and children, killed by bombs from the air, stood as a guarantee of the "stability" of the Feisal government.

• • •

But "we", the Labour Government, didn't start it, protests Mr. Leach. We are not responsible. We merely inherited it. "I am not discussing whether or not we should have accepted the job", says Mr. Leach. But, he says, once we went into the Government we had to carry out the established policies.

And there is the explanation of, not only of the bombings in Irak, but of the whole bankruptcy of the British Labour Party. It looks upon itself as a simple continuance of all Governments that went before. It is bound by the old policies, the old contracts are sacred obligations; it can only hope; thru infinitesimal changes thru years gradually to make the civilization process less bloody and more profitable; it must smother out strike movement of the British workers, carefully it is true, but surely; it is only another bourgeois Government with a Labour camouflage.

• • •

The Leach statement roused a storm of protest thruout the British Labour Party. The smothering of strikes by the British Labour Government had made the rank and file sensitive to bombings of natives in Irak. The Labour daily, HERALD, of London was swamped with letters of indignation. Which gave rise to an even more damning document than that of Leach.

Mr. Hamilton Fyfe, editor of The Daily Herald, was worried about the indignant and astonished protests of his readers. So he wrote an article which he caculated would calm the storm.

If Fyfe's article does not arouse a hurricane that will topple some leaders off the back of the Labour Party, then it will be because that body is corrupted beyond all redemption.

What Fyfe says is this: Of course our hearts are filled with indignation, astonishment, pity, disappointment and alarm. Good! That's the way I feel too. Let us all continue to feel that way, for it's really a good thing—it is our function.

But, says Fyfe, "I am afraid that, were I in his (Leach's) place, I might be behaving exactly as he behaves."

"Let us be fair", says Fyfe. "Those who are in authority can never look at things from the same angle as that from which they looked when they were irresponsible".

"We have put these Labour Ministers into office," he says. "It is unfair to expect them to behave as if they still had no official ties. We on the other hand, can keep our principles unaltered".

• • •

Principles are nice, and we must carefully preserve our moral indignation, but practice—ah, that is entirely different: Such is the attitude of the Labour Government officials and the editor of the Labour daily paper.

Preserve your indignation, for it helps to keep every one feeling righteous and holy; but don't expect a Labour Government to be any different from any other capitalistic Government.

• • •

But the workers are awakening, even in sleepy old England. They are beginning to say:

"To Hell with such a Labour Government, that boasts of being no different from any other".

"To Hell with these leaders who keep their principles in one pocket and their practice in another."

"To Hell with a Labour Party and a Labour Government that is nothing more than a continuation, under camouflage, of the same old imperialistic exploitation backed up with the murder of defenseless men, women, and children."

"If this is what 'peaceful' Labour Government means, then we are ready to turn to the Communists, and establish the dictatorship of the proletariat, the Soviet Republic of Britain."

News From the Class Struggle Front

By ART SHIELDS.

This article which the editor of the DAILY WORKER magazine section asked me to write is addressed to the voluntary correspondents whom he wants to get on the job.

I wish to put over this idea—that the influence of a revolutionary labor paper depends on the activity of the voluntary correspondents from whom the paper must get a large part of its news.

NEWS! That is the stuff that makes a paper if it is abundant and interesting—and kills the circulation if it isn't suplied promptly. The circulation of a newspaper depends firstly on its news columns. Editorials have their importance in clinching the ideas developed from the news but they don't break the ice into the big circulation pond as live news does. And it hardly seems to need stating that a sucessful appeal to the masses is impossible unless the masses are hearing the message.

I do not wish the reader to think that I regard the news columns as mere bait to catch a subscriber for the editorials and special articles. I am arguing for the news for its own sake. I believe that no other department of a labor paper has the educational value of the news pages if these really mirror the class struggle with accuracy. I am confident that nothing stirs a worker to action in this struggle as the running news picture of the fight itself.

News From 48 States.

Ae revolutionary labor newspaper must burn with the news from the class war front of its city, country and the world—but first of all with the news close to home because that is what relates immediately to the life of the worker. Its columns must illuminate the garment and steel strikes of its city, the stockyard "jungles" and "Western Electrics." If it is a national newspaper it must flash back the significant events of the farms and factories of the 48 states. It MUST do this to awaken national interest and achieve power.

This news must be told in your workingclass newspaper but if the telling of it depends on the unaided efforts of the small staff which a class conscious labor paper can maintain then the reader will have to go hungry for most of the facts he bought the paper to find. A paper which does not get and does not want the support of the department store, banks and railroads that make possible the huge staffs of capitalist newspapers has to operate on a very low cost basis. Newspaper cemeteries are dotted with the crosses of labor papers that tried to run on too large an overhead. To live, a revolutionary labor paper has to cut its paid staff down to the bone, perhaps down to a bare five editors, assistants and reporters.

This means that the voluntary correspondent has to put his shoulder to the wheel if the nation's news is to be done. Fortunately he is beginning to do it. But he needs to be spurred into ten times as much action as he is yet showing.

Much Big News Now.

Think of all the live news that is breaking today. A report has just come in of a strike of steel workers at McKee's Rocks. can imagine how the editor of the DAILY WORKER is fuming if the local correspondents are not supplying the details. The Ku Klux Klan and the shipping trust has been raiding the wobbly marine workers at San Pedro. Fiendish atrocities: little girls scalded near to death in boiling coffee vats; men frightfully beaten by the gangsters but undaunted in their fight to organize the seamen and longshoremen. One good story comes in, then silence. The labor world wants to know what happens. The paper doesn't tell them because the local comrades just neglected to put their pens to paper.

These are events that are taking place or have recently occurred. They can be multiplied by the dozen. At the present time there is a cloakmakers' strike in Baltimore; there are Amalgamated Clothing Workers' strikes in New York, assaults on free speech in Pennsylvania, important political developments in Minnesota and a host of other happenings in the labor world. An ocean of news, much of which is printed and much of which is passed over because the correspondents have not been on the job.

To the extent to which the correspondents are supplying this news to that extent the paper becomes a force in their locality.

Active radicals accept the idea that the revolutionary press is their strong weapon in the fight. They get up picnics to raise money for the press and they hustle out selling the paper. But not many of them realize the aid they can give to their paper by SENDING IN THE NEWS.

Workers' News in Russia.

Over in Russia the workers have learned to send in the news. Anna Louise Strong told about it at the annual dinner of the Federated Press in Chicago last January. In Moscow and other Soviet cities the individual workers' stories fresh from the job are prominently displayed. They increase the circulation of the paper and they supply the specific data from the job which leads to the installathion of better management methods. If a technician is slighting his work he is likely to read about himself when he least expects it. If a new invention is applied in an industry the workers on the job tell how it sizes up.

Here in America there is no workers' administration of industry just yet but there is a fight for this goal and there are revolutionary papers that are aiding in this fight. The intelligent workers' duty is to keep his paper posted about the fight in his locality. As in Russia this voluntary correspondence will not only increase circulation—the first requisite for newspaper power—but it supplies the facts about the class war battles which other workers must have to check up with their own experience and improve their tactics of warfare against the common enemy.

If the Russian workers, most of whom could not read or write until after the revolution, can SEND IN THE NEWS the American workers can also.

In another article I will tell how easy it is to write news reports, the easiest form of composition. There are a few simple rules to follow and Presto! the thing is done.

Triolet

By Henry George Weiss

You can say what you like,
It's all very true,
(I'm speaking of Mike),
You can say what you like;
But not when you strike!
The judge sent him thru.
You can say what you like!

Russian Air Service.

MOSCOW, Aug. 8.—Beside the Moscow-Kenigsberg air line, which is run regularly every day by the "Derulft" Company, the Junkers Co. has opened new air routes Leningrad-Moscow-Kharkov-Rostov and Batum-Tiflis-Baku (Caucasus), while the"Dobrelet" (Russian Volunteer Air Fleet) has inaugurated a Moscow-Hijni-Novgorod-Kazan line.

DANKO -:- -:-

By MAXIM GORKI

In olden time there dwelt a certain race of men on earth. I do not know where they lived. I only know that vast trackless forests surrounded their encampments on three sides, and on the fourth lay the steppe. They were strong, brave and merry men, content with little.... They may have been gypsies. And lo, one day trouble came upon them. Alien tribes appeared who drove them into the depth of the forest. There darkness brooded over the marshy ground, for the forest was old and tall, and so thickly were the boughs interwoven that the sky was invisible through them and the sun could not pierce through the thick leafage to the bogs. And old rays of light strike the stagnant water of the marshes, a stench arose, whereby men perished. And then their women and children rose up crying, and the fathers grew thoughtful and sad. They must needs leave the forest, but only two roads led away from it: one—back to their old haunts, where the fierce and mighty foe lay in wait, the other—forward where stood the giant trees, their boughs embracing each other, their gnarled roots deep in the clutching mire of the marshes. While day lasted the trees stood silent and motionless in a grey twilight, and of evenings, when the fires were lit, they crowded closer about the tribe. And the people were ever surrounded by a suffocating circle, they who were wonted to the free spaces of the steppes. And even more terrible was it when the wind beat upon the tree-tops and the forest resounded with muffled thunder, as it were tolling the death-knell of those who had found refuge there..... And the men sat and pondered through the long nights, to the voice of the forest's muffled thunder, in the poisonous stench of the marshes. There they sat, while shadows thrown by the boughs leapt round them in a silent dance, and these seemed to them not playing shadows, but the gestures of the evil spirits of forest and bog in their triumph.... They sat, they pondered. There is nothing, neither work nor women, that so drains the bodies and souls of men as do the sad thoughts that suck the heart like snakes. And the men grew weak with thinking.... Fear rose among them, fettering the strong arms, and terror sprang from the mourning of the women before the corpses of the dead and over the fate of the living—and cowardly words began to be heard in the forest, spoken low at first, then louder and louder.. Already some wished to surrender themselves and their will to the foe, and none had fear any more of the life of a slave.... But now came Danko and saved them all.

Danko was young and beautiful to look upon. The beautiful are always brave. And he said to his comrades: "Reflection will not alter the course of a stone. Who dares naught, achieves naught. Why waste our powers on sorrowful meditation. Rise, let us go into the forest and pass through it. It must have an end—all things have an end. Forward!"

The people looked at him and they saw that he was the first among them all, for stregth and fire burned in his eyes.

"Lead us," they said.

So he led them. Danko. All followed him and all trusted him. The road was difficult! Darkness fell about them and at every step the marsh yawned with foul and eager jaws, swallowing men, and the trees reared a mighty wall across the path. The boughs were intertwined like snakes, and the roots stretched in all directions, and each step cost blood and sweat to the marching host. Long, long they marched. The forest grew denser, and their strength melted! And then they began to murmur against Danko, saying that it was on a vain journey that he, in his youth and inexperience, undertook to lead them. But he moved at their head, confident and serene.

But once a storm burst over the forest and the trees roared with a muffled tumult. And it grew as dark in the forest as though all the nights that ever fell upon earth had gathered there. Tiny men trudged on amidst high trees in the fierce play of lightnings, and the giant trees swayed, intoning angrily, and lightnings, flying over the tree-tops, lit them for a moment with cold blue light, and vanished as swiftly as they had come, terrifying the people. The trees, lit with the cold fires of the lightnings, looked alive. They streched their long, gnarled hands, reaching after the people, who fled from the prisoning darkness. They wove their arms into a net, trying to catch the people. Chill terror looked at them from the blackness of the boughs.

....The road was difficult, and the men felt a sinking of the spirit. But they were ashamed to acknowledge their weakness, and with vicious wrath they turned against Danko, the man who led them. And they began to scorn him for his inability to govern them. They halted and to the triumphant roar of the forest in the quivering darkness, tired and troubled, they began to denounce Danko.

"You are a puny soul! You do us injury! You led us and you outwearied us," they said, and for that you shall perish."

And the lightnings and thunder confirmed their verdict.

"You said, 'Lead us,' and I did so," cried Danko, thrusting out his chest. "I have the courage of leadership and so I led you. And you—what have you done to help yourselves? Your courage does not last through a long journey. You travel like a flock of sheep."

His words only inflamed their anger.

"You shall die! You shall die!" they shouted.

And the forest roared, answering their cry. And the lightnings tore the darkness into shreds. Danko looked at those for whose sake he had made his effort, and saw that they were even as beasts. Many men stood about, but there was no nobility in their faces. He could not hope to be spared by them. Then indignation boiled up in his heart, but it was extinguished by pity. He loved these people, and he feared that perhaps without him they would perish. And lo, his heart was aflame with the fire of desire to save them and to lead them upon an easy road. And the light of that fire sparkled in his eyes. But they, beholding his burning eyes-thought he had grown furious, and they became as wary as wolves. They pressed closer, so that they might the more easily seize and slay him. But he knew at once what was in their minds, and therefore his heart burned within him all the more brightly. Still the forest sang its gloomy song, and the thunder resounded and the rain poured down.

"What shall I do for the people?" cried Danko, outshouting the thunder. And suddenly he tore his chest open with his hands, and wrenched out his heart, and held it high above the heads of the multitude.

It blazed as brightly as the sun, nay, brighter. And the forest grew silent, lit with this torch of surpassing love for mankind. And the darkness fled before it, and in the depths of the thicket, shivering, it was swallowed by the foul jaws of the marsh. The people turned to stone with amazement.

"Forward!" cried Danko.

And he leapt to the van of the marchers, holding high his burning heart, and therewith lighting the road. They flocked after him, curious and fascinated. Then once more the forest lifted its voice, swaying the treetops in wonderment, but the roar was lost in the tramp of Danko's followers. All forged on, swiftly and bravely, drawn by the miraculous spectacle of the burning heart. And some perished, but they perished without plaints or tears. And Danko was marching before them, and his heart burned and blazed.

And lo, suddenly the forest parted for them, parted and remained behind dense and dumb. And Danko with his followers plunged into a sea of sunlight and pure, rain-washed air. The storm was there behind them, above the forest. But here the sun shone, the steppe breathed gently, the grass scintillated with rain-drops, and the golden river glittered. It was evening, and the river grew crimson in the sunset, like that blood which pulsed in a hot stream from Danko's torn chest.

Proud in his passing, Danko glanced before him at the broad spaces of the steppe. He cast a joyous glance toward the free lands that unfolded before his eyes, and laughed triumphantly. Then he sank in death. The amazed trees behind him whispered softly, and the grass stained with his blood murmured in answer.

Meanwhile the people, joyous and full of hope, did not notice his death, and did not see that Danko's brave heart was still blazing beside his corpse. One man only, a cautious man beheld it, and moved by a vague fear he trod upon the proud heart. And as it crumbled, its sparks were scattered and extinguished forever.

MAXIM GORKI.

Book Reviews

AS SOME SEE THE NEGRO

By GEO. McLAUGHLIN

The May, June and July issues of the "World's Work" contain a remarkable series on the Negro. It is remarkable since the author honestly tells what he saw without Race prejudice, without anti-labor bias. In the "World's Work" this—marvelous. His mistakes—and they are dazzling—are due to ignorance alone.

He tells (July) of the reception Claude McKay received in Russia. He tells too that Gene Debs kissed a black girl at a negro meeting. This typifies the communist and socialist position, he says. The Communists want the Negro to join hands in the huge task of fighting for freedom. The socialist is willing to kiss. Judas once gave a kiss. The author sees what a fertile revolutionary field the Race is. He is wiser than many of my comrades.

Naivete

The June issue is exquisitely naive on the labor movement. He says "there has been some ground" for the charge that the unions exclude Negroes. The unions are different now. His proof? Some twenty needle trade unions inserted May day greetings in the "Messenger"! (This was a disgusting misuse of union funds. The magazine felt no call to give space to May Day or the labor movement or the poor Negroes, but devoted pages and pages to two successful Negro parasites—one an insurance man, one a real estate dealer. Why should such a paper be supported by union funds?)

He discusses soberly the influence of Gompers among the black masses. He thinks it would be infinitely greater were he black—ebony black if possible! Imagine Sammy sighing sadly because he is not the hue to appeal to—the Negro highbrows. That is the heart of the matter. All this twaddle represents the information given the author by the Negro "leaders". The ignorance of these gentry is incredible.

Negro "Wealth"

The author discusses the Black Belt. It is acutely comic. In spite of my literary fastidiousness. I quote: "costly rugs", "a library replete with sumptuously bound volumes", "abundant silver gleaming superbly". He tells of costly cars, of Race pride, of colored girls in riding breeches or in fashionably expensive costumes. In the name of Denmark Vesey, is this the Black Belt? I too have studied the Belt. Not .01 per cent live in luxury, not more than 2 per cent live in comfort. For the rest—it's hell. A Negro who lives in a well built brick house, with sewer, running water, and electric light is lucky, remarkably lucky. A hideous per centage have outside privies and flies swarm from there to their food. The barns of America are better built than the hovels of the Negroes.

Gallant "Defenders."

Mayors of the sixty Illinois cities with populations of 10,000 or more will meet at the Chicago. Athletic Club at the invitation of the Illinois defense day test committee this evening. Plans for the state-wide observance of defense day will be discussed.

India's Revolutionary League

BY A HINDU.

The Jingoistic summing up of Justice McCardie, in the Nair-O'Dwyer libel case, which shows a definite Americanization of a British legal procedure, or should one say Mussolinization?—has merely aggravated what is already a ticklish situation in that great portion of the British Empire, India. The chief of the Amritsar massacre, who was suing, has gained little by his victory.

It has refreshed the memory of Amritsar in the minds of Indians—if, indeed, the memory of that wanton massacre had at all faded. It has helped to shatter what remains of their belief in British justice, not because of the technical verdict in the case, but because of the exoneration, gratuitiously pronounced by Mr. Justice McCardie, of General Dwyer, who was really responsible for the horrible deed.

It has always been a fair illusion, hugged fondly to the bosoms of the British liberals, that there is some peculiarly unique quality of impartiality about the British bench. It has been an attitude of self-righteousness; we are not as others are, they said, in warm self-congratulation, comparing the icy aloofness of British judges to the furious class partiality of America, and other jurists.

"Impartial" Judges—Bunk!

And this conception has been, in some measure, accepted by our colonial people. It was, perhaps, their last scrap of confidence in British institutions. Now, after the harangue of Mr. Justice McCardie — in which he showed an admirable and honest, even if somewhat ill-advised, class loyalty —even this last shred of confidence is gone. Well, let it be so; it is to be welcomed, as precipitating the realization, by Indians, that only their own efforts can save them.

In India, at present, the nationalist movement is in the throes of change and disagreement. Of one thing, I think we can be certain: the star of Gandhi is at last on the wane. This leader has shown all the indecision, the fluctuation and vacillation, typical of the idealistic pacifist. He has been desirous of freeing India by harking back to a period forever dead.

Ghandi Failed.

He gave the Indians an idylic picture of India as it once was, in the days of the village craftsman, before the introduction of large-scale industry. He preached the way of freedom by a reversion to homespun cloth, and by the use of "spirit force." And, like most such intransigeant dreamers, when the moment for decision came, he faltered and was lost. After preaching civil disobedience, he feared, when the moment came, to order it. He missed his opportunity; and he is finished as the supreme leader of Indian nationalism. This is not to say that he is utterly discredited; he still has a considerable following. But other leaders, and other methods, have sprung up.

Whereas Ghandi opposed all participation in India parliamentary processes, the present majority leaders of the Nationalist Congress, C. R. Das, Molital Nehru and others, advocated that Nationalists should stand for election to the Provincial and National Councils, but that, once elected, they should pursue a policy of obstruction.

They recognized the futility of attempting to use the existing political apparatus of India, for the securing of national emancipation, but they did not ignore the opportunities afforded by elections and membership of elected bodies for propaganda, and for showing that these bodies could not secure the ends desired. Whether they will stay by this policy, is another question. They may succumb to the temptations that beset elected persons who are not controlled by the strict discipline of a highly conscious political party.

Recently, a conference took place between Das and Nehru, on the one hand, and Ghandi, on the other. Agreement, however, on a common policy for the Home Rule movement, was impossible; and the two parties to the discussion issued separate statements. These showed fundamental tactical differences between the non-cooperation policy of Ghandi and the obstructionist tactics of the Swarajists led by Das and Nehru.

Industrialism Grows.

And, while Indian Nationalism hammers out the differences inevitably arising from the transitional stage thru which India itself is passing—the growth of Indian machine industry, and of a native bourgeoisie—the Indian masses are slowly coming to a glimmering of the important role which they must play in the course of future developments.

Strikes are becoming more and more frequent in India. And they are accompanied by all the features of the most violent industrial warfare. The shooting down of striking workers in Bombay, in the Cawnpore mills, is but part of the tragic unfolding of the history of Indian wage-slavery. And the recent industrial troubles are also providing us with the spectacles of the United Front between the armed forces of the foreign imperialist rulers—the British—and the Indian capitalists.

While the Indian bourgeoisie may be eager to bring about a separation from the Empire, they are by no means anxious to see the Indian working class emancipate itself from the thrall of capitalism, British or Indian. They even oppose the most modest demands of the exploited native workers. They want, not India for the Indians, but India for the Indian capitalists, bureaucrats and intellectuals.

United Front With Nationalists Now.

And the Indian trade union leaders are also by no means the militant leaders which the workers need. They are far more closely allied with the middle class nationalist element, than with the proletariat.

Yet, in the present stage of the Indian movement, it is the duty of all revolutionists to support the nationalist movement, to support the movement against imperialism, while, at the same time, endeavoring, by every means, to base it ever more upon the mass action of the workers and peasants, to link it up with their economic and social demands, and to give it an increasingly leftward orientation.

It is for such activities, for the endeavor to form a mass political party of workers and peasants in India, that four Indian workers have recently been sentenced to four years' rigorous imprisonment. And this despite the fact that the assessors, who in India, assist the judge in the trial, differed as to the guilt of the defendants.

Four Communists Jailed.

They were Communists, it appears, these four Indian workers; and therefore, they must go to prison. And this, it must be remembered, took place when the central ruling body of the Empire—the British government—was a Labor Gopernment.

Well, it was really to be expected. Only a few weeks ago, the daily press stated that officials of the India office had just inspected some new tanks. These were tanks of an improved type, specially adapted for street fighting, and were to be sent to India.

And so our brilliant Fabian "socialist" sits in the India office, issuing bland and empty statements of amity for the Indian people, and sending tanks over to prove to them the friendship of the British labor government. 'Tis a pretty picture, upon which our I. L. P. friends must needs gaze with surprise and sorrow, if, indeed, they retain any of their old ideals of freedom and internationalism.

An International Language

A Letter to the Editor.

Dear Comrade:—I hasten to congratulate you on publishing the article called "Qur Language Problem" in Saturday's Magazine Section. But the fifth and last section of it was bunk. Here is a word for word copy of an official statement by the Secretariat of Comintern, delivered in the hands of Comrade E. Lanty of Paris, referring to this question:

The Executive Committee of the Communist International.
No. 1455. Moscow, Aug. 14, 1922.

Comrade E. Lanty, delegated by the Esperantist Organization "Sennacieca Asocio Tutmonda," with approval of the International Secretariat of the French Communist Party, having come to Moscow for the purpose of investigating the work of "Study Commission for the Adoption of an Auxiliary Language in the Communist International, is officially informed that this committee is already dissolved and that the Communist International has not made any decision concerning the adoption of either Esperanto or Ido.

The Secretariat of The E. C. of the C. I. Rakoshi.

A similar statement has also been received from the People's Commissariat for Education in the Republic of Abkhazia.

* * *

There are two sides to every question, the theoretical and the practical. The article in Saturday's Magazine Section entitled "Our Language Problem" from the theoretical point of view, in pointing out in clear terms the need of an international langue. But when we come to the practical side, the introduction and application of such a language, then our troubles begin. For if we start talking Ido propaganda at the present time when Esperanto has travelled the greater part of the road to universal adoption, we only cause confusion, and our work and trouble will have no practical results.

We need not be guided by the so-called "Study Commission" of the Comintern, inasmuch as the Executive Committee of the Comintern will have nothing more to do with it. It was dissolved more than two years ago, and the Comintern has as yet made no decision whatever on the adoption of any international language. And the others who are said to recommend Ido have simply been fooled to do so with the understanding that the Commission of the Comintern was official.

Esperanto has at least ten times the number of followers that Ido has ever claimed, and it has fifty times bigger chance of being the future international language. And this is a very conservative estimate. Why then should we try to hinder evolution and progress by throwing confusion into the public mind, advertising rival schemes.

Those who are really interested in this question ought to read "A Short History of the International Language Movement," by Guerard, published by Boni and Liveright, New York. He is neither Esperantist nor Idist and is therefore an impartial authority. Also "Esperanto and its Critics" by E. W. Collinson, Professor of German and Hon. Lecturer in Comparative Philology, University of Liverpool, ought to be read. It can be ordered from Scand. Esperanto Inst., Rockford, Ill., for only five cents.—Karl Froding.

RUSSIA'S REMARKABLE REVIVAL

Just as the average capitalist newspaper persisted for years after the Bolshevist November revolution in running daily fairy tales about the "overthrowal of the soviets"—so are the same capitalist papers continuing now to speak of Russia as "in ruins" and its people "victims of starvation and chaos' and so on. After many years only the most daring of these liars will now venture so far as the old yarns about the "impending overthrowal or collapse of the soviet government." But the "ruin-famine-and-chaos lie is still going strong.

For this reason it is important that the labor press circulate the facts about the remarkable revival of production under the soviets and how Communist control is bringing ever better conditions for the workers while in other countries—including America—the life of the workers becomes more miserable and hopeless every day.

It is with considerable joy, therefore, that we read in the LABOR HERALD for July, a thorough and graphic description of both industrial and human reconstruction after the long years of war and revolution. Moreover, the article is authoritative, since it is written by Wm. Z. Foster who has just returned from his second visit to the Workers' Republic under the title "Russia in 1924."

All is changed,' says Foster, "since my visit in 1921. The workers are stronger and healthier. To prove this it is not necessary to have recourse to statistics. It is patent to the naked eye. The average man is 20 to 30 pounds heavier than in 1921. The crowds are full of life and energy."

Another short and interesting note in the July LABOR HERALD on this subject quotes the official paper of Moscow, "Economic Life"—the authority heeded by capitalist and Communist alike—to the effect that the English pound sterling, matched against the new gold money of the soviets on the Russian market, fell 23 per cent between January 1st and April 5th. It will be astonishing to all our 100 per centers to learn that our 100 American dollar compared to this Bolshevik ruble fell 12 per cent in the same three months! The LABOR HERALD is the first publication in America, so far as known, which has given this significant fact attention.

Rondeau

By Henry George Weiss

With tar and rope the Ku Klux Klan
Would regulate its fellowman,
And hold thru fear the colored race
Oppressed and martyred in their place,
Would strangle freedom with its plan.

Ah! shade of Lincoln, stoop and scan
This white-hood mob that seeks to fan
Hate into flame, and thus disgrace
With tar and rope.

Is it but six score years that span
Your day from this?—Oh, tell me, can
You look on them without a trace
Of shame and ire on your face?
You did not spell AMERICAN
With tar and rope!

Facilities for Trade with Soviet Russia

BY ECONOMICUS.

THE foreign trade monopoly, which was introduced in Russia by the decree of April 22, 1918, implies the concentration of all foreign trade operations in the hands of the State. By the decree above-mentioned concerning the nationalization of foreign trade, every transaction between the U. S. S. R. and foreign countries is made thru specially authorized government organizations. Any other commercial dealings with foreign countries are prohibited.

The State organization for the conduct of foreign trade was finally set up in June, 1920, with the institution of the People's Commissariat for Foreign Trade. At that period the monopoly of foreign trade bore a strictly centralized character, no other State, co-operative, or private organization, except for the Foreign Trade Commissariat, being allowed to enter into foreign commercial relations.

The New Economic Policy.

With the development of the new economic policy a reconstruction of the Foreign Trade Commissariat became necessary.

By a decree dated August 9, 1921, the Foreign Trade Commissariat was authorized to direct all operations in providing raw material for the different government institutions as well as its own independent provision of exportable goods.

In April, 1922, a further reorganization took place, including the foundation, under control of the Commissariat, the State Export and Import Department (the Gostorg).

On March 13, 1922, by a decision of the All-Russian Central Executive Committee, some state enterprises were given the right to conduct foreign trade independently on condition that their contracts would be presented for approval to the Foreign Trade Commisariat or its Foreign Trade representatives. To secure closer co-operation between the Foreign Trade Commissariat and the different institutions, representatives of the Supreme Economic Council were added to the staff of the principal trade delegation. In addition, the Central Union of Co-operative Associations (Centrosoyus) received the right to conclude, under the control of the Foreign Trade Commissariat, independent contracts with foreign co-operative associations, and to have its own representatives abroad.

Finally, by order of the Central Executive Committee on March 13, 1923, the foundation of mixed companies was decided upon, with the Foreign Trade Commissariat or other similar body taking part in export trade and of controlling special branches of export; they are at the same time permitted to build their own apparatus for this purpose.

Special Bodies.

With the further development and differentiation of the separate branches of foreign trade, a number of special institutions for the sale of different classes of export, with the Foreign Trade Commissariat as partners, have been organized, such, for instance, as the Estailotorg, Nephtexport, Inotorg, and a number of exporting companies.

Increasing activity made a further reorgaization necessary. By a decree of October 16, 1922, the more important State enterprise received the right to conduct independent commercial operations abroad.

They were compelled to inform the Foreign Trade Commissariat of every proposed business transaction, and the latter had the right of veto if necessary.

The rights of these organizations which were admitted to participation in foreign trade were more precisely fixed by a series of degrees published on April 12, 1123. The first of these decrees lays down that the Trade Delegation of the U. S. S. R. must be considered the fundamental commercial organs of the U. S. S. R. abroad. The industrial State enterprises which have the right of conducting foreign trade operations can only buy and sell goods which they themselves produce or which their own industry is in need of. In some special cases, connected with the necessity of buying foreign currency, some exceptions may be made as regards the sale abroad of goods purchased in the U. S. S. R.

Licenses.

The second decree of April 12, 1923, deals with the general principles and machinery for the State regulation of foreign trade, and particularly with the fixing of the quantity which may be exported or imported in the case of articles subject to such restorations, and with the issue of certificates and licenses for such operations.

Foreign Trade Facilities.

The quantities which can be exported or imported are fixed by the Council of Labor and Defense on recommendations from the Commissariat for Foreign Trade and State Economic Planning Commission. The Foreign Trade Commissariat and its local representatives allot the proportion of these quantities to the different State enterprises and other organizations.

The right to import and export goods must be proved by means of (1) certificates, and (2) licenses. The latter give permission to conclude separate transactions. Usually the issue of certificates and licenses is in the hands only of the Foreign Trade Commissariat and its local organs, in some cases after preliminary approval of a special export bureau.

The holders of licenses must present them to the representatives of the Foreign Trade Commissariat abroad (Torgpred), but, if they have more profitable propositions made to them directly by private foreign firms than those made by the Torgpred, they have the right to make use of such private offers, but under only strict control of the organs of the Foreign Trade Commissariat. In such a case the Torgpred concerned must let the holders of the license know its decision not later than after two days in the goods quoted on the exchange, and in five days for other goods.

Finally, in accordance with the third of the above-mentioned decrees, foreigners are permitted to start business negotiations, to open offices, agencies, and so forth, in the way prescribed by the regulations of the Chief Concessions Committee and with the approval of the Foreign Trade Commissariat.

Government institutions, State enterprises, co-operative associations, as well as private companies and persons, are only allowed to sign such contracts with such representatives of foreign firms who hold the above-mentioned rights.

Negro Migration and its Causes

(Continued from page 2.)

tutions in the state, $735,000 was assigned for the use of the whites and only $15,000 was devoted to institutions for the colored.

It is this lack of educational facilities that serves as an impelling cause of unrest among the colored people. In whatever else the Negroes may differ they are one in their desire for education for their children. Naturally the better educational opportunities of the North, together with the opportunity to earn better wages, servo as a strong attraction to the colored people.

Treatment of the Negro and the Courts.

In general, the South regards the Negro as a thing. The treatment accorded him shows this very clearly. On July 19, 1924, THE DAILY WORKER carried a story of two Negroes who escaped from Georgia, where "actual Negro slavery, with no hypocritical pretense of obeying the constitutional amendments exists." It is a known fact, that in many small towns and villages Negroes are roughly handled and severely punished by the whites. The beating of farm hands on the large plantations in the lower South is so common that many colored people look upon every great plantation as a peon camp. In sawmills and other public works, the Negro is not treated any better. A "poem" written by a Southern Negro, descriptive of conditions as he sees them in the South, has two lines bearing on this point:

"If a thousand whites work at a place
—each one there is my boss."

In the cities and towns Negro sections are usually shamefully neglected in the matter of street improvements, sewer facilities, water and light. Most of the larger Southern cities exclude Negroes from their fine parks, and in general make little or no provision for the recreation of the colored people. Harrassing, humiliating "jim crow" regulations surround Negroes, on every hand and invite unnecessarily severe and annoying treatment from the public and even from public servants.

Courts and Police.

The treatment which the Negroes receive at the hands of the courts and the guardians of the peace constitute another cause of the migration. Negroes largely distrust the courts. And for good reason. The Negro is made to feel that laws in the South are designed for his punishment and not for his protection. "When a white man assaults a Negro—he is not punished. When a white man kills a Negro he is usually freed without extended legal proceedings, but the rule as laid down by the Southern judge is usually that when a Negro kills a white man, whether or not in self defense, the Negro must die. Negro witnesses count for nothing except when testifying against members of their own race. The testimony of a white man is conclusive in every instance. In no sate of the South can a Negro woman get a verdict for seduction, nor in most cases enter a suit against a white man; nor, where a white man is concerned, is the law of consent made to apply to a Negro girl." (Scott—"Negro Migration During the War."—Page 19.)

The abnormal and unwaranted activities of Southern police officers are also responsible for deep grievances among Negroes. In some places of the South there is a system of employing convicts on the roads of the county in which they are convicted. Colored people believe that the judges and the police in such counties have been the tools of powers higher up; they have been influenced by employers in order to fill up convict camps. The constables and other petty officers in many cases do not get any salary. They are rewarded in accordance with the number of arrests made. Naturally they get all out of it that the business will stand. The Negro suffers and pays the bill.

Lynchings.

Add to this the horrible lynchings, the burning at stake of many Negroes whose names never get to our larger papers, and also consider the fact that the field Negro is a primitive creature desperately afraid of the dreaded K. K. K., and we have another reason for the vast migration from the South. Almost any day we can read of some benighted Negro peasant being hunted down with hounds, or shot by a posse of men or burned at stake amid the multitudinous cheers of a vast concourse of people.

The records of past years reveal the foul and deadly spirit of lawlessness practiced upon the Negro. Between 1891-1901, there were 1,460 lynchings; in the next decade (1901-1911)—782 lynchings; and for the next ten years ending with 1921,—the total was 607. These figures do not include the record of the victims of race riots.

The annual average number of lynchings during the whole period of 36 years for which statistics are available was 94, as compared with 65 in 1920 and .63 in 1921.

Eight of the 65 persons lynched in 1920 were burned alive, one was flogged to death, two were drowned, 15 were shot, and 31 were hanged. The manner of death in 8 cases is not known.

A typical example of a lynching "ceremony" took place near Hubbard, Texas, in September, 1921. A mob which included women and children, burned a Negro alive. While the victim was slowly roasting various members of the mob amused themselves and entertained the rest by jabbing sticks into his mouth, nose and eyes.

Immediate Causes of the Migration.

Such are some of the most important economic and social causes of the Negro migration. This brings us now to a discussion of some of the immediate causes:

During the World War and during the years immediately following the war, there was a great demand for labor in the North. As is well known, the industrial centers of the North were formerly supplied thousands of skilled, semi-skilled and unskilled immigrants. The World War and then the restrictive immigration laws practically shut off this supply. The manufacturers of the North began to look for a new reservoir of cheap labor. And they found it in the South among the discontented Negroes.

A study of occupational statistics shows that the male Negroes who have recently been migrating Northward in such large numbers have most of them become industrial laborers. They have found employment in mills, factories, and stockyards rather than in hotels, restaurants, office buildings, and domestic kitchens. This is another distinctive feature of the new migration.

Another of the immediate causes was the labor agent. The agents have played and still play the part of middleman in the exodus. They are the representatives of the manufacturers and the industrial corporations of the North. They have been unscrupulous as to means used for soliciting Negroes to be sent out of the South. One of the agencies at Bessemer has issued attractive circulars from time to time as a means of advertising. They contain such phrases: "Let's go back North, where there are no labor throubles, no strikes, no lockouts; large coal, good wages, fair treatment; two weeks' pay; good houses; go free; will advance you money if necessary; scores of men have written us thanking us for sending them; go now while you have the chance."

Finally, another of the most potent immediate causes of the exodus has been the persuasion of friends and relatives already in the North, and the personal appeals in the form of letters. The United States mail was about the most active and efficient labor agent. In every community of the black belt letters have been received from former residents. These letters contained more than glowing accounts of the "better life," "better wages," and "better conditions" generally. In many cases, hundreds of thousands of dollars accompanied the letter to pay traveling expenses North for those hopelessly sick of the drab of life of want and debt on the plantations.

This outlines the causes of the recent Negro migration. The Negro is migrating because the South has stolen his political rights and curtailed his civil liberties; he is migrating because he desires to escape the exploitation of the Southern landlords; he is migrating because his children are denied an education; because he is refused common jurisdiction; because he is segregated in the cities and condemned to the Jim Crow car; the Negro is migrating because the South holds over him the ultimate terror of mob violence and Judge Lynch.

RIVERVIEW—RAIN OR SHINE
AUGUST 10th—SUNDAY
PRESS PICNIC DAY

Women in the Soviet Union

By R. A.

ONE of the great principles of the Soviet Revolution was that of complete equality of rights for women and men. Politically, this has been realized to the full. Legally, women (married or unmarried) are in exactly the same position as men. There is no sex disqualification whatever. Women are eligible for all government posts.

Of course this does not mean women are taking an equal part in the work of government. Women are eligible, but they have tremendous handicaps to overcome—tradition, custom, and above all, illiteracy.

In Russia proper, where illiteracy is no worse than in other parts of the Union, nearly 73 per cent of the women are illiterate—about three times the proportion of illiteracy among men.

The proportion of women taking part in elections to the lower Soviet organs, such as the county and village Soviets, is on the average about 14 per cent of the total electors voting. In the case of provincial Soviets, this proportion is only about 5.5 per cent. In the elections for All-Russian Soviet Congress, the proportions of women voting was only 2.9 per cent. Women have not yet learned to use these political rights.

With such low proportions of women voting, it is natural that the proportion of women elected to Soviet congresses is very low. In 1922 only 0.9 per cent of the total members of the district executive committees, and 2.2 per cent of the members of the provincial executive committees, were women. The percentages during 1923 increased, but no exact figures are at present available.

The government is anxious to attract proletarian and peasant women to take a more active part than ever in Soviet institutions. With this object in view, the Union Central Executive Committee recently issued a circular in which, after noting with satisfaction the increase in the number of women elected during 1923 to government organs in the Ukraine, Siberia, and other parts of the Union, and the more active part taken by women in the work of these organs, it urges the Central Executive Committees of all the Republics in the Union to instruct their district and provincial executive committee to give every possible opportunity to their women members to carry out or to participate in the practical work of the Soviets.

The women of the East suffer peculiar disabilities even in the Eastern provinces of the Soviet Union. Since 1922, efforts have been made by the Soviet authorities to improve the lot of the Eastern women.

On March 7, 1924, the Council of People's Commissaries of the R. S. F. S. R., in consultation with the local authorities, issued a decree. This decree, applicable to the Kirghis, Turkestan, Bashkir Republics, makes it a criminal offense to give or accept payment (kalym) either in money or kind for a bride, or to compel a woman to marry against her will.

Similarly, a decree has been issued for the Oriat Autonomous Area, making it a criminal offense to steal a woman for the purpose of marrying her, or for parents or guardians to force any woman to marry against her will. Marriage with a women below the age of maturity, polygamy, and payment of kalym are also made criminal offenses. On the annulment of a marriage, a wife is to have the right to her own property, in addition to a certain proportion of the property that may have been acquired during the marriage.

The trade unions of the U. S. S. R. have generally been very successful in attracting women members. But the same conditions which have hindered the participation of women in the work of government have naturally affected their participation in the active work of the trade unions.

At the fifth All-Russian Congress of Trade Unions in September, 1922, note was taken of the growing participation of women in trade union work in the resolution of the congress on organization. This congress decided to carry on the work of organizing women as part of the general work of the unions, and appointed special women organizers in unions and trades in which there were a large number of women workers.

According to the report of the All-Russian Congress of Trade Unions for 1923, the number of women members of trade unions has decreased slightly, owing to the greater proportion of unemployment among women resulting from the concentration of industry and the cutting of government staffs. On the other hand, the proportion of women taking an active part in trade union work has increased very considerably.

At the present time, women make up 36.6 per cent of the trade union membership; 21.5 per cent of the dispute committees; 32.5 per cent of the labor protection committees; 30.3 per cent of the educational committees; 18 per cent of the mutual aid fund commissions; and 32.6 of those in attendance of delegate meetings. These figures are high, compared with the trade union statistics of the Western countries.

The proportion of active women workers, whilst high in the lower committees, particularly in those organized by the factory committees, is considerably smaller in the higher and central departments of the trade unions. In the factory committees and the local trade union committees, women constitute on an average 14.4 per cent of the members (varying from 0.9 per cent in the sugar workers' to 36.7 per cent in the Tailors' union). The proportion of women in provincial councils of trade unions is only 6 per cent (varying from 26.4 per cent in the above-mentioned unions). In the presidiums of the provincial councils, 5.7 per cent, and in the central executive committees, 4.2 per cent are women.

In 1922 only 3.5 per cent of the elected members and 10.4 per cent of the paid officials of provincial trade union councils were women. In 1923 these proportions increased to 5.7 per cent, respectively.

The co-operative movement has carried on systematic propaganda among women. Since 1921, at every delegate meeting or conference of peasant or proletarian women, lectures have been formed for the systematic study of the co-operative movement and of all questions concerning co-operation, ans its significance in socialist reconstruction. Many women are attending educational courses on co-operation.

This agitation has borne fruit. The number of women who have joined the co-operative societies is considerable. Women take part in the administrative and control commissions, as well as in co-operative conferences. In the local administrative departments there are now more than 7,500 women workers and peasants.

Thruout the provinces of the Union, special womens' conferences are held from time to time, at which the range of subjects discussed varies from the most hum-drum needs of the peasant to foreign policy and conditions in Germany. There are peasant journals, edited and written by peasant women. Many peasant women are well-known as splendid organizers.

BARREN WISDOM

(Continued from page 1)

stances showing the fight of the Workers Party against the menace of LaFolletteism and for a Farmer-Labor Pary.

Third: The C. E. C. of the Workers Party at first favored an alliance between the Farmer-Labor Party and the third party movement, provided it breaks completely with the two old parties, in order to maintain contact with the working masses for a continued fight against LaFolletteism and for a Farmer-Labor Party.

Read the following quotations from the March thesis of the C. E. C.:

"If under the conditions set forth above an election alliance, either national or local, is made the Farmer-Labor Party must maintain a distinct organization and carry on an independent campaign for its own program and utilize the situation to the utmost to crystalize in the definite form of an organized Farmer-Labor Party all those workers and exploited farmers who can be brot to the support of a class party.

Thruout any campaign in which we maintain an alliance with the third party, we must constantly criticise and expose it and its candidates, show up the futility of its program, and make it clear to the workers who are reached by our own campaign that the third party will bring them no salvation and no relief. We must make it clear that the whole campaign is simply a starting point in the struggle for the establishment of a workers' and farmers' government."

What does this mean? It means that the originally proposed alliance with the third party movement has been conceived as one of the means of fighting the menace of LaFolletteism. This and nothing more.

Later on, after consultation with the Communist International the C. E. C. of the Workers Party has decided to drop the alliance proposition and to concentrate on exposing and fighting LaFollette from two bases only—that of the Farmer-Labor Party and of the Workers Party.

This policy has been put into effect at the June 17th Convention in St. Paul—a policy of fighting LaFolletteism which the Workers Party has maintained all thruout its campaign for a Farmer-Labor Party.

They Changed!

Here we can see Boudin jumping up again gleefully and triumphantly shouting at the top of his voice: "Well, don't I say they changed? They betrayed me. They failed to live up to my expectations. That's all."

Yes, and we changed once more. When we found out, after July 4th, that the betrayal at Cleveland removed the basis for a United Front working-class campaign in the presidential elections, we entered the campaign as the Workers Party and nominated Communist candidates.

Too bad, Mr. Boudin, isn't it? Even Sam Gompers did not like this change of ours. He went as far as charging us with betraying the Farmer-Labor movement. What do you say?

To us these changes indicate only one thing. The Workers Party is constantly adjusting its tactics to serve its main strategic aims, which in this case are: Fight LaFollette and promote the movement for a Farmer-Labor Party.

Now, Mr. Boudin, just a few words in conclusion. We find in your article some very suggestive, one might say, even illuminating expressions. For instance: In introducing the term "menshevik" you say in parenthesis: "to borrow a little color from the Holy Land." Which strikes us as an apology before the mensheviks and a sneer at Soviet Russia. Are we right?

Then again in developing your picture of a Communist deputation offering the crown to LaFollette you say sarcastically that you realize, of course, that this tactic leads "in a straight line to the Great Revolution, the regime of Lenin, and the dictatorship of the proletariat under the Bolsheviks."

The tone makes the music. This little phrase of yours breathes so much bitterness, malice and impotent rage toward the Lenin regime and the Bolsheviki that we can't help feeling that we are dealing here, in the person of Boudin, with an enemy of the Communist International.

Are we right?

Sign on the Dotted Line!

This will insure you a prompt monthly delivery of the only journal giving a keen, reliable analysis of the latest developments in the world's first workers' government.

You will enjoy it even more with the large number of interesting photographs that appear only in the pages of

SOVIET RUSSIA PICTORIAL

SUBSCRIPTION

$2.00 a year $1.00 six months

SOVIET RUSSIA PICTORIAL
19 South Lincoln Street,
Chicago, Ill.

Name .....

Street & No. .....

City ..... State ..... Y.

Poor Fish Objects.

The Poor Fish greatly resented the insult when a Communist called this dying "hero" a "poor fish":

THE DYING SOLDIER.

A sokher of the plunder bund was dying on the job,
His breath was coming hard and fast, his heart could hardly throb,
His guts were hanging out of holes torn through with chunks of lead,
And every time he choked and gagged the blood flew from his head,
Still in his agony he grasped the song he loved to sing,
How glorious it is to die, to die for God and King.

He left a wife and little ones, he left them all alone,
His only care was for his God and King upon the throne,
The God and King were all he had, he was of peasant birth,
He didn't own a foot of soil in all the blooming earth,
And yet how rich he deemed he was, how dearly he did prize
His King that sat upon a throne, His God up in the skies.
Oh thrones and altars, what a joy, what happiness you bring,
That makes a peasant glad to die, to die for God and King.

RIVERVIEW—RAIN OR SHINE
AUGUST 10th—SUNDAY
PRESS PICNIC DAY

YALE UNIVERSITY
NOV 22 1924
LIBRARY

ORDER YOUR BUNDLE OF THE DAILY WORKERS FIRST SPECIAL CAMPAIGN—SEE PAGE SIX

THE DAILY WORKER RAISES THE STANDARD FOR A WORKERS AND FARMERS' GOVERNMENT

THE DAILY WORKER

Entered as Second-class matter September 21, 1923, at the Post Office at Chicago, Illinois under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Communist Candidates
For President:
WILLIAM Z. FOSTER.
For Vice-President:
BENJAMIN GITLOW.

Vol. II. No. 123. SUBSCRIPTION RATES In Chicago, by mail, $8.00 per year. Outside Chicago, by mail, $6.00 per year. MONDAY, AUGUST 11, 1924 290 Published Daily except Sunday by THE DAILY WORKER PUBLISHING CO., 1113 W. Washington Blvd., Chicago, Ill. Price 3 Cents

SPRING NEW ANTI-FILIPINO PLOT

NEGROES TOLD HOW THEY ARE HELD IN SUBJECTION BY U. S. AND BRITISH IMPERIALIST RULE

BY ROBERT MINOR.
(Staff Writer, Daily Worker.)

NEW YORK, August 10.—R. H. Bachelor, a Negro delegate from the British-ruled island of Jamica to the international convention of the Negro peoples of the world, in session here, held the convention spell-bound in a remarkable speech on the practices of British imperialism.

"The Negro's suffering in Jamica," said Mr. Bachelor, "is the same as the suffering of the Negro in the British colonies of Africa, the same as the suffering of the Negro in Australia, or elsewhere in the British Empire.

Speaking of the manner in which the shrewd English rulers instil the spirit of slavery into the ideology of their black subjects, the delegate said:

"It is a poison injected into the Negroes in the West Indies. The spirit of it is so deadly that you will find the Negro, no matter if he is broken with toil, hungry, suffering and sick, getting up and singing: 'God Save the King.'

Negroes Get Different Treatment

"The British rulers handle the Negro in Jamaica in a little different fashion from that used by the American rulers. Here in America a Mulatto is classed as a Negro. But the situation in Jamaica where the whites are a feeble minority, obliges the British to do otherwise. They teach the Mulatto boy that the white blood in his veins is a sacred thing that makes him better than the Negroes that are black. You Mulattoes here in America, if you want to be flattered by a white man, if you want to be told that you are better than your black brothers, and to be used for the purposes of the white exploiter to hold your people down in misery—just run down to Haiti, Antigua or Jamaica, and go to the white men and let them know you have some white blood—and some money!

"The British rulers of Jamaica, by flattery and cajolery, practically use the Mulatto as the overseer for them over the black Negro masses. One Mulatto is trained so that he can be used to dominate, or kill, or subdue 1,000 of his own people."

Get Six Pennies Per Day.

M. Bachelor pointed out that the Negro under British rule is taught as the by a religious principle that he must be happy to toil his life away for six pennies a day. "And where one Englishman dies of some disease of a locality, a thousand Negroes die of the same disease. The conditions of the Negro's life are such that he must be constantly sick, because the Englishman knows that if he lets the Negroes have the same health conditions as the white man they will soon be able to challenge the supposed white superiority."

"Teachers," said the Jamaican, "are compelled to make themselves instruments of the rulers. Each one is made to accept the priciple that his duty is to teach his fellow-Negroes to worship the doctrine of the British Empire. The books that are introduced into the schools for the degradation of the Negro children, are filled with pictures of supposed Negro 'types' that are horrible and beastly creatures."

Mr. Bachelor said that he went the rounds of the homes of his pupils, getting permission of their parents to tear out all of the pictures intended to destroy the colored children's self-respect. Then, when I find a child who has been horrified and depressed by the school book propaganda, I talk to him and show him pictures of the white man in his primitive state."

Negro Boys in Church Strike.

He told of a woman who appeared to be "an American lady," who seemed to get morbid pleasure in forcing a colored boy of exceptional brightness to read to his fellow pupils in a church these stories of the Negro's inferiority. The colored boy refused to do it, and walked out of the church.

(Continued on page 2)

AS WE SEE IT

By T. J. O'FLAHERTY

THE usual line of campaign fodder carried by capitalist candidates is so foul that a Boston broadcasting station stipulated that its service would not be placed at the disposal of any candidate who failed to observe the ordinary rules of decency in his electioneering speeches. There are "skeptics who claim that the radio trust's restrictions are not due to fear of using the ether to give obscenity a wider circulation, but to keep the undesirable truth concerning the Coolidge administration from entering the homes of staid New Englanders in any other way except via the Boston Transcript which adorns every Coolidge tale with a Puritan moral. The obscenity our capitalist moralists fear most is the truth. "When thieves fall out honest men get their due" is an old saying. But tho honest men may not always get what's coming to them as the result of a split amongst the rogues, they get a lot of useful information.

• • •

THERE was a time when the socialist party took Samuel Gompers to task severely for his treachery to the working class movement and his Rock-of-Gibraltar function as a barrier against the rising tide of radicalism in the trade unions. That was some time ago. But after the left wing revolt the S. P. submitted itself to an examination and learned from the political doctor (Dr. Gilbert) that a

(Continued on page 3)

West Virginia Scab Coal Bosses Fatten on Navy Contracts

WHEELING, W. Va., Aug. 10.—Pocahontas coal operators who secured contracts to provide the U. S. navy with coal at a fixed price stand to make mighty good profits at the expense of the government as the result of a 33 per cent wage reduction all of which will go into profits.

The consolidation of the bituminous coal industry into a small number of large combines is going steadily forward. The formation of mergers in West Kentucky and Indiana has been followed by similar action in the case of 50 West Virginia companies. This means a $25,000,000 corporation with upwards of 200,000 acres of valuable coal lands. It will center around the Main Creek Coal Co., one of the largest in West Virginia, with 21 mines in Logan county.

Bridge Blown Down.

STERLING, Ill., Aug. 10.—A five hundred foot temporary bridge connecting Rockfalls with a new bridge under construction over Rock river here was blown down Friday morning by a heavy wind. The gas line and telephone cable also went into the river. Rockfalls will be cut off for several days. No one was on the bridge at the time.

Send in that Subscription Today.

YOUNG WORKERS WILL HOLD LOCAL LEAGUE CONFERENCE AUG. 14

The first conference of all the branch officials of the Chicago Young Workers League will be held Thursday evening, 8 p. m., August 14th, at the Workers' Lyceum, 2733 Hirsch Blvd.

This conference will discuss all the major problems confronting the local in Chicago. The various department heads will lead in the discussion in their specific fields, among them, shop nuclei, trade union work, factory campaigns, election campaigns literature distribution, etc.

The purpose of these conferences is to stimulate and direct the membership of the Chicago Young Workers League into activities which will result in making the League a strong organiation.

AL. SCHAAP, ORGANIZER,
YOUNG WORKERS LEAGUE
LOCAL CHICAGO.

SOVIET OIL TRUST HEAD REACHES N. Y.

Serebrovsky Will Study American Industry

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—The Azerbeijan Oil Trust, the largest oil concern in Russia, operating in the rich Baku fields, is at present regreseented in this country by its president, Mr. A. P. Serebrovsky, who arrived here on the S. S. Olympic and established his headquarters with the Amtorg Trading Corporation at 135 Liberty Street.

The main object of Mr. Serebrovsky's visit to this country is to familiarize himself with the organization and technical attainments of the oil industry in America, as well as to supervise the execution of orders placed by the Azerbeijan Oil Trust (Aznefi) in this country thru the Amtorg Trading Corporation. Mr. Serebrovsky is planning to make an exhaustive personal study of the industry and supply plants in America with a view toward introducing higher efficiency methods in the production of oil in the Soviet Union. Mr. Serebrovsky is acting here not only for his trust but for other Soviet oil trusts as well.

Soviet Oil Gains.

It was pointed out by Mr. Serebrovsky that the Soviet Oil industry has made great strides in the last year toward complete restoration and that it now entered ah era of intensified reconstruction with the introduction of improved efficient and scientific methods of drilling, pumping, exploration, and oil refining. In this connec-

(Continued on page 5.)

Whale-of-an Operation.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 10.—One of the world's strangest operations was on record here today. By using heavy knives, axes and saws, Captain A. B. Hoonshall performed a caesarian operation on a dead whale and a baby whale weighing 25 pounds was born. The mother whale was harpooned off Santa Barbara Islands.

Drowns at Birth.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 10—In one of the most unusual cases in local medical annals, a baby was born to Mrs. Lucy Presedge, 30, while she was taking a bath, and was drowned in the tub here today.

Send in that Subscription Today.

FIFTY YEARS OF FAILURE BASIS OF BOB'S DREAM

Wisconsin Senator Not Against Capitalism

(Introductory Article.)

By JAY LOVESTONE.

After nearly fifty years of failure, Senator Robert Marion LaFollette has decided to attempt to get together into a loose political alliance all the "honest" business men, the normally well-to-do farmers, the highly skilled laborers, and great sections of the working class and the dispossessed farming masses for one grand offensive, a final rush, as it were, against the moster of "Special Privilege."

What is LaFollette After?

What is LaFollette driving at? What does he want? Is he deserving of the leadership, of the confidence and the trust of the working and poor farming masses of the country? Is his program worthy of support by the exploited worker and the dispossessed farmers.

Coolidge, the reactionary republican candidate, does not hide his intents and purposes. "Cautious Cal" is out to strengthen and perpetuate the capitalist system of the exploitation of the workers and the poorest farmers.

Davis, the democratic standard bearer, proclaims his allegiance to the present economic order with equal devotion and as intense fervor.

LaFollette, at the head of the third party movement, does not demand or seek the abolition of the capitalist system of production and exchange.

Mr. LaFollette, the champion of the little capitalist, differs with Coolidge and Davis, the spokesmen of the biggest employing interests, primarily as to the best method of perpetuating the wage system. Coolidge and Davis would maintain the present class system by concentrating even more the political and economic power in the hands of the most powerful financial and industrial overlords. LaFollette, on the other hand, would maintain the same political and economic power amongst the various social layers of the property owning class.

But of the three candidates LaFollette is the one who asserts his progressivism with the greatest force and goes out of his way to lay claim to the undivided political support of the working and farming masses in the coming campaign. It is our task to see whether Senator LaFollette's claim to the confidence and trust of the city and rural workers and the expropriated farmers is warranted by the record of his achievements in his political career of nearly fifty years.

Turning the Searchlight on LaFollette.

We will scrutinize his record from the time he became District Attorney

(Continued on page 6)

Send in that Subscription Today.

Thousands of readers of the Workers Party publications gathered at the Workers Party Press Picnic at Riverview Park yesterday to hear the speech of C. E. Ruthenberg, executive secretary of the Workers Party, to enjoy the Communist events, and to contribute their mite to the party press. Excellent weather assured a financial as well as a social success. The full story of the Press Picnic will be told in tomorrow morning's issue of the DAILY WORKER.

FOOD WORKER'S ORGAN URGES SUPPORT FOR FOSTER AND GITLOW

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—The Free Voice, organ of the Amalgamated Food Workers, an industrial union, indorses William Z. Foster and Ben Gitlow, Workers party candidates for president and vice president. "They will gather round them all those of the working class whose heads have not been muddled and confused by would-be radical and high-sounding phrases," the Free Voice asserts.

NO PROBE OF FATAL BLAST IN STEEL CITY

Conspiracy to Suppress Facts is Charged

By KARL REEVE.
(Staff Writer, Daily Worker.)

GARY, Indiana, Aug. 10.—Mayor R. O. Johnson, of this town, refused to take any action on the charge of hundreds of workers in the steel mills here that there is a conspiracy to suppress the extent of the disastrous explosion which demolished an entire blast furnace.

The city officials of Gary and the Post-Tribune, the only local newspaper, are in league with the United States Steel Corporation to keep the true conditions of the steel workers from the public.

The Post-Tribune prints almost daily front page articles attempting to show that the mills are booming, when in reality only one-third of the force is working two and three days a week. The newspaper and the city officials suppressed the news of the disastrous explosion which killed several men, claiming only one man had been killed.

Steel Czar's "Private Flunkeys."

Mayor Johnson, however, refuses to get excited about these conditions. The police force, and all the public officials of the town, including the newspaper editors, are described by the workers as "private flunkeys" of the Steel Corporation.

When asked what he was going to do about it Mayor Johnson said:

Mayor Won't Investigate.

"It it transpires that more men were killed in the recent blast than the one the company mentions, we are not going to investigate the connection of the Post Tribune and the Gary Works. We are certainly not going to close down the plant when they keep back the news of accidents. People get hurt in train and auto accidents. Why shouldn't they get hurt in the industries!".

The workers in the Gary Mills, however, tell a different story. One Negro steel worker declared he saw the body of a colored man being carried to his home the night of the accident. The large Negro population in Gary is humming with the story that at least two Negro laborers were killed in the explosion, who were not reported by the company.

Officials Could Check.

"The officials could definitely tell us how many are missing," another steel worker declared. "They could check up the time cards and see who is missing. But the public will never know just how many were killed in the explosion. The Post Tribune is playing hand in glove with the steel mills as it is practically owned by the Gary company." Dozens of steel workers were questioned by the DAILY WORKER and every one

(Continued on page 2)

LEONARD WOOD, U. S. MILITARY DICTATOR IN PHILIPPINES, IS RAISING SINISTER "RED SCARE"

MANILA, Aug. 10—Governor General Wood stated to the press today that the insular authorities have received copies of a manifesto issued by the Workers Party calling for a massacre of foreign workers in the Philippines. He said he had rumors to the effect that a list of the intended victims had been issued here.

"The movement may be serious," said Gov. Wood, "but its success here is most doubtful because the condition of the Filipino laboring class is different from those of Russia. The struggle for existence among the proletariat here is far less acute than in Europe or the United States."

It was reported the manifesto originated with the Third Communist International and called for Philippine independence, overthrow of the present ruling class and that all capitalists be expelled.

Statement by the Central Executive Committee of the Workers Party.

The above disatch from Manila is a fair example of the kinds of news which the capitalist press feeds to the people of this country. The Workers Party has not issued any manifesto "calling for the massacre of foreign workers in the Philippines." It has issued a statement of its position in relation to Philippine independence and suggested a program of struggle against the American and Philippine exploiters of the Filipino workers and farmers.

The dispatch from the Philippines, based upon a purported admission of General Wood, is an attempt thru charges of blood-curdling massacres, to head off the organization of the Filipino workers and farmers to carry on a struggle for their freedom from exploitation of every kind. The Workers Party will continue its co-operation with the Filipino workers and farmers in this struggle in spite of the provocative, untruthful statements emanating from General Wood.

Following is the Workers Party program for freedom for the Philippines, which was published in the Daily Worker on June 2:

Freedom for the Philippines.

Program adopted by the Central Executive Committee of the Workers Party.

The Central Executive Committee of the Workers Party adopted the following program for work in support of Philippine independence and for the struggle in the Philippines against both the American and native exploiters of the workers and farmers of that country.

Philippine Program:

1. That we foster an intense nationalist spirit and a hatred of American imperialism in the Philippine Islands. In this propaganda it is our task to point out continually that the American workers and farmers are the only friends the Filipino people have in the United States and that it is only the American capitalists who are the enemies of the Filipino people.

2. That we endorse the Philippine boycott against goods of American capitalists and that we recommend to the Filipinos to organize their boycott in such a fashion as to hit American business interests where it hurts them most and is most effective, instead of a general boycott which might tend to dissipate the usefulness of this weapon.

3. That we encourage the support of the popular freedom loan to aid the independence movement.

4. That we encourage the participation by the workers and tenant farmers in the movement for national freedom as members of the working classes. Here we must point out that the workers participating in this struggle are engaged in the conflict in order to enhance their own class interests and not for the sake of promoting the welfare of their native bourgeoisie as against the foreign American capitalists.

5. That we encourage the spread and the strengthening of all mass organiations of labor such as the three

(Continued on page 2.)

Unionists Appeal Sentences Dealt by Injunction Judge

ROCK ISLAND, Ill., Aug. 10. — Appeals from jail sentences for contempt of antipicketing injunctions are being made for two girls and two men involved in the strike against the Daniel Boone clothing factory in Rock Island. The four employes, who are members of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers, received 30 to 60 days. They are out on $1,000 bail each. Better working conditions, increased wages and collective bargaining are the demands in the strike which is in its second month.

"UNITY," SLOGAN OF RED CONGRESS OF LABOR UNIONS

International Unity is Proposed to Amsterdam

(Special to The Daily Worker)

MOSCOW, July 22.—(By Mail.)—The Mandate commission, in reporting to the congress of the Red International of Labor Unions (Profintern) showed that 39 coutries were represented. Of these, Europe has 25; Asia, 6; Africa, 1; America, 6; and Australia, 1, represented by a total delegation of 311, 120 of them with decisive and 183 with advisory votes.

Losovsky then proposed the commission's resolution on the report of Tomski on the struggle for unity of the international trade union movement.

The resolution reaffirms the previous decisions of the. Comintern's congress for unity in the interest of the common struggle against capitalism and Fascism and towards the establishment of unity in the international trade union movement.

The campaign to be undertaken must mobilize the masses, and the creation of a united international trade union front must be put forth.

After the preparation of the masses, the next step that can be taken is the calling of an international unity congress of the trade unions with proportional representation for both trade union internationals for the purpose of working out the statutes and the creation of executive organs of the new united trade union international.

The congress believes that only in this manner will the simultaneous fusion of the parallel organizations be completely successful.

The congress holds that it is timely to establish contact thru its representatives, with the Amsterdam International and with the Greek trade unions which have lately come out for this unification. National organizations, too, may negotiate with the Amsterdam International or with its affiliated organizations, under the guidance and with the approval of the Profintern.

The congress hopes that thru the preparation of the masses the necessary preliminaries for the unification will be achieved. The decision of the

(Continued on page 5)

See Page Three

BOOST COMMUNIST PRESIDENTIAL CAMPAIGN BY GETTING NEW SUBS FOR "THE DAILY WORKER"

See Page Three

FRENCH YIELD TO MORGAN ON RUHR EVACUATION

Cabinet Okays Herriot As Germans Sign

PARIS, August 10.—The authority to accept completely the Dawes-Morgan plan for the colonization of Germany by joint allied control, and to pledge the early evacuation by French troops of occupied Ruhr territory, was given Premier Herriot today at theconclusion of a special cabinet council meeting of French ministers, which unanimously approved the actions of the Premier and his colleagues at the London reparations conference.

Following directly on the heels of the surrender of the German representatives to the demands of the Allied financiers, the action of the French cabinet is seen as the clinching of the Morgan victory in Europe.

The promise to evacuate the Ruhr at an early date, while not as definite as was wanted by some, removes the objection of the Germans to signing the third protocol which is necessary to put the Dawes plan into operation, and which provides for allied priority in the purchase of coal, coke, dyes and various important by-products.

The Rift in the Lute

At the same time rumors of a rift in the Allied lute continue to be persistent. It is being semi-officially stated that M. Herriot has presented new offers from the Germans separate from the Dawes report, giving additional securities in exchange for a free hand to Germany in the Ruhr. This may be considered by the French cabinet at its meeting next Suday.

America Stubborn on Debts

The second possibility of dissension within the Allied ranks is the proposal to take up the allied war debts at a conference to be held simultaneously with the meeting of the Allied finance ministers. While Americans will take part in the latter meeting, it is intimated from American quarters that they will not consider discussion of the war debts and will leave the conference if it is taken up officially. The separate conference, they will not attend at all.

The British foreign office has issued a statement denying that the question of the interallied debt conference had yet been considered by the reparations conference.

Sign on Dotted Line

In the meantime, the Dawes plan is sailing along in nice shape, the first of the three protocols now bearing the signatures of the German envoys and the reparations commission. This document formerly accepts the Dawes plan and releases all German assets from reparations commission control, making them available as security for the proposed $200,000,000 loan to Germany.

The the official German envoys have signed away German's economic independence, what still remains to be seen is the answer of the German workers when they find out that they are to be manoeuvered into a plan whereby they will soon be toiling 12 hours a day in an effort to repay the millions loaned to their masters for the "rehabilitation" of Germany.

Steel Workers Plan Two Huge Meetings to Welcome Foster

GIRARD, O., August 10.—An International Picnic and Mass Meeting will be held here at Avon Park on Sunday, August 17, at 2 p. m. to welcome William Z. Foster, Workers Party candidate for president. The leader of the great 1919 steel strike will deliver his first campaign speech to the workers of the Mahoning valley and surrounding territory.

There will be an evening meeting at Ukrainian Hall, 5254½ West Rayen Avenue, Youngstown, Ohio, at 8 p. m. for those who cannot attend the afternoon meeting. From the present eagerness of the workers to hear Foster, it is expected that both meetings will be exceptionally well attended. The steel workers hereabouts are all for the workingclass candidate.

ROVNOST LUDU BAZAAR.

The Rovnost Ludu Bazaar will be held for the benefit of our press, by the Slovak Workers' Federation and the Slovak Workers' Society at the Bohemian-American Hall, 1438 W. 18th St., for three days, August 30, 31 and Sept. 1, 1924. Admission, Saturday and Monday, 25 cents; Sunday, 50 cents a person. The finest orchestra in the city will be playing for three days. Bring your family and friends and enjoy yourself with the Slovak workers. Dancing. Good speakers will be on the job. Door open at 2 p. m.

Rivera Still Dictating.

GIBRALTAR, Aug. 10.— Contrary to reports it will resign, the Directory, military government of Spain, will remain in power, indefinitely, said a dispatch from Madrid today.

Negroes Told of Enslavement

(Continued from page 1)

calling upon all the children to follow him. Twenty-one of the Negro boys left the church.

The speaker declared that the day was soon coming when "the sixty-five millions in England will find themselves in desperate straits to keep control upon the millions and millions of Negroes in their far-away colonies. Knowing this, the English rulers are trying to ease the task of control by passing some of it on to Negro agents. They procure their Negro agents to help them rule the Negroes—and these black agents are worse than the white man himself. Great Britain uses the Negro to kill the Negro. She corrupts her colored agents, puts them in petty positions of power. Then she points to the laboring masses of Negroes, and she says, "you watch those fellows and make them work."

"Even in the churches the black preacher teaches the white doctrine every time. Bachelor told of the Negro minister who, watching for the slightest sign of awakening respect for their own race, picks out the offenders and shrieks, "Oh, you Negroes who are ungrateful to England!"

Asks Curse on King.

He told of eight thousand Jamaica Negro laborers who were shipped to Cuba to work. "They slaved for inhuman hours by day, and then at night they had no houses to live in, but slept in miserable little hammocks strung up in the open with a little scrap of roof over each hammock. They existed themselves on second human indurance for one dollar per day, and still they were so poisoned with slavish training that they continued to sing 'God Save the King.' But there was a little boy born of these Jamaican parents on Cuban soil, and he grew up old enough to talk and to think a little. One day the child said: 'My father and mother, they are British, and they have to say, 'God Save the King,' but I am a Cuban, and I can say, 'God curse the King!'

"In the British Negro colonies you tell and you don't get enough to eat. If they don't lynch you, anyway they starve you until you die."

Mr. Bachelor expressed the belief that the British government cannot succeed in holding the hundreds of millions now under its oppression in India. He declared he had made a sworn oath on the principle which Nelson had sworn to uphold the British Empire, Nepoleon to uphold France and Washington to uphold America, that he would support the "supremacy of Black Africa." He carried the big audience into the wildest heights of enthusiasm yet reached at the convention.

S. B. Grant, a delegate from Bermuda, told of a visit he had made to Birmingham and his encounter there with "white supremacy." On the streets of Birmingham, he said, he was kicked by a white man and told to "get out of this town." On another occasion, he said, he was surprised to have a white man walk up to him on the street and say, "I am going to lynch you tonight."

British Work the Children.

Mr. Grant declared that Negroes were toiling in British colonies for twenty-four cents a day, with their children working for six cents a day, and expressed the opinion that Mr. Garvey "has turned the British government into trouble."

A speaker from Africa declared that the method used by France for subjugating the Negroes is to divide them with religion. In one place the French will cultivate Mohammedanism, in another Christianity, and encourage each group of Negroes to hate the other, so as to keep them from uniting in a common cause against their oppressor.

"In Somaliland," said this speaker, "they have confiscated every inch of fertile soil. Our people have been reduced to starvation. "Even in Abyssinia," he continued, "the foreign aggressors are gradually taking everything away from the Negro government. The Abyssinians have lost their last seaport." He said that "Abyssinia is a great government, but as it is she is now hemmed in."

McGuire Hits the Churches.

Bishop George Alexander McGuire treated the subject of imperialism on the basis of religion.

W. A. Wallace of Chicago said he believed that the preachers and the heads of the churches have had their chance to do something for the Negro, and that the Negro had depended too long on the churches and the so-called Christians. The Negroes, he said, must now try to manage their own affairs and adjust their troubles themselves outside of the church.

Dr. Jay J. Peters of Chicago said that France is a little better to the Negro than either England or America. He said he hoped to see the time when he could take up the sword against England. He saw not so much need of taking the matter to the churches. The Negroes would wait long if they depended on Jesus to come and bring them bread and honey.

Teach Children Fear of Negro.

C. H. Bryant of Guatemala spoke interestingly on the matter in which, he said, the British prisons are used in keeping down the masses of Negroes with deadly effect. He complained that the British had taken the lion as their symbol in their coat of arms, whereas the lion was only found in Africa and belonged by right to the Negro. "I am the Prince of Wales," said Mr. Bryant, "is touring around with a great ostrich plume in his hat, thus taking away from the Negro the symbol of princes that should be worn by the Negro." He declared that the black troops from Africa had saved France from extermination in the war, and that the Negro now has nothing.

D. H. Kyle of Clarksburg, West Virginia, said the white man had established the principle of superiority and inferiority as the solution of the race problem, and that the Klan had taken this and the terms he read "white supremacy." He said the white people had so trained their children to think of the Negro as a bogy, so that when a Negro walks along the street a white child upon seeing him will often run away.

Mr. Kyle spoke of the education methods employed to teach white superiority, and advocated the adoption of like methods to teach the opposite view to Negroes, "so that we will be a group of people who believe there is nothing sacred about the white color. "This idea of looking up to the other fellow has been poured into us, and it must be poured out again," he said.

Sees Blood of Races Mixed

The speakers called attention to the increasing proportion of the mixed population, since the emancipation in 1863 as evidence that the whites themselves seek to mix the blood of the races. He recited incidents of Negro teachers who, because they served in positions such matters, were told to get out and seek other employment.

A delegate from Pennsylvania gave an exceedingly interesting talk on the manner in which religion is used to subjugate the Negro. "In the King James version of the Bible," he said, "you will find every idea to hold the Negro down." Yet he was not against Christianity and believed in some parts of the Bible—"especially the part which says that Princes shall come out of Egypt." The speaker said he was very skeptical as a result of the fact that the "white man was the first to teach religion to the Negro." The Negro, he thought, must have some new system of religion.

No Hostility to White.

The French, he said, first used religion to subjugate the Negro, and the next blow would be to exterminate him.

America, this speaker believed, "is absolutely done with the Negro. She has used the Negro and is now ready to get shet of him." This was given in a few words what is practically the gist of the whole philosophy of the Garvey organization. "But America has used the Negro within her own bounds," he said. The only policy and the only thing that I can see is to prepare a place for ourselves. We have no hostility to the white man. Give them America if they are willing to help us to get a country for ourselves in Africa."

If you add to this the constantly repeated statements of delegates that they believe that ninety-nine out of every hundred white men in America, "inwardly if not outwardly", accept the doctrine of the Kiu Klux Klan in regard to the Negro, you have just about found the basis of the peculiar nationalistic philosophy of this anti-clerical, anti-imperialist organization of Negro working people which drives it to the incredible stand against fighting the Klan murder organization which kills, tortures and burns their black brothers."

Leonard Wood Sees "Red Menace"

(Continued from page 1)

labor and farm federations, the Society of the Power of the Poor, etc.

6. That we call upon the workers and tenant farmers to organize special class divisions of the loan campaign and to secure special working and farmer class representation on all locations and committees dealing with independence problems. This is essential because of the fact that the best fighters in the Philippines and in the United States for Filipino freedom are the workers and farmers of both nations.

7. That we draw the attention of the Filipino workers and farmers to the fact that they also have an enemy, the less dangerous temporarily because of its present weakness, than the powerful American imperialist exploiters, in their own capitalist and landlord classes. Under no circumstances shall the waging of an intense campaign for national freedom serve as an excuse for not waging a relentless class war at home.

8. That towards this end the workers wage a determined fight for the improvement of their living and employment conditions for the extension of the suffrage, and for the right to organize.

9. That we ask the Filipino workers and farmers to strengthen the present organizations thru unifying them, existing ones and extending them wherever possible.

10. That we recommend to the Filipino workers and tenant farmers that they consider the organization of a class Farmer-Labor Party in the Islands.

11. That we, as soon as practicable, organize the Filipino members of the Workers Party into a Filipino Communist League as a step towards the organization of a similar body in the Islands.

12. That we call upon the Filipino workers and farmers to take steps to prevent native or any other capitalists from getting hold of the coal and sugar and other centrals now being operated by the government; that the same operation continue; and that in cases where the government is planning to give up ownership and control, the industry or factories in question be turned over to co-operatives of workers engaged in the same and to members of other labor and tenant farm organizations.

13. That we demand the immediate recall of General Wood and press for an investigation of his regime, especially of the charges made against this administration and Secretary of War Weeks in the articles on this problem appearing in the Liberator and WORKER.

14. That we assure the Filipino workers and tenant farmers of our determination to fight side by side with them for genuine national freedom; that we denounce all measures aiming at misleading the Filipino people by granting fraudulent independence limited thru preference to American business interests, and the right of the U. S. Navy to establish bases in the Island waters; and that we call upon all labor and farm organizations to force the government to drop its present imperialist policy against the Philippines.

15. That in all our propaganda we emphatically point out that the only organization that is today fighting for the freedom of all oppressed nationalities is the Comintern.

WORKERS PARTY POLL WORKERS MEET TONIGHT

Branch Representatives Must be Present

Meetings of the congressional district campaign committees will be held tonight in each Chicago congressional district. The congressional district campaign committees, which are made up of the combined campaign committees of all the branches within the congressional districts, will have charge of the Workers Party campaign for congressional candidates. Each district campaign committee is headed by a district campaign manager.

The congressional campaign headquarters, together with the names of the branches meeting within each congressional district, the names of the district campaign managers, and of the Workers Party candidates for congress, are given below. The number of petitions needed to place candidates on the ballot are also given, with allowance made for a small percentage of cancellations.

The list given out by the Chicago District 8 office follows:

First Congressional District.

The following branches: South Side English, Englewood English, Scandinavian Karl Marx, Northwest Jewish, Russian Branch, Ukrainian No. 2, Lithuanian No. 1, Czecho-Slovak No. 2, Lithuanian No. 2, Czecho-Slovak No. 1, Czecho-Slov. Union, Cicero English, Cicero Italian, Douglas Park Jewish, Douglas Park English, West Side Italian, South Side Italian, Russian Branch, Ukrainian No. 1, Hungarian Branch, Ukrainian Labor Temple, Scandinavian Lake View, Campaign manager, Joseph Zikmund, 3801 Cermak road. Headquarters, Imperial Hall, 2409 N. Halsted St. Signatures needed, 1,300. Candidate, J. W. Johnstone.

Seventh Congressional District.

North Side Jewish, Scandinavian Karl Marx, Northwest Jewish, Russian Branch, Ukrainian Labor Temple, Irving Park Finnish, Rumanian Branch, Ukranian No. 1, Ukrainian No. 2, Lithuanian No. 2, Lithuanian No. 1, Irving Park, Y. W. L., Austin, Y. W. L., Scandinavian West Side, Lithuanian No. 3, Scandinavian Northwest, Norwegian Christensen. Headquarters, Workers Library, 2712 Hirsch Blvd. Signatures, 4,000. Candidate, Sam Hammersmark.

Puny Prince.

GENEVA, Aug. 10.—Crown Prince Ras Taffari, of Ethiopia, who is touring continental Europe, arrived today, and paid a ceremonial visit to the League of Nations Secretariat.

"Normalcy."

SANTOS, Brazil, Aug. 10.—Normal shipping was resumed here today for the first time since the Sao Paulo revolution. Fifty thousand sacks of coffee were shipped. The Custom House, banks and stock exchange are all open.

New Morgan Merger Unmasks LaFollette "Back to '76!" Bunk

By J. LOUIS ENGDAHL.

TODAY, we are witnessing the interesting developments in the largest railroad merger in American history

That should prove a stratling awakener for You Workers and Farmers, in these days when YOU are beeing stampeded into the LaFollette political morrass, under the smoke screen slogan of "Back to '76!" when big capitalism is moving forward with giant strides.

* * * *

The consolidations of E. H. Harriman, Jay Gould, Jim Hill and other railroad Czars of the past, are outrivaled in the combination engineered by Orris P. and Mantis J. Van Sweringen, of Cleveland, owners of the "Nickle Plate System."

Railroad workers, you, who have enlisted under the LaFollette banner of "free competition," must awaken to the realization that this shows again how you have been lured into a fantastic political dreamland. Wall Street is going ahead with its great mergers, in and out of campaign times, in spite of the wild and meaningless bellowing of the "little business" politicians.

You Railroad Workers, split into 16 craft unions, with hundreds of thousands of your kind unorganized, Behold the immensity and the compactness of this new consolidation of your masters.

The combined capitalization of this new "deal" in capitalism's game against you will total $1,500,000,000.00 and the merger will bring under one direction 14,000 miles of line, including not only the Nickle Plate, Chesapeake and Ohio, Hocking Valley, Erie and Pere Marquette railroads, but also the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western, Wheeling and Lake Erie and Virginian Railroads.

* * * *

Wall Street says that these two young Cleveland railroad magnates are not only planning a huge terminal in New York City, on the Atlantic Coast, but that they intend stretching their grip to the Pacific Coast, opening the first single railroad route across the continent.

Wall Street knows! Because the Van Sweringen Brothers are not lone agents. They are mere putty in the hands of the House of Morgan and its New York First National Bank. Months ago, under the direction of the House of Morgan, the Van Sweringens began stock accumulations in the various lines they wanted to control. They didn't put down a single new tie or rail. They merely manipulated the ownership of private property already existing. The "larger stockholders," note the "larger," have been won over to the big Morgan plan, and the consolidation is going thru with the consent of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

* * * *

The Morgan-Van Sweringen trustification will tighten the grip of the great financiers more securely than ever upon the throats, not only of the railroad workers, and all industrial labor, but also upon the farmers. Morgan"s laughter can be heard rumbling across the Atlantic, from London, as he beholds Johnston, Stone and other railroad union officials whooping it up for LaFollette and the little stockholders, the little bankers and "legitimate business."

LaFollette's ideas of "regulating" big business have been put into effect nationally thru the Interstate Commerce Commission, and this august body, that renders every decision on the side of business, says it is all right for Morgan and the Van Sweringens to go ahead.

* * * *

Communists say that LaFollette's program is the most reactionary program in this year's campaign. This latest news of Wall Street's activities in the railroad world prove it, just as similar developments in other industries will teach the same lesson, over and over again, in the days immediately ahead.

Communists say that the workers and farmers must not follow LaFollette back 150 years into the days of the stage coach and the village blacksmith shop.

Communists say that the plundered masses must move forward, not in an effort to protect LaFollette's little business men, but to the winning of all power for themselves; for the liberation of their class from the bondage of all capitalists, both big and little.

* * * *

Coolidge, the strikebreaker president, says, "All power in the hands of the big capitalists."

Davis, who would be a strikebreaker president, echoes, "All power in the hands of the big capitalists."

LaFollette, the betrayer of the masses, tries to coin the discontent of jobless workers and landless farmers into support of his pet appeal, "Give little business a chance!"

The Communists call for a struggle against all these upholders of capitalism under the slogan of, "All power to the workers and farmers!"

* * * *

The Morgan-Van Sweringen railroad consolidation will help expose the treason of LaFollette. It will reveal the poison in his teachings. It will bare the real nature of capitalist despotism. It will help drive the workers and farmers into the Communist movement out of the sheer necessity of protecting their own interests.

* * * *

Two steps forward! One step backward!

Labor slipped one step backward when it lent an ear to the siren appeal of LaFollette.

But in time it will move two steps forward again.

Tin Lizzie Monarch May Ratlte His Way Into the U. S. Senate

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 10—Petitions for Henry Ford for United States senator are in circulation today. More or less sporadic efforts to obtain signatures for Ford were being made yesterday, but sponsors of the move said the work of circulating the petitions would be speeded up today and tomorrow.

R. N. Holsaple, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, is frankly pleased over the new development. Holsaple, a few days ago urged the drys in the state to concentrate on a man to beat Senator Couzens.

The time to file the petitions expires Saturday at 4 p. m. The petitions must bear a minimum of 7,600 signatures and under ordinary circumstances should have 9,500 allowing for the shrinkage which invariably results when the petitions are checked by the Secretary of State.

To Coerce Contractors.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Aug. 10.—A new attaction drive by the Builders' Exchange of San Francisco is heralded by an "educational" campaign addressed to building contractors. A federal injunction restraining the exchange from its old policy of supplying materials exclusively to open shop contractors is being evaded by a letter offering to furnish lists of contractors operating on the American plan, promising further assistance in maintaining the American plan and stating that non-union conditions will "greatly assist your subcontractor by obviating any delay in procuring permits for building materials."

GARY SILENT ON TRAGIC BLAST IN BIG STEEL MILL

Steel City Officials in League with Trust

(Continued from page 1)

agreed that three or more men were killed in the blast.

The First Story.

The close connection between the wishes of the Gary Steel Works and the policy of the Post Tribune is seen in the way the Gary paper handled the story of the blast. The first account of the disaster states: "One man was killed, SEVERAL ARE MISSING and the explosion which COMPLETELY WRECKED THAT BLAST furnace at the Gary Works. Bricks and steel were hurled all over the immediate vicinity of the furnace, and rescuing parties are now at work SEARCHING FOR THE BODIES OF SEVERAL OTHER LABORERS WHO WERE WORKING NEAR THAT UNIDENTITY AT THE TIME OF THE EXPLOSION AND ARE THOT TO HAVE BEEN BURIED. THE STRUCTURE WAS COMPLETELY RUINED."

Second Story.

However, the next day's report in the paper, after the company officials had time to get their breath, stated, "It was at first believed that several other men lost their lives beneath the mass of brick and steel when the giant furnace toppled over after it had been blown to bits."

Coroner Angry.

Coroner E. E. Evans told the DAILY WORKER he had set no date for the inquest. When he was asked, "When will you hold the inquest over the body of the man killed in the blast explosion," he asked, "Which man do you mean?" "Which other man was killed besides Walter Nystrom?" he was asked and answered crosely, "No one else." He admitted, however, that he will be forced to inquire into whether there were other deaths. The inquiry will be a farce however, as the city officials, the newspapers and the doctors have combined to shield the discovery of the extent of the disaster from the steel workers.

The reporter handling the story of the disaster for the Post Tribune admitted that he was not at all sure as to whether or not more than one man was killed. "The company announced that only one was killed," he said, "and we can do nothing but take their word for it."

By an ironic coincidence, at the very moment when the DAILY WORKER reporter entered the city hall, the chief of police and J. Harris, brother of the city editor of the Post Tribune, had their heads together over a DAILY WORKER and Workers Party anti-war leaflet which party members in Gary had been distributing from house to house. The police chief was threatening to arrest the distributors of the leaflets, but he indignantly refused to reveal any information which might get the Gary Steel Mills in "bad."

A. V. Martin, secretary to R. W. Atchison, the superintendent of the blast furnaces, while he hotly denied that more than one man was killed in the blast, absolutely refused to allow the DAILY WORKER reporter to view the ruins caused by the explosion. Just as the DAILY WORKER reporter came out of Martin's office, a Polish steel worker came from the mill gates with his hands cut to pieces and his face a mass of wounds, the blood dripping to the ground. He was curtly directed to the hospital, by the guard, who turned to the DAILY WORKER reporter and remarked, "That a common occurrence here. We don't think anything of it."

It was stated by Coroner Evans' secretary that, "So many workers get mangled and killed in the steel mills that it is hard to keep track of them. I don't believe they'll ever find some of the bodies." She declared Nystrom's body was so torn to pieces that no one was allowed to view the remains at the funeral.

The steel mills in Gary, which belong to the United States Steel Corporation of which Elebrt H. Gary is president, are working at only thirty per cent of their normal capacity, and those who are working, are employed only two and three days per week.

1000 Per Cent Profit.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—More than 1,000 per cent profits in six months have piled up for the absentee owners of the Island Creek Coal Co. As a result of low non-union wages the company sold coal profitably at $1.98 a ton. By underselling union territory it ran up production for the first half of the year to a record-breaking total of 2,060,907 tons in spite of the depression. Net income for the six months ended June 30 was $1,434,874, equivalent after preferred dividends to $10.83 on each $1 share.

Send in that Subscription Now

DAVIS RUNS TO PLEASE MORGAN, HIS FRIEND SAYS

Pal Gives Low Down on Johnny

By LAURENCE TODD
(Federated Press Staff Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—John W. Davis was picked by the Morgan financial group in New York to become the successor to Elihu Root as their chief counsel in business and politics, and his candidacy for the presidency of the United States on the democratic ticket is merely a job undertaken for his employers, according to an intimate acquaintance and old associate of the West Virginian. Davis will be more surprised than anyone else if he is elected; he was put into the game to make it safe for Coolidge and Dawes.

This early friend of the candidate points to the pro-labor tendency in Davis' record in congress, which was chiefly a big fee from the West Virginia coal operators; they thot it better to have him on their side. Then he became solicitor general, and then went to Switzerland on a commission for exchange of German war prisoners. In Geneva the diplomats gave him their approval, because he was well-groomed in thot, speech, dress and deportment.

Errand for Standard Oil.

He became ambassador to England. In London he found himself running errands for Standard Oil, Bell Telephone, the Chicago beef packers and United States Steel. The Wall Street people talked him over and agreed that here was the boy to fill the shoes of Elihu Root. They brought him home and gave him $600,000 the first year. His Locust Valley place on Long Island was sold him by Bedford of Standard Oil on notes which bore no collection date. Davis was taken into the social government of the United States, the Wall Street family.

As Democratic presidential candidate, this heir of Elihu Root considers it his role to talk like the Woodrow Wilson of 1912. He finds the nation in the grip of wicked monopoly. He discovers that the courts are using injunctions too freely against labor. He believes that the naval oil leases were wrong. He endorses the Ten Commandments.

Socialistic Camouflage.

He is going to confess these radical views in a solemn speech of acceptance and the editorial writers on the Coolidge press controlled by Davis' employers are ready to denounce him as "unsafe" and his principles as "astoundingly socialistic," in order that the voters may imagine that Davis is in earnest.

The "independent" branch of the Morgan press will reply that Davis is not radical, but is merely developing the safe America liberalism of Woodrow Wilson. Then they are both to suspend hostilities until the formal decision of the chief investment interests is handed down in favor of Coolidge or Davis as their choice for the job. If the decision should by any unforeseen chance of events be for Davis, he will put his campaign into the hands of his corporation friends. Nothing further will be heard of his liberalism.

NEW YORK CITY Party Activities

OPEN AIR MEETINGS.

Tuesday, August 12.

Section 1—102d St. and 2nd Ave.—Speaker: Joe Brandt. 116th St. and 5th Ave.—Speakers: Primoff and Greek speaker.

Section 3—106th St. and Madison Ave. —Jewish speakers.

Section 4—103rd St. and So. Blvd.—Speakers: Carl Brodsky, Joe Padgug.

Section 5—Graham and Varet Streets. —Speaker: Ben Lavy.

Wednesday, August 13.

Section 1—Suffolk and Grand Sts.—Speakers: Sam Nessin and others.

Section 2—116th St. and Lenox Ave.—Speakers: Joe Brandt and others.

Section 3—Wilkins and Intervale Aves. —Jewish speakers.

Section 4—32nd St. and 5th Ave. —Speaker: Rebecca Grecht.

Friday, August 15.

All open air meetings called off on account of general membership meeting.

Saturday, August 16.

Section 1—Lenox and Madison Sts.—Speakers: George Primoff and others.

Section 2—116th St. and 5th Ave.—Speakers: Joe Brandy and Louis Baum.

Section 3—Grand Street Extension—Speakers: Kuttner, S. Felshin.

Section 4—Stone and Pitkin Ayes.—Speakers: Charles Dreyer and others.

Section 5—98th St. and Mermaid Ave.—Speakers: Fannie Warshawsky, Pollack.

Union Hill, New Jersey.

Tuesday, August 19—Speakers: S. Felshin and others.

Saturday, August 16—George Primoff, Jack Stachel.

Storm Kills Farmers.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 10.—Five persons were reported dead, a score or more injured and property damage running into thousands of dollars were recorded, as a result of two tornados which levelled twenty square mile of growing grains, many farm houses, barns, a canning factory, uprooted trees and destroyed wire communication in western Wisconsin.

Send in that Subscription Today.

SOUTHERN RAILWAY BONUS PLAN IS REFINED SWEATING SYSTEM LIKE THE NOTORIOUS "B. & O."

(By The Federated Press)

Operating employes of the Southern railway are making the stockholders a present of boom profits in a depression year under the stimulus of a bonus scheme written into wage agreements signed last spring. The stockholders will get scarcely less than the recordbreaking 10% profits of 1923. But the employes, whose intensive co-operation with management makes this possible, appear unlikely to make even the meager 1½% addition to their 1924 earnings which represents the maximum bonus for the year.

First Cousin to "B. & O."

This bonus plan of the Southern is one of the several schemes of the railroads to identify the employes with management. It belongs in the same class with the Baltimore & Ohio shop co-operation experiment which is producing reduced costs and increased profits for the stockholders but little for the employes except claims of steadier jobs.

The Southern plan was incorporated into three year agreements signed with the 4 operating brotherhoods and the American Train Dispatchers association as a rider to five percent wage increase for the trainmen and 6 and 10 percent for the dispatchers. If successful it would tend to make the employes pay their own increases by harder, more careful work.

How the Bonus Works.

It specifies that if in spite of the wage increases the ratio of certain expenses to gross revenue is no higher than in 1923 the management will pay each employe a bonus of 1½ percent of his total pay for 1924 and 3 percent for 1925. The expenses to be included in the ratio include the wages of the men affected and in addition the fuel used by locomotives, other supplies for locomotives, yard supplies and expenses, train supplies and expenses, cost of clearing wreck, damage to livestock on right of way, loss or damage of freight and baggage, and injuries to persons. The ratio of expenses to gross revenue in 1923 was 21.42 percent. Fractions of a percent by which this ratio is increased during 1924 and 1925 will be deducted from the bonus until the bonus is eliminated. But the employes secure no corresponding gain if they reduce the ratio.

Results for the first 4 months of 1924 show that in spite of their efforts the employes have fallen about 1-3 of 1 percent short of keeping expenses down to the test ratio, in other words that they must do better to secure the full 1½ percent bonus for the year. The slump in revenue due to business depression is against them. The Southern railway used 1923, a year of unprecedented prosperity when gross revenue was 17 percent above the previous year, as the test period.

Fine for Management.

Results from the management's point of view are exceedingly gratifying. The extent to which the efforts of the employes are cutting costs and keeping up profits are shown by interstate commerce commission figures for the first 6 months of the year. Net ton miles of revenue freight fell from 4,188,419,000 in 1923 to 3,753,234,000 in 1924, a reduction of 10 percent; operating revenues fell from $61,863,002 in 1923 to $58,609,275, or $3,253,727; but the road's profits fell less than half a million from $11,178,034 in 1923 to $10,698,387 in 1924.

Other figures show that this remarkable result was due to the increased efficiency of the operating men. When traffic declines the operating ratio generally goes up. Instead it fell from 75.3 percent to 74.9 percent. The ratio of transportation expenses to operating revenues declined from 38.2 percent in 1923 to 37.6 percent in 1924. And the pounds of coal consumed per 1,000 gross ton miles fell from 212.4 in the first five months of 1923 to 190.2 in the same period of 1924, a remarkable reduction.

The bonus plan is working to the satisfaction of the stockholders. The maximum 1½ percent additions to the wages of the employes is still problematical.

Defiance to Labor Legislation Offered by Bosses' Union

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—Refusal to abide by enforcement of the union shop thru possible congressional or other legislative enactment is seen in the following declaration of the open shop committee of the National Association of Manufacturers:

"The open shop question is much more than one of political scope and it cannot in the final analysis be settled in the political arena."

Openshop manufacturers subscribing to this declaration are S. W. Utley, chairman, Detroit Steel Castings Co.; F. R. Bacon, Cutler-Hammer Mfg. Co., Milwaukee; Joseph J. Fisher, Splitdorf Electrical Co., Newark, E. A. Holmgreen, Alamo Iron Works, San Antonio; Charles B. King, Marion Steam Shovel Co., Marion, Ohio; Theodore W. Little, Walworth Mfg. Co., Boston; William Hume Logan, The Dow Co., Louisville; C. W. Masland, C. H. Masland & Sons, Inc., Philadelphia; F. L. Smithe, F. L. Smithe Machine Co., New York; John A. Westman, Dahlstrom Metallic Door Co., Jamestown, N. Y.

UNION HEADS SWITCH FROM BERRY TO BOB

Probably Support Old Parties in Pennsy

By ABRAHAM JAKIRA

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Aug. 10.—A call was issued by several local labor "leaders" for a La Follette Conference to be held in this city early next week. Among these labor men are Clinton Golden, state organizer of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers Union, and Lewis G. Hines, of the Metal Polishers Union. Both of them are known as "progressives."

It was Mr. Hines who several weeks ago introduced a resolution in the Philadelphia Central Labor Union asking for the endorsement of the fascist major Berry as Vice-President on the Democratic ticket. With major Berry rejected by the Democrats Mr. Hines became a staunch supporter of La Follette. He apparently sees no difference between La Follettelism and the Democratic party.

Clinton Golden, another progressive and supporter of La Follette, did not even dare to consult his own organization whether he should attend the La Follette conference or not. He visited the Harrisburg Conference as an individual, although the conference in its official announcements made it appear that Mr. Golden represented the Philadelphia organization of the Amalgamated. As a matter of fact, at a recent meeting of the Philadelphia Joint Board of the Amalgamated the question was raised by what authority Mr. Golden attended the La Follette Conference in Harrisburg. Mr. Rudoif, the business manager, officially declared that the organization had nothing to do with La Follette. That was before the union endorsed the "independent" ticket. It was due to pressure of business in connection with the strike that the question was not pressed by the Joint Board.

In order to mislead the workers rumors are being spread that a Farmer Labor Party would be organized by the La Follette forces as soon as the elections are over. This is far from being the truth. At the La Follette conference held recently in Baltimore the secretary who opened the conference took special pains to announce that "the conference is not a Third Party movement, neither was it called for the purpose of promoting the idea of a Third Party."

Messrs Golden and Hines know the truth, that the La Follette movement is nothing but a capitalist affair. Why don't they tell it to the workers who still look upon them as progressives?

TWO MORE RICH YOUNG IDLERS RUN TOO WILD

Two more pleasure-seeking parasite sons of millionaires have been hailed into court. Bernard McMahon and Robert F. Carey, both 19, are the victims of their midnight follies in a 22nd street cabaret and the exciting race in a powerful motor car with half a dozen police pursuing. Carey is charged by the police with using a weapon with intent to kill—because the police claim he shot at one of them—and with driving while intoxicated as well as speeding; McMahon is up for disorderly conduct on Sept. 1.

But Papa Carey, wealthy brick manufacturer and south side democratic politician, and Papa McMahon have threatened to spank their misbehaving offspring and the cases against the young men will probably never brot up in court longer that for dismissal. Tom Carey has plenty of "dough" and plenty of "pull." It won't take allen-ists to get these lads out, and they'll probably grow up into office later.

Picnic Successful.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Aug. 10.—The West Side English Branch of the Young Workers' League, held a very successful picnic, Sunday, Aug. 3, attended by over 200 young and old workers.

The following were winners in the various sport events: Sack race, Edward Folatka; women's race, Olga Koski; 100-yard dash for men, Hannes Holtman; 50-yard dash for fat women, Nery Autviien, first; Sandra Delin, second; 100-yard dash for fat men, Paul Holtman, first; Bert Rankin, second. A large number of copies of the Young Worker were sold.

The committee in charge consisted of Comrades Rangkan, Murphy, and Ellen Murphy.

COMMUNIST WITH WOBBLY HARVEST WORKERS WRITES

"Scissorbills" Get Jobs from Legion

ABERDEEN, S. D., Aug. 10.—To the Daily Worker:—Received the bundle of leaflets yesterday and am now busy handing them out to the slaves. They seem to appreciate them very much.

The law is after us steadily, driving us out of town when we get too plentiful, searching us and tearing up our cards. I was fleeced twice. But they didn't find mine. Those who are a little obstinate are hit over the head with a gun-butt.

At Mellette, South Dakota, the other day, the harvest workers were driven out of town with guns and pick-handles, and the American Legion was very proud of having saved the country for the bankers. Some of the wobblies admit that the state is some kind of a bug, all right, and they feel like fighting it, too; not by simple industrial action alone, either, but horse to horse. Some others are going to have the capitalists rolled off our backs without a fight, like worms off a tree, when they get the industries all organized—when! So it is up to us to make our viewpoint clear whenever we come in contact with them.

The harvest is very slow and those hired so far are a few automobile tramps and some good slaves hired through the American Legion cooperating with the Department of Labor. This bunch along with the cockroach business men in the Chambers of Commerce set the "going wage," for which the I. W. W. very much blame John Farmer, the same as for all the other evils that befall them. Fraternally—C. W.

All-Russian Code.

MOSCOW, Aug. 10.—An all-Russian telegraph code — the first that has ever been published in Russia—has just been issued. It has been drawn up by an inter-departmental commission, under Mr. Boky's chairmanship, and includes over 50,000 words, phrases, various terms and specifications, etc. The use of this code in all business and official correspondence is expected to give a general economy of from 50 to 80 per cent on an average.

AS WE SEE IT

By T. J. O'FLAHERTY.

(Continued from page 1)

transfusion of blood was necessary to save the patient, it has mended its ways and set about securing the life-giving fluid from none other than its erstwhile foe Gompers. But it happens that Sam is as dried up as the S. P. Not only does he lack the milk of human kindness but Lazarus never turned a deafer ear to poor Dives calling for refreshment from his sulphurous pit in Hades, than Gompers to the dying plea of the S. P. Such ingratitude.

* * *

EVERY socialist functionary who could write, not intelligently but legibly, has seconded the Gompers campaign to clean out Communists out of the unions. In fact to show their change of heart the socialists outdid the old line Gomperites in expelling Communists. Gompers accepted these marks of submission as he received from Gompers did not materialize. On the contrary Gompers has sucked the S. P. dry and now casts it empty on the political scrap pile. Gompers knows that the socialists were quite willing to desert their principles in search for jobs. But jobs—his jobs—they will not have except over his dead body. Hence the venom with which he belays them for their temerity in announcing their intention to dominate the LaFollette movement and become the Independent Labor Party of America.

* * *

WE learn from the News Bulletin, official paper of the League for Industrial Democracy, a socialist party agency financed by the American Fund for Public Service, that the conference of the League which was held at Belmar, New Jersey on June 25-29 sang better than last year. The conference did not meet in order to listen to amateur musicians thump the pan. The delegates could hear better in an up-to-date movie house at less cost. But reading on a little further we learn that Benjamin Stolberg opened the discussion on "The Possibilities and Limitations of Political Action.' This may be responsible for what appears to us like a "sour note." What these conferences accomplish besides helping to spend Mr. Garland's fortune is not clear.

* * *

SENATOR HIRAM JOHNSON of California is expected to fall in line behind Senator LaFollette. Johnson would not be a square peg in a round hole, on the LaFollette bandwagon. Johnson calls himself a progressive. He denounces the big fellows who are trying "to invegle our beloved country into the tortuous paths of European diplomacy." Senator Johnson is a stalwart friend of big business in California, but he is against big business in New York or Alaska. LaFollette has not incurred the enmity of big business in Wisconsin, but he is against it on general principles every other place but does not hurt it very seriously. LaFollette is today in American politics what Lloyd George was in England during the Boer War. Mr. George was the deadly foe of the militant imperialists, but when he came into office what did he not do for the big fellows? Johnson of California, the man who is mainly responsible for keeping Tom Mooney in jail, should feel right at home with LaFollette.

* * *

WILLIAM NOBLE LEWIS, a colored man, was forced by a mob of white ruffians to flee from his home and twenty acre farm in Clarion, Va., leaving his bride of three weeks and his mother. The mob accused him of being "sassy" with the postmistress in demanding a key to the postoffice box he had just rented. Colored people claim that certain people were jealous of Noble because he worked his farm scientifically. Furthermore they wanted to get his farm. This incident is only one of many that happens daily thruout the country. But for the man's speed in getting away he would undoubtedly have been lynched. Yet Mr. LaFollette, the expressed opposition to religious prejudice, has never raised his voice against these cowardly and murderous attacks on the colored workers. Now that he has declared himself against the Ku Klux Klan and appointed a Negro organizer to rope in the colored vote, he may see the value of becoming a rival of Marcus Garvey.

'BLACK FRIDAY', PEACE FRIENDS CALL SEPT. 12

Ask Mobilization Day Be Mourning Day

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., Aug. 10.—Black-banded circulars urging everyone to proclaim Sept. 12 as "Black Friday, or Day of Mourning," have been broadcasted by a society calling itself Friends of Peace, with headquarters at 1212 Market Street.

The circular reads in part: "War profiteers and militarists have set Mobilization Day. Like the 'Preparedness Parade Friday, September 12, 1924, as ness Day' demonstrations it is designed to popularize war, and to facilitate the quick operation of the Draft, and the control of industry when war is declared.

Sentiment Appealed To.

"THE SUREST WAY TO BRING WAR IS TO PREPARE FOR IT.

"We believe that the surest way to prevent war is to concentrate public opinion upod the wholesale killing of the last war.

"Let everyone wear a mourning band on the arm on that day; let every flag be half-masted and draped with crepe; post mourning notices in all newspapers, in all windows and on every windshield and fence. Bring the matter before every labor union, church, fraternal society, civic body or other organization of which you may be a member."

What About Imperialism?

"Black Friday" is proposed as the "day of mourning" for those who were slain in the world war and all "celebrating" are to promise "that it shall not occur again."

Nothing is said about the causes of wars nor about really effective means of eradicating wars, that is by overthrowing the rule of imperial capitalism.

Here Comes "Blackjack."

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.— General John J. Pershing left Washington for his farewell tour of the army. He will inspect the citizens military training camps from New York to Denver and will then return to the capital to completa final plans for the Defense Day mobilization test on September 12.

Printed on a fine grade of paper. 12 inches wide by 18 inches high. Suitable for framing or posting in your window.

VOTE and WORK
FOR
FOSTER for PRESIDENT

Get a photographic reproduction of this new picture of Foster free.

Every Reader of THE DAILY WORKER
will be a worker for
FOSTER FOR PRESIDENT

THE DAILY WORKER
will be the best, the most incessant worker for
FOSTER FOR PRESIDENT

YOU!! WORK!!

For Foster for President by securing new subscribers to THE DAILY WORKER

4 MONTH SPECIAL ELECTION CAMPAIGN SUBSCRIPTIONS (For new subscribers only) $2.00

Get a New Reader for the DAILY WORKER and a Big Picture of Foster for Yourself

USE THE COUPON

THE DAILY WORKER
1113 W. Washington Blvd.,
Chicago, Ill.

I have sold a Special 4-Month Election Campaign sub. Please send me FREE the picture of Foster.

Name: .....
Street: .....
City: ..... State: .....

New Subscriber's
Name: .....
Street: .....
City: .....
State: .....

Fight MacDonald, Zinoviev Tells Communists

CLOSES REPORT TO COMINTERN

In the closing section of Zinoviev's report, given here, he outlines the tasks before the Communist Parties in England, Germany, France, Italy and other revolutionary countries. Thus his entire report to the Fifth Communist International Congress is seen the program of co-ordinating the revolutionary movement of the world into a unified, irresistible body.

* * *

CHAPTER X.

Concrete Tasks of Principal Parties. The English Party.

I NOW come to the final chapter: the concrete tasks of the most important parties. And here I agree with the German Party in its view that each separate party must be given its own concrete directions. That will be the most important work of this congress.

Politically, the most important section of the Communist International, at present, is not the German, nor the Russian, but the English section. Here we are faced by remarkable situations: a party of only three to four thousand members, wields far wider influence than would appear from these figures. For in England we are dealing with a different tradition. MacDonald's party is not much stronger than ours. Their weekly paper the "New Leader," has a circulation of 15,000; we have a circulation of 55,000. The tradition of a mass party is not known in England. Max Beer is quite right when he says that old Keir Hardie looked upon the movement as a means of influencing individual leaders. To form a mass party in England is the chief task of the entire present period. The conditions are there. But the English Party shows signs of great weakness. For instance, it does not dare to criticise MacDonald.

Now with regard to this, one must candidly admit that great masses of the English workers are still attached to MacDonald and speak of him with affection.

Like Kerensky.

I have the feeling that it is the same situation as we had in Russia during the first month of Kerensky's government. Nobody could say a word against Kerensky. One had to criticise him indirectly; first for an hour to dilate on how Kerensky was a good fellow and almost a great man, and then delicately hinting that he too makes mistakes. In England we have the same state of affairs. The workers are still attracted to MacDonald; they are still full of illusions and he has the advantage that he has not a majority in Parliament. This enables him to say to the workers: "I should like to do much more, but I have not a majority." At next elections, when we have a majority, we will soon show the stuff we are made of. We shall come forward and like lions we will make the forests ring."

The situation, therefore, is not so simple. The MacDonald Government is still on a rising wave of popularity. But if we wait passively until the tide turns, then we shall have no need of a Communist Party. The Social Democracy will go bankrupt, shortly. We are there to hasten the process. That is the reason why our party in England must already resolutely fight MacDonald now in order that the masses when they at length realize MacDonald's true character they will know that we, the Communists, told them the truth long ago.

Need of British Daily.

In the year 1921 Lenin fought against Wynkoop and other "lefts" of that time, over the question of communists joining the Labor Party. But in the year 1924 we are face to face with a new situation. A "Labor" Government exists, and MacDonald is in power. Therefore our little group of communists must follow its historic path. They must first become a mass party; and secondly begin to recruit workers into the Party and found a daily paper. When one talks to the English comrades about this they say that this is asking them to wear a hat that is far too big for their head, and they worry about how this hat will fit them. Thirdly, we must more thoroughly permeate the rank and file of the trade-unions in order to form a left-wing movement there. Fourthly, more attention must be paid to the youth. Until quite recently, there was no Young Communist movement at all in England, and it is even now only at its beginning. Fifth, the colonial question must be attacked with audacity such as befits Bolsheviks. Sixth, dispersion must the right must be combatted wherever they are met with; election campaigns must be conducted differently, the lines proposed by Rosmer must not be followed; in their propaganda they must be prepared even for a break. That is the most important problem for the English Party.

FRENCH COMMUNIST JOB

The next most important Party in the Communist International is the French Party, precisely because of the new international situation ("democratic pacifist" too) which I have already referred.

I think the French Party has made great progress. It is far stronger than it has been. It has a sound left wing which we are supporting. What was formerly the "center" must join the left wing in forming a common "left," in the true sense of the Communist International, and without forming a fraction. The French Party must capture the large industrial centers in the country.

At present its only stronghold is Paris. This is important. In Brandler's old Central Committe it used to be said that they had everything else behind them except Berlin and Hamburg. But then it turned out that "everything else" was also not behind them.

The French Party now holds Paris but has too little support in the provinces.

In Sweden, Comrade Hoeglund has "everything" except Stockholm. I don't want to draw any conclusions from this; Hoeglund should do it himself from various examples.

The chief task of the French Party as present is to get out into the industrial proletarian districts outside of Paris. In our activity we must take into account the illusions created by the victory of the left bloc. The French social democrats have tried to be very cunning! They have not openly formed the government, but they will vote for the Budget, the occupation of the Ruhr, etc. Actually it is part of the Government. We will be cunning too. We will say to the social workers: this is not your government, your people are not in it; why should you worry about it, it is only a bourgeois government; why should we not fight it together for amnesty, for the evacuation of the Ruhr, for higher wages, for the recognition of Soviet Russia, for the eight-hour day, etc.? We must conduct the tactics of the united front skillfully. At the moment when the social democracy is becoming officially the "third" party of the bourgeoisie, there will be no development from above. The moment when the social democratic leaders enter bourgeois governments, their combinations present favorable opportunities to win over the rank and file. While the social democratic leaders are engaged with their government combination, a favorable opportunity presents itself to get among the masses of the social democratic and non-Party workers and get them to combine with us.

Then the Social Democrats will be crushed between these two combinations. The masses will become more discontented, unemployment will continue, the economic situation will grow worse, and the "Experts' Report" will not help the workers. This is an ideal situation for winning over the best section of the workers, particularly in France.

Outside of Paris.

The most important task of the French Party is to win the individual centers outside of Paris and to extend and strengthen the Party apparatus. In Paris we have 8,000 members and yet we have 50,000 subscribers to "Humanite"; and we polled 300,000 votes at the elections. What does that mean? A decided backwardness in the Party organization. What does this signify? The backwardness of the Party from the point of view of organization. We must accustom the French workers to different methods of organization. The federation of the Seine must in the near future have 25,000 members. The most important task of the French Party is: To wipe out the last remains of Frossardism. What was formerly the "Centre" must boldly and sincerely march together with the "Left." The French Party must utilise the excellent qualities of the Parisian workers to warn the workers in the provinces at the moment when the leaders of the Social Democracy are engaged with governmental combinations with the bourgeoisie. The factory-councils' movement in France is still in its infancy. People are too busy talking about "high politics." In the whole of France there are only about 120 factory councils; such progress cannot be taken very seriously. Party nuclei and factory councils are only the first requirements of the French Party. There is no country in the world to which the motto of the Workers' and Peasants' Government is better adapted than France. It must penetrate deeper into the country, into the peasant cottages; we must have a good Communist press; a strong party apparatus; better international connections. These are the tasks.

GERMANS ADVANCING

Now as to the German Party, we have a special item on our Agenda: the German Question. Personally I am of opinion that we could quite safely strike out this item for the question is already settled. Germany has been most written and spoken about this year. I, at any rate, do not see a particular German problem before us at the present moment. The situation is difficult, the general political perspective remains unchanged. It is pregnant with revolution; already giant conflicts have broken out. The German Communist Party is now on the whole marching along the route of the Communist International. The crisis went very deep, the dangers were great. There was the danger of a split. Our Polish comrades asked why we were in such a hurry to shake off the old Central Committee. Surely it is obvious that if we had hesitated at all the split would have become inevitable. The crisis was so severe that we may consider it to have been solved fairly easily. (Severing: Quite true!)

Then as to the other controversary with the "Extreme Left." At a moment when we had no idea how things might turn out we had to act, and even to over-rate the dangers a bit. Even now we do not know its numerical strength but we do know that they are mensheviks turned inside out. At the moment, part of the problems have been solved. The new Central Committee will repulse this liquidation from the "left," and I hope it will successfully manage them.

German Trade Unionism.

There are still very great difficulties in connection with the question on the Trade Unions. The Central Committee must resolutely suppress any attempt at "revising" the Frankfurt resolutions, and to speak of leaving the trade unions. Nor is the parliamentary position simple. In both the French and German parliaments, we have a situation similar to that which Lenin used to call the "Pendulum" situation, where our group can at times have the decisive vote. This is bound to produce tactical difficulties for us both in France and in Germany. The Germans have also neglected the work among the peasants. This must be made good. I could quote a number of other minor tasks, but I shall not do so. The German Party has proved itself to have a robust constitution which has withstood the onslaught of serious diseases. If the body had not been so sound and proletarian, we would have had still greater difficulties. If the ultra left again try to emerge, we will resist it. If the old "left" deviation on the trade-union question arises again, we will also resist them. The situation between ourselves and the Central Committee of the German Party is amiable and satisfactory, but there are no reasons why we should not combat any errors if they arise. We combatted the "lefts" and we will do so in the future. The German Party have their own tactics and the right to criticise the executive. It has made more than good use of this right. We have no use for blind followers. But the German Party also has no use for an executive which does not openly say what is to be said. The executive may and will criticize and rectify what it thinks necessary. Comrades Thalheimer and Fischer, who are in the majority in the German Party, will admit that we acted correctly when the question of new tactics in the trade-union movement was raised. Some may have believed that the executive intended simply to hand the German Party over to the ultra lefts, but they will now realize that they were mistaken. The executive did no such thing and will never do such a thing. We did always fight for Leninism even in the German Party. We are quite pleased that the new Central Committee agree with us.

The Czecho-Slovak Communist Party.

Now for the Czech Party. I have already touched on this question and have not much more to add. I have the impression that the Czech Party lacks constant energetic revolutionary leadership. They work spasmodically. When in elections or something of that sort—there is a revival; when it is finished—they go to sleep again. There is no constant revolutionary leadership. I think that the Czech Party has much to learn. The Central Committee should have fresh proletarian forces introduced into it. Revisionist elements which are still in existence must be rooted out. While I have some hopes that Comrade Hula will rectify the errors, I have no such hopes for Vanek. There are elements in the Czech Party that are almost incorrigible centralists. We need have no doubts about the good intentions of Comrade Smeral. But we must demand the elimination of the errors exposed in the passage of the Polish resolution which I quote, an error which has been uprooted in Germany and in the whole Communist International. And this error has also to be eliminated in the Czech Party. More attention than hitherto must be paid to the national and peasant questions—this applies particularly to the Czecho-slovakian party.

POLISH COMMUNISTS

And now for other countries. I will begin with Poland. You know that for quite a long time, we regarded the Polish Section as one of the best Bolshevist sections of the Communist International. This is true with regard to the Polish class revolutionary traditions, and the splendid proletarian elements in Poland who are bearing all the burdens of illegal party-work. I must openly state that things are not so well with the leadership. The leadership of the Polish Party indulged in too much diplomacy on the most important questions—do termining the tactics of the Comintern, the German and the Russian questions. This gives food for sad reflections. The Polish comrades are most familiar with the Russian conditions, and they also know the German conditions very well. Now, they say they completely accept the standpoint of the Central Committee on the Russian and on the German questions.

This statement has only one drawback—it comes a little too late, it is like bringing the mustard after the meal is cleared away. Perhaps mustard sometimes may be good after a meal, but we would rather enjoy it during the meal.

As regards the application of the tactics of the united front, the Polish comrades have admitted at their own conference that they made great mistakes. The work of Comrade Krulikovski in the Diet was repeatedly criticized in the press. I must say that as far as I can follow his conduct, I consider it heroic (Radek: "Quite right!"), correct, and revolutionary. One must not chide a comrade for an isolated minor digression; one must not forget the difficult position of the party in a White Guard parliament. In general, Comrade Krulikovski is making use of parliament in the spirit of Karl Liebknecht. The rest are petty details.

Polish Leadership.

I cannot refrain from saying a few words about the leadership of the Polish Party. Where was our party during the rising in Cracow? It was not there at all. I do not say that a party must always be in the majority, but, comrades, when at a moment when regiments mutiny the Communist Party is completely absent, it gives us something to think about it. It is true that the difficulties of work in Poland are immense; we know perfectly well what it means to do illegal work under such circumstances. We know the heroic work done by the members of the Central Committee in Poland. But the political head of the Central Committee indulges in diplomacy. The Central Committee is not homogeneous. I am convinced that as soon as the Polish Communist workers learn where the shoe pinches, and where the leadership has been at fault, when they grasp what the real controversy is, between their leaders and the Communist International, and particularly with the German Party, they will be on our side, on the side of the Communist International and of the Russian Party, and not on the side of diplomacy. Yes, diplomacy against bourgeois enemies, the social democrats, is a fine thing; of course one has to employ diplomacy sometimes against our enemies and there is nothing to be said against that. But within our own fighting community, within the Communist International we need no diplomacy. I think in order to restore the confidence in the Polish Section as one of the best Bolshevist parties, it is necessary to correct some of the faults of the Polish Central Committee.

ITALY AND REVOLUTION

Now, comrades, we come to Italy. There we have two practical questions. First the relationship towards the so-called "Terzi" International; secondly, the relation to the Socialist Party. I think we must decide upon an immediate union between the Terzi with the followers of the Third International. The time is ripe for it. Whether the "Terzi Internationalists" should be represented on the Central fusion I regard as a secondary question. Of course, they must help to form the Central Committee. We are not going to insist too stubbornly upon the 21 points where they are concerned. These comrades have been wanting to join the party for two years, and we said to them: Stay in the old party! Capture it from within! With regard to the Italian Socialist Party, we must stand by our decisions, that is, we have its doors open in order that they may come in as a sympathizing party. During the discussions it was proved that behind "Avanti," behind the Italian Socialist Party, there are still considerable sections of the workers. You will remember that at the Fourth Congress it was said by the "ultra lefts" that there were no workers supporting this party, but only clerks, petty bourgeoisie, etc. But the last elections have proved beyond dispute that behind the Italian Socialist Party stand hundreds of thousands of good proletarians. Lazzari, Clerici, etc., are not Communists; they are sentimental revolutionaries. Not long ago I received a letter from old Lazzari in which he wrote that it was a question of conscience; on the one side there was his party, on the other the executive of the International; he could not come to a decision, but he remained loyal to the International. But I know that in the Italian Socialist Party there are hundreds of thousands of workers of whom many are with us; that Vella appears to be politically dead for the Italian Socialist Party, but is a proof that we must leave the door open and stick to our former decisions. It has been proved that the extreme "left" Communists in Italy were wrong when they said that there were no workers behind the Socialist Party. The thousands of workers are behind it, and they still believe that the Socialist Party half belongs to the Third International, and that only a misunderstanding exists which can be cleared up.

With regard to the Centrist elements in the Socialist Party, however, the fight against them must be continued.

Strong Communist Party.

With regard to the Italian Communist Party itself, the elections showed that it was, in spite of all a very strong Communist Party with a sound political core. It deserves all our support. It is our hope; it is the only representative of the Comintern in Italy. But the weaknesses which we have criticized, are still there. Recently it has again been proved that the views of the Communist International Executive were correct. You are aware of the fact that we have there three fractions. I don't know which of these fractions is actually in a majority. We must not be hasty in our judgment. But I do know that the extreme left fraction is politically wrong. Bordiga is asking us to confirm the Rome theses of 1922, dealing with the policy of the Italian Communist Party with regard to the "Arditii del Popolo." We have very often criticized twenty times together with Comrade Lenin. For instance, one of Bordiga's friends, Rossi, writes:

"A tactic is not a Communist tactic if it waits upon the situation for indications as to what its tactics are to be."

Doctrinaire Lefts.

I ask, to what should we adopt our tactics if not to the concrete situation? Some of the "lefts" are so doctrinnaire to believe that we can get together and make decisions on principles alone which will serve as a sort of "elixir" that would serve for all occasions. Of course we must not change our tactics with every wind. But on the other hand, we must take facts into consideration. We remain Communists; Communists in all situations. That we must suit Communists tactics to facts is so obvious that there is no need to talk about it. And only those comrades who have no feeling for the mass movement, who are not Marxists, will hold the contrary.

The Italian question is a delicate question. Bordiga and his close friends are good revolutionaries, loyal supporters of the International, but they have not yet got rid of those shortcomings which Lenin criticized. In this case, it is not the International but Comrade Bordiga and his followers who must give way. When they abandon their dogmatism they will become an asset to the Italian revolution.

International Before Bordiga.

Just one more word on this question. Bordiga said recently that if the International did not improve and did not accept his standpoint, he would be compelled only to use party discipline as a matter of form and that he would endeavor to form a left fraction on an international scale. I do not think that the International will allow this. We like Bordiga, but we like the International better still. It is not for the International to adopt itself to Bordiga, but for Bordiga to adapt himself to the International. There cannot be a question of discipline as a "matter of form" in our International. Whoever, here in a Communist world-party, we want to progress and not to retrogress. The more we progress the more we become a Communist world-party.

Permit me to pass over the other parties. It is late, and what I said about some parties, you will be able to apply with some modifications also to other parties.

COMMUNIST YOUTH

Just a few remarks on our Auxiliary-International and on the question of Communist education. The Young Communist International is our pride and hope. It is an organization which will give us a new generation of real Communists and real Communist leaders. In this we have already left the social democrats behind. In Russia the Young Communist League has increased its membership from 400,000 to 700,000; in Germany from 28,000 to 70,000." The German League has done excellent work in the Ruhr. The fight our youth is putting up is worthy of all praise. We are justified in saying that the Young Communist International is the right hand of the Communist International. Here too, we have important work before us.

A few more remarks on other auxiliary Internationals. The Red Aid has done satisfactory work, and the same applies to the International Workers' Aid. You are aware that the Sports Internationals commenced a crusade against it and have decided to leave it. The Sports International has also some successes to record. We must strengthen our women's movement; we have done little in this connection.

Organization Questions.

As to the question of organization, I think that the time has come to begin in all seriousness to reorganize our Party section on a factory-nuclei basis. We are told that we shall lose members by it. But the workers must be told that the party must have an industrial basis. The present territorial system of organization is a relic of social democracy. The latter built up its organizations as an electoral machine for election purposes only, and wherever our Communist parties still adhere to this system, we must say that they are not yet free from social democratic ideology. We must reorganize each party on a factory-nuclei basis, in order to do away with the necessity of bringing up this question again at the Sixth World Congress.

In conclusion just a few words on the future leadership of the International. Here again I must quote Comrade Bordiga because he showed commendable courage in raising the following questions. He says literally the following:

"Where is the guarantee that the International will become a world Communist Party? The fact that the best comrades of the Russian Party take part in the executive will not suffice because we have to deal with the historical situation. Deeds upon which we dared hitherto because we enjoyed the leadership of the genius of Lenin, we must now give up as dangerous to the Communist movement of the proletariat."

Comrades, we need no ceremonies. We must say frankly that Bordiga is partly right on this question. We have no grudge against him if, now that we no longer have Lenin beside us, the universal confidence can not be so boundless as it was, for we ourselves do not feel so confident as we did in Lenin. Such decisions were, so to speak, ultimately ratified by Comrade Lenin; when we knew that his decision would be so right, so objective, so wise, and so Marxian. It is our misfortune that we have lost the best head, the best mind, and the most farsighted leader. This is bound to have a tremendous effect in all respects. We have also become more circumspect.

Filling Lenin's Place.

But what are the conclusions to be drawn from this? We no longer have our Lenin with us, nor anyone to take his place, but the struggle of the world proletariat must be led. The conclusion to be drawn is this: The international leadership must be more collective. All the parties must give to the executive the best disciples of Marx and Lenin, the best heads and the best organizers. What other means than these can apply? Yes, we miss Lenin. To fill his place, we must draw the best forces from all of our parties to organize the leadership of the International. But after having brought about this organization, after having put the executive on a more international footing than hitherto, we should enforce not merely "formal" discipline, but truly proletarian, Communist discipline. We have no grudge against Bordiga; we are not so foolish as to imagine that although Lenin is dead everything will go on as usual. We ourselves appeal to you, comrades of all fraternal parties: Lenin is no longer with us, we must make collective efforts to replace him at least to some extent. We need the International for the emancipation of the working class; we must achieve a collective leadership, a steel leadership, which will unite hand and which will embody the collective wisdom of the whole working class.

Cases of Violation of Discipline.

During the period, we had cases of lack of discipline, some of which were left unpunished. For instance, from the Right, Comrade Hoeglund, who was backed by Tranmael, and from the Left from Bordiga, who refused to stand for parliament, although the party and the executive insisted on doing so.

We tried to liquidate these cases quietly, because of the high esteem in which we held these comrades personally. Hoeglund, during the war, and Bordiga after the war and now, have shown themselves to be good revolutionaries. I say frankly that if no guarantees will be furnished by the Congress, against a repetition of such breaches of discipline, we cannot take all the responsibility. The discipline must be even more stringent than it was when Comrade Lenin was alive. We must not look backwards, we must look forwards and try to grow into a World Party and to have an International Executive with an International leadership. Henceforth no one should dare talk of "formal" discipline. For this would put us on a level with the Two and a Half International. We would not be the heirs to Marx and Lenin; we would not be much better than Crispien. We must fight for a unified Communist Party, without fractions and groupings.

RUSSIAN COMMUNISTS

In so far as our Russian Communist Party is concerned, I may say in full consciousness that, such as it is, it is not liked by some: Souvarine does not like it, Radek does not like it at times (Radek: I like it very much!)

You see, even Radek likes it; it is a disciplined party, and as to it, it regards as a great honor to give to the Comintern of its best. All we ask you is to do likewise. Lenin is no more, but Leninism has remained. In order to make Leninism victorious throughout the world, we need firm leadership, and we must urge on all comrades to observe greater and stricter discipline than ever before.

The new political situation in Europe, the protracted economic crisis throughout the world, raises great tasks for us. We can handle these tasks only if the enforcement of real discipline become our elementary duty.

Of course, it is easy to be a disciplined soldier when one is able to carry out whatever one thinks useful for the moment. But one must also be disciplined when one is in a minority. At one time, even in the Second International, we voluntarily submitted to discipline towards it, but later on it became our duty to form secret factions (Wynkoop: Hear, hear!) to fight with all our might against opportunism and later even to split it. That was quite proper. But this must not happen in a Leninist International, a world Communist Party, which must be firm and solid as a rock. That was quite proper. We do not say that everything that it should be in the Russian Party, but we shall gradually do away with all our defects. But when the opposition says: "Just wait until October, we will see who was right, there will be a deficit in the Soviet budget of 400 millions," the Communist International must make such a speech impossible. (loud aplause).

The Communist International must declare that it knows, just as well as any of us, what difficulties the First proletarian government, surrounded by enemies, had, has, and will have to contend against.

If we really desire to follow the teachings of Lenin, if we want to create a truly Communist-Leninist International, if the resolution on the Bolshevisation of the party is not a mere phrase, we must have iron discipline, we must exterminate all traces of social democracy, reformism, democracy, etc.

The Second International is Declining. Third International in the Ascendant.

Comrades, we need not be afraid to avow that we did not drop down from the skies, that we were born out of the womb of the Second International. Here and there bourgeois and petty-bourgeois ideology is pressing in on us. This is the misfortune of our class. Had this not been so, we would have conquered the bourgeois social democrats long ago. We must combat this danger with all vigor, with firmness and perseverance, worthy of revolutionists. Leninists must not fall into a panic when opportunism emerges from the right. We must explain errors, create a real Communist International; fight and you will win. The Second International is numerically strong, but historically it is doomed. We used to state the case quite simply: the epoch of the Second International is at an end; the epoch of the Third International has commenced. Historically this is true, but sociologically it can not be stated so simply. For a number of years the true International will live side by side. The Second International will depart from the stage, it is destiny; we are in the ascendant. We shall win. But for this we must have iron discipline, a real Communist world party, which the Comintern must become. It was not in vain that we have plead ourselves to work and fight in the spirit of Lenin. Like a real Communist world party we must fight the opposition of, and point out the errors of the left. We must have a steel Communist leadership, because we have a great fight ahead. At the IVth Congress we had no inkling that in the following October we would have seriously to discuss the question of the German revolution.

Matters are coming to a head more quickly than we think, altho it seems as tho there is slow progress. It is quite clear that in the period between the Vth and VIth World Congresses we shall have to face decisive fights in all parts of the world. We must be ready to do everything, in order to become, not in words but in deeds, a real world-wide invincible Communist Party. (Loud, prolonged applause, developing into an ovation. Delegates rise from their seats, singing the "Internationale".)

PITTSBURGH, PA.
DR. RASNICK
DENTIST
Rendering Expert Dental Service for 14 Years
646 SMITHFIELD ST., Near 7th Ave.
1497 CENTER AVE., Cor. Arthur St.

WM. Z. FOSTER
What do you know about him?
When speaking to your neighbors, friends and shopmates and urging them to support and vote for William Z. Foster, the working class candidate for president, at the coming election, you will have to tell them what Foster has done for the labor movement. For this we recommend Foster's book:
"THE GREAT STEEL STRIKE AND ITS LESSONS"
The story of the steel workers fight for organization and recognition, led by William Z. Foster.
AN AUTHOGRAPHED COPY of this wonderful story sent to any address for $1.00
Regular price of this book is $1.75. Order at once, while the supply lasts! Remember: AN AUTHOGRAPHED COPY.
Literature Department,
Workers Party of America
4113 W. Washington Blvd.,
Chicago, Ill.

The World of Labor - Industry & Agriculture

BOLSHEVIKS WIN BIG DIPLOMATIC VICTORY IN CHINA

Russian Envoy Ranked Over Allies'

By ANISE.
(Federated Press Staff Correspondent.)

MOSCOW, August 10.—The anouncement that Russia has appointed Karakhan as ambassador to China means that while England, France, America and Japan have been watching each other jealously as to which should secure the chief position in the diplomatic corps at Pekin, Russia has walked in and taken it. In her knowledge of diplomacy, Russia was not born yesterday, or even six years ago.

The diplomatic corps in Pekin has a strong hold on the government. Elsewhere diplomats are merely foreigners; in China they nearly run the show. And the president of the diplomatic corps is, by rule and tradition, the senior member of the corps.

No other country has favored China with an ambassador. They send only ministers. The allied lands have been considering appointing an ambassador, but have been prevented by mutual jealousies. France did not wish a Briton as chairman of the diplomatic corps and vice versa.

Suddenly Russia, which had stolen one march on the diplomatic corps by getting a treaty of recognition with China behind their backs, steals another. China announces in the morning that she would be pleased to receive a full ambassador from Russia, and will send a Chinese ambassador in exchange. And before evening Russia announces that Karakhan is ambassador with all necessary papers.

Ambassadors precede ministers in rank. And even if all the other powers now appoint ambassadors, Karakhan is still the senior ambassador, and thereby president of the diplomatic corps in Pekin.

Mexican General Strike.

VERA CRUZ, Mexico, Aug. 10.—The city of Orizaba is completely tied up with a general strike. No business is being transacted. Street car lines are stopped, bakeries are closed and even hotel keepers must do their own slavey work.

Orizaba is in the heart of a wealthy oil and lead mining state and it is quite likely that the foreign capitalists, following the example of the British oil concern, El Aguilar, are disregarding the provisions of the Mexican constitution which gives the workers protection.

SOVIET OIL TRUST HEAD IN N. Y.

(Continued from page 1)

tion the Oil Trust has already commenced the work of replacing the old worn-out equipment and organizing the industry in general along more rational and economical lines eliminating the wasteful methods employed by private owners of the oil fields in prewar times.

This policy has been amply justified by the results attained. In spite of most unfavorable conditions the oil industry in the Soviet Union has made rapid progress toward reaching the pre-war level of production and there is every indication that the pre-war mark will be exceeded before long. The average monthly output in the Baku, Grozny, and Emba fields is at present about 1,000,000 barrels. The Azneft is exploiting not only the old oil wells but is concentrating considerable attention on the cultivation of new fields which are already yielding most satisfactory results. The intensified drilling works cover an area of about 18,000 feet monthly. As a result of this work the only oil field train will not be less than in the last year owing to the increased acreage.

He pointed out that the Oil Trust is extending its production of kerosene to meet the increasing demands of the peasant market, and he also mentioned the preparations made by the Oil Trust to supply the peasants in the Fall, by the time the harvest will be gathered, with kerosene lamps which are now being purchased in great quantities in Sweden.

Oil Fleet Grows.

Mr. Serebrovsky further pointed out that the expansion of the export necessitates the increase of the Soviet Oil fleet. While orders were placed with Russian plants for the construction of new oil tankers it was one of the objects of Mr. Serebrovsky's visit in England and Sweden to negotiate additional orders for tankers to be purchased abroad. The European business circles have shown keen interest in Mr. Serebrovsky's mission and a number of leading firms have manifested their readiness to execute diverse orders for the Oil Trust on advantageous financial terms, granting four years credits.

Mr. Serebrovsky expressed his confidence that the volume of business between America and the Soviet Union would greatly increase if normal conditions for trade between the two countries would be re-established in the nearest future. He also related of the high esteem and the feelings of friendship entertained by the people of Soviet Russia towards the people of the United States.

Mr. Serebrovsky left Moscow late in June, visiting Sweden and England on his way to this country.

Famine Denied.

In this connection Mr. Serebrovsky emphatically denied the current rumors of a general famine in Russia. Although some regions have been hit by the drought, still the total yield of grain will not be less than in the last year owing to the increased acreage.

Anti-War Meet.

Fred Kaufman, Orlo McSwain, J. B. Ell, John Kohar, I. Hutton were nominated for the presidential electors. Ella Reeve Bloor, Louis Zeitlin, and James A. Ayres addressed the convention.

An enthusiastic anti-war meeting was held after the convention and everyone stayed for the picnic supper. Norman Tallentire made a stirring address and Ella Reeve Bloor made a collection and announced that a branch of the Young Workers League would be organized at the Labor Lyceum on August 14.

Juniors Ready.

Ten "Juniors" were already present and eager to join the League as soon as it is formed here.

"A real revival of Communist sentiment is in progress in Denver," states Ella Reeve Bloor, organizer, "and all comrades are pledging themselves to work hard for the DAILY WORKER, for the state and national campaign, and they are already lining up for the Foster meeting of October 1."

The state platform adopted by the Colorado Workers Party is:

State Platform
Workers Party of Colorado

1. Municipal ownership of public utilities, with workers control of the management, through shop committees elected by the workers in the shops.
2. Public labor to be employed on all public works (road building, etc.). No farming out of contracts; construction to be undertaken directly by the state or municipality under the direction of the workers' control committees.
3. Protection for mothers before and after childbirth, and equal pay for equal work for all working men and women.
4. Abolition of child labor; maintenance by the government of all children during the period of education up to the age of 16. Education to be under the control of teachers' councils.
5. Abolition of the power to issue injunctions; guarantee of the constitutional right to organize, strike and picket.
6. Absolute social, economic and racial equality for workers.
7. Inauguration of public works; governmental seizure of closed factories to provide employment for those out of work; maintenance by the local and state government at trade union wages of all those for whom work cannot be found; establishment of control committees of workers to prevent sabotage by the employers, to regulate production and investigate accounts; no eviction for non-payment of rents by the unemployed.
8. Land was created for all the people and we demand a system of land tenure which will eliminate landlordism and tenantry and will secure the land to the users thereof.
9. Establishment of a Farmer-Labor Party based on the class interests of industrial workers and exploited farmers.
10. Establishment of a workers and farmers' government as the substitution of the present capitalist dictatorship with the dictatorship of the proletariat.

COLORADO PUTS WORKERS PARTY CANDIDATES UP

Workers Develop Fine Fighting Spirit

(Special to The Daily Worker)

DENVER, Colo., Aug. 10.—The state convention of the Workers Party nominated a full ticket to run in the fall elections and made plans for carrying on an active campaign for the only working class candidates in the local and national field—the Communist nominees.

The state ticket is as follows: William Dietrich for governor; candidates for lieutenant-governor to be named by Pueblo or Trinidad; secretary of state, Albert Kiefer of Denver; for United States senator, James A. Ayres of Rio Blanco, Garfield County; for attorney-general, Sidney Smith of Denver; for congressmen, Nelson Dewey of Edgewater, Jefferson County, and Louis Zeitlin of Denver; for state legislature, Helen Lowie Dietrich, G. C. Jeffries, John Lendwehr, Dorothy Fil, Isabel Hutton, J. Ferschier.

More Oil.

DANVILLE, Ill., Aug. 10. — Oil struck on the Thomas McCormack farm near Longview turned out to be oil alright, but of sparing quantity. Only five barrels a day are now flowing and it is believed this will go down to about three and a half barrels a day. The McCormack well may only be on the edge of a big oil pool drillers believe.

Anti-T. B. Meet.

MOSCOW, Aug. 10.—An all-Union anti-tuberculosis conference will be held at Kharkov, Ukraine, in the middle of August. A special anti-tuberculosis exhibition will be organized and attached to the conference.

500 COAL MINERS SLAUGHTERED THRU USE OF UNSAFE MACHINERY

(Special to The Daily Worker)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Five hundred coal miners have been killed in 26 recent coal mine disasters and fires because of the use of unsafe electrical apparatus, altho the bureau of mines has for 14 years been conducting tests of every sort of electrical apparatus and machinery for the mines, according to an official statement by the bureau.

"An open-type electric coal drill used in a gaseous mine in West Virginia," says the report, "was the probable cause of the death of 27 miners. A half-safe type of electrical coalcutting machine used in a gaseous mine in Pennsylvania was the probable cause of the death of 36 men. An unapproved, unsafe type of flame safety lamp used in a gaseous and dusty mine in Utah was the alleged cause of the death of 171 men. All three disasters happened within the past six months, and would seem to have been avoidable if proper equipment had been used."

So far as known, no disasters have been caused by sparks or flashes from equipment that has been approved by the bureau.

While the report does not say so, it is evident that the reason why safe equipment is not installed in the mines is that this installation would reduce the net profits of the operators for a few months.

LIBRARIANS HIT PLUTE CONTROL OF U. S. READING

Carnegie's Dead Hand Rules the Shelves

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., August 10—Censorship of the American people's reading matter "by predatory interests," thru control of public libraries by private foundations, being established all over the country, was charged today by the Librarians' Union in a report to the executive council of the American Federation of Labor.

The charge was leveled primarily at the Carnegie foundation. An investigation of the charge was ordered by the council.

Chief points of the Librarians Union charge follow:

1.—That Carnegie libraries are not controlled by municipalities.

2.—That such libraries are controlled by boards of trustees in no sense responsible to the people, but appointed generally by the foundations themselves, or with their approval.

3.—Such control under the terms of the Carnegie contracts, is perpetual.

4.—Public moneys appropriated by cities and states, pass out of the control of the givers immediately upon their donation and are administered by the foundation or their trustees.

5.—That there is rapidly coming into being a system under which only books approved in a certain manner may be placed on foundation library shelves.

"Unity," Slogan of Red Congress of Labor Unions

(Continued from page 1)

congress is no mere unity declaration. The congress chooses 17 persons to constitute a negotiations commission under the guidance of the Profintern. The task of the commission is to keep in touch with the Amsterdam International and with the English trade unions and when necessary, to carry thru negotiations.

The resolution is adopted with only two votes against it.

Hellar (Russia) reports on the tasks of the Profintern in the colonies. The crisis in Europe increases the flow of capital to the colonies and strengthens the exploitations of the East. The backward technique and inability to compete of native capital brings about a co-operation with foreign capital for the increase of profits and the accumulation of capital. The labor organizations grew up spontaneously after the Russian revolution, but they are as yet ill-informed and they endure the heavy economic pressure and the pressure of governmental power. The peasantry and handicraftsmen are an aid of the working masses. The united front is coming into being in Japan, Java and South China. The time of spontaneous uprisings are gone. Only strongly founded organizations hold out hopes for success. The most important demands are: the right to organize, freedom to strike and social legislation. The tasks are to achieve a co-operative movement, schools and clubs for their support, and special organs for the co-ordination of the colonial with the national movements. The Amsterdammers seek to obtain a binding together of Japan, India, North and Central China. The mass feeling, however, is for the Profintern. The trade union movement has made good progress in the last period of time.

In the discussion Nguyen-al-Quack (Indo-China) presented a report on the social situation and on the condition of the working class of his country.

Tany (Japan) amplified the reports of the speakers by indicating the progress of the working class movement in Japan. He pointed out the war possibilities between Japan and America.

Radin (China) reported that the social condition of the working class under the pressure of foreign capital has become demoralized. The press appears only illegally, the working class is robbed of its leaders, who are either killed or arrested. The Chinese working class movement possesses revolutionary spirit.

Semaoen (Indo-Asia) stated that the wages for the native workers was insignificant. Unemployment in the colonies makes worse the conditions of the working class in Europe. Joint work between the colonies and the mother countries is imperative.

Ismeil (Turkey) and Roland (Turkey) pictured the situation of the Turkish working class, and Kebir Sade (Persia) did likewise for that country.

Wilson (England) stated that developments drive the conolies to revolution. The tasks of the Comintern are to support the strikes and the nationalist struggles of the colonies. The demands of the hour, especially in India, are: The question of wages, the eight-hour day, the woman problem, child labor and political rights.

Renaud (France) spoke of the great economic importance of Central Africa. Black troops are being used against European workers. The task is the sending of permanent agitators into Indo-China and Madagascar.

In closing, Heller showed the great sagerness of the colonial proletariat to co-operate with us. The character of struggle assumed by the colonial working class movement is a result of the lowering of the material conditions of the workers there.

Frisco Employers' Association Sick On Third Birthday

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 10.—The Industrial Association, anti-union strike-breaking annex of the Builders' Exchange, is celebrating its third birthday. It boasts of having broken the building strike in 1921, "thereby abolishing all artificial and autocratic union rules," but forgets to mention that since that time the unions have come back strong and made the American Plan practically a dead letter.

It blows a trumpet over its non-union trade schools, but fails to state that contractors are refusing to take the badly trained and inefficient graduates of these schools. The Industrial Association also claims credit for the spread of employers' group insurance, thus giving credence to the union assertion that this form of insurance is an anti-labor scheme.

Send in that Subscription Today.

JOBLESS PICK UP REFUSE FOOD IN CLEVELAND DUMP

Unemployed Workers See "No Help Wanted"

BY GEORGE PAPCUN.
(Special to the Daily Worker.)

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Aug. 10.—Thousands of unemployed workers are walking the streets and crowding the parks of Cleveland, being compelled to beg from door to door, and restaurant to restaurant, and the most unfortunate are even reduced to the extremity of picking over the garbage at the dump near the East Ninth Street Pier. Here can be seen at all hours of the day men searching for pieces of meat, bread, fruit, anything which will support existence even tho the "food" is in various stages of decay and infested with maggots. The more fastidious take their meal some distance away and often cook it along the beach, but many eat right on the dump where they find it.

The police are endeavoring to reduce the large number of homeless men who make the public parks their home day and night, and quite often a patrol wagon load is taken to the police station, to answer to the charge of vagrancy. However, this does not cause the victims much worry as they are thereby assured of shelter and food at least for a few days.

It is practically impossible for either a resident of the city or a newcomer to obtain any kind of employment. The employment offices are crowded, with an occasional shipment, upon payment of a fee, to an out of town point. In going about the city, one sees over and over, the sign, "No Help Wanted."

Mussolini and MacDonald in African Grab

(Special to The DAILY WORKER).

ROME, Aug. 10.—A decree ratifying the Anglo-Italian Jubaland convention will be published within the week by the minister of the colonies. The new territory will be called Transjuba and will be administered by a high commissioner.

Jubaland is part of the Kenya Colony of British East Africa and adjoins Italian Samoaland. Premier MacDonald, England's imperialist socialist, and Benito Mussolini, blackshirt dictator of Italy, may the division of empire in May. Italy got 34,000 square miles of land; what England got has not been announced.

In the Kenya Colony conditions of government have been sadly unjust ever since the British came into control. There is a group of Hindus who emigrated there and who have not found British rule any more hospitable to them there than at home. The problem is further complicated by the native blacks, most of whom are kept in virtual slavery to English imperialists.

Italy has been no better master across the line and will not improve the conditions of the inhabitants of Somaliland while enriching herself at their expense.

St. Louis Butchers Enjoined Against Peaceful Picketing

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 10.—Another strike breaking injunction has been dished out in St. Louis. The victims are the union meatcutters who have been conducting a successful strike and orderly strike against an anti-union meat company. Circuit Judge Falkenheimer, notorious for similar writs against workers, notably against the striking waitresses three years ago, issued a temporary injunction prohibiting peaceful picketing of the struck shop.

Send in that Subscription Today.

FOR INSURANCE OF ANY KIND
CARL BRODSKY
1123 Broadway, New York City
Tel. Watkins 3626.

Your Union Meeting

Second Monday, Augusta 11, 1924.

No.	Name of Local and Meeting Place
625	Boiler Makers, 5324 S. Halsted St.
164	Boot and Shoe Workers' Joint Council, 1939 Milwaukee Ave.
	Building Workers' Joint Ex. Board, 1709 W. 21st St.
201	Brewery Workers' 1709 W. 21st St.
1	Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, 910 W. Monroe St.
593	Butchers, 4002 W. Roosevelt Road.
70	Carpenters, 2705 W. 18th St.
80	Carpenters, 4039 W. Madison St.
181	Carpenters, 2040 N. North Ave.
199	Carpenters, S. C., 9139 Commercial Ave.
416	Carpenters, 506 S. State St.
419	Carpenters, 2257 Citybourn Ave.
448	Carpenters, 222 N. 9th St., Waukegan.
1367	Carpenters, 2040 W. North Ave.
2506	Carpenters, 6654 S. Halsted St.
14	Cigar Makers' Ex. Bd., 166 W. Washington St., 7:30 p. m.
	Coopers' Joint Ex. Bd., 2525 S. Halsted St.
4	Engineers (Marine), 601 Capitol Bldg.
460	Engineers, 4643 S. Halsted St.
491	Engineers, 111 S. Ashland Ave.
569	Engineers, 180 W. Washington St.
625	Engineers, 180 W. Washington St.
645	Engineers, (R. R.), 2433 W. Roosevelt Road.
700	Engineers (Loc.), 3900 W. North Ave., 7 p. m.
80	Firemen and Enginemen, 5058 Wentworth Ave.
7	Firemen and Oilers, 175 W. Wash.
17144	Garfield Park Carpenters, Garfield Park Hall, Hinsdale, Ill.
	Hotel and Restaurant Empl's Joint E. Bd., 166 W. Washington, 2 p. m.
83	Ladies' Garment, 328 W. Van Buren
74	Lathers, 725 S. Western Ave.
444	Longshoremen, 358 N. Clark St.
	Machinists Dist. Council, 113 S. Ashland.
	Machinists Conf. Bd., 113 S. Throop
101	Painters, 3216 W. North Ave.
194	Painters, Ashland Ave.
266	Painters, 111th and Michigan Ave.
273	Painters, 3432 S. Kedzie Ave.
830	Painters, 20 W. Randolph St.
227	Railway Carmen, Cicero and Superior.
452	Railway Carmen, 5252 S. Ashland.
1063	Railway Carmen, 55th and Commercial.
1162	Railway Carmen, 92d and Baltimore.
	Railway Clerks' Dist. Council, 165 W. Madison St.
276	Railway Clerks, 549 W. Washington Blvd.
843	Railway Clerks, 165 W. Madison St.
849	Railway Clerks, Madison and Sacramento.
695	Railway Clerks, 75th and Drexel.
781	Railway Clerks, 549 W. Washington Blvd.
877	Railway Trainmen, 3906 W. North Ave.
195	Retail Clerks, Van Buren and Ashland.
	Sailors' Union of Great Lakes, 355 N. Clark St.
16986	Scientific Laboratory Workers, City Hall, Room 711.
142	Signalmen, 2100 W. 51st St.
3	Switchmen, 1221 Collins St., Joliet, Ill.
706	Teamsters, 220 S. Ashland Blvd.
	Trade Union Label League, 166 W. Washington St. 7:30 p. m.
280	Typographical, 180 W. Washington

(Note—Unless otherwise stated all meetings are at 8 p. m.)

Send in that Subscription Today.

OUR DAILY PATTERNS

A PLEASING HOUSE OR MORNING DRESS.

4646. This style is especially suited to stout figures. It is in slip on style. The sleeve may be in wrist length, or cut short in shaped outline.

The pattern is cut in 6 sizes: 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48 inches bust measure. A 42-inch size requires 5 yards of 36-inch material. For collar, facings and vest of contrasting material ⅝-yard is required. The width at the foot is 2¼ yards.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in silver or stamps.

Send 12c in silver or stamps for our UP-TO-DATE FALL AND WINTER 1924-1925 BOOK OF FASHIONS.

A PRACTICAL GARMENT FOR YOUNG CHILDREN.

4830. Dotted percale with trimming of white linene or organdy, would be good for this model. It will also be pleasing in crepe, or chambrey or in gingham.

The pattern is cut in 3 sizes: 6 months, 1 and 2 years. A 1-year size requires 2 yards of 27-inch material. To make collar, belt, cuffs, legbands and pockets of contrasting material will require ¾-yard 36 inches wide.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in silver or stamps.

Send 12c in silver or stamps for our UP-TO-DATE FALL AND WINTER 1924-1925 BOOK OF FASHIONS.

Address: The Daily Worker, 1113 W. Washington Blvd., Chicago, Ill.

NOTICE TO PATTERN BUYERS—The patterns being sold thru the DAILY WORKER pattern department are furnished by a New York firm of pattern manufacturers. Orders are forwarded by the DAILY WORKER every day as received, and they are mailed by the manufacturer direct to the customer. The DAILY WORKER does not keep a stock of patterns on hand. Delivery of patterns ordinarily will take at least 10 days from the date of mailing the order. Do not become impatient if your pattern is not received by return mail.

UNCLE WIGGILY'S TRICKS

A LAUGH FOR THE CHILDREN

THE DAILY WORKER

Published by the DAILY WORKER PUBLISHING CO.
1113 W. Washington Blvd., Chicago, Ill.
(Phone: Monroe 4712)

SUBSCRIPTION RATES
By mail:
$6.00 per year ... $3.50...6 months ... $1.75...3 months
By mail (in Chicago only):
$6.00 per year ... $4.50...6 months ... $2.50...3 months

Address all mail and make out checks to
THE DAILY WORKER
1113 W. Washington Blvd. Chicago, Illinois

J. LOUIS ENGDAHL, WILLIAM F. DUNNE } ..... Editors
MORITZ J. LOEB ..... Business Manager

Entered as second-class mail Sept. 21, 1922 at the Post-Office at Chicago, Ill., under the act of March 3, 1879.

200 Advertising rates on application.

Gen. Wood Predicts Slaughter

The exalted ruler of the Philippines by grace of God and Wall Street, General Wood, has been having trouble ruling the subject millions of the Pacific islands. The Filipinos have taken seriously the many promises of independence and the bunk about the idealism of American capitalism, at least to the extent that they are demanding the right to establish their own capitalist state. Which doesn't suit Wall Street and consequently neither General Wood. And in the fracas resulting General Wood has gotten quite rough. He is now court-martialing several hundred native soldiers for "mutiny" and more bloodshed seems imminent at the hands of this representative of American exploiters.

All of which is the explanation why General Wood has suddenly discovered that the Third International, thru the Workers Party, has issued a manifesto calling for the slaughter of all foreign "workers" in the Philippines. General Wood needs a threat of slaughter to help him justify the slaughter he himself is carrying thru now in the Philippine Islands. So he conveninetly drags the Workers Party on the stage as the threat to the peace of American imperialism.

The Workers Party appreciates the compliment. It understands that Communism and the Third International are, indeed, a real menace to imperialism the world over, the only real threat to its continuation. We hope that this menace will continue to grow and cause General Wood and all the other generals more loss of sleep than ever before. The menace to imperialism consists in the awakening of the millions to their own power and to the necessity of establishing a society where exploitation and exploiters are abolished.

Of course, the blood-and-thunder manifesto that Wood claims to have discovered is a fake, pure and simple. The real manifesto which is reproduced in this paper is much more dangerous to imperialism than the fake one of General Wood. The doughty warrior of capitalism would be pleased if he could provoke a bit of premature blood-letting before the masses are in motion, in order that he might crush with iron the rising independence movement in the Philippines.

Fake Marxism

Continually there appear critics of the Workers Party to point out, from the point of view of an alleged "Marxism," the opportunist character of the American section of the Communist International. One of these is John Keracher who, with his thirteen disciples, forms what is known as the Proletarian Party. Keracher thinks that the Workers Party, by championing the cause of the bankrupt farmers in America, is "seeking to bolster up the lower strata of the property owning class," and hence is a reactionary party.

Like so many other radical appearing arguments that have been made, not only against the Workers Party but against the Communist International itself, this is only a "revolutionary" mask for a counter-revolutionary attitude. It is the same argument that finds its logical conclusion in a repudiation of the Communist International as "un-Marxist" and the Soviet government of Russia as "petty bourgeois," because of the alliance between the workers and peasants that is a basic part of the policy of both these supreme expressions of the revolutionary movement.

These little closet students of Marx like to play with revolutionary words. But they might never have lived in the same world as Vladimir Ilyitch Lenin, so far as concerns an understanding of revolutionary action. With their greatest "revolutionary" achievement to be found in the issuance of a 16-page monthly filled with 90% drivel, these "Marxians" sneer at the greatest revolutionary genius, and congratulate one another upon their "revolutionary purity." Such Marxism is fakery, pure and simple. It has nothing in common with revolution.

Foch Should Cheer Up

News dispatches say that Marshall Foch looked glum when Herriot told him he had to take the French troops from the Ruhr. Orders is orders, however, when delivered by J. P. Morgan, so there is nothing for it at the moment but to get out. This is depressing to the old blood spiller, who wants his soldiers in action on alien soil, and causes him to look glum.

Marshall Foch should cheer up, however, and not take the withdrawal from the Ruhr too much to heart. In the first place the withdrawal has not taken place yet—not by a long ways. He may have a lot more experience in the Ruhr yet, and with the consent of Morgan. And in the second place, if he gets out of the Ruhr on Morgan's orders, he should have confidence in Morgan that greater military ventures will come out of the new game.

For Morgan is a greater war lord than Foch can ever hope to be. The latter is but a petty servant, carrying thru the schemes of world conquest of the financial masters. Foch is not the real war maker, anyway, and if he is foiled of his morning bath of blood by his masters today, it is for the sake of a bigger war to come a little later. So cheer up, Foch! Morgan will take care of you!

Crocodile Tears

Samuel Gompers grows sentimental over the "betrayal of the organization formed at St. Paul," in the course of an editorial in the American Federationist for August. After he, an open and avowed enemy of all Farmer-Labor parties, even of the most conservative, had joined with LaFollette and the whole crew of wreckers who sabotaged the most promising political effort of the workers in a generation, he now has the effrontery to say that the Communists, by putting out the Foster-Gitlow ticket, "betrayed" the St. Paul convention.

It is quite understandable that Gompers and his lieutenants are much displeased at the presence of a Communist ticket. They would much prefer to have succeeded in their destruction of the Farmer-Labor party movement, and at the same time, keep the Communists out of the field as a separate ticket. That failure in the double project brings howls from them is natural.

The tears that Gompers is shedding are quite the same as those of the Carpenter and the Walrus, related by Lewis Carrol in "Alice in Wonderland," who felt so sorry for the oysters they were eating. Gompers and LaFollette joined in stabbing the Farmer-Labor movement in the back. After it was killed for the 1924 campaign, in spite of the strenuous defense put up by the Communists up to the very last moment, then the killers moan about the "betrayal" by the Communists because they refuse to also die. It is the same sickening hypocrisy that has come to be familiar to the American workers as typical of Gompers and his whole bureaucracy.

Religion, Imperialism and "Labor"

It is doubtful if the artist who drew the reproduced cartoon in DAILY WORKER magazine June 28, realized how much it would stir up the feelings of imperialists all over the world. The cartoon pictured Jesus Christ, the King of England, and Ramsay MacDonald taking a stroll together, and symbolizes the union of religion, imperialism, and the traitor "labor" leadership in their common betrayal of the toiling masses of the world. It first appeared in Pravda, the Communist daily of Moscow.

The exploiters all over the world get angry when their brothers are exposed. So it is not surprising that the "Better America Federation," an "open shop" organization that stands for unbridled capitalist exploitation in this country, should foam at the mouth about this cartoon. They feel so sore about this cartoon that they reproduce it in a special circular for all their members to get a good look at it. It is labeled as a "wanton outrage," a "sacreligious affront," and an "assault on the highest ideals of religion and patriotism."

But the point is still not clear: Is it wrong to picture Jesus along with the King and MacDonald? Or was it wrong to put the King in such a company? Or is the protest against showing MacDonald as the colleague of the relics of feudalism? Our idea is that it is none of these—it is the protest against the awakening of the workers to the combination of powers that oppress them.

The Approaching Crisis

Industrial crisis is rushing upon the United States with lightening speed. The thousand and one indications of its approach, which the Communists announced a year ago, are now merging into one great outstanding fact making clear to everyone that the crisis is at hand—the fact of unemployment.

For more than a year the trend of employment has been generally downward. True, there were temporary hesitations during which industry held its own, and even a brief recovery in January and February, all of which caused the professional optimists of capitalism to announce a new "boom." But these oscillations of the industrial index were purely incidental and only affected the speed, not the direction, of events. Employment has been continuously on the downgrade.

Now the downward development has grown precipitate. The crisis is attaining the acuteness displayed in 1921, which finally resulted in the throwing of 6,000,000 workers into the streets before it was temporarily overcome by the now expiring period of "prosperity." Before the coming winter snows have covered the earth the streets of the big cities will resound with the tramp of the unemployed millions, unless all signs fail, or unless capitalism applies the desperate remedy of another great war.

A new member for the Workers Party and a new subscriber to The DAILY WORKER.

Ex-Governor Walton of Oklahoma won his fight in the democratic primaries against the Klan candidate. This proves that justice triumphs in the end and that the righteous only need patience, perseverance and something else to overcome the forces of evil. It is reported that Walton made enough money while he was governor to buy up the entire Klan.

A Step Towards a Real Communist Party

BY J. W. JOHNSTONE,
ASSISTANT SECRETARY, TRADE UNION EDUCATIONAL LEAGUE.

THE strength of a Communist Party can be judged, to a great extent, by how quickly it can marshal its forces at any given point in the struggle. How quickly can it rally its members, say, in the steel industry, either to help or lead an organizing drive, to fight for an increase, or against a cut in wages, to throw its entire strength in the revolutionary struggle in any one of the numerous class war fronts.

A mass Communist Party cannot be judged by its numerical strength alone. There is always the plus to the size of the membership. That plus is, to what extent do the workers ideologically accept the leadership of the Workers Party; and the extent that our Party will lead the workers depends a great deal upon how the membership interprets and responds to the slogan, "to the masses."

The average worker, the revolutionist of the future, does not see beyond the every day struggle. He will fight heroically for a larger portion of bread, or to retain what he has got. He will not come all at once to the revolutionary struggle. His illusions are deep and real and must be ruthlessly uprooted before he will let go of them. He will not come of his own accord to us, we must go to him. Hence, the slogan, "To the masses."

What do we mean "To the Masses?" The majority of the workers are unorganized and the few million who are organized are split up in a thousand different splinters. How best can we put our slogan into effect and carry the Communist message to the workers? We have a clearly defined industrial program but how can we start to put it into effect? These things are uppermost in our minds. We know what we want, know how to get it, but somehow we are not entirely in tune. The industrial activities are not in step with the other work of our party.

First, do not let us make the mistake of either over-estimating or under-estimating our strength. It is only a short time ago that we came from underground, from illegal to legal. And on that short time we have made a remarkable recovery from left-sickness. The revolutionary struggle from the most elementary practical immediate measures to the dictatorship of the proletariat is being led by the Workers Party and the T. U. E. L.

Our greatest weakness is not the smallness of our Party, but that the industrial work of the Party is neglected almost entirely by a large number of the members. Theoretically, the Party is unanimously for the industrial program, realising that the roots of the Party should be in the factory and workshop and that the ground work activities of the Party is the industrial work, and that we must sluff off as quickly as possible our Socialist Party inheritance and reorganize our Party upon the shop nuclei basis.

This makes industrial registration the order of the day in Party circles. Unless we have a complete industrial registration we cannot become a real throbbing revolutionary unit of action. We cannot marshal our forces because we do not know where they are. Our trade union work is equally handicapped. The shop nuclei remains in the theoretical stage. Our comrades in unorganized industries remain unknown to each other and to the Party. In fact, all the work of a Comunist Party is hindered and hampered and inefficiently done, unless there is a complete industrial registration.

Not until we have a complete industrial registration will we be able to throw the full weight of our Party into the struggle. Of course mere registration is not enough. Active participation in the industrial work is the duty of all Comunists and the registration will go a long way to bring this about.

Every Party branch should see that a complete registration of the members is taken at once, that the yellow registration blank is turned into the City Central Secretary; the Blue sent in to the District Organizer, and the White form sent in to the National Office. Every Party member should take a personal interest in this registration, give the branch secretary every assistance possible, and make his task easy by co-operating with him.

The importance of the industrial registration cannot be over-estimated. It will be a big organizational step in the process of Communist Party. The forming of the shop nuclei depends upon it. The efficient work in the trade unions demands upon it. The "organize the unorganized" campaign depends upon it. The real effectiveness of the Party depends upon knowing where the Party members are and how their energies can best be used in the revolutionary struggle and in the building up of our Party.

The registration cards and triplicate report blanks are now in the hands of the printers, and will be shipped to the branch secretaries in a few days. The form has been simplified and the registration so arranged that it can be immediately put to use in all districts without going thru the national office. That means that it can be utilised by the D. O.'s and industrial organizers the minute the registartion is completed in their district. District 8 Chicago challenges all districts in making the quickest and most complete industrial registration. Do you accept the challenge?

After 50 Years of Failure

(Continued from page 1.)

of Dane County, Wisconson, in 1880; thru his term in the House of Representatives, 1885-1891; and his entry into the United State Senate in 1906 to date.

We brand the widely touted progressivism of Senator LaFollette as more noise than substance. We will prove that such fraudulent progressivism does not hold out any hope to the workers and exploited farmers.

We will marshal conclusive evidence to show that LaFollette's opposition to "Special Privilege" not only has not hurt or shocked the profits of the biggest interests but that it has even helped them. More than that. We will call upon LaFollette to tell us how proud he is of this beneficial effect of his policies on big business. The facts indicate that in the last fifteen years most of LaFollette's progressive planks have been either enacted into law by or incorporated into the programs of the republican and democratic parties.

As to LaFollette's warm friendship for the workingmen and poor farmers, we will let the Wisconsin Senator's actual record of positive achievements speak for itself. The repeated bitter protests by the organized workers against the peculiar anti-labor slant of the Wisconsin courts will be recounted from official documents. Besides, we will look into the pages of the close dealings between LaFollette and such labor haters as McKinley and Penrose and the unfailing support tendered by "Battling Bob" to such enemies of the workingman as Senator Walsh of Montana who was just denounced by the Montana State Federation of Labor.

We will call the roll of LaFollette's leading "angels."

Mr. LaFollette will be called to the witness stand to tell us by word of his own mouth and by the record of his own activities how he voted for fifty-five out of the sixty war measures while the American workers and farmers were being slaughtered on the battlefields of France and Belgium.

Nor will we overlook the proud war record and the strong National Guard of LaFollette's own peace-loving Wisconsin.

In turning the searchlight on LaFollette's opposition to militarism and imperialism we will narrate the story of the Senator's support of McKinley's annexation of the Philippines, the insatiable interest of the foremost "progressive" leader in having the country he prepared at all times for wars of "defense," and the non-resistant attitude of the progressive group in the Senate and House towards the last one hundred and fifty million dollar Butler naval grab.

The class which Mr. LaFollette really serves, the strength of the open shop movement, the weakness of the trade union movement, the poor child labor, industrial accidents and wage records of Wisconsin will be offered as the shining examples of the helpfulness of LaFollettism to the working masses.

And proof that LaFollette's program is useless, out-of-date, and inadequate will be the final evidence submitted by us to show that the Wisconsin Senator is not deserving of the political support of the working class and the dispossed farmers.

His "Progressivism."

Let us examine the outstanding arguments that are most often advanced to show that LaFollette is a genuine progressive worthy of support by and political leadership of the working and farming masses. Briefly stated these are:

1. Senator LaFollette is opposed to "special privilege" and has fought it all his life. In a campaign pamphlet entitled "Where LaFollette Stands on Fifty Living Issues," we are told to look at the state made famous by LaFollette, Wisconsin, as the "Model Commonwealth." The adherents of LaFollette propose to extend this "Wisconsin Idea," the regulation of big business and its restoration to honesty, thruout the country.

2. LaFollette insists he is a tried and true friend of the workers and poor farmers as against the employing class.

3. The LaFollette boosters are continually asserting that their candidate was anti-war and steadfastly opposed the last imperialist world conflict.

4. Considerable stress is laid on La Follette's attitude towards and record of opposition to militarism and imperialism.

5. The supporters of LaFollette always point with pride to Wisconsin, where the Senator is the undisputed political boss, as a shining example of the genuine progressivism and helpfulness of his policies to the workers and poor farmers.

6. Finally, the program of La Follette is said to afford the working and farming masses the best way out of their numerous political and economic hardships.

In our next article we will consider LaFollette's regulation program and his special war on "Special Privilege." But before going into a specific analysis of the above contention of the worshippers of the Wisconsin senator it would be well for us to consider briefly the material conditions, the social milieu giving rise to LaFolletteism.

A World Phenomenon.

At the close of the World War the employing class governments of the leading countries tended more to take on an openly reactionary and dictatorial character.

This tendency was stimulated by political and economic class considerations of the capitalists. The feat of Soviet Russia; the terror struck in the hearts of the exploiters by the rapid rise of the Communist movement; the necessity to restore production and exchange at the earliest moment in order to save a tottering economic system; the need for crushing the most elementary demands of the working masses embittered by the severe depression which came after the Versailles Treaty—all of these forces lent impetus to the trend toward ruthless, open dictatorships.

But soon there was a vigorous reaction to this development. In Great Britain the reactionary Baldwin and Curzon rule gave way to the Labor cabinet of Ramsay McDonald and Philip Snowden. In France the militarist Pioneers gave way to the so-called Socialist ministry of Herriot. In Spain the dictatorship of Primo de Rivera and the notorious "Butcher" Weyler is on its last legs. Even in Italy, the cradle of Fascism, Mussolini's power is waning.

Historical Background.

In the United States there was also developing a sharp swing from the black days of Palmer and Daugherty. The seven million majority of Harding was turned into a minority in less than three years. The strong resistance of the workers to the terrific open shop drive launched by the employers in the crisis of 1920-22—the gigantic national textile, mining and railway strikes—did a good deal to check developing the political consciousness of our workers and hastened the change. Then the acute agricultural depression of the last five years was a powerful force towards breaking up political and class alignments. For the first time in the history of American politics the organized Farmer-Labor movement showed tangible signs and increasing evidence of assuming a national organized character.

In a word, the United States, like the other leading capitalist countries is moving from the openly dictatorial frankly violent governmental administrations to cabinets whose capitalist suppressive character was masked, to policies whose phrases had a peaceful tone, to foreign relations which had the veneer of liberalism and the hollow mockery of democracy. The Communist International has well characterized the present political era of capitalism as democratic pacifist.

It is at such a period, at such a turn, in the historical development of the United States that Senator Robert Marion LaFollette of Wisconsin appears as the personification of the past, present, and future of the small sized and medium-sized capitalist property owners to seek the political support not only of all honest business men, of all disgruntled, well-to-do farm owners and highly skilled aristocratic laborers, but also of great sections of the working class and the exploited farming masses. Mr. LaFollette, the spokesman of the lesser which have been smarting under the whip of highly developed, monopolized, trustified industry, is now seeking to lead and control the slowly crystallizing class resentment of the working and poor farming masses against the biggest exploiters thru a loose political alliance of the discontented working class and poor farmers with the middle class.

First Campaign Issue

THE DAILY WORKER has issued several special editions since it was established and each one of them had a splendid reception. The next special issue of the DAILY WORKER will be a campaign issue and it will appear on August 30th. It will surpass all previous special issues in interest and educational value.

The best writers in the Workers Party will deal with the big questions that confront the workers of this country today and the problems that will always confront them until they take their destinies into their own hands, which means until they take over the government and begin the task of building society on a Communist basis.

The educational features of the special campaign issue cannot be over emphasized. Much confusion exists as to what are the methods by which the Communists carry on their propaganda to win over the majority of the workers to their side. What is parliamentarism? Is it a propaganda weapon or a disease? Should Communists use parliamentary action or should they boycott parliaments? The title of Comrade Alexander Bittelman's article, "Parliamentary Action vs. Communism," indicates that this subject will be treated in Comrade Bittelman's customary lucid manner.

The Workers Party election program. Have you read it? or better still have you digested it? What does the Workers Party offer the workers and exploited farmers as a goal and as a method of attaining that goal. Comrade Ruthenberg will deal with this question under the title "An Analysis of Our Election Program."

J. Louis Engdahl, editor of the DAILY WORKER, will show what Wall Street has done to the two big capitalist parties and what they have done for Wall Street in return. Wall Street to us means capitalism, not merely a financial house of prostitution which can be cleaned up by a gang of progressive scavengers or moral vigilantes. Comrade Engdahl will put the X-ray on the corrupt parties under the heading "What Do the Two Old Parties Stand For?"

Jay Lovestone, author of the Government—Strike-breaker, and expert on fake progressives, will lift the Wisconsin mists from the LaFollette program.

Earl R. Browder will deal with "The Trade Unions and the Election Campaign," while Ben Gitlow will assume the role of Diogenes for a moment and peer around looking for an honest streak in the remnant of the socialist party. What he finds may be a yellow streak.

Barney Mass, of the Young Workers League, will tell of what the youth are going to do in the campaign. Joseph Manley will write on how to organize the campaign. Being campaign manager for Foster and Gitlow and an expert in that field his article is sure to be worth reading.

William Z. Foster, our presidential candidate, will have a statement in the Special Campaign Issue.

Now is the time to put in your order for extra bundles of the Campaign Issue. This is going to be the best yet. Do not miss it.

* * * * *

FOR THE COMMUNIST CAMPAIGN

DAILY WORKER,
1113 W. Washington Blvd.,
Chicago, Ill.

For the enclosed $..... send me ..... copies of the First Special Communist Campaign edition of the DAILY WORKER, to be dated Saturday, Aug. 30, at the special rate of 3½ cents per copy, or $3.50 per hundred. I want to help raise the standards of Communism in this campaign for the Workers Party ticket—Foster and Gitlow.

NAME .....

ADDRESS .....

CITY ..... STATE .....

YALE UNIVERSITY
NOV 29 1924
LIBRARY

ORDER YOUR BUNDLE OF THE DAILY WORKER'S FIRST SPECIAL CAMPAIGN ISSUE—SEE PAGE SIX

THE DAILY WORKER RAISES THE STANDARD FOR A WORKERS AND FARMERS' GOVERNMENT

THE DAILY WORKER

Entered as Second-class matter September 21, 4923, at the Post Office at Chicago, Illinois under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Communist Candidates
For President:
WILLIAM Z. FOSTER.
For Vice-President:
BENJAMIN GITLOW.

Vol. II. No. 124. SUBSCRIPTION RATES: In Chicago, by mail, $8.00 per year. Outside Chicago, by mail, $6.00 per year. TUESDAY, AUGUST 12, 1924 290 Published Daily except Sunday by THE DAILY WORKER PUBLISHING CO., 1113 W. Washington Blvd., Chicago, Ill. Price 3 Cents

CAR BUILDERS' STRIKE SPREADS

MAC DONALD RAIDED COMMUNISTS FOR APPEAL TO TROOPS NOT TO SHOOT DOWN STRIKING WORKERS

(Special to The Daily Worker)

LONDON, August 5 (By Mail.)—The raid upon the headquarters of the Communist Party of Great Britain and the arrest of John Ross Campbell, the editor of its official organ, "The Workers' Weekly," is disillusioning masses of British workers as to the alleged labor character of the MacDonald government.

The excuse given for the arrest of the editor and the raid on the party headquarters was the publication of articles addressed to the armed forces of the empire, calling upon them to line up with the workers and to refuse to shoot at their uniformed brothers in the event of a strike or any other struggle between the workers and their masters.

This is the crime for which the "Labor" regime began its persecution of the Communist movement in England, and showed itself to be a staunch defender of British capitalism.

One of the articles, addressed as an open letter to "the fighting forces," reads as follows:

THE CRIME

Comrades—You never joined the army or navy because you were in love with warfare, or because you were attracted by the glamour of the uniform. In nine cases out of ten you were compelled to join the services after a long fight against poverty and misery, caused by prolonged unemployment.

Once in the services, you are subjected to a military discipline that bears down upon you in an ever-increasing manner.

Repressive regulations and irksome restrictions are intentionally imposed upon you. And when war is declared you are supposed to be filled with a longing to "beat the enemy." The enemy consists of workingmen like yourselves, living under the same slave conditions. But the government not only organizes the services for war, it always keeps them fully equipped to be able to crush their own workers when the need arises.

Have you never noticed how, in large strikes and lockouts, all the newspapers condemn the strikers, and talk about maintaining the "essential services and the food supplies"? Have you forgotten that during the Tonypandy strike of railwaymen in 1911 the soldiers were used and workers were shot? That gunboats were used by Asquith to defeat the dockers in 1912? That troops were used at Liverpool against the transport workers in 1912? Have you forgotten how the labor government threatened to use naval men during the dockers' strike this year? How in the trumway strike the government threatened to introduce E. P. A., which would have forced many of you to have shot your own brothers and fathers? Have you forgotten the miners' lockout in 1921, when the reserves were called out.

Soldiers, sailors, airmen, flesh of our flesh, and bone of our bone, the Communist Party calls upon you to begin the task of not only organizing passive resistance when war is declared, or when an industrial dispute involves you, but to definitely and concretely let it be known that, neither in the class war nor a military war, will you turn your guns on your fellow workers, but instead will line up with your fellow workers in an attack upon the exploiters and capitalists, and will use your arms on the side of your own class.

Form committees in every barracks, aerodrome and ship. Let this be the nucleus of an organization that will prepare the whole of the soldiers, sailors and airmen not merely to refuse to go to war, or to refuse to shoot strikers during industrial conflicts, but will make it possible for the workers, peasants and soldiers, sailors and airmen to go forward in a common attack upon the capitalists and smash capitalism forever, and institute the reign of the whole working class.

Refuse to shoot down your fellow workers.

Refuse to fight for profits.

Turn your weapons on your oppressors.

AS WE SEE IT

By T. J. O'FLAHERTY

THE path of the reactionary labor leader is not strewn with thorns. Banquets, junketing trips, large salaries, government honors—these are the rewards of fealty to capitalism. Jails and persecution at the hands of the capitalist governments are reserved for radicals and those who fight the exactions of the exploiters of labor. It is pleasant to be a labor leader sometimes. Even when the Sahara desert in its worst the labor leaders have their oases. One of the tribe is Peter Brady of New York, Supervisor of the City Record who was recently selected by the American Federation of Labor as delegate to the British Trade Union Congress in London. On the eve of Mr. Brady's departure to London, a dinner will be held in the Shelburne Hotel, Brighton Beach, at which several labor fakers will eat, drink and make speeches. Mr. Brady will leave for England on Sept. 1. The officialdom of the A. F. of L. will be fittingly represented by Mr. Brady at the British conferences, but the American workers will not.

* * *

JOHN L. WALKER goes into oratorical ecstacies over the possibility of getting sugar from the sun. Victor Berger is equally enthusiastic over the development of the radio. Express trains in Germany, Mr. Berger tells us, will be fitted with radio equipment which will enable passengers to speak to any telephone subscriber in Germany. Our American railways will surely follow the German example, muses Berger. And then: "Evidently man seems to have gained mastery over the ether. What next?" To Berger the marvelous improvement in radio equipment may be another argument in favor of ditching the class struggle and overthrowing the capitalist class by means of ether waves. If we get sugar from the sun as John Walker can't we get rid of the sugar trust? Until the workers gain mastery over the capitalists they will not be able to enjoy the blessings that new inventions and the development of machinery could confer upon humanity under a system of society where things would be produced for use and not for profit.

* * *

SECRETARY OF WAR JOHN W. WEEKS does not obtrude himself very much on the public vision because of such qualities as made Theodore Roosevelt, Woodrow Wilson or Billy Sunday, famous. Like the late Mr. Harding, the secretary of war breaks into print only when he is guilty of some unusual piece of stupidity. September 12 has been as-

(Continued on page 3)

Postal Strikers' Wage Cut Fought by Toronto Labor

(Special to the Daily Worker.)

TORONTO, Aug. 11.—A protest against the reduction in pay for the postal workers who went out on strike recently has been made by the Toronto board of control, and the trades and labor council has arranged for a conference with the men who acted as intermediaries between the strikers and the postal authorities. The cut in pay protested against is $65 up to Sept. 1.

LOVESTONE'S ARTICLE TO SHOW LA FOLLETTE BACKS BUSINESS MAN

The second article on Senator LaFollette will appear in tomorrow's issue.

What the banking circles and some of the leading political observers think of LaFollette's radicalism and how many of the so-called progressive planks have been accepted by the big capitalist parties will be told in the next story.

Tomorrow's installment will show that what LaFollette is really after is to make business safe and stable and that the net effect of the "Wisconsin plan" has been to increase the profits of the railroad owners and public utility magnates.

JOBLESS FLOCK TO GARY MILLS SEEKING WORK

Two-Thirds of Steel Employes Laid Off

By KARL REEVE.
(Staff Writer, Daily Worker.)

Gary, Indiana, Aug. 12.—Over two-thirds of the force of the Gary works of the United States Steel Corporation have been laid off and those kept on the payroll are only allowed to work two and three days a week. The town is overrun with unemployed who have migrated from Chicago and other cities looking for work. Residents of Gary who have been laid off are extending their credit to the limit and vainly searching for work.

It was admitted even at the office of Mayor R. O. Johnson that unemployment in Gary is widespread. The business men and petty officials of the town are hoping against hope that work will soon pick up. The Post-Tribune, the only paper in Gary and practically a house organ of the steel corporation, is running front page stories almost daily attempting to fool the public as to conditions in the steel mills.

The only authority the Steel Trust paper could find to create the impression that unemployment is diminishing is the street car company, which declares that the number of passengers is increasing. The Post-Tribune, which the steel workers have nicknamed the "Daily Cesspool," interprets the street car companies increased traffic to mean that unemployment is decreasing. The unemployed riding out to the mills looking for work, however, form a large part of the street car traffic.

On July 31, the unfilled orders of the United States Steel Corporation amounted to 3,187,072 tons, against 3,262,505 tons on June 30, showing a decline in unfilled orders of 75,433 tons during July. Further decreases in production of steel are expected in financial circles.

In May the unfilled orders of the United States Steel Corporation fell off 580,400 tons, and in June a further decrease of 265,434 tons was recorded.

The Duluth Works of the United States Steel Corporation, which are even larger than the Gary works, have completely shut down.

RICH NEGROES LIKE WEALTHY AMONG WHITES

Black Capitalists Hit as Race Exploiters

By ROBERT MINOR.
(Staff Writer Daily Worker.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Declaring that "the Negro masses are suffering from the same capitalist system that the white people are suffering from," and admonishing his hearers not to forget that they have that system to fight, Marcus Garvey, president general of the Universal Negro Improvement Association, at that organization's convention here, scathingly attacked "the capitalist class of Negroes whose only concern is to rob and exploit the unfortunate of their own race."

Describing the manner in which he said the unfortunate Negro on migrating to the large cities falls into the hands of "the privileged Negro" who despoils him of what he may have and then leaves him without money or friends, Mr. Garvey indicated that such incidents are typical of the capitalist system under which we live.

"The Negro is suffering from the oppression of the same capitalist bunch as the white people are suffering from and are fighting now. Don't forget that we have that bunch to fight.

Negro Victim of Oppression.

"The Negro people are suffering under exploitation by a privileged class of Negroes, business men and professional men who have no more consideration for their own unfortunate people than the white capitalist has. I have no more use for this kind of Negro than I have for the white exploiter. Their selfishness is their only motive, their contempt for the masses of their people is great, and their only mission is to rob and exploit the unfortunate brothers of their own race. The Negro real-estate man in New York is the greatest devil we have to combat."

Garvey described a sort of combination of the Negro real estate speculators with white speculators who he said were of the Jewish race, the two conspiring to fleece Negro tenants who are at their mercy because compelled to live within a segregated district.

"The white and the black real-estate agents get together, and they drive the white tenants out of a building, and they let Negro tenants in on condition that they pay double the rent. These skinflints make the Negroes pay 100 per cent more than the white tenants paid." Yet, the speaker said, the Negro race considered as a whole did not even then accumulate wealth by this process, because "within one year after, the Negro speculator's little five or ten thousand dollars goes back into the pocket of his Jewish fellow-speculator."

Negro Preacher Curse to His Race.

"And the Negro preacher," said Mr. Garvey, "is the curse of his race. And I trust that you will take that into consideration." He declared that he absolutely refused to conceal his real thots on this question.

"We have not only to fight the white capitalist," said he, "but we also have to fight the capitalistic Negro. He

(Continued on page 5.)

FRENCH GOVERNMENT TO FOLLOW GREAT BRITAIN IN CONFERENCE TO RECOGNIZE SOVIET REGIME

(Special to The Daily Worker)

RIGA, Aug. 11.—Soviet Russia will shortly make representations to the French government for a treaty conference similar to the Anglo-Russian conference just concluded in London, according to word from Moscow today. It is known that the Herriot regime has been making overtures looking towards de jure recognition of the Soviet Republic for some time.

DEFENSE DAY STUNT WEIGHS HEAVY ON REPUBLICAN MIND; SIR PERSHING TO GET CREDIT

By OWEN STIRLING.
(Special to The Daily Worker)

DETROIT, August 11.—It may be an evasion of a bad issue by the Coolidgeian Sect of Republicans. Or it may be giving credit, so-called, where credit is due.

However it may be, the Defense Day idea is now being attributed to the Dandy of the army, General John J. Pershing, who glories in the title "Blackjack." The White House was embarrassed by the widespread objection to the war department's order for mobilization on Defense Day. Attributing the plan to "Blackjack," who wore his uniform better than any other soldier in the American Expeditionary Force, will not embarrass "Blackjack." On the contrary, news of it will probably increase the enjoyment of his travels, which recently consisted of journeying in luxury with the American monument commission thru European cemeteries.

The thing that would probably make him happiest would be a decision by the commission to recommend a monument to him.

Defense Day Had Virgin Birth.

The Michigan committee in charge of the program for Defense Day has been told that "Blackjack" first thought of the Defense Day mobilization plan at a meeting of army officers in 1922, when the officers' reserve corps was being organized. And members of the committee have broadcast this explanation, denying at the same time that the program is a political move. It sounds reasonable, Sept. 12 being "Blackjack's" sixty-fourth birthday.

A soft pedal is being put on all swashbuckling maneuvers in Detroit. But units of the regular army, the national guard and the reserve corps will be mustered. They will muster at their armories.

Workers to Hear Piffle.

The spellbinders will be mobilized, too. The organized employers of the state will open their factory doors to the propagandists for militarism and herd the workers into crowds to hear them. This is partly because production is slumping. And it is partly because the factory owners desire large armies and navies, both for use in strike injunctions and in protecting the foreign investments of American capital.

Goslings to Be Gab Goats.

School teachers also, looked upon as the parrots of the 100 per cent patriots, are to be asked to read patriotic, jingoistic speeches to the children which the law forces under their care.

Sept. 12, designated as Defense Day, is the sixth anniversary of the battle of St. Mihiel. That battle was the beginning of the allies' final victorious offensive, which cleared the European economic slate of previous formulaes and made possible the branding of the Dawes plan on the forehead of the German working class.

Fertilizing Morgan's Tree.

The bodies of drafted soldiers that fell at St. Mihiel are fertilizing the family tree of the House of Morgan.

KATTERFELD TO BE FREED ON PAROLE

Will Be Released from Joliet Today

L. E. Katterfeld, one of Communist Labor Party members arrested during the Palmer "red" raids in January, 1920, and later convicted and sentenced to a term of imprisonment in Joliet state prison will be paroled today to New York state.

Comrade Katterfeld was out of the country when the other convicted Communists were called to begin serving their sentences. They were pardoned after serving ten days by Governor Small. On Katterfeld's return from abroad, he presented himself at the state prison and contrary to expectations Governor Small did not follow the same procedure as in the case of William Bross Lloyd, Ludwig Lore, Jack Carney and the other C. L. P. prisoners.

More Workers Starved!

BERLIN, Aug. 11.—No sooner did the government permit exportation of German grain, than bread prices began to rise.

COOLIDGE CAMPAIGN BOSS THANKS LAFOLLETTE, JR., FOR PAPA'S COURTESY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—William M. Butler, chairman of the republican national committee, today sent a letter to Robert M. LaFollette, Jr., chairman of the republican state committee of Wisconsin, thanking Senator LaFollette for his promise that only Coolidge electors would be placed on the republican ballots in that state. "Whatever brawls disturb the street," there must be peace between "Cal" and "Bo."

OUSTED I. W. W. ASK COURT FOR LAW'S SUPPORT

Seek Injunction Against Administration

The five members of the General Executive Board of the I. W. W. which were ejected from the general headquarters of that organization on July 29, after being suspended from the organization by the remainder of the board and the secretary-treasurer, Tom Doyle, upon charges of disruption, yesterday signed an application for injunction in the Chicago court of Judge Timothy D. Hurley, County Court building.

This injunction immediately issued by the court was served upon Secretary-Treasurer Tom Doyle and General Organizer Joe Fisher yesterday afternoon.

It orders them to appear in court at 10 a. m. today to show cause why they should not be ordered to vacate the general headquarters of the I. W. W., to turn over all property and funds on hand to J. A. Griffth, who was elected last year as the alternate of General Organizer Fisher, and to J. J. Murphy, who was the alternate of Secretary Doyle.

The injunction petition is signed by James Rowan, P. D. Ryan, Charles Anderson, Harry Trotter and Fred Bowerman. These deposed officials have established a headquarters rival to the administration against which the injunction is now aimed. Their attorneys are W. F. Bigelow and T. B. O'Connell.

Cutting Reichstag.

BERLIN, Aug. 11.—There are too many parliamentarians running around loose in Berlin, many people think. The announcement of the government, that a bill is to be introduced by which the representation in the reichstag is to be one for every 75,000 votes cast instead of one for every 50,000 is finding favor. The next reichstag would then have 393 members instead of 471 as at present.

STRIKERS ARE WINNING FIGHT IN HEGEWISCH

Even Small Business Men Back Workers

The carbuilders in the Ryan Car company, of Hegewisch, adjoining the struck Western Steel Car company, went on strike yesterday, closing down the Ryan shops completely.

The men walked out when the company discharged some of the force and tried to get the carbuilders to do double work.

The Ryan strikers will be invited to attend the strike meeting of the Western Steel Car company this morning.

Foremen Join Strikers.

Some of the bosses in the Western car shop joined the strikers today when the company officials ordered them to get out in the yards and drive rivets. They refused and walked out. Production is completely stopped in the Western company. Over 700,000 dollars worths of material has been prepared by the production department for assembling, and is now rusting in the yards.

Everyone observing the strike makes the same statement that was made during the recent Pullman strike—"This is the most effective strike conducted in Hegewisch for many years." The reason is admittedly the activity of the Trade Union Educational League and the influence of the DAILY WORKER, which is the only Chicago paper writing up the Hegewisch strike.

Small Business Aids.

Many of the small business men of Hegewisch got behind the strikers yesterday, sending meat and groceries to the strikers and contributing money to tide them over. Sympathetic foremen told some of the strikers yesterday that the employment manager has been ordered to settle with the men this week, as hundreds of thousands of dollars are being lost in cancellation of orders and deterioration of material.

(NOTE: Early Hammond strike story on page three.)

Anglo-Soviet Treaty Success Peeves U. S. Diplomatic Prophets

(By The Federated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—Administration officials who had prepared to make political capital of the reported failure of Russo-British negotiations are angry at the sudden change of front in London and the decision of Ramsay MacDonald to sign two treaties with the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics. These treaties admit the Soviet Union into the credit arrangements by which the British government is building up foreign trade and thereby relieving unemployment at home. What alarms Washington Tories still more, the Moscow trade delegation will receive diplomatic immunity in England. Mr. Hughes' advice has fallen on deaf ears.

JACKASS PARTY MAY BE TORN APART BY WALTON CANDIDACY IN OKLAHOMA

(Special to the Daily Worker.)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Aug. 11.—The Democratic party of this state faces a wide open split in its ranks over the question of supporting former Governor "Jack" Walton, victor in the primary elections, as its nominee for United States Senator.

Cutting Reichstag.

After wrangling over the problem for an hour, the state central committee of the jackass party adjourned for three hours so that "passions might be cooled" and the party saved from a split.

Walton was impeached for alleged bribery after a spectacular campaign out of which he became governor.

Send in that Subscription Today.

LAFOLLETTE HIT BY RUTHENBERG AS FAKE LEADER

Exposes Bob's Silence on Unemployment

Four thousand friends of the Workers Party, the largest crowd that ever gathered at a Workers Party picnic, spent Sunday at the Press Picnic in Riverview Park, which netted two thousand dollars to the DAILY WORKER, besides giving aid to the other party publications.

The DAILY WORKER carried off the popularity contest, with 30,205 votes. The Lettish Workers Party paper, Strahdneek, won second place with 17,036 votes, and the Labor Herald, due to the last minute electioneering of the canny Jack Johnstone for the Liberator, carried off the booby prize with 750 votes. Comrade Johnstone pleaded so eloquently that the Liberator received 1450 votes and was done out of the booby prize.

"All Power to Workers."

C. E. Ruthenberg, executive secretary of the Workers Party, speaking to three thousand people who massed around the bandstand, declared, "The Communists will not rest until the mass power of the workers wrest the government out of the hands of the capitalists' puppets and put it in the hands of the workers' organs—the Soviets—under the leadership of the Workers Party."

"The day is coming when the working class will stand on its own feet and say, 'If we must have dictatorship, let us have a dictatorship of the workers'," said Ruthenberg.

He showed how the American government as it is at present constituted, with the Democratic and Republican politicians at the helm, is a dictatorship of the capitalist class, with Coolidge, the strike breaker, the figurehead with the Republicans, and Davis, the Morgan lawyer, the representative of the capitalists in the Democratic camp. Ruthenberg then paid his respects to LaFollette and the Socialist Party.

Denounce LaFollette Dictatorship.

"Germany has its Scheidemann; France its Herriot; England its Ramsay MacDonald," said Ruthenberg. "And we have our Robert M. LaFollette." Ruthenberg said that LaFollette, in spite of his statement that he is against dictatorship, is in favor of the individual dictatorship of Robert LaFollette. He said that the central point of LaFollette's stated platform, is the antiquated trust-busting idea. LaFollette, he declared, wants to enforce the 35-year-old Sherman anti-trust laws, which have proved so futile in the past in stemming private monopoly.

S. P. Has Kicked Bucket.

"The Socialist Party now takes its place in the LaFollette camp," Ruthenberg added, "after for twenty years declaring for the principle that the workers should control the trusts which have already been built up. The Socialist Party, by dissolving itself in the LaFollette 'back to 1776' middle class ideology, demonstrates its utter bankruptcy."

Ruthenberg said that LaFollette maintains silence on the question of unemployment. "The workers want the opportunity to work and produce wealth and earn a living," he stated. "But LaFollette says nothing about governmental action to create unemployment funds." Ruthenberg demanded that workers be paid their salaries while unemployed.

Reason for Deep Silence.

Ruthenberg declared that LaFollette is maintaining silence on these vital questions because he stands with Colonel Rudolph Spreckles, the California sugar king, and neither Rudolph Spreckles nor the small business men backing LaFollette want to pay wages to the unemployed.

Bulgarian Buttermilk Fermenting.

ATHENS, Greece, Aug. 11.— The Communist movement in Bulgaria is making great strides, according to advices from the frontier today. The usual fake news about the Communists being the leaders of border forays is being peddled by the kept international press.

BE SURE TO GET THE NEXT ISSUE

"DAILY WORKER" MAGAZINE SECTION

SATURDAY, AUGUST 16th, 1924

1. The Tactical Significance of the Election Policy..By James P. Cannon
2. I Arrive in America—A Story.....By John Losser
3. MacDonald Signs a Treaty.....By Alexander Bittelman
4. On Factory Nuclei (A German Experiment).....By W. Ulbriche
5. The Geneva Labor Conference.....By A. Enderle
6. On the Foster-Nearing Debate.....By Joseph Brahdy

VERSE PICTURES ILLUSTRATIONS

ORDER NOW!

THE DAILY WORKER,

1113 W. Washington Blvd. Chicago, Illinois

U. S. AUTO IMPERIALISTS "SELL" PAN-AMERICANS GOOD ROADS IDEA TO INCREASE BIG PROFITS HERE

By OWEN STERLING
(Federated Press Staff Correspondent)

DETROIT, Aug. 11.—One of the most elaborately planned maneuvers looking toward the exploitation of South and Central America by United States capitalists, was the recently completed tour of 10 states in this country by the so-called Pan-American highway commission. The tour had all the earmarks of a governmentally financed survey but it was paid for to the last nickel by automobile companies, rubber companies, road machinery companies and American banks.

Nothing like it on so grand a scale has ever been attempted. Thru the Pan-American union and the U. S. highway education board, each one of 20 South and Central American republics was induced to send from one to three highway engineers to this country. The party, numbering about 50 technologists, studied highway systems in New York, Pennsylvania, the Carolinas, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Ohio, Michigan, the District of Columbia, and Illinois. They visited the highway engineering laboratories at the University of Wisconsin and Michigan to learn how highway engineers are trained in this country.

To Sell More Autos.

The reason for the costly survey was the over-production of automobiles in the United States. The Ford Motor Co. today is working only three to five days a week. The automotive industry of the United States wants new markets. But before there is a large market in South and Central America there must be pavements there. At present goat paths are more common.

The capitalists decided to sell Latin-America the idea of good roads. The magnitude of the sale is indicated by an Argentine representative who said that in his country $350,000,000 would be necessary at once if the highways were even moderately modernized. Argentina is the best equipped of the 20 republics.

Official Puppets Greet Them.

The visiting representatives were led first to the white house where President Coolidge and Herbert Hoover welcomed them. Government officials accompanied the party thru the states visited. But financial interests paid the bills. The majordomo of the tour was Roy D. Chaplin, chairman, Hudson Motor Co., and vice-president of the U. S. automobile chamber of commerce.

The visiting engineers were aware that corporations were financing the tour. But they did not see thru most of the tricks of the resourceful salesmen of the north. One of the salesmen, perhaps Chapin himself, was shrew enough to suspect the Latin-Americans would enjoy music,—a kind of sales-talk that would not, of course, be given to a American engineer. Arrangements were made for Spanish church services.

Ford Cordial Salesman.

Henry Ford, his son Edsel, and the most glib of his executives were hosts to the party at a luncheon in the Ford Motor Co. private dining room in Detroit. The sale was believed important enough to justify Henry Ford himself playing salesman awhile. The South and Central American engineers are expected to propagandize at home for better roads. Next spring in Buneos Aires a Pan-American highway conference will be held. The engineers who made the study in this country are to be the official program committee of the conference. Many manufacturers and financiers from the United States will therefore be on the program.

Deporting Wobblies.

SAN QUENTIN, Cal., Aug. 11—Jack Gaveel, political prisoner of California, has been deported to Holland. He was the oldest criminal syndicalism prisoner in San Quentin in years of service, having been convicted May 25, 1921, in Los Angeles. He has been for many years active in the I. W. W. movement in California.

British Bury Mrs. Evans.

MEXICO CITY, Mex., Aug. 11.— The body of Mrs. Rosalie Evans, British subject, over whose death the Chicago Tribune is still raving, will be buried in the British cemetery tomorrow along side of the body of her husband.

Wales to Visit Cal.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11. — The Prince of Wales, champion international stopper, will visit Silent Cal Coolidge while here to attend the International Polo matches.

HERRIOT OFFERS TO QUIT RUHR IN ELEVEN MONTHS

French Seek Another Confab on Debts

LONDON, Aug. 11.—There is growing optimism here over Herriot's success with the French cabinet, in securing an endorsement of what transpired in London with reference to putting the Dawes plan into operation.

But counting the chickens before they are hatched is a hazardous to the popular political pastime and there are elements in France that have not yet made manifest their views on the the agreement reached in London.

The crux of the situation so far as the French and Germans are concerned, is the evacuation of the Ruhr. Premier Herriot made a new proposition, that the evacuation of the Ruhr be completed within eleven months provided the Germans carry out their part of the plan. The Germans countered with a proposition that evacuation be completed within six months The dickering still continues.

Where League Comes In.

It is expected that disarmament of Germany and military control will be intrusted in the League of Nations. What will happen to the Coolidge government in the next election, because of its unauthorized participation in the London conference and its committing the United States to future European political and financial entanglements, will be an interesting subject for speculation, in view of the fate of Woodrow Wilson's failure with a similar plan. Whether the bankers are now sufficiently powerful to do what they failed to do in 1920 is the question.

To Drop Debts.

The French are now demanding a conference to deal with Allied war debts. The suggestion is made that this conference be held in November after the American elections, so that in the event of Coolidge being elected, the United States could officially participate. In fact, official participation of the United Sates would be assured. No matter which of the two Wall Street boys is elected, both being perfectly in harmony with the international bankers on the question of European policy.

HARD-BOILED PINEAL GLAND MAY SAVE "BABE"

Nathan Leopold's pineal gland ossified when the slayer was 19 years old, Dr. Harold Hulbert testified Saturday, and therefore Leopold should not be hanged. "Leopold's pineal gland ossalsified at 19," he said, "when normally this should not occur until about 20."

The X-ray also showed some peculiar looking grease spots on Leopold's skull, but the alienist explained: "These have no medical significance —they are merely the traces of the preparation Leopold uses on his hair to keep it in order."

The defense is spending hundreds of thousands of dollars for lawyers and witnesses, and the state is spending hundreds of thousands of dollars in rebuttal. About the most important conclusion so far brought out is that Richard Loeb and Nathan Leopold are a couple of fresh and unrepentant kids who freely squandered the money squeezed by their fathers out of poorly paid young workers.

Glandly speaking, Leopold was ahead of his time.

Send in that Subscription Today.

ROCKFORD, ILL., WANTS COMMUNIST-LAFOLLETTE DEBATE FOR CAMPAIGN

(Spection to the DAILY WORKER)

ROCKFORD, Ill., Aug. 11.—Plans for a debate between a Communist and some representative of LaFollette's candidacy are being made as the result of enthusiasm aroused by the address of J. Louis Engdahl, Workers Party candidate for U. S. senator, at the annual picnic of the Furniture Workers' Union, at Illinois Park here. It is also hoped to establish an English language branch of the Workers Party here in the near future.

DAVIS ACCEPTS NOMINATION IN FORMAL SPEECH

Promises to Turn Hose on Washington

(Special to the Daily Worker.)

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Aug. 11.—Addressing a huge throng of townfolk, neighbors, political henchmen and jobseekers, John W. Davis, the democratic nominee for president, made his speech of acceptance tonight.

After paying the ordinary complimentary remarks to his birthplace, Mr. Davis got down to what the democrats propose to call the issues of the campaign. The promised progressivism of the Morgan-Rockefeller lawyer didn't materialize in the speech.

Deplores Blocs.

Mr. Davis early in his talk sailed into the tendency toward a sharpening of class divisions in the United States by declaring that: "The solidarity of the great war has given way to a chaos of blocs and sections and classes and interests, each striving for its own advantage, careless of the welfare of the whole government itself, to which the humblest citizen has the right to turn with confident reliance for its even-handed justice, has fallen under the prevalent distrust. There is abroad in the land a feeling too general to be ignored, too deep seated for any trifling, that men in office can no longer be trusted to keep faith with those who sent them there. A situation so threatening to the very foundations of the social order demands boldness in facing the causes which have brought it about, and tireless exertion in the effort to remove them."

In the main, the speech was a rehash of Senator Pat Harrison's keynote address at the democratic convention. It dripped oil and mud in its recitation of the republican scandals.

Republican Confidence Men.

The republican party was charged with "having shaken public confidence to its very foundations." The democratic platform's abstract generalities regarding the world court were fully indorsed by Mr. Davis.

In a half-heater attempt to paint himself progressive, the democratic standard bearer dabbled in generalities to the effect that: "All that goes to make better and happier and freer men and women is progress; all else is reaction. Progressives of this sort, tho they may not care to use the name, nevertheless in their hearts are democrats."

There was nothing new or startling in the much advertised labor planks that were to be presented by Mr. Davis in his speech of acceptance. It will be remembered that Mr. Davis requested Gompers to withhold the A. F. of L. indorsement of LaFollette until the executive council would have the opportunity to consider his own labor attitude.

Davis on Labor.

Mr. Davis merely dodged the vital issues confronting the workingmen. He said:

"Concerning our sentiments toward labor, there is room for neither doubt nor cavil in the light of our past history. The right of labor to an adequate wage earned under healthful conditions, the right to organize in order to obtain it, and the right to bargain for it collectively thru agents and representatives of its own choosing, have been established after many years of weary struggle. These rights are conceded now by all fair-minded men. They must not be impaired either by injunction or by any other device. The democratic party, however, goes a step beyond this. Its attitude has been well described as one inspired neither by deference on the one hand nor by patronage on the other, but by a sincere desire to make labor part of the grand council of the nation, to concede its patriotism and to recognize that its knowledge of its own needs gives it a right to a voice in all matters of government that directly or peculiarly affect its own rights. This attitude has not changed; it will not change. Democracy in government and democracy in industry alike demand the free recognition of the right of all those who work, in whatever rank or place, to share in all decisions that affect their welfare."

Nothing But Phrases.

To the farmers Mr. Davis had nothing tangible to offer. He merely mouthed the meaningless phrases of Harrison in this fashion:

"To the farmers of the United States also the promise not patronage, but such laws and such administration of the laws as will enable them to prosper in their own right. They are not mendicants and, fortunately for all of us, are willing to take the risks that attend their all-important calling. They are entitled in return to a government genuinely interested in their problems and keenly desirous to serve them to the limit of its power."

The Morgan-Rockefeller attorney wound up his speech of acceptance with more sweet phrases, evading the Klan, prohibition, League of Nations, campaign funds and similar important "issues."

Send in that Subscription Today.

These Are Unhappy Vacation Days for Morgan in Europe

By J. LOUIS ENGDAHL.

TODAY, the Russian Soviet Republic stands more firm than ever. This is shown by the two facts:

FIRST.—The signing of the Anglo-Rusisan treaty.

SECOND.—The announcement that Soviet Rule has planned to take care of its own in the drought stricken areas.

* * * *

An official communication, issued in Moscow, announcing the signature of the Anglo-Russian treaty, says:

"This treaty brings us nearer the realization of an agreement recognizing the Soviet as a new form of political, social and economic regime, and constitutes one of the principal events in the foreign policy of the Soviets, and consequently in the history of international relations of our times."

In other words, the mighty British Empire, on which it is claimed the sun never sets, bends before the indisputable fact that Workers' Rule has come to stay in Russia.

It was Lloyd George, while premier, who claimed that British Rule would never shake hands with the "bloody Bolsheviks." But that was a long time ago. Lloyd George, who helped send tens of millions to early graves in the world war is no longer premier. He is just an ordinary member of the House of Commons. The enemies of Soviet Rule are being driven into the little places.

* * * *

Complete recognition of Soviet Rule by the British means that the trip of Morgan, Lamont, Mellon and Hughes, to Europe, has been pretty much of a failure. Loans to German workers, who must coin their sweat, blood and agony into gold for Morgan, can look to the East and win inspiration for new struggles from the vision of the brightly shining Red Star of victorious Workers' Rule in Russia.

* * * *

"Down with Poincaré! Down with the Ruhr!" shouted the masses in the streets of Paris, when Premier Herriot returned to the French capitol, over the week end, to discuss the developments in London in the battle over the Dawes plan.

But Morgan has told Premier Herriot that he must carry out Poincaré's promises, and only the Communists have proclaimed, the French with the German Communists, "Away with capitalist rule in the Ruhr!"

Herriot, as well as Poincaré, must support the capitalist rule of Morgan, the financial Caesar of the world. It was a Roman Caesar who once heard the warning from the crowd, "Beware of the Ides of March!"

Recognition of Soviet Rule, forced from the British Empire, and the French masses in the streets demanding "Down with Poincaré!" must carry meaning to the Caesar's ear of J. Pierpont Morgan.

* * * *

And the Soviet Republic has announced that it will feed its own hungry in the agricultural districts hit by this year's drought. That is bad news for Morgan's newspapers. These papers have been predicting dire things for Soviet Rule because of partial famine in isolated districts.

But the Moscow government has appropriated 138,000,000 gold rubles (about $69,000,000) to aid the peasants in the districts where the crops have failed. No one has ever heard of the government at Washington proposing plans for the relief of American farmers who have suffered from crop failures. Instead, these farmers, by the millions are forced to go into the cities and compete for jobs with industrial workers.

* * * *

But only 58,000,000 of those gold rubles will be needed to provide grain and meat for the drought stricken farmers. The other 80,000,000 rubles will be used to build giant irrigation works, to store up the waters of winter and spring against the dry days of future summers.

* * * *

Thus does Soviet Rule make progress on every front. Capitalist nations are being forced "to recognize the Soviet as a new form of political, social and economic regime."

That means that on the heels of recognition must come the acceptance, by the workers and farmers of the world, of the Soviet as their own political, social and economic order.

The Soviet idea spreads. These must be unhappy "vacation" days for Morgan in Europe.

RED ARMY MAN WOOS GIRL WITH BOLSHIE WISDOM IN NEW FILM

(By The Federated Press)

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Life in the Red Army and the isolated country villages of Russia is shown in a five-reel film, "Beauty and the Bolshevik," shortly to be released by the Friends of Soviet Russia for exhibition thruout the United States. Red soldiers are shown in their schools and at play, as well as helping the peasants with their crops. The story is that of a battalion commandant who woos the village peasant girl with Bucharin's A B C of Communism and marries her after convincing her that a civil ceremony is more desirable than the incantations of an orthodox priest. A three-reel scenic film is to be shown with this romance.

Building Wages in Tampa.

TAMPA, Fla., Aug. 11.— Building trades wages in Tampa are: Carpenters, 50c to $1 an hour; electrical workers, 50c; plumbers and sheet metal workers $1.12½; painters, $1; bricklayers and plasterers, $1.50; laborers, 40c to 50c an hour. This is the union scale. Nonunion wages are still lower and the unemployment is about 25 percent of the union membership. The shop crafts of the Seaboard and Atlantic Coast Line roads also report 25 percent laid off.

Send in that Subscription Today.

Philadelphia Party.

PHILADELPHIA, August 11. — The Central English branch of Philadelphia meets Tuesday, Aug. 12, at 8 p. m., at 521 York Ave. Ten new members have joined during the last two weeks.

The South Slavic branch is making elaborate preparations for a picnic which will be held on Sunday, August 17, at the Flaxman's Farm.

Rovnost Ludu (Equality of People).

This is the only revolutionary paper in the Slovak language in this country. If the fellow worker by your beach in the shop, on the farm, or anywhere cannot read English, write us for a sample copy of Rovnost Ludu, 1510 W. 18th St., Chicago, Ill.

Tallentire in Portland.

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 11.— Norman Tallentire speaks here August 12, at 8 p. m., at the Workers Party hall, 227 Vamhill street. A large crowd is expected to hear Tallentire's attack on militarism and capitalism.

Fitzpatrick Out.

John Fitzpatrick disclaims any connection with the national executive committee, Farmer-Labor Party of the United States. This contradicts claims of the new Denver national headquarters of the party that Fitzpatrick repcommittee.

Photo-Engravers Meet Aug. 18.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 11.—The convention of the Intl. Photo-Engravers union opens in Los Angeles Aug. 18.

Send in that Subscription Today.

COLORED WOMEN PREVENT PROTEST AT SEGREGATION

Patriotic Song Drowns Question to Official

Three thousand falsetto voices, shrieking "The Star-Spangled Banner" at the command of President Hallie Q. Brown at the final session of the convention of the National Association of Colored Women, at the Wendell Phillips high school, effectively drowned out the voice of a Negro man in the audience who attempted to take to task Acting Secretary of Labor Theodore G. Risley for the policy of segregation which is rigidly applied to all employes of government departments in Washington.

Risley—short, bow-legged and bald —who had been sent from Washington to address the convention in place of Secretary of Labor Davis, had just blown the last bugle call of a militant war speech, when a tall Negro man arose in the audience, shouting, "Let me ask the secretary of labor one question."

Miss Hallie Q. Brown—stately in a black and silver gown and glittering with jewelry—brought her gavel down on the table with a determined rap. "No questions may be put to the secretary of labor," she ruled.

Again came the voice of the tall Negro: "I want to ask the secretary of labor one fair question."

The splendid lady of the platform waved a delicate hand to the pianist; the pianist struck up "The Star-Spangled Banner," and the audience rose to its feet and howled in unison. But not before the black man had shouted a last word: "You're afraid! You're afraid to ask a white man for your rights."

The militant Negro was Mr. J. J. Napier of Nashville, Tenn. Back in 1912, Mr. Napier told the DAILY WORKER, he held a minor position in the treasury department in Washington. Because of the stringent Jim Crow regulations which permeated every department of the government he quit. He had assumed that the democratic administration was responsible for the policy of segregation. He found that the republican administration took no steps to remedy it.

Mr. J. J. Napier had wanted to ask Secretary of Labor Risley, Harding and Coolidge hadn't thought it worth while to give Negro employes of the departments the right to use the same stairways, the same elevators, the same washrooms used by the white employes.

The last act of the convention of colored women witnessed no such burst of spontaneous enthusiasm as had greeted Robert W. Bagnall's denunciation of the Klan and the republican party. The leaders, it is true, couldn't prevent Mrs. Rose Haynes, who works among Negro girls in industry, from demanding that Risley install a Negro woman in a responsible position in the department of labor. But the audience of three thousand women was fairly docile while Risley, six years after the close of the world war, shot anti-German popguns and howled for military preparations. They swallowed without blinking his assertion that one of the reasons for the passage of the Johnson immigration bill is that Negro girls can work most factory machines as well as men of foreign birth. They endured an hour's eulogy of the republican convention by Mrs. George S. Williams, wife of the banker party for "having in its ranks most of the country's multi-millionaires."

And Miss Hallie Q. Brown, retiring from the presidency in favor of her successor, Mrs. Mary Bethune, received from Roscoe Simmons, republican organizer among Negroes, the gift of a very satisfactory job in the ranks of the republican party.

Frisco Will Hold Picnic for Relief Of German Workers

(Special to THE DAILY WORKER.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., Aug. 11.— A day and moonlight picnic, under the auspices of the San Francisco committee for International Workers Aid, will be held Sunday, August 17, at the Neptune Beach. Aside from the numerous enjoyments and sports, a unique review will be given by Ellen Rose's gifted young pupils, some of whom are only 2 years old.

Herman Nudin, leader of the Jugend Movement in Germany, recently arrived here, will speak on conditions in Germany as observed at first hand. He is a stirring speaker and has a large fund of knowledge.

The recent Communist victory in Germany indicates the necessity of class conscious workers giving their utmost support to the relief of the German proletariat at this time. 2,000 tickets are to sold in advance, price 25 cents.

Esthonia's Interest in Russia.

MOSCOW, Aug. 11.—It is reported from Reval, Esthonia, that the pavilion of the Ussr at the exhibition held in that city has been a great success. The local business circles have been showing much interest for Russian grain, sackcloth, rosin, mineral waters and various artistic editions.

CARMEN'S UNION DRIVE SPREADS INTO HAMMOND

Plan to Organize Entire Calumet Region

The strike of car makers which has been in progress for the last four weeks against a 25 percent reduction in wages is assuming greater importance owing to the decision of E. K. Hogan, organizer of the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen, to put on a drive to organize the car builders of the Calumet district.

The campaign in Hammond, Indiana, started Friday night at an organization meeting held in Strobele's Hall, corner of Morton and Columbia avenues, held under the auspices of the carmens' union.

The meeting was attended by about a hundred car builders employed in the Standard Steel Car plant. The company was represented by a man employed as a clerk to one of the officials at the plant whose duty it is to see to it that the workers do not become organized.

The meeting was opened by the declaration of E. K. Hogan that the only solution to the problems confronting the car builders of the district was to organize them and prevent them scabbing on each other to the advantage of the bosses.

Mass Addresses Strikers.

The first speaker was Barney Mass, organizer for the Young Workers League, who made a powerful speech outlining the necessity of the workers organizing themselves so that they would be able to fight the wage reduction and open shop campaign being carried on by the companies. He took as examples of how workers can better their conditions thru organization the clothing and mining industries.

He was followed by Tom Bell of the Workers Party, who showed the folly of the workers attempting to better their conditions by fighting in isolated sections against the well-organized owners of the plants, who unite all their forces against the workers.

"Union Will Stick," Hogan.

E. K. Hogan, in a fighting speech, declared that the carmen's union was in the district to stay until the car builders had been organized. Reviewing the 1919 organization drive, he declared that the bosses had successfully smashed the organization of the workers of Hammond by the use of their thugs, who killed five workers at that time. But he urged the workers to recognize that a defeat in the past was no reason for giving up the fight to establish a union. Regarding the present campaign, Hogan stated: "The union that I represent is in this fight to stay until the car makers of Hammond are organized into a solid union."

Low Wages Bring Child Death.

Reviewing the conditions under which the workers labor, he pointed out that the company houses were the graveyards of working class children, and that the companies kept wages on a common low level because of the competition and scabbing that went on among the workers in the various plants, and that the present plan of the bosses was to lower their wages to a still lower level.

Many Join Union.

The result of the meeting was that many of those present gave their names to the organizer as being willing to become members of the union. To the DAILY WORKER Hogan expressed his satisfaction over the outcome of the meeting, saying: "The sentiment among the men for an organization is better at the present time than it was two or three years ago, when we were in here before."

The organization campaign is to be spread to Pullman, Michigan City, besides Hegewisch and Hammond.

Hegewisch Strike Still Solid.

The fourth week of the car builders' strike in Hegewisch finds the ranks of the strikers still unbroken. A new development in the conduct of the strike is the collection of funds from the shopkeepers of the town for the support of the strikers and their families. Friday was the first time that his was taken up, and it will be continued on a larger scale.

Donations Made to Strikers.

The following have donated to the support of the strikers: Joe Yalowitz, dry goods; Sarenac grocery, Mike Blavich's cigar store, J. Ball, dry goods; Dave Slavick, dry goods; Baltimore barber shop, A Friend, and S. Kolanowski promised that he would donate groceries to the strikers.

These Didn't.

The following were visited, but refused to support the strikers, in spite of the fact that they rely principally upon the strikers for selling their goods: Pete Lenconi, Ben Anderson & Son, real estate; Petlak's grocery and the Hegewisch Consumers Grocery Company.

A meeting of the strikers has been arranged for this morning, at which the refusal of the manager of the plant to meet them on the plea of sickness will be taken up.

Build the Party and the Daily Worker

Combined Membership and Daily Worker Drive Presents Great Opportunity for Constructive Work

By C. E. RUTHENBERG, Executive Secretary, Workers Party

ONE item on the Program of Work presented to the membership by the Central Executive of the Workers Party is the drive in the combined campaign for new members and subscribers for the DAILY WORKER.

Every member of the party has been called upon to secure one new application and a reader for the DAILY WORKER during this campaign.

This campaign offers our party one of the greatest opportunities for constructive work in building up the Communist movement in this country that has been presented during the existence of the party.

The Membership Drive.

If we could add 15,000 new members to our party during the next three months, we would indeed make a great achievement for the Communist movement in the United States. A party of 40,000 would be a powerful force in the life of the labor movement and in the life of this country. All of the activities of the party would be strengthened and broadened thru such an increase in membership. We would have an increased number of party workers to call upon to carry out the party campaigns and increased financial support for our organization.

The achievement of this goal is not impossible. It is not a visionary idea to expect that our party could in three months time add 15,000 members to its ranks.

Rather the reverse is true. The situation in which we find ourselves is such as to favor our success in putting thru this campaign.

The Workers Party is today the only revolutionary party standing upon a working class program which has any life or appeal to the masses of this country. Thru our work in the past two years we have built up a large circle of sympathizers around our party, but we did not, during this period, carry on organized work to bring these sympathizers into the party.

What the Central Executive Committee of the party is proposing to the membership is that we cash in in organizational strength on the work which we have done during the past year.

The plan of work is simple. Every member of the party is asked to secure one applicant for membership during the next three months. Special combined DAILY WORKER and membership application cards have been printed and all material for the drive has been sent to the party branches.

The first step to be taken by each party branch, is to organize a Membership Campaign and DAILY WORKER Subscription Committee. This committee should supervise and direct the work in the branch. It should see to the distribution of the special literature already sent to the branches. It should keep the record of the work of each member. It should carry on agitation in the branch for active work by every member of the branch.

There is only one reason which will prevent us from attaining our goal in this campaign. That is the fact that we are unable to mobilize our present membership for the work in hand. If every branch of the party will proceed at once with the work of organization and every member give support to this campaign, we will be able to make this achievement for our party and for the Communist movement in this country.

The Daily Worker Subscription Campaign.

Last year our party mobilized its strength and raised close to $100,000 for the establishment of the DAILY WORKER. This was an achievement to be proud of.

Thru the efforts of our membership, we are able to create our daily paper, to establish its own printing plant and to secure a building to house the DAILY WORKER and the National Organization of the party.

Too many members of the party, however, have concluded that the task was done with the establishment of the DAILY WORKER. The contrary is true. The establishment of the DAILY WORKER and the printing plant is only the beginning in making of the DAILY WORKER a powerful weapon for the Communist movement in the United States.

We now have the daily with a circulation of approximately 15,000. That is something, but it means that we are not making full use of the potential strength which our daily gives us.

The DAILY WORKER should have a subscription list of 50,000 in place of 15,000. It is the task of our party to secure the additional readers for the daily. We must mobilize the whole party to build up the subscription list of the daily. The attitude of most comrades has been that the job was done when the DAILY WORKER was established.

What the Central Executive Committee is now asking of the party is that it put into the drive to increase the circulation of the DAILY WORKER the same enthusiasm, the same hard work which was put into the campaign to secure the funds for the establishment of the DAILY WORKER.

We must double and treble our circle of readers. If we treble our circle of readers we will thereby treble the influence of the Communist Party in the United States. We will be creating new circles of sympathizers around our party, whom in turn we will be able to win for the party and thus continue the work of building our organization.

As part of the campaign for increase of the subscription list of the DAILY WORKER every branch is asked to appoint a DAILY WORKER subscription agent as a member of the committee having this campaign in charge. This is one of the important points of the campaign. The building of such an organization for the DAILY WORKER means building for the future as well as carrying on the work of the present campaign.

All Together to Build Our Movement.

Comrades of the party! The combined DAILY WORKER and Membership Drive has not as its goal something to be achieved in the far distant future. Thru this work we can secure immediate results. We can complete a task which will make us proud of our organization.

The Central Executive Committee expects that every branch of the party, no matter what language section it is part of, will participate in this campaign. Our campaign for the DAILY WORKER will build the central English organ of our party. The membership drive will strengthen every section of the party.

Let us all together put our shoulders to the wheel and give our party a big push forward. The realization of the slogan, "Every member get a subscriber for the DAILY WORKER," means a great drive forward.

No party meeting can be permitted to pass without the membership and DAILY WORKER drive coming before it. No public meeting of the party should be held without an appeal for new members and an appeal for readers for the DAILY WORKER.

Our party constitution prescribes that only those persons who are willing to participate actively in the party work can be members of our party. It is the proud boast of the Communist Parties of every country and the Communist International that the Communist Parties are made up of the advance guard of the working class—the active, militant workers.

LET US PROVE THIS IN THIS UNITED CAMPAIGN TO BUILD OUR PARTY AND THE DAILY WORKER.

AS WE SEE IT

By T. J. O'FLAHERTY.

(Continued from page 1)

signed by the military clique in Washington as "Mobilization Day." The American people are very touchy about militarism. Only when their masters declare war do they go to war and get quite bloodthirsty. But normally they prefer to see the fighting done elsewhere and by other people who like it better. Therefore deep was their wrath when "Mobilization Day" was sprung upon them. They did not like the name.

* * *

IT is quite true that the masses are not up in arms against this new militarist wrinkle that Washington is trying to carve into the national granite of the United States. But Communists and pacifists are bringing the scheme to the attention of the workers. There are also politicians who want to nab the anti-war vote. So Mr. John W. Weeks is obliged to reply to militant letters from angry pacifists. To one of these letters Mr. Weeks replied saying that the war department in its "Mobilization Day" was only obeying the law of the land. It seems that an act was passed in 1792 prescribing that all males between the ages of eighteen and forty-five years should be eligible for military service. So it seems that it took Weeks to obey a law which slumbered peacefully for 132 years. Weeks was unlucky in the selection of "Mobilization Day" for his warlike exercises. There is a good deal in a name. Had he been endowed with brains he would have called it by some name that would sound better.

* * *

THE wealth of Mexico has a strong appeal to the imagination of the Chicago Tribune. An alienist would no doubt prove that some gland in the capitalist system which the Tribune upholds, is responsible for this tendency. However, the World's Greatest Liar is impatient to get down into our neighbor's territory and avenge the lives of alleged Americans even if it takes the death of twenty young men to balance the loss of every so-called American killed in the southern republic. It is more than likely that for every American who lost his life at the hands of a Mexican outlaw, 100 Mexicans were killed in the steel mills of the United States. The blood spilt by a puny Mexican bandit is only a drop in the bucket compared to what flows from the sewers of the hell holes where American legalized bandits make their millions. The Tribune is now quite excited over the death of Rosalie Evans, the female hell-cat who refused to obey the laws of Mexico because those laws veered in favor of the workers and peasants. The United States has lost its prestige. Ramsay MacDonald would send his warships to shoot up some Mexican city but he is afraid J. P. Morgan might not like it. Therefore nothing is done and much valuable gore is left unshed.

* * *

BUT, bloodthirsty tho the Tribune is, we have an idea that its desire to feed the vultures of Mexico is not mainly due to its desire to relieve thousands of workers of the necessity of feeding the brute, by feeding them on bullets. The Tribune is anxious to get into Mexico for reasons similar to those which animated the patriotic jingo William Randolph Hearst before he made his peace with Obregon. There is untold wealth in Mexico, and some of our American millionaires would like nothing better than exploit that wealth with cheap peon labor under the protection of the guns of the United States. Rosalie Evans died in vain. Had she not been married to a hated Saxon, perhaps the patriotic fury of the Ku Klux Klanned population could be aroused. As it is the Tribune may curse, fume and turn out rotten editorials but nothing will happen—just now. Some day, unless a miracle happens, an excuse will be found and the Stars and Stripes will be carried into Mexico to stay there when the rulers of this country believe the time is ripe.

* * *

A VERY interesting case in which William Randolph Hearst was involved has just passed thru the New York courts. William J. Fallon, a criminal lawyer, was charged with bribing a juror in a mail fraud case. Fallon, the day after his indictment issued a statement charging Hearst's New York American with framing him, and with hiding a witness who was alleged to have been bribed by Victor Watson, editor of the New York American, to testify against Fallon. According to Fallon, the reason for Hearst's animosity toward him was, knowledge that Fallon had in his possession the birth certificates of three children of a prominent movie actress.

* * *

HEARST is also alleged to have sent detectives to Florida to get evidence against Mrs. Hearst. This information was locked in the manly breast of Mr. Fallon. Mrs. Hearst had visions of blackmail, therefore she sicked his man Watson on to Fallon. But Fallon proved everything but an easy mark. He turned the tables on Hearst and emerged victorious.

* * *

THE incident shows the power of the capitalist press and the unscrupulousness with which this power is used to crush the enemies of their owners. Hearst is reputed to be the most unscrupulous of the unscrupulous. His name has been linked with that of a movie actress and so has the name of the late attorney general, Harry Daugherty. In the struggle between the two the publisher was the victor and Daugherty went to the mat but a friendly relationship was established between the two which lasted even thru the investigation of the Department of Justice which brought about Daugherty's downfall. The story did not appear in the Sunday supplements of the Hearst papers but if Mr. Fallon is telling the truth it may appear in some other papers before long. Not the least obnoxious part of the immorality of capitalism is its hypocrisy. The capitalist press have tried to poison the minds of the workers against Communism by charging that the new order would "destroy the home and the family." But even their own press bears ample testimony that the capitalists have as little respect for their own moral code as they have for the laws made by themselves but only meant for the workers.

NEW HAVEN IS ENTHUSIASTIC AGAINST WARS

Hundreds Hear Gitlow, Simons Expose Morgan

(Special to The DAILY WORKER)

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 11.—New Haven held an open air meeting Saturday night, which comrades call the held here for many years. Over 700 700 workers heard war denounced by Benjamin Gitlow, Workers Party vice-president candidate, and by District Organizer, William Simons. The meeting was held at the Central Green Rondstand.

Gitlow discussed the economic causes of war, going into detail into the causes of the World War ten years ago. He showed the finger of Morgan in every move, showed how the war sentiment was artificially created, and the workers hurled into the slaughter. He foretold the greater strain in lives and wealth of the coming war. Gitlow explained the role of unemployment in the present system, and showed how the race for markets and spheres of investment brought on the clash. He pointed to the possibility of war in the Japan-United States controversy over who was to exploit the undeveloped economic resources of China.

Jobless Workers Hear.

Turning to this country, Gitlow saluted into his rival for the vice presidency, General Dawes, branding him as the agent of the House of Morgan. He paid similar respects to Davis. The war industries of Bridgeport and New Haven, death scattering munition plants, were seized upon by the speaker to prove the ever-increasing productive capacity of capitalism, which brings on unemployment sooner, and makes necessary the quest for foreign markets. The unemployment argument appealed to the workers present, many of whom were without jobs.

William Simons, organizer of the Connecticut District, recalled to the minds of the audience the flyng banners, the bloody trumpets, screams piercing the draft call. Once more the workers will be compelled to give up standards of work, won by years of hard struggle. After the next war, again they would be faced by the open shop drive. And the capitalists, Dawes hinges, would use the war to enrich themselves, and would not suffer prosecution. The workers would again be called upon to fight their masters' battles for them. The situation in all countries of the Western Hemisphere, especially Mexico and Central America, was pictured, revealing the iluve of Morgan, making and unmaking governments.

"Down With War!"

That war could be prevented by ending a policy of isolation was shown to be ludicrous, in the light of our leading statesmen, who were "vacationing" in Europe, attending to Morgan's affairs. Simons advised the workers to see to it that when the next war was started that it should be converted into a war against capital, a war to establish a Soviet Government of the world. He ended with the slogan "Down with War! Up with the Workers' and Farmers' Government of America and of the World."

NEGROES URGED TO SUPPORT ONLY PAPER WHICH GIVES ALL WORKERS SQUARE DEAL: THE DAILY WORKER

By GORDON OWENS

All news or rumors, detrimental to or placing a Negro or Negroes in an unfavorable light, always appears on the front page of the capitalist owned and controlled newspapers. The word "Negro" always appears in large letters in the headline when a Negro is accused of some crime.

All news favorable to or placing a Negro or Negroes in a good light always appears on the last pages of the capitalist owned and controlled newspapers, in case same happened to appear at all.

The Chicago Daily News carried a small write-up of The Negro Sanhedrin last February on page 16. Likewise on page 18 appeared a tiny article reporting the convention of The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in June. At this writing, The Daily News and Tribune have both ignored the convention of The Universal Negro Improvement Association, now being held in New York. This is the large Negro mass organization in the world.

Lie and Mislead.

The Chicago Daily News of July 30, page 1, column 1, carries a gambling expose article headlined, "Police Drive Closes Negro Gambling Dens." Same was featured on front page for three consecutive days.

The Chicago Tribune of Sunday, Aug. 3, in reporting a fight between two Negro youths and some whites on a Wentworth Ave. car, headlined same on its first page that a mob attempted to lynch the Negroes. This is a vicious lie. Two weeks ago the lying and filthy Tribune in reporting a fight between a light and dark skinned Negro, stated that a white man shot a Negro in the leg because the Negro married the sister of the white man.

Defaming for Bosses.

All sorts of crimes are committed every day and Negroes be placed in an inferior position to all whites in order to flatter the white workers and have them to believe themselves superior to and better than Negroes. Naturally the exploited white workers who are under this illusion will not join hands or unite in the fight in common with Negro workers to better conditions in general lest the criminal Negroes may become the equals of the duped and exploited "scissorbill" white workers.

To Keep Workers Divided.

This anti-Negro propaganda of the bosses and employers, carried on thru their newspapers, is their best weapon to divide Negro and white workers, and to keep alive prejudice against Negroes.

Awakened and class conscious Negro and white workers must make herculean efforts to induce workers of both races to read and subscribe to the working class newspaper, the DAILY WORKER.

One Paper Fair.

The DAILY WORKER prints on its front page news placing Negroes in a good light and truthful news of the problems and handicaps of Negro workers. The DAILY WORKER fights the battle of both black and white workers.

The white workers are badly in need of the kind of information about the Negro, which the DAILY WORKER contains.

Boost DAILY WORKER.

Let the Negro and white workers support The DAILY WORKER, which seeks to unite them, and cease supporting their bosses' organs, the capitalist newspapers which seeks to divide Negro and white workers and keep them hating and fighting each other for the bosses special interest.

Berkeley Chief of Police May Be Head Of San Quentin Pen

BERKELEY, Cal., Aug. 11.—The real reason for the return of August Volimer, Berkeley's chief of police, who was sent to Los Angeles for a year, but ran home after the San Pedro klan riot, may be revealed in a statement of Governor Richardson that he has selected Volimer as warden of San Quentin, to succeed James A. Johnston. Richardson has been trying for a long time to get rid of Johnston, a Hiram Johnson follower.

Johnston says he is still in San Quentin and expects to remain there. Volimer is on his honeymoon. In view of the hundred political prisoners in San Quentin, the attitude of the warden toward labor is of vital importance. Volimer did not shine in San Pedro, his avowed neutral attitude working out practically in assistance for the rioters.

LEN SMALL GANG HOOKING UNIONS FOR LAFOLLETTE

S. P. Lines Up With Walker and Olander

The American Federation of Labor officials definitely entered the LaFollette campaign in Illinois today with the announcement that these officials "have established headquarters at the Morrison Hotel in conjunction with the national campaign headquarters." The same reactionary officials of the Illinois Federation of Labor, directed by John Walker and Victor Olander, who are campaigning for the regular Republican Len Len Small, have taken over rooms in the luxurious and spacious LaFollette suite which covers most of the fourth floor of the Morrison Hotel.

Hi-Hacking the Negroes.

At the same time it was announced that G. Victor Cools, of the Co-operative League of America, has been appointed National Manager of the Independent Colored Voters LaFollette-Coolidge Club, to cash in on LaFollette's reluctant anti-Klan statement and round up the Negro vote.

Statements have been sent to the local unions of the Chicago Federation of Labor asking that a LaFollette campaign committee of five be appointed, and funds donated to LaFollette. The Len Small Federation machine, which knifed the class Farmer-Labor Party in the back, claiming that organized labor should keep out of active participation in politics, is now busy rounding the union members to work for LaFollette.

Socialist Gets Democratic.

At the last meeting of tool and diemakers lodge No. 113, of the International Association of Machinists, business agent Dillon, member of the Socialist Party, who six weeks ago denounced the Farmer Labor Party advocates for "injecting politics into the union," appealed for the organization to get behind LaFollette.

When a member of the union moved to vote down LaFollette's appeal for aid, the president of the lodge denied him the floor on the ground that he was "opposing what he said LaFollette was a representative of the middle class." This lodge member appealed from the decision of the chair, and mustered almost half of the members to vote against the gag rule of the LaFollette machine. The LaFollette aid was rushed thru by the reactionary machine, however.

ORGANIZE YOUTH OF HAMMOND IN LEAGUE BRANCH

Following the organization meeting held last Friday under the auspices of the Carmen's union at Hammond, Indiana, a meeting was called at which young workers by Barney Mass of the Young Workers League and Tom Bell of the Workers Party. Forty-two young workers attentively listened to the speeches delivered and signified their willingness to become members of the League and enlist as active fighters against the rotten conditions of American capitalism, which is exploiting the youth of the country to swell the profits of the bosses.

One of the results of these sending the meeting are employed in the Standard Steel Car company and know the necessity of the young workers organizing to fight against the rotten conditions and low wages under which they work. The message of the communist fight against capitalism was listened to attentively and with appreciation.

Complete Organization Tonight.

An organization meeting was decided on, to be held on Tuesday, August 12, at 7:30 p. m. in Strobele's Hall, corner of Morton and Columbia Aves., East Hammond, to complete the organization of the branch. The new members of the League will provide an orchestra for the dance which will take place at the close of the organization meeting.

Send In that Subscription Today.

SAN FRANCISCO I. W. A.

Offers

Monster Day and Moonlight

PICNIC

For the Relief of the Struggling Workers of Germany

Ellen Rose's Kiddy Revue — Bay District Singing Societies

Aeroplane Rides — Bathing — Dancing — Whip Riding

at the

NEPTUNE BEACH, ALAMEDA, CAL.

Sunday, August 17th, 1924

8 A. M. to 12 P. M.

Tickets of admission sold only in advance 25 cents, at 225 Valencia St.

FARRELL STEEL WORKERS' CASES COME IN SEPT.

Defense Sends Plea for More Funds

By Wallace T. Metcalfe.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Aug. 11.—The Labor Defense and Free Speech Council handling the now famous Farrell sedition cases has just completed circularizing the labor movement of Ohio. Thousands of letters have gone forth to the organized labor movement in Ohio setting forth the outstanding injustice being inflicted upon the six Farrell steel workers for daring to exercise their constitutional rights of free speech and peaceful assemblage in a district owned body and soul by the Steel Trust.

Two workers have been convicted of violating the infamous Sedition Law of Pennsylvania. Two are confined in the Mercer County jail because their bondsmen were compelled to turn them over to the custody of the sheriff. The defense is exerting every effort to secure the early release of these two workers and the outside world is being appealed to for assistance. A cash bail of $2,000 each is required by the court.

Jobless—Blacklisted.

The two workers at liberty under bail awaiting trial have been out of employment since their arrest. Boycotted—blacklisted—jailed and compelled to fight against uneven odds, the game fight being put up by these workers is exemplary. The appeals of the two convicted steel workers will be heard before the Mercer County court sometime in September while the four steel workers yet to be tried will have their trials in October.

The defense committee is faced with the gigantic task of financing the appeals and the trials. It will require $6,000 at the least to carry on the legal battle in defense of these steel workers.

The defense committee has appealed to the labor movement in the United States and Canada. Thru the labor press the TRUTH about Farrell has been broadcasted to the outside world and in response to these appeals many organizations have contributed.

Miners Sympathize.

A letter received today from a United Mine Workers union in southeastern Ohio displays the real spirit of the American working class. Here it is and every member of the working class should read it.

Labor Defense and Free Speech Council.

Dear Sir and Brother:

In reply to your letter of July 25th.

We are with you brother but this local has been out of work since last November, 1923. We was always ready to help of any kind but the shape we are in I am sorry to say that we cannot help at the present. With the best wishes for a better day.

We remain,

(_____),

Secretary.

In back of the Farrell defendents hundreds of thousands of workers and sympathisers are being mobilized and from theose oppressed steel workers they are now known the world over for their loyalty to their ideals.

That non-partisan force for Free Speech—Peaceful Assemblage and Freedom of the Press, the American Civil Liberties Union, has exerted its powerful influence in behalf of the constitutional rights of these steel workers. Its representatives were first to come to the rescue of the defendants.

Workers Must Help.

Workmen's Circle branches from all over the United States have contributed. This splendid organization of Jewish workers and business people maintains its tradition of defending the rights of the oppressed.

Four of the defendants are members of the Workers Party of America, South Slav Federation, and the bulk of the financial support has been given by them. On account of unemployment the contributions have been small. The defense committee appeals to the membership of the Workers Party—to all members of the working class and to those who sympathize with them in their struggles to heed this appeal for funds.

There must be no letup in the campaign for the defense of the Farrell steel workers. Contributions regardless how small should be mailed at once to the defense committee, Wm. J. White, treasurer, Box 883, Youngstown, Ohio.

Send in that Subscription Today.

RUBBER STAMPS AND SEALS
IN ENGLISH AND IN ALL FOREIGN LANGUAGES
INK, PADS, DATERS, RUBBER TYPE, Etc.
NOBLER STAMP & SEAL CO.
73 W. Van Buren St.
Phone Wabash 6680
CHICAGO
MAIL ORDERS PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO

Bucharin Report on Program to the Fifth Congress of the Communist International

Editor's Note:—This is the first installment of Comrade Bukharin's report on the proposed program for the Communist International made to the fifth World Congress of the C. I. Our readers should follow this report with keen interest. Comrade Bukharin is a noted Marxist and one of the leaders of the Russian Communist Party and one of the Russian representatives on the Executive Committee of the Communist International. A second installment will appear tomorrow.

* * *

Comrade Bukharin's Report.

COMRADES, we two reporters who were appointed by the Executive to deal with this question—Comrade Thalheimer and myself, have divided the work between us. Comrade Thalheimer's report will not be a counterpart to mine, but rather a supplement to it.

Comrades, at our last congress the program question was discussed with considerable thoroness. The most important program questions were dealt with in the reports made at that time. I will therefore not again go over the paragraphs contained in my report and in Thalheimer's supplementary report.

Capitalist Accumulation.

Differences arose in connection with two quite different questions: first, in connection with capitalist accumulation—a purely theoretical question brought forward by Comrade Rosa Luxemburg. We have omitted this purely theoretical discussion for today, not because of our inability to discuss this question, or because we do not attack any importance to it, but because it is a question which does not lend itself to discussion in the plenum. It is of an extremely theoretical nature and therefore not suitable for the plenum of a great congress. We have decided to deal with these purely theoretical questions at separate meetings.

The second question, which gave rise to differences— the question of partial demands and transition slogans,—was settled by the Fourth Congress. As there are no differences in connection with it, this question disappears from the agenda, unless some delegation or group of delegations object to this.

Thus, in today's report I will deal only with new questions, namely with questions not discussed in former reports.

Comrade Thalheimer and myself propose (and I believe we voice the opinion of the Commission on this) that at this congress, we adopt not a final program, but rather a draft which the parties affiliated to the Communist International may discuss. This draft must be distributed to the sections for discussion in the name of the congress.

Determine Aims and Methods.

In the first place, we need the program for the ideological training of the parties belonging to the Communist International. We also need the program for its political significance, in order to determine its aims and the methods by which these aims are to be achieved. We also need the program to demonstrate and to further our unity. I must say that I do not share comrade Maslov's scepticism with relation to the program. He published a rather good article in reply to comrade Boris' article in "Die Internationale"—the theoretical magazine published by the German Party, expressed himself against the adop- But in this article, comrade Maslov tion of this program. He argues that theoretical questions, work has been done and that various, purely theoretical questions, are not yet solved. He proposes that only a program of action be adopted in lieu of a program. I do not agree with his contention for I think that the various documents already adopted by the Communist International, which date from our first congress, we have sufficient material and also sufficient elucidation of the most important questions which concern the program. I also think that, with a few exceptions we are justified in saying that even the purely theoretical questions have been, on the whole, well thrashed out. I think that there is no justification for comrade Maslov's theoretical scepticism.

Philosophy of Movement.

I come now to the question itself. As I have already said, I will deal now only with questions which are comparatively new. I presume that formulations, which were published in book form, and the discussions connected with them, are familiar to all the comrades.

The first question we have to consider is—our philosophy. Not a word has been said in the draft laid before the Fourth World Congress about the philosophy of the Communist International and of Communism in general. But since then we have gone thru experiences which make it imperative for us to deal with this question. During the meeting of the Enlarged Executive we had a very heated discussion on the religious question. This of course, is a tactical question, but not merely a tactical question. These discussions on the Enlarged Executive showed us that the question of our philosophy needs elucidation. There are more subtle facts which, in a less crude form perhaps than the religious discussion indicate that there are still some dangers ahead. We notice among Communist Parties, and to a still greater extent, among social-democratic parties—especially in the German Social Democratic Party—a relapse into the old Hegelism, which we must designate as pre-Marxist and an idealistic viewpoint. This is particularly noticeable in the social democrat Cuno, especially in his works on the state, the role and functions of this state. This is linked up with a certain relapse into Lassale-ism. I cannot of course, deal here very fully with these questions, I merely want to emphasize the fact of those relapses in the ranks of the social democracy. Unfortunately, Communist Parties are not immune from such relapses into the old Hegelism, certainly in a less prominent form than in social democratic ranks, but which nevertheless reveal the same potentially harmful tendencies.

The Italian Party.

The second phenomenon is particularly noticeable in the Italian party, altho probably it is not conscious of it. This ideological deviation from revolutionary Marxism could be designated as idealistic voluntarism, which is substituted for Marxist activism. We find the same deviation in the Russian party, but in a different form, namely in the form of agnostic positivism in lieu of Marxist materialism. Some comrades base their attitude on the teachings of a revolutionary school of thot, the so-called reflex theory, and go back to activism. All this may be plausible enough, but it is not revolutionary Marxism. The point is that in all this, Marxist materialism is treated, avowedly or tacitly as an obsolete viewpoint. This is to a certain extent permeate proletarian circles. That is why philosophy must be given a place in the program. It must be precisely and concisely formulated. We must say that we are materialists; our viewpoint is the viewpoint of revolutionary materialist Marxism. This is a rather elastic formula but we cannot do without it if we want to proclaim our revolutionary Marxism openly and meet the perils which I described to you.

Shows Certain Dangers.

As to the second group—the economic questions, I believe that if the influence of bourgeois ideology is noticeable on the philosophical field, it is also present in our economic doctrines. I should like to propose to the congress here to discuss Comrade Boris' article in "Die Internationale." Not because I attach much importance to Comrade Boris' arguments, but because his article shows us in a crude form the dangers which are ahead. It is not a question of Boris, but a question of symptomatic phenomena which I cannot attribute to mere chance when a scientific organ conducted by educated people print such foolish things and such social democratic rot. Such a phenomenon shows rather that there is a certain psychological basis for such discussions. This article is a palpable proof that the bourgeoisie and the social democratic theorists have gained a footing in our camp. The article is very outspoken. Certain compliments are paid to us in it, to the effect that am described as a petty bourgeois gone mad. This is a very outspoken expression, and as I said before, the article is very outspoken indeed. Comrade Boris would like to send the entire bourgeoisie and also the petty bourgeoisie to the devil. He has no wish to make common cause with any revolutionary parties in the colonies whatever, on the plea that they are bourgeois parties. He also taboos partial socialization. He says: "To the devil with any kind of socialization which is not complete socialization! He wants to socialize everything, including the waste-paper basket of "Die Internationale." He justifies his article by saying that political economy is the whole and the end-all. Thus, we must socialize everything, or nothing. He is much more radical than the most radical elements represented here. But under this radical cloak, we have litgrally a purely social democratic theory, and I fail to see how it was possible for the editors of "Die Internationale" not to notice it. This is ludicrous, and at the same time dangerous. Comrades, I will read you an extract from Comrade Boris' article to give you an idea what we have really to contend with. One of the most important differences between the Second and Third Internationals is the conception of imperialism, the conception that a few great powers exploit the colonies, receive super-profits from these colonies and by means of them corrupt some working class sections, which provide the basis for social democratic policy. Hitherto we thot that this conception is the most important point which separates us from the Second International. This conception is a strong weapon in our hands against social democracy, and against the imperialist policy of the bourgeoisie, a strong weapon which enables us to establish a connection between Western Europe and Asia, between the industrial proletariat and the backward colonial peoples. We have in this conception a connecting link between the revolution of the industrial proletariat and colonial rebellions, which in the trend of history are nothing but component parts of the world revolutions. Against this, are directed all the attacks of the social democrats, on the theoretical as well as on the practical field.

Criticism of Program.

Now what does our super-clever Boris propose? He criticises my draft program by saying:

"What is the implication of the assertion that the bourgeoisie raised the wages of the workers at home and thus gave them an interest in the plunder? The European and American workers are exploited. The workers receive the value of their labor power, i. e., the means of existence which are necessary to maintain and reproduce their class. Hence the means of existence must be sufficient to maintain the laborer as a laborer in his normal standard of living and to allow him to reproduce his kind. Nothing, in the workers have been able to attain a certain standard of living. The basis for raising this standard was the development of producing power. The wages of the workers in the home countries were raised by the bourgeoisie for the purpose of corrupting the super-profits of some sort or other. Moreover, there are no super-profits; there is only one profit, and this is created by surplus labor in production."

We cannot speak of super-profits from the Colonies."

And after he has set forth our mutual stand point, he writes:

"And the Communist International is expected to elevate this class-conciliatory nonsense to its program. And the thesis covering the war and post-war period are still more absurd. For the 19th century, Bukharin was able to use Karl Marx in a mutilated form. For the beginnings of the 20th century, he used Hilferding, whom he faithfully echoed, since theoretically he is his Disciple. Now he has also developed a few of his own senseless theories of state capitalism."

Thus, the whole doctrine of super-profits is fundamentally anti-Marxist; it is absurd, it is class-conciliatory, theoretically. Well, I don't know what class-conciliatory means. But first I want to make a brief remark. Comrade Boris says that this doctrine is not Marxist at all,—that it is fundamentally anti-Marxist. There is no such thing as super-profits; it is impossible for an intermediate to speak of the exploitation of one country by another; that is sheer nonsense. I base myself on an author who was in no way a petty-bourgeois run wild, i. e., the venerable Karl Marx. In his "Theories of Surplus Value," Vol. 2, Part 2, Marx says: "Even a blind sow can find an acorn, and even a bourgeois economist can sometimes speak the truth." And with reference to his famous blind sow, Marx says:

"J. B. Say, in his comments on Considerations of Ricardo, made just one correct observation on foreign trade. Profit can also be made by cheating. One wins what the other loses. Gains and losses within a country cancel each other. But this is not the case between various countries. And even according to Ricardo's own theory—which Say does not notice—three working days of one country can be exchanged for one working day of another. Here the law of values must be essentially modified. Of a highly-skilled, complex labor within a country bears a certain proportionate unskilled, simple labor, so the working days of one country can bear a certain proportion of the working days of another country. In such cases, the country which exploits the poorer, altho the latter may gain by the exchange. J. S. Mill developed this theory in his 'Some Unsettled Questions, etc.'"

From this we can infer that Comrade Boris' conceptions are somewhat more profound than those of a blind sow. But of course, that is not the decisive factor for us. The decisive factor is that we clearly see that this doctrine of super-profits of richer countries is an entirely Marxist doctrine. Marx put this down in black and white. But Marx proceeds from the hypothesis—only from this hypothesis—that there is a peaceful exchange between the countries. He does not speak of downright plunder. He does not speak of the results which must arise from the direct pressure of the state apparatus. What must be said when we also take this powerful means into consideration? The question is perfectly clear and comprehensible to any child. Only Comrade Boris believes that this doctrine is absurd.

Now for the arguments of Comrade Boris on wages. Naturally, the bourgeois can corrupt the working class only by means of higher wages. That is entirely correct. If, for instance, we consider the wages of the workers in the imperialist states, we observe that the workers receive their income in form of wages, but that is not the question. We must ask: Why are the wages of these workers higher than the average wage? One answer is: The wages are higher because the labor power is of a different nature, because the labor power is more highly skilled. That would be correct, but a further question is necessary: where is the basis? How did the possibility arise for these sections of the working class to transform their labor power into more highly skilled labor power? This must be answered. Of course, this question; the decisive question, did not occur to Comrade Boris. The wages of every section of the labor aristocracy conforms with its more highly skilled labor power. But why was just this labor more highly skilled? Why does this labor power belong to the highly skilled workers and not to the unskilled worker? Practically the whole working class of the capitalist state is an aristocracy as compared with the pariahs of the working class. That is the basic question. This question is answered by our doctrine, which was created by Marx and developed by Engels and Lenin and which is clearly discussed in the program of the Russian Party. Comrade Boris absolutely overlooks this question. And that is a return, a complete return to the Second International. For if we do not have this premise, we cannot fight against the labor aristocracy, imperialist politics, and will not be in a condition theoretically to explain all these fundamentally important phenomena. Engels, as even those who are not specially educated in Marxism know, even speaks of the bourgeois proletariat in England. This is also an absurdity from Comrade Boris' standpoint, because he is not familiar with Marxist literature. We must ask: How is it possible that the editor of the "Die Internationale" can thus exercise a censorship? (Korsch: It was merely brought up for discussion!) Comrades, we cannot bring up every bit of piffle for discussion. That is a bit strong.

(To Be Continued.)

THE WORK OF THE PARTY C. E. C.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF THE WORKERS PARTY.

THE following matters were discussed and decisions rendered by the Central Executive Committee:

Meeting of August 2.

Party Platform: Committee consisting of Comrades Ruthenberg, Bittelman and Lovestone were elected to go over the proposed 1924 platform prepared by Comrade Ruthenberg with authority to publish same after agreement by committee.

Program of Action: The committee decided to hold special semi-monthly meetings for the purpose of following up work done by the party organization in carrying out the program of action.

International Publishers and Booksellers. The committee adopted a motion declaring that it did not approve of the establishment of a private publishing house to publish radical and Communist literature by Comrades Alexander Trachtenberg and A. A. Heller.

Freiheit Management: The committee considered an appeal by Comrade Salsman, Manager of the Freiheit, against the appointment of Comrade Lifshitz as Campaign Manager for the Freiheit and requested that the Bureau of the Jewish Section submit to the C. E. C. its views on the subject.

Meeting of August 4.

New York Membership Meeting: The committee appointed Comrade Foster to represent the C. E. C. at the New York Membership meeting to be held August 15.

Needle Trades Clothing Workers: The committee voted to approve of the publication of the statement calling upon the locals of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers to repudiate the endorsement of LaFollette by the General Executive Board of that organization.

Labor Defense Council: It was decided to take up with the non-party supporters of the Labor Defense Council the question of broadening its activities to include all the defense work of the Workers Party, combining with the Labor Defense Council the National Defense Committee and if approval could be secured to as quickly as possible, turn over to the Labor Defense Council all the defense work of the party.

Mobilization Day: The issuance of a special party manifesto in leaflet form on Mobilization Day, September 12, called by President Coolidge, was authorized.

All party units are instructed to hold mass meetings on that day for the purpose of agitation against war, militarism and Fascism.

Election Campaign: The committee authorized the preparation of a campaign handbook by Comrade Lovestone, a pamphlet containing a short statement of Communist principles to be prepared by Comrade Ruthenberg, and a pamphlet on the political parties in the United States to be prepared by Comrade Bittelman.

Audit of Party Books: There was submitted to the committee the statement of Comrades Abern and Maurer who had been appointed to audit the accounts of the party for the period from August, 1923, to July 1, 1924, that they had audited the accounts and found them correct.

Obolonsky Appeal: Appeal of Comrade Jacob Obolonsky against the censure by the convention of the Russian section of carelessness in keeping the books while Secretary was considered by the committee. It appeared that Comrade Obolonsky had been secretary of the Russian section for a period of only two and a half to three weeks and that during that period only two remittances were received. The Russian section was instructed that if the facts were as stated by Comrade Obolonsky, to withdraw the vote of censure.

Miller Case: Lettish Branch Chicago: The committee authorized the Lettish Branch in Chicago to accept Comrade J. August Miller as a member of that branch with all the rights of membership, at the same time voting to submit to the Russian Communist party his stated record of activities for confirmation.

Lithuanian Bureau: Communication was received from the Lithuanian Bureau in regard to the rumored proposal of publication of a Lithuanian daily in Chicago and the establishment of headquarters in this city. The statement of the Lithuanian Bureau was accepted as satisfactory by the C. E. C.

Freiheit Re-incorporation: The committee authorized Comrades Alexander Bittelman, Noah London and Benjamin Lifshitz to act as the incorporators of the Freiheit, holding the stock in the name of the C. E. C. during the period of incorporation.

Language Section Meetings: The committee authorized monthly meetings with the secretaries of the language sections for the purpose of discussing with them party policies and methods of carrying out policies. Comrades Cannon and Ruthenberg were appointed to represent the C. E. C. at these meetings.

Campaign Fund Collection by Party Papers: The committee directed that party papers opening their columns for the collection of campaign funds must remit the full amount collected to the National Organization, stating the source, and the National Organization will transmit the respective quotas to the party units in accordance with the arrangements made.

C. E. Ruthenberg,
Executive Secretary

DO YOU WANT A LITTLE BUFFALO IN YOUR HOME?

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Having a surplus of buffalos in the Yellowstone, National Park, the government today offered to give one away free to anyone who could pay the cost of catching and transporting.

Persons who get buffalos must also agree to care for it and not to kill it except in self-defense. There are about 750 buffalos in the Yellowstone herd.

Christian Soldiers Marching Against Darwin's Monkeys

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Aug. 11.—Opening guns in the reactionary attack on the teaching of evolution in California public schools were fired at a special meeting of the state department of education here.

Rev. George Thorpe of Corona, who precipitated the fight, argued for the elimination of over 50 text books teaching the relationship of man and animals, and pleaded for the teaching of spontaneous generation and special creation. Rev. Harvey Gill, Universal Sacramento, led the modernist forces, arguing that evolution and Christianity can be reconciled. Will C. Wood, state superintendent public instruction, will render a verdict after considering the speeches on both sides. An initiative measure will probably appear on the 1924 ballot providing for teaching the Bible in the public schools.

Send in that Subscription Today.

IMMIGRANTS TO SOVIET RUSSIA TO BE ASSISTED

Technical Aid Society Warns of False Agents

(Special to The Daily Worker)

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—For the past six months a number of complaints have come to the attention of the Central Bureau of the Society for Technical Aid to the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics against various unscrupulous agencies and individuals who, it appears, have found a new source of easy income thru exploitation of uninformed people desiring either to return to Russia individually or to obtain a restitution of Russian citizenship.

Some of these complaints deal with remuneration, at times extremely exorbitant, exacted by some agencies and officers for soliciting services. Other complaints are directed against persons styling themselves "Soviet consuls" who have been charging from five to one hundred dollars for issuing "passports" invalid in any country. Also there are complaints by persons stranded at various European ports, simply because they fell prey to irresponsible agents promised with proper bona fide documents they cannot gain entrance into the U. S. S. R.

Lastly, applications presumably for obtaining admission into U. S. S. R., have been incorrectly accomplished by these agents and solicitations undertaken by them have proven to be in flagrant violation of particular requirements obtaining in re-emigrant cases.

Russian immigrants apply to those various agents and offices merely because there is no official representative of the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics in the United States.

To avoid a recurrence of such deplorable cases of cheating and misleading of Russian immigrants, and in order to establish a proper and correct procedure for such solicitations, the Central Bureau S. T. A. S. R. (799 Broadway, corner 11th St. New York City), has undertaken the task of accomplishing the application blanks for entering Russia and forwarding these to the proper Soviet authorities.

Offers Aid.

The duties of the Central Bureau S. T. A. S. R. in this respect are as follows:

1. To solicit for Russian citizens desiring to return to Russia.

2. To solicit for all persons of foreign nationality desiring to become Russian citizens or being reinstated into Russian citizenship.

NOTE:—Persons who left Russia without permission after 1917, and contemplating at some time to return there, must effect a restitution of their Russian citizenship formerly held by them.

3. To solicit for foreigners desiring to obtain a temporary permission of stay in Russia.

The handling of application blanks and solicitations for obtaining permission to enter Russia will be conducted by the Central Bureau S. T. A. S. R. in strict accord with precise instructions from proper Soviet institutions having jurisdiction in this matter.

The offices of the Central Bureau S. T. A. S. R. for execution of the services above-mentioned will be open daily from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. and Saturdays till 3 p. m.

For all information, in writing or in person, please apply to Central Bureau S. T. A. S. R., 799 Broadway, Room 402, New York City. Telephone Stuyvesant 5916.

FURNISHED ROOMS, APARTMENTS AND BUNGALOWS.

Walden Book Store of Chicago Succeeds on Co-operative Plan

A successful enterprise on a co-operative basis is being conducted by the Chicago Co-operative Bookstores Co., organized on the Rochdale plan of one vote to each stockholder, irrespective of the amount of his holdings.

The venture is better known by the name of Walden Book Shop and the capital is divided into shares of $5 each, the constitution provides for a cumulative dividend not to exceed 6 per cent. After this has been paid, the directors must set aside 10 per cent of the net profits as a reserve until it equals the capital paid in. Then 5 per cent of the profits shall be used in teaching co-operation by educational advertising. After these obligations have been met, a customers' dividend may be declared in the ratio of their purchase.

Under the management of Theron P. and Lenetta Cooper, the business has developed to the point where the cumulative dividends have been paid to Dec. 31, 1923.

In the ability and personnel of the management and clerical force, in the variety and quality of the stock carried, and in the atmosphere which attaches wherever books are loved as well as sold, the Walden Shops hold their own with capitalist competitors.

BRISBANE, Queensland, Aug. 11.—The civil service employes of Queensland are duly affiliated members of the Australian Labor party, following their application and their adoption of the party's platform. The anti-Labor press interprets it as a wave of Bolshevism thru the ranks of the service.

REDS COMING TO WASHINGTON, D. C.
Furnished Rooms, $10 to $25 a Month.
Apartments, $25 to $60 a Month.
Bungalows, $45 to $75 a Month.
Mrs. Bateler, 32 G Street, S. W.
Washington, D. C.

The World of Labor • Industry & Agriculture

CHICAGO BARBERS WILL URGE UNION TO ADMIT WOMEN

Biggest Local to Ask at Convention

(By The Federated Press)

The largest delegation from the largest local in the Journeymen Barbers Intl. union will work for admission of women barbers into the union when the convention opens in Indianapolis, Sept. 9.

Local 548, Chicago, is sending 17 delegates to represent its 3,000 members. Pres. William Leidig declares local sentiment solid for admission of the women hairdressers and barbers.

"The west strongly favors abolition of the sex discrimination," Leidig says. "Chicago has 300 women barber shops with 1,500 to 2,000 women barbers. Seattle has a very active well organized body of lady barbers. But the eastern locals are against admitting the women. They haven't the same competition from them that we have in the west."

A. F. of L. Dodges.

The sex bar was discussed at the 1923 convention of the American Federation of Labor, at Portland, and was referred to the barbers' international as a question within the autonomy of the craft. Affiliation of the lady barbers to the Seattle Central Labor council was one of the charges in the indictment brot against the control body by the executive council., A. F. of L., last year. Seattle dropped the women's organization as one of the conditions for retaining its charter.

The Chicago local will have over 4,500 members if it is permitted by the international convention to take in the women barbers and if it succeeds in organising them to the same high degree as the men. Over 93 percent of all men barbers in Chicago are in the union.

Orientals Barred.

There is no color bar against Negro barbers, of whom there are 200 in Chicago in the Chicago local. Orientals, however, are excluded.

The International union paid per capita on 48,200 members to the A. F. of L. in 1923. This compares with 58,400 five years earlier, in 1918, and with 47,000 in the peak year of 1921. James Shanessy is international president and Jocob Fischer secretary.

Russia and Turkey.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 11.—Relations are strained between the new Turkish government and Russia. The Russian military attaché and the Russian consul at Angora are reported to have been arrested for espionage.

LEGION TALKS CHEAP MEMORIAL FOR SLAIN CENTRALIA RAIDERS SINCE $250,000 SCHEME FAILED

(By Defense News Service)

Far-and-wide dissemination of the fact that $16,500 collected for an American Legion memorial in Centralia, Washington, had been dissipated for salaries and expenses of collection has evidently put the promoters of the memorial project on the defensive. For it is now announced that a hero monument will be erected anyhow, but on a cheaper scale.

In May the Defense News Service issued a news story under a Centralia date line telling of the collapse of the endeavor to raise $250,000 to commemorate the deaths of the Legionaires killed in an attack upon the I. W. W. hall in Centralia on Armistice Day, 1919.

This collapse had become public knowledge thru a lawsuit filed to recover money alleged to be due to Frank Jackson of Seattle, who had contracted to direct a subscription campaign at a salary of $500 a week and expenses. One-half of this salary was to have been paid weekly and the balance when the entire fund of $250,000 was raised.

Wobblies Exposed Them.

Defending the suit, the memorial association pleaded that it was without funds and that all of the cash collected had been used for expenses. Leaflets giving details of the affair, as revealed in the lawsuit, were then widely circulated by the General Defense Committee of Chicago, being sent to Legion posts and members and to kindred organization in many parts of the country. It was recounted that the commemoration project, sponsored by Gol. C. B. Blethen, publisher of the Seattle Daily Times, had hit the rocks.

Plead For Patience.

Now, however, the Grays Harbor Post, a weekly published in Aberdeen, 50 miles northwest of the tragedy-scene, declares that a hero memorial positively will be unveiled in Centralia on Armistice Day, 1924. But instead of costing $250,000 as originally planned, the cost will be only $18,000.

"A memorial to the men who fell at Centralia before the bullets of misguided radicals was planned three years ago," says the Grays Harbor Post. "Funds were collected for the purpose but the amount never reached the desired proportion for the memorial planned. Every dollar that was raised, however, was kept sacred in a fund and has been expended upon a monument designed and sculptured by Victor Alonzo Lewis, at a cost of $15,000.

"The monument will be in the form of a gigantic doughboy, on an eight-foot pedestal of granite. On the sides of this pedestal will be the portraits, in bronze, of the men who died in Centralia on Armistice Day five years ago.

"The I. W. W. Defense Committee, working to secure the release of the men convicted, have covered the Northwest with leaflets stating that the money raised for the Centralia monument has been dissipated. The answer to this mis-statement will be the unveiling of the statue November 11. The men given the sacred charge of raising the fund for the memorial have kept the faith."

Had the Goods.

Immediately upon learning of the Grays Harbor Weekly's announcement, James Morris, secretary of the General Defense Committee of Chicago, wrote the editor saying: "If you will investigate carefully, you will find that this committee has never stated anything but the truth concerning the Centralia memorial project. Our information, as published in news service and leaflets, was based on data which is a matter of court record in the lawsuit by A. D. Tasker, to whom Jackson's claim was assigned. Substantially the same details to which we disseminated were published in the Centralia Daily Chronicle on May 4, 1924.

Copies of the defense committee's letter were also sent to the editors of the Daily World and the Pythian Record in Aberdeen; the Centralia Chronicle, and the Bee-Nugget and Lewis County Advocate in Chehalis.

Not a Popular Cause.

This proposed $15,000 monument is the third to be projected by those who contend that the Legionaires killed in Centralia were heroes. As early as September, 1921, it was announced in Centralia that a bronze memorial had been sculptured for the American Legion by E. M. Viquesney of Americus, Georgia. The Viquesney design, it was stated, was a figure of a helmeted infantryman charging with a rifle in one hand and a grenade in the other. But that statue never turned up in Centralia.

Reference was made by the defense committee in the leaflet mentioned to a statement published in the Spokane Daily Chronicle on February 2, 1924, in which Dr. Robert Farley, district commander of the American Legion, indicated that he would recommend an immediate investigation of the committee's charges relative to the Centralia case. One charge was that Judge John M. Wilson, who presided at the trial, suppressed a great mass of evidence vital to the defense.

Two months and a half have passed since that leaflet was issued, but no word has come from the Spokane district of the American Legion that it has taken any action whatever to get at the facts. And no reply has come to a letter dispatched to Dr. Farley in May.

Scab Hotel Queered Diet Expert With Seattle Workers

SEATTLE, August 11.—Because he up at a nonunion hotel the Seattle Central Labor council refused to listen to a diet adviser who wanted the floor at a regular meeting. Another offense of the adviser was his recommendation that workers feed oleomargarine to their children.

John H. Jepson, business agent Milk Wagon Drivers, local 66, took office as president of the central body in May.

Send in that Subscription Today.

Go to eat where all the rest 100% union men and women go

Deutche-Hungarian Restaurant

29 South Halsted St.

Pure Food, Good Service and reasonable prices our motto

Improve Your Property

Damaged Buildings Restored
LOANS TO IMPROVE
New Floors, Fronts, Shelving
MID-CITY CARPENTER SHOP
908 S. Irving Ave. Seeley 1883

PITTSBURGH, PA.
DR. RASNICK
DENTIST
Rendering Expert Dental Service for 20 Years
116 SMITHFIELD ST. Near 7th Ave.
1001 CHARTIER AVE. Cor. Arthur St.

OUR DAILY PATTERNS

AN UP-TO-DATE SPORTS SUIT.

A POPULAR MODEL FOR SCHOOL WEAR.

4822-4850. This stylish model is composed of ladies' waist coat blouse 4822, and ladies' skirt 4850. White flannel is here portrayed with facings of black suede. This style is also good for ratine, or silk alpaca also in sports silk or crepe.

The blouse is cut in 7 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46 inches bust measure. The skirt in 7 sizes: 25, 27, 29, 31, 33, 35 and 37 inches waist measure, with corresponding hip measure, 35, 37, 39, 41, 43, 45 and 47 inches. To make this suit for a 35-inch size will require 5 yards of 32-inch material, with ½-yard for facings, if made as illustrated. The width of the skirt at the foot is 1¾ yard.

TWO separate patterns mailed to any address on receipt of 12c for each pattern in silver or stamps.

Send in that Subscription Today.

4843. Plaid gingham with facings of linene is here portrayed. This is also a good style for flannel, alpaca, crepe and linen. The sleeve may be in wrist length, or, in short length finished with a cuff.

This pattern is cut in 4 sizes: 8, 10, 12 and 14 years. A 10-year size requires 3¼ yards of 40-inch material. For collar facings and cuffs of contrasting material ½-yard is required.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in silver or stamps.

Send 12c in silver or stamps for our UP-TO-DATE FALL AND WINTER 1924-1925 BOOK OF FASHIONS.

Address: The Daily Worker, 1113 W. Washington Blvd., Chicago, Ill.

NOTICE TO PATTERN BUYERS—The patterns being sold thru the DAILY WORKER pattern department are furnished by a New York firm of pattern manufacturers. Orders are forwarded by the DAILY WORKER every day as received, and they are mailed by the manufacturer direct to the customer. The DAILY WORKER does not keep a stock of patterns on hand. Delivery of patterns ordinarily will take at least 10 days from the date of mailing the order. Do not become impatient if your pattern is not received by return mail.

JOBS SCARCE, WAGES LOW IN "BOB'S" BARONY

Wisconsin Not Utopia For Workers

MADISON, Wis., Aug. 11.—Employment in Wisconsin factories fell off 4 per cent between May and June and the total paid in wages dropped 8.6 per cent, according to the monthly report of the state industrial commission. This means a decrease of 4.8 per cent in average weekly pay which declined to $23.93. The number on payrolls is more than 10 per cent below last year while the amount disbursed in wages has fallen 13 per cent.

Industries sharply affected by the depression together with the per cent reduction in their working forces since a year ago are brick, tile and cement blocks, 11.5 per cent; pig iron and rolling mill products, 44.9; foundries and machine shops, 32.6; stoves, 11.5; machinery, 15.5; automobiles, 25.6; box factories, 29.7; furniture, 13; boots and shoes, 35; clothing, 14.1; canning and preserving, 47.7; flour mills, 24.9 per cent.

In the course of the month construction work picked up. Building work is empolying 7.3 per cent more men than a year ago, railroad construction 17 per cent more and marine dredging, sewer digging, etc., 20.7 per cent more. But the number in highway construction has fallen 27 per cent.

The number of applicants placed by public empolyment offices shows a falling off of 13.6 per cent compared with May and 31.4 per cent compared with June, 1923.

Your Union Meeting

SECOND TUESDAY, AUG. 12, 1924.

144 Amalgamated Clothing Workers, 1569 N. Robey St.
133 Boot and Shoe Workers, 1939 Milwaukee Ave.
21 Bricklayers, 912 W. Monroe St.
373 Brick and Clay Workers, Paving Inspectors, 166 W. Washington.
Carpenters' Council, 814 W. 175th Street.
58 Carpenters, Diversey and Sheffield.
141 Carpenters, 1023 E. 75th St.
272 Carpenters, Moose Hall, Chicago Ridge.
461 Carpenters, Witten's Hall, Highland Park.
1786 Carpenters, Springfield and 26th., Cicero.
Carpenters, 69 W. Van Buren Street.
15 Conductors (Sleeping Car), Capitol Bldg., 10 a. m.
381 Electricians, 906 S. State St.
1030 Electricians, 741 W. Western Ave.
302 Engineers (Loc.), 5058 Wentworth Ave.
402 Engineers, 180 W. Washington St.
625 Engineers (Loc.), 2433 W. Roosevelt Road.
826 Firemen (Loc.), 2647 W. 35th St.
8705 Egg Inspectors, 418 N. Clark St.
27 Federal Employes, 64 W. Randolph Street.
15441 Federal Union, 3046 W. 26th St.
715 Firemen and Enginemen, Ogden and Taylor.
20 Hatters (Trimmers), 166 W. Washington St.
5 Hod Carriers, 225 E. 15th St., Chicago Heights, Ill.
6 Hod Carriers, 814 W. Harrison St.
27 Hod Carriers, 62nd and La Vergne Ave.
715 Hod Carriers, 814 W. Harrison St.
81 Ladies' Garment Workers, 328 W. Van Buren.
12 Leather Workers, 777 W. Adams St.
17 Leather Workers, 777 W. Adams St.
84 Machinists, 2948 S. Homan Ave.
515 Machinists, 4126 W. Lake St.
1486 Machinists, 6234 Princeton Ave.
346 Meat Cutters, 175 W. Washington Street.
571 Meat Cutters, 9306 Houston Ave.
Miners, Fire at Gilera, 357 N. Clark.
10 Musicians, 175 W. Washington St., 2 p. m.
17358 Nurses, Funk's Hall, Oak Park.
147 Painters, 20 W. Randolph St.
180 Painters, N. E. cor. California and Madison.
184 Painters, 5414 S. Halsted St.
191 Painters, N. W. cor. State and 55th.
275 PAINTERS, 220 W. OAK ST.
521 Painters, Trumbull and Ogden Ave.
502 Plasterers, Monroe and Peoria Sts.
Plumbers, 1507 Ogden Ave.
230 Plumbers, 180 W. Washington St.
400 Plumbers, 4111 W. Madison St.
415 Railway Carmen, Odd Fellows' Hall, Blue Island, Ill., 7:30 p. m.
1170 Railway Carmen, 11037 Michigan Ave.
1257 Railway Carmen, 5324 S. Halsted St.
252 Railway Clerks, 549 W. Washington Street.
739 Railway Clerks, Moose Hall, Chicago Heights.
906 Railway Clerks, 5438 S. Halsted St.
2219 Railway Clerks, 509 W. Washington St.
375 Railroad Trainmen, 3359 W. Madison Street.
Teamsters' Dis. Council, 220 S. Ashland Blvd.
727 Teamsters (Auto), 220 S. Ashland Blvd.
67 Tile Layers, 180 W. Washington St.
7 Waiters, 234 W. Randolph St.

(Note—Unless otherwise stated all meetings are at 8 p. m.)

LENINGRAD, Aug. 11.—Professor Bekhterof, of the Academy of Science, the world-known Russian psychiatrist, has left for abroad on a scientific mission.

RICH NEGROES LIKE RICH WHITES

(Continued from page 1)

will sell his own people into Hell the same as anybody else."

After several others had spoken, Mr. Garvey again took the floor, saying he desired to make a statement. "In my remarks a while ago," he said, "I made certain remarks about the Negro preachers. Someone has asked me to qualify what I said and to specify that I mean some Negro preachers and not all Negro preachers. Now my views on that subject are very plain and well known; there are some Negro preachers who are liberal. Nevertheless, those who are liberal are very few. I will not conceal my thots and I say plainly that the Negro preachers need a new conversion. I really mean what I said. I repeat that the Negro preachers need to get educated. They are 90 or 99 per cent wrong, and they know it too.

"We have to speak as we feel, and I really mean that. Even Bishop McGuire, too."

However, later Garvey as chairman called a delegate to order for speaking of the Negro Improvement Association as being against the preachers. Garvey said to him, "This organization is not against the preachers; please don't misinterpret the spirit of this convention."

The president-general's denunciation of the capitalist system and the Negro bourgeoisie were brot about by the speeches of several delegates who felt that the solution of the problem of adjusting race differences was to address communications and appeals to upper-class Negroes.

Mrs. Lilly Jones of Mississippi earlier in the day spoke of trying to reach the Negro preachers and teachers of the South, "who are the leaders of their people," complaining of the conduct of the preachers and the refusal of different religious sects to co-operate with one another.

Delegate Hampden spoke of similar conditions affecting Negro lodges in the South, and Garvey added to that "the only way we can solve the problem of the South is to get in with the well-to-do class of Negroes," is that to have been one reason for Garvey's warning against the treachery of the Negro capitalist.

Complains Rich Negro Sells Out to White.

A delegate 76 years of age, born in Mississippi, told of having been threatened with murder on his travels in Arkansas, and complained of Negroes in favored positions who "sold out to the white people."

A peculiar conception of history which seems to be fundamental to this organization's plan for a grand migration to Africa as the only possible solution of the Negro's problem, was shown by a delegate from Ohio, who said:

"I know of no case in history where a slave class was liberated within the surroundings in which it was held in slavery."

This sentence epitomizes the dominant current of thought in the organization. Steeped in the preacher's lore then generations of life in the backward South, the average Negro is better versed in the biblical version of the Exodus from Egypt than he is in the history of the Russian revolution. The biblical story of the Jews' escape from slavery in Egypt "back to Palestine" is constantly recurring in the speeches, evidently furnishing the model for the escape "back to Africa."

Thus the Ohio delegate, truly observing that in American capitalist society the Negro has no rights which the white man is bound to respect, concludes that "this country is not his own," and that the Negro must take the Utopian solution of migration to Africa. Thus also he reaches the strange conclusion that he can afford to surrender all of his rights in America to the Ku Klux Klan.

Delegate after delegate spoke eloquently this afternoon of treatment they had suffered in the South, of lynchings of Negroes for crimes that appeared to have been committed by white men, of disfranchisement or coercion of voters and the abuse of Negro women in the South, and the southern habit of refusing any legal redress to Negroes who after accumulating property find their accumulations appropriated by white business men. One delegate who has lived all his life in the South told of having thot he could have a career as a business man; but after accumulating $10,000 worth of property everything he had was brazenly taken away from him by white business men on the flimsiest form of swindle. He rushed to the law for protection, but was coolly told that the courts couldn't do anything for him.

The Reverend Barber of Abyssinia advocated the Negroes' remaining in the South for a while, "instead of coming North where the real estate sharks are waiting for you," and investing their savings in Mr. Garvey's plan for a steamship line, until they could go to Africa. "Africa is the greatest cotton-growing country in the world," said Dr. Barber, who advocated the establishment there of "a black United States, or a black kingdom of Africa." He was sure that the black and the white races could not realize their hopes in the same country, "because two king bees don't belong in the same hive; and two kings cannot sit on the same throne." He said, "since we cannot get what we want in America, let us go to Africa." He expressed no raise cotton in Africa, which he thot could soon find a market in America, because "the boll weevil, the same thing that killed old Pharaoh's crops," and the army-worm, are in his opinion going to ruin the South as a cotton-growing country.

Two speakers attempted to disparage the property-less Negro who feels indisposed to take the employment offered him and thereby arouses the antagonism of the white community. This aroused an angry protest from the large assembly.

Immediately there followed Mr. Garvey's attack upon capitalism and the capitalistic Negro.

Delegate Johnston of Indianapolis followed Garvey's speech by declaring rather mildly that he thot the matter of adjusting the radical differences in the South "to the satisfaction of all concerned" should be handled "diplomatically and strategically, in the same careful way as the Ku Klux Klan matter was handled." Johnston asked, "Does the white man of the South persecute the Negro who has produced something? No, the Negro is persecuted to the extent that he is a nonproducer."

"I believe," continued the speaker, "that the southern white man is not hard to handle. I believe that in as much as he has blessed the Negro by compelling Negroes to get together, that is in segregating them, that he will do something more for the Negro now. I think it will be possible to appeal to him and to get assistance from him to get out of this country and get a country of our own.

"We can say to him, 'The Negro has served you long. He has nursed your children. He has made him what they are. The Negro has been a willing servant to you. Has not the time come when you will help him?, Will yon not let him go now, and lend him assistance to get a country of his own?'"

The latter remarks were coldly received by the audience, and were followed by Garvey's reaffirming his caustic remarks as earlier reported.

Another speaker pointed out the impossibility of settling the race problem "to the satisfaction of all concerned" when the Negro and the southern white exploiter were among those concerned. "As long as the Negro has a heart, as long as he has feeling, as long as he is a man," said this delegate, "he will not be satisfied with the solution which will satisfy the white exploiter. As long as the Negro is the tool of the white man, he is going to feel the oppression of the white man." He continued:

"And if you take all of the Negro workers out of the United States the white man is not going to be satisfied. You need not believe that manual labor is going to be displaced by machinery. Machines cannot do all the cotton picking and the work of the members of our race in the fields."

The speaker was of the opinion that much work would have to be done secretly in the South, because of the oppressive conditions.

Send in that Subscription Today.

GOMPERS WAKENS TO LEARN ABOUT WEST VA. MINERS

Sends Pretty Protest to Servile Governor

(Special to The DAILY WORKER)

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 11.—Coolie told that three years after the miners of West Virginia rose en masse and marched on Logan County in an attempt to cleanse that obnoxious spot of the gunmen and armed thugs who were preventing unionization of the field, Samuel Gompers and his executive council, meeting here, have passed a resolution calling upon Governor Morgan of West Virginia to take immediate steps to prevent "eviction of miners and their families from their humble homes by private gunmen employed by coal corporations."

Green's Got Gall.

The resolution, curiously enough, was sponsored by none other than William Green, secretary-treasurer of the United Mine Workers of America and an integral part of the Lewis machine, which has consistently sabotaged every effort of the West Virginia miners to establish the union secretly thruout the industry to that state. It is a notorious fact that Lewis blocked every attempt of the locked-out miners of West Virginia, who have now been living in shacks and hovels for years because of their brave fight for the union, to circulate the other locals of the International organization in an effort to collect some financial relief for their starvation conditions.

The latest stunt pulled by Lewis is his taking over of the entire district and putting it under the personal supervision of one of his henchmen, Percy Tetlow.

Gompers Will Slay Dragon.

Gompers' executive council adds insult to injury by offering the president of the United Mine Workers of America, John L. Lewis, the full support of the American Federation of Labor in protecting the West Virginia miners. Gompers as the protector of any group of workers is a new angle engaged in a struggle against the bosses in one of the bitter jokes in the American labor movement.

Ask Morgan to Fight Morgan.

It is also considered typical that the resolution is addressed to Governor Morgan who is infamous for his constant servility to the interests of the banking house in Wall Street which is headed by the finacier of the same name, J. P. Morgan, and which controls the mining properties in West Virginia.

HAVE YOU BEEN IN RUSSIA!

Why not go there while on your vacation?

Buy these books and save the price of a round trip ticket and other traveling expenses!

SPECIAL ROUND TRIP NO. 5
Through the Russian Revolution, by Albert Rhys Williams.....$3.00
First Time in History, by Anna Louise Strong.....2.00
Total.....$4.00
Special price till Sept. 1, 1924....$3.00

SPECIAL ROUND TRIP NO. 6
The Russian Revolution, by W. Z. Foster, cloth.....$1.00
Industrial Revival in Soviet Russia, by A. A. Heller.....1.50
Russian Trade Unions in 1923.....10
Marriage Laws in Soviet Russia.....25
Labor Laws of Soviet Russia.....25
The Soviet Constitution.....05
Is the Russian Revolution a Bourgeois Revolution, by Radek.....10
Total.....$3.25
Special till Sept. 1, 1924.....$1.50
Both round trips to any one address.....$4.00

Order by the numbers, from
LITERATURE DEPARTMENT,
WORKERS PARTY OF AMERICA
1113 Washington Blvd., Chicago, Ill.

UNCLE WIGGILY'S TRICKS

A LAUGH FOR THE CHILDREN

THE DAILY WORKER

Published by the DAILY WORKER PUBLISHING CO.
1113 W. Washington Blvd., Chicago, Ill.
(Phone: Monroe 4712)

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

By mail:
$6.00 per year	$3.50—6 months	$2.00—3 months
By mail (in Chicago only):
$8.00 per year	$4.50—6 months	$2.50—3 months

Address all mail and make out checks to
THE DAILY WORKER
1113 W. Washington Blvd. Chicago, Illinois

J. LOUIS ENGDAHL, WILLIAM F. DUNNE } Editors
MORITZ J. LOEB Business Manager

Entered as second-class mail Sept. 21, 1923 at the Post-Office at Chicago, Ill., under the act of March 3, 1879.

280 Advertising rates on application.

Morgan Gains a Point

When Premier Herriot of France succeeded in obtaining the approval for the French interpretation of the Dawes plan, and returned to London to continue negotiations, it meant that J. P. Morgan had scored another point in his drive for world hegemony. One after another, the centers of resistance to the Morgan plan have been converted into centers of co-operation, at least insofar as public pronouncements are concerned. Morgan is marching ahead triumphantly. The argument of the American dollar carries great weight.

It is no surprise that Morgan has been able to count from the first upon the British Labor Party, the French Bloc des Gauches, and the German Social Democracy, as his very ablest assistants. That MacDonald would become his chief lieutenant was in the order of things politically. That the French socialists should join hands with Ebert and Scheidemann in approving the Dawes method of enslaving the German workers was quite the expected thing. It was only the logical continuation of their spineless servility before power, real power in the hands of capitalist money lords, and their eagerness to lick the boots of the ruler of the money world.

More unexpected was the yielding of the jealous nationalism of the French, and the abandonment of resistance by the German nationalists. This is to be accounted for from two main angles—fear of their own proletariat, and promises from Morgan. In both France and Germany the Communists have been making phenomenal gains. The capitalist and social-patriotic parties are sick with fear of the awakening working class. Another great struggle at this moment would hasten the revolutionization of the workers. Therefore they have a distinct reason to find a compromise if one is humanly possible.

The Dawes plan, furthermore, cleverly insures the co-operation of the German capitalist class by promising to load the reparation burdens upon the workers. It gives them a free hand to lengthen hours, de-nationalize industry, and plunder the German nation. The German nationalists sell out their nation in return for a junior partnership in the firm of Morgan.

But all the while that Morgan presses his advantages, and consolidates his position, he is unconsciously accentuating the inherent contradictions of the capitalist system. He is heaping more combustibles upon the European wreckage in preparation for the great conflagration that approaches swiftly and surely. The Dawes plan averts a struggle at this moment by making a greater and more disastrous one even more certain in the near future. Nothing can prevent the destruction of Europe today except a proletarian revolution.

International Unity

Unity of the trade union movement of the world is a burning issue today. Four years ago the leaders of the reformist and reactionary unions, supporting one another in treachery in their association called the Amsterdam International, were cynically dividing the labor movement of the world and delivering it to the employers and imperialists. But the Red International of Labor Unions was launched, in 1921, with a program of revolutionary class struggle and the united front.

United struggle against capitalism, the slogan of the Red International since its inception, has taken a great hold upon the masses of workers everywhere. It was the Red International which pushed thru the Frankfort conference for fighting against the Ruhr invasion, while all the reformist officials kept silent. It was the Red International behind the united front with the Transport Workers International for struggle against war and fascism that inspired the world's workers until it was sabotaged by the Amsterdam International. And finally, it was this slogan of the united front that brought about the formation of a left wing at the recent Vienna Congress of the Amsterdamers, and forced them to make a gesture toward international unity by entering into negotiations with the Russian trade unions.

The Russian trade unions placed the situation before the Red International Congress, just closed in Moscow, and that body decided to again take the initiative in striving for international unity of the trade unions of the world. The resolution adopted calls for a world congress of ALL UNIONS, delegated on the basis of proportional representation, which should re-establish a living unity in the labor movement disrupted by the treachery of the old leadership and unite the unions for world-wide struggle against capitalism. Again a clear lead has been given to the working class by the Red International.

That Industrial Registration

Perhaps there are still a few members of the Workers Party who do not understand the importance of the industrial registration now being taken. If so, they should read the article in yesterday's paper by J. W. Johnstone, which rightly characterizes the registration as "a step towards a real Communist Party." It is just that, and must receive the careful attention and execution that such a step demands.

A Communist Party is something more than a mere electioneering machinery, and it is also something more than a propaganda agency. It is the supreme organ of the class struggle. It is fighting for the elimination of capitalistic ideas from the minds of the workers, it is fighting for the establishment of a proletarian method of thinking and working class ideas of how to act. It is struggling with the capitalist system for possession of the minds of the working class. It is trying to establish working class ideas as the leading force in every struggle of the workers. This requires that the party shall mobilize its forces where the struggles of the workers are going on. This is primarily in the shops and factories.

But the party strength cannot be organized in the shops and factories, and in the unions, unless there is a complete registration of the members upon that basis. The party must know where each member works, what union he belongs to, and how best he can be utilized in the larger scheme of things. That is what the industrial registration is for. It is, indeed, a "first step towards a real Communist Party." Let every branch member and officer make it his business that this registration is carried out promptly and efficiently.

Getting One's Money's Worth

"I want to get my money's worth," a working man was heard to say as he bought a capitalist daily paper. "The DAILY WORKER only gives 6 pages for 3 cents, while the World's Greatest Bunkshooter gives 30 pages for 2 cents."

Of course, one wants his money's worth. Pennies are scarce and must buy as much as possible. But this poor worker was a little off his nut when he thought he was getting it. What he was buying was 30 pages of capitalist propaganda and advertising, while what he wanted was reliable information. The more pages he got the worse he was cheated.

On the other hand, comparing news items for news item, he would have found more news in the working class paper, in 6 pages, than in the 30 pages of intellectual poison which he bought. Without considering the quality of the information given, which is of the most vital interest to an awakened worker, he would actually get more news from the poverty-stricken workers' paper.

When a man has 50 cents to buy a dinner, he doesn't invest it in fertilizer just because he can purchase 100 pounds of manure for the price of a plate of ham and eggs. But when he buys a capitalist paper instead of The DAILY WORKER, because "he wants to get his money's worth," he is doing that very thing. The DAILY WORKER is intellectual food for the working class, while the capitalist dailies are intellectual dung, prepared to poison the workers and make them better slaves.

Killing the Steel Workers

The story of the killing of several workers by an explosion in the steel mills of Gary, carried in the DAILY WORKER yesterday and ignored by all the capitalist papers, reveals a terrible condition in this domain of the Steel King. Workers' lives are considered of such little consequence that knowledge of deaths is suppressed, no records are kept, even the coroner makes no pretence of knowing how many men are killed, while his secretary remarks that, of course, many bodies are never even recovered.

Enter offices of the Steel Trust, however, and you will find that even the pencils used by the clerks are carefully recorded, and signed requisition is required to get a new one. But the life of workers is cheap. They are of less account than pencils, which cost a few cents to be replaced, while workers replace themselves free of charge.

All of which is carefully kept secret from the working class generally by the capitalist press and the tools of the Steel Trust that occupy the governmental positions. Only because the workers now have a daily paper of their own do those outside the steel mills begin to get an inkling into the terrible conditions under which the steel workers must labor.

The fellow who is constantly asking you for information about the labor movement may not be a subscriber to the DAILY WORKER. The next time he asks you what is doing hit him for a sub. If he is a prospect you will get a subscription. If he is only a suspect, he will stop asking you questions for his amusement.

The Workers Party propaganda is given credit for the rebellious condition among the exploited Filipinos, by the government officials. Of course, the honor is appreciated, tho candor must compel us to share the laurels with the American imperialists who have produced the causes of discontent.

If the enemy appreciates the power of the Communist press it looks like a good reason for our members to get behind the DAILY WORKER and make the subscription drive produce so many new readers that the enemy will have better reason to worry.

A new member for the Workers Party and a new subscriber to The DAILY WORKER.

Clothing Workers at Crossroads

By J. W. JOHNSTONE.
Assistant Secretary, Trade Union Educational League.

THE AMALGAMATED CLOTHING WORKERS' UNION is being put to the test. It is passing thru its most critical period. Its actions in the coming months will determine, to a large degree, whether or not it is going to mature into a real fighting expression of the workers or sink into the camp of the class collaborators. That they are playing on the border of the class struggle and class collaboration is self evident, and the next convention will undoubtedly force the officialdom to abandon their policy of the last few years which has heavy leaning to the right, and either travel the road of the class struggle or sink into the mire of class collaboration.

The A. C. W. U. is a young organization, a "war baby." Like all new organizations, it gained its strength from its fighting ability to look after the interests and better the conditions of the workers it represented. It expressed its youth in the bold, determined manner in which it met the problems confronting it. It established itself firmly in the industry. Because the United Garment Workers considered the life of a labor organization depended upon the good-will and co-operation of the employers.

Of late the A. C. W. U. administration has shown signs of weakness, of hesitation, of shirking the fight, when determination and a clear policy was needed. In New York City they submitted peacefully to wage cuts and the reduction of workers in certain factories. The employers, their appetites whetted, systematically took away, without a struggle, some of the conditions gained by the union in former battles.

The yielding to wage cuts without a determined fight is always the forerunner of another wage reduction. This is the experience of labor organizations without exception. The greediness of the employer forces him to reason that if the workers accept a cut without a determined protest they must be well fixed and can afford to stand another reduction. This vicious circle continuing until the workers are actually forced to strike.

The New York strike was an outcome of this vicious circle in which the A. C. W. U. found itself. The leaders awoke to the danger of the situation and, to a certain extent, rose to the occasion much quicker than the average run of labor leaders would. The mistake was a mistake of the administration, and the realization of the danger was primarily due to the alertness of the Needle Trades Section of the T. U. E. L. which continued to point out that the power of the Amalgamated was being destroyed in the New York market.

The strike was a purely defensive one. The extent of the victory gained depended entirely upon the policies pursued by the union in the future. The settlement of the strike, altho it did not gain back what had been lost, re-established the confidence of the membership in the union, which had been badly demoralized thru the peaceful acceptance of the cuts, stopped the cuts, united the militants, and laid the basis of a return to power of the Amalgamated in the New York market. It can only be considered a real victory providing the administration follows it to its logical conclusion.

However, New York does not determine the standards for men's clothing. Chicago is just as important as New York; and Philadelphia, Rochester, Buffalo and Baltimore all play an equally important part in the market and are going thru the same process as New York.

Philadelphia realizes the danger of the situation,—the systematic undermining of the strength of the union by the employers having the conditions intolerable. In the best attended membership meeting ever held in Philadelphia, the membership unanimously adopted a resolution demanding the settlement of grievances, the correction of unsatisfactory working conditions, the immediate stoppage of wage cuts, that work be sent to union shops only, the establishment of a board of sanitary control, minimum wage scales, regulation of production, and a system of unemployed insurance. Upon the basis of this resolution they have voted full power to their officers to call a strike if necessary to enforce these demands.

In Chicago, however, the Amalgamated officialdom is allowing the union to travel the vicious circle of wage reductions without a struggle. The situation is extremely dangerous, not merely because of the wage cut which is taking place piecemeal under the guise of readjustment, but because of the manner in which the membership was fooled into accepting the readjustment plan. (This was explained in a statement issued by the Needle Trades Section of the T. U. E. L. in the DAILY WORKER of August 5th.)

"No wage reduction" should be the slogan of every union, and it should always be fought. No union worthy of the name will submit to a wage reduction without a struggle. Many times in spite of heroic protests the workers are forced to accept a cut in wages. To accept without protest, if continued, means the death of any union. It is slow suicide and should be categorically condemned.

But, to accept a wage cut and then fool the membership into accepting the agreement on the basis that it is merely a "readjustment" is the worst type of class collaboration. It can only result in demoralizing the rank and file and creating a distrust in the leaders. What effect is this having upon the Chicago members of the A. C. W. U.?

According to the statement of the Secretary of the Needle Trades Section of the T. U. E. L., some 5,000 have already received a direct cut. Since this statement was issued, other employers have applied for a readjustment, which means that those who have not been directly cut are expecting, with a certainty that they are next. Dissatisfaction is rampant, the morale is lowered, and the strength of the union materially weakened.

The officials have not as yet awakened to the danger of the situation which is being so forcibly pointed out by the militants in the Trade Union Educational League. The membership feels the danger, the militants see it very clearly, but at this writing the administration is still blindly following the path of class collaboration, the vicious circle that leads to disaster.

The Amalgamated Clothing Workers Union is at the turning of the road. The membership is militant. There is a real substantial left-wing revolutionary minority. The organization has played a leading part in the progressive movement and can become a valuable asset to the revolutionary struggle. The leaders find themselves in the poisonous atmosphere of LaFolletteism, rubbing shoulders with the most ruthless exploiters of labor, such as Sprecher, the sugar king, and leader in the "open shop" movement in the west, with bankers, business men, and rich farmers; with those who openly advocate class collaboration, such as Gompers, Johnston, Berry, and others.

Is this to be a permanent alignment? Or, are Hillman and his colleagues big enough to see their mistake (is it a mistake, or is it a move made after considering all angles?) and get on to the correct, hard, and unpopular road of the class struggle? Only time and a thoroly awakened membership can tell. Now more than ever is there need of a real revolutionary left-wing. History is in the making. What shall it be? The revolutionary class struggle or reactionary class collaboration?

R. I. L. U. ELECTS EXECUTIVE AT ITS CLOSING SESSIONS

Epoch-Making Congres Comes to Close

(Special to The Daily Worker)

MOSCOW, July 24 (By mail).—Wm. F. Dunne, editor of the DAILY WORKER, and Wm. Z. Foster, chairman of the Workers Party of America and its presidential candidate, were unanimously elected the representatives of the United States on the full bureau of the Red International of Labor Unions in its closing session here. Earl Browder, editor of the Labor Herald, and Charles Johnson, were chosen as alternates.

The rest of the bureau is as follows: from the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics, Dogadow, Kalnin, Lepse, Lesovsky, Melnitschansky; Germany, Heckert and Geschke; from France, Monmousseau and Jacob; from England, Tom Mann and Allison; Checko-Slovakia, Josef Heiss and Selpka; Canada, Timothy Buck; the Latin American republics, Penelon; Poland, Resene; Spain, Andres Nin; Italy, Germanetto; the Balkan countries, Lasitsch and Dimitrow; the Scandinavian countries; Lumivuoko; Java, Semaoen; and Japan is represented by Tany.

Arnold Losovsky, general secretary of the Profintern since its inception, was unanimously re-elected.

In his closing speech, Losovsky declared that the congress had not only drawn the balance sheet but had also indicated the line of tactics to be followed. The Profintern again leads the drive for unity of the international trade union movement. In the question of the trades unions it conforms with the Comintern. Before the congress the question was mooted as to whether the old policies would continue to be followed or a new way hammered out. The congress unmistakably declared itself for the old road towards unity. What is new, is that the question of unity is now not only national but also international. The Russian trade unions have yesterday received a letter from the Amsterdam International, which contained the invitation for pourparlers decided upon in the resolutions of the Vienna congress. The Russian trades unions will reply to this in the spirit of the resolution of the Profintern. The Russian trades unions are a part of the Profintern and will always maintain its policies. We must mobilize the masses for unity, or else the decisions of the congress are illusory.

It is a distinct gain to the congress that it considered and settled the question of strike strategy. The Vienna congress of the Amsterdammers did not have before it any questions of the struggle for that would be contrary to the ways of reformism. We have taken the initiative and we shall win the masses. Revolutionary development moves forward. The existence of the Soviet Russia and the Communist International, and the awakening of the Orient are revolutionary factors. Our task is to weigh correctly our forces and strength and to defeat reformism and capitalism.

With the singing of the "Internationale" the session closed.

PARTY ACTIVITIES IN CHICAGO

TWENTY-THREE new members were admitted into the Party at its last City Central meeting, August 5th, eight joining Italian branches, seven English, two Jewish branch, two Ukrainian, two Greek, and one each Lithuanian and Scandinavian. Unionists joining were from Typographical union, Amalgamated Food Workers, Painters, Carpenters, Post-office employees, Leather workers, and machinists.

ANTI-MILITARIST WEEK.

Over 60,000 Anti-Militarists leaflets were distributed in Chicago during the week of July 27—August 4th. Street meetings in all parts of the city were held on Anti-Militarism. In addition to the anti-militarist mass meeting held in Wicker Park Hall, the Lettish, Lithuanian, Roumanian, Greek, German and Finnish sections of the Workers Party here held special anti-military affairs in their particular languages.

PARTY CLASSES.

Comrade Arne Swabeck's Trade Union Class has been postponed for one month. The speakers class under the direction of J. P. Cannon is going very well and excellent results are expected. A special local research bulletin is being issued weekly by the Educational Department. This Research Bulletin is of excellent use to street speakers and also for lectures in the various branches. A class in English will be started shortly.

Comrade Thelma Kahn from the Junior Section of the Y. W. L. addressed the City Central Committee on the Junior section work, a collection of $7.00 and a donation of $10.00 in addition to the $25.00 previously made, was made by the city organization to help the Junior C. C. C. carry on its work among the working class children of Chicago.

INDUSTRIAL ACTIVITY.

Meetings of the various Amalgamated Clothing workers T. U. E. L. groups are now very well attended. Several big issues such as the readjustment in industry and the endorsement of La Follette or Workers Party candidates are being taken up in the locals and our comrades are on the job.

Comrades in the I. L. G. W. U. are preparing ground for revival of activities. The coming wage agreement for Chicago and the question of disfranchisement of militants in the union are the fighting issues.

The Metal Trades Group of the T. U. E. L. is holding regularly monthly meetings. They have drawn up practical plans for work in the various trades and are now starting a drive to secure subscriptions for THE METAL TRADES BULLETIN.

The Building Trades Group of the T. U. E. L. is slow in picking up, only about a dozen comrades participate in the work of the group and not many of our comrades give support to the left wing Bulletin.

The latter is uncalled for since the Building Trades comrades are receiving relatively high wages.

The activities of the militants in the Printing Trades situation is being discussed by the T. U. E. L. Comrade Foster has gone to New York to take up the situation there, upon his return to Chicago a more detailed report will be given.

The Workers Party, T. U. E. L. and Young Workers League have been especially active in the Hegewisch strike in getting our organisation on the job on the problem of organizing the unorganized. Thru our efforts the Carmen's Union became interested in the strike. Attempt is now being made to spread the strike thruout the Calumet Region. We have sent many active Party comrades to the strike area at various times to aid as much as possible in the strike and it has helped in maintaining the solidarity of the strikers. We have had THE DAILY WORKER regularly on the job and the Party's and League's prestige is being increased thereby among the strikers.

A Young Workers League branch has already been reorganized from among the strikers of young American heater boys. The South Slav branch of Hegewisch has been doing its share and undoubtedly it will gain members thru this. The Polish comrades have also been on the job. It has been one of the best means of stimulating activity among them.

This is the kind of activity that the Workers Party must engage in for it is the strongest builder of our Party. The Party is putting full energies into it.

ELECTION CAMPAIGNS.

All particulars about the Elections Campaign into which the Local Party is putting most of its energies at the present time were printed elsewhere in THE DAILY WORKER.

The Party is doing good work in Chicago in the various fields but there has not been sufficient done by any means in regard to THE DAILY WORKER.

Failure to put over THE DAILY WORKER and membership campaign strongly hinders our work in every respect. Our Party work is progressing well but there can be no doubt that if the branches will make far greater efforts to put THE DAILY WORKER over that their work politically, industrially, etc., will be increased manifold.

We are out to see that every member of the Party gets a subscriber to THE DAILY WORKER and gets a new member into the Party. FORWARD TO THE COMMUNIST CAMPAIGN! ON TO ACTION.

Next City Central Meeting, Tuesday, Aug. 19, 1924, 8 P. M. at Workers Lyceum, 2733 Hirsch Blvd.

MARTIN ABERN, Sec'y.

BRANCH MEETINGS.

Tuesday, August 12.

Irving Park English—4021 Drake Ave.
Northwest English—3009 Hirsch Blvd.
Polish, Roseland—205 E. 115th St.
Ukrainian No. 1—1525 W. Chicago Ave.

Wednesday, August 13.

Roumanian—3009 Bourbon Ave.

Thursday, August 14.

Lithuanian No. 2—1900 S. Union Ave.
Ch.-Slov. English—3009 Hirsch Blvd.
Park, Roosevelt and Union Ave.
11th Ward Italian—3439 S. Calumet Blvd.
Scandinavian, Lake View—3256 N. Halsted St.
Scandinavian, West Side—Zeich's Hall, 1822 N. Western Ave.
Scandinavian Karl Marx—2733 Hirsch Blvd.

Friday, August 15.

Scandinavian, So. Chicago—641 East 95th St.
Speakers' Class—1902 W. Division St.
Lettish Branch—3009 Hirsch Blvd.
Czecho-Slovak, Hanson Pk.—Bohemian Fraternal School Rovnost, Mansfield Ave. near Grand.

Veteran Minus Leg Plus Needle Habit: Uncle Sam Drops Him

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 10.—Seven years ago, when the United States called for men to make the world safe for democracy, James Buero responded. He was a hale and husky youth. A shell took his left leg off at Belleau Wood, and in the months in hospitals afterwards he was given morphine to relieve the pain until at his discharge he was a fully developed dope addict. No attempt was made to cure him.

Now Buero, with his crutches, is in the San Francisco jail for 90 days, going thru that dreadful ordeal known as the kick-out cure for the dope habit. This means simply suffering the tortures of hell without drugs, and then being thrown out "cured," with $65 a month from the government and one leg. Buero is a typical example of what happened to hundreds of boys who went to the war to end war—and for whom there is no place except a county jail or an open gas jet in a lodging house.

Order Your Bundle of First Campaign Issue

MAKE Monday, Sept. 1, a real "Labor Day" for the American Communist movement, by distributing a bundle of the First 1924 Campaign Issue of the DAILY WORKER. It should be a labor of joy to help awaken a few more workers thru getting them to read this special issue of their fighting paper. Here is the order blank. Rush in your order today.

FOR THE COMMUNIST CAMPAIGN
DAILY WORKER,
1113 W. Washington Blvd.,
Chicago, Ill.

For the enclosed $..... send me ..... copies of the First Special Communist Campaign edition of the DAILY WORKER, to be dated Saturday, Aug. 30, at the special rate of 3½ cents per copy, or $3.50 per hundred. I want to help raise the standards of Communism in this campaign for the Workers Party ticket—Foster and Gitlow.

NAME .....
ADDRESS .....
CITY ..... STATE .....

YALE UNIVERSITY
NOV 22 1924
LIBRARY

THE DAILY WORKER RAISES THE STANDARD FOR A WORKERS AND FARMERS' GOVERNMENT

THE DAILY WORKER

Entered as Second-class matter September 21, 1923, at the Post Office at Chicago, Illinois under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Vol. II. No. 125. SUBSCRIPTION RATES: In Chicago, by mail, $8.00 per year. Outside Chicago, by mail, $6.00 per year. WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 13, 1924 290 Published Daily except Sunday by THE DAILY WORKER PUBLISHING CO., 1113 W. Washington Blvd., Chicago, Ill. Price 3 Cents

Communist Candidates For President: WILLIAM Z. FOSTER. For Vice-President: BENJAMIN GITLOW.

DEPORT REEVE FROM STRIKE ZONE

AS WE SEE IT

By T. J. O'FLAHERTY

THE signing of a treaty by a British government without the king's signature has established a new precedent in the diplomatic usage of that country. The departure from tradition was made when the two treaties between the Soviet government and the British government were signed by Ramsay MacDonald for Great Britain and Northern Ireland and by Rakovsky for the U. S. S. R. The incident has caused considerable comment in London circles. Some claim that it means the king is shorn of another excuse for drawing his pay, while others give as a reason the fact that Russia is not governed by one person; therefore, His Majesty saw no reason why he should set up his signature against a whole country. It is a change, however, and a big one. Had Ramsay MacDonald taken such liberties with Richard the III, for instance, by now the population of London, would be admiring his noble head, decorating the point of a pike and say, "What a glorious mustache he must have had when he was alive!"

• • •

THE success of the Anglo-Russian conference is expected to have important political developments. Lloyd George was hoping against hope that the negotiations would end in a fizzle, thus giving him an opportunity to bring his eloquence to bear adversely on the political fortunes of the Labor Party leaders. Now that the treaty is signed, George is as mad as a hatter and denounces the treaty as a fake. Judging from articles appearing in the London Daily Herald prior to the signing of the treaty, the pressure that compelled MacDonald to defy the bankers, came from the Trade Union Congress. The following excerpt from an editorial in the Herald is significant:

• • •

THE British people have a great opportunity before them, an opportunity to bring the Russians back into the family of nations, to heal old sores and to start on a new path of friendship. Can a Labor Government disregard this opportunity? Can it, for the sake of an excessive financial purism, throw away such a chance of helping forward world reconstruction, of furthering Britain's interests and of securing party triumph? If it did so, its responsibility would be heavy indeed." The Herald is financed by the Trade Union Congress which is considerably to the left of the Parliamentary Labor Party leadership since the latter withdrew from their positions in the Trade Union bodies on taking office. Here in the U. S. the fossilized trade union leaders are the worst enemies of Soviet Russia.

• • •

THE Emir of Kurdestan is charged by the Department of Labor with being a former Chicago book agent, with having no Royal connections and with being an imposter. His wife, the princess Zeredeschano, still has faith in him. Her efforts in his behalf over the charge that he worked for a living even as a book agent and threatens to consider further insults of a similar nature an unfriendly act. "I am just as good as the Prince of Wales," said the Emir on his release from prison. "I spend more time in my sober senses than my British cousin and I can ride a hobby horse without danger of breaking my neck. Yet the prince is invited to lunch with Coolidge while I pine in a bare cell." As we already said, the Emir made the mistake of working for a living.

• • •

FOR undiluted piffle the speech of John W. Davis before the national committee of the Democratic party meeting in Clarksburg, W. Va., knocks the nomination speech of Cal-

(Continued on page 6)

RUSSIA BEARING OWN BURDENS IN VOLGA DROUGHT

Organization Meets the Great Food Crisis

By ANISE.

(Special to the Daily Worker.)

MOSCOW, July 18 (By Mail.)—There is serious drought in Russia. There is no use in blinking the fact. The latest figures admit that the general harvest will be noticeably below last year's very average harvest, in spite of the fact that very much more land was planted.

The dry winds of the south, coming up from the Caucasus have again caused a total crop failure in six provinces and part of four more along the lower Volga and the northern Caucasian regions.

I have just returned from a trip down thru Saratov. The wheat, which should now be almost ready for harvest, is shrivelled at six inches high. The head of the government Grain Trust of this region told me that in the German Volga Republic, of 600,000 households only 40,000 could feed themselves. Somewhere about 250,000 would have to be fed free of charge, and the rest would be fed by government loans thru the German Republic's own co-operative bank, secured by chattel mortgages on cattle.

Drought Like 1921.

He reported that thru all this southern region, the drought was as bad as 1921, the year of the great famine. However, the sown area was very much larger, and even this poor six inch grain is good for making a kind of bread, half grain, half straw. But, on the dark side of the ledger, the population is poorer to start with, as they sold all they had in the last famine, and are only now struggling to their feet. So, for the districts affected, all the officials I met said conditions were worse than in the year of the great hunger, and that means for many millions of people.

But there will be, everyone says, no appeal for foreign help. For Russia herself, thruout the length and breadth of her land, is in infinitely better condition. The drought, bad as it is, has not affected her entire crop, but only one large and important region. Her transport is no longer a wreck, but a well organized system. Her taxes are coming in with regularity.

Russia Handling the Relief.

So she is bending to the task of handling the job herself. And she will do it. On the train with me back to Moscow came the head of the State Grain Trust for that district, on his way to a conference of all other district heads called in Moscow. He will have charge of large grain distributions. The Central Co-operatives and the Farmers Co-operatives are also stripped for action.

Seed in vast quantities is already on its way to the stricken regions. Local organizations from village upcoms up to provincial ispolcoms have already the lists of the persons to whom grain is to go. Food will follow next as the winter advances. Whatever possible, it will not be a free gift, but a loan, thru government banks and co-operatives, secured by

(Continued on page 5.)

U. S. PLANS TO SEND TROOPS TO HONDURAS FOR AMERICAN CAPITAL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.— It is being intimated in high government circles here that the United States is definitely considering armed intervention in Honduras. It is proposed that American armed forces be sent out again, ostensibly to preserve the lives of "Americans and foreigners," but actually to safeguard American export property and put Honduras under the same complete American capitalist control as Haiti or Santo Domingo.

The country is being torn by a struggle between three revolutionary leaders, none of whom is recognized by the State Department. American imperialism will pick a safe puppet to look after its financial interests as soon as it has drowned a batch of natives in their own blood.

FRAME-UP IS CHARGED BY MARK GARVEY

Accuses Republicans of Trying Come Back

By ROBERT MINOR.

(Staff Writer, Daily Worker.)

NEW YORK, August 12.—Here in the Black City inside of the jim-crow city of New York, is a festival. Flags galore are flying on cords that stretch across the great wide Seventh avenue, and across 136th street and for many blocks down Lenox avenue, over the heads of crowds that are cheering from the sidewalk or surging in great currents and eddies after the imposing white-uniformed brass bands.

A wagon, bearing a huge sign "Picnic at . . . . Grove . . . Come All; No Color Line," gets in the way of the black procession, and the strong current swerves and almost crushes the onlooker.

"Welcome, U. N. I. A.!" say the signs in the windows of restaurants, soda fountains—that is, those here in the inner Black City where Negroes can enter restaurants and soda parlors.

"Garvey Again Indicted!" shrieks the three-inch type of the headline of the Amsterdam News, a Negro weekly newspaper. Every black inhabitant is talking Garvey, Garvey, Garvey.

The Universal Negro Improvement Association, of which Marcus Garvey is founder and president, is in full blast with its "fourth annual international convention of the Negro peoples of the world."

"Pooh! Nothing but that faker, Garvey," exclaim most of the intel-

(Continued on page 3.)

Wisconsin Messiah Should Raise Yelp About Rail Merger

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 12.—The report that plans are being made for the largest railroad merger in history thru the absorption of four other systems by the Nickel Plate railroad was verified here today by Frank H. Alfred, president of the Pere Marquette, which is included in the proposed combine.

"The announcement as reported is true," commented President Alfred. "The matter has been referred to practically all of the 15 Pere Marquette directors, and it is my understanding they all are favorable to the plan of consolidating from both physical and financial standpoints."

Florida Floggings.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Aug. 12.—Mayor Alsop has aroused the police force to a campaign against the marauding bands and kidnappers who have been terrorizing the community. More than six men were flogged within a week.

LAFOLLETTE'S RECORD SHOWS HE'S FOR BIG BIZ

Makes Pledge to Stand by That Record

By JAY LOVESTONE.

(Second Article.)

"LaFollette talks ten times as radical as he actually votes. How many truly radical measures has he ever introduced or even supported on the floor of the Senate? In fact, LaFollette's radicalism has been evident more in opposition than in support. . . . Unless you class the Railroad Valuation Act—one of the best legislative things that has ever happened to the railroads—or the Seaman's Act as radical, his name is identified nationally with scarcely a single law that truly goes to extreme.

"And most of the legislation he promoted in Wisconsin is no longer classed as radical."

LaFollette a Safety Valve.

This is the way LaFollette was sized up several months ago to Aaron Hardy Ulm, the correspondent of the reactionary Barron's Financial Weekly, by one who has been working intimately with the Wisconsin Senator in many of his advocacies.

The above estimate of LaFollette is, in the main, accepted not only by the rankest conservatives but also by some of "Battling Bob's" supporters. We are told by the well-known Richard Barry in Hearst's International of August, 1922, that the reactionary Senator stood at New Hampshire, now high in the councils of Coolidge, said to him of LaFollette:

"I disagree with his later policies, but I am frank to say it would be a grave error for Wisconsin herself to defeat LaFollette. . . ."

Barry then goes on to say that a New York supporter, after hearing

(Continued on page 3)

Oklahoma Kluxers are Licked by Walton in Stiff Primary Contest

(Special to the DAILY WORKER)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Aug. 12.—Any contest of the apparent nomination of J. C. Walton on the Democratic ticket for United States senator will be met with a demand for a state-wide investigation of alleged frauds in the August 5th primary, F. E. Riddle, chief counsel for the ex-governor, announced today.

Riddle's statement is in reply to Congressman E. B. Howard, runner-up in the senatorial race, who announced yesterday he would file a contest of Walton's nomination, alleging irregularities in 15 counties. Howard said if defeated in the State Supremer Court he would carry the fight to the U. S. Senate Committee on privileges and elections if Walton is successful in November.

Today Walton's lead is around seven thousand and he claims to have been defrauded out of close to forty thousand votes.

Bank for Peasants.

MOSCOW, Aug. 12.—The Bank of Agriculture, which has been established with a view to supplying the peasants with cheap and broad credit for the restoration of national agriculture, has started operations in Moscow.

LABOR DEPARTMENT IN EFFORT TO HALT BIG PETERSON SILK STRIKE

(Special to the Daily Worker.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.— The Department of Labor today ordered Commissioner of Conciliation John A. Moffett to attempt to prevent the threatened strike of silk workers in Patterson, N. J., scheduled to start tomorrow. About 15,000 workers are involved.

Send in that Subscription Today.

U. S. WILL NOT CHANGE POLICY TOWARD SOVIET GOVERNMENT IN SPITE OF ANGLO-RUSS TREATY

(Special to The Daily Worker)

WASHINGTON, August 12.—Despite the recent recognition of the Russian Soviet government by Great Britain and other world powers, the policy of the United States toward Russia has undergone no change and there is no present indications of negotiations looking to the resumption of diplomatic relations between Washington and Moscow, it was announced at the state department today.

At the same time, however, it was stated that President Coolidge is desirous of establishing closer political bonds with Russia and is hopeful that the time is near at hand when negotiations may be possible.

"Loan" Business Rehashed.

The chief stumbling block is said to be the refusal of Russia to recognize her international obligations, which include, according to the wineacres of the State Department, the $233,000,000 debt of the Russian Kerensky republic, which was squandered by its "ambassador," Boris Bahkmetieff.

There is also the hitch in the way of establishing political relations "so long as the Soviet maintains its active spirit of enmity to our institutions."

This is the Russian policy formulated by Hughes under the Harding regime and continued under Coolidge.

Leave Loophole for Action.

A loophole for backing down is being left by the U. S. in the statement that it has been watching developments and considers that they are "encouraging" altho they still need considerable improvement.

The negotiation of the Anglo-Russian treaty has whet the appetites of the American capitalists and there is a good possibility that they will soon cause their Washington states-men to act in accord with their wishes.

ILLINOIS COAL DIGGERS HEAD FOR LAFOLLETTE

Already Committed to Small for Governor

SPRINGFIELD, Aug. 12.—Immediately after the decision of the Illinois La Follette campaign committee to support governor Len Small in the state elections, Frank Farrington, president of the Illionis Miners' Union who had already made a deal to support the governor willy nilly, announced that he would support La Follette for president and do his level best to convince the miners to give the Wisconsin senator their votes.

Farrington took a slam at the socialists, practically excusing himself for being found in the same political corral with them. This seems to be the favorite sport of labor fakers these days. But the poor socialists display an admirable Christian meekness by maintaining a discreet if not dignified silence in the face of the insults hurled at them by their allies.

The decision of La Follette to back Small may be the means of putting former mayor Thompson off the reservation. In his anxiety to punish Fred Lundin, Mr. Thompson was willing to back an independent candidate for governor against Small. As the situation stands now, Thompson is all dressed up politically and has no place to go.

Newton Jenkins, who ran for senator as a La Follette independent in the Illinois primaries is waiting for the call to do it again, but "Bob's" strategists are telling him to lay off as there are some more deals in the offering.

It is reported that Hearst's is laying off on the La Follette crowd. At first he was inclined to jump on the bandwagon, but La Follette is a jealous god and wanted no other god before the American people particularly a deity with several daily papers.

$18 For Cigarmakers.

TAMPA, Fla., August 11.—Skilled cigarmakers in Tampa are getting $18 a week, it is stated at cigarmakers' headquarters. A committee has been appointed consisting of two workers from each cigar factory to agree on a committee of five which will meet with a like number from the employers. This equalization board functioned until 1921 when the manufacturers broke it up by refusing to submit disputes to it.

Send in that Subscription Today.

PUSH DRIVES FOR SUBS AND NEW MEMBERS

W. P. Merit Stamps in Great Demand

Re-enactment of the exciting days of last January when the DAILY WORKER was adding two and three hundred new subscribers to its lists every day, seems likely as Workers Party members everywhere are beginning to respond to the Communist Merit Campaign being waged for new members for the party and new subscribers for the DAILY WORKER. Comrades from east and west are sending in their subscriptions in fulfillment of their obligation to secure each, a new subscriber and a new member. The efforts of the individuals are uniting to build into the whole a party of virility and action, a daily paper of strength and influence.

While it is too soon to estimate the results of the campaign with regards new members, the subscription drive for THE DAILY WORKER is already showing marked success. Mainly by reason of the increased subscriptions due to the drive, the income of THE DAILY WORKER which has suffered greatly during the summer months, is now again on the upgrade giving promise of a healthier financial condition as well as a healthier circulation.

Three features of the present drive are receiving special attention. At no previous time since THE DAILY WORKER was founded has it received so great an organized effort from the Party. While hundreds of communists have devoted their time and energy to THE DAILY WORKER, still their efforts have in the main been the efforts of individuals. For the first time the entire party, every member, is drawn into the campaign for DAILY WORKER subs. It is the organized feature of this campaign which paints the future of THE DAILY WORKER in such glowing colors.

Stamps in Great Demand

Unique in the methods of our party are the special Communist Merit Stamps which the Party gives in recognition of Communist work well done. For the first time Party issues stamps which cannot be purchased, which can only be earned. What Communist will rest content until the two little stamps, one for a new Party member, one for a new DAILY WORKER subscriber have been earned? "My dues book is up-to-date" will have a new significance from now on. For no member of the Workers Party will be entitled to such a claim until the Communist Merit Stamps are there. Is it any wonder that the Communist Merit Stamps are in such great demand?

Send Tammany Hall Faker as U. S. Labor Delegate to Britain

(By The Federated Press)

NEW YORK, August 12.—Peter J. Brady, Supervisor of the City Record, New York, and trade union official, will sail on September 1st for London to represent the American Federation of Labor as a fraternal delegate to the British Trades Union Congress.

Send Salt to Italy.

MOSCW, August 12.— Kharkov, Foreign Trade Dept., as reported from Kharkov, is arranging for the shipment of considerable amounts of Russian salt to Italy.

DAILY WORKER MAN RUN OUT OF HEGEWISCH

Bosses Admit Strike Is More Effective

After an interview with the employment manager of the Western Steel Car and Foundry Co., P. H. Conlan, and the secretary to the plant manager, Rudolph Johnson, in which they made unguarded statements concerning the strike of the car builders in the Hegewisch shop, Karl Reeve, reporter for the DAILY WORKER, was trailed by four policemen, and finally run out of the town.

The cops took him to the suburban depot where they demanded his name and address and asked what his business was in Hegewisch. When he showed them his reporter's card, they took him back to the plant and confronted him with the two petty bosses whom he had interviewed. The result of this meeting was a warning to Reeve to "get the hell out of this town as quick as possible and don't show your face here again."

Both Conlan and Johnson seemed chagrined at having admitted to Reeve that the strike was very successful from the workers' point of view. During the interview they tried to arrange with Reeve to get the men to go back to work, altho Conlan admitted that the men would stay out until they won "in spite of what the leaders tell them to do."

Stool Pigeon on Job.

Johnson, secretary to Mr. Buckley, the manager of the plant, told Reeve that he had been approached by various employment agencies which offered to get the men to go back to work for a consideration from the company. He also confessed that he was seriously considering the hiring of strikebreakers and that he was in close touch with the strike thru an under-cover man, that is a stool-pigeon.

Strike is Effective.

From an inside investigation of both the struck plants, the Western Steel Car and Foundry Co., and the Ryan Steel Car Co. plant which adjoins the former, it is evident that the strike is practically 100 per cent effective. Production is nil and the bosses are losing thousands of dollars on unfilled orders.

Numerous pickets were on the firing line this morning in an attempt to lay out the few remaining men and to prevent any scabs from going in. Edmond Hogan, organizer for the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen, Barney Mass of the Young Workers League and Jack McCarthy of the DAILY WORKER addressed this morning's meeting of the strikers.

42-Hour Week in England.

LONDON, August 12.—The 42-hour week is worked by 800,000 British workers, according to the British Trades Union congress. Over 2,500,000 unionists, out of 4,688,509 for whom their unions sent in reports, work 48 hours or less. The 40-hour week is worked by 24,300 unionists, it was found.

EGYPT AND BALKANS THREATEN TO BREAK UP PEACE OF EUROPE

(Special to The Daily Worker)

LONDON.—Ten Egyptians and soldiers were killed and nine wounded in a clash with British at Abtara, said a dispatch from Cairo, Egypt, today.

• • •

LONDON.— It is reported in Athens that Bulgaria has ordered all Greeks to leave the country within 20 days or face expulsion, said a dispatch from Athens this afternoon.

• • •

GENEVA.—The Macedonian Nationalist Committee has established headquarters at Vienna to foment a movement for a separate Macedonian state in the Balkans, according to reports reaching here from Vienna today.

REPORT AMERICANS ROBBED U. S. ARMY MUNITIONS FOR SUPPORT OF REBELLING CHINESE FACTION

(Special to The Daily Worker)

MANILA, P. I., August 12.—The large quantity of munitions stolen from the United States Army warehouse here in June, has been taken to China in a submarine chaser which was sold to local Americans, according to a story published by the Manila Daily Bulletin. The manifest showed oil instead of munitions when the boat cleared, it was declared. A Shanghai despatch said the boat was now there and that harbor authorities had received a request from Manila for the arrest of suspects.

It is rumored that the munitions were intended for the support of one of the factions now fighting for control of China and being backed by one of the imperialist financial powers.

ORDER YOUR BUNDLE OF THE DAILY WORKER'S FIRST SPECIAL CAMPAIGN ISSUE—SEE PAGE TWO

NEW STRUGGLE BRINGS I. W. W. INTO COURTS

Judge Hurley Puts Case Off to Friday

After six years members of the Industrial Workers of the World are back in the courts of Cook County (Chicago) once more, but under entirely different conditions.

During the summer of 1918, while the world war was raging over the battlefields of Europe, more than a hundred I. W. W. faced unflinchingly the 100 per cent jingo, Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, in the federal courts.

Stood Solid Against Landis.

Every conceivable charge that the kept prosecutors of the capitalist class, maddened at having their war plans interfered with by workers opposing capitalist wars, were hurled at the I. W. W. It was a class fight carried on by capitalism's own courts, with one of the pet judicial poodles of big business, Landis, now the overseer of baseball, as referee.

But that was in 1918. Then the "wobblies" were united against their common class enemy. Today the "wobblies" are before Judge Timothy D. Hurley, in the county courts, fighting each other. Contending groups of officials came before the capitalist judge, who could well afford to be friendly, as he was. The bosses and their lackeys are not afraid when the workers are divided.

Must Wait For Cunnea.

The proceedings were halted until Friday when the high-priced labor lawyer, William A. Cunnea, did not appear. He was reported out of town. Cunnea was among the defense lawyers in the trial of the members of the Communist Labor Party, in 1921; in the trial of the five socialists before Judge Landis, in 1918, and in the trial of Eugene V. Debs, at Cleveland. He is the legal counsel for the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, and his services come high. Evidently the "wobblies" are in for an era of heavy court expenditures.

Judge Hurley instructed Tom Doyle and Joe Fisher, representing the administration in charge of the general headquarters at 1001 W. Madison st., July 29, to have Lawyer Cunnea in court Friday.

Attorney Bigelow Explains.

Attorney William F. Bigelow, counsel for the group seeking control of the I. W. W. headquarters, headed by General Organizer J. A. Griffith and Secretary-Treasurer J. J. Murphy, tried to explain to the DAILY WORKER the reasons for bringing the internal struggle in the "wobbly" organization into court.

"The I. W. W. has a general executive board consisting of seven members," said Mr. Bigelow. "J. A. Griffith is the general organizer and J. J. Murphy, general secretary-treasurer. Joe Fisher was ousted from the organization and was to have come before the general executive board with his grievance at the meeting July 29. Instead Fisher organized a gang of gunmen and they ran us out of the building. Since they took this position we had to ask the courts to aid us get our rights."

Many Attend Court.

There were capitalist newspaper reporters standing about, to whom Lawyer Bigelow said, "Now you fellows from the press have a way of writing us I. W. W. up as gunmen and rumians. All that we ask of the press is that we receive fair and just treatment."

There was a goodly sprinkling of "wobblies" in the court room. Interest in the case is spreading, and Judge Hurley is expected to hold court Friday morning before a full house.

FOSTER TAKES SECOND PLACE IN TEST VOTE AMONG CALIFORNIANS

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Aug. 12.—William Z. Foster, presidential candidate of the Workers Party, took second place in the test vote poll made here among the followers of the American Civil Liberties Union. The Wisconsin Moses, LaFollette, took first place. The Wall Street puppets, Coolidge and Davis, were not in the running, not obtaining a single vote. About as many as voted for Foster, indicated their intention to refrain from voting at all. The poll was taken by a show of hands.

BANKERS READY TO FLOAT BIG GERMAN LOAN

Stresemann and Herriot Tentatively Agree

(Special to the DAILY WORKER)

LONDON, Aug. 12.—Having eliminated most of the obstacles in their way, the international bankers who are taking a first mortgage on Europe agreed to set the machinery in motion to raise the loan of $200,000,000 which the Dawes plan needs in order to put it to work.

The bankers are not doing so badly at that. The interest charged will be 7 per cent, if the bankers have their way.

Capitalist Leaders Chummy.

M. Herriot of France and Herr Stresemann of Germany are getting along famously, the millions of German and French workers who were killed and maimed in the great war being conveniently forgotten the capitalist statesmen confining their diplomatic activities to questions of trade and barter.

The radicals who said during the war that the German and French capitalists would sip wine and smoke cigars and barter away the lives and liberties of their respective peoples, after the war was over, were looked upon as false prophets but their predictions are amply borne out today. Herriot, the radical socialist and Stresemann, the Kaiserite, are conversing quite agreeably over trade. Unknown soldiers may rest in peace.

Reach Tentative Agreement

A tentative agreement has been reached between France and Germany or strictly speaking between Herriot and Stresemann. On the evacuation of the Ruhr, Herriot is willing to eliminate the time element and swap his original proposal of eleven months for immediate evacuation, provided Germany gives France and all the other signatories to the Versailles treaty most favored nations treatment. Herriot also demands the right of Alsace and Lorraine to ship goods into Germany duty free for the next five years.

It is rumored that England looks with no loving gaze on the rapprochment between Germany and France. The possibility of a German-French alliance against the British is not outside the bounds of possibility and it would not be a matter of surprise to see MacDonald or some other British diplomat trying to break the chain of conciliation which the international bankers forged with a gold loan of $200,000,000.

May Kill Conference.

Information that the United States would not be officially represented at the proposed debt conference which may be held sometime in December. It is quite possible that refusal on the part of the United States to participate officially may knock the proposal into a cocked hat. However in the event of Coolidge being elected, the administration may decide to send an unofficial representative instead of an unofficial observer as is now planned.

Brazil Revolt Still On.

WASHINGTON, August 12.—Moratoriums for 45 days has been established in the state of Sao Paulo, Brazil, where revolutionary movements are still in operation.

Order Your Bundle of First Campaign Issue

MAKE Monday, Sept. 1, a real "Labor Day" for the American Communist movement, by distributing a bundle of the First 1924 Campaign Issue of the DAILY WORKER.

FOR THE COMMUNIST CAMPAIGN

DAILY WORKER,
1113 W. Washington Blvd.,
Chicago, Ill.

For the enclosed $..... send me ..... copies of the First Special Communist Campaign edition of the DAILY WORKER, to be dated Saturday, Aug. 30, at the special rate of 2½ cents per copy, or $3.50 per hundred. I want to help raise the standards of Communism in this campaign for the Workers Party ticket—Foster and Gitlow.

NAME .....

ADDRESS .....

CITY..... STATE.....

PEACE IN DAVIS STABLE RAGES AS DONKEYS KICK

Animals Not Recovered from Circus Spree

(Special to the Daily Worker.)

CLARKSBURG, Aug. 12.—Democratic donkeys are kicking over the traces in the pew political stable over which John W. Davis presides. This was learned when a battle royal took place on the national committee between the Smith followers and those who saw in the candidacy of William Gibbs MacAdoo the pillar of flame which would help the Nordic race lead America thru the wilderness which is infested with brigands and evil doers in the persons of countless Koons, Kikes and Katholics.

Clem's Wings Clipped.

Clem L. Shaver, who trimmed the republicans in West Virginia and put across a democrat as governor had about as much luck with the Katholics of the national committee as silent Cal Coolidge had with the last republican congress. Clem appointed Bruce Kremmer, of Montana, a MacAdoo man to the running strings in his pajamas, vice-chairman, but it only took George Brennan and his cohorts a few minutes to ease Clemmer out of his position and seat Frank L. Hague, of New Jersey, a healthy supporter of beer and heavy wines, into the vacancy.

Didn't Want Another Tack.

After Kremmer was thus unceremoniously booted in the pasture, George Brennan rose and smilingly moved that Kremmer be appointed Western campaign manager. This only set several Ku Koo democrats wagging their ears furiously.

What John W. Davis needs is a police detail for his campaign committee meetings and not a campaign manager.

KATTERFELD IS WELCOMED BACK INTO MOVEMENT

"Glad to Get Back" Is Communist's Stand

About two score comrades gathered in a restaurant here in a welcome luncheon to L. E. Katterfeld, just paroled from the state prison at Joliet, Ill. After a few short addresses by Earl Browder, Jim Cannon, Rose Karsner, Max Bedacht, Jay Lovestone, George Maurer and Max Shachtman, Comrade Katterfeld spoke.

"I am glad to get back into the party and I want to say that prison puts iron into one's heart. I am not yet a free man, it is true; merely paroled to New York. I will be supposed to keep respectable company and be home every night before 9 o'clock.

"When I want to get into the fisticuffs against the man, you and I want to fight, the capitalist class, I find handcuffs still on me. When I want to get into the run of things, I have the disadvantage of a hobble-skirt. But so far as I am able, I shall join with my comrades in the common cause for which we are organized and united in the Communist movement."

Comrade Katterfeld was a prominent leader in the fight against the right wing in the Socialist Party and also in the movement to build up the Communist cause in America.

He is out on parole for a year, after having served his sentence in the Communist Labor Party case for a year and two days.

BILL WILSON IS PICKED TO SELL DAVIS TO LABOR

(By The Federated Press)

WASHINGTON, August 12.— Digging into the past to establish claims for the purest "friendship for labor" has been made a favorite campaign exercise, since the democratic national committee discovered that "Uncle Billy" Wilson, former secretary of labor and long-ago general secretary of the United Mine Workers, would take a job in its publicity staff.

Wilson has a nation-wide acquaintance among conservative labor officials and among mild progressives, and it will be his business to "sell Davis" to this element on the basis of Davis' record in congress before the war. When other arguments fail Wilson will claim personal credit for the winning of the Seamen's Act, the postal workers' anti-gag law and other legislative histories of the long ago.

Nobody here is inclined to harshly criticise "Uncle Billy" for taking this job as defender of Morgan's lawyer. Wilson has been too kindly and generous in personal affairs to save a competence for his age, and his business ventures since he left the cabinet have not been eminently successful.

Send in that Subscription Today.

Canadian Railroad Bosses Hardboiled at Wages' Demand

TORONTO, Aug. 12.—The Canadian Pacific and the Canadian National railways have refused the request of the Order of Railway Conductors and the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen for an increase of 5 per cent in pay, as granted by the eastern U. S. railways. The original request of the men's organizations was that the reduction of ... per cent made a couple of years ago be rescinded, but after an agreement on 5 per cent was reached in the United States, the Canadian demand was revised accordingly. The American employes got the 5 per cent in exchange for some of the working rules they had previously gained.

BUDDING KING OF BRITAIN TO DINE WITH CAL

Flunkey Harvey Will Arrange Details

(Special to The Daily Worker)

WASHINGTON, August 12.— The Prince of Wales is coming. This news should make the millions of unemployed forget their thin stomachs and the pangs of worry over the probability of a cold, lean winter.

His Royal Highness will wear his famous smile, superinduced by good Scotch whiskey which is considered a necessary part of his spiritual equipment. The prohibition dicks will be warned to keep clear of the Prince's wine preserves. The enthusiast who raided the cellar of William Howard Taft's relative lost his job.

Will Be Himself.

It is refreshing to learn that H. R. H. will not travel officially incognito, as Lord Renfrew. He will be the Prince of Wales. His father, in a lucid moment, decided that it would never do in those critical days for such a useful royal appendage to shed one whit of his value to British capitalism while visiting the rich Uncle who has the money.

The prince will attend the international polo matches on Long Island. Mrs. James A. Buden, of Sucsset, Long Island, will entertain H. R. H. during his stay. She will be assisted by several hundred debutantes and post-debutantes.

Lord Renfrew alias the Prince of Wales will have a private luncheon with the president. The prince's itenerary will be in the hands of Col. George Harvey.

U. S. ARSENAL IN PHILIPPINES IS DESTROYED

Explosion Kills Two; Injures Many

MANILA, P. I., Aug. 12. — The Philippine government magazine, containing the entire store of several hundred tons of explosives situated on Talim Island, was destroyed by a terrific explosion, which killed two constabulatory guards and injured several children that were playing in the vicinity.

So far the United States government military authorities have not traced the disaster to propaganda from Moscow or from the Workers Party of America. No doubt that omission will soon be made good.

The trial of 208 Philippine Boy Scouts was halted today because of the exhaustion of the funds to pay the court stenographer. The trial is taking place before a military court. It is expected that 125 witnesses will be called.

2,000 Cheer Communist International in New York Anti-War Rally

(By The Federated Press)

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—The American round-the-world flyers' trip "is just a symbol of preparations now being made by the United States for a future war which will be fought in the air," William Weinstone told an anti-war meeting in New York held on the 10th anniversary of the opening of the world war by the Workers Party. Although a plentiful supply of police reserves had been sent to the meeting, they did not interfere with the speakers. Over 2,000 workers cheered the allusions to the Communist International as the one force which could prevent capitalist wars.

K. K. K. Denies Branding.

DANVILLE, Ill., Aug. 12.— The Rankin Council of the Ku Klux Klan today offered $500 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of assailants who branded the initials K. K. K. upon Ralph Aaron, young man of Rankin, Ill., ten days ago. The klansmen aver that it was done by Aaron's friends after learning that he contemplated joining the Knightsgowned Knuts. They are pretty sore that someone administered a dose of their own medicine to one of them.

Lester Lapidus Lives; Martin Tabert Died; Present Day Contrast

By J. LOUIS ENGDAHL

TODAY, Lester Lapidus, 17-year old son of an Omaha millionaire, is back home again, after a week's disappearance, and the yellow press breathes more easily than for several days.

Both Chicago's morning dailies, the "Tribune" and Hearst's "Herald-Examiner," have already claimed credit for locating the lost Lester. No doubt the afternoon sheets will make similiar contentions.

* * * *

The DAILY WORKER has given just as much space to this case as the kept press gives to the disappearance of thousands of unknown sons and daughters of the working class—NOT A LINE.

It is only giving this notice now to contrast the feverish excitement manifested by publications upholding things as they are, when some rich idler is in jeopardy, with the deep silence that prevails when a worker is in danger.

* * * *

Lester had been sent off to the citizens' military training camp at Fort Des Moines, Iowa. He was to learn the duties of an officer in capitalism's military machine. Officers are the soldiers who stay far in the rear, out of danger, while the workers, taken out of the shops, the mines, mills and factories, are sent into the front line trenches, to do the fighting and die.

Lester tired of army life and started off for the bright lights of Chicago. The millionaire father offered a huge reward for his return. An airplane was put to work visiting all the towns between Des Moines and Chicago. Pictures and stories appeared on the first pages of the kept press, done in the best hysteria style. When Lester made himself known in Chicago, his father came for him and he was taken home in a Pullman.

* * * *

If Lester had been some young worker, tired of the daily grind of the factory, and bent on seeing the country for himself, he would be picked up as a tramp, arrested for vagrancy, and put to work on a rock pile. If he happened to indulge his little adventure in the South, in Alabama, he would be sold as convict labor in the coal mines, in Florida, in the lumber camps, in the Carolinas, into the turpentine hells.

* * * *

Lester Lapidus goes back to Omaha to resume his job of rich idler. He may be heard from again in another "Franks Case."

It is well to remember, however, what happened to Martin Tabert, the young North Dakota farmer who went straying, thinking this was a "free country," finally landing in Florida.

Nothing was ever said about young Tabert until he was reported as being dead, lashed to death—murdered in a lumber camp. Tabert didn't have the usual "visible means of support," which is a crime for a worker, and he was arrested, thrown into jail and finally farmed out to the Florida lumber camps. It is just as safe to lash a white man to death in these days, if the man happens to be a worker, as it was to murder Negro slaves before the Civil War. So Tabert was murdered, when he became sick and couldn't work, and the lash was laid across his back until he was dead by sadistic overseers, descendants of the Simon Legree of slavery days, who are rewarded according to the work that is turned out by the white slaves of today.

* * * *

Hearst's sheet, carrying its usual sermon advises America's rich youth not to run away from home, because it might worry their mothers. But Hearst's papers support the social system that daily drives thousands of the daughters of the working class into white slavery, where it does not destroy their lives on the wrack of wage slavery. Hearst's yellows support the capitalist system that crushes working class youth in its prime and makes recruits for the wandering armies of homeless, aimless, hopeless men tramping the nation's highways; casual workers fighting each other for the few jobs that occasionally present themselves.

* * * *

The yellow press is seeking to make the nation safe for young parasites who must have their adventures to idle away a surplus of leisure time.

The DAILY WORKER is fighting to make this nation safe for the working class. That can only be done thru labor taking over all power and building a new social order where the lot of the workers will be given all consideration.

The capitalist journalism that weeps over the pin pricks of petty parasites, while it helps grind the hundred million of American oppressed still deeper into the mire of misery and want, will then become an antique curiosity.

Workers! Help hasten the day when this capitalism will be retired to the museum of history.

"BABE" SNICKERS AT CROWE ANTICS IN BORING TRIAL

Alienist Flustered by Cross-Examination

The notorious anti-labor specialist, Robert E. Crowe, who is leading the state's forces in the prosecution of the Loeb-Leopold trial, yesterday threw "Babe" Leopold into convulsions of laughter by his cross-examination of Dr. Harold S. Hulbert, defense alienist.

The "million dollar defense" being conducted by the families of Loeb and Leopold is affording much amusement to the spectators and worry to the defense, who are beginning to feel that their claims that the youths on trial are demented may not save them from the gallows, pineal glands or not.

The entire day of the trial was taken up with the cross-examination of Hulbert by Crowe. The State's Attorney was intent upon confusing the honorable specialist into admitting that the tests of Loeb and Leopold were inaccurate and that the stories they told him about dreams may have been concoctions of the imagination, made up to cool the doctor.

The doctor, being an honest man, is easily led into damaging admissions for the State by the wily interrogations of the prosecutor.

The defense rests its case today.

Washington Branches Plan Excursion for Daily Worker Drive

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—The two branches of the Workers Party in Washington have joined hands in arranging an excursion to be held Sunday, August 24. The excursion will be held at Marshall Hall, the boat for which leaves the city at 10:00 a.m.; 2:30 p.m.; and 6:30 p.m. Not only are the amusements enjoyable, and the dancing free but the boat ride is down the beautiful Potomac river. Tickets are 50 cents, 25 cents for children under 12 years of age.

Two-thirds of the proceeds go to the DAILY WORKER and the rest will be kept by the local to keep on its work.

For tickets, communicate with Dr. S. R. Pearlman, 702 Pennsylvania Ave., Northwest, Washington, D. C.

Send in that Subscription Today.

FORGET WALL ST. BLAST; DANGER OF SUITS PAST

Burns Bluffed for Years to Cheat Victims

CLEVELAND, Aug. 12.—The Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen's magazine calls editorial attention once more to the flaky character of the attempts to solve the Wall Street explosion which cost many lives in the fall of 1920. The William J. Burns announced half a dozen times that he had caught the alleged bolshevik plotter it always turned out a case of mistaken identity.

Now when the legal limitations for civil damage suits is in force the hunt for the criminal seems to have been dropped. The Firemen's magazine comments:

"It appears that at the time of the explosion this load of nitro-glycerine, or whatever it was, was being transferred for use in excavation work being conducted as a preliminary to the erection of a building by certain Wall Street interests, and this notwithstanding that the transportation of explosives in the city by daylight was prohibited by a city ordinance. Something, it seems, bumped the wagon as it turned the corner and caused the explosion.

"Then a very well known prince of finance called in the detective above referred to and they agreed that probably millions of dollars of damage suits would result if the facts became known and the said detective started out with the cry of 'red bomb plot.'

"This same detective was employed at the time extensively by other banking interests and as a result of this 'smooth' work, no damage awards have had to be paid, and as the time prescribed by law within which suits can be filed has expired, said prince of finance and all of his subsidiary interests are entirely safe from any such consequences."

Party Activities Of Local Chicago

OPEN AIR MEETINGS.

Wednesday, August 13.

Lincoln and Berry Ave., North—A. Henderson and H. Eisler, speakers.

South Side Workers' Party Branch.

Thursday, August 14.

Halsted and Orchard Streets—Max Shachtman and Olin Speaker, speakers. Auspices, Hungarian and German Branches, workers' party and Liebknecht Y. W. L. Branch.

16th Street and 51st Court, Cicero—Speaker, D. E. Early. Auspices, Cicero C. C. C.

Friday, August 15.

St. Louis and Roosevelt Road—D. E. Early, speaker. Auspices, Jewish Branch.

North Ave. and Rockwell St.—Auspices, W. W. Nurenberg, Mildred Mapleswood Y. W. L. branch.

Crawford Ave. and Lawrence Ave., North—Speaker, Peter Herd. Auspices of Irving Park W. P. and Y. W. L. branches.

Saturday, August 16.

Milwaukee and Dickens—Speaker, D. E. Earley and Polish speaker. Auspices, Polish Br. W. P.

Halsted and Sherman (near Halsted and Blue Island)—Speaker, Manuel Gomes and a Greek speaker. Auspices, Greek W. P. Branch.

Division and Wainwright—Speakers, Olin Speaker. Auspices, Northwest Jewish W. P. Branch.

112th and Michigan Ave., Pullman—Auspices, Pullman W. P. C.

BRANCH MEETINGS.

Mid-City Branch Meets.

The Mid-City English Branch of the Workers Party will hold a very important special meeting tonight at Emmet Memorial Hall, Ogden and Taylor. Every member is urged to be present, since very important matters will be taken up, discussed and decided upon.

Wednesday, August 13.

Roumanian Branch—2254 Clybourn Ave.

Thursday, August 14.

Lithuanian Br.—3000 S. Union Ave.

Cz.-Slov. North Br.—3255 Ogden Ave.

Park, Roosevelt and Union Ave.

14th Ward Italian—1059 Blue Island Blvd.

Scandinavian, Lake View—3306 N. Witton St.

Scandinavian, West Side—Zelch's Hall, cor. Cicero and Superior Sts.

Scandinavian Karl Marx—3733 Hirsch Blvd.

Friday, August 15.

Scandinavian, So. Chicago—641 East 91st St.

Speakers' Class—1902 W. Division St.

Lettish Branch—4349 Thomas Ave.

Czecho-Slovak, Hanson Pk.—Bohemian Lettish School, Hovnost, Mansfield Ave. near Grand.

CITY EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE, LOCAL CHICAGO

Meets Thursday, August 14, 8 P. M. at Room 301, 1113 W. Washington Blvd. Members of Committee and secretaries of all T. U. E. L. groups must attend.

NEW YORK CITY Party Activities

OPEN AIR MEETINGS.

Friday, August 15.

All open air meetings called off on account of general membership meeting, Saturday, August 16.

Section 1—Oliver and Madison Sts.—Speakers: George Primoff and others.

Section 2—Ninth St. and So. Blvd.—Speakers: Joe Brandy and Louis Baum.

Section 4—Crotona Park East—Speakers: Ettlinger, S. Feldin.

Section 5—Stone and Pitkin Aves.—Speakers: Charles Brower and others.

Section 6—25th St. and Fremaid Ave.—Speakers: Fannie Warshawsky, Pollack.

Section 7—Union Ave. and 167th St., Tuesday, August 12—Speakers: S. Felshin and others.

Saturday, August 16—George Primoff, Jack Statchel.

Man of God Needs Doctor.

BRUSSELS, Aug. 12.—Cardinal Mercier is seriously ill of inflammation of a vein.

APPLE GROWER BLASTS TALES OF "PROFITS"

Gets No Return and Owes "Buyer!"

Raising apples in the "rich" apple country of Washington state isn't the profitable business the land sharks hired by the railroad companies paint it if this letter from an apple grower is at all typical.

It was written to a friend who had sent the farmer a bundle of the DAILY WORKER.

The farmer compared the Communist daily to the sickly Seattle Union Record and decided emphatically in favor of the paper that is for the workers and farmers of the country and not one of the old-time party politicians and bunk slingers.

Paying to "Sell."

This is an apple grower's story:

I have a queer story to tell you about my experience with my 1923 apple crop. I sold, or thought I sold to a local agent representing Dingfelder and Co., brokers in fruit, 1,600 boxes of apples. The agent packed something like 1,000 boxes.

I furnished the boxes at 22 cents a box. He furnished wrappers and packed. The two carloads were stored in New York somewhere all winter. There was no price for apples anywhere.

Owe Buyer!

Well, the other day I went to the agent's office to see the last outcome, or settlement. What we call the outcome here is this: for my 1,600 boxes of apples I owe him $800. Last fall I got an advance on my apples of $500. At that rate they got my apples; my boxes that I paid cash for somewhere else; and I must pay to boot all my least year's hard work raising and picking, and packing 600 boxes myself.

My expenses were: $175 for pick-for 1,600 empty boxes; $50 for spraying; $120 for packing 600 boxes; $352 material against worms; totalling $697. I do not me that much boxes I delivered the apples and that doesn't include my own work. Then on top of this paid for packing 1,000 boxes that I brought in from the orchard to the agent's warehouse loose in boxes. Then the $500 advance money.

Page Prosperity!

I am paying to boost to my last year's crop about $400 and that doesn't include my labor and irrigation water.

L. W. B.

And yet the Elephants and the Asses can talk about the "prosperity" of America and deny the farmers have any problems! No wonder! They're all big business men, brokers, bankers, grafters, and they can go around congratulating one another on the wonderful profits they take out of the workers and farmers of this country who are beginning to learn that they must get the government for themselves by fighting in the ranks of the Workers Party.

Remains of F.-L. Party of U. S. In Denver Headquarters

(By The Federated Press)

DENVER, Aug. 12.—The Farmer-Labor Party of the United States, founded in 1920, is conducting national headquarters at 715 E. 4 th Bldg., Denver. Bert Martin is national secretary, succeeding Jay G. Brown, resigned, who was in charge of the old Chicago headquarters.

"You helped us to campaign four years ago, when, with an unknown man at the head of our ticket, we were able to secure 1,200,000 votes for our presidential candidate," declares an appeal to former sympathizers issued by Martin. (Official returns gave Parley P. Christenson 265,411 votes in 1920).

The party, under the chairmanship of W. M. Piggott, is supporting the LaFollette-Wheeler ticket. The national executive committee as printed on the letterhead includes John Fitzpatrick, president Chicago Federation of Labor.

To Organize in Kensington.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Aug. 12.—At the request of a number of worker residents of Kensington section of this city, a meeting for the purpose of organizing a branch of the Workers Party in the section is called for Thursday, August 14, 8. p. m., at the Kensington Labor Lyceum, Second and Cambria streets. The meeting is called by the Philadelphia local of the party.

All class conscious workers residing in Kensington are invited to attend and join the newly formed branch.

Russians Making Spools.

LENINGRAD, Aug. 12.—A full equipment for a spool-manufacturing mill has been ordered in England by the Leningrad Wood Trust. The mill is to supply with spools, to begin with, the Leningrad textile works, and then all the Russian textile industry.

Send in that Subscription Today.

LaFollette's Record Shows He's For Big Business

(Continued from page 1.)

what Moses said, added: "He is our safety valve. Where else is a commanding figure, who, while scrupulous about law and order, yet points the hopeful way to political revolution?"

And the noted Washington observer, William Hard, who has had a chance to see LaFollette in action for many years thus characterized the Wisconsin Senator as he was departing for Europe last year:

"LaFollette, it is noted, has introduced no bills for vast governmental corporations for the buying and selling of farm products. . . . He has seen many such bills introduced by radical senators and by progressive senators and even (as in the case of Senator Gooding) by conservative senators. He himself has given his name to one of them."

Capitalists on Bob's Program.

For more than three decades LaFollette has been massing his batteries against the "combined power of the private monopoly system over the political and economic life of the American people." During all these years the Wisconsin senator has looked upon John Sherman, author of the Sherman Anti-Trust Act, as his god. Even in his July 4th letter accepting the presidential nomination by the Progressive Conference, LaFollette spoke of Sherman as "The clear-sighted, far-visioned republican statesman of his time" and called the Sherman Law, enacted by a republican congress in 1890, "the most effective weapon that the ingenuity of man could devise against the power of monopoly."

At the 1912 national convention of the republican party held in Cleveland on June 10th, Congressman Henry Allen Cooper, leader of the Wisconsin delegation, pointed out that those who have been branding the LaFollette program radical had better keep in mind the fact that of the thirty-one planks offered by his state since 1908 no less than twenty-six have been enacted into law. Eleven of the thirteen planks proposed by LaFollette in 1908 are now law. Fifteen of the eighteen proposals submitted by LaFollette in 1912 have since been written into the federal statutes. Among these may be mentioned the enlargement of the powers of the Interstate Commerce Commission, the physical valuation of railroads, direct election of senators and regulation of telephones and telegraph.

And Senator LaFollette makes sure to tell the world in his "Autobiography" that his progressive movement "is essentially a safe and sane one for the public and for all legitimate business."

In accepting the presidential nomination at Cleveland LaFollette further declared: "I am a candidate upon the basis of my public record, as a member of the House of Representatives, as Governor of Wisconsin, and as a member of the United States Senate. I shall stand upon that record exactly as it is written, and shall give my support only to such progressive principles and policies as are in harmony with it."

On this basis only we will take apart the warp and woof of the fabric of LaFollette's record.

For Business Interests.

Ever since LaFollette has won his place in the political sun of this country, the very head and front of his activities summed themselves up in an insistence on the evils of uncontrolled big business stifling free competition, on the alarming results of the hobbling of monopoly.

But what LaFollette is really trying to do is to foster business, "honest, legitimate business" of course. All the Wisconsin Senator wants today or has ever before wanted, is to make business safe and stable by removing given definite rules of conduct by which business shall be made safe and stable, while at the same time the interests of the public shall be fully safeguarded. We seek constructive legislation, not destructive litigation."

Clarifying his position toward the capitalist interests, LaFollette said a few weeks later in his Weekly of December 2, 1911:

"The Wisconsin Plan is not to harass but to foster legitimate business. Legitimate business suffers quite as much as does the public from the depredations of the financial pirates who have so boldly domineered the seas of industry in this country for a dozen years and more. Wisconsin has outlawed the Captain Kidds of business; but she has laid the hands of protection and encouragement upon the honest investor."

In a special statement issued by Senator LaFollette on January 10, 1924, relative to his railroad bill to amend the interstate commerce laws, we find the following illuminating evidence of the Wisconsin Senator's strong belief in the continuation of the present system of the private ownership of capital whereby the working class is exploited:

"In accordance with the recommendation of the Interstate Commerce Commission in its report December 1, 1923, I have provided that after a rate base has been established it shall be the duty of the commission to fix the amount of additional net investments prudently made in the property . . . .

"The amendments which I offer are based upon the principle that the private owners of the railroads are entitled to be reimbursed for the actual money which they have prudently invested and to be paid a fair return upon the money which they have prudently invested in property now devoted to public service. Just compensations for services, reimbursement of expenses and a fair interest on capital employed, should be paid those who devote work on property to public service, but no more."

Stands for Private Ownership.

Here we have it. LaFollette insists that society should pay tribute to the owners of the railroads for their mere ownership which he calls "devoting work on property to public service." This is precisely what the most ardent defender of the railway and other big business interests want. The only point of difference between LaFollette and the champions of the big capitalist interests is as to the amount to be paid to the private owners of capital, to the private owners of the means of production and exchange socially used.

LaFollette and the most reactionary capitalists are agreed that capital should be privately owned. Both agree that this ownership entitles the owners to an income which, of course, is produced by those who work, by those who invest labor-power in production, by the working class. Their difference is only over what constitutes a "just, legitimate" amount that the capitalist owners should take from the products of the workers.

Proud of Big Profits for Wisconsin Capitalists.

On more than one ocasion has Senator LaFollette taken great pride in the fact that under his program the owners of public utilities, the big business interests, have been reaping a harvest of handsome profits.

Paying tribute to his own achievements in railroad regulation while he was governor of Wisconsin, La Follette declared in 1905:

"The rates charged on traffic in Wisconsin on the whole yield a gross income to the railroads greatly above the amounts required for all operating expenses, for the maintenance of property and for a fair interest on profit on the cost of the roads."

Turn to the 1911 campaign bible, entitled "Progressive Wisconsin," we find that LaFollette, then, as now, aspiring for the presidency as a progressive, was boasting over the beneficial effects his program has had on the biggest employing class interests in Wisconsin. We quote:

"There has not been a railroad company, important or minor, in the state that has not had an increase of profits, both gross and net, and this increase has been greater than that which the mere natural growth of the state would account for. . . . The confidential reports of the railroads to the Wisconsin state authorities show, as utterly convincing testimony of the effect of Wisconsin regulation, that two of the biggest railroads in the country experienced a decrease of earnings in the country at large during the year July 30, 1911, and that these same two roads produced substantial increase of the net earnings of those parts of their systems lying within Wisconsin.

"What has been the effect of this regulation on the business of the public utilities? Officials of these concerns made the same prophecies that the railway men did, asserting that business would be ruined. Many of them are now transacting unprecedented volumes of business, all of them are enjoying increased earnings. The securities of those companies have increased in substantial value and investments in them, particularly by small investors and by the smaller banks, has gone to the point where it betrays a healthy confidence."

In an interview especially given to the Saturday Evening Post of July 5, 1911, further light on what the LaFollette program means to business interests is shed by the following question and answer:

Q. "And what happened industrially after you had effected your legislation in Wisconsin?"

A. (LaFollette)—"From 1905 to 1910 the total operating revenue received from all sources by the railroads in Wisconsin increased fifteen millions, while the reductions on freight rates on interstate business amounted to seven million dollars. During the same period the total deposits in the commercial and savings banks of Wisconsin increased fifty-one per cent. Yes, Wisconsin is properous—railroads are prosperous; the public utilities of the state, which are regulated, are prosperous."

This is the "Wisconsin Idea" applied. This is the program that Mr. LaFollette holds out to the workers and farmers today as the source of their hope, as the road to their freedom from the railroad capitalists, the shipping magnates, the capitalist owners of public utilities—the exploiting class. This is Wisconsin, the "Model Commonwealth," that LaFollette would have the workers and dispossessed farmers extend thruout the country.

Minor Wrestle About Big Negro Conference

(Continued from page 1)

lectual aristocracy of the Black City, pulling its mantle around it in disdain. "Scoundrel! Seller of stock in an unsound steamship venture with invisible ships!" exclaims the average colored real estate dealer, doing good business at double rents to Negro tenants.

Negroes Look to Garvey.

But in the minds and hearts of hundreds of thousands of plainer Negro people in America, Jamaica, the Virgin Islands and, it is said, even in Africa, it is "the Honorable Marcus Garvey, provisional president of Africa."

Garvey, the Jamaica Negro who made this strange movement the biggest Negro organization in the world, is a pariah to the general run of Negro leaders, who consider the enormous organization as little less than a monster swindle conceived in the mind of "either a fool or a scoundrel."

For instance, the Negro intellectual, George Schuyler, writes in irony:

Ideas Straight from God!

"Like an inspiration from heaven, the idea dawned upon him (Garvey) one evening as he dined and lingered, thrusting the remainder of the pig foot into his overall pocket. he sat for hours in his favorite trash box," etc., etc., and "still Mr. Garvey enjoys the enviable record of collecting more money in a given time than any other Negro. Nor was this from the idle, self-eatisfied, wealthy, upper class Negroes. No, sir! It came from the great masses: the washerwomen, porters, maids and other hard-working people. That in itself shows whom this great man was looking out for."

Heads Workers.

This is intended as the most biting sarcasm. But the careful reader will catch two important points: First, Garvey is irresistibly associated with "reverals." Second, Garvey's followers are invariably classed as "hard-working people," such as washerwomen, porters and hod carriers, day laborers, etc. When we discover this, we get a key to the Garvey organization, which is not the key its enemies intended to give us.

And out of the sarcasm of the intellectual and genteel Negro leaders who despise Garvey, we get another key in the constant references to "his five-year semester in geology in the Federal University of Leavenworth," to use again the language of Mr. Schuyler, who finds a subject for humor in Mr. Garvey's "sixty days in the Tombs (prison)," and the government's consent "to board him and furnish exercise at Leavenworth for five years."

No Fair Trial for Garvey.

I would think long before I would dispute the judgment of the Negro scholar, Dr. W. E. B. DuBois. But when Dr. DuBois writes that the United States government gave Garvey "a fair and patient trial," and that Garvey was refused bail "because of the repeated threats and cold-blooded assaults charged against his organization," and that "he himself openly threatened to 'get' the district attorney," etc., I get a different reaction from that intended by Dr. DuBois. I am obliged to look beyond the details at the apparent fact that a government which hates and despises the Negro masses, a government which hates the working class, and which has never been unforgiving to grafting schemes, that such a government does not find a friend in Garvey.

And above it all towers the fact that the Universal Negro Improvement Association, the largest organization of Negroes in the world, is made up almost entirely of the working class.

Garvey Did Organize Negroes.

I am waiting for some Negro leader who has organized more Negroes than Marcus Garvey has organized, to criticize Garvey—and I frankly confess that if such a leader has been found he will get a better hearing than Garvey received, I will listen to him more attentively.

The lickspittles of capitalism in Washington do not love Marcus Garvey. This alone ought to make any one of the working class think twice before condemning the man. His enemies say the government condemns Garvey for using questionable financial methods for the purpose of fleecing the masses of uneducated Negro workers. But I don't think the Teapot Domers at Washington have any objection to the fleecing of the Negro masses.

I think their solicitude is based upon something else.

Fear Negro Workers.

The fact that Garvey is organizing many thousands of Negroes of the class that is destined to take over the earth, and makes a militant demand for a sweeping internationalism, liberation of colonial peoples, seems to me to be a more likely reason why Messrs. Coolidge, Daugherty and, yes, Mr. Hughes of the state department, have interested themselves in Garvey.

Edward Garvey speak last night. He is one of the most powerful personalities that I have ever seen on the platform. He is of the rare type that history finds rising in every unsettled period to express new currents among the masses of men. For the work of Garvey, the work of all that leaders (or very powerful misleaders) are made of. Not the kind of leaders who rise in times of quiet and fit their environment as a fashion-model fits the gowns of the day, but the kind of leaders that rise in times of storm and stress, who do not fit their environment, who look and feel and act out of place in the order of the day—who are called uncouth, who are jeered as misfits, and yet who may form the heads of the battering rams which smash down the walls of their environment.

I cannot vouch for the integrity of Marcus Garvey. But I know that the worst set of scoundrels that I know on earth hate Garvey.

I asked Mr. Garvey to give the DAILY WORKER his version of the second indictment which has just been brought against him.

Why He Was Pinched.

For two years and a half Garvey's income tax report lay in a pigeonhole in an office in Washington, probably lay in the file among the "G's"—next to that of Gary and Guggenheim. It wasn't big. Garvey considered that he only owed the income fax collector $104.

But the 1924 convention of the Universal Negro Improvement Association was coming on. Delegates were streaming in from all over the world—black and brown delegates, Negro delegates, men who, according to the capitalists' caste system, have no right to be delegates to anything at all, but only to be servants for superior white Englishmen in South Africa, Frenchmen in North Africa, American white gentlemen in Georgia and in Panama. In fact, there are black delegates from something like twenty different colonial points on the world map of capitalist trouble.

Universal Representation.

Africans who don't want to remain British subjects are here. Africans who dream of independence in French Senegal are sitting near me in this hall. Bermudans, Haitians, Jamaicans, St. Thomas islanders, Porto Ricans, a black man from Austria, a black man from Nigeria, the German Camerun, Egypt and many points in South America.

They are discussing a plan for the formation of a world-wide Negro political union, for the purpose of uniting the rule of imperialist powers over colonial peoples. They are talking in strong language.

In another part of New York—over in the "white" city, where Negroes can't go except as scrubwomen or elevator runners—the grand jury is meeting. It is a federal grand jury, working under an appointee of the federal government at Washington, the distinguished prosecutor, District Attorney Mattuck. Under the guidance of Mr. Mattuck, whose hand is guided from Washington, the grand jury is writing an indictment of Mr. Marcus Garvey. To do so it is obliged to find a bit of material.

The files of the "G's" in the income tax office in Washington for 1921 are dug into. The name "Garvey" is passed over. The name "Guggenheim" is underlined. The name "Garvey" is reached, the two-year-and-a-half-old income tax report is fetched out, and Garvey is indicted. The agents of the government rush to the convention hall where the convention is in session. The federal agents enter. They don't arrest Garvey—they merely whisper to as many of the assembled Negroes as possible that "Garvey is indicted and is going to be arrested."

Garvey Is Cool.

Some one came up and told Garvey as he sat in the chairman's seat. Garvey nodded, without changing expression, and continued the session.

The next day I asked Mr. Garvey to tell me his version of the indictment.

Charges Frame-Up.

"It is a frame-up," he said. "That's all. Of course it is done for the purpose of embarrassing this convention. Here in this locality it seems a trick of the republican politicians of Harlem, who want to discredit me and win back their power in this district."

I am very sorry to say that Garvey supported the local democratic ticket in the past two elections, which he admits. "But," I said, "I am surprised that you seem to classify it as a local matter. Is it no wider than that?"

Garvey, obviously tired and grown perfunctory with much convention work, turned quick, sharp eyes upon me. "No," he said slowly, "it is not only a local matter. If we had been in any other district it would have been put through in the same manner by the republican politicians in that district. It is no more Harlem affair. I have been framed up before.

Independence is Dangerous.

"You know, our plan is international. It touches the British and French governments in their African colonies. For instance, our effort to strengthen the Negro nation of Liberia is considered dangerous to the colonial interests of the Great Powers. You see, the French and British are operating in and exploiting nearby territory. They consider a movement to strengthen any independent Negro state dangerous to their interests.

"When any aspiration of African people to self-government is discovered by the Great Powers, things begin to look bad for their colonial rule. They begin to fix up contract such movements to independence.

Scared Them With Warships.

"When our representatives went to Liberia last December, the imperial powers tried every device to prevent their getting a hearing. Shortly after they left, a strange thing happened. French and an English warship came into the harbor—just on a friendly visit,' they said. In the harbor they began firing their big guns in the air. They said they were just 'saluting' the Liberian republic.

"Well, you can imagine what was the effect of hearing those big guns upon those people of Liberia. It was just a warning because our representatives had been there.

"They are afraid that the strengthening of the Liberian republic will have an influence thruout Africa in proving that Negroes can govern themselves. Therefore those powers that are exploiting the people there in colonies want to keep the Liberian people as weak as possible. The Liberian government is in debt to France and England, and in this way pressure is brought to bear upon the rulers of the Negro state."

Garvey Verified by Cable.

This statement of Mr. Garvey's is strongly borne out by a dispatch recently received from Monrovia, Liberia, and published in the Negro press. Signed "Butler's Limited," the cablegram reads in part:

"President told me that he is keeping his mind on the obligation of Liberia to the Great Powers, and as such to the maintenance of the independence of the republic."

It called Mr. Garvey's attention to the dispatch, and he confirmed my construction of its meaning. "And you should know that the United States minister was in the diplomatic group that was operating in that way," he said.

And so this movement goes on—a strange paradox. Under the fog of religious mysticism—a most terrific denunciation of the clergy. A medley of steamship stock selling mixed with a Negro nationalism that brings anxiety to colonial ministers in European capitals, governmental cables, arms and conferences in Washington and indictments in New York used by government agents in an effort to disrupt this Negro convention.

There is another phase—the most dangerous phase that could possibly be found in a Negro movement—the effort to conciliate the Ku Klux Klan, which might conceivably result in transforming this whole movement into an organization of Janissaries for the capitalist class. This phase is so important that I must deal with it in a separate article.

Article by Trotzky in August Pictorial

IN the new issue of Soviet Russia Pictorial Comrade Trotzky's article "From the Old Family to the New" gives additional insight into the farsightedness of Russia's Communist leadership.

This time it is not war, or politics, or any of his many interests, but the future family under Communism that gets his attention.

"The preparation of the material conditions for new manners and the new family cannot be separated from the work of socialist construction in general," he says. And the future family and our approach to it thru our cultural work makes a splendid reading for all those interested in working class problems to come in the very near future.

Beside this most interesting article, others by Peter Maslowski of Essen, Germany, on "The Great Struggles of the Ruhr Miners" and by Andreas Nin on the "Situation of workers in Fascist Italy" make keen reading for one interested in international affairs. Of equal interest is the article "Czars Hanged on Trial" by Max Bedacht.

As usual, the issue is heaped with facts of all the latest important developments in Soviet Russia. Many phases of internal problems and foreign relations are treated, making important reading for the intelligent worker.

Added to these features are the large number of interesting photographs of men and events in Russia and the world over rounding out one of the year's best issues of Soviet Russia Pictorial.

MADISON, Wis., Aug. 12—The Madison Federation of Labor protests to Gov. Blaine of Wisconsin, against state participation in President Coolidge's Mobilization day Sept. 12.

WORKERS PARTY FIGHTING FOR N. DAK. FARMERS

Class Party's Position Explained

By ALFRED KNUTSON

(Special to The Daily Worker)

WILTON, N. D., Aug. 12.— Some points were raised at the Workers Party conference held here that require definite explanation. Every comrade and party sympathizer in North Dakota should study the situation in the state carefully and remain firm in the face of the sweep of the LaFollette illusion, when every pussyfooting, job hunter, office seeker and politician is climbing aboard the LaFollette band wagon. This is a time when sensitiveness and lack of courage should not be mistaken for good political tactics.

A few of our comrades and sympathizers in North Dakota seem to think that the Workers' Party is struggling to head off the La Follette illusion and also that it is trying to prevent the formation of a Farmers-Labor Party in the state. There is no truth in either of these assertions.

Show Up Illusion.

The LaFollette illusion will run its course and the Workers' Party organization in North Dakota cannot stop it, and is not endeavoring to do so. However, as a revolutionary organization, looking after the welfare of the tens of thousands of bankrupt farmers in the state, it refuses absolutely to deliver itself, body and soul, over to La Folletteism. The role of our party is to point out to the farmers and the workers that the La Follette illusion is but an illusion and that their needs and demands cannot be served through any such movement. If we do not take an uncompromising stand against the La Follette illusion now, how do you think the masses soon will regard us? Will we be worthy of their confidence? Please remember that this La Follette hysteria is a bubble that will soon burst, and then what? Are we going to tell the farmers and the workers that we were too cowardly, while the illusion was on, to fight against it and advise them of the betrayal by La Follette? No Communist, worthy of the name, can take such a humiliating position.

As to the organization of a Farmer-Labor party in North Dakota, it should be pointed out that the Workers Party took its initiative in organizing such a party started in the state and for the purpose spent hundreds of dollars of the party funds. It has not now abandoned the fight for a Farmer-Labor Party in North Dakota and it is not now making any effort whatever to hinder the organization of this party in the state. Quite the contrary. It is ready and willing at any time to go with any group of farmers and workers who want to break with bourgeois political parties and organizations and build a class party of farmers and workers.

W. P., Only For Farmer.

However, at the present time, outside the Workers' Party membership and a close circle of sympathizers, there is no Farmer-Labor Party organization in North Dakota. This states the actual situation in the line today, and if the Workers' Party now is considering the matter of participating in the state election campaign under its own name, it is for the reason that there is no other party in the state today that has the courage to fight against the pussyfooting tactics of the Nonpartisan League politicians and on the side of the bankrupt farmer.

To those who are now clamoring for the organization of a Farmer-Labor Party in North Dakota we want to say that we will go down the line with them for the organization of such a party immediately, provided they break absolutely with all league politicians and are not afraid, when the situation demands it, to point out that the LaFollette movement is a betrayal of the fundamental interests of the farmers and the workers of the state, and also that they, thru such a party, carry on an education among the farmers and the workers against the system of capitalism.

If we are going to serve the vital needs and demands of the farmers and the workers of North Dakota, it is utterly impossible for us to consider the personal gains and fortunes in the present political campaign in the state of either LaFollette or of Sorlie and company.

New Typo Scale.

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 12—The latest newspaper contract made by Minneapolis Typographical Union (No. 42) provides $51 for a 42-hour week for journeymen on the day shift and $54 nights, effective Nov. 1, 1924. The 7-hour shift is established by the contract. The agreement was made by the Minneapolis Daily Star, which under the name Minnesota Star was at one time a Farmer-Labor daily, and it expires April 30, 1926, the uniform expiration date of all newspaper typo contracts in the city.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 12.—As an answer to open shop advocates, the biggest Labor Day demonstration in San Francisco's history is being planned by organized labor here. Practically every union in the bay district and on the peninsula will be represented in the parade.

WORKERS HEAR COMMUNISTS ON ANTI-WAR DAY

New York Speakers Hold Large Crowd

(Special to the Daily Worker.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—The tenth anniversary of the beginning of the World War was the occasion for a Square. Over 3,000 workers gathered monster openair meeting at Union to hear the message of communism. The meeting started at 5 p. m. as the workers were leaving the shops, many of whom had not heard the Workers Party speaker before. Long before the meeting started, hundreds of people were gathered to await the meeting. The police department aided in the getting of a crowd with their imposing display of force.

About an hour before the meeting started, over 50 police not to mention the plain clothes men, gathered and percolated thru the crowd. About half of the uniformed cops were mounted, while others were in automobiles. Uniformed shock troops gathered around the meeting. Judging from the great number of police, some of the people felt that after all, they really wanted to protect the speakers? After listening to a few of the speakers, some of the police left disappointed at the thought that there was no work for them.

Juliet Stuart Poyntz spoke on the role of the Workers Party in the American Labor movement. She pointed out that only by supporting and American section of the Communist strengthening the Workers Party, the International, can the workers, hope to emancipate themselves.

Real Peace in Russia

Wm. Weinstone spoke on the preparations even now being made for new wars. Europe is sitting on a volcano. In the Balkans war may break out any moment which will undoubtedly drag in France, Germany and England. He pointed out that this "round the world" flyers trip is just a symbol of preparations now being made by the United States for a future war which will be fought in the air. Only in Russia is there a keen attempt being made to put the vast country on a peace footing.

Comrade H. M. Wicks spoke on the betrayal of the Workers by the Socialist Parties of the World. Their voting for the war credits as well as their open support of the war is but a concrete illustration of their attitude as agents of the bourgeoisie. He jointed out that in England with a Labor Government preparations for a war are going on just as previously. Every mention of the Communist International, the Workers Party and our candidates for president and vice-president was the occasion for deafening applause.

Get New Members

Comrade Brahdy's speech was well received by the audience. He pointed out that the candidates of the elephant and jackass parties in the 1924 presidential election represent the class of finance and leisure. That LaFollette who nominated himself for president represents the small business interests. Only the candidates of the Workers Party are workers themselves. W. Z. Foster, the standard bearer of the W. P., has worked as a railroad carman, a member in good standing in his union. In 1918 Foster organized over 100,000 packing-house workers; later, he led 500,000 steel workers against the Gary Steel Trust.

Ben Gitlow, candidate for vice-President, is a member of theA. C. W. who spent two years in jail on a charge of Criminal Anarchy. Brahdy appealed to the workers to support the furtherance of communist work in this country. The result was a collection of $38.50. Chas. Krumbein, District Organizer of the Workers Party, was the last speaker. He made a strong appeal to the audience to join the Workers Party. After he concluded a number of workers made application for membership.

Send in that Subscription Today.

WM. Z. FOSTER

What do you know about him?

When speaking to your neighbors, friends and shopmates and urging them to support and vote for William Z. Foster, the working class candidate for president, at the coming election, you will have to tell them what Foster has done for the labor movement. For this we recommend Foster's book:

"THE GREAT STEEL STRIKE AND ITS LESSONS"

The story of the steel workers fight for organization and recognition, led by William Z. Foster.

AN AUTHOGRAPHED COPY of this wonderful story sent to any address for

$1.00

Regular price of this book is $1.75. Order at once, while the supply lasts! Remember: AN AUTHOGRAPHED COPY.

Literature Department,
Workers Party of America
1113 W. Washington Blvd.,
Chicago, Ill.

COMMUNIST CHILDREN'S COLUMN

WE WANT PLAYGROUNDS.

Not very long ago the city officers tried to tell our parents not to let us children play in the streets. Some children wrote to The DAILY WORKER Children's Column and said that they didn't have any place but the streets to play in.

Now some of those city men are telling us that they will set aside certain streets for children to play in. They will not let autos and wagons go down those streets so that the children won't get hurt when they play there.

Of course we are glad to have even a street roped off for us to play in. There are so many of us children on the block. Almost every room in our house has a family in it, so that makes lots of children to play in the streets. If there is no sign for autos to go another way, some of us get hurt when they come down the street we play on.

But what we children want to know is why the city officers don't give us real playgrounds. We would like grass and trees and a pond to play in and maybe a sand box for our little brothers and sisters. We want more room than just the street to play in. We need a big place so we can play ball.

The street is dirty and sometimes we get sick from playing there. There is never any water except in the gutter when the fire hydrant has been turned on. Then it is only muddy water.

We have heard that in Soviet Russia the children go to the country every summer. Lots of them go and the city pays the way for them. Even when the children live in the city they have parks and playgrounds and gardens.

We asked the boy who helps our Junior Group why the city here didnt take us all out in the country and let us play in the woods and wade in the streams during the summer. He said that in America the men who run the country are just like the men who run the shops and factories and the mines. They want to make a lot of money for themselves and they dont want to give the workers or their children anything.

The Young Worker told us that in Soviet Russia the cities and shops and factories and mines are run by the workers themselves. Everyone has part of all there is. And the workers think first of their children. They are glad to give them playgrounds and the gardens where rich people used to live so that the children can play safely.

The Russian workers, because they run the government themselves, send their children out to the country in the summer. They send lots of other children whose fathers and mothers were killed in the revolution by the enemies to the country also.

The boy from the Young Workers League said we ought to get more children to join our Junior Groups and tell our older brothers and sisters to come into the League and tell our parents to join the Workers Party. Then some day we will have a workers' government like Soviet Russia's in America and all the children would have plenty of fine places to play.

ELSA AND DICK.

PARTY MEMBERS, ATTENTION!

IT HAS recently been brought to the attention of the Central Executive Committee of the party that in certain party branches the practice is in vogue of writing a receipt in the member's dues book for dues payments in place of affixing the regular party dues stamp. This practice is also being followed in some branches in relation to defense stamps.

The Central Executive Committee of the party hereby informs all party members that the party constitution requires that when dues are paid the dues stamps be affixed to the membership book of the member making payment and that there is a decision of the Central Executive Committee to the effect that any party member who permits a secretary to write a receipt in his dues book in place of affixing a stamp is thereby automatically expelled from the party.

In other words, all party members who have in their possession dues books which have receipts written therein in place of stamps affixed, thereby sacrifice their membership in the Workers Party.

The practice of writing receipts in dues cards cannot otherwise be characterized than as a method of cheating the City Central Committee, the District Organizations, the Language Sections and the National Organization, respectively, of their proportion of the dues paid by the party units. Certainly we cannot tolerate a practice of this kind in our organization.

The National Organization has for some time been wrestling with the problem of why it was that with from twenty-five to thirty-five thousand members on our party rolls, as indicated by reports of membership received by the branches, the dues payments of the party reach only twenty thousand. The above is evidently the explanation of this situation.

Such a situation cannot continue for a single moment. Those members who now have cards in their possession with receipts written therein must immediately secure stamps in order to protect themselves from expulsion.

Fraternally yours,
C. E. RUTHENBERG,
Executive Secretary, Workers Party of America.

Res. 1632 S. Trumbull Ave.
Phone Rockwell 5050

MORDECAI SHULMAN
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
701 Association Building
19 S. La Salle Street CHICAGO
Dearborn 8657 Central 4945-4947

ANY KIND
FOR INSURANCE OF
CARL BRODSKY
1123 Broadway, New York City
Tel. Watkins 3626.

RED HAIR ALMOST BASE FOR CHARGES AGAINST SPEAKER

Cockroach Capitalists Cause Reds' Arrest

Admitting that they acted on the instigation of the local business men, the Englewood police broke up yesterday's open air meeting of the Young Workers' League at 62nd and Halsted, and arrested the speakers, comrades George Maurer and Clarence Miller. A large crowd which had gathered to hear the message of the Workers Party, expressed indignation at the action of the police, and greeted with loud approval Comrade Maurer's announcement that the Workers Party would fight out the issue of free speech and that the meetings would be continued every Thursday on the same corner.

Cops in Quandry.

On bringing the comrades to the station, the police found themselves in a quandry as to what charge to prefer. After a futile search thru voluminous penal registrars and documents, and much telephoning, the entire station force held a whispered consultation during which there was much scratching of heads and puckering of brows. Finally, the comrades were apologetically informed that they were being booked on charges of "disturbing the peace." "collecting in a body," and "attracting other people." One comrade commiserating with the police in their perplexity, suggested to the desk sergeant that Miller be booked on a charge of having red hair. The good sergeant was about to gratefully accept the suggestion, but his fellow policemen, after much argumentation, finally persuaded him that it was not exactly a lawful charge. Judging from the glances which their fellows (especially the desk sergeant) cast at the two police who made the arrests, their zeal was looked upon with considerable disfavor. Probably in the future, the police of the Englewood district will not act so hastily upon the promptings of their business men.

After being detained for an hour, Comrade Miller was told to appear at the Juvenile Court for a hearing, on Friday and released. Comrade Maurer was released on bonds of $25.

At the court next morning, the judge dismissed the case, after telling them that they would be pulled in again if they attempted to speak in that neighborhood. If they wanted to speak there without being arrested, they would have to get permission from the Chief of Police.

Musicians Threaten Strike.

Seven hundred union musicians will strike on Labor Day, unless their demand for a ten per cent increase in wages is met by the theatre owners in Chicago. The theatre owners, controlling 35 Chicago theatres, have made a counter offer of 5 per cent increase, but it will not be accepted, according to the union theatre musicians.

PEPPY PROGRAM PUT UP BY N. Y. YOUNG WORKERS

Campaign Actively in Many Ways

(Special to The Daily Worker)

NEW YORK CITY, Aug. 12.—The latest city in the district to be lined up for the revolutionary youth movement with an English branch of the Y. W. L. is Elizabeth, where a branch was organized July 25. This makes the fourth English branch organized in the last two months, the other three being Perth Amboy, West New York, and Hartford. This is not inclusive of the new branches organized in New York City there being at the present time a total of 25 branches functioning, with good prospects for the organization of more branches, in spite of the fact that we are now at the height of the hot season when there is a tendency for the activities to slacken.

In New York City the open-air campaign, while being carried on since the beginning of spring, will open officially on August 11 with twenty-five meetings held during that week These meetings will be constantly increased until we will have every branch of the league hold at least two open-air meetings a week making a total of 50 meetings a week. We are going to participate actively in the Workers Party campaign in addition to fighting for the youth program.

N. B. C. Campaign There.

The campaign against the National Biscuit Company which is being conducted by the National Office will be carried on by the league in New York against the New York factory of the N. B. C. The campaign will in this city be extended against the Sunshine Biscuit company of Long Island where conditions are perhaps worse. Young girls in these factories are making as little as $7 to $10 per week. The New York League will soon publish in the Young Worker the findings of an investigation that is now on in both of these factories. Efforts will be made to organize these workers into a branch of the Food Workers' Union.

The league is now conducting a campaign to make every member a member of a union. Fractions are being organized of all of our comrades in the various unions to fight for the youth demands while at the same time, taking their place side by side with the members of the T. U. E. L. in the fight to make the present unions more effective weapons of the workers in their struggle against the employers of the country. In the industries where there are no unions attempts will be made to organize the unorganized youth.

Attend Classes.

Nor is the educational work of the league being neglected. Arrangements have been made with the Workers' Schools for our comrades to attend all classes given. Our comrades are taking full opportunity of these classes particularly of the class in Public Speaking.

In the field of Junior work, great progress is also noticeable. New groups are being organized steadily. A class for group leaders is being conducted with marked success. The Juniors are very active, being present at all mass meetings of the party league, etc., selling literature; getting in new members to the party, Y. W. L. as well as to their own groups. At the present time they are busily engaged in the distribution of the anti-war leaflets, four of them having been arrested in Brooklyn last Sunday as a direct result of this activity.

Death Comes to Iron Worker On Open Shop Job

(By The Federated Press.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 12—Another iron worker has been killed and more may die because of a falling crane on an open shop job. So many men have been killed on open shop jobs in New York city due to strikebreakers employed by the iron league, that other trades have called their members off the buildings as a measure of protection from accidents. The iron league, a part of the steel trust's combine against labor unions, has lost the first round in its legal fight to kill the International Association of Bridge, Structural and Ornamental Iron Workers' union, in the decision of Judge Lyon denying an anti-picketing injunction.

St. Louis Carpenters Spurn Jurisdictional Award Board Plan

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 12.—The carpenters of St. Louis, largest building craft in the city refuse to have anything to do with a board for jurisdiction awards, to minimize local jurisdictional strikes. The board was proposed by the Associated Building interests, recently formed one big union of building employers. Any dispute which the local group could not adjust would be referred to the national A. F. of L. award board, according to the plan. Some unions are said to have indorsed the proposition. St. Louis has about 13,000 union building tradesmen.

THE VIEWS OF OUR READERS ON LIFE, LABOR, INDUSTRY, POLITICS

Wants LaFollette Leaflet.

To the DAILY WORKER—Enclosed find my check for $10, for which please renew my sub for one year and use the balance for printing your leaflets, etc.

I have been watching for some time to find something in the DAILY WORKER analyzing and criticising LaFollette's scheme. It seems to me that he has made himself the most vulnerable of all the three capitalist candidates. I think an article by some one of your best writers, put in the form of a short crisp leaflet would do more than any other leaflet that can be gotten up to take away his following. He has corralled the treacherous leaders of the workers, but I do not think the rank and file very generally support their leaders in this treachery.

By showing them the rank treachery and hypocrisy of the so-called "progressive movement" a large mass of the workers would abandon the thing and come over to the Communist party.

I think the whole thing is just a collosal fraud, intended solely to head off the workers from consolidating in a true workers' party. "Divide and conquer" has always been the greatest weapon that the ruling classes have used to keep the masses in subjection, and fraud is now the principal means of effecting this purpose.

Mr. LaFollette has been a member of the Republican party ever since he has been in public life and all the offices he has ever had have been thru that party and he has always supported that party and is still a member of it. All thru this long era of public corruption he has been a member of the government and has been cognizant of all this terrible corruption.

What has he done to stop it? Practically nothing.

He speaks of being "unalterably opposed to any class dictatorship" but he has assumed the role of an absolute autocrat. He sent the convention an ironclad ultimatum that they must observe or he would not condescend to become their leader. He insisted on being the whole thing and had everything cut and dried more absolutely than either of the old parties ever had it.

There are a large number of matters in LaFollette's statements, his platform and his political history that I have not had space to write here, but which will occur to your writers to be used in a leaflet that would open the eyes of the workers to the way they are being misled and start them to thinking.

Fraternally yours,
A Veteran.
Soldiers Home, Calif.

Negro Worker Asks of God.

To the DAILY WORKER: I have been reading your paper for the last week or two. Everything I find is true, all but one thing. But I am not disputing that. I would like for you to enlighten me in that: Why do you say there is no God? Will you kindly oblige me by letting me know? Remaining yours, J. W. Rollins, 1126 West 13th St., Chicago.

P. S.—And why I am interested is because I am a working man myself and a colored man and I want to know everything that will help a working man. Thank you for a reply.

(Editor's Note: It would take more time and space than we can give just now to answer our friend, Mr. Rollins, but we suggest that he attend the southside English branch meetings of the Workers Party on the first and third Thursdays of every month at 3201 South Wabash Ave. There are other Negro and white workers there who will be glad to tell him more about the Workers Party and why we do do not believe in God and why we want all workers to join together and overthrow the bosses. Also, Mr. Rollins, keep on reading the DAILY WORKER and tell your fellow workers about it if you like it.)

From Centralia Victim.

To the DAILY WORKER: Since the ad. you published in your paper for my Souvenir booklets brot a number of orders I thought maybe those who bought them would like to know why a class- war prisoner chose nature subjects for pictures instead of the class-struggle.

I am appending the agreement I had in regards to the publishing of the books, to this letter. It explains fully why there are no radical pictures in them. I had quite a time getting the picture that is on the last page. My wife still has two or three hundred books on hand so anyone wanting one can get it from her for 25 cents. The "Introduction" written by Elmer Smith, "The fighting lawyer from Centralia" was printed in the books outside the prison walls. I thank you for the good display you gave the ad. and with best wishes I remain,

Yours for the workers,
Eugene Barnett, No. 9414, Walla Walla, Wash.

* * *

Agreement.

I have received permission from Mr. Pace to allow the printers and the photographer to prepare and publish a 25 page booklet of cartoons drawn by Eugene Barnett with the understanding that the cartons shall not contain any radical or political matter whatsoever. . . .

J. H. Larkin.

* * *

To the DAILY WORKER: I want to thank you for the ad. I received several orders for the booklet from the ad. Thanking you very very much for the same.

Mrs. Eugene Barnett,
Route 2—R St.,
Clarkston, Wash.

Scab Herder.

To the DAILY WORKER: I am writing you to tell you about a scab herder named Fred Hurst, who did a 2-year stretch in Stillwater penitentiary for slugging a professor during the printers' strike in St. Paul, two and a half years ago. Hurst was let out on June 1 and had to get out of the state of Minnesota.

Now he is in Chicago and is with a man named Bill Zeigler, a New York fink who worked for the Bergoff fink agents in the street car strike.

Hurst and Zeigler are now with a man named Adams and are handling the chicken pullers' strike. They have a fink with them named Pat Moran who passed a lot of bad checks and has a police record in Wenugechan, Illinois.

Hurst has been run out of a number of cities for strike breaking. Hurst and Zeigler with Adams have taken steps to run a "co-operative" company and do the hauling for all commission men. This will make union drivers lose the jobs. . . .—A Friend.

Need Noah's Ark.

ROCKFORD, Ill., Aug. 12.—Heavy damage was inflicted at Stockton, Ill., by the cyclone which prostrated wires in Illinois and Iowa Saturday, according to a fragmentary report received here. Early reports stated that Stockton, a town of 1,500 inhabitants, as nearly wiped out by the storm.

Send in that Subscription Today.

MITCHALL'S
INTERNATIONAL ORCHESTRA
Union Music Furnished
For All Occassions
Write for appointments to
M. MITCHALL,
(Teacher of Saxophone)
1640 W. Congress St. Chicago, Ill.

MURINE
FOR YOUR EYES
Night and Morning to keep them Clean, Clear and Healthy
Write for Free "Eye Care" or "Eye Beauty" Book
Murine Co., Dept. H. S., 9 E. Ohio St., Chicago

JAY STETLER'S
RESTAURANT
Established 1901
1053 W. Madison St. Chicago
Tel. Monroe 2241

LABOR CONDEMNS DEFENSE SCHEME IN MINNEAPOLIS

Gompers' Stand Ignored by Labor Assembly

(Special to the DAILY WORKER)

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Aug. 12.—In direct contradistinction to the reactionary stand taken by Samuel Gompers and his official family of mossbacks at the recent meeting of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor in Atlantic City, the Minneapolis Trades and Labor Assembly, the local central body of the A. F. of L., unanimously denounced the proposed "Defense Day Test" as a demonstration of the war-spirit intended to propagandize the youth of this country.

The resolution adopted by the assembly is as follows:

Whereas, Secretary Weeks has issued a call to all the states in the Union to celebrate "Mobolization," or "Defense Test Day," September 12, 1924, and

Whereas, The army, state militias and reserve officers are to be mobilized to parade on said day, and

Whereas, The school children of the nation are to be invited to participate in these war-propaganda demonstrations;

Therefore Be It Resolved, That this Mobilization Day be considered contrary to the spirit of Trade Unionism, contrary to ideals of the American Federation of Labor to propagandize the youth of the United States;

Therefore Be It Further Resolved, That the Minneapolis Trades and Labor Assembly protest against this demonstration of the war-spirit, and

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to Calvin Coolidge, the president of the United States, and to Secretary Weeks, to the Board of Education of this city, and that a fourth copy be spread on the minutes of this Assembly.

What Germany is Credited With.

PARIS, Aug. 12.—Germany is credited with cash payments of 291,000 gold marks indemnity during the six months ending June 30, 1924, in an official Communique issued today in behalf of the Inter-allied reparations commission.

Germany's total reparations in kind, cash and coded property since the armistice is put at 8,405,933,000 gold marks.

The cost of the armies of occupation and the control commission up to June 30, was 2,365,409,000 gold marks.

COKOS BROTHERS
Groceries
Cigars Cigarettes
Tobacco and Candies
1111 W. WASHINGTON ST.

"Trade-Mark" Registered 157417

TAKE NO CHANCES
BUY THE ORIGINAL
THE GENUINE
THE RELIABLE
High Test "No Boil"
Malt Extract

If you want purity— If you want reliability— If you want results— If you want to save time, worry and fuss— Insist on "No-Boil."
It is the original "No Boil" Malt Extract manufactured solely from the choicest Malted Barley.

For Sale by Leading Dealers
HIGH TEST MALT EXTRACT COMPANY
20 East Eighth Street Chicago, Ill.
Phone Wabash 2580

1917 North Western Avenue
6748 South Halsted Street
605 East 63rd Street
5082 Lincoln Avenue
1503 Roosevelt Road
Leiter Store Basement

The World of Labor • Industry & Agriculture

STEEL WORKERS LOOK EAGERLY TOWARD FOSTER

Buying Out Tickets for Mahoning Valley Talks

(Special to The DAILY WORKER)

YOUNGSTOWN, August 12.—The gigantic international mass meeting to be held at Avon Park, Girard, O., Sunday, August 17, with William Z. Foster, Workers Party presidential candidate, as the principal speaker, is attracting great attention among the steel workers and farmers who are extremely anxious to hear this international authority on labor.

The sub-district committee of the Workers Party, directing the meeting, have arranged for an evening meeting at the Ukrainian Hall, 525½ West Rayen avenue, Youngstown, O., on the same date so that those who were unable to attend the afternoon meeting can hear Foster.

One thousand admission tickets have been distributed and are selling like hot cakes. The proceeds are to be used in behalf of the state and national campaign of the Workers Party. A big banner over the park entrance tells the passing workers that Foster is to speak there.

This will be Foster's opening speech among the steel workers and a capacity crowd will turn out.

Avon Park is right on the main highway and car line. Out of town people can take a street car or P. and O. bus in Warren or Youngstown and get off at the park. Plenty of parking space for autos. Good swimming place. Benches and tables for eats.

Javanese Workers, Peasants Eagerly Join Communists

ROTTERDAM, Aug. 12.—The most popular movement in Java is the Communist Party of the East Indies. The masses are rallying to it eagerly, reports the Nieuwe Rotterdamsche Courant. The Sarakat Islam, a nationalist movement, has been almost completely abandoned by its members for the Communist Party.

Thousands of railroad and shop workers, led by fellow workingmen, have joined the Communists. The number of peasants in the movement is increasing daily and the Communist message is making itself a force thru all the villages.

Send in that Subscription Today.

Dinner Pail Epics by Bill Lloyd

I chew the pencil of a bard to tell you of the Nashnull Guard, that thing the boys is axt to join to make 'em strong in limb and loin, so they can go to camp each summer and march behind a band and drummer, and look right smart upon the street with puttees from the knees to feet, and learn to stand, stiff and acute, in giving officer's salute.

It ain't no secret in these days that hardwrung public money pays to keep up all the Nashnull Guards just to protect the rich men's yards. That is to say to guard the locks of their wellfilled deposit box. In other words, to break some strike, when workers do what they don't like. They keep militias on the hop, ashooting for the open shop.

Who is it calls militias out, when boss and workers have a bout? It's bosses every time that cry that they need bayonets standing by.

When strikes break out, first thing they do is wire round to get a crew. A lotta times the plutes conceal that strikebreaking is what they deal, and get the scab behind the fence by putting up a false pretense. They throw barbed wire all around; their private gunmen guard the ground. A few bystanders get a soak; some union man is made to croak. In swift revenge because he died, they say the law is on their side. To papers they give out the news that they has found a bomb and fuse. It ain't no trouble much to find it, as their own planting is behind it.

The governor then gets a wire that all the county is on fire, that profits will go up in smoke unless some feller get a poke, and that His Excellency must call out the Guard or things will bust.

It's simple now as A, B, C's why papers print so much Guard wheeze, for they make heroes of latrine bums who man the open shop's machine guns.

Davis Still Fears Radical Immigrants Entering Great U. S.

(By The Federated Press)

NEW YORK, August 12.—From 50,000 to 100,000 foreign workers are illegally bootlegged into the United States annually, according to James J. Davis, United States Secretary of Labor, writing in the New York World.

"During the fiscal year of 1923, 522,919 immigrans were legally admitted from all sources. Of these, however, only 335,480 were from so-called quota countries. Mexico supplied 63,788 legally admitted immigrants; Canada sent us 117,011. In others words, immigration from countries not restricted last year amounted to more than two-thirds of that from the countries of Europe. A million Mexicans could be admitted next year." Davis then launches into an attack upon Mexicans as "not assimilable." Davis has been the arch exponent of the idea of registration and finger printing of immigrants, which is a part of the general scheme of big business to get a line on all radical workers in the country and deport them without a court trial.

WARSHIP SENT TO SCARE NOVA SCOTIA STRIKERS

British Government Is Scab Protector

By BARBARA FENINGSTON.
(For the Federated Press.)

SYDNEY, Nova Scotia, Aug. 12.—A warship and a force of constabulary have been ordered to proceed to the Humber river district on the west coast of Newfoundland, where 4,000 men employed on a big paper and pulp mill construction job are on strike. The Armstrong-Whitworth company, an English firm, is building a big paper mill, power house, pulp mill and dams.

No reports of violence have come from the strike district, where the men have for some time effectively stopped operations. The sending of the warship and military forces is probably the prelude to an attempt by the employers to break the strike by violence. The immediate pretext of the Newfoundland government for sending the warship was an alleged telegram sent to Premier Monroe by the leader of the strikers threatening the destruction of the plant and burning of the forests unless the premier proceeded to Corner Brook at once to settle the strike.

The strikers demand a 10 per cent increase in wages and improvement in housing and hospital conditions.

The employer propaganda appearing in the Newfoundland and Canadian press indicates that the stage is being set to give the Newfoundland strikers a drastic taste of the class struggle.

The newspapers emphasize stories that the trouble has been stirred up by agitators from the United States.

But the facts are that the native Newfoundlanders employed on the development project started the strike because of their willingness to work them in wages. They claim that British and Canadian workers employed have been receiving a higher wage than native sons. Newfoundlanders have long been regarded as backward because of their willingness to work for a lower wage than that prevailing on the mainland.

The fear of a militant labor movement in the island has no doubt caused the government of Newfoundland to determine that the strike movement must be speedily crushed so the warship and constabulary were rushed to the scene.

Warn Travellers to Russia Against Fake Steamship Agencies

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—Stating that there have been many cases of maltreatment by unscrupulous steamship agents of persons seeking to enter Russia, the Central Bureau of the Society for Technical Aid to the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics, 799 Broadway, New York, announces that it will act as a solicitor for obtaining permission from proper authorities to enter Russia.

Two Miners Die.

PICKNEYVILLE, Ill., Aug. 12—Coal exacted two more lives as its toll when Arthur Presswood and Raymond Stout were killed by black damp in a coal mine near Pickneyville. Presswood leaves a wife and four children.

BUILDING TRADES LABOR RESISTS WAGE SLUMPS

Survey of Many Cities Shows Facts

The general trend of building wages is still upward, according to a national building labor survey made by E. W. Straus & Co., leading financiers in the real estate world. The survey shows that the only general reflection of the slow waning of the building boom is the disappearance of the bonus. Reductions in the wages of skilled craftsmen are noted only in a few smaller cities.

"The upward tendency of wages," says the survey, "is indicated by the fact that during the last 3 months wage increases ranging from 2½ to 12½ cents per hour have been granted to the principal building trades in Kansas City, Cincinnnati, Pittsburgh, St. Louis, Baltimore, Buffalo, Louisville and Des Moines. Other cities in which wage increases have been granted, mostly to plasterers, bricklayers, painters, electricians and carpenters, are Chicago, Dayton, Columbus, Milwaukee, Atlanta, Shreveport, St. Petersburgh, Fla., Youngstown, New Haven, Johnstown, Pa., Erie, Cleveland, Houston, Birmingham and Sharon, Pa."

Wages in 12 Cities.

The hourly rates for carpenters, electricians and building laborers prevailing at the end of 1923 in 12 of the cities mentioned as shown in the monthly review of the department of labor were as follows:

	End of 1923
	Carpenters	Electricians	Laborers
Baltimore	$0.80	$1.00	.35—.40
Birmingham	.75	1.00	———
Buffalo	1.00	1.00	.40—.50
Chicago	1.25	1.25	.82½
Cincinnati	1.10	1.10	.50
Cleveland	1.25	1.25	.87½
Houston	1.00	1.25	.35
Kansas City	1.12½	1.12½	.70
Louisville	1.00	1.00	.50
Milwaukee	.95	1.00	.60
Pittsburgh	1.20	1.25	.60—1.00
St. Louis	1.25	1.25	.67½

Summarizing the country as a whole the Straus survey shows the range of rates paid (the principal occupations in leading cities: bricklayers from $1 to $1.75; masons, 85c to $1.50; painters, 65c to $1.37½; plumbers, 70c to $1.50; electricians 70c to $1.50; hoisting engineers 62½c to $1.67½; and common laborers, 25c to $1.16. The average common labor rate for pick and shovel men was 56c in July as compared with 54c a year ago.

According to the survey 35,000 new workers are required each year to fill the gaps caused by death and withdrawals to other lines of industry.

Artists of Revolution Fired When Protesting Destruction of Work

By ELLA G. WOLFE.
(Special to the DAILY WORKER)

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 12.—When the Union of Communist Painters and Sculptors of Mexico publicly protested against the destruction of their works by a group of students of the National Preparatory School, they were all fired. They were fired because in their protest they accused in plain, fearless language those who were really responsible for the destruction. Who said this was a workers' and peasants' government? If Robert Haberman ever makes such a statement again, tell him he does not know what he is talking about.

Wrong Dope, Butchers!

"Housewives won't buy cheap meat," is the wailing excuse of the United Master Butchers' Association, now in convention here, for the high cost of meat. The butchers say that only fancy cuts are ordered and consequently much good meat is wasted.

Jim Workingman's wife doesn't agree with these butcher bosses at all. She says she can't afford to buy even the poorer cuts of meat more than twice a week and she knows some of her friends who never can afford more than a soupbone with meat prices so high and jobs so scarce for their husbands.

RUSSIA BEARING DROUGHT BURDENS

(Continued from page 1)

the cattle of the peasants, and repayable after his next harvest.

How Russia Helps Herself

So today, instead of appeals going thru the United States for gifts, there is, for instance, a representative of the German Colonist Bank, selling stock. This bank was organized in 1922 in the German Commune, with all its large co-operatives and the State Grain Trust as stockholders, and thousands of peasants also holding shares of stock. For two years it has been doing good work in rebuilding the agriculture of this region, and in working out the problem of the best type of agricultural bank for Soviet Russia. Its capital is guaranteed by the German Volga Republic, a most energetic little state with a thrifty population. And all the money it gets will go into food for the hungry, secured on cattle and payable after the next harvest.

Of course there will be millions who are too poor to give the necessary security, and who must be fed by government relief, but the methods used thru this bank illustrates the general way in which Russia is handling this year's great drought. Not foreign appeals, and not even state charity, except where unavoidable, but as far as posible, self-support and credit.

When the drought was first perceived, bread prices began to sky-rocket thruout the stricken region and horses and cattle were thrown on the market for a song. But a swift opening of the co-operative and state-owned warehouses calmed the populations; bread prices tumbled again to normal, and prices of cattle and horses began again to climb. The fact that government aid is promised, and that cattle are as asset on which one may borrow, has added to the stability. But good horses may still be bought for $25, whereas a year ago they were around $150 and even $200.

It is not entirely drought which causes famine on the Volga; it is partly the very primitive methods of agriculture. In nearly all the children' colonies I visited, or heard of, the harvest, while poor, was still noticeably better than among the peasants.

Youth Is More Efficient.

The John Reed Colony at Cherumshan established only last September, has already raised enough food for its own support, even during this year of drought and with painfully primitive methods.

I talked with the children about it. They had begun with only fifteen boys, who repaired houses and made beds for the others; month by month they added to their number, until there were fifty boys and girls at the time of the spring planting. And now there were seventy-five boys and girls, with enough harvest for all of them.

Yet the peasants with only four or five in their families, have not enough to eat they told me.

"How do you do so much better," I asked. "By better methods of agriculture?"

"No," they answered. "Next year or sometime we will have better methods. But this year we had to make our own ploughs in our own carpenter and blacksmith shop; our methods could be no better than the peasants."

Plough Instead of Church.

Then how. . . . "We worked harder," they answered. "During the Easter holidays and the many holidays after Easter, when the peasants were going to church and getting drunk, we were ploughing. We planted first of anyone in the district. And the day after our seed was in the ground, there came the best rain of the spring. Now the peasants are all saying: 'God loves work.'"

This is the propaganda that the children colonies are carrying now to the peasant. Some day soon we hope it will be a better propaganda, not merely more work, but of easier methods. For these children's colonies are one of the most hopeful things in Russia. They are full of the real communal spirit, at least in many of them that I know. If given enough technical aid, if they are not suffocated under the vast numbers of homeless children, (Saratov Government reports 19,000 still uncared for) they will be centers of light in the future Russia.

Russia Feels Her Strength

No general appeal is going to be made this year, I think, for foreign aid, in spite of all the needs in Russia. For Russia feels her strength. I was talking to Meinichanski, head of the Moscow labor unions. He told me how the budget of the Moscow Schools ran short this year, and it was decided that the thousands of children in the childrens' homes of the city, would have to give up their summer in the country. Every city children's home has also its summer villa, but this year they could not afford to go.

"But our trade unions knew about it," he went on. "So without even any appeal to our members, the board just put its hand down in the surplus funds of the union and sent those extra thousand children to the country. And when we found that ordinary children's homes were giving out less money for food than our special trade union homes spent, we made good that difference also, so that all the children's homes of Moscow might get plenty of food thru the summer."

Unions Support the Kids.

Imagine trade unions strong enough to supplement the state school budget without even issuing special appeals to their members. But the unions are the richest bodies in Russia for every sort of welfare work. Even as I was talking, a secretary came in to Meinichanski with the check for him to sign. He signed it and then turned to me.

"Forty-two thousand roubles," he said. "About $23,000. Every month for four months of the summer, that is what we hand out to the children's homes of Moscow. When I was a trade unionist in New York we didn't have funds like that!"

He told me he was entirely against any money-raising abroad for Russia. "The Pope wanted to send twenty thousand dollars to our students. Well, our students need money, that's certain, but I made a counter-proposition. The trade unions of Moscow will do it, and then we will not need the money of the Pope."

I asked if he would oppose all help from abroad. You have "Friends of Children," organized in every city in Russia. Do you object to foreign friends? . . . "Not to FRIENDS," he said quickly. "Friendly gifts are another matter. What we object to is charity from people who do not love us."

So that is why, in spite of the great drought this year, there will be no foreign appeals. The Russian workers, the Russian state budget will dig deep; that's all. But the failure of the harvest thru six governments and parts of four more is a hard blow to the hopes of swift progress, for all of that. It makes it harder to hold the rouble steady; it makes it harder to bring in machinery and equipment; it makes everything a little harder for a year. But it makes no lasting difference in the steady climb of Russia.

WAGES AND WORK ARE NOW HITTING IT ON ONE LUNG

Central States Showing Steady Decline

By JAY LOVESTONE.

The downward trend in industrial and commercial activities thruout the country continues in evidence in the Chicago Federal Reserve district, embracing the states of Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, Michigan and Indiana. This is the opinion of the Seventh Federal Bank District, with its headquarters in Chicago.

The official August report states that last month saw a continuation of dullness in the demand for coal in Illinois and Indiana. About 60 per cent of the Indiana mines are reported idle.

Employment and Wages Sink.

There was a further decline during the month ending June 15 in the industrial employment in the tier of states. The total employment of 370,000 workers investigated on that date showed a decline of 3.7 per cent in men, and 5.6 per cent in earnings.

There was also revealed a further curtailment in the automobile production and distribution. Passenger cars produced were the fewest since December 1922. The output of trucks reached the lowest level since February 1923.

Steel Production Falling.

At Chicago, steel buying was extremely light. Input production in the district dropped steadily.

Prospective building continues to show signs of a gradual recession. The permits granted in forty-nine cities of the district indicate a decline of nearly twenty per cent in number and almost ten per cent in value, from the preceding month.

In Chicago the production and distribution of men's clothing during the past six months of the year were below the figures of the corresponding period in 1923. Fall orders show the same unfavorable tendency. Manufacturers are making little for stock. Retailers' orders reveal no sign of an early increase. Sales of clothing and suits during the first six months of the year were behind the same period last year.

Jobless in LaFollette Paradise.

In Wisconsin, according to the latest reports of the State Industrial Commission, employment conditions are increasingly unfavorable. The industries classified as manufacturing indicate a loss of four per cent in the number of employes and a fall of nearly five per cent in the average weekly earnings for the period May 15 to June 15.

During this time the volume of employment in wholesale trade decreased almost six per cent. The sales forces in retail trade show a loss of more than one per cent.

PITTSBURGH, PA.
DR. RASNICK
DENTIST
Rendering Expert Dental Service for 20 Years
446 SMITHFIELD ST., Near 7th Ave.
1801 CENTER AVE., Cor. Arthur St.

OUR DAILY PATTERNS

A COMFORTABLE POPULAR STYLE FOR A "WORK" DRESS.

4840. Striped seersucker was chosen in this instance with trimming of white linene. This is a good model for linen, gingham or percale. It is also good for jersey cloth or crepe. The width of the skirt at the foot is 1¾ yard. The short sleeve is comfortable. The wrist length sleeve may be finished with buttons and buttonholes or snap fasteners at the outer short seam opening.

The pattern is cut in 7 sizes: 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48 inches bust measure. A 38-inch size requires 4⅛ yards of 36-inch material. For facings of contrasting material as illustrated, ⅝ yard is required.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in silver or stamps.

Send 12c in silver or stamps for our UP-TO-DATE FALL AND WINTER 1924-1925 BOOK OF FASHIONS.

A STYLISH GOWN.

4837. Figured foulard is here illustrated. The model is also good for printed crepe and voile, for crepe satin, kasha, satin or taffeta. The flounces on the skirt may be omitted.

The pattern is cut in 6 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. A 40-inch size requires 4⅝ yards of 40-inch material. The width at the foot is 1¾ yard.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in silver or stamps.

Send 12c in silver or stamps for our UP-TO-DATE FALL AND WINTER 1924-1925 BOOK OF FASHIONS.

Address: The Daily Worker, 1113 W. Washington Blvd., Chicago, Ill.

NOTICE TO PATTERN BUYERS—The patterns being sold thru the DAILY WORKER pattern department are furnished by a New York firm of pattern manufacturers. Orders are forwarded by the DAILY WORKER every day as received, and they are mailed by the manufacturer direct to the customer. The DAILY WORKER does not keep a stock of patterns on hand. Delivery of patterns ordinarily will take at least 10 days from the date of mailing the order. If pattern is not received by that time a letter should be written to the manufacturer. If no reply is received within a reasonable time, write us and we will take the matter up for you.

Send in that Subscription Today.

Sign on the Dotted Line!

This will insure you a prompt monthly delivery of the only journal giving a keen, reliable analysis of the latest developments in the world's first workers' government.

You will enjoy it even more with the large number of interesting photographs that appear only in the pages of

SOVIET RUSSIA PICTORIAL

SUBSCRIPTION

$2.00 a year $1.00 six months

SOVIET RUSSIA PICTORIAL
19 South Lincoln Street,
Chicago, Ill.

Name _____

Street & No. _____

City _____ State _____

UNCLE WIGGILY'S TRICKS

A LAUGH FOR THE CHILDREN

THE DAILY WORKER

Published by the DAILY WORKER PUBLISHING CO., 1113 W. Washington Blvd., Chicago, Ill. (Phone: Monroe 4712)

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

By mail:

$6.00 per year $2.50...6 months $2.00...3 months

By mail (in Chicago only):

$8.00 per year $4.50...6 months $2.50...3 months

Address all mail and make out checks to THE DAILY WORKER 1113 W. Washington Blvd. Chicago, Illinois

J. LOUIS ENGDAHL, WILLIAM F. DUNNE } Editors

MORITZ J. LOEB Business Manager

Entered as second-class mail Sept. 21, 1923 at the Post-Office at Chicago, Ill., under the act of March 3, 1879.

Advertising rates on application.

"Revolution" by Injunction

It will astonish many members of the I. W. W. to know that a group of men, formerly members of the General Executive Board of that organization, have gone to the capitalist courts with a plea for an injunction that will turn over to them the offices of the organization.

This is not the first time that labor unions have asked for injunctions. But always, heretofore, such a procedure has been followed by "safe and sane," conservative leaders, who profess to believe in the impartiality of the kind of justice dispensed in the courts of America. To ask for an injunction from American judges means to declare that one believes the courts to be above all class influences, to believe that a worker can get justice by pleading before the tools of the ruling class of the country. Even the conservative unions have learned by bitter experience that injunctions do not work for the workers, but only for the exploiters.

How much more surprising it is then to see leading members of a supposedly revolutionary organization taking their differences with their fellows to a judge to settle! And also, when such an action is led by men like Rowan, who was one of the "bitter enders" in Leavenworth on the matter of paroles and commutations, claiming for that reason the support of revolutionary elements in the I. W. W., surprise passes its ordinary bounds and becomes suspicion.

Any man who drags a labor organization of any kind before the capitalist courts, whatever pretext may be used to excuse the action or whatever the justice of his grievance may be, is without the first elements of a sound proletarian class consciousness. He denies the class struggle and throws the fate of himself and his organization into the hands of natural enemies. He forfeits the confidence of all thinking workers.

The ousted members of the G. E. B. of the I. W. W. have declared by appealing to the courts that they do not want the issue decided by the rank and file membership. Instead of insisting upon a convention to settle the dispute, the only thing that would protect the interests of the members, they have appealed to the capitalist courts. By their action they have completely outlawed themselves in the I. W. W. and before the working class.

A "Socialist" Union Official

These union officials who call themselves "socialists" have to work hard to demonstrate to a benighted world that, really, they are no different from anyone else, while at the same time they try to keep the support of those for whom "socialism" is a serious thing. One such official is Thomas Sweeney, secretary of the Tailors' Union. In the current issue of the journal of that union Sweeney assures his trusting followers that he has never belonged to any party but the socialist. He prints Debs' endorsement of LaFollette as proof that he is a good socialist still. Then, to keep the balance even, and not to offend anyone, he reprints a long tirade against Communism as "anti-American"—from Hearst's Chicago Herald-Examiner.

Sweeney is typical of his tribe of "socialists." Hearst or Debs, it is all the same to them, just so it fits in with their immediate purpose. Sweeney is sore at the Communists because they support Sillinsky, the candidate who promises to get a very big vote in the coming election in the Tailors' Union. Sweeney doesn't realize that Sillinsky is rolling up such a large following largely because the membership is disgusted with just such tactics as Sweeney is using in The Tailor at the present time. So he impartially uses Debs as a club for his left hand and Hearst for his right. This is "socialism," 1924 style.

Davis Explains

Mr. Davis wishes to assure the American voters that they may vote for him in November with the deepest assurance that he has severed all connections with Wall Street. He has, of course, sold his services to Wall Street in the past, but that was only one of the incidents of a professional career. He is now ready to sell his professional abilities to the Democratic Party in just the same manner, having cut himself off the payroll of Morgan.

Such innocence is touching! Who can refuse to vote for Davis when he, himself, assures the world that he is pure of heart? Of course, there will be cynical workers who, misled by the awful Communists, will say that Davis belongs to Wall Street whether he is selling himself for an immediate price or not. Others will not believe that Davis has severed even his formal relations with Morgan but that he accepts the candidacy as the direct representative of his boss. In our moments of sin we incline to the latter interpretation ourselves. All of which Mr. Davis would brush away with his "explanation" that, of course, he was Morgan's best man, but he is not that kind any more.

An Innocent Abroad

President-elect Calles of Mexico is preparing to visit England and several of the continental countries. Much significance is attached to the Mexican leader's visit at this time for two reasons. First of all is the fact that General Calles is soon to assume the foremost position in Mexican governmental affairs. Secondly, the trend of political events in Europe recently manifesting itself in the rise of so-called labor and liberal governments like those of MacDonald in England and Herriot in France, adds further importance to the political character of the visit.

General Plutarcox Calles was elected President of Mexico by the combined support of the laboring and peasant masses. Calles has now and then flirted with workers' demands in the southern republic. On different occasions, the president-elect has even coquetted with the revolutionary agrarian movement, in the land of our southern neighbor. Now, about to assume office, it appears that General Calles is planning to utilize his European trip as a sort of a post graduate course in practical politics and state administration.

We have no illusions about Mr. Calles and his European tour. We are convinced that the Mexican workers and exploited farmers have still less illusion, because they have already seen enough of him to warrant their being on guard, to necessitate their utmost preparation to defend their hard earned rights. Mr. Calles has boasted that he takes his inspiration from Samuel Gompers. Under these circumstances there is little that MacDonald or Herriot will be able to teach him in the art and science of administering the country ostensibly in behalf of the working masses—but actually in the interests of the financial and industrial magnates. At best, Mr. Calles will improve his ability to hide his readiness to surrender to pressure of international capitalists and to hide this surrender behind meaningless abstract democratic phrases.

The Mexican workingmen and dispossessed farmers would do well to watch their step against the "educated" Calles after his return. Only the program of the Mexican Communists holds out hope and salvation to the exploited masses of the country. Not for one moment should the Mexican agrarian party and the industrial workers surrender their arms or the land, little of it as has been given them. If the Mexican workers and farmers are to preserve their rights and to win more victories they must stand fast by their right to their arms and the land. Any attempt by Calles upon his return to disarm them must be stoutly resisted.

Send in that Subscription Today.

More About Defense Day

The more we look into the grand military rehearsal scheduled for September twelfth, Defense Day, the more we are convinced that Mr. Gompers will be in respectable anti-union, labor-hating company in his indorsement of the militarist plans of our exploiters.

In the New York district the ordnance office of the War Department will be ably assisted in its defense maneuvers by Elbert H. Gary, Charles M. Schwab, General Guy E. Tripp, Samuel McRoberts, and others.

Colonel James L. Walsh, chief of the district in charge of all these operations, is entitled to a vote of thanks by the working class for his frank and enlightening comment on the character and purpose of Defense Day. In his plea for these militarist gestures, Colonel Walsh emphasized their value in helping the rapidity of the manufacture of up-to-date arms and ammunition.

In the light of this estimate, by an expert, of the whole scheme, it is particularly instructive to note Mr. Gary's reasons for officially joining the demonstration. Mr. Gary thus said of the Defense Day plans: "On December fourteenth, 1923, the Board of Directors of the Iron and Steel Institute pledged the active efforts of the members of the Board, in the maintenance of conditions adequate for the military defense of this country. The fact that Mr. Schwab and myself have undertaken to assist local government representatives is only an instance of the determination of the industry to carry out this pledge."

The American workingmen and farmers who have had their taste of Pittsburgh Plus and Minneapolis Minus have had the opportunity in the last war to get a taste of Gary and his ilk translating such pledges into fabulous rates profits running into several thousand per cent in some instances. We have also seen these pledges further crystallized into the most brazen excuse for perpetuating the rankest sort of industrial feudalism in the steel areas.

Gompers may be used to such company. As a matter of fact his record will show that he functions best when he works shoulder to shoulder with the Garys and Schwabs. But the great mass of workingmen will not be fooled into supporting the imperialist schemes of their bosses, Gompers, Gary, Schwab, and other such friends of labor notwithstanding.

Send in that Subscription Today.

When reading Das Kapital take care that your pineal gland does not become ossified. That happens to people whose mental digestive organs are out of gear. You might wind up in the Proletarian Party.

READ THE DAILY WORKER

A new member for the Workers Party is a new recruit to the revolutionary army. Become a recruiting sergeant for Communism.

READ THE DAILY WORKER

Stop the Split in the I. W. W.! Let the Rank and File Decide!

(Statement by the Red International Affiliation Committee.)

THE I. W. W. faces an immediate crisis. There is no disguising the fact that a ruinous split has begun. The faction of the G. E. B. which was suspended by the Doyle-Fisher administration and ejected from headquarters by a rank and file committee has not only set up rival headquarters, but actually has gone into the capitalist courts and asked for an injunction to give it possession of the organization and control of its property and funds.

Defeat These Injunctionites!

Whatever the constitutional technicalities these injunctionites may have had to justify their previous position, this ignoring of the rank and file, this scorning of the fact that ballots were being issued for a special convention to let the rank and file decide, this turning to the courts of the capitalist class for help instead of appealing to the I. W. W. membership, all this places these injunctionites beyond the sympathy of every class conscious worker in the I. W. W. or outside it.

In this crisis the members of the I. W. W. who are Communists and adherents of the Red International of Labor Unions are gravely concerned for the unity of the I. W. W. Obviously, if the rank and file does not act, and act quickly, the split will deepen down thru the industrial unions, divide the branches and tear the I. W. W. to pieces from top to bottom. We urge that the rank and file everywhere demand a special convention, and that every shred of red tape be brushed aside and delegates representative of the entire membership be called into convention at once to give the I. W. W. a set of officers that cannot be the subject of dispute. Only in this way can the I. W. W. be saved from complete wreck and ruin.

But let no one think that the fundamental confusion of ideas, of which this controversy is but the climax, can be settled simply by the removal of some individuals from office! This is a dangerous delusion. Unless the full membership can at once express themselves in a special convention, at which the ideological questions can also be solved, the cleavage which has already begun to divide the industrial unions will tear them in two. Already the press is perishing for lack of finances withheld by puzzled or factional sources in the branches. The Communist and Red Internationalists are flatly opposed to this wrecking of the I. W. W. and call upon the rank and file to act quickly and insistently.

Merely One Symptom of Confusion.

This controversy, ruinous as it is, is only one sign of many showing the confusion of ideas so prevalent thru out the I. W. W. of recent years. If we do not recognize this fact, we will be helpless to solve the present problem of preventing a split, and utterly unable to avoid similar dangers in the future. It is time for a thoro examination of our prejudices and policies if the life and health of the I. W. W. is to be the first consideration.

Under the plausible guise of defending ourselves from persecution, a philosophy of Tolstoian non-resistance, of pacifism and despicable liberalism, all practicing a worship of ancient bourgeois abstractions like "democracy" and "free speech" has been spread like poison thru the I. W. W. propaganda. The injunctionites have now appealed for help to this capitalist "democracy" and the previous I. W. W. propaganda of legalism will now aid these splitters. But the present administration is not without fault. Doyle has continued this vicious pacifist propaganda, spreading these bourgeois ideas to workers who come to the I. W. W. seeking instruction and leadership in waging class war against the bosses. These ideas have weakened the fighting spirit of our membership, who, as workers, if they mean to be free, or even to defend themselves against extreme oppression, are compelled to wage class war on the bourgeoisie, overthrow and suppress it in both government and industry, and establish the complete supremacy—the dictatorship—of the workers, the proletariat.

This is the viewpoint of the revolutionary unionists all over the world who are affiliated with the Red International of Labor Unions. It is because that they realize that, in order to attain such a goal, the proletariat must be united both nationally and internationally, they oppose every split in the ranks of any genuine union. For the same reason they oppose the traditional policy of the I. W. W., which has, incidentally, been proven a failure for itself, of splitting other unions in order to organize, or try to organize, itself. For exactly the same reason Communists and Red Internationalists sharply oppose any effort to split the I. W. W., and call upon the rank and file to take the initiative and save it from dismemberment.

"No Revlutionary Duty."

Another sign of the general confusion which has brought the I. W. W. to this brink of ruin is the circulation by some of its foremost spokesmen of the idea that the I. W. W. limits its aims to mere organization for the every-day struggle within the capitalist system and, in a far distant future, to carry on production after capitalism, by some means not explained, will have been overthrown. To set up this position is to limit ourselves in practice to purely job unionism, to ignore the fact that our membership are members also of the working class, whose historic mission it is to overthrow capitalism. In fact, this is to deny the revolutionary struggle altogether, to set our membership to thinking that they have no revolutionary duty to unite with and to support the workers of other lands in their fight for power, or even to join with other revolutionary workers of this country to consciously plan and fight for the overthrowal of capitalism in America. Communists and Red Internationalists unalterably oppose this sidetracking of workers' revolutionary program into channels that are harmless to capitalism.

Craft, Industrial and National Patriotism.

Still another tendency closely related to the split now dividing the I. W. W. is the so-called "industrial union patriotism," which is the same breed as the craft union prejudices of conservative unions. Deluded into thinking that one union can get more by "going it alone," the confused leadership of any such union steers it straight to defeat and ultimate destruction. This stupid notion has grown up and flourished under the leadership of those I. W. W. officials, both past and present, who carried this same sectionalism to the extreme by contending that affiliation and solidarity with the revolutionary workers of other lands did not matter! They have opposed and expelled members of the I. W. W. for advocating affiliation to the Red International of Labor Unions. It is clear that if the I. W. W. were so affiliated it would profit from the collective wisdom and experience of revolutionary unionists of other lands. We must recognize that our membership is only about 40,000 and that we are only ridiculous in setting ourselves up as not only the labor movement of America, but of the entire world. We must have unity in the industry, unity nationally and unity internationally.

Misrepresentation.

But the Red International of Labor Unions has been grossly misrepresented to the I. W. W. rank and file. Among the injunctionites are those who have beaten up and expelled I. W. W. members whose desire for working class unity prompted them to advocate affiliation with the R. I. L. U. Even in the administration are those who last May suppressed the friendly appeal of the Executive Bureau of the R. I. L. U. to the I. W. W. membership, asking for affiliation and giving a thoro explanation of the program of the R. I. L. U. Even news of the receipt of this message to the membership was not allowed in the I. W. W. press. The Doyle-Fisher administration is seriously infringing on the needs of the membership and ordinary respect for other working class organizations by such behavior. In fact, it went further and coddled and protected these injunctionites, at the same time while repelling the friendly efforts of the Communists for unity. But when this crisis is upon the organization, the membership will see that the adherents of the Red International, the Communists in the I. W. W., will oppose disruption and fight with any strength for workers against it. But they insist that any administration should be required to cease censorship and misrepresentation of the Red International.

Some Illusions.

What are some of the illusions the I. W. W. has about the R. I. L. U.? One is that it seeks to "liquidate" the I. W. W. and leave in its place only out-of-date craft unions. This is pure falsehood. The R. I. L. U. considers industrial unions as of primary importance to the revolutionary struggle. It is opposed to a split in the I. W. W. just as it is opposed to splits in the mass trade unions.

Because the revolutionary workers were properly disgusted by the reformism and despicable parliamentarism of the old "socialist" parties, the I. W. W. naturally acquired a prejudice against all working class political parties. Altho organically separate from the Communist International of Communist parties, the Red International does not share this syndicalist prejudice against them. It knows that the Communist parties are pursuing a really revolutionary program on the political field, which is complementary and is mutually necessary to the struggle of the revolutionary unions on the industrial field. It is the law, moreover, of the Communist International, that activity in parliaments must serve the struggle outside in the industries, that the aim is to overthrow parliaments altogether, destroy the entire bourgeois government machinery and establish control of both industry and state in the hands of workers' and farmers' councils—soviets. The illusion of the I. W. W. does not distinguish between such a Communist Party of chosen, disciplined workers united to the last man on the idea of realizing this goal, and the old discredited opportunist and reformist "politics."

Dilution Must Be Met in an Organized Way.

The present crisis in the I. W. W. is evidence of the need of the Red International's program of co-operation and concerted action with the revolutionary parties of Communism. The old revolutionary I. W. W. of former years has been diluted with a large membership of workers who do not fully understand the revolutionary struggle. The whole organization has been led into confusion thereby, because, as the Rank and File Committee of Chicago states, "the rebels" have not "managed to hang together and keep up revolutionary educational work." When they do so, they necessarily organize in exactly the same manner and for exactly the same purpose as the revolutionary workers in the A. F. of L. and other unions are organized in the Trade Union Educational League. The revolutionary workers in the I. W. W. who wish to keep it on a revolutionary path will find it greatly beneficial, even imperative, to organize definitely among themselves, and then formulate joint programs of action together with the revolutionary workers in other unions. Until this is done, no ejection of persons or doctoring of constitutions will permanently benefit the I. W. W.

The Rank and File Must Stop the Split.

But the halting of the split is the first necessity. Ballots for a special election and convention are in the field. The Red International Affiliation Committee favors a sweeping away of all red tape and rules which stand between an immediate convention and a delegation to it which will represent the whole membership. There must be no shutting out of really representative delegates. There must be obedience to the decision of the convention. A set of officials which cannot be subject to dispute must be chosen. Nor will the duty of the rank and file be completed until they have instructed their delegates to introduce and vote for a resolution instructing the chosen officials to begin negotiations to affiliate the I. W. W. to the Red International of Labor Unions.

Let the rank and file decide!

Defeat the injunctionites who would ignore the membership and resort to the capitalist courts.

Elect revolutionary officials!

Stop the split!

We call for an immediate and full convention to solve the crisis in the I. W. W. and to affiliate it to the Red International!

For Unity and Revolution.

The Red International Affiliation Committee.

Harrison George, Chairman.
Mike Novak,
H. R. Richards.

1514 West Madison St., Chicago, Ill.

AS WE SEE IT

By T. J. O'FLAHERTY.

(Continued from page 1)

vin Coolidge for a row of drunken prohibition agents. One would excuse such rot were it offered to a Kloncilium of the Ku Klux Klan or some such collection of morons, but when dripped in front of such men as George Brennan, T. J. Walsh, and Clem Shaver, it is questionable whether Mr. Davis is not entitled to the attentions of an alienist. This is part of what he says to a grown-up gathering: "The City of Clarksburg is not so large as either New York or Chicago, and does not rise as high in the world as Denver or sit as level as Detroit among her plains. And yet you will find here a fair cross section of those elements, old and new, which go to make up America . . ." And so on. Comment is unnecessary.

* * *

LOUIS BOUDIN is the theoretical expression of the disappointment of J. B. Salutsky, who edits the American Labor Monthly. Mr. Boudin is a Marxist. He admits it and in proof of his claim, hardly ever appears in public without having a small library under his arm. But it is to be feared that the Marxian philosophy never got into Boudin's head, by the front door. The woods are full of perverters of Marx these days, but, most of them know they are perverts, which is a tribute to their heads if not to their hearts. But evidently Boudin does not know that he has his feet in the manure trap, because he takes pride in his Marxian understanding. His favorite indoor sport is picking flaws in the policy of the Workers Party of America, which accepts the leadership of the Communist International. Like a philosophical eagle, Mr. Boudin maintains a position so far above the battle that the inevitable happened. Not being a genuine eagle, from his lofty perch he mistook a piece of offal for a plump and juicy chicken, with the result that his Marxian head needs fumigating.

* * *

THE tragedy happened in the August issue of The Labor Monthly on page eleven. In the course of an article entitled "On Current Matters," Mr. Boudin, hails the victory of the left wing of the bourgeoisie in France and looks toward the victory of similar elements in Germany, with the aid of the Socialist pacifist government of England, as an agency of reconstruction. But let the gentleman speak: "Fortunately for the world the victory of the Labor Party in England intervened before the swing to the right in Germany gathered its full strength. And the chances are that had the French elections taken place before those in Germany, the movement to the right in that country would have been completely arrested, giving the world the first chance it has had since the nightmare which has followed the war had settled upon it to start upon the work of real reconstruction instead of continuing in 'peace' the work of destruction commenced by the war."

IF this fellow is not a Social-Democrat, there is no such animal. Similar comment on the so-called swing to the left in France could be read in Oswald Garrison Villard's Nation, in James Oneal's New Leader and in the New York World. "Reconstruction," says Boudin. What kind of reconstruction? Capitalist reconstruction or reconstruction on a Communist basis? The Proletarian Party holds that the Communists should not incite the petty bourgeoisie against the big capitalists and thus thwart the speedy and desirable gobbling up of the former by the latter. Let evolution take its course, say the New Marxians. Perhaps Boudin's desire for capitalist reconstruction is a new system of Marxism that will be placed on the market one of those days as "A Philosophy of the American Labor Movement." In which case gas masks would be in great demand.

* * *

SOCIAL pacifism with a vengeance. And this is the gentleman who lies so persistently over the Workers Party's attitude toward La Follette. Boudin goes on to promise with the French and British governments because of the evil legacy they inherited from Poincare. He fears the German reactionaries will be able to frustrate the efforts at reconciliation on the part of MacDonald and Herriot. Mr. Boudin's social pacifist soul may have peace. The German reactionaries have accepted the Dawes plan and all is well. Boudin's liberal socialist friends in Europe are united on the Dawes plan. It is a plan for capitalist reconstruction at the expense of the German workers. We are informed by Boudin that these same accursed reactionaries frustrated the peaceful efforts on the part of the German social-democrats. Indeed! We were of the opinion that the pacific intentions of the German social democrats were exemplified in shooting Communists, thousands of whom are still in German prisons and in acting as the hangmen for these same "reactionaries" who now rule Germany. The pacific intentions of Noske, Scheidemann and Ebert. Phew! That is even worse than could be expected from the New Leader.

* * *

AFTER expressing fear that the German reactionaries may fail to properly respond to the conciliatory efforts of MacDonald, Herriot & Co., thus weakening the positions of the Herriot and MacDonald governments, and thus rendering the entire swing to the left in the allied countries abortive as far as world peace and reconstruction are concerned, Mr. Boudin takes his head out of the cess pool after issuing the following ejaculation: "These are critical times, and it behooves all lovers of peace to be on their guard and to do their duty." Admiral Nelson of Britain issued a similar slogan at the battle of Trafalgar. There is Marxism "made easy" by Louis Boudin. He who expects peace under capitalism is not a Marxian, but a political Simple Simon or else a knave.

'TIS OF THEE

In the town of San Pedro, you know,
Every man has his sovereign rights,
They are never denied and we view them with pride
As Democracy's symbols and lights.

For instance, we all are allowed
To speak out our thoughts man to man,
We can stand on our feet and speak on the street,
If we don't mind a year in the can.

Or else we can meet in a hall
And sing till we're quite out of breath,
And bother no one and have lots of fun,
If we like being scalded to death.

If a newspaper pleases our mind
We can order a lot from the shop
And sell the fine sheets on the highways and streets
If we want to be clubbed by a cop.

If the district attorney is foul
And the judge is the lowest of men,
We can speak out this news as loud as we choose
And promptly get sent to the pen.

There was never a city like this,
And whoever don't like it is a slob.
He is free to endorse that opinion of course
And get himself bounced on the knob.

San Pedro, California, 1924.

YALE UNIVERSITY
NOV 2 1924
LIBRARY

THE DAILY WORKER RAISES THE STANDARD FOR A WORKERS AND FARMERS' GOVERNMENT

THE DAILY WORKER

Entered as Second-class matter September 21, 1922, at the Post Office at Chicago, Illinois under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Communist Candidates
For President:
WILLIAM Z. FOSTER.
For Vice-President:
BENJAMIN GITLOW.

Vol. II. No. 126. SUBSCRIPTION RATES: In Chicago, by mail, $8.00 per year. Outside Chicago, by mail, $6.00 per year. THURSDAY, AUGUST 14, 1924 290 Published Daily except Sunday by THE DAILY WORKER PUBLISHING CO., 1113 W. Washington Blvd., Chicago, Ill. Price 3 Cents

STRIKERS DEAF TO BOSSES' LIES

Textile Trust Hit By New Jersey Walkout

GARVEY DAMPER ON KLUX FIGHT IS CRITICISED

Workers Party Urges Militant Attitude

Failure of the convention of the Universal Negro Improvement Association, now meeting in New York, to take a determined attitude in opposition to the Ku Klux Klan, is criticised in a statement issued by the Central Executive Committee of the Workers Party of America and released for publication today.

The statement in full reads:

To the Fourth Annual International Convention of the Universal Negro Improvement Association (Meeting at Liberty Hall, New York):

BROTHERS and sisters: We address you on the question of your attitude toward the Ku Klux Klan.

You have already passed a set of two resolutions on the Ku Klux Klan, setting out the position that you intend to maintain toward that organization, as follows:

1. "Resolved, That the fourth international convention of the Negro peoples of the world regards the alleged attitude of the Ku Klux Klan to the Negro as fairly representative of the feelings of the majority of the white race towards us, and places on record its conviction that the only solution of the racial situation is that of the Universal Negro Improvement Association, namely, the securing for ourselves as speedily as possible a government of our own on African soil."

2. "Moved, That it shall be the policy of this Universal Negro Improvement Association to protest.

(Continued on page 2)

AS WE SEE IT

By T. J. O'FLAHERTY

AMONG the things the British Labor Government could have done says the New York Nation, is the publication of war documents. But such action would expose the secrets of His Majesty's government and that would never do for MacDonald, who is a good Christian-socialist, which means that he will keep faith with the capitalist class even tho he may be obliged to betray the workers a little once in a while. Only the wicked and class-conscious bolsheviks were so lacking in decency as to let the skeleton out of the Czar's closet even before the Czar himself became a skeleton.

* * *

Another civil war is threatened in Mexico, this time over the right of women to have their hair bobbed and to wear knickers. This is surprising, considering that Mexico has a reputation for pulling off revolutions without giving the regular thirty days notice. It is reported that Samuel Gompers called the matter to the attention of President Calles when the latter addressed the executive committee of the Federation in Atlantic City. Gompers is said to have invited Calles to review one of the many beauty contests that take place in Atlantic City hoping that the sight might induce him to look with more favor on the efforts of Mexican girls to free themselves from the chains of convention. Gompers gets most of his inspiration on the board walk.

* * *

Otto Kahn, the banker, delivered a pretty address on art at the annual dinner of the American Federation of Arts held in Washington on May 26 of this year. Mr. Kahn is a subsidiser of art. He says art is valuable to the people and by the people he means the bankers and capitalists as well as,

(Continued on page 2)

CHARLIE HUGHES CAN TEAR HIS HAIR AGAIN! RUSSIA RESTORES RELATIONSHIP WITH MEXICANS

(Special to The Daily Worker)

MOSCOW, August 13.—Another victory has been added to the list of Soviet Russia, with the official announcement that relations between Mexico and the Workers' Republic have been restored. Negotiations had been carried on in Berlin. Mr. Petkosky has been named Russian envoy to Mexico City.

Big Biz Backs 'Bob' LAFOLLETTE'S PROGRESSIVISM SCARES NO ONE

By JAY LOVESTONE.
(Third Article.)

Railroad presidents, traction magnates, life insurance company heads, public utility bosses, bankers and bond sharks have been rendering generous appoval of LaFollette's "progressive" schemes.

On many occasions LaFollette's much-vaunted "Wisconsin Plan" worked so well for the big bosses that the "regulated" business interests and public utility overlords of the Badger state have been glad to give good jobs to the LaFollette "regulators."

The record is replete with instances where the members of the state commissions, set up to prevent the monopolies from becoming a public menace, have been well taken care of by the same roundly denounced monopolists.

With all his bitterness against trustified industries, a bitterness giving rise to political panaceas born out of a total failure to understand the development of economic forces, the facts of LaFollette's career weave the conclusion that he has done more talking but even less acting against these same cursed trusts than some of his reactionary colleagues with whom he has been working in the republican party for more than forty years.

Exploiters Welcome Bob's Program.

Under these circumstances it is not surprising to find Theodore Roosevelt, writing on "Wisconsin—Safety of Prosperity," in LaFollette's Weekly of June 3, 1911, declare:

"They made it evident not merely by words, but by deeds that they would not for one moment sanction any pandering to class hatred or any unjust assault on property rights. A big railway official, before I entered the state, had casually mentioned to me that if he had a just cause there is no tribunal in the country before which he would rather present his case than the Wisconsin railway commission."

Socialist Attacked Program.

Let us for a change listen to the Honorable Daniel Hoan, the socialist mayor of Milwaukee, who has just jumped on the LaFollette band wagon. In Hoan's pamphlet, entitled "The Failure of Regulation," and once officially circulated by the socialist party of America, we find the following glowing tributes paid by big business interests to the LaFollette "progressive" program:

"John L. Beggs, the general manager of the Milwaukee Traction Trust at the time, and concededly the shrew-

(Continued on Page 6.)

FOSTER SPEAKS AT YOUNGSTOWN SUNDAY AFTERNOON AND NIGHT

William Z. Foster, presidential candidate of the Workers Party, speaks Sunday at Youngstown, O., in the first big meeting in his presidential campaign. Located in the heart of the great steel industry, where Foster led the great strike of steel workers in 1919, Youngstown is a fitting place for this first great gathering. Thousands of workers are expected at the picnic at Avalon Park, Sunday afternoon, while at night Foster will speak at Ukrainian Hall, 525½ West Rayen Ave., Youngstown.

MAYOR HYLAN WILL SUPPORT DONKEY JOCKEY

Decides Morgan's Lawyer Is a Progressive

(Special to The Daily Worker)

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—The announced support of Mayor John F. Hylan of New York to the Democratic nominee John W. Davis in the coming campaign, indicates that William Randolph Hearst, who is Hylan's backer, will not jump over the fence into the La Follette paddock but will find a plausible reason to support the Wall Street Democrat.

Hylan withheld his endorsement until after the acceptance speech of John W. Davis was delivered. The Mayor marked time until it was decided that Al. Smith would not run for governor of New York. Smith and the Mayor are bitter political enemies and it was believed that had the governor thrown his hat into the ring to succeed himself, Mr. Hylan and Mr. Hearst would cast their lots with the independent ticket.

ATMOSPHERE FOULED WITH POLITICAL OFFAL OF TWO MORGAN TWINS

(Special to the DAILY WORKER)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—President Coolidge will put his speech containing his solution for the problems confronting the United States on the ether tomorrow night. Twelve high power radio broadcasting stations will be used to send Cal's message into every section of the country.

Coolidge suffers a serious handicap in having to apologize for Daugherty, Fall, Denby and Burns. His Democratic opponent will be kept busy explaining his relationship with Morgan. All in all it will be a merry campaign.

REEVE RETURNS TO TELL ABOUT HIS EVICTION

McCarthy and Hogan Are Among Speakers

The striking carbuilders in the Western Steel Car company plant, at Hegewisch, are more enthusiastic than ever, after a futile effort of the management yesterday to break the ranks of the strikers by spreading fake rumors.

The strikers elected an enlarged strike committee at their meeting yesterday, which was one of the largest and most spirited held since the strike began.

Karl Reeve, who was railroaded out of Hegewisch by four policemen on Tuesday and told never to come back, spoke at yesterday's strike meeting as did Jack McCarthy and Edmond K. Hogan, organizer for the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen.

Fifth Week of Strike.

Growing desperate at the complete stoppage of production and the determination of the strikers to carry the strike thru to victory, the company started the fifth week of the strike by bringing the Chicago police to their aid.

The employment manager, P. H. Conlan, was out in front of the gates bright and early yesterday morning, telling the strikers not to go to the strike meting. Conlan told them that Jack McCarthy of the DAILY WORKER and Ed. Hogan were going to desert the strikers. The strikers, however, refused to listen to the false rumors of Conlan, and flocked down to the strike hall.

Plant Shut Down.

Reeve told the strikers how the Chicago police had sent him out of town after he went into the Western company plant to get the inside news of conditions.

"Conlan admitted that the plant is completely shut down," Reeve said.

"He said there is a million dollars' worth of material in the yards waiting for the striking steel workers to assemble it."

"The DAILY WORKER will continue to tell you to stay out on strike, to organize, and to fight for better living conditions and more wages with your organized power. If any one tells you I went inside the Western Steel Car company for any other purpose than to gather news for the DAILY WORKER he lies," Reeve declared.

Jack McCarthy made an appeal for the workers to join the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen. "The spirit shown by the strikers in the face of the lies spread by the company this morning shows that you are sure to win," said McCarthy.

The strikers then elected a committee to see that all the men who have been hard hit by the strike are supplied with food and money to allow them to continue striking.

Ed. Hogan, who is in charge of the strike, representing the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen, told the strikers what stores are friendly to the strikers and what stores are antagonistic to labor. Hogan told the carbuilders to patronize, and get their friends to patronize only those business men who are sympathetic to the strikers.

SIXTY NEW SILK MILLS SHUT DOWN AS WORKERS JOIN PATERSON STRIKE

BULLETIN.

(Special to The DAILY WORKER.)

PATERSON, Aug. 13.—Sixty additional mills just closed down here as hundreds of workers followed the lead of their mates who struck yesterday under the leadership of the Associated Silk Workers Union. The total number of mills now completely tied up are estimated at 170.

The police have not as yet interfered much with the carrying on of the strike with the exception of one striker who was arrested for picketing the mills. The judge, however, released him on the payment of a five dollar fine.

PATERSON SILK WEAVERS WALK OUT ON STRIKE

Thousands Leave Shops Under Union Lead

(Special to the Daily Worker.)

PATERSON, N. J., Aug. 13.—Scenes rivalling those of the 1913 textile strike were to be seen here today as thousands of silk weavers left hundreds of shops in response to the strike call issued by the Associated Silk Workers Union which had been empowered by the workers to bring on the walkout.

More than 2,000 of the workers gathered in the strike hall yesterday, and while thousands of others remained outside clamoring for admission into the packed assembly, Juliet Stuart Poyntz of the Workers Party addressed the strikers amid wild applause.

While this is the first strike of the silk workers since 1913, they came out of their shops more cheerfully and in greater numbers than they did 11 years ago. The Associated Silk Workers' union, which has been most energetic in the organization of the oppressed slaves of the textile trust, is determined to wage the struggle to a successful conclusion this time. The men are out and will stay out until their miserable conditions are abolished.

Workers' Demands.

Among the demands the men have put before the employers are the recognition of the union, the eight-hour day, an increase of 15 per cent in their wages, the abolition of the four-loom system in favor of the two-loom system, no discrimination between union and non-union men, and the right of union representatives to enter a shop controlled by it in order to settle any controversies.

T. U. E. L. Aids Strikers.

The Trade Union Educational League, which has been co-operating with all its strength with the attempts to organize the silk workers, is continuing its co-operation during the strike. Efforts will be made by the New York section of the T. U. E. L. to arouse the workers employed in the silk industry in other cities to come to the aid of the Paterson strikers.

Send in that Subscription Today.

BIG LABOR DEMONSTRATIONS IN ROME FLARE UP AGAINST MUSSOLINI'S DICTATORSHIP

(Special to The Daily Worker)

ROME, August 13.—"Down with Fascism!" "Down with Mussolini!"

For the first time in three years, tens of thousands of workers, men and women and children, marched defiantly thru the streets of Rome, red flags streaming from staffs, and the streets lined thick with people shouting welcome to the spontaneously organized demonstration against Mussolini and his black Fascism, which was led by the Communists, whom the Italian dictator thought he had drowned in blood.

MUSSOLINI DEFIED

Heading straight to the Pallazza Chigi, the official mansion of the Fascist ministers of the interior and of foreign affairs, marched the masses, singing loudly the revolutionary battle songs of the working class. The Red Flag and the Internationale. As the standard bearers marched by with the crimson banners, old men and women kneeled and wept. Emotions which had been choked for years were given vent to.

From all sides, women flung red carnations and roses at the squadrons of the Young Communist League members who marched in military formation at the head of the demonstration.

On reaching the government buildings the demonstrators shouted defiance to Mussolini and his blackshirted troops. Communist speakers rose quickly, here and there, out of the mass and made fiery addresses to the people. The Fascist troops and the National Militia ran away on all sides. Fearing that the masses were armed, they took the easiest way out of being subjected to the pent-up feelings of vengeance of the terrorized workers.

SOLDIERS FRATERNIZE.

The carabinieri, to the amazement of everyone, did not make the slightest move in the direction of attacking the demonstrators. In many places they openly fraternized with them. In the Piazza Colonna, the government cavalrymen joined hands with the marchers. A lieutenant of the National Militia halted in front of the Red Flag and brought his hand up in salute.

That this astounding demonstration of three days running has put the fear of the revolutionary workers into the heart of Mussolini is evidenced by his immediate order for the concentration of the National Militia. He no longer is willing to depend upon the carabinieri, who have fraternized with the masses and united under the leadership of the Communists in a popular mass protest against Fascism.

Expect Further Developments.

The situation has become greatly intensified in the last few days, which coupled with the cold-blooded and brutal murder of the Socialist deputy Matteotti, may lead to sharper developments in Italy.

WEAR NO MAN'S COLLAR

Allied delegates to London conference cost British treasury at rate of £500 sterling per day to feed and house. Russian delegates who have already spent four months in England declined to accept British keep and have paid all their own expenses.—Wall Street Journal, Aug. 11, 1924.

AMALGAMATED CLOTHING WORKERS GAINING IN PHILADELPHIA STRIKE

(Special to the DAILY WORKER)

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 13.—The strike of the 12,000 members of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America here is slowly coming to a successful conclusion. The shops controlled by the union have now settled, accepting the conditions demanded by the strikers. Eighteen non-union shops are expected to join the ranks of those that have settled, since most of the men employed there are union members and are fighting for the same conditions as those which obtain in completely organized shops.

The same holds true of the large plants which are also expected to follow suit.

The demands of the workers included the closed union shop; a 15 to 20 per cent increase in wages; elimination of home work, and more sanitary conditions in the factories; and the creation of an unemployment fund similar to the ones in New York and Chicago.

A. F. OF L. FEARS NICARAGUAN WAR AGAINST AMERICA

Report Terrified About "Social Unrest"

(Special to the Daily Worker.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—The executive council of the American Federation of Labor has lined up solidly with the cause of American Imperialism in Nicaragua by its indorsement of a report on the situation there by Hartwell Brunson, special commissioner for the Pan-American Federation of Labor, Gompers' paper toy.

Offer Free Suggestions

The report, which has been called to the attention of the Department of State by vote of the council, is kind enough to give a few suggestions as to how to keep the workers in meek subjection without endangering the position of the American imperialists in that country. After commenting on the fact that the workers are practically without a vote because of the refusal of the Chamorro family majority in the national congress to concur in the improvement of the electoral law, the report suggests:

A. F. of L. Fears For Bosses

"Unless these at present disfranchised people are permitted to vote in the coming election there is danger of a return to power of class rule, nationally, and continued social and economic unrest, which may at any time develop into violent resentment."

Report Is Usual Bunk

This appeal to the United States government by the American Federation of Labor is very touching. It is notorious that the Chamorro family which rules Nicaragua is the puppet of the American State Department, and the A. F. of L. memorandum will leave the Nicaraguan workers just where they were before.

Nationalists Fight Eight-Hour Day.

BERLIN, Aug. 13.—The German nationalists have a bill in the reichstag providing for the non-ratification of the Washington agreement concerning the eight-hour day for workers.

Send in that Subscription Today.

MacDonald Beaten In Communist Attack

By CHARLES ASHLEIGH (Special Cablegram to the DAILY WORKER)

LONDON, August 13.—Because of the indignant and angry protests of the rank and file of the British working class, the fake "labor" government of Ramsay MacDonald has been forced to back water on its shameful raid on the British Communist Party headquarters. The first step in this direction was taken by the withdrawal of the spurious charge against John Ross Campbell, editor of "The Workers' Weekly," official organ of the Communist Party.

ORDER YOUR BUNDLE OF THE DAILY WORKER'S FIRST SPECIAL CAMPAIGN ISSUE—SEE PAGE TWO

200,000 SLAVES DUMPED ON N. Y. LABOR MARKET

Conditions are Growing Steadily Worse

(Special to The Daily Worker)

NEW YORK, August 13.—In the last year the number of unemployed in New York State has increased by at least two hundred thousand. This is the conservative estimate just made by State Industrial Commissioner Bernard L. Shientag.

"The slowing up of business for the year has, it is estimated, caused the release of over two hundred thousand workers, who were on the factory payrolls of this state in July a year ago," says the report issued today by the State Department of Labor.

Big April Decline.

In July the factory employment showed further decline. This is the fourth consecutive month in which the number of unemployed has been rising. Clothing and textiles and metals are the hardest hit industries. Commissioner Shientag further declared that:

"The falling off in employing during June and July was between 3 and 4 per cent. This makes a net reduction of over 14 per cent during the course of the industrial recession that set in in April. Last year, from June to July, factory employment went down less than 1 per cent. The seasonal factor, the usual slowing up of industrial operations for the summer months, is negligible in comparison with the decline due to market conditions.

Cotton Mill Employes.

"One-third of the workers who were employed in the cotton mills in June were let go before July 15. This reduction followed a series of reductions which have been going on for a year. The number of workers in the cotton mills of this state is now less than half as great as it was in the spring of 1923. The knitting, silk, woolen and carpet industries and practically all branches of the clothing trades reduced employment in July.

"Of the 55 separate divisions into which the factories of the state are classified, only eight had as many workers as in July, 1923. They were all making either building materials or food products. Some plants scattered thruout the other industries are keeping up or even raising their level of employment. These are special cases that always occur during periods of dull business. There is nothing like it in the present situation, however, to indicate a return to conditions like those of three years ago."

Fascist Agents Pay Court Expenses for Men They Had Jailed

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Aug. 13.—The two Fascisti agitators who were so badly beaten at the anti-fascisti meeting which they tried to interrupt were glad enough to pay the court expenses when the cases of comrades Marcovecchi and Pascoli, the two anti fascist speakers, came up.

Only one of the beaten blackshirts could appear in court. The other one is still in the hospital. The judge warned the fascisti not to try the same disturbing tactics again, but the beating the men received had sufficiently warned them already.

Marcovecchi and Pascoli were dismissed from court.

Yellow Scabs in Seattle.

SEATTLE, Aug. 13.—Non-union yellow taxis in Seattle refuse to grant their men a $4 minimum wage for a 10-hour day or 40c an hour.

CHAMBERS OF COMMERCE OPPOSE CHILD LABOR AMENDMENT; FEAR IT WILL HURT THEIR FORTUNES

(By The Federated Press)

CLEVELAND, August 13.—Ohio and Pennsylvania business men, organized in state chambers of commerce, oppose ratification of the child labor amendment to the federal constitution.

The directors of the Pennsylvania chamber defend their attitude with the declaration that "the youth of this nation should have the right, within reasonable limit and restriction, to perform such labors as will contribute to their practical education," and that the power to curb child labor put in the hands of congress "might prove detrimental to the agricultural and industrial prosperity of this state."

The Ohio chamber of commerce official organ asserts: "The amendment sows the seeds of selfishness and disrespect in that it teaches the boys and girls of 15, 16 and 18 years of age that they are not expected to assist the parent who is overburdened with expense or handicapped by illness."

AS WE SEE IT

By T. J. O'FLAHERTY.

(Continued from page 1.)

well, the "peepul." "We must exercise the muscles of our inner selves" says the artistic banker, "just as we exercise those of our bodies." The rich exercise the muscles of their bodies playing golf and the muscles of their minds at the best opera and concocting plans to better exploit the workers while the workers get too much bodily exercise, and not the right kind at that, trying to earn a living. As for the inner self, about the only time the worker's innards gets delightfully tickled is when he has 25 cents to spend on a Charlie Chaplin movie.

* * *

Most of the unrest and the transgressions of today would be obviated if the people could have the inspiration of art said Mr. Kahn. He blames the world war on lack of art. The calamity was due to "an accursed aberration of the spirit." Well, when the dogs of war begin howling again, it might be a good idea to get all our opera stars busy at the broadcasting stations and out-howl the dogs. But then the cure would be even worse than the disease.

* * *

Kahn's speech is worth another paragraph. The most valuable investment he ever made was when he bought a ticket to "Tristan and Isolde." Perhaps, while the stars were sparkling, and the chorus was doing its stuff, Kahn was inspired with the ideas that made him a millionaire, unless he was a millionaire by inheritance. Talking about dividends, he said: "Moreover, the dividends which we receive from the appreciation of beauty and the cultivation of art are wholly 'tax-exempt.' No surtaxes can diminish them, no Bolshevik can take them away from us." We will make one bet with the banker and it is that when the Bolsheviks secure power in the United States as they did in Russia, the workers of this country will be given the opportunity to hear and see opera and Mr. Kahn's "people" will not have a monopoly on it.

* * *

LaFollette is not supporting the candidacy of T. J. Walsh in Montana, the his side kick, Wheeler, is. Of course this is nothing out of the ordinary. Wheeler hails Walsh as a progressive in Montana, while Walsh hails Davis as a progressive in West Va. The political works were so gummed up in Montana that LaFollette's son was ordered to repair the machinery and he did it by supporting the Farmer-Labor Party and letting Wheeler's friends paddle their own canoe. If consistency is virtuous, the LaFollette camp is no place for a minister's son.

* * *

George W. Hinman, the Katzenjamer economist of the Hearst chain of newspapers, has become convinced that a third party is desired by the people of this country. Our bourgeois writers all use the term "people" to mean the great masses, not the few at the top. It serves the purpose of making the workers feel that after all there are no aliases in America, all are included under the general heading of "people." A very old lady, informed Mr. Hinman, that she did not know whether to vote for Coolidge or Davis. They are both for universal peace. No doubt both would prefer peace to war if they could help but they cannot. That is the truth that well intentioned pacifists and even some self-styled Marxists like Louis Boudin cannot grasp. No set of men no matter how good can maintain peace under the capitalist system. Aside from the class struggle which is always in a state of more or less activity, wars between rival capitalist nations or groups of nations are inevitable so long as there are markets to grab or new territories to exploit.

* * *

"The upright lawyer" said John W. Davis, "sells his services but never his soul." The soul has been the subject for heated discussion for centuries. At one time the Catholic Church held that woman did not have a soul. They held a council on the subject, but much of the time was taken up with another weighty question which was formulated by a bishop with hair-splitting tendencies: "How many angels could dance on the point of a needle." If a bishop offered such a question today for debate even good Catholics would believe that he was after having a shot in the arm. However to get back to Davis and his soul. Did Davis sell his soul to Morgan when he sold his services?

* * *

A soul without a body is a spook and a body without a soul is a corpse. Mr. Davis is neither spook nor corpse but a substantial individual. This proves that the soul and the body are inseparable, one cannot get along without the other. We are in fact under the impression that services and soul mean one and the same thing and that Morgan has the benefit of Davis' soul. William Jennings Bryan found the acceptance speech of Davis eminently progressive. William J. Bryan has certainly lost his honor along with his soul.

CONRAD, LABOR SPY, SHOWN UP IN PITTSBURGH

Framed 'Red Raids' for 'D. of J.' in 1920

By LAURENCE TODD.
(Federated Press Staff Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, August 13.—Uncovering of labor spies and provocative agents who have been serving the steel barons and coal kings of Pennsylvania, and disclosures of the connection between "radical" activities of these spies with orders issued by prominent backers of Coolidge and Davis, is one of the features which organized labor promises to contribute to the presidential campaign.

The first spy thus far disclosed has been the standpat Beattie, ultra-conservative labor official and promoter of the labor bank in Pittsburgh.

Worked for D. of J.

The second is L. M. Walsh, alias Ed Williams, alias L. M. Wendall, alias C. H. Wentzell, alias J. F. Conrad, who has operated as an under-cover man for the Otis Elevator Co. in Cleveland, for the Mintz Detective Agency in that city, under Arthur Burgoyne in the Pittsburgh office of the Bureau of Investigation, U. S. Department of Justice, and then for the Employers' Association of Pittsburgh.

Representatives of the International Association of Machinists who have studied the record of Walsh-Conrad as published by Dave Williams in the Pennsylvania Labor Herald believe that he is the "Herbert Little" who was described to the Wheeler investigating committee, in the testimony of H. J. Burton on May 13, as having met Burton in Pittsburgh one night and taken him to the office of the Department of Justice there. "Little" furnished Burton with a lot of alleged information of Russian soviet plots, which he said the Department had turned over to "one of the big steel corporations." This information which Little claimed he had brought home from a secret trip to Russia was published by the steel corporation in order to combat the forming of unions among its employes.

Was "Red Raid" Framer.

The Federated Press is informed that a series of sensational disclosures of provocative agents, who, like Conrad, were engaged in framing up the "red raids" of January, 1920, and in blocking the organization of the steel workers and coal miners in Pennsylvania and neighboring states, will be given to the country by the labor forces. Names, dates, terms of employment and the motives behind some of the betrayals of labor by officials and trusted organizers will be bared.

Did His Stuff in Strike.

Conrad, a resident of Bellevue, a suburb of Pittsburgh, where his telephone is listed under the name of Ed. Williams, has been getting his pay as J. F. Conrad and has deposited it in the bank to the credit of Williams. He was assigned in Pittsburgh to report on the activities of radical organizations, during and after the steel strike of 1919. He became notably radical in his utterances, and got himself arrested and jailed for a brief time.

When employed by the bureau of investigation he stayed away from Burgoyne's office, occupying instead a room in the suite of the Employers' Association in the Oliver Building. His frequent reports to Burgoyne on his radical activities included a claim that he had even entertained W. Z. Foster, who was in charge of the steel strike.

Canned by Pork Barrel Burns.

So pleased was Conrad to be associating with the Employers' Association crowd that they obtained and published in their bulletins the substance of his reports. When W. J. Burns took charge of the bureau, Conrad was among the men dropped to make room for Burns' men on the public payroll, and the Employers' Association took him on. An unlucky slip in printing an item which might give away Conrad's real conections led to his being removed to an office in the Penn building on Penn avenue, "where he is supposed to be a real estate agent, accused of sometimes serving a bootlegger," according to Dave Williams' account. In this same building are the offices of the business agents of the Machinists, the Molders and the Pattern Makers' Unions.

All of these labor spies and provocative agents are known to the Department of Justice. If the administration desired to do so, it could disclose the whole list of Burns' frame-up operators, the amount of their bonds, and their life histories.

To Finish Year-Old Speech.

DUBLIN, Aug. 13.—Eamonn DeValera, leader of the Irish republicans, is planning to go to Ennis on August 15 to complete the speech he was making when he was arrested August 15, 1923, it was learned today. De Valera's adherents are planning a demonstration of loyalty on the anniversary of their leader's arrest.

CHURCHES MILDLY PROTEST DEFENSE DAY MANEUVERS

They'll Enter War Only When It's Here

New York, Aug. 13.—The churches of the country are lined up almost solidly in opposition to the Coolidge-Weeks-Pershing Mobilization Day plans for Sept. 12, if statements published in the New York World by the leading editors of various denominational papers are to be taken as a criterion. The following are samples of the statements given:

Talk is Cheap.

John A. Earl, editor, the Baptist—As an organized attempt to commit the United States to a policy of militarism, Mobilization Day will fail.

Herbert Welsh, Methodist bishop for Japan and Corea,—It is impossible to make Asia see Sept. 12 as anything but a threatening gesture.

Thomas Nicholson, Methodist bishop—We have no patience whatever with the parade of the militarists.

Chicago Federation of Churches resolution—We believe that our people as a whole desire to hold themselves free from any action which, even tho it be justified as an internal matter, might be regarded externally as unfriendly.

Edwin L. Mills, editor, Pacific Christian Advocate—Literally millions of our best immigrants, past and present, came here to be free from this sort of thing.

Christian Work—Nothing tried for ages is better calculated to arouse the war spirit than this thing, and our war department knows it.

Remeber the Last War.

These are all lovely phrases. But no sooner is war upon us than all these sky pilots will quickly become fervent patriots and urge united support of imeprialist slaughter. Their practically unanimous approval of the last war is not yet forgotten by the workers of this country.

Bricklayers Register 90 Per Cent.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Aug. 13.—Bricklayers in Huntington are 90 per cent union organized.

Send in that Subscription Today.

Youth of Russia Do Not Go To School to Squander Pin Money

By J. LOUIS ENGDAHL.

TODAY, all indications are that the Franks murder trial is rapidly drawing to a close. Some relief!

But those who keep on reading the yellow press will have other, equally nauseating sensations, thrust before them. Hearst knows, "it makes circulation!" Hearst glories in the social crimes of his own decadent class.

* * *

For the working class it is sufficient today to get acquainted with just two facts brought out during one whole day's proceedings. These are: First, Nathan F. Leopold, Jr., got $125.00 pin money each month; Second, Richard Loeb's allowance was $250.00 per month.

Mrs. Catherine Fitzgerald, for 15 years private secretary to Albert H. Loeb, vice-president of Sears, Roebuck & Co., wrote the checks for "Dickie." She said that if "Dickie" wanted more than the $250.00 she would merely ask the father if it was "all right." No doubt it usually was.

* * *

This matter was carefully gone into in an effort to show that the two boys didn't need the ransom money they demanded of the kidnapped and murdered boy's father.

"Jake" Loeb, the uncle, went on the witness stand and said that "Dickie" had several Liberty bonds, that he did not cash, showing he didn't need money. This is the "Jake" Loeb, who as president of the Chicago Board of Education, fought wage raises for Chicago's school teachers, practically all of whom toil, in crowded, unsanitary school rooms, thru dreary lives, at much less than the $250.00 per month that the 19-year-old "Dickie" received.

But well-paid teachers, with leisure to study, would make intelligent teachers, capable of imparting real knowledge to the children of the working class. And thinking workers are a danger to the capitalist social system, for which "Jake" Loeb stands, and which keeps a million or two "Dickies" in pin money.

The thousands of girls and boys that start in at $10 and $12 per week, in the Sears, Roebuck & Co. plant, many of them getting no further, because they are just "dumb animals," will miss the fact that they made it possible for "Dickie" to have his $250.00 per month, and now to enjoy the thrill of a million dollar murder trial.

* * *

The DAILY WORKER has already shown that exactly the same conditions prevail out at Morris, Ill. Practically the entire youth of this country city toil in the Leopold-owned Morris Paper Mills at less than $20 weekly, even the hardest work being performed by young workers at $15 and $18 weekly, which only reaches about half of Nathan's allowance.

In the words of Foreman Leopold, the brother of Nathan, we are told that, "Nathan got $125.00 per month allowance, that Nathan's laundry and board and everything else was taken care of and that all Nathan had to do was study, AND SPEND HIS 'PIN MONEY'."

Thus the court records of this case show that one of the duties of the parasite youth of the capitalist idlers is to spend money made possible by the low wages of an enslaved working class, held in bondage just as securely as any slave class that preceded it.

* * *

The American subsidized press has often ridiculed the luxury-lacking educational institutions under the Soviet Regime in Russia. The universities and colleges of Moscow and Petrograd, in their eyes, do not afford the opportunities for spending "pin money" that are presented at Harvard, Yale, Cornell, Rockefeller's University of Chicago and other so-called institutions of learning in these United States.

To be sure, in Soviet Russia, "How to Use a Check Book" is not one of the university courses offered. But the students must attend to their lessons, or they are sent back home, to make way for others, who are willing to apply themselves to the task of helping to build the most intelligent nation of people on earth.

* * *

Russian youth is studying the way to solve the problems of the world—the problems of the workers of the world.

American youth—the rich young idlers of the present ruling class—are applying themselves to the task of spending their father's money, coined out of the slavery of the great masses.

It is not difficult to see that the Russian youth will help lead the young workers of all nations to victory against their oppressors.

The social order that only produces young Loebs and Leopolds TO SPEND PIN MONEY is doomed to destruction, decay and gradual obliteration.

This is today's lesson of the Franks murder trial.

Baseball Game and Tug of War Feature New Chicago Picnic

All Chicago is keen for the picnic being arranged jointly by the Young Workers' League and the Society for Technical Aid to Soviet Russia to be held Sunday, August 24, at the National Grove. The league's share of the proceeds is going to the support of its press, The Young Worker and The Young Comrade.

Among the features definitely arranged are a ball game of the Karl Liebknecht branch of the league and a tug of war between the other Chicago branches. Among those already lined up are the West Side vs. North Side; John Reed vs. Rosa Luxemburg; Maplewood vs. Karl Liebknecht; Rykov vs. Marshfield and Irving Park vs. Bridgeport.

The juniors are keeping secret a surprise program which they intend to spring.

Tickets are 35 cents in advance and 50 cents at the gate, and can be obtained from any league, party or Technical Aid Society member.

1,106 Dead in Revolution.

SANTOS, Brazil, Aug. 13.—The killed in the Sao Paulo revolution totaled 1,106, according to official tabulation of casualties here today.

Send in that Subscription Today.

Surprises Prepared At Picnic of Hersh Lekert Y. W. L. Branch

The Hersh Lekert branch of the Young Workers' League is giving a basket picnic on Sunday, August 17, at Milwaukee Woods, which can be reached by taking any car to Milwaukee Avenue and then hopping on a Milwaukee-Gale car to the end of the line where you will be awaited by a committee. Do not take any food with you since refreshments will be provided on the grounds. Many surprises have been prepared.

City "Broke."

DANVILLE, Ill., Aug. 12.—Danville court officials were in a quandary today over the situation which came up here when Mrs. Sarah Emery, arrested on violation of the criminal code was discharged from custody when she demanded a jury trial.

The city is broke and no one would advance the money to pay a jury.

Save Russian Cotton.

MOSCOW.—(By Mail.)—The latest reports from the Soviet Republic of Azerbeidjan, Caucasus, show a rapid growth of cotton cultivation in this region, the original program having been exceeded by 75 per cent. i. e., nearly doubled. The sown area is now over 31,500 dessatins.

WARN WORKERS AGAINST FAKERS' HOUSING 'CO-OPS'

Hold Co-operation Will Solve Vexing Problem

By CEDRIC LONG.
(For the Federated Press.)

The American worker no longer owns his home. He is a renter and the landlord controls his living conditions more completely than the corporation controls his job.

Industrial workers can fight the encroachments of their employers with their unions; as tenants they are utterly unorganized and helpless before the onslaughts of the organized landlords.

Co-operative home ownership is the only possible cure. Not 1 per cent of the lower paid workers in large cities of the United States can afford to buy individual homes today, but they can unite to form co-operative housing associations and build or buy houses collectively. Thru such organization they not only effectively combat the landlords, but they take the business away from them as well.

Watch Real Estate Sharks.

There are three types of housing known as co-operative. The first is an outright fraud—a snare for greedy fools. It is promoted entirely by real estate sharks who exploit that word "co-operative."

They either sell the apartments outright to individuals or form a corporation in which the individuals buy stock entitling them to an apartment in the house.

The real estate company usually reserves for itself the privilege of managing the property; sometimes it holds the title to all adjoining land, with an eye to reaping large profits when the value has been inflated.

This type of "co-operative" house is sold almost exclusively to well-to-do people who can afford to pay fancy prices.

Semi-Co-operatives Have Failed.

The second type of "co-operative" house is the semi-co-operative. Promoters of these are well intentioned, but fail to follow the rules of Rochdale co-operation.

They sell apartments outright to the prospective tenant, thus permitting the new owner to sell or sub-let at a speculator's profit; or permit one person to buy several apartments in the same house and become a petty landlord; or sell stock in the housing association but fail to put restrictions upon resale or sub-letting.

They leave loopholes open, so that the "co-operative" owners can profit at the expense of some other poor sucker the first time real estate booms.

Democratic Co-operation.

The third and genuine type has four distinguishing features: No member owns his apartment outright, but belongs to an association which holds title to all the apartments and which gives to each member a 99 years' or a lifetime lease. No member has more than one vote in membership meetings, interest on capital stock is limited to 6 per cent or less, and any surplus at the end of the year is rebated to tenant-members in proportion to rental charges paid.

Every tenant should be a member of the association and every member should be a tenant. Selling of member's shares or sub-letting of his apartment should be done only by the association, and never at a profit to either the member or the association.

N. Y. and Milwaukee Head List.

Genuine co-operative housing for workers has made a good start in two cities—Milwaukee and New York. The Garden Homes, Milwaukee, is a group of 89 houses occupied by 105 families, organized by Mayor Hoan and the Commonwealth Mutual Savings Bank. In Brooklyn, N. Y., about 25 apartment houses are co-operatively owned by Finnish and Swedish workers.

Other groups of workers have emulated their example. In New York City three groups of young Jewish workers have conducted co-operative apartment houses for several years, and four or five other associations have followed suit. Alexander Bing is erecting small co-operative apartment houses in Long Island City.

Probably the most significant effort in this country so far is the organization of a central association in New York, the Consumers' Co-operative Housing Association, to buy or build houses in any part of Greater New York. It owns seven houses and expects to acquire more.

Italian-Russian Shipping.

MOSCOW, Aug. 13.—An exchange of cargoes with Italy by sea has been arranged thru an agreement with the Italian steam-ship company Lloyd Triestino, whose "steamers ply between Odessa, Trieste and Brindisi. This agreement covers, besides Italy herself, other adjacent Mediterranean countries.

Order Your Bundle of First Campaign Issue

MAKE Monday, Sept. 1, a real "Labor Day" for the American Communist movement, by distributing a bundle of the First 1924 Campaign Issue of the DAILY WORKER.

FOR THE COMMUNIST CAMPAIGN

DAILY WORKER,
1113 W. Washington Blvd.,
Chicago, Ill.

For the enclosed $_____ send me _____ copies of the First Special Communist Campaign edition of the DAILY WORKER, to be dated Saturday, Aug. 30, at the special rate of 3½ cents per copy, or $3.50 per hundred. I want to help raise the standards of Communism in this campaign for the Workers Party ticket—Foster and Gitlow.

NAME _____

ADDRESS _____

CITY_____ STATE_____

JOBLESS GET SPEEDY RESULTS BY RADICAL STEP

Scare Australian Gov't Into Relief Act

By W. FRANCIS AHERN.
(Federated Press Staff Correspondent.)

SYDNEY, N. S. W., Aug. 13.—"Give us rooms! Charge it to the government!"

Clerks in the swellest hotels of Sydney looked at the invading hosts of the city's unemployed and didn't know what to do. The jobless men then marched from the richly carpeted lobbies into the exquisite dining halls where Sydney's most fastidious profiteers and their women were consuming lavish delicacies.

Charge It Up.

"Give us the same and charge it to the government," the unemployed told the mincing waiters.

Then things happened in the government offices. Relief was on the way, both for the unemployed and for the shocked and contaminated profiteers.

Because the New South Wales anti-Labor government refused to find food, shelter and work for the unemployed, they organized committees and arranged route marches to the leading hotels at Sydney demanding food and accommodation and ordering the cost to be charged to the government.

After several invasions of the swell hotels, the business interests of Sydney approached the government and ordered that something be done for the unemployed to keep them from invading the hotels and mixing with society guests. The government made a grant of money for food and set about providing work.

Appeal to MacDonald.

A large number of the unemployed and starving are immigrants from Britain and on behalf of these the following cable was dispatched to Ramsay MacDonald, Labor prime minister of Great Britain: "Mass meetings unemployed decided cable you furnish funds thousands British emigrants destitute in New South Wales. No local help; position desperate."

The federal government also decided to take some action to alleviate unemployment and destitution. A grant of $2,500,000 has been made for work on national roads.

And the unemployed know how to get results.

Last Chance for Evolution.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Aug. 13.—At the close of the hearing for and against removing from the public schools of California text-books teaching evolution, the state board of education dodged the issue by referring the matter to a committee made up of the presidents of nine colleges in California. A majority vote of this committee is to determine the question. Five of the nine colleges are under denominational or other religious control.

H. C. L. FALLS ONLY ONE-HALF PER CENT IN YEAR; JOBLESSNESS GROWS

(Special to the Daily Worker.)

WASHINGTON, August 13.—The cost of a wage earner's budget is down less than ½ of 1 per cent since June, 1923, according to the latest cost of living survey of the United States department of labor which shows the cost still 69.1 per cent above 1913. The report shows wide variation in extent of changes in the cost of living in the chief cities. The cost of living in Detroit is 83.4 per cent above 1913, while in Savannah it is 52.7 per cent above the pre-war level. The per cent increase in other cities over 1913 is: Baltimore, 71.9 per cent; Boston, 63.2 per cent; Buffalo, 73.9 per cent; Chicago, 72.6 per cent; Cleveland, 75.9 per cent; Los Angeles, 75.1 per cent; New York, 72.5 per cent; Portland, Ore., 53.8 per cent; San Francisco, 57.3 per cent; Seattle, 66.7 per cent, and Washington, 59.2 per cent.

Send in that Subscription Today.

BE SURE TO GET THE NEXT ISSUE
"DAILY WORKER" MAGAZINE SECTION
SATURDAY, AUGUST 16th, 1924

1. The Tactical Significance of the Election Policy..By James P. Cannon
2. I Arrive in America—A Story.....By John Losser
3. MacDonald Signs a Treaty.....By Alexander Bittelman
4. On Factory Nuclei (A German Experiment).....By W. Ulbrichs
5. The Geneva Labor Conference.....By A. Enderle
6. On the Foster-Nearing Debate.....By Joseph Brandy

VERSE PICTURES ILLUSTRATIONS

ORDER NOW!
THE DAILY WORKER,
1113 W. Washington Blvd. Chicago, Illinois

Workers Party Calls for Fight on Klan

(Continued from page 1)

against the brutalities and atrocities alleged to be perpetrated upon the members of the Negro Race by the Ku Klux Klan or by any other organization."

Before passing the foregoing resolutions, you defeated a substitute proposed by Mr. Wallace, which provided "that the brutalities and atrocities perpetrated upon the members of the Negro Race by the Klan be condemned." The debate indicated that this substitute was defeated partly because it stated plainly that brutalities and atrocities are perpetrated by the Klan, while the second resolution passed speaks only of such brutalities and atrocities "alleged to be perpetrated" by the Klan.

From the foregoing facts it is evident:

First—That the Universal Negro Improvement Association offers the Negro people no program for meeting the atrocities of the Klan in the United States, except the plan for securing a government in Africa.

Second—That the Universal Negro Improvement Association refuses to say that the Ku Klux Klan is guilty of crimes against Negroes.

The Workers Party of America, composed of Negro and white workers in fraternity requests you to reconsider the above action. We believe that if this convention fails to make an outright attack upon the Klan, boldly accusing it of its crimes against the Negro people and laying down a concrete plan for combatting it, that such a failure will work untold injury to the Negro people and to the working class generally. We believe, furthermore, that your failure officially to declare your enmity to and your determination to fight against that organization will result in weakening the struggle of the colored peoples thruout the world against their oppressors.

The Redemption of Africa.

We, the Workers Party of America, stand for the right of self-determination of the peoples of Africa. We stand for driving all of the European imperialists out of Africa, forever breaking their colonial rule, and for the right of the peoples of Africa to build whatever nation they may choose to establish of their own free will.

We stand also for the right of the Negro people of America and of all other countries to come and go where they please and to migrate to Africa or to any other country they may choose, in a free world of complete equality of all races.

We, the Workers Party of America, as the American section of the Communist International, with branches in all countries of the world, including Africa and the countries of the darker races of Asia, are engaged no less than you in the struggle against the imperialism which is enslaving Africa.

Our Position.

At our Fourth International Congress, held in the city of Moscow, Russia, in 1922, we declared in part:

"It is with intense pride that the Communist International sees the exploited Negro workers resist the attacks of the exploiter, for the enemy of his Race and the enemy of the white workers is one and the same—capitalism and imperialism. The international struggle of the Negro Race is a struggle against capitalism and imperialism. It is on the basis of this struggle that the world Negro movement must be organized. In America, the center of Negro culture and the crystallization of Negro protest; in Africa, the reservoir of human labor for further development of capitalism; in Central America (Costa Rica, Guatemala, Colombia and Nicaragua and other 'independent' republics), where American imperialism domineates; in Porto Rico, Haiti, Santo Domingo and other islands washed by the waters of the Caribbean, where the brutal treatment of our black fellow-men by the American occupation has aroused the protest of the conscious Negro and the revolutionary white workers everywhere; in South Africa and the Congo, where the growing industrialization of the Negro population has resulted in various forms of uprisings; in East Africa, where the recent penetration of world capital is stirring the native populations into an active opposition to capitalism, in all these centers the Negro movement must be organized.

"It is the task of the Communist International to point out to the Negro people that they are not the only people suffering from oppression of capitalism and imperialism; that the workers and peasants of Europe and of the Americas are also the victims of imperialism; that the struggle against imperialism is not the struggle of any one people, but of all the peoples of the world; that in India and China, in Persia and Turkey, in Egypt and Morocco, the oppressed colored colonial peoples are struggling heroically against their imperialist exploiters; that these peoples are rising against the same evils that the Negroes are rising against—racial oppression and discrimination, and intensified industrial exploitation; that these people strive for political, industrial and social liberation and equality.

"The Communist International, which represents the revolutionary workers and peasants of the whole world in the struggle to break the power of imperialism, is not simply the organization of the enslaved white workers of Europe and America, but equally the organization of the oppressed colored peoples of the world, and feels it to be its duty to encourage and support the international organization of the colored people in their struggle against the common enemy."

An International Struggle.

The Workers Party of America calls your attention to the fact that the struggle against the Ku Klux Klan which murders and tortures the Negro in this country, is a part of this world-wide fight.

The terrorizing of the Negro in America is not simply a local matter, to be dealt with opportunistically, but it is a part of the world-wide effort to degrade the Negro and to establish the "principle" that he is "inferior." Any surrender to or conciliation with the Klan here will only serve to demoralize and discourage the fight against race and class oppression thruout the world.

In faraway India, the dark-skinned man who has been touched with the aspiration for freedom will learn with sorrow of your concession to the enemy of all colored races and oppressed classes. In the colonies of Africa, where the beaten and tortured black laborer has begun at last to dare to look the white man in the face and to say, "I am your equal," the news that an important Negro organization has agreed not to contend against the organization which denies the equality of the Negro in America will come as a shock that cannot be offset by any hope that the same Negro organization will successfully fight the combined British, French, Italian, Spanish, Belgian and American armies and navies for equality or supremacy in Africa.

The pride and courage of the brave black people now struggling for liberation in Haiti and the other island republics and colonies will not be increased by learning that the Universal Negro Improvement Association has decided not to fight for the equality of the Negro in the United States against the degraded and criminal Klan organization.

The hundreds of millions of Chinese and other yellow and brown peoples of Asia are struggling now to destroy the huge lie of "white superiority" over darker peoples. Their courage will not be improved by learning that you will not openly contest the claim of "white supremacy" in this country of twelve million Negroes.

This is an international fight. The Ku Klux Klan is the American phase of an international issue. Any failure to combat the Ku Klux Klan in America is a surrender of one sector of a world-wide battle front, bringing injury to all concerned in the struggle for liberation.

Don't Demoralize the Fight.

We are fully aware that the best members of your organization know perfectly well that the Klan is no friend of the Negro, but that it burns, hangs, tortures and terrorizes Negro men, women and children. In the debate Mr. Sherrill, even in supporting the resolutions, pointed out that the Klan is no friend of the Negro, and that to state otherwise would be both untrue and cowardly.

We know furthermore that no matter what position this convention may take on the subject, the American Negro will not fight the Klan. The members of your organization, especially, who are almost entirely of the working class, will have to fight the Klan, which is not only against Negroes, but also against the working class. Our objection is not that your members will not fight the Klan, but that your failure to declare a program for fighting it will tend to demoralize the fight against the Klan.

As evidence of this tendency to demoralize the fight, we point out that some of your delegates in the debate expressed the belief that your organization will gain certain toleration, if not actual help, from the Klan in return for your pacific attitude toward it. On behalf of the Negro workers and white workers who are our members, we issue the solemn warning that any friendly toleration that may be promised by or expected of the Klan will be delivered in the form of the rope and the torch. The more the Negro weakens himself before the Klan, by giving up the fight for his political and social rights in America, the more ready the cowardly Klan will be to torture and burn his weakened victim.

What Does the Klan Want of the Negro?

There are some who think that because the Klan hates the Negro, the Klan will be glad to get rid of the Negro by encouraging a large migration to Africa.

To any who may think this way, will say that the Klan hates the Negro, not to get rid of him, but to keep him working in the cotton fields and the work shops, and to suppress any aspiration the Negro may have to escape exploitation.

We warn you that the Klan's hatred of the Negro has an economic basis. The Klan is an expression of the American capitalist class, or at least of the petty capitalist class, and it is utterly unable to act in any way that is not in the interest of capitalism.

The interest of capitalism is to create hatred of the Negro; and the Klan hates accordingly. The interest of capitalism is to rob the Negro of political, social and economic equality, so as to make him easier to exploit; and therefore the Klan becomes a tool for this purpose. The interest of capitalism is to maintain a caste system, as an aid to the class division of society; and the Klan makes the preservation of the caste system its most joyful task. The interest of capitalism is to divide the working class into "air-tight-compartments" by means of race hatreds—gentile hating Jew, "hundred per cent Americans" hating foreign-born workers, white workers hating Negro workers, one religious sect hating another—thus preventing the working class coming together in a solidarity which would endanger capitalism; and so the Ku Klux Klan distils the poison which robs the working people of their sanity and their ability to understand each other, making them as the people of Babel.

Thus the Ku Klux Klan, as a class instrument of capitalist society, does everything in the service of the capitalist system of exploitation. It does nothing and can do nothing of any sort that is opposed to the interests of capitalist exploitation.

What is the supreme interest of the capitalist class in regard to the Negro?

To exploit the Negro is the first object of the capitalist class. All other purposes are subordinate to that acquiring as much political and social rights in America, when the time comes to deliver, you will find yourselves all the more hopelessly exploited, degraded, tortured and terrorized, a people without a home either in America or in Africa or anywhere else.

The Workers Party of America and the Communist International stand for the right of the Negro to migrate where he will—freely to Africa or anywhere else it may please him to go—or to stay where he will, and to enjoy full, free political, industrial and social equality wherever he may be, in any country on earth. But without your contesting for these rights here and now where you are, these rights cannot be won anywhere.

What of Africa?

The rights of the Negro in Africa are not free for the taking. They have to be fought for, no less than the rights of the Negro in America. The African continent is now under the brutal domination of the most powerful capitalist governments on earth. Its gold, diamonds, rubber and other products, and the power to exploit African labor, are, among the most precious possessions of these foreign aggressors, who will fight to the last with the strongest armies and navies in the world before they will surrender an inch of Africa's soil. Even the supposedly "independent" African Negro states are being irresistibly encroached upon by these greedy European capitalist states, with the American capitalist government also forcing its way in, to have a share of the spoils for American capitalists.

Is it, then, possible that these predatory governments would permit or encourage a migration into Africa of a large number of Negroes going there for the purpose of winning their own nationhood and freeing the million-fold African people from the exploitation of these very powers? Will the capitalist powers who are seizing Abyssinia's seaports extend a welcome to tens of thousands of Negroes come to strengthen Abyssinia's independence? Is it not clear that the supposedly "independent" republic of Liberia is completely under the control of the great powers that are stealing her land on all borders, when the American, French and British ministers, and not the Liberian government, decide the policy of that country? In refusing the recent request of your organization for permission to locate 3,000 immigrants, did not the president of Liberia state as one reason for the refusal "that he is keeping his mind on the obligation of Liberia to the great powers"? Does this not mean that Negro independence in Africa is a farce, and that a fight against capitalism and capitalist governments in Africa, in America, in Europe and thruout the world is a necessity to any plan for Negro freedom?

Can you afford, then, to abstain from fighting against a petty and contemptible Negro-baiting society in any one of these countries, on the theory that such a society will tolerate your efforts for liberation? The Ku Klux Klan will not help you to destroy its fatal twin brother, capitalism and imperialism. It will fight you. You must fight it.

Is it not better for you to issue your defiance to the Ku Klux Klan and the capitalism and the caste system which it supports, and to join hands with the great world movement which is fighting your enemies in all countries?

On behalf of the Negro workers and white workers and workers of all races who are members of our party, we most earnestly request the convention of the Universal Negro Improvement Association to reconsider the resolutions which were passed on the subject of the Ku Klux Klan. We ask you, for the sake of not betraying the Negro Race and the class to which you and we belong, to declare your undying antagonism to the Ku Klux Klan and all that it stands for, and to join us in the determination not to rest until the last filthy trace of it is exterminated from this country.

Fraternally yours,
THE WORKERS PARTY OF AMERICA.
WILLIAM Z. FOSTER,
National Chairman.
C. E. RUTHENBERG,
National Executive Secretary.

WANTS IRELAND TO BREAK WITH GREAT BRITAIN

England Charged with Treaty Violation

(Special to the Daily Worker)

DUBLIN, Aug. 13.—Deputy Thomas Johnson, Englishman and leader of the Irish Labor Party, charges that England, his native land, violated the treaty which created the Irish Free State and the Northern government, while President W. T. Cosgrove, Irishman, nationalist and former professional English-hater, defends the British government against charges of violating the treaty and has reached an agreement with the British Labor Government to introduce legislation establishing a boundary commission. Some mixup!

After a somewhat heated debate Cosgrove's compromise was accepted by the Dail, only ten members of the Labor Party voting in opposition.

Thomas Johnson, the labor leader, urged that the time had arrived for Ireland to go her own way. Kevin O'Higgins, Minister for Home Affairs, denounced Mr. Johnson for wanting to separate Ireland from a nation of 40,000,000 people, Ireland's best customer.

Oil Exports from Tampico.

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 13.—Over 71,000,000 barrels of oil were exported from Tampico during the first six months of 1924. This shows an increase of 306,000 barrels over the first six months of last year, in spite of the prolonged strike of the El Aguila Oil company. The largest export company this year is the Transcontinental (Standard Oil)

NON-UNION MINERS GET LEAD BREAKFAST IN WILBURTON, OKLA.

WILBERTON, Okla., August 13.—Five non-union miners were shot, one being seriously wounded, in an ambush set at Hughes, 10 miles east of here late yesterday, according to word from Sheriff Austin Park today.

PRES. HARRIS IN PICKLE AT WEST VA. LABOR MEET

Failed to Push Farmer-Labor Party

(Special to The Daily Worker)

WHEELING, W. Va., Aug. 13.—The West Virginia State Federation of Labor convention which opens in Wheeling early yin September, will iron out the internal strife of the past year. Local unions that protested against alleged irregular and unconstitutional procedure of President Harris and that were done out of representation will be given representation at the convention. The executive council, American Federation of Labor, which heard the grievances of the local unions and city central bodies at its Atlantic City meeting early in August, promises that everybody will have a fair show at the state convention.

Financial Kicks Coming.

Altho financial complaints loom large in the opposition to Harris, other grievances include his failure to push the Farmer-Labor movement indorsed by the previous convention

WARRING G. O. P. FACTIONS IN HARMONY CONFAB

"Friends" and Enemies of Labor Unite

The warring republican factions of Illinois held a harmony conference a few days ago with the object of settling the differences that have practically wrecked their machine, confronting them with the danger of seeing the democrats romping away with the political bacon in the coming campaign.

The Crowe, Deneen and Small factions were represented, but no high hopes are held out as to the result of the confab. The senate over which will handle the funds was postponed. That is the most coveted position as each group wants to get the lion's share of the dough.

Former Mayor Thompson seems to be losing prestige. While he was represented equally with Small, the delegates were taking their orders from Small not from Thompson.

What will become of the LaFollette policy to support Small in view of the hostility of labor to State's Attorney Crowe, is now an interesting question. The labor fakers will support Small anyhow and LaFollette cannot afford to antagonize them.

Now It Serves Many.

MOSCOW, Aug. 12.—The last convent remaining in the city has been changed into a factory for the manufacture of artificial limbs. The eighty nuns, mostly old women, who formerly dwelt in the Convent of the Holy Virgin are being cared for by peasants in the neighborhood.

Send in that Subscription Today.

NEGROES WILL CHALLENGE CAL ON KLAN ISSUE

Evasions of Silent One Won't Work

(Special to The Daily Worker)

WASHINGTON, August 13.—Cautious Cal has found a way to squirm around the Ku Klux Klan issue, in the opinion of his advisers here. His letter declaring that a Negro is as much entitled to run for a congressional nomination as is a white man was designed to overcome the loss he sustained when La Follette publicly denounced the Klan and its racial and religious discrimination.

Coolidge does not repudiate the help he is receiving from the Klan in Indiana, Oklahoma, Maine and elsewhere, but he makes a bid for the colored vote.

The bid comes too late however, to prevent a serious revolt among the intelligent Negroes. That a great number of the Negroes are not fooled even by the beautiful phrases of La Follette is indicated by the statement of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, in which they repudiate the alleged support they are said to have given the Wisconsin Senator on the grounds that he refused to organize a labor party at Cleveland on July 4.

Negroes Will Challenge Calvin

Influential Negroes in this city state that they will challenge Coolidge to denounce the Klan directly, in view of the Klan's espousal of his cause in Indiana and Oklahoma. Does he repudiate Senator Jim Watson's deal with the Indiana Klan, or does he tacitly approve that treaty? Can Coolidge be pro-Klan in Indiana and anti-Klan in New York?

CICERO POLICE ARREST COUPLE OF SOAPBOXERS

Western Electric Still Sore at Workers Party,

Clarence Miller of the Young Workers League and Frank Zalpis of the Workers Party were arrested yesterday and released on a bail of $102 each for speaking on the corner of West 44th St. and 49th Ct., in Cicero, on the usual flimsy charge of "disorderly conduct" and "speaking without a permit."

When Miller, who has already been pinched once for soapboxing because the cops did not like his red hair, asked the Cicero defender of law and order if there was free speech in the United States, the blue-coated worthy replied: "Of course, but it depends what you speak about."

As Good as Duncan Sisters.

After having made this profound and philosophical remark, he haled the two comrades to the bailwick of Captain of Police Svoboda, who promptly relegated the awful reds to the same cell as had previously been occupied by such respectable persons as the Duncan sisters.

Just before being released on bail, the captain inquired as to whether or not Miller had made a political speech. When assured that he had, and told that the comrade had spoken for the candidacy of William Z. Foster for the Workers Party, the brilliant chief of the police inquired if Foster was connected with "this guy LaFollette."

Captain Knows His Stuff.

This question, which shows an amazing keenness and observation, should fit Captain Svoboda immediately for the candidacy of mayor of Cicero.

The hearing of the two arrested comrades will come up on Monday, morning, 10:00 a. m.

EVACUATION IS HELD AS CLUB OVER GERMANS

(Special to The Daily Worker)

LONDON, Aug. 13.—Premier Herriot of France, Premier Theunis of Belgium, and Chancellor Marx of Germany, met today in a supreme effort to work out a plan for evacuation of the Ruhr by Franco-Belgian troops. Premier Herriot insisted upon coupling evacuation with a commercial agreement, including treatment for Alsatian factories.

Both the French and Belgians insisted upon a detailed settlement with Germany regarding their future commercial relations before submitting to a definite Ruhr evacuation plan. The French are especially anxious to safeguard Alsace-Lorrain industries.

Send in that Subscription Today.

ADMIRAL ASKS WARS TO KEEP IDLE IN EASE

Beats Mallins' Fears With Mutual Murder

(Special to The Daily Worker)

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Aug. 13.—Visions of people toppling off the "edges" of the United States unless we immediately prepare for a war of aggression were created before an audience at the Institute of Politics at the open conference on disarmament by Rear Admiral W. L. Rodgers, retired.

In the first frank defense of war, including war of aggression as well as war of defense, that any speaker at the Institute of Politics has made in the four years of its existence, Admiral Rodgers declared that the United States should arm itself to defend its new immigration policy now and to seize territory from other nations in the future with which to accommodate its growing population.

War to Keep Population Down.

Admiral Rodgers quoted Professor Henry Pratt Fairfield of New York university, who said the other day that if America's population continued to increase at the present rate, it would equal the present population of China at the end of the century.

The present population of the United States is 110,000,000, and that of China is 410,000,000. That argument convinced Admiral Rodgers and got him to thinking, and he has found the solution. We must create new wars.

In the course of his speech he made this interesting statement: "In this country we do ourselves the pleasure of maintaining the weaklings of society at the expense of the community." We cannot help but agree with Admiral Rodgers on this point. But we differ "a little" as to the remedy for this conditon when he proposes that we exploit the workers of other countries so that we may continue supporting the weaklings of our society. Perhaps we differ also with his interpretation of weaklings. For we understand weaklings to be those who do not work. He says we must take unto ourselves more territory and enslave their inhabitants so that we may continue to maintain these weaklings in luxury. That is the sum total every intelligent worker will get from his speech.

The admiral made his statement after listening for three days to Professor James T. Shotwell's elucidations of the American draft of a proposed treaty for disarmament which will come up before the League of Nations Assembly at Geneva next month.

Rodgers said the American plan rested on the mistaken belief that the whole world wanted to do away with war. There might be some possibility of agreeing upon limitation of armament, he said, if all the world were animated by the same abhorrence of war shown by Professor Shotwell, but he believed certain great and powerful nations "regard successful war as a means of getting what they want, tho too expensive for frequent use."

NEW YORK CITY Party Activities

OPEN AIR MEETINGS.

—Saturday, August 16.

Section 1—Silver and Madison Sts.—Speakers: George Primoff and others.

Section 2—14th St. and 8th Ave.—Speakers: Joe Brahdy and Louis Baum.

Section 3—Grand Street Extension—Speakers: Ettinger, S. Felshin.

Section 4—Stone and Pitkin Aves.—Speakers: Charles Brower and others.

Section 6—35th St. and Mermaid Ave.—Speakers: Fannie Warshawsky, Pollack.

Union Hill, New Jersey.

Tuesday, August 12—Speakers: S. Felshin and others.

Saturday, August 16—George Primoff, Jack Statchel.

— WANTED —

A citizen living in either Suffold or Nassau County, New York, who is sympathetic to the Workers Party to go on the ballot as a presidential elector for the party. Kindly communicate immediately with Harry M. Winitsky, campaign manager at 208 East 12th Street, N. Y. City.

APARTMENT FOR RENT.

Couple wanted (comrades) to share 6 room apartment. Latest improvements. 2733 Seminary Ave. Lake View 6982.

FURNISHED ROOM WANTED.

Single room for man. Northside preferred. Quiet. The Daily Worker, Box 9-A.

PITTSBURGH, PA.
DR. RASNICK
DENTIST
Rendering Expert Dental Service for 20 Years
746 SMITHFIELD ST., Near 7th Ave.
1409 CENTER AVE., Cor. Arthur St.

ED. GARBER
QUALITY SHOES
FOR MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN
2427 LINCOLN AVENUE
CHICAGO
Telephone Diversey 5129

CENTRAL EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF WORKERS PARTY CONDEMNS "VOLKSZEITUNG" ADVERTISEMENT

The Central Executive Committee of the Workers Party has issued a statement on an advertisement that appeared recently in the "Volkszeitung," the New York German Communist Daily, as follows:

* * * *

It has come to the attention of the Central Executive Committee of the Party that the following advertisement appeared in the Volkszeitung of August 1, 1924:

"Purchase from the 7½ Percent State Loan of the Kingdom of Hungary at the Price of $87.50 for $100. Banking House Emil Kiss, 133 Second Avenue (8th St.) New York."

The bonds offered for sale in this advertisement are those of the counter-revolutionary Horthy government which is now in power in Hungary. This counter-revolutionary government established itself after overthrowing the Hungarian Soviet Government. During the period of its reign it let loose against the workers of Hungary and particularly the Communists of Hungary a white terror which has not been equalled in any other country. Tens of thousands of Hungarian workers and Communists were murdered and imprisoned by the Horthy government. It was only thru the intervention of the Soviet Government that some of the leading Communists of Hungary were saved from death at the hands of Horthy.

It is a matter of shame and disgrace for the entire Workers Party that such an advertisement should appear in one of its publications and the Central Executive Committee condemns unsparingly and censures the Volkszeitung for publication of this advertisement.

The Central Executive Committee has also adopted the following decisions in regard to the matter:

1—That if, after investigation, any Party member is found to have passed upon this advertisement before publication, he shall be immediately expelled from the party.

2—That Comrade Lore, the Editor of the Volkszeitung, is instructed to immediately write and publish an editorial repudiating and apologizing for the appearance of the advertisement in the Volkszeitung.

3—The Central Executive Committee instructs the German Bureau to inquire into the matter as to how the advertisement appeared and who was responsible and also appoints as a sub-committee of the Central Executive Committee Comrades Foster, Gitlow and Bittelman, who will investigate the matter and submit a report to the Central Executive Committee.

4—The Central Executive Committee is determined to do all in its power to wipe out this stain upon the revolutionary integrity of the Workers Party.

CENTRAL EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE,
WORKERS PARTY OF AMERICA,
William Z. Foster, Chairman.
C. E. Ruthenberg, Executive Secretary.

BILL TO SETTLE BOUNDARY FIGHT IS INTRODUCED

Irish Labor Charges Treaty Violation

DUBLIN, Aug. 13. — The British parliament will reassemble on Sept. 30, in order to take action on the boundary dispute between the northern government of Ireland and the Irish Free State. This issue has serious possibilities and the Ramsay MacDonald government is doing everything in its power to conciliate the Orangemen and at the same time make it appear that it is willing to carry out the terms of the treaty signed in 1921 and ratified by the British parliament.

J. H. Thomas, colonial secretary, journeyed to Dublin and hatched a compromise with President Cosgrave of the Free State. Mr. Thomas agreed to introduce a bill immediately designed to settle the boundary dispute, but to postpone debate on it until the house reconvenes, hoping that in the meantime the Ulsterites would listen to reason.

Tories Defy Government.

The Ulster Tories have always in the past been able to browbeat the British government into acquiescence with their desires, and they are succeeding in imposing their will on the British labor government. So subservient has the present government showed itself to the Tories that it commissioned the Duke of Connaught to represent the king at the Derry corporation (city council), which has repudiated the principle of majority rule, backed by the bayonets of the northern government.

The bill introduced in the house of commons provides that, subject to confirmation of an agreement by the British parliament and the Dail Eireann, the northern Irish government's power to appoint a commissioner shall be transferred to and exercised by the British government and for the purpose of Article 12 of the treaty, any commissioners so appointed shall be deemed to be a commissioner appointed by the northern government.

Cosgrave Fears Fall.

Failure of the British Labor government to enforce the terms of the treaty has created a serious political situation for the Cosgrave government. Fear that the republicans might take advantage of the crisis to overthrow the Free State government was responsible for the hurried trip of J. H. Thomas to Dublin.

The Irish Labor Party in the Dail demands that steps be taken to frame a new treaty on the ground that the British government has been guilty of a breach of faith.

Buy U. S. Eletric Goods.

MOSCOW, Aug. 13.—The Ukrainian Ukraine, reports that, in May, the volume of trade done between the Ukrainian Foreign Trade Department and American firms increased several times, as compared with the preceding months. Articles purchased in the U. S. A. were mainly electro-technical articles. All these deals are being transacted directly between sellers and buyers, without any Western European intermediaries—which naturally helps to make prices cheaper.

FARRELL STEEL WORKER MAY WIN RETRIAL SEPT. 3

Defense Attorney Has Fifty Grounds

The motion for a new trial for Tony Kovacovich, steel worker of Farrell, convicted of "sedition" at Mercer, Pa., will be argued on September 3, according to the information just received by Attorney I. E. Ferguson, who is handling the defense of the six indicted steel workers.

Ferguson will argue on the new trial motion on as many as fifty grounds if necessary. He says that there are easily that many bases for granting a new trial. Many grounds deal with the evidence offered by the federal department of justice agent, Lennon. Ferguson will argue on the impropriety of the dick's testimony.

Altho the trial of the steel workers comes in a klan-infested territory, with K. K. K. bred hysteria influencing the juries, the judge is likely to grant a new trial. The many grounds of error in the previous case should be ample justification for his allowing a retrial.

Wallace Metcalfe of the Labor Defense Council, in charge of defense publicity and the raising of funds for the Farrell steel workers, has written that there is almost no money with which to carry on this important work of protecting the workers of Pennsylvania. The lower court's adverse decisions in the Farrell cases will mean practically the outlawing of the Workers Party in the steel territory unless enough money is raised to carry the fight thru the highest courts.

The Labor Defense Council is planning to launch a big campaign for funds to protect the six Farrell workers, two of whom have already been convicted. This is one of the most necessary fights facing the Workers Party, even tho not all of the workers indicted belong.

No Compromise with Coolidge, Cheated Postal Clerks Say

(By Federated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—Two officers of the "company union" maintained by high-collar men in the post-office department have started a report that Coolidge has "virtually" assured them of favorable consideration, after election, of a "scientifically drawn" postal pay increase scheme. This rumor is repeated by the Republican national committee, and is inflated by the Hearst wire service to be the start for a generous postal salary move by the man who vetoed the salary bill on June 7.

Officers of the postal employees' national unions state that no assurance has been given by Coolidge, no conference has been proposed, none is to be expected, and no truce with Coolidge is to be made. The 300,000 postoffice workers are out to defeat Coolidge because he not only cheated them out of a fair wage, but slandered them into the bargain. They do not consider his word worthy of credence.

Send in that Subscription Today.

RUSSIAN GRAIN BEATS RIVALS IN MANY LANDS

Crowds Out U. S. in Turkish Trade

(Rosta News.)

MOSCOW (by mail).—An interesting survey of the Russian grain export trade was made at the conference of the representatives of the "Exportkhleb"—the "Grain Export Trust," held in Moscow.

The London agent of the Trust, Mr. Jernakoff, told of the unfavourable conditions under which the work of the organization had at first to be started in England, as during a nine years' interval the English market had got disaccustomed to the Russian grain. As is known, the main suppliers of wheat to England are the United States of America, then Canada, Argentine and Australia, and up to the spring of the current year the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics played but a very insignificant part among the "other" importing countries.

English Like Soviet Trade.

Since last March however, the situation changed rather notably in a favourable sense and imports of Soviet grain, more especially barley, have since been rapidly growing. What is noteworthy, too, is a rapid change for the better in the general attitude of the English market towards Soviet grain: the British importers have now come to realize that under the system of foreign trade monopoly, the standard of Russian grain exports is higher than it was at the time this trade was in private hands.

As for Denmark, Mr. Stohl, agent for the export of grain at Copenhagen, reported that Denmark takes the third place among other European countries in regard to the amount of Russian bread products purchased. The conditions under which Soviet grain is being disposed of in the Danish market are considered on the whole to be quite favorable.

Greece, Turkey Take Grain.

Mr. Anikeyeff, agent for the Near East, told of the great difficulties the Grain Department of the Soviet Trade Mission at Constantinople first met with in view of the competition in the Near Eastern market on the part of the American produce. It is interating to note that before the Soviet made its appearance in this market, the United States imported the entire 100 per cent of the foreign imports; however, after Russia resumed operations, in August, 1923, 14 per cent of all foreign imports in the Turkish market were Soviet grain, and this proportion rose rapidly to 88 per cent in January, 1924,—at which period the State did not import a single pound of bread to Turkey. At the present time, about one half of the exports of grain from the Soviet Union to the Near Eastern countries goes to Greece, and the other to Turkey.

The report concludes by stating that the prospects of Soviet grain exports to the Near East are quite favourable and stresses that the Soviet can easily import into Turkey from 80 to 90 per cent of the entire imports of wheat into that country. With regard to trade with Greece, Mr. Anikeyeff believes that the Union of Soviet Republics can import into that country about a half of the total imports of grain into Greece.

British Producing Co-operatives Have Growing Enterprise

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Aug. 13.—The Co-operative Productive Federation of Great Britain, comprising the leading producers' co-operative societies of that country, has just released thru the All-American Co-operative Commission a report of its trade and profits for the past year. The 29 societies comprising the federation produced $8,389,000 worth of goods, with a net earning of $819,000 for their members. The most prosperous group of the textile societies, which did approximately $5,000,000 worth of business, while the co-operative shoe factories came second with about half that amount of trade.

The British co-operative societies have recently held a memorable congress in the city of Nottingham. The producers' societies represented manufacture everything human beings need, all the way from toys for the children to crutches for the aged. The oldest producers' society at the congress was the Paisley Textile Works, established in 1862, and now possessed of factories occupying several city blocks manufacturing all kinds of textile goods.

The American co-operative headquarters has received a beautiful souvenir of the Nottingham congress produced by the Leicester Co-operative Printing Society, a handsomer piece of typographical work than any co-operative society in this country has yet produced.

Christian Anti-War Week.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—The youth of America are asked to participate in International Peace Week, August 3-10, by the Pope Christian Student's Union and Young People's Union of Holland. Young people's organizations thruout Europe will participate in the anti-war demonstration.

Send in that Subscription Today.

COMMUNIST CHILDREN'S COLUMN

A LETTER FROM THE RUSSIAN CHILDREN TO THEIR AMERICAN COMRADES.

Moscow, Red Presnin District, 11th Branch of the Young Pioneers, at Factory "Red Defense" No. 32:

Workers of the World Unite! Pioneers for the sake of the working class, be ready!—

Dear Comrades: We are sending you our warm greetings. We are interested to know how you are organized. Have you got companies and branches? How many branches have you got?

The first day of May we had a big celebration in Moscow. When we passed the tomb of our dear unforgetable grandfather, Ilitch, we all lowered our heads and many had tears in their eyes. Everyone reminded himself of our dear Ilitch. We celebrated the first of May but he was not among us, and he will not return to us any more. But altho he is dead, his ideas will never die! Dear children, you should never forget our dear father Ilitch!

The 17th of May our branch went for an excursion to camp for five days. While in camp we helped the peasants in the field. One little pioneer, the smallest of us, asked a peasant to allow him to plough, and was actually ploughing.

We are now real Pioneers. The 23rd of May we have taken the official oath. We had a parade before Comrade Trotzky. Now we are called Leninci (Leninists). Ilitch is dead, but he does not need any dead wreaths, but live ones.

The ranks of the Communist Youth are growing constantly Our branches are also growing rapidly.

Write to us about your life. Is your enemy very strong? Are you helping your parents? Write to us about your organizational work. The struggle for us is an easy one, as Ilitch led us out to the wide road and we are following his footsteps. Good bye. Write to us soon. We will be glad to receive your first letter.

Fraternally yours,
Pioneers at factory "Red Defense," Novo-Slobodskaya ulica, No. 24, Pioneer Branch 11, Moscow.

THE VIEWS OF OUR READERS ON LIFE, LABOR, INDUSTRY, POLITICS

Stands for Communist Ticket.

To the DAILY WORKER: LaFollette is playing the same game that Bryan played in '96. At that time the populists voted the Democratic ticket and lost their identity on the ballot in many states. At our state convention Peter Witt and George Gruth of Cleveland, were the disturbers and busted the Populist party in Ohio. I can now see the dirty work they are playing in Ohio thru the LaFollette movement. I am surprised at Debs and many others who are either playing as traitors or are too cowardly to stand by their colors.

I was a dyed-in-the-wool Republican, and I know what upscrupulous and illegal tactics were used to poll the vote. The Populist movement was destroyed by its fusing with the Democrats in the North and the Republicans in the South. I was a charter member of the Knights of Labor in Michigan and now I want to ask the old guard, what other course we have as the farmers and the workers but to get together and give the plutes such a razzing by voting for the Workers Party that will make them hide. We have been hiding long enough.

I am a full-fledged revolutionary Communist and they may call me a red or anarchist or an I. W. W., but their bluff doesn't work on me.

Put me in touch with the Ohio state organization so that I can assist with our state petition. I was pleased to see Coldwell stick; he surely is not a coward.—Otto Huber, New Richmond, Ohio.

Write to This Comrade.

To the DAILY WORKER—I am sending you a letter which we have received in response to our agitation to draw workers into the Workers Party. This response comes from a group of miners from Flushing, Ohio. It reads as follows:

Flushing, Ohio, Aug. 7, 1924.

Dear Editor of the Novy Mir—On the 5th of August I have read in your paper the Lenin appeal, which calls to the working masses to unite and become members of the Workers Party. I have rejoiced at this appeal and am ready to step into the ranks of the Workers Party and to take with me other comrades. I am working in a mine among Russian and Polish workers. Altho there are only a few Russians here, yet even these spend their time in vice, scandal and drunkenness.

Please give me your advice as to how I can form a branch of the Workers Party here. I think that after we have a branch of the Workers Party here the Russian workers will abandon their present mode of living. There are a few comrades here who will help me organize these workers. Comrades, please send me your advice. With comradely greetings, H. M. and M. With comradely greetings, B. Borisoff, Editor Novy Mir, Russian Communist Daily.

Music for Foster Campaign.

To the DAILY WORKER—I have just read the letter of Comrade Frank Miller, New York, in the DAILY WORKER of Monday, Aug. 4.

In response to his suggestion that the workers need music, I am sending an original composition, words and music, of course.

I would like to see Foster roll up a million or more votes. Faithfully, I. D. McFadden, Montrose, Colo.

FIGHT FOR FIGHTING FOSTER!
Hear the cry of terror springing
From the Plutocratic Nest,
As the working class is swinging
Into line from coast to coast!
Foster is the Workers Party
Presidential candidate.
Communists are hale and hearty!
Vote the workers ticket straight!

(CHORUS)
We will end all exploitation!
"Who will not work shall not eat!"
Foster's Red Administration
Grafts of all kinds, will defeat!

See that Foster is elected
With a workers' congress! They
Will be have workers all protected—
Union hours, union pay!
Farmers, by co-operation,
Skinners, will eliminate!
Those who love expropriation,
Let the Reds expropriate!

I. D. McFadden.

Editor's Note—The music to this song can be had upon application to the DAILY WORKER, Readers' View Department.

OPEN KISSING OPENLY ARRIVED AT SLOGAN OF BALTIMORE BULL

BALTIMORE, Aug. 13.—Automobile "petting parties" were officially approved today by Chief Police Inspector George Henry.

"It is no more harm," Henry said, "to kiss a girl in an automobile than to sit in her parlor with your arm around her."

Reactionary Rulers Of Serbia Fighting Labor Movement

(Special to the DAILY WORKER)

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Aug. 13.—Of the 13,000,000 inhabitants of Serbia 540,000 may be classed as industrial workers.

Wages per day in paper is about 12 times the rate before the war, while the cost of living has gone up 16 times.

The trade unions, which as a result of the revolution jumped from a pre-war membership of 20,000 to 250,000, were dissolved by the government in 1920. Since 1921 they have been allowed to partly re-establish themselves, provided they are not radical. The authorities and courts are hostile to the labor movement.

Free Railroads Just as Logical as Free Bridges

CLEVELAND, Aug. 13.—Toll railroads must follow toll bridges. This flashed through a number of minds as with the opening of the 1,317-foot, ten-span concrete bridge on the main Chicago-Cleveland-Buffalo road the last toll bridge in Ohio was wiped out.

Although the occasion was marked with addresses by important federal and state officials, not one called attention to the fact that it is just as illogical to permit private profit to favored corporations controlling the nation's steel roads as it is to permit profit-making control of its dirt roads.

Negroes Gain Estate.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Aug. 13.—Ellen Davis, aged Negro servant, was today made heiress to a farm estate, including home, stock, equipment and 273½ acres valued at $100,000, thru the will of her late employer, John T. Hughes. Alex Rankin, another Negro servant, was bequathed 96½ acres.

Bosses Must Quit Unions.

MELBOURNE, Australia, Aug. 13.—Employers' Associations in Australia are demanding that workers promoted to staff positions where they control other workers must resign from their unions. The Melbourne Trades Hall council affirms its intention of preserving the right to continued membership.

MILITARISTS USE DEFENSE DAY FOR PROPAGANDIZING

Mayors' Plans Prove Preparedness Aim

The "defenses" which the mayors of Illinois assembled in solemn meeting in the Chicago Athletic Club parlors plan to put up on "Defense Day" or, as it is better known, "Mobilization Day," are not designed to show what forces this nation has to "protect" it from war but are directly intended to arouse the country for a preparedness campaign.

Prayer and patriotic speeches are prominent in the recommendations of the mayors. Display of flags on homes, shops, streets and barns is approved. Athletic meets to demonstrate the "fitness" of the nation's youth for slaughter by all the horrible devices of modern warfare are suggested.

"P is for "Paytriotism."

Pageants and parades are included in the patriotic mummery planned for Sept. 12. The children are to form tableaux and the army and navy to parade for the "patriots." And family mass-meetings with music and speakers on "public safety" are offered as proper parts of the "defense test."

The original purpose of "Mobilization Day" was to mobilize the citizens and the regular and reserve army to demonstrate what forces this country would have in the event of an outbreak of war. But the tremendous wave of criticism which has swept over the government and against Coolidge for proposing this "war-like" gesture has made the militarists shift a bit and change their tactics.

War Pays the Bosses.

The proposals of the Illinois mayors are sheerly for propaganda purposes, for propagating the idea of preparedness, for getting the country into a more susceptible temper for war preparedness, and for ultimately introducing the next world war to the "common people," the workers who must fight the battles of peace and war for the capitalists until they get sense enough to shake the corpulent pests off their backs.

Milwaukee Trades Council Raps Cal On Military Feelers

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 13.—Notwithstanding the American Federation of Labor executive council's refusal to endorse Secretary of War Weeks' Mobilization day stunt, the Milwaukee Federated Trades council unanimously threw its hooks into the militarist scheme and voted to tell Coolidge of its disaproval. Delegates to the central body declared Mobilization day plans one of the most atrocious proposals ever launched by the munition interests in time of peace.

This Fellow

READ A PAMPHLET!

Suppose you order a supply for sale at open air meetings! You read them first and then sell them to your friend, shopmate and fellow unionist. Don't tell him about the donkey never reading pamphlets or books.

Special discount if ordered before Sept. 1st, 1924.

The World's Trade Union Movement, by Losovsky ..... $ .50
American Imperialism, Jay Lovestone ..... .15
Amalgamation, Jay Fox ..... .15
The Struggle Against Fascism, A. Nin ..... .15
For a Labor Party, by J. Pepper ..... .20
No Compromise, No Political Trading, W. Leibknecht ..... .10
A B C of Communism, Bucharin.. .50
Appeal to the Young, Kropotkin.. .10
Communism and Christianism, Bishop Brown ..... .25
American Foreign Born Workers ..... .15
"Communist International" current issue ..... .25
Revolutionary Crisis in Germany, France, England and Italy, W. Z. Foster ..... .25
Lenin, His Life and Work, Zinoviev ..... .15
Wage, Labor and Capital, Marx.. .10
Value, Price and Profit, Marx..... .15
Two Speeches of Karl Marx..... .10

30 per cent discount on all orders for $3.00 or more.
The whole set as above to any one address for..... $2.00

Regular price $3.10

Order from
LITERATURE DEPARTMENT
WORKERS PARTY OF AMERICA
1113 Washington Blvd., Chicago, Ill.

The World of Labor - Industry & Agriculture

WORKERS IN FOOD TRADES SUPPORT ANTI-MILITARISM

Denounce Defense Day As War Step

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—The National Executive Committee of the Amalgamated Food Workers of America has adopted a resolution condemning the arrangements for "Mobilization Day" and aligning itself with the world-wide demonstrations against the menace of imperialist wars held under the international auspices of the Communist International, and in America, under the Workers Party.

Attack American Imperialism.

The resolution shows the connection between the mobilization of the army, National Guard and citizen soldiery and the American pursuit of an imperialist policy in the Philippines, Santo Domingo and South and Central American governments. It also points out the "efforts of American capitalists to penetrate and capture the Asiatic markets even at the cost of war."

Demand Soviet Recognition.

The Food Workers' Union demands the freedom of the Philippines, the withdrawal of America from the Central and South American republics and the immediate recognition of Soviet Russia.

Bank Cashier May Have Done a Little Boring from Within

PEORIA, Ill., Aug. 13.—The Fond du Lac State Bank of East Peoria was closed today and John M. Speer, cashier, was held in custody of the sheriff pending results of an examination of the bank's accounts by State Bank examiner J. L. Northup, who announced that he had found funds had been misappropriated.

Speer was held in the Taswell county jail, but no warrant had been sworn out against him, owing to the absence of the states attorney.

Further examination of the bank's books might show a discrepancy of $1a3,000, according to Sheriff Neuhaus of Pekin.

Unemployment in St. Paul.

ST. PAUL, August 13.—Trade Union committees are besieging the St. Paul city hall and county offices to have public construction labor done by St. Paul workers in place of laborers imported by the contractors. A number of Mexicans have been brought in and put on public work. The unions also demand adherence to the 8-hour day while the contractors are trying to stretch it to 10 hours. Business agents report three men for every job, with a higher percentage in the building trades.

Send in that Subscription Today.

Dinner Pail Epics by Bill Lloyd

Down in Australia, t'other day, some unemployed, the papers say, marched boldly to hotels what's swell where high-toned folks and rich men dwell, and told the clerk and told the hop they wanted rooms in which to flop, and since they'd had no coin of late, they just could charge it to the state.

And then they dragged their weary feet into the dining rooms so neat, with china and cut glass so fine, and bowing waiters all in line, with table cloths all snowy white and flowers to give the eye delight, and seeing all the grub on plates and thinking of their own hard fates, they sed: "Our jobs has all gone lame, but we will order up the same. We'll eat the list and then the ice, and tell the cook to serve it nice. And after we have et our fill, the government will pay the bill."

Well, say, those guests wuz somewhat jarred to have their dinner rudely marred, to have their coats and gowns rubbed by hungry hosts of Great Unscrubbed.

It ain't so hard to read each day that they is folks who cannot pay for even cheapest kind of stew, because they ain't no work to do. But harder still when they're so rude that gangs of hungry men intrude and form an unkempt unwashed line before folks who don't eat, but dine.

The guvernment wus in a fix when unemployed are bold to mix with upper classes in such places where one expects clean-shaven faces.

The profiteers got awful dizzy; the guvernment damd soon got busy. The unemployed improved their mood, when they were given jobs and food. Seems if you can't get food enuf, then direct action is the stuff.

BOSS ENDANGERS WORKERS' LIVES BY HIRING SAPS

Car Plant Almost Goes Up With Workers

BY FRANK HOCKFORD.

(Special to the DAILY WORKER)

LONDON, Ontario, August 13.—The huge Canadian National Car shops here almost went skyward this morning.

The retrenchment policy of the management entailed a layoff of approximately 140 workers. An unskilled man was placed in charge of the acetylene generating plant and becoming confused between twenty and two hundred pounds of carbide, dumped the latter quantity into the tank, with the consequence of a block in the machinery of the gas storage tank becoming heated and after fruitless efforts to get rid of the congestion the men were told to run for their lives and in a short time the plant was empty of its 600 toilers.

Fortunately the explosion backfired and relieved the congestion. After some considerable trouble further great danger was avoided.

Deporting Armenians.

LONDON, Aug. 13.—Deportation of 50,000 Armenians from Greece to make room for Greek refugees is under way. The Armenians have protested against being forced to leave Loforo harvesting their crops.

EMPLOYES BEAR ENTIRE COST OF U. S. PENSIONS

Fund Receives Nothing from Government

(By Federated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—Sen. Stanfield of Oregon, latest sponsor for the retirement pension bill which federal employes have been dragging thru session after session of Congress for the past twenty years, has promised to interview President Coolidge within a few days in support of the measure. The civil service workers are asking for a retirement pension of $1,200 a year for those who have served 30 years and who have drawn at least $1,800 a year for the last ten years of their service. Smaller rates are asked for workers who retire at the end of ten or more years of work for the government.

The retirement scheme which went into effect four years ago is now taking from the salaries of civil servants, with the interest on this fund, more than $15,000,000 a year. This is $6,000,000 more than the present obligations, which involve about 10,550 persons whose average annuity is only $560. The amount to the credit of the retirement fund at the close of the fiscal year was $25,510,000, and at the end of the fiscal year 1924 it had increased to $34,000,000. Next July it will have reached $42,000,000.

The employes who want the $1,200 pension established have estimated that it can be taken care of by a deduction of 2½ per cent in place of the present 2½ percent; from all civil service salaries. This will leave the government free of any contribution to the scheme.

Inasmuch as this is a plan for the expenditure of the civil servants' own money for their own benefit, Sen. Stanfield thinks Coolidge will be willing to endorse it and take political credit for "pensioning" the aged employes of the nation.

Hindu Co-op. Papers.

A current bulletin of the All-American Co-operative Commission reviews the educational activities of the Indian co-operators. The Co-operative Union of the Province of Madras, for instance, publishes a co-operative magazine in two languages, English and Tamil, which the American Commission asserts is "larger and better edited than any co-operative publication on the North American continent." This journal has just completed its fifteenth volume and contains from 44 to 60 pages monthly on the practical development not only of consumers co-operation, but also of co-operative banking, co-operative insurance, co-operative production, and agricultural co-operation. In addition, the Malaba or Co-operative Union publishes the "Co-operator" in Malay and English, the Bengal societies have a well-edited "Co-operative Quarterly."

Non-Union Coal on Lakes.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 13.—The extent to which nonunion West Virginia coal is cutting out union-made Pennsylvania coal in the lake trade is indicted by the Ore & Coal Exchange of Cleveland. According to its figures, from the beginning of the lake season to the end of May nonunion coal carried over the Hocking Valley piers amounted to 1,463,865 tons against 148,810 tons of union coal hauled by the Pennsylvania. Owners of large boats are reported taking their vessels out of the union coal lake trade as a result.

MILLIONS CUT OFF RAILROAD LABOR PAYROLL

Thousands Earning Less Than $20 a Week

(Federated Press Industrial Editor)

Railroad payrolls for May showed a reduction of 103,715 in number employed and $19,650,154 in wages paid as compared with May, 1923, according to the monthly report of the Interstate commerce commission. The average monthly pay of employes paid on an hourly basis had also fallen from $132 in May, 1923, to $128 this year, a drop of 3 per cent.

The reduction in number employed and in wages appears even more drastic when May totals are compared with the peak of employment in the late summer and early autumn of last year. From this peak the number of workers has fallen by 181,000 and total wages by $30,876,413, a decrease of more than 11 per cent.

The numbers laid off during the year in specific occupations which have force are car repairmen 22,712; machinists 8,463; mechanics' helpers 20,299; unskilled shop labor 8,690; freight engineers 3,869; freight firemen 3,625; yard engineers 2,324; yard firemen 2,273; freight brakemen 5,930; yard brakemen 5,423; freight truckers 4,044.

"Comparison of average earnings for May fn 1924 and 1923 shows that the occupations chiefly affected by the layoffs have also sustained material reductions in per capita earnings. Per capita monthly earnings of typical occupations are shown for May, 1923 and May, 1924:

May Earnings	1923	1924
Clerks (B)	$127	$129
Freight Handlers	95	93
Machinists	168	153
Electricians	163	163
Freight carmen	145	142
Mechanic's helpers	112	107
Section labor	76	74
Telegraphers	146	148
Train dispatchers	259	262
Freight engineers	250	243
Freight firemen	181	168
Freight brakemen	172	165

The outstanding fact about the wage structure in the industry continues to be the large number of workers whose low wage condemns them to the casual labor class without the possibility of maintaining a family or a home. There were 220,922 men classed as section labor with earnings which averaged $74 for the entire month's work. The average wage paid thruout the maintenance of way department, which includes over 413,000 employes, was only $89 for the month—less than $1,000 a year.

Senator Reed Sticks To Democratic Ticket Despite Differences

KANSAS CITY, August 13.—United States Senator James A. Reed, Democrat from Missouri, in a statement today set at rest rumors that he intended to withdraw his support from the Democratic party in the coming election, charging that the recent action of Baldwin Locomotive works declares that it has 2,000 more men on its payrolls than on June 1st, an increase of one-third, while the booking of unfilled orders is increasing in proportion.

Steel and iron production is on the increase in some districts, as that of Youngstown, where the mills are operating at 60 per cent of capacity, the highest rate for more than two months.

Information at hand is insufficient to determine whether these are isolated cases, caused by special conditions, or whether they indicate a temporary delay in the general downward course of United States industry.

THOUSANDS OF WORKERS FOLLOW FUNERAL PROCESSION OF I. W. W. VICTIM OF RAID BY HOODLUMS

By MAUD McGREERY

(Federated Press Staff Correspondent)

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 13.—"For once San Pedro stopped and did obeisance to the I. W. W.," declared Clinton Taft, director Los Angeles Civil Liberties Union, commenting on the funeral Aug. 3 of Mrs. Lizzie Sunsted. Mrs. Sunsted was one of the victims of the June 14 raid on the I. W. W. headquarters in San Pedro by masked "patriots" who overturned boiling coffee urns on little children.

Mrs. Sunsted's death cannot be traced directly to the treatment she received at the hands of the masked ruffians who broke up the Workers' entertainment she was attending. But those who cared for her in her last illness charge that the shock of being beaten and the care and worry over her 13-year old daughter, who was so badly scalded by the hot coffee during the raid that she is still unable to lie on her back, broke down the mother's powers of resistance so that she succumbed to an abscess that need not have been fatal.

Victim of Class Struggle.

"Mrs. Sunsted is a victim of the class struggle just as if she had died on the firing line in the way Claude Erwin, secretary Los Angeles I. W. W. Defense league puts it. And just as if she had died fighting, Mrs. Sunsted was given a martyr's funeral. The procession that accompanied the body to the grave was the longest witnessed in San Pedro in many years. It was headed by 500 marchers, walking four abreast, singing the Workers' Memorial song, a Russian dirge. As it passed thru the city many pedestrians doffed their hats in respect.

All Join in Funeral

The sight of little May Sunsted, lying on her stomach on a pillow because the burns on her back are not yet healed, was a striking and constant reminder of the mob raid. May was to have had a part in the entertainment that was raided by the 100 per centers. Members of the local Workers party attended the funeral in a body.

Hungarian Miners Win All Demands In Short Strike

(Federated Press Staff Correspondent.)

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Aug. 13.—After five weeks strike conducted in a model manner, the Hungarian miners have gained practically all their demands in the way of wage increases and working conditions.

The fourth week of the strike the mine operators made an offer which seemed totally unacceptable to the miners' delegates. Instead of turning it down flat, however, they conducted a referendum as a demonstration of how solidly the miners were in opposition to the proposal. The referendum showed 15,860 votes against the operators' proposal, and 186 for it.

The government then had to take a hand. The second proposal, granting virtually all of the miners' demands, was accepted almost unanimously by the miners.

Your Union Meeting

Second Thursday, Aug. 14, 1924.

No.	Name of Local and Place of Meeting.
5	Brick and Clay, A. O. U. W. Hall, Dalton, Ill.
12	Carpenters, 112 S. Ashland Blvd.
62	Carpenters, 6416 S. Halsted St.
241	Carpenters, 1440 Emma St.
434	Carpenters, South Chicago, 11037 Michigan Ave.
504	Carpenters, Ogden and Kedzie.
115	Engineers, 9223 Houston Ave.
16436	Federal Labor Union, 2110 N. Robey
459	Firemen and Enginemen, Springfield and North Aves.
240	Mail Carriers, Harrison and Green
18	Ladies' Garment Workers, 328 W. Van Buren St.
2	Marble Polishers, 810 W. Harrison
17210	Nurses, 721 Gilpin Ave.
	Painters, District Council, 1446 W. Adams St.
271	Painters, Dutt's Hall, Chicago Heights.
26	Paper Rulers, 19 E. Van Buren St., 6.30 p. m.
17201	Park Employes, 816 W. Harrison.
774	Railway Clerks, 55th and Blackstone.
1269	Railway Clerks, 2124 S. Halsted St.
1344	Railway Clerks, Harrison and Green Sts.
677	Railway Trainmen, 64th & University, 8:15 p. m.
120	Signalmen, 180 W. Washington St.
742	Teamsters, 3206 Houston Ave.

(Note—Unless otherwise all meetings are at 8 p. m.)

(Note—Unless otherwise stated all meetings are at 8 p. m.)

SOP TO WORKERS FROM MORGAN'S ELECTRIC FIRM

Petty Stock Bonus to 5-Year Employes

BY LELAND OLDS.

(Federated Press Industrial Editor)

Crumbs from the groaning table of the enormously wealthy General Electric Co., are dropping to 27,412 employes who have given 5 years of continuous service. Meanwhile chairman of the board Owen D. Young is in Europe helping J. P. Morgan get a clinch hold on German industries, among them the giant electrical works at Elbersfeld in the Ruhr. If he succeeds, Morgan will be able to undermine the wages and conditions of workers in the General Electric plant with competition from his lowpaid German workers.

The bonus just distributed represents 5 per cent of the employes' earnings for the last 6 months and amounts to approximately $1,172,000. But does the company come across in cash? Not so you notice it. It hangs onto the cash and will pay the bonus largely in bonds of the General Electric Employes' Securities corporation which is another of the numerous attempts to get a faithful and docile labor force.

When it comes to the wealthy stockholders General Electric talks cash. In the 5 years in which these 27,412 employes have been doing the work it has distributed $62,630,536 in cash dividends not to mention an additional $34,658,372 in stock dividends. In fact it has paid 8 per cent cash dividends without intermission since 1902. The real profits of this corporation have been larger than the dividends indicate. For 10 years stockholders' profits have never fallen below $11 a share and the total available for dividends during the period has amounted to $214,243,283. Last year's net income amounted to $33,525,115 or $18.25 on each $100 share of stock and it is expected that at least $18 a share will be available for stockholders at the end of 1924.

General Electric is rated as the third richest corporation in the country in cash on hand, which amounts to more than $91,000,000. It belongs to the group of corporations with so much cash that they have gone into the banking business. Together with six other corporations it shares more cash and investment securities than the total cash of the clearing house banks of New York city. Its working capital has reached $203,719,899.

PROFESSOR SAYS ALL WERE GUILTY IN STARTING WAR

Explodes Bunk Shooting of Imperialists

(By The Federated Press)

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Aug. 13.—"The belief that Germany plotted the war is a myth."

Sidney B. Fay, professor of European history at Smith college, threw this bomb into the academic discussions at the Institute of Politics being held at Williamstown, which for the most part had been devoted to a justification of the allies' war and the robbers' peace of Versailles.

Fay, speaking on political factors in Europe today, attacked Henry Morganthau, former American ambassador to Turkey, for false statements in his book regarding a German war conference held at Potsdam by the kaiser on July 5, 1914. Fay showed that the war lords who were supposed to have attended that conference upon which many of the charges of German guilt rest, were not even in Germany at the time, and that no such conference was held. Fay also attacked the other story that the kaiser and the Archduke Franz Ferdinand of Austria arranged the war on July 12, 1914. Fay continued:

Nails Morganthau Lie.

"While the kaiser was trying to mediate between Austria and Russia (under the czar), the latter ordered general mobilization on July 30, 1914. On the theory that general mobilization means war, Germany then demanded that Russia demobilize. Upon Russia's refusal, Germany then ordered mobilization, and, upon Russia's further refusal to demobilize, declared war."

What Fay Failed to Tell.

Fay failed to emphasize, however, what the documents quoted by him further proved, that Poincare and the militarist party of France were the abettors if not the initiators of the provocative and belligerent policy of France's militarist and autocratic ally, the Russian czar.

Professor Fay, who has devoted most of his time since the Versailles conference to research into the origins of the war, is recognized as the leading American expert in this field and the American scholar most conversant with the new revelations proving joint responsibility for the war on all the powers, as shown by the secret documents of the Russian, German and Austrian foreign offices published by the revolutionary governments of these countries.

It was admitted in the discussion that further important revelations must wait until such time as sufficiently disinterested governments secure power in Great Britain and France and likewise publish the secret documents of their respective foreign offices.

OUR DAILY PATTERNS

A POPULAR ONE-PIECE DRESS

4392

AN ATTRACTIVE FROCK FOR MOTHER'S GIRL.

4847. Printed voile, percale and gingham are good materials for this design. It is good also for linen and ponges.

The pattern is cut in 4 sizes: 4, 6, 8 and 10 years. A 6-year size requires 2½ yards of 27-inch material. For collar, cuffs and belt portions of contrasting material ½ yard is required.

4392. This style has slendering lines and is becoming to youthful and to mature figures. Gingham with linen would be fine for this, or ratine with binding in a contrasting color. Taffeta too will be attractive for this style.

The pattern is cut in 8 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48 and 50 inches bust measure. A 38-inch size requires 6⅛ yards of 32-inch material. The width at the foot of the dress is 2½ yards.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in silver or stamps.

Send 12c in silver or stamps for our UP-TO-DATE FALL AND WINTER 1924-1925 BOOK OF FASHIONS.

Address: The DAILY WORKER, 1113 W. Washington Blvd., Chicago, Ill.

NOTICE TO PATTERN BUYERS—The patterns being sold thru the DAILY WORKER pattern department are furnished by a New York firm of pattern designers. Orders are forwarded by the DAILY WORKER every day as received, and they are mailed by the manufacturer direct to the customer. The DAILY WORKER does not keep a stock of patterns on hand. Delivery in terms ordinarily will take at least 10 days from the date of mailing the order. In all letters ordering patterns be sure to write your name and address plainly. If your pattern is not received promptly write us about it.

UNCLE WIGGILY'S TRICKS

A LAUGH FOR THE CHILDREN

E. W. RIECK LUNCH ROOMS
Seven Places
62 W. Van Buren | 42 W. Harrison
169 N. Clark | 118 S. Clark
66 W. Washington | 167 N. State
234 S. Halsted
PHONES, HARRISON 6616-7
Specialties: E. W. Rieck Boston Baked Beans and Brown Bread
Fine Soups and Fresh Made Coffee
Commissary and Bakery:
1612 Fulton Ct. Phone West 2549

RUBBER STAMPS and SEALS
IN ENGLISH AND IN ALL FOREIGN LANGUAGES
INK, PADS, DATERS, RUBBER TYPE, Etc.
NOBLER STAMP & SEAL CO.
73 W. VanBuren St.
Phone Wabash 6680
CHICAGO
MAIL ORDERS PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO

PE-RU-NA
For STOMACH CATARRH
Tablets or Liquid
Sold Everywhere

FURNISHED ROOMS, APARTMENTS AND BUNGALOWS.

REDS COMING TO WASHINGTON, D. C.
Furnished Rooms, $10 to $25 a Month.
Apartments, $25 to $60 a Month.
Bungalows, $45 to $75 a Month.
Mrs. Bateler, 32 Q Street, S. W.
Washington, D. C.

THE DAILY WORKER

Published by the DAILY WORKER PUBLISHING CO.
1113 W. Washington Blvd., Chicago, Ill.
(Phone: Monroe 4712)

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

By mail:
$6.00 per year	$3.50...6 months	$2.00...3 months
By mail (in Chicago only)!
$8.00 per year	$4.50...6 months	$2.50...3 months

Address all mail and make out checks to
THE DAILY WORKER
1113 W. Washington Blvd. Chicago, Illinois

J. LOUIS ENGDAHL } Editors
WILLIAM F. DUNNE }
MORITZ J. LOEB Business Manager

Entered as second-class mail Sept. 21, 1923 at the Post-Office at Chicago, Ill., under the act of March 3, 1879.

290 Advertising rates on application.

The B. & O. Railroad Cashes In

Announcement is made that the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad is completing its financial reorganization that has involved the issuance of bonds totalling $155,000,000, which has increased the fixed charges for interest against the road's revenue by something more than $2,000,000 per year.

The extra $2,000,000 per year surplus value that will thus be diverted to the holders of B. & O. bonds represents the expectations of the management regarding the so-called co-operative plan of Wm. H. Johnston and the railroad shop unions. The extra profits that will accrue to the bosses from the enslavement of the unions is considered such a sure thing that it can be estimated at the rate of two millions per year already.

It may mean riches for the bondholders, this B. & O. plan, but it means slavery for the workers. The "open shop" publications all over the country are beginning to praise the B. & O. plan. They print story after story to show how much more effectively the Johnson type of bureaucrat can exploit the workers for them than they can do themselves. The "company union" is going out of favor with the labor-hating employers—they want to hook up with the better scheme, that pays so much more richly. They want the B. & O. plan of the shop unions extended to cover the labor movement. They want the extra profits, the more intense exploitation, that goes with it. And for the very reason that it is so agreeable to the employers, it is the most dangerous enemy of the workers. The B. & O. plan must be wiped out. This lesson has been again emphasized by the B. & O. bond sales.

Get a Member and a Sub

The slogan of "Get a new member for the Workers Party and a new subscriber for the DAILY WORKER" is the key to the most important problem of revolutionary progress in America. It means to broaden the organizational foundation of the American section of the Communist International and to multiply its influence. What can be more important for a revolutionist than such a result?

It has become necessary to emphasize such slogans as these and to interpret the life-meaning behind them. We cannot allow ourselves to fall into the slothful habit of saying to ourselves: "Oh well, that is just some more advertising." Such an attitude is merely an excuse for laziness. It is an evasion of the most revolutionary work that faces us in America at the moment. We must make the slogan a battle cry, a rallying of the whole party for a great advance, a call for one of our first effective assaults upon capitalism.

For it must never be forgotten that the first battles of Communism are struggles for the possession of the minds and souls of the workers. This struggle is against petty bourgeois and pacifist ideas and programs. It can only be extended and carried to a successful conclusion if the Workers Party continually draws into its organized work all the new material that is prepared by our campaigns and our educational work. Then the circle of the fight must be extended again by engaging new circles of readers for The DAILY WORKER and our other papers. Get a new member and a new sub is a battle cry! Are you in the struggle?

Davis States His Case

If, as some cynic declared, the purpose of language is to conceal thought, then the speech of acceptance delivered by the democratic standard-bearer, John W. Davis, is a masterly contribution to political twaddle.

Mr. Davis more than ran true to form in his evasion of the fundamental issues in his refusal to state that he is in the run to serve as the president of the United States in behalf of the employing class. Every one of the stressed issues was buried in a mass of verbiage. We realize that politics is a form of war, and that in war camouflage is an effective weapon, but it appears to us that the high-priced lawyer has handled his case poorly in this respect.

But despite this attempt at melodrama and spread-eagle philosophy in dealing with such issues as the Klan, the League of Nations, and corruption in government, Mr. Davis' speech of acceptance should prove of service in making more clear to the workers and farmers the fact that his loyalty to the big financial and industrial bosses is unalloyed.

To the workers, Mr. Davis has little else to offer than the fossilized shibboleths which were branded insufficient even by Mr. Gompers. Making "labor a part of the grand council of the nation" and demanding "the free recognition of the right of all those who work to share in all decisions that affect their welfare," are monstrous pretensions behind which the leading open-shoppers of the country have time and again hidden their most nefarious purposes. It was precisely in the name of such hypocritical idealism that the grand offensive against the working class was launched by the bosses in 1921.

And to tell the farmers that what they need is not patronage but certain laws and that they are not mendicants is to heap insult upon injury in their present acute economic distress. Just as Mr. Davis does not propose to disturb the exploiters in the city, so he proposes to aid and abet the expropriation of the farming masses in the rural areas.

In view of these outstanding features of Mr. Davis' campaign manual, and in view of the total sterility of the democratic platform we can readily understand the difficult position in which Mr. Gompers was placed and his being compelled to discard, temporarily at least, his time dishonored practice of offering to barter away the votes of some of the industrially organized workers.

Gompers and Wall Street

In an editorial, appearing in the American Federationist for August, captioned "The Lesson St. Paul Taught," Mr. Samuel Gompers made his confession in bankruptcy: "Granted that Wall Street has exercised a powerful and at times dominating influence upon American national government, there never has been any real bar to an ousting of that government, or to popular influence upon that government, or to a voice for anybody who could make himself heard—and it has never been a Wall Street government in the sense that the Communists demand 'a workers' and farmers' government.'"

Surely, at this old age, Mr. Gompers knows better than to characterize the United States government in such an amateurish fashion. The ownership of the militia, the army, the navy, the Pinkertons, the injunction courts, congress, the press, the church, the educational system, and sundry other means of oppression and misinformation by the employing class is a real bar to the ousting of the present exploiters' government by the workingmen. Surely, the ownership of the steel mills, coupled with the feudal domination of the lives of the steel workers is another real bar to working class freedom. Certainly, the enactment of espionage laws, the power to pass criminal syndicalist laws, the ability to imprison striking workers and to jail working men for political reasons are also real bars which Mr. Gompers either dares not, or refuses to face, in criticising the Communists.

Yes, the Communists believe in a workers' and farmers' government. The working men and the farming masses constitute the overwhelming majority of the population. These masses will rule only when they develop sufficient class consciousness to undermine the above mentioned real bars to their political and economic freedom. Furthermore, these masses will attain their victory and maintain their political power only when they organize a workers' and farmers' government which will not temporize with the attempts of the exploiters to restore their lost privileges. If St. Paul has taught the American workers any lesson at all, it is this truth more than any other.

That Educational Work

One of the most promising developments in the Workers Party has been the deepening of the educational work within the ranks of the membership. Schools for intense study are growing up, slowly if is true, but surely, in New York and Chicago. These schools are equipping the comrades who must bear the burdens of organization and leadership in the rapidly growing movement—technically by teaching methods of organization, writing and speaking; intellectually by giving them a thorough grasp of the theory and practice of the Communist International, together with a broadening and deepening of their foundation of Marxian economics.

This educational work does not yield the immediate and intense interest, the satisfaction of seeing immediate results, like that accompanying the active work in the class struggle, in strikes, in union disputes, in election and other political campaigns. But if the interest is not so immediate and intense, it is more enduring and satisfying; if the results are not so tangible they go deeper and affect the future more profoundly.

The future of the Workers Party and of the whole revolutionary movement in America will be determined by those, especially by the younger generation, who are taking up this educational work so whole-heartedly and zealously. Its progress is the guarantee of the growth in power and influence of the Communist movement within the American working class. Every wide-awake member of the Workers Party will participate in one way or another, in making it the success it should be.

"Strike strategy" was one of the most important subjects of discussion at the recent world congress of revolutionary unions. Heretofore it has been only the capitalists who were able to organize specialized knowledge on their side of the struggle. It has become different since the establishment of the Red International. Soon the labor movement will be finding a corps of skilled fighters at its command.

Russia has another drought in the Volga region. But so rapidly is the Soviet Union recovering from the ruin of war, under the efficient leadership of the Communist Party, that already it announces that it will overcome this second terrible famine without any outside assistance.

A new member for the Workers Party is a new recruit to the revolutionary army. Become a recruiting sergeant for Communism.

Government by "Good Citizens"

By C. E. RUTHENBERG.

IN acknowledging the endorsement of his candidacy for the presidency by the Executive Council of the American Federation of Labor, Senator LaFollette sent the following telegram:

"To break the combined power of selfish interests upon government is the paramount issue of this campaign and with the support of organized labor, the farmer, business men, professional men, and all other men and women whose sole interest in government is that of good citizenship, I feel confident that we shall win."

It is the boast of the supporters of Senator LaFollette that he has forty years of service behind him. For four decades he has participated in the government of this country either on a state or national scale.

We wonder how often during those forty years in connection with the government Senator LaFollette has dealt with "men and women whose sole interest in government is that of good citizenship." If Senator LaFollette honestly answered that question, unless he was utterly ignorant, which we do not believe, he would be obliged to admit that in 99 per cent of the governmental actions with which he has been connected there has been some other issue than that of good citizenship.

All that Senator LaFollette needs to do, in order to recognize the fact that his appeal for government on the basis of good citizenship is pure buncombe, would be to examine the legislation which has come before the senate of the United States since he has been a member of that august body. Such an examination would show conclusively that what the government concerns itself with is the economic interests of the various groups which exist in present-day society. The laws which are passed in the congress of the United States, in the great majority of instances, have as their purpose to aid and assist a particular economic group in securing a greater share of the wealth of this country.

Senator LaFollette would admit that we went to war to fight for the economic interests of the capitalists of the country. He would admit that the Shipping Board legislation, the War Veterans' Board enactments, the Teapot Dome steal legislation, were all designed for the purpose of permitting certain economic groups to further their economic interests. He would probably be ready to carry still further this explanation of governmental legislation and agree that tariff laws, taxation laws, banking laws, are drafted in order to give economic advantage to some particular group in this country.

Maybe Senator LaFollette would say: Of course this is true, but it is to fight against legislation of this character that he is conducting his present campaign.

In his telegram to the A. F. of L., he proposes to substitute legislation on the basis of good citizenship in place of legislation in support of the economic class interests of groups in present day society.

Let us see whether that can be done.

One of the driving motives behind the participation of the Railroad Brotherhood in the LaFollette campaign is their desire for the abolition of the Railroad Labor Board. Senator LaFollette supports that demand on the part of the railroad unions.

What is the basis of this demand on the part of the railroad organizations? Do they want the Railroad Labor Board abolished because it is a matter of good citizenship and their motive is the promotion of good citizenship?

To ask that question is to show the utter nonsense of proposing the unity of certain groups on the basis of their sole interest in government being that of good citizenship.

The railroad organizations want the Railroad Labor Board abolished because it is an instrument thru which the railroad owners prevent them from achieving better economic conditions for themselves. They want more wages, they want better hours of work, they want better working conditions. The Railroad Labor Board is a powerful weapon in the hands of the railroad owners preventing them from achieving this end and therefore they are fighting to abolish that board. Their motives are not for good citizenship, but their economic interests.

The same tests applied to any other legislation coming before congress, either under the present Republican, or a Democratic, or a hypothetical administration would show the same results.

To give another instance, the government raises its income thru taxation. In levying taxes, it has to deal with certain economic groups in this country. There are the big capitalists with their tremendous income. There are the smaller capitalists with lower income. There are the small business men of various types with still smaller income. There are the professional groups, the well-to-do farmers and the poor exploited farmers, and the wage workers.

Any piece of legislation for the purpose of levying taxes can be designed so as to bear more heavily or less heavily upon one or the other of these various groups.

Does Senator LaFollette contend that it is a question of good citizenship whether such taxation legislation shall bear more heavily upon the small business men he represents or upon the wage workers of this country, or does he argue that it is good citizenship for the little business men not to want to pay the taxes and it ought to be good citizenship for the wage workers to want to pay the taxes, or where does the good citizenship come in?

No thinking person will be deceived by buncombe such as is contained in Senator LaFollette's telegram. The basis of political struggles are economic interests. Economic classes fight to improve their position in society thru using the governmental power.

When one economic group tries to hide this fundamental struggle in such phrases as "common interest in good citizenship" it is because it is endeavoring to advance its own economic interests at the expense of deceiving another economic group.

That is what LaFollette and the LaFollette movement is endeavoring to do. The interests of the business men whom Senator LaFollette mentions in his telegram and those of organized labor are not the same and cannot be harmonized. The legislation which will come before congress in the interests of the small business men whom Senator LaFollette represents will not be legislation in the interests of organized labor.

When Senator LaFollette appeals to organized labor on the basis of good citizenship in place of on the basis of their economic interests as a class, he is trying to fool them thru a euphemistic phrase and get their support in a struggle for political power to be used for the advancement of another class.

When it comes to interpreting what good citizenship means, Senator La Follette will interpret it to mean everything which strengthens the position and improves the economic standing of the small business men of the United States.

Is organized labor for that kind of good citizenship?

Will it follow LaFollette on the basis of such a phrase?

If organized labor wants to prove to itself that there can be no unity on the basis of good citizenship, let it develop its own economic program and submit this program to Senator LaFollette for approval.

Let it demand that business, big and little, which supported the slogan "Work or Fight" during the war, now adopt the policy "Work or union wages without work to the unemployed." That test will quickly show that LaFollette's brand of good citizenship is to fight for the economic interests of the class he represents.

The capitalists know their class interests and fight for them as good citizens. The little capitalists and small business men of the LaFollette movement know their class interests and are fighting for them as good citizens.

When the workers really become good citizens, they will have a class program of their own and they will fight for it in place of being hooked by the catch phrases of LaFollette.

LaFollette's Progressivism Scares No One

(Continued from page 1)

est financier and dividend-maker which the Utility corporations have supplied in Wisconsin in recent years, gave out the following to the Morning Press of Milwaukee on November 24, 1920, in response to a request for a Thanksgiving Day statement.

"I am thankful that the Traction affairs in the city of Milwaukee have gotten into the hands of the Railroad Commission of Wisconsin, an efficient body of men free from local prejudice, and capable of judging what is right.

"It is the best thing that ever happened to the Milwaukee Electric Railway and Light Company. It will insure to the Company fair treatment, and to Milwaukee the best service we can give at a fair rate.

"The report of that Commission, after its hearing on conditions regarding the city of Milwaukee here, was the best bill of health we ever received by a Public Utility Corporation. The examination was satisfactory to us, and should be to the people, as it certainly was ably conducted by their city attorney."

Mayor Hoan, now a trusted LaFollette lieutenant, takes further pains to tell us that: "In an address delivered at Madison, February 21st, 1912, H. Draher, Manager of the Bond Department of the Marshall and Ilsley Bank of Milwaukee, before the Wisconsin State Telephone Association, let the cat out of the bag when he stated that the regulation law had been of great benefit to the investors, and gave as his three reasons, in substance, the following:

"(a) The law removed the difficulties formerly experienced by corporations in obtaining franchises, in that the law itself gave a long and indefinite franchise permit to all corporations upon which a long term bond could be issued.

"(b) It eliminated what he termed cut-throat competition.

"(c) It guaranteed to the investor a return of the money invested by compelling the cities to pay the full value of privately owned plants, whether they wanted to or not, in the event the cities proposed to go into the business.

"Much the same spirit of capitalist satisfaction is expressed in the following extract from an editorial in the leading LaFollette Progressive paper for Wisconsin:

"'Measured, yet very strong, recommendation of the Wisconsin idea of controlling public service corporations is expressed by one of the largest bond and bank houses of the country —Spencer Trask, New York—in an article published Sunday in the Journal. These bond dealers say that public utility and securities issued under the Wisconsin system are in pronounced demand among discriminating bond buyers of the country and that they bring higher prices than bonds issued by unregulated public utilities elsewhere in command.

"The Wisconsin idea of public regulation, the public control of service franchises and utility capitalization was at first mistaken for extreme radicalism; it was charged with being an attempt to control corporation business; it was considered with horror by the monied powers; it was considered an arch enemy of capital; a dark plot against Big Business; designed to confiscate the proceeds of 'thrift' for the mass of the common people."

The approval with which the LaFollette program has met at the hands of some of the biggest capitalist interests in Wisconsin is also very indicated in the following interview given Richard Barry, by an ex-official of the Northwestern Life Insurance Company of Milwaukee in Hearst's International for August 1922:

"Some of us who fought LaFollette in the early days became his beneficiaries after his insurance and railroad acts got to working."

Employers Reward "Regulators."

Recently the country was quite stirred over the fact that William G. McAdoo, with the prestige as an ex-cabinet officer in obtaining employment at the hands of big corporations, like the Doheny Oil interests and the Republic Iron and Steel Company. It is no secret that this profitable employment lost McAdoo the Democratic nomination and perhaps the presidency.

But in Wisconsin there have been many such cases of ex-railroad commission, or ex-public utility commission officers being employed by the very corporations they were regulating as soon as their terms of office expired. We will call upon no friendly witness to Mr. LaFollette as Victor Berger to tell us of only a few of the outstanding instances where the LaFollette regulators were rewarded with handsome jobs by the supposedly victimised corporations.

Quoting from the Milwaukee Leader of August 6th, 1923, we learn:

"P. W. Doolittle, New York and Milwaukee, formerly of the Wisconsin Railroad Commission is employed by 'regulated' public utility interests.

"J. P. Cadby, Madison, secretary of the 'regulated' Wisconsin Electric & Gas Association, was formerly an employee of the Wisconsin Railroad commission.

"Edward Strait, a rate expert with the H. H. Bylleshy company, was formerly with the Wisconsin Railroad Commission.

"Public utility corporations also have taken two of the four men who have been secretaries of the Wisconsin Railroad Commission during its existence.

"Harold Geisse, former secretary of the railroad commission, is now manager of the 'regulated' Electric Company at Wassau.

"C. D. S. Cheverell resigned last week as secretary of the commission to enter the service of the 'regulated' Middlewest Utilities Company, privately owned public utility corporation.

"H. J. Hagenah, former chief statistician of the Wisconsin Railroad Commission, is connected with Hagenah and Erickson Company of Chicago, consulting public utility statisticians, who rely on 'regulated' public utilities for their business.

"E. P. Gruhl, former statistician of the Wisconsin Railroad Commission is now vice president of the North American Company which owns among other properties the 'regulated' Milwaukee Electric Railway and Light Company.

"In Chicago you find the firm of Sloan, Hudele, Tuesdel and Freeman, consulting public utility engineers. Each member was a former employe of the Wisconsin Railroad Commission.

"Former Railroad Commissioner, Halford Erickson, who 'served the state' from 1905 to 1916, left the railroad commission to become a member of the firm of Hagenah & Erickson, Chicago, consulting public utilities statisticians, relying on 'regulated' public utilies for its business. At present he is vice-president of the H. M. Byllesby Company which owns many public utility properties and which recently acquired the Wisconsin-Minnesota Light, Heat and Power Company, one of the largest Wisconsin utilities.

"Then there is former Railroad Commissioner John H. Roemer, who 'served the state' from 1907 to 1915, when Roemer is an officer of H. M. Byllesby & Company, 'regulated' public utility owners.

"Then there is Railroad Commissioner Walter Alexander, who 'served the state' from 1915 to 1917. He left the railroad commission for a position with the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Company. At present he is managing Governor Philipps' Union Refrigerator Transit and Car Company, a privately owned public utility.

"A former railroad commissioner, Carl D. Jackson, bitterly remembered by Milwaukee citizens, 'served the state' from 1916 to 1922. He is now a public utility attorney in New York —general attorney of the National Electric Light Association and also for the National Gas Association, composed of 'regulated' privately owned public utilities. The latter was appointed by Governor Blaine whom LaFollette is today supporting for re-election.

"Bob" Talks More Than Fights.

LaFollette's state record shows that he has almost limited himself to talking rather than fighting against the monopolies. While he was casting amorous glances at the White House in 1912 and preparing for the presidency, the venerable Senator wrote in the following boastful attitude in his weekly of January 6th of that year:

"The general business conditions in Wisconsin conclusively show that instead of being retarded by progressive legislation Wisconsin has advanced financially and commercially more than the country taken as a whole. Since we organized our state banking inspection and supervision in 1904 there has not been a single bank failure among the 507 banks in that commonwealth with $22,000,000 of capital and surplus. The only failures have been those of national banks, thru embezzlement. During the years 1903 to 1910 the capital and surplus of all state and national banks in Wisconsin increased 54 per cent, whereas for the U. S. they increased 46.6 per cent.

"The clearing house exchanges for Milwaukee increased 117.5 per cent from 1900 to 1910 while for the United States the increase was about 100 per cent. Milwaukee increase was 11 per cent greater than that of Chicago."

Again turning to one of the leading LaFollette interpreters of today, Mayor Hoan of Milwaukee, we are further enlightened as to how LaFollette handled the big corporations with silk gloves while he was governor. In Hoan's "Failure of Regulation" we read: "Not only were trusts not prosecuted in Wisconsin while Senator LaFollette was governor and they have not been prosecuted before or since, in spite of the fact that there was then and is now a statute (Section 1791-J) which provides in substance that any corporation organized under the laws of Wisconsin which shall enter into any combination or agreement to prevent competition or to control prices, shall in an action to be instituted by the attorney-general of the state, have its charter revoked.

"The above statute has been on the statute books since 1897. Since that time we have had Democratic, Republican, Progressive, Tory, and lastly, Bull Moosely inclined governors.

"Notwithstanding this splendid variety, no trusts have been prosecuted in this state. All of this proves that if the LaFollette Trusts is part of the 'Wisconsin Idea' up to the present the idea has not materialized any tangible results.

"It is true that LaFollette recommended that the law be changed so as to provide for jail sentences. But the legislature which he controlled absolutely failed to heed this advice, and has not done so since."

Nor have any trusts been prosecuted since this date. And when Attorney-general Morgan of Wisconsin attempted to irritate some of the big corporations with fines and dissolution orders, Senator LaFollette hurriedly left Washington to get into the campaign in order to defeat Morgan for re-election.

Regulation No Weapon.

LaFollette is and has been trying to fly in the face of industrial development. The fact of the matter is that, economically, great industrial units are both desirable and inevitable. Instead of demanding that these highly organized industries be socialized and controlled by the working class, LaFollette has been seeking to return to the old system of numerous competitive small industrial units.

If attempted prosecution of trusts is to be considered a criterion of friendship to workers and poor farmers, then Coolidge and his anti-labor crew have at least as much right to be deemed friends of the working masses as the Wisconsin Senator. Since the Harding-Coolidge administration came into office it has brought no less than sixty-one anti-trust suits. The contractors and manufacturers in the building trades, the sugar, lumber, pottery, and harvesting machinery corporations have been amongst the targets of the reactionary Republican administration. Of course, nothing dangerous or harmful has happened to these groups of powerful exploiters.

THE DAILY WORKER RAISES THE STANDARD FOR A WORKERS AND FARMERS' GOVERNMENT

THE DAILY WORKER

Entered as Second-class matter September 21, 1922, at the Post Office at Chicago, Illinois under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Communist Candidates
For President:
WILLIAM Z. FOSTER.
For Vice-President:
BENJAMIN GITLOW.

Vol. II. No. 127. SUBSCRIPTION RATES: In Chicago, by mail, $8.00 per year. Outside Chicago, by mail, $6.00 per year. FRIDAY, AUGUST 15, 1924 290 Published Daily except Sunday by THE DAILY WORKER PUBLISHING CO., 1113 W. Washington Blvd., Chicago, Ill. Price 3 Cents

YALE UNIV... NOV 22 1924 LIBRARY

7,500 NOW OUT IN SILK STRIKE

THE BANKERS' SMOKE SCREEN

Drawn especially for The Daily Worker.

AS WE SEE IT
By T. J. O'FLAHERTY

AN American jazz band will accompany the Prince of Wales on this tour of the United States. It is reported that the Prince prefers to trot to American jazz than ride to the hounds, which should materially increase his popularity in America. His Royal Highness will have to conduct himself with more than his ordinary decency while traveling as the future king of England, weather and other circumstances permitting, but when he gets into Canada, he will cast aside his princely responsibilities and turn himself loose as Lord Renfrew. It's great to be a prince these days. Wonder if he ever wakes up at night and runs his fingers over his Adam's apple to see if the connection with the upper story is alright.

* * *

MORE casualties in the Sudan. Ten Egyptians killed by British soldiers. What were these Egyptians trying to do? Just trying to free the country which they claim is their own, from the British army of occupation. In fact, the British admit that the country rightfully belongs to them, but the Ramsay MacDonald government insists that the masses of Egyptians prefer British to native rule and that furthermore British capitalists have invested so much in the Sudan that an army must be kept there to protect it. This is Ramsay MacDonald pacifism. And yet we are criticized for exposing this hypocrisy.

* * *

THERE is mutiny among the Egyptian troops. These troops were recruited from the Egyptian population and their task was to help the British enslave their people. But they are waking up. They are rebelling against their degrading task. This means danger and grave danger for the British Empire. A prominent French banker predicted during the late days of the world war, that England would come out victorious from the struggle, but that disintegration would set in shortly and the mighty

(Continued on page 2)

TWELVE TO TWENTY WORKERS BURIED BY TONS OF BURNING HAY

(Special to the Daily Worker.)
KNIGHTS LANDING, Calif., Aug. 14.—The bodies of from twelve to twenty itinerant laborers are buried beneath a smouldering pile of 750 tons of hay destroyed by fire early today when fires razed a large barn, the property of River Farms, Company.

Send in that Subscription Today.

MILLIONAIRE 'ANGELS' BACK LA FOLLETTE

Labor Gets Back Seat in Campaign

By JAY LOVESTONE.
(Fourth Article.)

When Senator LaFollette will be waging his campaign most energetically, there will be many vital subjects which he will not dare to talk about to the workers and poor farmers whose votes he is after.

And in the election campaign of LaFollette, as in the case of Coolidge and Davis, what will be left unsaid will count much more than that which will be the cause of the loudest talk.

In his "progressive" campaign Senator LaFollette will not say a word about the fact that since his advent into politics he has been supported by a heaven full of "angels"—bankers, sugar kings, manufacturers, oil attorneys, wealthy merchants and multimillionaires ranging from the notorious lumber baron Stephenson in the early days to the international financier Vanderlip today.

The Wisconsin Senator will find little time to tell the workingmen and bankrupt farmers that he still has at least one firm foot in the republican and democratic parties which are owned outright by Wall Street.

Little mention will be made by the LaFollette boosters in the coming months of the kind of machine that their presidential candidate has built up in the "Model Commonwealth of

(Continued on Page 6.)

LaFollette Has "Angels"

EVERY successful, every big capitalist politician has his "angel," his multimillionaire supporter.

Woodrow Wilson had his Thomas W. Lamont of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Company.

Coolidge has his "angel" in Dwight W. Morrow, Morgan's intimate associate.

When we call the roll of LaFollette's "angels," we find a heaven full.

First and foremost there is the sugar king, the multimillionaire Rudolph Spreckles. Then there is the international banker, Frank Vanderlip, formerly president of the National City Bank, the world's greatest financial institution.

Among the lesser satellites in LaFollette's political orbit we find the millionaire W. T. Rawleigh, owner of the biggest proprietary product concern in the world, the farm newspaper magnate Dante M. Pierce, and the western oil attorney, James H. Baldwin.

POLICE BEAT UP STRIKER IN PATERSON

Strike Grows as 7,500 Silk Workers Quit

(Special to the DAILY WORKER)

PATERSON, N. J., Aug. 14.—Police brutality against the striking silk workers began here today with the arrest of Joseph Hattab, while picketing at 47 Godwin St., and the beating up of another worker who was arrested for picketing at Fulton and Straight Streets.

Chief of Police John M. Tracy is also doing his best to spread the impression that the strike is a fizzle, and yet at the same time he has spread a huge network of policemen in front of all the important mills, with instructions to be prepared to "cope with disorder," which means anything from chasing a picket away to shooting down strikers.

7,500 Men Out.

That Tracy is lying about the number of workers that have come out can be seen here plainly by any one. On the second day of this strike against the powerful textile trust, 7,500 workers from more than 250 shops have come out under the leadership of the Associated Silk Workers.

As is usual, a commissioner of conciliation, sent by the United States department of labor, is on the scene. This gentleman, John A. Moffett, is working together with the Chamber of Commerce of Paterson in an attempt to organize the manufacturers so that they may be able to meet the striking workers as an organized body. The object of the conference is the effecting of a compromise which the workers have learned to mean surrender to the will of the employers.

Communists Well Received.

Il Lavoratore, official Italian organ of the Workers Party, is being well received by the strikers who speak that language. Its reports of the strike are read with eagerness. Francesco Coco, member of the Workers Party, addressed an enthusiastic meeting of the strikers yesterday.

Adolph Lessig, chairman of the striking workers, predicted that by noon tomorrow the entire industry would be tied up, with 15,000 workers out. He warned the men against violence and predicted that the strike would be short lived and successful.

"The mill owners," said Lessig, "cannot afford to keep their mills idle long."

20,000 Coal Miners Strike.

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Aug. 14.—A crisis in Belgium's coal industry has been precipitated thru the walkout of 20,000 miners of the 26,000 in the Mons basin, the men refusing to accept a wage cut of 10 per cent.

Strike Settled in China.

CANTON, China, Aug. 14.—The strike of native domestic and office workers in Shameen (the foreign quarter), which was called the night of July 15, has been settled.

BRITISH GET BIG ORDER FROM SOVIET RUSSIA FOR FARM MACHINERY

The Centrosoyous—Union of Russian Co-operatives—has placed a large order for agricultural machinery with English firms which will run into tens of thousands of pounds sterling.

Despite the lying reports of the capitalist press of a falling down in grain production in Soviet Russia, Frank A. Wise, director of the Centrosoyous, says their grain export departments are now completing an arrangement with the Russia-British Grain Company for the export of 2,000,000 tons of grain during the coming year.

UNITE DRIVES OF PARTY AND DAILY WORKER

Campaign for Members and Subs Combined

The securing of petitions to place Workers Party Congressional candidates and presidential electors for Foster and Gitlow on the ballots has been combined with the DAILY WORKER subscription campaign.

In every Workers Party branch thru-out the country instructions have been issued to the membership to take sample copies of the DAILY WORKER and subscription blanks with them when canvassing for signatures to election petitions.

Everyone who signs the Communist petition is a prospective subscriber to the DAILY WORKER and the election campaign will have been successful if these sympathizers are made acquainted with the DAILY WORKER.

Have Great Opportunities

The Foster-Gitlow campaign, including the securing of petitions, has opened such great opportunities to advertise the DAILY WORKER that the time set for securing subscriptions will be extended, Moritz Loeb, business manager of the DAILY WORKER, announced yesterday. The numerous street campaign meetings and Foster and Gitlow mass meetings will also be utilized to greatly increase the circulation of the DAILY WORKER among the workers thruout the country, Comrade Loeb announced.

Every street and mass meeting conducted during the campaign will be used to sell and advertise the DAILY WORKER. No speeches should be made that do not mention the DAILY WORKER and what it means to the working-class of the country, and every meeting should offer the DAILY WORKER for sale.

Effort to Disbar Lawyer Who Has the Goods on W. R. Hearst

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Steps to disbar William J. Fallon, well-known criminal lawyer, were taken in General Sessions by Judge Alfred J. Talley, when Charles W. Rendigs, a juror who was charged with accepting a bribe from Fallon, was given a suspended sentence.

Fallon Was Acquitted.

Fallon was acquitted by a jury on the bribery charge, despite the bitter attack made on him by the presiding judge. Mr. Fallon's defense was that the New York American framed him because he had in his possession the birth certificates of three illegitimate children of a well-known movie actress. Hearst, for very obvious reasons, wanted to destroy Fallon because of this knowledge.

Rendigs, who was sentenced to ten years in Sing Sing, testified against Fallon. Because of his assistance to the state and the federal governments Judge Talley had Rendig's sentence suspended and gave him his freedom, probation period to last for one year.

Send in that Subscription Today.

COOLIDGE DOES HIS STUFF AND ACCEPTS G. O. P.

Hears About Nomination and Talks

(Special to The Daily Worker)

WASHINGTON, August 14.—President Coolidge was informed this evening that the republican party wanted him to run for president of the United States, and Coolidge said he'd be willing to take the job.

That was the form of events in the launching of the Coolidge campaign. Actually it was the public staging of Coolidge's first effort to befuddle the great issue of all political campaigns so far as workers are concerned—whether capitalism shall rule or the workers.

Coolidge Good Bragger.

Coolidge bragged about all the great and good things that have been accomplished by the republican party for the good of the country. The Dawes Plan, by means of which Morgan is to enter as senior partner into the European system of exploitation, and thru which the Germans are to be permanently enslaved, came in for high praise. In this Coolidge stands on the same ground as MacDonald, the "Labor" premier, and the socialists of Europe.

Coolidge's other issues may be summarized briefly as follows: The democrats are very extravagant, while the republicans have saved money; restriction of immigration was given to Gompers; protective tariff is the source of "high wages"; the Washington Conference guarantees peace and good will on earth; government ownership and control is a bad thing; the United States should enter the League of Nations, but thru the back door—the World Court; domestic affairs are the chief concern, and Coolidge pledges himself to promote the "financial welfare" of those who have the finances; Latin America is loved deeply, and Coolidge will continue to look after its welfare with the aid of marines and battleships; the farmers are told that they must work harder, diversify and co-operate, and then all will be well; the Negroes are congratulated on their patience and told not to lose it; and the whole world is assured that Coolidge and the republican party are the natural rulers of America by grace of God and the "best citizens."

Read It If You Like It

Any person who wishes, for reasons of scientific investigation or abnormal interests, to read the text of the stupid speech can get it free from the dispensers of intellectual dope for the workers.

Russian Crops Gain.

MOSCOW, July 8.—(By Mail.)—A notable improvement of the crop conditions is reported from many parts of the Soviet Union owing to rains having fallen in those districts. The grain surpluses in Ukraine during the current season are estimated at from 200 to 220 million poods, as according to the data of the "Gosplan" (State Planing Commission.)

SOUTH SLAV COMRADES PUSH PARTY CAMPAIGN FOR FOSTER, GITLOW

"We are pushing the Foster-Gitlow election campaign in co-operation with the National Office of the Workers Party," said M. Goreta, secretary of the South Slavic Federation. "Petitions are being circulated, funds are being raised and we are supporting all Foster-Gitlow campaign meetings. Comrade Goreta said the South Slavic Workers Party paper, "Radnik," is devoting considerable space every issue to the Communist election campaign.

WHEELER CASE OF OIL BRIBE COMES UP SOON

LaFollette's Sidekick Goes to Trial

(Special to the DAILY WORKER)

GREAT FALLS, Mont., Aug. 14.—The case of Senator Burton K. Wheeler, running mate to Senator LaFollette, on the charge of accepting a fee to represent oil interests before the Department of the Interior and the Commission of the General Land Office will soon come up.

It will take its regular course the same as any case in the federal court calender, according to United States District Attorney John L. Slattery who arrived in Great Falls tonight from Helena.

No Favoritism, Says Attorney

Mr. Slattery stated: "There is no distinction as between defendants in our court and the Wheeler case will be tried in Great Falls at the coming term of the federal court which will start September first. Judge George M. Bourquin will preside at this session and jury trial will start September 8th."

Assistant attorney W. P. Meigh and Ronald Higgins and stenographers also arrived in Great Falls along with the attorneys and for the next three weeks will be busy preparing the Wheeler case which promises to be a sensational one and which is being watched with great interest in Montana.

Wheeler in Pretty Mess

Wheeler is involved with Campbell in oil deals in the Kevin field where he is claimed to be interested with Campbell and Senator Booth in extensive oil holdings. In fact, Wheeler is reported to have lined up a million dollars for Campbell in the summer of 1923 from some Eastern oil men with whom Campbell came in contact at Wheeler's summer home at Lake MacDonald in the Glacier National Park.

Mr. Campbell made the preliminary negotiations with James Baldwin, Wheeler's law partner at Butte a year ago last July, with whom he made a date to see Wheeler.

Baldwin is now the Montana manager of the La Follette campaign.

YOUNGSTOWN LABOR FAKERS ARE CHALLENGED TO DEBATE FOSTER ON INDORSEMENT OF LA FOLLETTE

(Special to The Daily Worker)

YOUNGSTOWN, O., August 14.—Fake labor leaders here who have endorsed LaFollette, have been challenged by Wallace T. Metcalfe, to state their reasons publicly off the same platform with William Z. Foster, the Workers Party candidate for president who will speak at two great meetings here. The fake labor leaders who well remember the sorry figure cut by themselves in the great struggle of the steel workers in 1919, are keeping silent. Reports have it that they are scared, that even their present scant following, reinforced as it is by former socialist supporters of Eugene V. Debs, will desert them in face of the widespread popularity amongst the rank and file of the steel workers of the Mahoning Valley for William Z. Foster. Foster will speak August 17th at Avon Park, Girard, Ohio, 2 p. m. and again in the evening at Ukrainian Hall, 525½ West Rayen Avenue, Youngstown, Ohio, 8 p. m.

ORGANIZE FOR FIGHT AGAINST UNEMPLOYMENT

Workers Party Seeking Relief for Jobless,

The Central Executive Committee of the Workers Party has sent instructions to all units of that organization to immediately begin a campaign for relief of unemployed workers.

This campaign will take the form of the organization of Unemployment Councils to be made of unemployed workers, representatives of trade unions and labor political groups, which will carry on the agitation for relief for those who suffer because they are unable to secure jobs.

Party Issues Statement.

The statement sent out by the Workers Party declares:

"All industrial reports in the United States indicate a continually spreading unemployment. In the textile industry, the mining industry, the automobile industry, unemployment has already reached the stage where hundreds of thousands of workers are suffering because of inability to secure jobs. It is a conservative estimate that at the present time two million workers are without jobs in this country.

"The only way that relief can be secured for these workers is by demand upon the employers and the government for the creation of unemployment funds to pay union wages to unemployed workers. This pressure can only be exerted if the unemployed workers, together with the trade unions, labor political groups and other labor organizations, unite and make a mass demand thru mass meetings, demonstrations, etc., for the creation of unemployment funds and the payment of workers to whom industry is unable to give jobs.

"The form of organization for this agitation is the Unemployment Councils."

Urge Organization of Councils.

The statement instructs all units of the Workers Party to immediately initiate the formation of Unemployed Councils in those places where unemployment has already reached great proportions, such as the textile industry, the mining industry, and, in certain cities where the automobile industry is temporarily depressed. Work in preparation for the organization of similar councils is to be conducted thruout the country.

Resolutions are to be introduced in all trade unions and other labor bodies which contain the demand for the organization of Unemployment Councils.

The Workers Party will also make the unemployment situation one of the major issues of its political campaign, LaFollette and Wheeler, who claim to be running upon a labor platform, have nothing to say on the question of unemployment. The LaFollette platform, sent to the Conference for Progressive Political Action at Cleveland, is silent on this question.

The election platform adopted by the Workers Party, for which Foster and Gitlow will ask the support of the workers, contains the following declaration in regard to the unemployment situation:

Make Industry Pay.

"Compel industry and government to pay wages to unemployed. Industry in the United States is slowing down and the workers face another period of industrial crisis, with millions of unemployed unable to earn a living. The Workers Party declares that industry must support the unemployed to whom it cannot give work. The government must take the accumulated profits of industry, must levy excess profit and inheritance taxes to create an unemployment fund to be administered by the workers for payment of union wages to workers without jobs. The Workers Party will initiate the organization of Unemployed Councils to fight for these demands."

ORDER YOUR BUNDLE OF THE DAILY WORKER'S FIRST SPECIAL CAMPAIGN ISSUE—SEE PAGE THREE

DICK LAYS PLAN FOR ORGANIZING FASCISTI IN U. S.

Will Be Military Aid to "Law-and-Order"

By LAURENCE TODD.

WASHINGTON, August 14.—Remember old General Charles Dick, who was credited with being about the slipperiest senator who ever came from Ohio to the national legislature? Dick, who cleaned up a fortune in copper, during the war, and bought the LaFayette and Franklin Square hotels here, and is chief owner of bigger hotels in New York? Dick, of the Dick Military Act of years ago?

Well, Dick has blossomed out as national president of the National Association of Federal Clubs, located in his own hotel here, with his partner, Col. Frederick C. Bryan, as national secretary. They propose to create an American fascist organization, for which a distinctive uniform has already been designed, and with which they promise to help Cal Coolidge to another term.

Thus far their public announcements have not specifically mentioned Coolidge; they claim they are organizing to "get out the vote," and to prevent any cfiange in the federal constitution, and "to eliminate, by publicity, so-called character assassination, so that men of strength and good records may be continued in government service."

Their literature, which seems to emanate from one William Knop, explains that they are establishing a college of political science, so that citizens may be trained in the practical administration of government. Then they are to "establish, by pledge and other means, a method of separating the superiors of our government from the non-voters and thereby create a standard of citizenship by which loyal Americans may recognize one another." Besides, they are to maintain a bureau of research. And most emphatically they are "to oppose any amendment to the constitution of the United States until such a time as the people of each state in the Union have, by direct vote, adopted the proposed amendment or its equivalent as a state law." In other words, perpetual resistance to any amendment to the constitution, in a year when child labor is the subject of an amendment now in process of ratification.

Enlist Youth Of Nation.

The glib-tongued young man who explains this "loyal" enterprise is enthusiastic over its possibilities as a military safeguard to law and order. He says it will be to America what Fascismo is to Italy; it will enlist the boy scout forces, swallow up the junior groups which fraternal lodges are now creating, and take the youth of the country by storm. The association is to have an elaborate department of recreation, which shall include shooting clubs, and its "department of federal guards," under the command of Col. Bryan, is being organized for the maintenance of peace and in defense of the constitution of the U. S. A. A uniformed guard taking part in civic demonstrations, especially those in connection with suffrage, competes with other military organizations and works with the recreation department in the development of rifle teams and good marksmanship."

For fear this program may not result in sufficient donations from the Coolidge campaign chest, there is provided a department of foreign trade and commerce, and a department of suffrage, which is to get out the loyal vote and educate aliens "in American ideals."

Dick Thick With Dawes.

Whether Charley Dawes has granted a special license to Charley Dick to enter the American Fascisti game, in competition with Dawes' Minute Men, can only be conjectured. Dick and Dawes have been close enough in politics in years past, and it may be that Dick, the author of the first compulsory military service law, was the real inventor of the Dawes-Dick version of wholesale bulldozing of voters.

In any event, your chance to join up and buy a uniform is here and now. The salesman claims they will have 100,000 or 1,000,000,000, or some such number, parading down Pennsylvania avenue "at inauguration time, or within four years."

$1,000 Per Shot!

The bill of fare lists founder memberships at $1,000 each, life memberships at $200 each, active at $10, associate at only $1, and honorary memberships absolutely free!

Which seems to point to a lump sum campaign endowment, on the strength of which the guards' uniforms are to be paraded and the country made safer for Coolidge in Benito Mussolini's most effective style.

Send in that Subscription Today.

AL SMITH MEETS VICTOR AT "DEM" CIRCUS; GIVES HIM THE GLAD MITT

John W. Davis seems to have a rather sheepish look on his face. Perhaps he thinks "Al" is giving him the "bird" as the Marquis of Queensbury did not say. However, Al Smith promised to partially disrobe (take his coat off) in order to help Morgan's lawyer into the White House.

AS WE SEE IT

By T. J. O'FLAHERTY.

(Continued from page 1)

empire would gradually fall apart. That is just what is happening. Ireland has been given diplomatic representation at Washington, limited to be sure, but yet representation. Canada refuses to accept the Turko-British treaty as binding on Canada and the demand for direct diplomatic representation at Washington becomes more insistent. South Africa kicks out the Pro-Empire Smuts' government, and an old enemy of the Empire is now premier of that country. India and Egypt are in a more or less active state of revolt. And at home the latest news is that the Labor Government, the agent of the British capitalists, was forced to withdraw its sedition charge against John Ross Campbell, Communist, owing to left wing pressure. Good news.

* * *

GOOD news from Italy also. For the first time in three years the red banner of Communism and revolution is proudly carried thru the streets of Rome. Women cry with joy at sight of the once familiar emblem. The morale of the workers is rising as that of the black-shirted bandits is on the decrease. Mussolini has unquestionably seen his best days. A victory for the revolution in Italy would have far greater consequence than the economic power of the country would warrant. It should not be forgotten that Rome is the headquarters of the Catholic Church, the most powerful bulwark of capitalism in the world today.

* * *

H. G. WELLS says Communism will die within twenty-five years. As a fictionist the noted British writer can swing a wicked pen, but as an economic thinker, he is mentally not over 14 years. Communism cannot very well die before it is born and it has not been born yet. To make matters worse, Arthur Brisbane takes issue with Wells, and while rightly saying that Communism never existed except in a very primitive form when primitive man skulked around, armed with a club waiting for a chance to grab his neighbor's wife or steal his breakfast. Brisbane does not believe we are ever going to have Communism because people are too selfish. But necessity is the mother of invention and old systems give way to new ones, not because the human race grows more virtuous, but because the old system breaks down and fails to function.

* * *

WHEN H. G. Wells talks of Communism, he undoubtedly has in mind Russia and the form of government established there. That Communism does not exist in Russia or did not exist when the Bolsheviks seized power or since then, has been stated and restated. What has taken place in Russia is, the establishment of the dictatorship of the proletariat thru the medium of the Communist Party, which is preparing the ground for Communism. This is no simple task. Communism cannot be established by the issuing of a manifesto. And we cannot have a Communist colony in Russia and capitalism in the rest of the world.

* * *

FORD has decided that he will not run for United States senator in the state of Michigan against Senator Couzens, republican, who does not feel comfortable in the G. O. P. harness, yet hesitates to leave it. Ford would have the backing of the Ku Klux Klan whose industrial idol he is.

* * *

THE British mint is striking off forty million gold rubles for the Soviet Government. The Soviet Government provides the bullion and the British mint does the mechanical work, for which it receives compensation. The Communist International urges the British Communist Party to establish a daily paper. Lord Rothermere, British Fascist leader, put two and two together and appropriates several million dollars of Soviet rubles for the proposed daily.

* * *

THE Austrian police aided by the Chicago Tribune correspondent in Vienna, have proved to their own satisfaction that Vienna is the center of Communist activities in the Balkans. According to the police, the Communists have $20,000,000 to do their work with. What the Bolshevists want is another world war, we are told, and as the last war started in the Balkans and it turned out to be a fairly respectable piece of carnage, it is the logical place to start the next. The Bulgarian Fascist government has also learned that on a certain day, all the banks in Bulgaria would be looted by the Communists. So troops were placed on guard over the financial institutions. The murderous crew now in control of Bulgaria have an uneasy conscience.

* * *

ANOTHER plot, directed against the French colonies, has been unearthed by one of the Paris papers. It is directed against the French colonies. Everything is a plot that aims at freeing the workers from capitalism or subject peoples from the yoke of foreign exploiters. Of course, it is a Communist plot. Who else would bother about the emancipation of the workers?

Home of Union Head Damaged by Bomb Explosion

A bomb early yesterday wrecked the front porch of the home of James C. Petrillo, president of the Chicago Federation of Musicians, 5459 Berenice avenue.

Petrillo had just called a general strike of Chicago musicians for Labor Day, Sept. 1, as the latest move in a wage controversy with the Chicago Theater Managers' Association, which refused to grant the union demands of a ten per cent wage increase.

A series of anonymous letters addressed to Petrillo, and threatening that his home would be wrecked if he did not resign from his position as head of the Musicians' Federation, was received last October. The letters gave no indication of the motive for the outrage.

Police suspect that these letters were written by the same man, or by an accomplice of the man, who last week called Mrs. Petrillo on the telephone, demanding that she persuade her husband to give up his job in the union, and threatening harm to the entire family.

"There were no internal troubles in the union," said Petrillo today. "I strongly suspect agencies outside of the union of the crime."

Magazine Explosion Kills Many.

BRESCIA, Italy, Aug. 14.— Many persons were killed and wounded at Roccaanfa Fortress today when the explosion of a nitro-glycerine magazine was followed by fire.

CLOTHING WORKERS OF BOSTON TO STRIKE IF BOSSES DO NOT YIELD

BOSTON, August 14.—Power to negotiate a settlement with Boston employers or to order a strike is in the hands of a committee of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers. According to Joseph Salerno, general organizer, the strike "would be a stoppage of work for the enforcement of the present agreement, the terms of which many manufacturers have violated, and for the enforcement of unemployment insurance and other betterments now in force in New York and Chicago." President Sidney Hillman assures the Boston members the full resources of the union if a strike is called.

RACE PROBLEM ANSWER CAN'T SATISFY ALL

Negro Conclave Hears Communist Delegate

By ROBERT MINOR.
(Staff Writer, Daily Worker.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—The question of "The Adjustment of the Race Problems of the Southern States to the Satisfaction of All Concerned" has aroused keen interest and lively debate at the fourth annual international convention of the Universal Negro Improvement Association, now in session here.

Mrs. Olivia Whitemen, a delegate of the Workers Party to this international Race congress, addressed the convention asking whether anyone seriously believed that the race problems of the Southern states would ever be solved "to the satisfaction of all concerned."

Can't Satisfy All.

Answering her own question, the Communist woman delegate assured the gathering that the race question in the South will be solved all right, "but the solution will not be to the satisfaction of all concerned." She undertook to show that there is no chance in the world that the self-respecting Negroes would ever accept any adjustment of the race problem that would be satisfactory to the white ruling class.

Mrs. Whiteman insisted that the Negroes in America must stand firm for the redemption of Africa from the imperialists who are oppressing it, but that in doing so they must not let themselves become a weak and submissive people here in this country. She continued:

"Need Backbone in Fight."

"I cannot see how men, millions strong, who will permit their rights to be deprived them and their initiative crushed, will ever survive long enough to protect the great wealth of Africa, whose wealth any country will put up a strong battle to hold. Don't ever think that Negro liberty can be reedemed by a submissive spirit. It is going to take men with experience and training in courage and backbone to claim their own.

Men who do not stand up for their rights here, she said, when they start off for Africa will find it "a little late for training." She continued, "In order to have an army of men worth while, it is necessary to have a first-class training camp. Train them here," she demanded, "in contending for their rights here. When such men go to Africa," she said, "they will be able to stand their own whatever the storm may be."

Refering to a tendency of some of the delegates to address their appeals to preachers instead of to the masses of Negro people, Mrs. Whiteman said:

Slams Preachers.

"The preachers are a group of persons who have always known the oppressed condition of the Negro, and to my mind they have always given their official blessing to slavery and have always supported the government which oppresses my people."

In regard to the deplorable condition of mistreatment which colored women are compelled to suffer, Mrs. Whiteman exclaimed, "Whether we be in Alabama, Mississippi, Illinois or New York, we must take a definite and independent stand against permitting Negro women to be deprived of the U. N. I. A. were causing the Negroes of the most backward regions of the South to stop singing that old song.

Fred E. Johnson of Detroit said that yesterday the Negro was slumbering, but that such a time had passed away for the black man. He attributed the awakening in large measure to the work of the leader Garvey. He declared that the incarceration of Garvey would not succeed in stopping the organization. He referred to several Negro intellectual leaders as having had a hand in the indictment affair and asked his hearers to tell these men "to make this their last attack on Marcus Garvey. And tell Coolidge that, too!" he said. Pausing a moment, he then shouted, "And tell the Ku Klux Klan that, too!"

May Reconsider K. K. K.

The latter remark, coming after the evasive action that was taken on the Klan question, seemed to be meant as a hint that all that was to be said about the Klan question was not contained in the official resolutions. Later Johnson said, "If you have a gun in my face, I'll buy you an ice-cream soda. Yes, I'll smile and talk pleasant. But you had better not lay that gun down and turn your back on me. Marcus Garvey can't afford to say some things because of the position he is in."

The resolutions on the subject of the Ku Klux Klan passed by the convention a few days ago appear in their official form as follows:

"Resolved that the fourth international convention of the Negro Peoples of the World regards the alleged

"Maggie" Belmont Is Getting Her Publicity While Getting's Good

By J. LOUIS ENGDAHL.

TODAY, several millions of workers went hunting jobs again over the land—men, women, boys, girls, children. It will be the same tomorrow. And the day after, for some time to come.

In these great waves of humanity, lashing at the gates of factories, mills and mines, the individual seeking work is lost sight of. In the flood of statistics issued on the unemployment situation he finds himself classified, according to a headline in Wednesday's New York Times, as follows:

"Mills Go Slowly Thruout the State (New York); Labor Department Shows Unemployment in Some Industries, and Output Curtailed; Metal Trades Operations Are Low—Buffalo, Rochester and Other Cities Report Slumps."

* * * * *

That report is tucked away on the financial pages, with the reports of fluctuations in prices on the stock exchanges and the boards of trade. The lone worker gets about as much attention as a share of stock in Rockefeller's Standard Oil, a foreign bond offered for sale by the House of Morgan, or a bushel of wheat, a hog, a steer, or a lamb to be bought and sold by one of the big packers, Armour, Swift, Cudahy, or Morris.

* * * * *

But the importance of Mrs. Morgan Belmont, touted as "a member of New York's smart set," who is going to work; that is a different matter. She is above the millions. She gets on the first page when she states, according to reports that she will become an employe in charge of the personal shopping bureau of a Fifth Avenue (New York) department store on Sept. 10.

There is an event for the yellow press to conjure with. There will be columns and columns of space devoted to her —AND PICTURES. It is an event so uncommon, even for a member of the idle rich class to promise to go to work, that it must be given extraordinary attention. It's news. The event happens so seldom that it even startles the blase editors, who sit in attendance upon the matter that goes into the "Brass Check" press. Even their dulled sensibilities are goaded into action.

* * * * *

This Belmont person is the wife of Morgan Belmont, the youngest son of August Belmont, the multi-millionaire banker and traction magnate. She was formerly Margaret Andrews. But Miss Andews had to become a "Mrs. Belmont" in order to beak into the metropolitan press. As "Miss Adams" she would have been unknown.

Margaret is a rather mediocre person. Wealth didn't give her brains. She tried to break into the limelight once before by "going to work." It was in 1920 that she announced she was simply tired of the monotony of society life and entered motion pictures, playing a minor role. She must have been pretty rotten if that is as far as she could get with her millions. No doubt the rest of the help began calling her "Maggie," putting the damper on her enthusiasm for "work."

Now she is going to make another try, this time as a "come-on" for a fashionable department store, in an effort to catch the trade of her rich friends.

* * * * *

"Maggie" Belmont is lucky in a way. She is getting at least a little experience against the day when an American Workers' Government in power will put all the idlers and the parasites to work, without giving them any newspaper publicity.

"Maggie" is getting her publicity now, while the getting is good.

ling the hardships and dangers of attempting any sort of organization of the Negroes in Alabama, Mississippi and Texas, then introduced S. B. Robinson, commissioner of the Universal Negro Improvement Association for Mississippi and Louisiana, who he said had done heroic work in "prizing up the southern part of the country."

Mr. Robinson said that the work "in the Southland, among men who have no regard for human life." He said the lethargy had been so great that "the only thing the Negroes wanted was Jesus—and let the white man have all the rest." He declared that the organizing work and propaganda of the U. N. I. A. were causing the song.

Fred E. Johnson of Detroit said that yesterday the Negro was slumbering, but that such a time had passed away for the black man. He attributed the awakening in large measure to the work of the leader Garvey. He declared that the incarceration of Garvey would not succeed in stopping the organization. He referred to several Negro intellectual leaders as having had a hand in the indictment affair and asked his hearers to tell these men "to make this their last attack on Marcus Garvey. And tell Coolidge that, too!" he said. Pausing a moment, he then shouted, "And tell the Ku Klux Klan that, too!"

May Reconsider K. K. K.

The latter remark, coming after the evasive action that was taken on the Klan question, seemed to be meant as a hint that all that was to be said about the Klan question was not contained in the official resolutions. Later Johnson said, "If you have a gun in my face, I'll buy you an ice-cream soda. Yes, I'll smile and talk pleasant. But you had better not lay that gun down and turn your back on me. Marcus Garvey can't afford to say some things because of the position he is in."

The resolutions on the subject of the Ku Klux Klan passed by the convention a few days ago appear in their official form as follows:

"Resolved that the fourth international convention of the Negro Peoples of the World regards the alleged attitude of the Ku Klux Klan to the Negro as fairly representative of the feelings of the majority of the white race towards us and places on record its conviction that the only solution of the crucial situation is that of the Universal Negro Improvement Association, namely, the securing for ourselves as speedily as possible a government of our own on African soil.

"Moved, that it shall be the policy of the Universal Negro Improvement Association to protest against the brutalities and atrocities alleged to be perpetrated upon members of the Negro race by the Ku Klux Klan or by any other organization.'

A passage of the original resolution, describing the Negro organization's position as being a "neutral" toward the Klan was stricken out by amendment on the suggestion of President Garvey, who said that the Negro convention could not afford to be "neutral" on so vital a question. This is a fact which was overlooked in my first dispatch on the subject.

Jobless Increase in Germany.

BERLIN, Aug. 14.— Labor conditions in Berlin are getting worse. The number of unemployed registered with the labor office is 92,576, an increase of 6,000 in one week. Bankruptcies are likewise on the increase.

HUGHES BLUFF FAILED TO SCARE CHINA, SAYS SOVIET RUSSIA HEAD

MOSCOW, Aug. 14. — The two chief events of the past month as far as Russia's international position is concerned, said Premier Rykov yesterday, are the French elections, which gave us a favorable government, and the resumption of full relations with China, in spite of the threatening note which Secretary Hughes addressed to that country. . . . To an American observer, the prestige of our country has fallen off noticeably thru Russia and Asia due to the unwarranted bluff issued by Hughes and its failure to influence even China.

U. S. STANDS PAT ON JUST DEMANDS OF NICARAGUANS

American Con-Man Game Laid Open

(By The Federated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—Former Minister Weitzel, who represented the State Department in Nicaragua when the American bankers gained possession of the national railroad of that republic, is returning from London with Secretary Hughes. Weitzel has been abroad some time, and while he has been absent an attempt to recover $100,000 in taxes, paid by the Nicaraguan government on its 49 per cent of the shares of the railroad company created by the American bankers in New York, has lain dormant. It is expected that the case will now come up again for action.

According to the Nicaraguans, they permitted the bankers to incorporate the railroad company in the United States, not knowing that they must pay war taxes. When they protested their share of a total of $300,000 collected in five years, they were turned down. But Weitzel had returned to Washington from Nicaragua, and he offered to secure the refund on a 33 per cent contingent-fee basis. Former President Emiliano Chamorro was at that time minister in Washington, while his uncle was president. Then Weitzel was called to Europe.

President Martinez, progressive, now proposes to appeal the case without the help of Weitzel, and to turn the entire $100,000 into the national treasury—if he is able to get it from Mr. Mellon.

He has been warned, however, that Weitzel is very close to the State Department, and that he is taking dangerous chances.

Thirty-One Join Up In Hammond Branch Of Red Youth League

A large branch of the Young Workers' League was organized in Hammond, Tuesday night, after an address by Barney Mass, who spoke to two hundred young workers of Hammond, most of them employes of the Standard Steel Car company, and secured 31 applications for membership in the league.

Hammond is typical of many industrial towns in the Chicago district, and the enthusiastic reception given to Mass' organization speech, together with the large number of applicants, is a significant indication of organizational possibilities around Chicago.

Mass appealed to the young workers to have an organization of their own, separate and distinct from the rich boys' fraternities and clubs. He explained the class struggle, and gave examples of the injustices heaped upon the young workers by the capitalist system. Karl Reeve acted as chairman.

Legion Convention Razzes Heretic of Pacifist Tendency

(Federated Press Staff Correspondent.)

SANTA CRUZ, Cal., Aug. 14.— A near-riot was precipitated in the California convention of the American Legion when the call of the Friends of Peace for a day of mourning to replace Mobilization Day was presented by a San Diego delegate. The reading was booed and hissed and greeted with cries of, "Down With the Pacifists!" Finally the notice was referred to the resolutions committee with recommendation that such matters be barred from American Legion conventions and that a resolution be prepared heartily endorsing Mobilization Day.

Communist Move to Get Kids' Vacation Blocked in Germany

BERLIN, Aug. 14.—Willy Munsenberg, secretary International Workers' Aid, and a Communist member of the Reichstag, vainly sought permission to issue permits to 800 German school children from workers' families to leave the country on a vacation in foreign workers' homes. The German People's party delegation objected to immediate consideration. In previous summers, Scandinavian and Swiss and Dutch homes were opened to the German children.

Medical Colleges Hard Up; Won't Buy Corpse in Advance

OAKLAND, Cal., Aug. 14.— Have you ever thought when times get too hard, that you might sell your body in advance to a medical college? Well, you can't. Robert Frazee, a prisoner in the Alameda County jail, tried to raise some money that way from the University of California to help his destitute family, and was told there were no funds for such a purpose.

Send in that Subscription Today.

DAVIS EXCUSES KU KLUX KLAN IN ACCEPTING

Dodges Entire Issue of Knightgowned Knuts

(By Federated Press.)

WASHINGTON, August 14.—Candidate Davis' thinly veiled excuse for the existence and lawless deeds of the Ku Klux Klan, in the opening section of his acceptance speech, has set all Washington to talking.

He said: "There is abroad in the land a feeling too general to be ignored, too deep-seated for any trifling, that men in office can no longer be trusted to keep faith with those who sent them there, and that the powers of government are being exercised in the pursuit of personal gain instead of common service.

"Out of this and because of it there has developed an alarming tendency to take the administration of the law out of the hands of the constituted officials and to execute its processes thru individuals or thru organized societies, by methods little different from those of private revenge.

"A situation so threatening to the very foundations of social order always has been the doctrine of causes which have brought it about, and tireless exertion in the effort to remove them. To bring the government back to the people is and always has been the doctrine of democracy."

Davis' Specious Plea.

This is construed as a specious plea of mitigating circumstances, advanced by the Morgan lawyer, for the Klan terrorism. He assumes that the "tendency" of the Klan to "execute the processes" of the law will be admitted as a fact, and that in the light of this moral position its destruction of the processes of law and of civil liberties will be eclipsed and forgotten.

What About Southern Dems?

The question is asked, for example: "If this is a movement to enforce the law, which can be suppressed only by legal enforcement thru a democratic party victory, why is it that the Klan arose in the south, where the democratic party has absolute control of enforcement of criminal statutes? Why expect a national political organization whose convention was unable to speak a word against this law-defying movement, to itself suppress violence with legal order?"

Despite all of Davis' qualifying phrases, this indirect defense of the Klan sticks out so boldly in his talk that he is likely to hear of little else that he mouthed in the rain at Clarksburg.

Baltimore Building Trades Council Will Reinstate Engineers

(Federated Press Industrial Editor)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—John Donlin, president of the building trades department A. F. of L., confirms the instructions issued by that department to its Baltimore branch, that the Baltimore building trades council reinstate the Steam and Operative Engineers' local. This local was disciplined for having failed to return to work on a job when a strike was settled by the council. Its international brought a complaint to the department, and despite threats of non-compliance with the reinstatement order issued at Washington, Baltimore is expected to yield.

Close Door To Russians

LONDON, Aug. 14.—Switzerland has closed its doors to all citizens of the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics, the Swiss legation announced here today.

SOVIET ORGAN CHARGES HUGHES WITH ATTEMPT TO ORGANIZE A COALITION AGAINST BOLSHEVISM

(Special to The Daily Worker)

MOSCOW, August 14.—"A struggle with Bolshevism is the chief object of Hughes' present policy and he is ready for everything in order to attain his ends," writes the Izvestia, official Soviet government organ, in a special article in which United States secretary of state Hughes is charged with attempting to organize a coalition against Soviet Russia.

The article truthfully declares that Hughes is a "maniac unable to speak of Russia in cold blood."

TO BE CUCKOO OR NOT IS ISSUE AT MURDER HEARING

Opposing Experts Well Paid for Arguing

After testimony of high-priced alienists, costing the defense thousands of dollars, that Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb are mentally diseased, another battery of noted alienists, this time testifying for the state, declare Loeb and Leopold to be mentally normal.

Expert Enjoys It.

Dr. Hugh Patrick, noted psychiatrist, testifying for the strike breaker, State's Attorney Crowe, seemed to be having a good time, even during his cross-examination by Benjamin Bachrach. Patrick should worry. All his expenses are paid and he gets a fat sum of money each day for his services to the state. The longer his cross-examination, the more money he gets out of it.

Words are bandied back and forth, Crowe insists that the slayers are sane. Clarence Darrow claims them to be not insane, but slightly queer and mentally diseased.

Books Will Be Written.

The trial seems to be furnishing inspiration for the writing of several books. Nathan Leopold, we are told, is going to write a book on his bird philosophy. Several books will be made of the reports of the alienists. Now comes word that Clarence Darrow will write a book about the case as soon as all the money is in, and he can talk freely in his individualistic, possimistic vein, which seems so delightful—also profitable.

Page LaFollette on Addition to Nickel Plate-Erie Merger

CHICAGO, Aug. 14.—It is not known if Robert La Follette has been asked for his permission, but the C. & E. I. railroad probably will be taken into the $1,500,000,000 Erie-Nickel Plate rail merger, according to authoritative reports current in financial and railroad circles here today. The Van Sweringen brothers of Cleveland, it was stated by railroad financial authority, are considering the plan, and if they decide to include the C. & E. I. in the great merger, will short announce the fact. The C. & E. I. has worked itself out of a federal receivership and is generally reported to have plenty of dough.

Russian Co-operative Restaurant Opens 2nd Branch Next Sunday

On next Sunday, Aug. 17, the second branch of the Russian co-operative restaurant will be opened at 760 Milwaukee Ave. Those who attend the opening of the restaurant will be given a special dinner below cost.

The restaurant is not operated for profit. It is owned by a co-operative society composed of workers who are mostly members of the Technical Aid Society and the Soviet School. All the profits go for educational purposes.

During the dull summer months, when the Technical Aid Society has a big deficit, the co-operative society is paying the deficit in rent for the headquarters of the Technical Aid.

Pretty Political Mess Promised at Indiana Labor Meet

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Aug. 14.—Another political mixup is promised here when the Indiana State Federation of Labor meets here on Aug. 20. Conflicting statements made by politicians promise confusion in the attitude of the labor federation toward the political situation. T. N. Taylor, president of the State Federation of Labor, in an official statement, said the Indiana labor organization would go solidly for the democratic ticket. James M. Lechler, another Indiana labor leader, however, is state chairman of the LaFollette organization in Indiana. He will make an effort to have Phil LaFollette, son of the champion of the small business man, address the labor convention.

GERMANS ACCEPT FRENCH OFFER TO QUIT RUHR

Troops Have One Year to Evacuate

(Special to The Daily Worker)

LONDON, August 14.—The German delegation, under pressure from Ramsay MacDonald and the American representatives of J. P. Morgan, late this afternoon announced its intention of accepting the French proposal on the evacuation of the Ruhr.

"We are disappointedly going to accept the French proposals tonight," the German announcement said.

The French proposals give France and Belgium a year to withdraw their troops, altho they may be withdrawn sooner if Paris and Brussels deem it expedient.

The decision of the Germans to surrender saved the conference from collapse. It now remains to be seen how the results will be accepted in Germany. Herriot was willing to consider immediate evacuation, but the French industrialists would not stand for it.

Americans and French.

Prior to the German delegation's announcement that it would accept the French proposals, the British bankers had informed Mr. Philip Snowden, Chancellor of the Exchequer, that they could not consider floating a German loan if the twelve months' proposal is enforced.

The report that Ambassador Kellog joined the British in urging Germany to accept the French ultimatum was denied at the American embassy, but diplomatic denials are quite common and are not taken seriously by the initiated.

* * *

Charles Hughes Hopeful.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—"I am very hopeful of the situation abroad and believe that the Dawes report will be accepted and put into effect very shortly, said Charles Evans Hughes, Secretary of State, here today on his return from Europe.

Mexican Reds and Foster-Ruthenberg Report in Capital

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—With the exception of Phoenix, Arizona, Washington was the hottest place in the United States today. This red-hot fact did not interfere with a large attendance at the regular meeting of the English branch of Washington Local. A new member, who has spent his recent years in Mexico, delivered an interesting address on conditions in that country. The speaker attributed the ease with which Communism is taught to the Mexicans to the fact that the Mexican does not have to be "un-taught." He has never been taught the "virtues" of capitalism so this nonsense does not have to be knocked out of him before starting his Communistic education. Also to the fact that courage is one of his characteristics. As one member remarked: "They've got the guts in Mexico!"

The report of the delegate who represented this Local at the Foster-Ruthenberg meeting in Philadelphia was received and discussed.

Two members were accepted and applications referred to the City Central Committee. Applications for membership is a regular order of business in Washington.

Cleanliness Would Help.

DUBUQUE, Ia., Aug. 12.—"Ninety-five percent of the criminals are bred in unsanitary districts of cities," declared Col. E. E. Archer, lecturer and member of the National Press Club, from Evansville, Ind., in a speech delivered here.

AWAIT RETURN OF LAWYER IN I. W. W. HEARING

Case Will Come Up This Morning at Ten

If Attorney William A. Cunnea, lawyer for the "ins" in the internecine struggle that is tearing the Industrial Workers of the World to pieces, comes back to Chicago this morning from his vacation, perhaps the hearing on the injunction sought by the "outs" will go forward

If Attorney Cunnea still remains away on his fishing trip, one of his assistants may take his place, and thus some progress may be made in the court fight.

But what is more likely is that the case will go over until next week, perhaps until Tuesday. In the meantime the delay is not helping the work of the organization.

The courtroom of Judge Hurley, Room 939, in the County Building, is expected to be crowded when the case comes up again this morning at ten o'clock.

Injunction Will Become Historic.

The injunction that started court action between the contending elements in the Industrial Workers of the World will without doubt become another historical document of the American labor movement. The DAILY WORKER publishes it in full as follows:

State of Illinois, County of Cook—ss.
In the Superior Court of Cook County—J. A. Griffith et al. vs. Joe Fisher and Tom Doyle—No. 407408.

Defendants in the above entitled cause:

You and each of you, please take notice that on Tuesday, Aug. 12, 1924, we shall appear before the Honorable Timothy D. Hurley, one of the judges of said court, in Room 939 in the County building, in the said city of Chicago, at the opening of court on the morning of said day, and move the court to issue a writ of injunction restraining you and each of you, your attorneys, agents and servants, and directing certain actions to be done by you, which injunction will provide as follows: That you do absolutely desist and refrain from functioning or attempting to function in the respective capacities, as general organizer, and general secretary-treasurer of the Industrial Workers of the World, and from interfering with the rights of the complainant, as the General Executive Board of the said Industrial Workers of the World, in directing the affairs of said association, and from preventing, or in any way interfering with the complainant, in meeting, or holding the meetings, as the General Executive Board of said association, in the building located at 1001 West Madison Street, Chicago, Ill., and from exercising any rights over the property or affairs of the said Industrial Workers of the World; and you are hereby directed and commanded to deliver up possession of the said building at 1001 West Madison Street, Chicago, Ill., now used by the said Industrial Workers of the World, as their headquarters for the transaction of the business of said association, and also to deliver up the furniture and office equipments employed and used in said building by the general organizer and general secretary-treasurer of said association, together with all books of account, bank books, records, seals, printed supplies, documents, papers and effects of every kind and character, belonging to the said Industrial Workers of the World, to J. A. Griffith and J. J. McMurphy, and to permit them to function and perform the duties of the general organizer and genral secretary-treasurer, respectively, of said association; and that you and each of you immediately cease drawing or attempting to draw out any of the funds of said association, on deposit in any bank, and especially in the Mid-City Bank of Chicago, until further order of this court.

At which time and place you may appear, if you see fit.

(Signed) W. F. BIGELOW and
J. B. O'CONNELL,
Solicitors for Complainants.

FARMER-LABOR PARTY OF ROCHESTER BACKS FOSTER-GITLOW FIGHT

ROCHESTER, N. Y. Aug. 14.—In view of the wide-spread popularity of the La Follette movement and its betrayal of the class interests of the American workers, the Rochester Labor Party, supported by over thirteen thousand organized labors—including the Amalgamated Clothing Workers, has pledged its full support to the Communist candidates, and the Workers Party ticket.

It was the opinion that the most effective and efficient way to fight the La Follette movement and the capitalist parties is to support the Workers Party who is consistently fighting for the needs of the working class.

STRIKERS TIE UP HEGEWISCH PLANT OF WESTERN STEEL CAR FOUNDRY COMPANY; CHASE SCABS

Strikers of the Western Steel Car Foundry company in Hegewisch have so completely tied up the factory, that the power was shut off yesterday by the company officials, the gates were locked and even the office force sent home. The efforts of the company to disrupt the strike by spreading rumors that the men would be told to return to work by Ed. Hogan of the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen and Jack McCarthy of the DAILY WORKER, have reacted in favor of the men.

Several workers from out of town points tried to get past the pickets yesterday and hire out as strikebreakers, but after a few skirmishes, in which the scabs got rough, only to get the worst of their attack on the pickets, the strikebreakers decided Hegewisch is an unhealthy place, and departed.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—In an effort to break up the smuggling of American arms into China, the United States has ordered the American steamers Talbot and Alpola held at Shanghai, pending an investigation, it was announced at the State Department today.

ITALIAN DAILY WILL SUPPORT FOSTER-GITLOW

"Il Lavoratore" to Take Leading Part in Fight

William Z. Foster and Benjamin Gitlow, candidates for president and vice-president on the Workers Party ticket, will poll large a percentage of the Italian workers' vote this fall, Louis Candela, secretary of the Italian Federation of the Workers Party, declared yesterday.

"LaFollette cannot fool the Italian workers in this country," said Candela. "They have had too much experience with capitalist political fakirs in Italy, to be fooled by the middle-class LaFollette."

The Italian Federation held a general membership meeting on Aug. 8, at which it was decided to throw the strength of the Italian Communist daily, "IL LAVORATORE" into the Foster-Gitlow campaign.

The plans for securing names for Congressional and electoral petitions were approved by the membership meeting. The matter of collecting funds for the party campaign were discussed and the branches were instructed to collect the campaign money.

Mill Workers to Get Cut.

(Special to The Daily Worker)

WOONSOCKET, R. I., August 14.—Employes of the Globe Mill here, manufacturing cotton goods, have been notified of a 10 per cent wage cut, effective this week. The plant is one of these owned by the Jenckes-Manville Company, and if this cut is accepted without resistance by the mill slaves, a 10 per cent cut will be made in all the mills operated by the same corporation, and will be followed by the mills thruout Pautuxet Valley, which was the scene of the most bitter fight during the textile strike of 1922.

Send in that Subscription Today!

Order Your Bundle of First Campaign Issue

MAKE Monday, Sept. 1, a real "Labor Day" for the American Communist movement, by distributing a bundle of the First 1924 Campaign Issue of the DAILY WORKER.

FOR THE COMMUNIST CAMPAIGN

DAILY WORKER,
1113 W. Washington Blvd.,
Chicago, Ill.

For the enclosed $..... send me ..... copies of the First Special Communist Campaign edition of the DAILY WORKER, to be dated Saturday, Aug. 30, at the special rate of 2½ cents per copy, or $2.50 per hundred. I want to help raise the standards of Communism in this campaign for the Workers Party ticket—Foster and Gitlow.

NAME .....

ADDRESS .....

CITY..... STATE.....

Printed on a fine grade of paper. 12 inches wide by 18 inches high. Suitable for framing or posting in your window.

VOTE and WORK
FOR
FOSTER for PRESIDENT

Get a photographic reproduction of this new picture of Foster free.

Every Reader of THE DAILY WORKER
will be a worker for
FOSTER FOR PRESIDENT

THE DAILY WORKER
will be the best, the most incessant worker for
FOSTER FOR PRESIDENT

YOU!! WORK!!

For Foster for President by securing new subscribers to THE DAILY WORKER

4 MONTH SPECIAL ELECTION CAMPAIGN SUBSCRIPTIONS (For new subscribers only) $2.00

Get a New Reader for the DAILY WORKER and a Big Picture of Foster for Yourself

USE THE COUPON

THE DAILY WORKER
1113 W. Washington Blvd.,
Chicago, Ill.,

I have sold a Special 4-Month Election Campaign sub. Please send me FREE the picture of Foster.

Name: .....
Street: .....
City: ..... State: .....

New Subscriber's
Name: .....
Street: .....
City: .....
State: .....

Congress Gets Program Report

The DAILY WORKER today prints the second installment of the report given by Comrade Bukharin on the question of the world Communist program at the Fifth Congress of the Communist International. The third installment will be printed in the magazine section of The DAILY WORKER, Saturday, August 16. Watch for it!

* * *

BY NICHOLAS BUKHARIN.

I COME to the second question—one of the most important.

At the beginning of the war there were bourgeois economists who actually went mad in the effort to justify the imperialist war and invented the theory that the war was a very useful thing from the standpoint of the development of productive power.

The basic idea of this theory was a decided shifting of productive power in the metallurgical industry, in the war industry, in heavy industry. This great shift resulted in decrease of unemployment. Only very superficial "savants" failed to notice that from the standpoint of the next cycle of capitalism, all these phenomena in reality indicated a gigantic process of the destruction of productive power, of fixed capital.

Criticizes Boris.

Arising out of the enormous increase of non-productive consumption, these imbecile illusions of the bourgeois economists vanished some time after the beginning of the war. Now, several years after the beginning of the imperialist war, the courageous Boris, who of course, is in no way crazy or absurd, writes the following:

"He (Bukharin) asserts that the war led to the destruction of a tremendous mass of means of production."

The very opposite is true.

And in another passage he says:

"Neither can one talk of the destruction of productive forces by the war."

How is this to be understood? We all know that ten million people were killed during the war, but according to the deductions of the super-wise Boris, it means that we have an increase of living productive forces; the destroyed railways mean an increase in means of communication, while the destroyed factories and villages in Germany and Belgium signify an increase of the productive forces. This is sheer nonsense.

War Does Bring Destruction.

No sensible person can talk in this strain. One could say that the sores of the war have partly been healed. But this is not what Boris asserts; he claims that the war does not cause the destruction of productive forces. For instance, one of these gentlemen goes so far as to say that capitalism has emerged even stronger from the war. Thus you see the "theoretical proportions."

War Weakened Capitalism.

The simplest liberals, the pacifists, the clerical and the bourgeois economists, nearly all of them see more or less the economic weakness of the capitalist world, and not one of them denies this. And then the social democrats, ostensibly Marxian, come along and declare that capitalism has emerged even stronger from the war.

It sounds almost like clamoring for a new war. An ostensible Communist chimes in with a similar statement. How can such things be taken up even as a matter for discussion, as Korsch says? If we are to take up a discussion on every bit of bourgeois nonsense (and such nonsense is produced in abundance), what would be the result? We can very well say that super-profits and extra wages are the justification of the imperialist war. If the imperialist war is such a process that in the course of it we get an increase of the productive forces, then why should we raise the alarm?

THEORY OF CRISES

Trusts Widen Crises.

The third theory is that of the crisis.

We are all aware of the great controversy between us and the social democrats on the question of the crisis. We all know that the revisionist, led by Bernstein, were the first to attempt to prove that the trustification of industry, the creation of monopolist industry, tends to enable capitalism to overcome the crisis. There are different versions of this theory.

In its crudest form it is represented by the pure and simple revisionists. At the time when the differences between the orthodox radicals led by Kautsky and the ultra-revisionists led by Bernstein had disappeared, Kautsky, before the drafting of the Goerlitz program, wrote that in our present theoretical discussion of the development of the capitalist system we may say quite frankly that the theory of crisis must assume "more modest dimensions."

What does it mean? It means that according to Kautsky the capitalist world has become more harmonized in recent years. What is our view upon these things? We have dealt with this question more than once and I think we have shown that in some branches of industry the state of anarchy has been partly removed as a result of the creation of monopolies. But the creation of trusts does not prevent crises; it rather produces them in a more extended and graduated manner.

Boris goes on to make the following suggestion:

"With the development of capitalism, constant capital increases in relation to the variable capital, constant fixed capital in relation to constant circulating capital, and particularly constant fixed capital in relation to the total capital. The systematic management of production goes at the same rate."

Then he says:

"The higher the organic composition of an industry is, the more systematic is the management of such an industry. Of course, increased systematization leads not to a slackening but an intensification of capitalist competition. Systematic management of production leads to systematic curtailment of production, which partly takes place instead of the crisis."

Revisionism of Boris.

This amounts to saying that the growth of productive forces signifies the growth of the organic composition of capitalism; the ever increasing systematization in the management of production, instead of crisis, a growth of the productive forces. What does it all mean? Does all this represent a Communist theory? It is pure revisionism, and a pure social democratic theory.

There is yet another social democratic doctrine which says that the circumstances during the war and the period of revolutionary ferment are such that the revolutionary proletariat, if it wants to carry out the revolution victoriously, must constantly bear in mind the necessity for the continuity of the process of production. This is what we are told by Kautsky, Hilferding, etc. In support of their opposition of the bolshevist interpretation or revolutionary Marxism, they say that if we capture the machinery of the State, we shall lose all credits and shall be obliged to close the factories, and so on. This is certainly not the goal of our revolution.

Revolt Halts Production.

As I bluntly put it at the last Congress, the use of telegraph poles for barricades will not encourage the increase of production. Revolution, like war, entails loss of productivity thru the temporary destruction of the productive forces.

Comrade Boris comes along again and reconstructs the whole doctrine of the community of production. He says: "I am going to put this in the form of a mathematical formula."

And so he does, for he transforms the transitory decline of the productive forces into an absolute progess. He goes on to say that this indicates that Bukharin "is seriously of the opinion that the Communist system of production will have to start literally with nothing in the way of means of production and distribution." What a wonderfully clever fellow he is! He himself evolves the mathematical formula and then he accuses me of it. If for instance we were to transform Comrade Boris' relative foolishness into absolute foolishness by means of mathematical, historical, and logical reasoning, we would also obtain the corresponding result. But we are content with having to deal with relative foolishness.

Is Socialist Theory.

What is the meaning of the thing in itself? It means nothing else than the restoration of the social democratic doctrine. For it is the best argument in the hands of the social-democracy against revolutionary methods. If we say that the revolution can be based only on the growth of the productive forces, then we get the doctrine established by Kautsky.

You see how tactfully we have established our theory. We have shown that the process of relative and temporary transition renders the destruction of the productive forces absolutely necessary. We have shown by various Marxian quotations that this transformation, these critical circumstances, serves as the basis for the revolutionary change.

The social democratic doctrine, on the contrary, asserts the impossibility of the revolution. They argue in this way: before the war the productive forces are not developed enuf for the realization of socialism; during the war the social revolution is impossible because the productive forces are partly destroyed, and after the war one must want until they develop again, so by that time a new war will come.

SOCIALIST STUPIDITY

And thus the circle of stupidity runs merrily round. The expended reproduction of Boris' theory represents the expanded reproduction of this theory. See what a rich bouquet of theory we get! Negation of super profits, negation of the wage-relations of the labor aristocracy, a theory of war-time prosperity, and consequently a justification of the social-patriotic attitude during the war; whole theory about crises, the social-democratic doctrine about the continuity of the process of production. It has quite a number of passages which sound very radical, but behind these radical words we have the foulest social democratic trash.

And it is this thing that the super-wise Boris uses for his attack against us on the national question, on the colonial question, on the question of the united front, on the question of socialization and so forth and so forth. These are sufficient to illustrate what the discussion is really about.

Why Boris Is Discussed.

I repeat, I have dealt with Comrade Boris at considerable length, not because I consider his arguments important, but in order to show that even in our own ranks there are social democratic notions, which we must combat with the utmost vigor.

If such things are written by the "Left" comrades, they are even more dangerous, because even the "Left" comrades, whose tactical and political orientation is quite proper, indulge in such foolish talk, they compromise the entire political orientation of the "Left" wing.

We cannot be swayed by sympathy, we must, foremost in the most emphatic manner against such irrelevances, and expose the comrades in question. Another reason why I spoke so much about Boris was because of the peculiar construction of his brain, and the crude form in which he put his theory.

I would now like to touch upon another theoretical question which was omitted in our previous discussions, viz. the question of crises; not of crises as specific phenomenon of the transition period, but of crises in general. As you know, a theoretical discussion on the theory of crises is going on in Marxian circles.

Anarchy of Production.

There are two formulas which are fundamentally different (disproportionality, and under-consumption). We must have a formula which will express the contradiction between production and consumption as a component part of the anarchy of production. I will deal with this more fully on another occasion.

I believe that in our draft program we must be somewhat more cautious in formulating the process of the decay of capitalism. We already see the empirical fact that on the whole we are facing the process of capitalist decay, but within this great process we see also partial processes of regeneration.

Proceed Cautiously.

Consequently, the picture is more checkered than we have thot it to be, and the checkered nature of the process of capitalist decay should cause us to proceed more cautiously in our future formulations than we have done hitherto. For this reason we must give a somewhat more exhaustive definition and clearer description of the transition period.

Without going into long coments, I shall point out a few things. We must elaborate more clearly our ideas upon the period of the two processes, the fundamental processes of the proletarian revolution in itself does not yet constitute the world revolution, that there are also other disruptive processes which have a revolutionary sense, e.g. the national crises. Of course, if we consider these crises as isolated phenomena, they do not by any means constitute proletarian revolutions.

COLONIAL REVOLTS

It may be said, likewise, that colonial revolts, which are so numerous, do not constitute merely proletarian revolts, but that also revolts of the petty bourgeoisie and of the national-revolutionary elements of the bourgeoisie.

Taken by themselves, these secondary processes are not integral parts of the proletarian revolution. In the majority of cases they are not led by the proletariat. Objectively speaking, if these processes were entirely isolated, they would play quite a different part. But they cannot be spoken of as isolated phenomena. In the process of world history, these phenomena have direct bearing on the world revolution.

And if the proletariat gains the leadership of this process, it will lead also the other classes, because they are component parts of the world revolution. This may sound paradoxical, but it is, nevertheless, true. Comrade Boris absolutely fails to understand the subject, for he has no inkling of the objective meaning of these secondary processes.

Two Simultaneous Forms.

We should mention that during the transition period, two antagonistic forms of organization may continue to exist side by side for a long time, bourgeois and proletarian forms; proletarian forms of economy and survivals of commercial and capitalistic industrial relations, and many other incongruities of this kind; the whole picture would present a motley complexity of things.

We should make mention of the antagonistic forms of organization. We should also mention the various capitalist organizations, and the various initial stages of the socialist society that is being built up.

We should point out that after the conquest of political power, a new law of social development will operate. In the first place, development would proceed amidst the flame of revolution, and secondly, the law of social development would work concretely upon a new basis. Capitalist development is nothing but the extension of the capitalist contradictions; these contradictions will go on and lead to the collapse of the capitalist system of production, but after the capture of power by the proletariat, the law of social development will not tend in the direction of extending the contradictions, but rather in the direction of their gradual elimination. Let me give an illustration.

Road to Communism.

We have contradictions between the various forms of economy; if these contradictions were to go on increasing in acuteness, the whole order of society would collapse. But we hope that the process of competition will enable us to dispose more and more of the economic contradictory forms in an evolutionary way. And the contradictions which will exist after the conquest of political power, considered from a definite historical standpoint, will steadily diminish until they will finally vanish, and then we shall have the communist society.

Of course, conflicts of a catastrophic nature may arise, e.g. revolts of the bourgeisie, of the large peasants and so on. Of these things I do not speak; I merely say that a certain historical period, when the proletariat shall have established his complete economic, political and cultural hegemony, the law of economic development will work differently from what it did before.

MAY FORM BLOC

We should mention further the idea that during the transition period there should be a bloc between the proletariat and some sections of the peasantry. Here I would like to make a few remarks. Even in the ranks of the Communist International there is a dangerous tendency to ignore the importance of this problem, of the relations between the proletariat and the peasantry.

Everybody knows today that we want to go hand in hand with the peasantry, but this does not mean to say that in any theoretically or practically wipe out the differences between the proletariat and the peasantry.

It is absolutely clear, and strategically as well as tactically necessary, that we must consider the peasantry as our allies, but this should not be misconstrued in the sense that we should transform ourselves into Workers' and Peasants' Parties. On the contrary, the more we retain our proletarian character, the more successful will be our policy in regard to the peasantry. In this connection we might draw a perfect parallel between our bloc and the bloc that exists among the possessing classes. For instance, there is quite a big difference between the large landowners and the industrial bourgeoisie.

Bloc Vs. Bloc.

It is true that the growth of financial capitalism and banking has enabled the large landowners to obtain their revenues in the form of dividends; nevertheless, there are still large and important differences between the bourgeoisie and the large landowners, particularly the so-called feudal or semi-feudal large landowners.—not the large landowners who carry on capitalistic enterprises on their land. But in spite of these differences there is a bloc between these classes, and constant mutual support.

As against this bloc, we should establish the bloc of the workers and peasants. The differences between the proletariat and the peasantry have not vanished any more than the differences between the large landowners and the capitalist bourgeoisie had vanished; but just as the whole of the ruling class supports the bourgeois bloc, so must we support, strengthen, and consolidate our policy during the whole of the transition period the bloc between the proletariat and the peasantry.

(To Be Continued)

ROCHESTER BAKERS IN FIGHT ON WARD AGAINST OPEN SHOP

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Aug. 14.—When the Ward Bros., Inc., bakery refused to renew its agreement with Local 14, Bakery and Confectionery Workers' union, it drove the latter to fight. All union men walked out July 12 and since then made inroads on the strikebreakers. There are 110 bakeries in Rochester that signed with the union. Ward was union for the past 11 years, but since its absorption by the $25,000,000 United Bakeries corporation, which is nonunion nationally, it has had to go open shop likewise. Rochester union bakers are determined to prove that nonunion baking in Rochester is poor business.

PLAY SCURVY TRICK ON CITY EMPLOYEES OF SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14.—Employes of the San Francisco city and county department of electricity were refused raises in pay for which they have been fighting. Instead of refusing them outright, the board of supervisors ordered a few raises to men whom the other employes designate as "political pets," and then announced that no other change in salaries could be made for a year, as the charter prohibits salaries being fixed more than once annually.

TECHNICAL AID SOCIETY MAKES GOOD IN RUSSIA

Helps Rebuild Economic Life of Soviets

NEW YORK, Aug. 14. — Thirty model large scale farms are now operating in Russia as a result of the energy and organizing talent in America of the Society for Technical Aid. A number of industrial co-operative enterprises in Russia have also been established by the society.

Soviets Give Grants.

The Russian government grants the 2,500 to 3,000 acres that comprise a model farm and the society equips them with machinery and mans them with a technical staff recruited in the United States from sympathizers with proper training.

The society has over 50 branches in the United States and Canada. The central bureau is elected at conventions at regular intervals. This bureau organizes the units of experienced agricultural workers for Russia. Each member of the unit contributes a certain amount of money. When a unit has been organized, a delegation proceeds to Russia for selection of the land. These tracts belonged formerly to the aristocracy.

As soon as the first group moves in they clear the ground, plant gardens, introduce cattle, erect new structures and repair old ones, so that in a short time what formerly was a deserted plot becomes a model farm equipped with modern machinery, mills, shops and electricity.

Communal Life.

The communes have schools for children and adults, libraries and social centers. There are theaters, dramatic circles and singing societies.

Since its organization the society has purchased and shipped to the communes in Russia agricultural machinery, tractors, etc., valued at over $5,000,000.

The society's central bureau is at 799 Broadway, Room 402, New York city.

CONSTITUTION SAYS EVERY TURK IS BORN FREE

But Some Turks Are Freer Than Others

ANGORA, Turkey, Aug. 14.—Turkey has adopted a new constitution. Outwardly the break with the old is typified by the choice of Angora, in central Asia Minor, as the nation's capital. The German ambassador has simply reopened the old embassy in Constantinople and represents Germany from there, going over to Angora only on pressing business.

One of the paragraphs of the new constitution guarantees freedom of the press. Everybody may publish what he pleases, and only after publication can laws be invoked making publication punishable.

The paragraph regarding liberty says: "Every Turk is born free and is to live freely. Freedom consists in his being permitted to do everything that will not cause harm to his fellow man. Freedom, a natural right of every man, has its limits in the freedom of his neighbor. The law fixes the limits of this freedom."

No person may be indicted for his opinions. All customs are permitted within public order and decency.

The new Turkey is republican in form. A president, elected for four years, is at the head of the government. With him is associated a council of ministers which can be removed by the national assembly, the supreme legislative body. This national assembly is the only parliamentary body in Turkey, and in it are united both the legislative and executive departments of the government. Deputies are not chosen by or responsible to certain districts, but are all chosen at large and represent the nation.

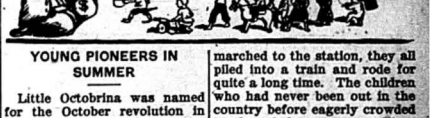
The judiciary is independent of the national assembly. Education is compulsory. The sanctity of mail and telegrams is safeguarded. The president is commander in chief of the military forces of the nation.

Bulgars Fear Communists.

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Aug. 14.—All Communists in government departments are to be ferreted out and discharged the Bulgarian cabinet has decreed. Workers in the railroad, mail, telegraph and telephone services will be particularly sought out. The Bulgar officials claim that they fear Communist activities here.

Fewer Coal Jobs in Indiana.

Indianapolis, Aug. 14.—During the first half of the fiscal year there were 23,861 miners on the payrolls of Indiana mines, according to the report of chief mine inspector C. Littlejohn. Wages totaled $20,922,231, indicating per capita earnings of $880. The average number employed in the preceding year was 31,189. Unemployment is increasing.



YOUNG PIONEERS IN SUMMER

Little Octobrina was named for the October revolution in Russia. The workers and people from the farms took the government for themselves then. They made their own rule of the Soviets.

Octobrina is a Young Pioneer. In winter she lives in a beautiful big home in Moscow. Once this was the home of a rich nobleman who used to beat the poor people who had to work for him.

One day in early June, Octobrina and all the other Young Pioneers were told that in a few days they would all go to the country for the summer. Octobrina jumped up and down and clapped her hands and then ran off to help tidy up the big room in which she and about six other children slept. She helped one of the bigger girls make the beds. She was only eight, and not very tall, but she knew how to smooth out the covers neatly.

For the next few days the Young Pioneers in this home were all talking about going to the country. Some of them had never been out of the city before. Some of them didn't know what it would be like at all.

The children who knew what a farm was like made little clay models for the other children to see. They made little houses and then trees and put cows and horses and a few tiny clay chickens into the yard in front of the house.

On the day the children were to leave, each packed his little kit of clothing. After they marched to the station, they all piled into a train and rode for quite a long time. The children who had never been out in the country before eagerly crowded to the windows to see. First, they noticed that the houses were farther and farther apart.

Then one child cried out at a broad field that had a lot of green grass growing knee-high. One little Pioneer shouted when she saw a fat pig running into the door of a little house.

When the children got to the station a big wagon with a shaggy-hoofed horse met them and they scrambled into it. They went to a woods where there were more trees than most of them had ever seen before. There was a little stream of water where they could go wading.

The Young Pioneers stayed all summer long in the woods. Octobrina and the rest of them got rosy cheeks and tanned skins. They used to help the peasants in the nearby farms.

The peasants' children told them how in the old days before the revolution they had to wear such rags. They never had enough to eat altho they often helped their fathers work in the fields to raise grain and vegetables for the rich nobleman who owned the land.

The peasants' children told Octobrina that now everybody owned the land and nobody could take it away from anyone else. They were very happy and said that they had learned to read and write, and that their fathers and mothers had just learned to read, too, since the nobleman who made them work before never let their parents learn reading and writing.

...mmunists Of ...issouri Start The Campaign

Louis Workers Rally ...round Foster-Gitlow

By HARRY GOLDBERG.
(Special to The Daily Worker)
ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 14.—"For a ...kers' and Farmers' Government," the slogan used by the Workers ... here at two great open air ...onstrations.

...ese meetings were held as a ...t of the special organization com... be elected in St. Louis less than ...days ago to carry on effective ...ng class propaganda in Missouri. ...rk for W. P. Candidates 100 Pct.

...mer McMillan, one of the Michi...defendants, and also a candidate ...lieutenant-governor in Missouri ...he Workers Party ticket, spoke. ...illan called upon all the working ...and women in St. Louis to rally ...d the Workers Party candidates ...support William Z. Foster, for ...ident, and Benjamin Gitlow, for ...president. Also to get behind ...Mihelic, of Kansas City, another ...ign defendant, running for gov... of Missouri, and work for him ...hundred per cent.

...rry Stoltz, Workers Party candi...for congress in the 11th district, ...ged the need of the working class ...erica to vote for the candidates ...e only working class party, the ...ers Party, and throw their entire ...rt to Foster and Gitlow.

...P. of Missouri Endorses W. P. Candidates.

...m Braun, candidate for congress ...e 10th District, urged the workers ...low the leadership of the Trade ...d Educational League. He also ...e about the DAILY WORKER and ...party literature.

...W. Adams, vice-president of the ...inist's Union, Local No. 4, and ...dent of the Missouri State Farm... Labor Party, told of the endorse... of the Workers Party candidates ...e executive committee of the ...er-Labor Party of Missouri.

...warned the workers not to be ...d by LaFollette's promises. "If ...re workers, support the Work... Party, the only party in this coun... that fights for you and you only." ...ber McMillan said that these ...gs were the beginning of a ...thout Missouri to establish the ...rk Party definitely on the po... field.

...e local comrades were elated ...r the success of these two meet... and inspired to continue until ...bring this campaign to a success... loss by increasing our member... and getting our literature to the ...le of Missouri. At both meet... DAILY WORKERS and LABOR ...ALDS were sold.

...xicans Demand Expulsion of U. S. Labor Mistreaters

(By Federated Press.)

...XICO CITY, Aug. 14.—More than ... workers of the Huasteca (Do... Petroleum company are raising ...test against the directors of that ...any, who are maltreating Mexi... in their employ. The employes ...king the government to expel ...directors from Mexico.

Foster Speaks in Ohio.

...LARD, Ohio, Aug. 14.—Wm. Z. ..., leader of the great steel strike ...candidate for president, will ...at the International Picnic and ...Meeting at Avon Park, Girard, ...Sunday, August 17, at 2 p. m. ...re will be an evening meeting ...Ukrainian Hall, 525½ W. Rayen ...e, Youngstown, Ohio.

...arty Activities Of Local Chicago

OPEN AIR MEETINGS.

...Friday, August 15.—...Louis and Roosevelt Road—D. E. ...ymour, Jungleon, Parker Branch ...Ave. and Rockwell St.—Auspices, ...L. Speaker, C. Miller.

...Sunday, August 17.—Sacramento ... and Sawyer Aves., North—... Speaker, Ind. Labor Party. ...W. P. and Y. W. L. branches.

...Saturday, August 16.

...Ashland and Division—Speaker, D. E. ...and Polish speaker. Auspices, ...W. P. Branch.

...Grand and Sherman (near Halsted ...Blue Island)— Speaker, Manuel ...and Greek speaker. Auspices, ...W. P. Branch.

...Division and Washtenaw—Speakers, ...Auspices, Northwest Jew... W. P. Branch.

...Milwaukee and Michigan Ave., Pullman—... Pullman W. C. C. C. C.

CRANCH MEETINGS.

...Friday, August 15.

...Humboldt Park, Sec. Chicago—641 East ...

...Party Class—1902 W. Division St. ...ish Branch—1459 Thomas St. ...Bohemian-Slovak, Hanson Pk.—Bohemian ... Schoolhouse, Roscoe, Mansfield ...near Grand.

...d in that Subscription Today.

APARTMENT FOR RENT.

...e wanted (comrades) to share ...om apartment. Latest improve... Rts. 2733 Seminary Ave. Lake ...w 0952.

FURNISHED ROOM WANTED.

...e room for man. Northside pre... ...ed. Quiet. The Daily Worker, ...B.A.

The World of Labor — Industry & Agriculture

SOVIET PAPERS TELL EUROPE'S WAR WRECKAGE

Workers Greatest of War Sufferers

BY ANISE.
(Federated Press Staff Correspondent.)

MOSCOW, Aug. 14.—Russian papers are full of statistics and articles on the anniversary of the world war, showing the havoc which it wrought in Europe. Industry throout Europe has fallen off markedly, instead of the normal increase which in the past has followed decade after decade.

Only basic agricultural production remains the same, for men must eat. But Europe no longer eats as she once did, for she can no longer import from abroad.

Eat Less.

The consumption of bread in the main countries of Europe, England, Germany, France, Italy, Austria, Hungary, both victorious and conquered lands, fell from 1,035 pounds per person per year to 616 pounds. In other words the men and women and children of Europe are eating only 77 per cent as much bread as they used to. The amount of butter they get has fallen to 75 per cent; and the amount of sugar to 72 per cent.

They wear less clothes than before. The consumption of cotton cloth went down 40 per cent in Germany and 35 per cent in England. The planting of the raw materials fell off in hemp by 57 per cent, in flax by 58 per cent, in cotton by 90 per cent. The production of coal in Europe went down to three-fourths of what it was before the war, and of oil to two-thirds of pre-war production.

3,000,000 Jobless.

Thus the basic life of Europe shows the wreck caused by war. And when we add that at the beginning of 1922 there were 3,000,000 unemployed in Europe we see also a little of the human side of this ruin.

Cure By Air Mail.

ROCKFORD, Ill., Aug. 14.—U. S. Air Mail may have saved the life of Ray Pearce, head of the parts department of a local auto agency, who lies stricken with spinal meningitis.

When Pearce's sickness was diagnosed, local physicians in charge of his case at Rockford Hospital learned they could not obtain meningitis anti-toxin serum this side of Philadelphia.

A request was flashed to that city to have the medicine put aboard an air mail plane bound for Chicago and a high powered auto stationed in the latter city to speed the serum to Rockford.

VISIONS OF HUGE PROFITS GET GUN-MAKING STEEL MILL OWNERS TO SUPPORT MOBILIZATION DAY

By LELAND OLDS
(Federated Press Industrial Editor)

Visions of a return of the huge war profits which left the people of the world permanently in debt to the great steel magnates are dancing in the heads of members of the Iron and Steel institute. This is revealed by a statement of Judge Gary urging the public to give full support to Mobilization day. He states that the directors of the institute pledged their active efforts and offers the fact that he and Schwab are assisting government representatives as evidence of the determination of the steel industry to carry out its pledge.

Gary made a special point of importance of guns, which he and his fellow steel makers are ready to produce in huge quantities, for a consideration.

Some Melons!

A glance at the history of U. S. Steel profits during the last period of preparedness and war will explain Gary's strong feeling in the matter. This is shown in the table which contains the gross income, manufacturing profits and net profit available for stock security holders during the three pre-war years 1910 to 1913 and the three years 1916 and 1918 inclusive:

Gross income—1910-1913,	$2,157,548,654;
1916-1918,	$4,859,742,494; increase, 118 per cent.
Manufacturing profit—1910-1913,	$464,636,681;
1916-1918,	$1,658,490,003; increase, 256 per cent.
Net for owners—1910-1913,	$349,661,461;
1916-1918,	$816,002,037; increase, 133 per cent.

War and Peace.

It appears that the war, with its enormous demand for munitions, gave these great steel makers manufacturing profits more than three and a half times those of the period of peace. All sorts of accounting reductions were made to conceal the magnitude of the profits, but in spite of this they appear to be more than twice as large as those of the pre-war period. After the payment of all dividends and interest undivided profits increased from $135,304,472 in 1914 to $523,454,891 in 1920, and cash and securities in the treasury from $79,780,380 to $325,313,733.

The exorbitant war profits of the steel corporation were graphically pictured in a sharp memorandum from former Controller of the Treasury John Skelton Williams to the director general of the railroads. Analyzing the 1918 report of the company, he said:

Could Afford Better Wages.

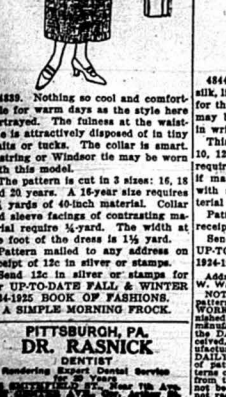
"The foregoing figures show that the net earnings made for the year 1918, after deducting regular taxes and about $100,000,000 for maintenance, amounted to $549,180,000. These earnings were so large that the company could during 1918 have doubled the salaries and wages paid to every one of its 268,710 employes and officers, amounting to $452,663,000, and would have had a surplus left over of $96,517,000."

Gary's Mouth Waters.

Steel orders today have shrunk to the lowest point in years and continue to shrink, the operations have been reduced to 50 per cent capacity. It is not surprising that Gary's mouth should water for war profits.

OUR DAILY PATTERNS

A SIMPLE SUMMER FROCK.



4839. Nothing so cool and comfortable for warm days as the style here portrayed. The fulness at the waistline is attractively disposed of in tiny plaits or tucks. The collar is smart. A string or Windsor tie may be worn with this model.

The pattern is cut in 3 sizes: 16, 18 and 20 years. A 16-year size requires 3¼ yards of 40-inch material. Collar and sleeve facings of contrasting material require ¼-yard. The width at the foot of the dress is 1½ yard.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in silver or stamps.

Send 12c in silver or stamps for our UP-TO-DATE FALL AND WINTER 1924-1925 BOOK OF FASHIONS.

A PRETTY FROCK FOR MOTHER'S GIRL.

4844. Embroidered voile, figured silk, linen or crepe would be attractive for this model. The panel on the back may be omitted. The sleeve may be in wrist, or in elbow length.

This pattern is cut in 4 sizes: 8, 10, 12 and 14. years. A 12-year size requires 3¼ yards of 40-inch material if made with long sleeves. If made with short sleeves ⅝ yard less material will be required.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in silver or stamps.

Send 12c in silver or stamps for our UP-TO-DATE FALL AND WINTER 1924-1925 BOOK OF FASHIONS.

Address: The DAILY WORKER, 1113 W. Washington Blvd., Chicago, Ill.

NOTICE TO PATTERN BUYERS—The patterns being sold thru the DAILY WORKER pattern department are furnished by a New York firm of pattern manufacturers. Orders are forwarded by the DAILY WORKER every day as received, and they are mailed by the manufacturing firm to the customer. The DAILY WORKER does not keep a stock of patterns on hand. Delivery of patterns ordinarily will take at least 10 days from the date of mailing the order. Do not become impatient if your pattern is not received by return mail.

PITTSBURGH, PA.
DR. RASNICK
DENTIST
Rendering Expert Dental Service
For 20 Years

MAC DONALD'S REGIME DENIES ENTRANCE TO GERMAN COMMUNIST

(Special to the DAILY WORKER)

BERLIN, Aug. 2—(By Mail).—The Labor government of England refused admission to the country to Comrade Stoecker, Communist deputy in the German reichstag. Comrade Stoecker had been delegated by the Communist fraction in the reichstag to visit London for the purpose of studying the political and economic conditions in England and to participate in the anti-war campaign of the English Communist Party. The Communist fraction in the reichstag has sent a telegraphic protest to MacDonald and to the Central Executive Committee of the English Communist Party.

RULE EVICTIONS ARE LAWFUL IN WEST VIRGINIA

Violence is Frowned on, But It Means Nothing

(By The Federated Press)

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Aug. 14.—Delicate distinctions as to where violence begins and peaceful evictions end are evidently to be left to the company gunmen that are throwing striking miners out of company houses. Protests at the forcible evictions of miners and their families in Putney, Plymouth and other West Virginia mining towns are reaching Gov. Morgan from the miners' district union, from Intl. Pres. Lewis of the miners, from the American Federation of Labor and from other bodies of citizens outside the state.

May Evict Without Warrant

The state supreme court has ruled that evictions without a court order are legal provided the evictions are not accompanied by violence. Atty. Gen. England added his weight to the supreme court decision.

Workers' Testimony No Good.

The joker in the rulings is that West Virginia courts usually decide in favor of the coal companies on issues of fact. The company will have its gunmen testify that they used no violence in evicting miners' families. Testimony by miners that the evictions were forcible will be ignored.

Northwest States May Get Oil War With Philippines

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—A trade war between the Philippines and the Pacific dairy states of this country is an immediate probability unless certain of the dairy states lift their boycott on coconut oil from the islands, Leon M. Gonzales, Philippine government commercial agent in New York, announces.

The island government is considering a retaliatory boycott against products of Oregon and Washington, he says. The butter manufacturers of these states, he adds, "have succeeded in passing laws prohibiting the sale of margarines containing vegetable fats, and are sending speakers thruout these states and waging elaborate propaganda forcetting voters to support these anti-margarine laws at a referendum in November."

The proposed Philippine boycott would be aimed at imports from Oregon and Washington, which amounted to over six and a half million dollars last year. Gonzales calls coconut oil the most important item in the Philippine export trade.

Send in that Subscription Today.

BRITISH WAGES RECOVER PART OF 1922 LOSSES

Miners' Rates Show Most Gains

The downward trend of British wages has been halted. According to U. S. Trade Commissioner H. D. Butler of London, "changes in weekly rates of wages reported by employers and work people show that the long period of post war step by step reduction in wages came to a close by the end of 1923 and increases have been the rule since."

In 1922, according to Butler's figures, wage changes meant a net loss of about $18,150,000 a week in the pay of British wage earners. This was followed by an additional loss amounting to about $1,237,000 a week in 1923. But by the last 6 months of 1923 wage increases and decreases came pretty close to striking an even balance. During the first 5 months of 1924 increases totaled about $2,135,000 a week while decreases fell to about $187,500, leaving a favorbale balance of nearly $2,000,000 for the workers.

The table shows for important industries the net loss in weekly wages in 1922 and 1923 and the net gains of the first 6 months of 1924. Figures are dollars estimated on the basis of the current exchange rates.

Changes in weekly wages—	Decrease 1922-1923 Jan.-May, '24	Increases
Mining and quarrying	$2,181,000	$1,283,000
Brick, pottery, glass, etc.	689,000	40,000
Iron and steel	1,039,000	15,300
Engineering, shipbuilding	5,250,000	59,500
Other metal	936,000	32,600
Textile	1,830,000	2,500*
Clothing	1,003,000	5,200*
Food, drink, tobacco	472,000	15,300
Building and allied trades	1,982,000	213,000
Transport	2,655,000	203,000
Woodworking	353,000	28,100

*—Decrease

These figures are based on full-time wages and do not deal with short-time working. They show that wage earners in the majority of industries have made little progress in recouping the losses of deflation. The miners are responsible for the bulk of the net increase in 1924, with the building trades and transport workers also showing appreciable gains. The advances in the case of transport workers resulted mainly from arrangements following the locomotive engineers' strike early in 1924.

COMMUNISTS GET LONG SENTENCES IN GERMAN COURT

KONIGSBERG, Germany, Aug. 14.—Unusually heavy sentences were imposed here upon local Communists for alleged sedition. Altho the court held that none of the men involved acted out of impure motives, they were sent to prison for 2 to 7 years.

The charge was that they planned by September 1923 to overthrow the government forcibly, and to erect a workers' and peasants' government on the Russian model in its place.

No uprising occurred in Eastern Prussia. Yet the court meted out punishment which, in comparison to that given to Hitler and his associates in Bavaria for actually starting an uprising, is a travesty upon German justice.

The verdict contrasts strangely with the verdict of not guilty pronounced by the Bavarian judges on Ludendorff, who was the backbone of the whole nationalist uprising of Nov. 9, 1923.

Russo-Persian Sugar Agreement.

MOSCOW, Aug. 14.—In connection with the establishment of the "Russ-perakhar" (Russo-Persian Sugar Trade Co., Ltd.) the question has been raised of granting the new company the right to export sugar to the east and also of prohibiting the transit thru the U. S. S. R. of foreign sugar.

EXPECT DECISION ON APPEAL OF ARTHUR BERG'S SENTENCE; CONVICTED ON FLIMSY GROUND

(By Defense News Service.)

McALESTER, Okla., Aug. 14.—Friends of Arthur Berg, who is serving a prison term under the state criminal syndicalism law solely because of being an I. W. W. member, are expecting any day to hear that the District Court of Appeals has handed down a decision on an appeal filed by Berg's attorney, John J. Carney of Oklahoma City.

This appeal was filed several months ago. Berg was sentenced to serve ten years and to pay a fine of $5,000. Inasmuch as Berg is in the thirties, this amounts practically to a life sentence, considering that for want of funds it would require 13 years for the defendant to work out his fine at the rate of $1 a day; and men die early in prisons.

Peculiar circumstances surrounded Berg's conviction. There was no evidence that he had ever committed any act of criminal syndicalism, sabotage, nor any offense against law and order.

Arrested Without Warrant.

Berg was arrested in Halleyville, 20 miles southeast of here, by a Rock Island Railway employe. He was put into jail without a warrant. Later he was taken before a justice of the peace and was fined and sentenced to the county jail for alleged vagrancy. He had been in Halleyville less than an hour before being arrested, and had intended, he declared, to leave town on the next train, due to go in 15 minutes. He was obviously not a vagrant, since he was employed by the Oil Workers Industrial Union at a regular wage as a traveling delegate, and had money in his pocket sufficient to meet all personal needs.

After Berg had served 30 days under the vagrancy conviction he was taken from the jail here, haled before District Judge Brewster, and accused of sabotage and criminal syndicalism. He pleaded not guilty. The specific offense charged against him was that he had distributed I. W. W. literature. Whether or not actually not a violation of law, the defense contends, inasmuch as none of that literature advocated any unlawful act.

Prosecutor Got Delirious.

But the prosecutor made a great ado before the jury about all the literature, reading lessons from it in awe-inspiring tones. Even then there was no evidence that Berg had handed any of the I. W. W. papers or pamphlets to anybody, and the prosecutor had to strain a point to produce "evidence" that the defendant had been seeking outsiders know about the I. W. W. He did it in this way:

Following Berg's arrest he was taken to a restaurant for a meal. The restaurant keeper asked to see the papers which the prisoner had been carrying, and the literature was handed to him by the officer who had Berg in charge. The restaurant owner and his brother examined the literature, and this inspection of I. W. W. documents by outsiders was the technical basis for the charge on which Berg received his stupendous sentence.

Berg maintains that he has committed no crime, and that he had full right to circulate all I. W. W. literature in his possession. He declares that this literature dealt only with facts, that it did not advocate any criminal act, and that the I. W. W. newspapers enjoy second-class mailing privileges from the postoffice department. He contends that Judge Brewster manifested prejudice against the I. W. W. in a speech made immediately following the verdict.

The Homer Wear Case.

Attorney Carney is also pressing an appeal in behalf of Homer Wear, delegate for the Metal Mine Workers' Union of the I. W. W., who was convicted at Miami last autumn under similar circumstances. Originally sentenced to serve 30 days for "vagrancy," he was tried under the state criminal syndicalism law, and was sent to prison to serve from one to ten years. For a month after his arrest on the vagrancy charge, Wear was held incommunicado. Even registered mail from the general defense committee of Chicago was denied him and was returned. For more than 30 days he was not permitted to consult his attorney.

Prejudiced Juror Seated.

At Wear's trial, one talesman named Ball admitted that he believed the I. W. W. was unlawful, explaining that he had gained that impression from hearsay. But he asserted that he was "not prejudiced," and the court overruled the objection of the defense and permitted Ball to serve as a juror.

Wear was arrested at Quapaw, ten miles from Miami, in the northeastern corner of the state. His trunk, which contained I. W. W. literature, was seized without any search warrant, and a department of justice agent was allowed to have free access to it in advance of Wear's trial. At the trial the authorities introduced a crudely typewritten screed counseling destruction of property. Wear denied that he had ever seen that piece of paper before, and declared that somebody must have planted it in his trunk. There was no evidence to show that he had written it, nor that he had ever advocated any unlawful action.

AMSTERDAM LEADERS MOVE TO SPLIT UP UNION IN BELGIUM

(Special to The Daily Worker)

BRUSSELS, Aug. 2—(By Mail).—At the national convention of the Retail Clerks' Union of Belgium, the vice chairman of the Amsterdam International submitted a motion to remove the Communists from responsible positions in the union. The motion was accepted by an insignificant majority. As a result of this decision Comrades Von de Plas and Jacquemotte, secretary of the national organization and secretary of the Brussels branch of the organization, respectively, will have to resign from their positions.

Your Union Meeting

Third Friday, Aug. 15, 1924.

No.	Name of Local and Place of Meeting
237	Bakers and Conf., 3420 W. Roosevelt.
8	Bookbinders, 175 W. Washington St., 8 p. m.
29	Broom Makers, 810 W. Harrison St. Building Trades Council, 180 W. Washington.
	Carpenters' Dis. Council, 505 S. State St.
2206	Carpenters, 4339 S. Halsted St.
9	Electricians, 2901 W. Monroe St.
214	Electricians, 4141 W. Lake St.
779	Electricians, R. R., 3824 S. Halsted St.
84	Glass Workers, Emily and Marshfield.
13013	Gold Beaters, 3056 N. Leavitt St.
225	Ice Carriers, Monroe and Peoria Sts.
	Ladies' Garment Workers, Joint Board, 328 W. Van Buren St.
83	Machinists, 113 S. Ashland Blvd.
113	Machinists, 113 S. Ashland Blvd.
175	Metal Polishers, 32 E. 11th St.
273	Painters, 2345 So. Kedzie Ave.
637	Painters, School and Sheffield Ave.
858	Painters, 3140 Indiana Ave.
	Pattern Makers, 119 S. Throop St.
512	Plumbers, 9251 S. Chicago Ave.
376	Railway Carmen, Village Hall, Kolze, Ill.
998	Railway Carmen, 5445 S. Ashland Ave.
328	Railway Clerks, 20 W. Randolph St.
421	Railway Clerks, 19 W. Randolph St.
679	Railway Clerks, 9 E. Clinton St.
4	Railroad Trainmen, 1304 E. 95th St.
119	Railroad Trainmen, 3349 North Ave.
198	Railroad Trainmen, 9120 Commercial Ave.
367	Sheet Metal Workers, Ashland and Van Buren.
	South Chicago Trades and Labor Assembly, 9139 Commercial Ave.
2	Stage Hands, 412 Capitol Bldg.
12	Stove Mounters, 3609 Wolfram Ave.
88	Teachers (Women), Women's City Club Rooms, 4130 p. m.
	Telegraphers (Com.) 312 S. Clark St.
484	Waitresses, 19 W. Adams St., 3 p. m.
	Women's Union Label League 220 W. Ashland Blvd.

(Note—Unless otherwise stated all meetings are at 8 p. m.)

ANY KIND
FOR INSURANCE OF
CARL BRODSKY
1123 Broadway, New York City
Tel. Watkins 3626.

MICHIGAN MILL SLAVES WORKED A 17-HOUR DAY

Strikers Appeal to the Workers Party

By EDW. A. KOSTEN.
(Special to The Daily Worker)

FILER CITY, Mich., Aug. 14.—Once again the workers of Michigan feel the sting of a capitalist government. This time the workers of Filer City are learning something of court justice in time of labor trouble.

During the later part of June and the early part of July the workers employed by the local paper mill organized Local Union No. 135 of the International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers. The company at once began to discriminate against union men and eleven were discharged, two of whom were women workers. The employes of this mill work as many as 16 and 17 hours per day.

Attack Strikers.

On July 16th the mill was struck and immediately the wheels of justice began to grind. Several of the strikers were assaulted by an office employe, Biggie by name. One was shoved off the office porch and when going down was kicked down the stairs. This assault was committed when the men asked for their pay checks.

A warrant for the arrest of Biggie was requested but none was issued. One of the strike breakers imported by the company was grabbed by the coat collar and given a good shaking and as usual the striker was immediately arrested and fined including court costs.

The strikers are standing firm and request other workers to help them keep strike breakers from going to work.

Scientific Motherhood.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14.—Mrs. Anne Kennedy, secretary American Birth Control league, is in San Francisco in the interests of the international birth control conference to be held in New York next March. "Motherhood," says Mrs. Kennedy, "instead of being a blind and haphazard consequence of consciousness instinct, should be made the responsible and self-directed means of human expression and regeneration.

WM. Z. FOSTER
What do you know about him?
When speaking to your neighbors, friends and shopmates and urging them to support and vote for William Z. Foster, the working class candidate for president, at the coming election, you will have to tell them what Foster has done for the labor movement. For this we recommend Foster's book
"THE GREAT STEEL STRIKE AND ITS LESSONS"
The story of the steel workers fight for organization and recognition, led by William Z. Foster.
AN AUTHOGRAPHED COPY of this wonderful story sent to any address for $1.00
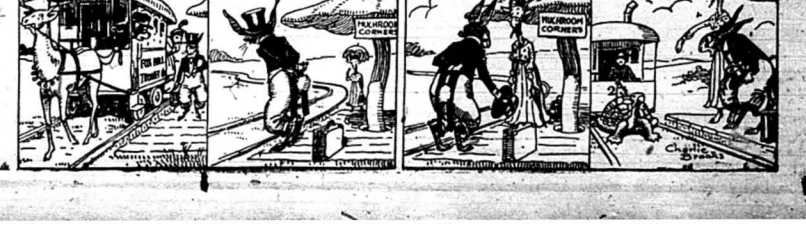
Regular price of this book is $1.75. Order at once, while the supply lasts! Remember: AN AUTHOGRAPHED COPY.
Literature Department,
Workers Party of America
1113 W. Washington Blvd.,
Chicago, Ill.

MURINE
For Your Eyes
Night and Morning to keep them Clean, Clear and Healthy
Write for Free "Eye Care" or "Eye Beauty" Book
Murine Co., Dept. H. S., 9 E. Ohio St., Chicago

UNCLE WIGGILY'S TRICKS

A LAUGH FOR THE CHILDREN



THE DAILY WORKER

Published by the DAILY WORKER PUBLISHING CO.
1113 W. Washington Blvd., Chicago, Ill.
(Phone: Monroe 4712)

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

By mail:
$6.00 per year	$3.50...6 months	$2.00...3 months
By mail (in Chicago only):
$6.00 per year	$4.50...6 months	$2.50...3 months

Address all mail and make out checks to
THE DAILY WORKER
1113 W. Washington Blvd. Chicago, Illinois

J. LOUIS ENGDAHL, WILLIAM F. DUNNE } Editors
MORITZ J. LOEB Business Manager

Entered as second-class mail Sept. 21, 1923 at the Post-Office at Chicago, Ill., under the act of March 3, 1879.

Advertising rates on application.

The Small-LaFollette Ticket

Typical of what the LaFollette movement means to the movement for indepedent political action of the workers is the action of the Illinois Federation of Labor executive committee in endorsing LaFollette for president and Len Small for governor. Accompanying this joint endorsement goes a statement against any new party organization. The Illinois labor movement is definitely thrown back into the old parties.

It has been no secret that Walker and Olander were tied up in the Small state machine for a long time. Last year at the State Federation convention in Decatur it was charged that Small had purchased the support of the official machine, which should include the destruction of the Farmer-Labor Party. It was not denied even then, altho it had to be kept quiet that the rank and file might first be doped. The labor officials must have been delighted to purchase the help of LaFollette in re-electing the notorious Small.

On the other hand we get a picture of the real LaFollette in this unsavory deal. Every possible kind of alliance, inside and outside of republican and democratic parties, upon any and every kind of conditions just so mutual support by votes is included, marks the LaFollette campaign from the beginning. Every reactionary influence in the labor movement is being strengthened and all semblance of independent organization on the political field (outside of the Workers Party, which alone broke thru the net of LaFollettеism), is being wiped out. The Small-LaFollette ticket in Illinois is a symbol of the betrayal of the labor movement.

Hughes Discouraged

The State Department has once more reaffirmed its attitude towards Soviet Russian recognition. We are again told that not until the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics agrees to pay the two hundred odd million dollars given to the Kerensky government by Washington, will the United States accord them de jure recognition.

No one who has followed closely the development of Soviet Russia's foreign policies can but take with a grain of salt this pretense of the Coolidge administration. America is today the bulwark of capitalist imperialism. It is natural that this national group of exploiters should, therefore, be the bitter enders in the imperialist effort to undermine the existence of the Soviet Republic. Politically and economically, the American ruling class is today best equipped to fight back the advance of the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics.

When the State Department whines about "enmity to our institutions," it does not express a genuine fear over the "destructive" activities of the Soviet government when recognized. What Coolidge, Hughes, and Gompers really fear from Soviet recognition is that resumption of normal relations between the two governments will inevitably destroy the net of malicious lies woven by these and other enemies of the workers against the Soviet Republics. Recognition of Soviet Russia would hasten the collapse of such methods as Gompers has employed against those workers who have insisted that the employers be resisted in their aggressive campaigns by effective up-to-date methods of organization.

The announcement of the State Department that the developments in Soviet Russia are "encouraging" is indeed mirth-inciting. Our bewhiskered diplomatic savant is, in this declaration, simply confessing the total failure of his attempt to isolate the Soviet government. In the Atlantic, the present battleground of international imperialism, America's chief competitor, Great Britain, has just signed a treaty with the Soviet Republics. In the Pacific, the battle arena of the gigantic imperialist struggles of tomorrow, Japan, America's strongest opponent, is about to sign a treaty of amity with Soviet Russia. And in Soviet Russia proper the Pacific, the battle arena of the gigantic imperialist power they may have succeeded in developing for themselves.

Events in Soviet Russia are encouraging. The Yankee imperialists are facing painful disappointment in their anti-Soviet policy. The American workers must continue to work unceasingly for Soviet recognition in order to hasten this disappointment of their enemies.

Alienists are accommodating gentlemen. It seems that they usually find what is needed by those who sign their pay checks. In the Leopold-Loeb case, the defense alienists find that when the young killers dreamed of anything in particular, it was an indication that some of their glands were out of kilter. Alienists for the prosecution, on the other hand testified that even judges have phantasies. In fact they would not be normal unless they had. So there you are.

The Suspense Is Ended

At last the terrible suspense in which the country has been held for six weeks is ended! At last the burden of uncertainty and doubt that wore down our spirits has been lifted! The mists of apprehension that Coolidge might refuse the nomination have lifted! He accepts! Glory Hallelujah!

That is the kind of fiction upon which the political structure of the bourgeois parties is built. The ritualistic "notification" of Coolidge that he has been nominated by the republican department of Wall Street, and his "acceptance" of the call to the service of capitalism, characterizes the whole nature of the politics of exploitation. It is all a great game of dissimulation and deceit, directed against the masses and in the interests of a privileged class, of which the mummery of last night in Washington is a part.

Bourgeois parties, the parties of sections of the exploiting class, must have these shows, fictions, rituals. They must put on robes, make parades, burn red fire, hang bunting, spout buncombe, "notify" one another about things everyone knows, and generally make much ado about nothing. Because the whole function of these parties is to put as heavy a cloak as possible about the real issues facing the workers, they must therefore make a loud noise, and put on diverting spectacles, and fill ears and eyes and minds with all the non-essential trash that is calculated to keep the workers from thinking. So Coolidge "accepts," and the radio sends the "news" to the palpitating fools who swallow the dope, while the real masters of the land gather in their clubs and smile cynically at how easy it is to rule a land of 100,000,000 people.

LaFollette on the Gridiron

While the donkey and elephant caretakers, Coolidge and Davis, will vie with each other in a contest as to who can convince the country first, that he is the least crooked, the Communists will be waging a fundamentally different campaign.

There are today before the workers and poor farmers of this country, four leading candidates. First of all are the big three—the biggest, big, and little—watch dogs of capitalism, Coolidge, Davis, and LaFollette. While Davis will be talking about oil and alcohol scandals, Coolidge will be yelling about war frauds and airplane scandals. And while Davis and Coolidge will be convincing the country that the democratic and republican parties are both originally agencies of corruption, LaFollette will be working overtime painting himself lily white and annointing himself for the role of a Messiah to purge capitalism of its conditions inherently making for such corruption.

The Communists realize that this is not the first time that attempts are being made to purify capitalism. This is not the first time that an effort is being made to shower upon the workers the blessings of "honest" profits and "legitimate" business. But today LaFollette is making such an extraordinary volume of purification noise that the workers and poor farmers at whom this outburst of morality is primarily aimed must be cautioned against its uselessness.

It is for this reason that the DAILY WORKER, as the organ of the Communists, is now supplying its readers with an analysis of the real meaning, the actual accomplishments, the economic effects and the political dangers of the LaFollette illusion. The case against LaFollette's getting the support of the working and farming masses is unassailable. Mr. LaFollette, as our examination of his record shows, is a most dangerous stumbling block in the path of the workers freeing themselves from their exploiters. There is no need of, and little use in sticking labels on an opponent. In the case of Mr. LaFollette, especially, the outstanding facts and deeds of his public life condemn his capacity to challenge effectively the employing class dictatorship today parading as democracy.

Our readers will find the LaFollette series timely informative. Mr. LaFollette on the Communist gridiron is certainly a different type from the saintly liberator he poses to be in seeking the workers' votes. Every working man will do himself a good turn by reading our idol-shattering stories.

Another perfectly agreeable king may be minus a job one of those days if reports coming from Spain are authentic. It appears that the army in Morocco is about tired of getting chased around by the Moors and wants a vacation. This the Spanish dictator de Rivera refuses and as soon as the troops can get ship to Spain it is possible King Alfonso and his dictator may take a railroad journey if they still keep their heads.

A pastor-soldier, addressing a meeting of Rotarians, denounced the Communists for being responsible for the anti-war sentiment that is spreading thruout the country. He pleaded with the Rotarians to "come out on Defense Test Day and work your fool heads off." The Rotarians applauded.

That the police and employers of Hegewisch should expel the reporter for the DAILY WORKER from that town is another tribute to the effectiveness of a working class daily in the fight for better conditions.

While Lord Rothermere of Britain is urging the loyalists of the nation to join the British Fascisti, Ramsay MacDonald is talking class peace and sending airplanes to drop christian socialist bombs on Indian villages.

A new member for the Workers Party is a new recruit to the revolutionary army. Become a recruiting sergeant for Communism.

Where Are the Federation Officials?

By J. W. JOHNSTONE,
Asst. Secy., Trade Union Educational League.

IT WOULD take a mental acrobat to follow the recent antics of the leaders of the Chicago Federation and the Illinois State Federation of Labor in the election campaign, state and national. Since the elimination of John Fitzpatrick as a leading factor, the Chicago Federation has come under the complete domination of Oscar Nelson, the democratic politician, and Victor Olander, secretary-treasurer of the Illinois State Federation of Labor, both ardent advocates of class collaboration, and avowed enemies of independent working class political action. Their duty seems to be to keep the Chicago Federation good, in the Gompersian sense, while Johnny Walker, with the aid of such reactionaries as Frank Farrington, is supposed to perform the same duties in the state labor movement. Their present maneuvers are all with an eye to the approaching State Federation convention, on Sept. 8, at Peoria.

Nelson, Olander and Walker make a good team. Trained in the school of corrupt politics, having no interest in the workers as a class, they naturally use the movement for their own advancement. Whichever road they decide to travel depends upon which way the political wind is blowing. After they have decided to travel with a certain political group, then their program and arguments are shaped accordingly.

Governor Small four years ago was a political crook; he represented everything that labor should fight. That was the story told to the workers by these political adventurers when Walker aspired to be governor of Illinois. Now labor is led to believe that the picture was wrong, or maybe Small has turned over a new leaf. They are discreetly silent on their word pictures of four years ago, but just as loud in their praise of Small as they were in their condemnation of him a short time ago.

The political wind in Illinois has settled in a given direction, at least sufficient for this troupe to commit organised labor openly to one of the presidential candidates. From the fact that they have opened headquarters with LaFollette, it can be taken for granted that LaFollette has arrived at some arrangement with Len Small. Evidently the political opportunist, his progressiveness will lead him to support Len Small's corrupt republican machine. His announcement of being neutral is to appease the supporters of Newton Jenkins, and to save his face if by chance Small would be convicted on the charge of stealing state funds.

These loud speakers carefully avoid even mention that there is a class struggle. Olander's report on the platoon system in the public schools of Chicago, both written and verbal, is a masterpiece of evasiveness. The platoon system is of such a class nature, it is so obvious an attempt to turn out the working class children as future slaves, that it would impossible to avoid mentioning the class interests involved. Olander, however, appeased his class-collaboration conscience by eliminating the "working class" and injecting the word "caste," and objecting vociferously to the importation of the Indian caste system into American life. The recommendation in the report carefully avoided the strengthening of the teachers' councils, because this would mean the indorsement of workers' control.

While these petty bourgeois labor leaders are busy trading with the enemies of organized labor, preparing their machine so as to cinch their control over the Illinois labor movement, the workers are deserted in their every day struggles. The Pullman and the Hegewisch strike mean nothing to these politicians. The thousands of miners' families who are destitute in the state of Illinois, are unpleasant reminders of the class struggle and must not receive publicity.

In southern Illinois the Ku Klux Klan rules by terroristic means. Only two weeks ago a young miner was murdered in court by a Ku Kluxer in the uniform of a policeman. Gradually the poisonous influence is spreading over the state of Illinois. Yet these leaders of labor utter not one word of protest.

The miners' local in Orient, Ill., has passed a resolution demanding that the officers of the Illinois State Federation of Labor and the district miners' officials immediately start an organizing campaign against the K. K. K's. They are asking the unions in Franklin county to join with them in holding mass meetings and staging demonstrations against the murderous union-smashing organization.

In Duvall, Ill., comes the same story in resolution form. All over southern Illinois the miners feel the iron hand of this cowardly gang of night assassins. Yet not one whisper comes from these "labor leaders." Len Small has the indorsement of the K. K. K's, and also has the silent support of Frank Farrington, president of the Illinois miners, who went out of his way in the miners' convention in Peoria to plead with the delegates not to discuss the klan.

While Walker, Olander and Nelson are busy condemning the Communists and the T. U. E. L., and behind the labor movement by hiring it into an auxiliary for the employers, the Workers Party and the T. U. E. L. stand alone amidst this confusion of class collaboration, pointing the way of the class struggle, strengthening the ranks of the strikers in Hegewisch, organizing the miners for the fight against the Ku Klux Klan, preparing the workers for the final struggle against capitalism.

LaFollette Has Heaven Full of Angels

(Continued from page 1.)

Wisconsin." Nor will the great "progressive" leader find time to tell how he has fought labor candidates in the past and how he is now backing those denounced by the workers as their enemies.

Multi-millionaires LaFollette's Angels.

When Senator LaFollette made his debut in public life, a millionaire lumber magnate, Stephenson, was his leading "angel." Altogether, Mr. Stephenson furnished about five hundred thousand dollars toward putting LaFollette in the front row at the national political theater in Washington. In return for this generous and "angelic" support, the trust-busting LaFollette later did his bit toward putting this multi-millionaire in the United States Senate. While Isaac Stephenson was getting LaFollette's support in 1907, he played in the lumber industry the role that Harriman used to play in the railroad world. It will also be recalled that the ring of Stephenson's money was heard thru out the investigation of the notorious Lorimer scandal in the Senate.

Senator LaFollette's record shows unfailing kindness to his political "angels." In 1922 E. J. Gross was chairman of the Wisconsin Progressive Association charged with providing the money and securing the votes for the then approaching LaFollette campaign. At the same time Mr. Gross was registered as a "filled milk" lobbyist.

One of the chief supporters of the Wisconsin Senator today is Mr. W. T. Rawleigh, President of the W. T. Rawleigh Company of Freeport, Illinois, with a capital and resources of more than thirteen million dollars. Mr. Rawleigh employs a thousand workers and has factories also at Memphis and Winnipeg. Besides being the president of the largest proprietary product concern in the world, Mr. Rawleigh owns an interest in the Capital Times published at Madison, Wisconsin.

In declaring his allegiance to LaFollette Mr. Rawleigh laid down an election policy which affords every working man much food for thot and still more cause for action. He declared: "What the business men of the United States want now, more than anything else, is a free, open, and competitive market in which to buy their raw materials and supplies, and the opportunity to buy, sell, and compete on an equal basis in the greatest producing and consuming market in the world." In climbing up the rungs of the ladder leading to the heaven of LaFollette's angels, we find a certain Richard W. Wolfe, formerly president of the Cook County Real Estate Board, and an old time democrat. Why Mr. Wolfe backs LaFollette is told by him in this fashion: "As a conservative business man, and tax-paying citizen, I am in favor of Robert M. LaFollette for president. He is not a radical, in the correct sense of the term. He is rather a cautious, prudent, and constructive statesman."

After LaFollette was nominated for presidency, his "progressive" cohorts scoured the country far and wide for a running mate. Finally, Wheeler was put forward. But it was not until Wheeler had received a telegram from Frank A. Vanderlip, former president of the National City Bank, and a director of shipping, railroad, realty, rubber corporations, and employers associations, that he agreed to accept the vice-presidential nomination. Mr. Wheeler's comment on the Vanderlip telegram is rather enlightening. LaFollette's running-mate then said: "Well, it seems that I have been drafted for service. I'll agree."

An examination of the personnel of the "LaFollette for President" Committee reveals an illuminating list of wealthy god-builders. We find: W. T. Rawleigh, the millionaire manufacturer, as chairman; Dante M. Pierce, the rich publisher of Pierce's Farm Weeklies, vice-chairman; Julius Kespohl, a well-to-do merchant; James H. McGill, an Indiana manufacturer; and R. F. Koenig, treasurer, a director of the Second National Bank of Freeport, Illinois, whose principal correspondents are, The First National Bank of New York, a Morgan concern, and The First National Bank of Chicago. Add to this list, two lawyers and one author, and you will have the first seamen who dedicated themselves to the cause of selling LaFollette to the working and farming masses.

In Montana, James H. Baldwin, an attorney for several independent oil corporations, and law partner of Wheeler, is to be the manager of the LaFollette campaign.

Rudolph Spreckles the sugar king, and California banker, is another LaFollette "angel."

Finally, Herman L. Ekern, who is now Wisconsin attorney-general, by the grace of "Battling Bob," will direct the money-raising and financial affairs of the entire LaFollette campaign. This is the same Mr. Ekern who was for many years an insurance lobbyist.

Still Tied to Old Parties.

Not only does LaFollette have his multi-millionaire "angels" as the democratic and republican parties have, but he and his movement are still tied up with the same old parties. Senator LaFollette has one foot—and it is a very firm foot at that—in the two biggest capitalist parties.

Thanking Gompers for his endorsement of the "progressive" ticket, LaFollette rejoiced that "after deliberate judgment the American Federation of Labor has adhered to its traditional non partisan policy," and vigorously applauded this non partisan "creed of citizenship."

When Wheeler was contemplating his acceptance of the vice presidential nomination, he made his case very plain by stating: "I have not quit the democratic party." More than that, Mr. Wheeler went ahead to commit himself to support the entire democratic ticket in Montana with the exception of John W. Davis, the Junior Senator from Montana declared:

"I will spend most of the summer campaigning in Montana for Senator Walsh and the democratic state ticket. But I will not support the democratic national ticket." Mr. Wheeler will also wage a lively campaign to secure the re-election of United States Senator David I. Walsh of Massachusetts, another democrat.

Nationally, the LaFollette movement is flirting with William Thompson, former mayor of Chicago and the Tammany Hall mayor, Hylan of New York. Mr. LaFollette is likewise coquetting with Governor Small's boodle outfit in Illinois and scores of other regular republicans and democrats thruout the country. Incidentally, it might be well to note that this is the same William Hale Thompson who, as a delegate to the last republican convention, voted to nominate the millionaire chewing-gum manufacturer, William Wrigley, Junior, as the republican standard-bearer. In Wheeler's own state of Montana, the LaFollette movement is so confused that the mushroom progressives are even attempting to put the democratic vice-presidential candidate, Governor Bryan, on the Wisconsin Senator's ticket.

Perhaps the best proof that LaFollette has not yet cut his umbilical cord of the Wall Street-owned democratic and republican parties is to be found in the fact that he is planning to endorse in wholesale democratic and republican congressional and senatorial candidates. One hundred and sixty-two congressional seats are to be filled in twelve states. LaFollette forces have announced that they will run their own candidates in at most only sixty-eight constituencies now represented by republican and democratic party office holders. In other words, in the majority of these congressional districts, LaFollette will call on the workers and farmers to continue voting for republicans and democrats.

Little Regard for Labor.

In his endorsing and supporting of political candidates LaFollette has seldom paid much attention to the opinion of the workers.

In Berger's Milwaukee Leader of October 22nd, 1920, we find a letter by H. G. Hannah, Socialist Party candidate for Congress in the ninth Wisconsin district. This letter tells how LaFollette put up Thompson to run for the United States Senate in opposition to Frank J. Weber, a Labor leader. It goes on to say: "And here comes Bob LaFollette and his would-be progressives and would-be union men and puts up Mr. Thompson. That's dirty politics on the part of the progressives, who, by the way, are composed of town politicians and fake labor leaders who are looking to LaFollette to pick them up and give them a better office, not for the best interests of the people, but to further their own ends and keep the progressive forces divided."

Today, LaFollette and Wheeler are whole-hearted supporters of United States Senator Thomas J. Walsh who has just been denounced by the annual convention of the Montana State Federation of Labor for his anti-labor record.

Even the eleven chosen to serve as his joint executive campaign committee, only two spokesmen of the labor movement, at best, official labor leaders, William H. Johnstone, of the International Association of Machinists, and D. B. Robertson, of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, have been picked by LaFollette. This is the maximum extent to which the Wisconsin Senator is ready to recognize the workers whose millions of votes he is now seeking.

MUSIC • LITERATURE • DRAMA

FASCISMO,
TONY THE IMMIGRANT,
NEGRO SLAVERY, OR THE CRIME OF THE CLERGY,
KU KLUX KLAN, CHURCH AND LABOR,
TWELVE O'CLOCK LUNCH, all by Pasquale Ruso, 25 cents each, at 833 Sedgwick St., Chicago.

This series of pamphlets is written with the class viewpoint, with the vision of society at present divided into workers and exploiters, but the constructive suggestions are syndicalist, suggesting organization in the I. W. W.

Fascismo gives a simple and fairly accurate account of the black terror in Italy and the betrayal of the Social-Democrats when the workers had begun seizing land and factories.

Tony, the Immigrant is the plain tale of a young Italian worker in his migrations around the United States, which he found not so free as he had fondly expected. In the world war.

Tony, a member of the I. W. W., was put into prison for his anti-capitalist war opinions. The latest struggle against the migratory workers in California concludes the tale.

Negro Slavery goes into history at some length, but brings the problem to date, showing that the church has represented the capitalist in not crying out against lynching and race discrimination. The menace of the Ku Klux Klan is mentioned and the Negroes are urged to stand with white workers and fight for the "Workers' Republic."

In the Ku Klux Klan pamphlet the origin of the terrorist group is sketched, the origin of the first Klan and of its modern successor. The likeness to the hierarchy of the Catholic church is shown and to the Spanish Inquisition. Quotations from prominent churchmen of many faiths are given to show how they justified slaughter of workers in spite of their Christianity. Robert Minor's powerful drawing from the Liberator of "The Exodus From Dixie" is reproduced.

"Forward, workers, with Zinovieff's motto: 'Let the Tyrants, let the Bourgeoisie and their White and Yellow internationales tremble: The future belongs to us!'" says Russo.

Twelve O'Clock Lunch is a dissertation on the filthy and unhealthy conditions which prevail in the majority of the restaurants, even those in fancy prices. It calls for the food workers to organize in an industrial union to win power from the bosses.

These are elemental pamphlets and written in popular vein so that they will be easily read by workers whose class education is just beginning. The little books do breathe out the spirit of the revolution but the engineering lessons must follow so that the aroused workers will know what to do when the proper moment to strike comes.

Revolutionary engineering lessons are given in the Workers Party publications, the DAILY WORKER and Labor Herald particularly.

"Can Such Things Be?" by Ambrose Bierce,
Albert and Charles Boni, New York.

Bierce was one of the three greatest writers America has produced, a master of the short story. At long last his work was subsidized by a friend and published. Here is the third publication of this series. Little is known of Bierce's end—he is rumored he went to Mexico several years ago to raise some revolutionary hell and has not been heard of since.

This is a collection of tales of horror and mystery. They are excellently written and are genuine spine-curlers. It is to be hoped his whole works will be re-issued. Both prose and verse have a splendidly corrosive quality. He was a good hater.—Geo. McLaughlin.

San Quentin

By HENRY GEORGE WEISS

A lowering pile of stone of whitish gray
Looking with bleak, barred eyes upon the bay
And Tamalpais looking down on it;
A kitchen garden stretching by the shore
And flowers blooming at each cottage door;
Some benches by the road on which to sit.

Such is San Quentin from the roadway seen,
Immortalized thru Mooney and thru men
Railroaded by big business to the pen.
A modern inquisition framed in green
Behind whose frowning walls a hundred men
Suffer and starve because they dare be men!

Such is San Quentin prison that you see California's Statue of Liberty!

YALE UNIVERSITY
NOV 2 1924
LIBRARY

THE DAILY WORKER RAISES THE STANDARD FOR A WORKERS AND FARMERS' GOVERNMENT

THE DAILY WORKER

5 CENTS Including Saturday Magazine Section. On all other days, Three Cents per Copy.

Entered as Second-class matter September 21, 1923, at the Post Office at Chicago, Illinois under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Vol. II. No. 128. SUBSCRIPTION RATES: In Chicago, by mail, $8.00 per year. Outside Chicago, by mail, $6.00 per year. SATURDAY, AUGUST 16, 1924 290 Published Daily except Sunday by THE DAILY WORKER PUBLISHING CO., 1113 W. Washington Blvd., Chicago, Ill. Price 5c

FOSTER OPENS COMMUNIST DRIVE

SONS OF TOIL

CHORUS OF COOLIDGE, DAVIS AND LaFOLLETTE:—"We must try to look like a turnip, to make the farmers think we are the sons of toil."

AS WE SEE IT

By T. J. O'FLAHERTY

GEORGE L. BERRY, president of the Pressmen's Union, was given a new deal at the democratic convention, according to Chester M. Wright, chief publicity man for Samuel Gompers and former editor of the New York Call. It is unlikely that the A. F. of L. would see any more virtue in LaFollette than in Davis had the latter decided on Berry as his running mate rather than Charles W. Bryan, governor of Nebraska. John W. Davis was as reactionary when Berry was voted on for vice-president as he was when the A. F. of L. endorsed LaFollette, yet it is evident that had Berry been given the nomination Gompers would now be praising Davis and denouncing LaFollette for his war record.

• • •

THERE is no trouble in Spain, says King Alfonso, at a luncheon given to an American newspaper correspondent, in the presence of Alexander B. Moore, American ambassador. The King said the alleged crisis was manufactured by the newspapers that wish to see the old regime back again because the government subsidies to the press were cut off by the present dictatorship. Primo de Rivera, the King said, had a clean-up job on his hands and would stay until the job was finished. There was no truth in the stories that Alfonso would leave the throne.

• • •

HIS MAJESTY expressed the greatest regard for the American ambassador, Mr. Moore. It apears that Moore and Alfonso are very chummy. The former calls the King "chief" and addresses the Duke of Abba, "Jimmy." The Duke is heir to the throne, and is planning to attend the international polo contest in Long Island, which will also be honored by the presence of the Prince of Wales and the Prince of Norway. In spite of Alfonso's protestations, there is trouble in his kingdom, and it would not surprise us to learn that he has decided to become a permanent guest of the British government. The British workers are already paying the laundry bills of half a score of titled gentlemen who have fallen from grace in their own countries.

• • •

EVERYTHING is not running smoothly in the Socialist-LaFollette-Left wing Tammany Hall combination (Continued on page 2.)

Tokyo is Terrorized.

TOKYO, Aug. 15.—Fifteen heavy earthquake shocks rocked Tokyo early today. The tremblors were heaviest in the district north of here.

CHARLIE HUGHES LEADS CHEER FOR SILENT COOLIDGE

Bearded Baptist Gets Quite Excited

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15. — So pleased with himself was Charles Hughes, secretary of state, on the good work he has done for his master, J. P. Morgan, in putting across the Dawes plan at the London conference, that he actually unbended his bearded austerity long enough to lead in a cheer for the sphinx of the White House, "Silent Cal" Coolidge, at the notification ceremony here today.

Rah! Rah! Rah!

The two thousand morons who were present to hear Coolidge being informed that he was selected to run the race for the presidency on the back of the elephant, were almost knocked out of their clothes when the dignified secretary suddenly rose from his seat and yelled out like a college boy on a rampage: "Three cheers for President Coolidge!"

No sooner were they given than he stepped back into his shell, where he will probably remain until the heat strikes him again.

Back to Papa.

After the cermony he reported back to Coolidge on the work he had accomplished for American capitalism on his short trip abroad.

WAR RUMBLINGS HEARD IN EGYPT AS BRITISH WARSHIP STARTS SCRAP

(Special to The Daily Worker)

LONDON, August 15.—According to a dispatch to the Daily Mail, a plot aiming at the seizure of the Egyptian government has been uncovered in Cairo. Elaborate police and military precautions are being taken.

• • •

ALEXANDRIA, Aug. 15.—A British war ship arrived here today, sent because of British unrest. Fighting has broken out at Port Sudan, upon the arrival of British troops.

• • •

CAIRO, August 15.—Sever intertribal fighting with heavy casulties was reported today from Trans-Jordania. Warabis attacked and burned villages of the Beni-Sakis. The latter tribesmen, assisted by the British military airplanes, are chasing the Warabis.

RUHR DEADLOCK ENDANGERS THE DAWES REPORT

Ambassador Kellogg on French Side

(Special to The Daily Worker)

